IOSHVA. 1.8.

Let not this booke of the Law depart out of thy mouth, but meditate therein day and night, that thou mayest observe and doe according to all that is written therein:
for then shalt thou make thy way prosperous, and then shalt thou have good successe.

TO THE MOST VERTVOVS

AND NOBLE LADIE ELIZABETH,

Queene of England, France, and Ireland, &c. Grace and peace from God the Father through Christ Iesus our Lorde.

Owe hard a thing it is, and what great impediments let, to enterprise any worthy acte, not onely dayly experience sufficiently sheweth (most noble and vertuous QUEENE) but also that notable prouerbe doeth confirme the same, which admonisheth vs, that All things are hard which are faire and excellent. And what enterprise can there be of greater importance, and more acceptable vnto God, or more worthie of singular commendation, then the building of the Lords * Temple, the * house of God, the * Church of Christ, whereof the * Sonne of God is the head and perfection?

1. Cor. 3. 17.

Ephes. 1. 22.
Hebre. 3. 6.

When Zerubbabel went about to build the materiall Temple, according to the commandement of the Lord, what difficulties and stayes * dayly arose to hinder his worthie indeuours, the bookes of Ezra and Esdras plainly witnesse: howe that not onely hee and the people of God were sore molested with * foreine aduersaries, (whereof some maliciously * warred against them, and corrupted the Kings officers:

and others craftily practised vnder * pretence of religion) but also at home with domesticall enemies, as * false prophets, * craftie worldlings, faint hearted souldiers, and * oppressors of their brethren, who aswell by false doctrine and lyes, as by subtil counsell, cowardies, and extortion, discouraged the hearts almost of all: so that the Lords worke was not onely interrupted and left off for * a long time, but scarcely at the length with great labour and danger after * a fort brought to passe.

Exra. 3. 12.

Which thing when we weigh aright, and consider earnestly howe much greater charge God hath laide vpon you in making you a builder of his spirituall Temple, we cannot but partly feare, * knowing the craft and force of Satan our spirituall enemy, and the weakenes and vnabilitie of this our nature: and partly be feruent in our prayers towarde God that he would bring to perfection this noble worke which he hath begun by you: and therefore we indeuour our selues by all meanes to ayde, and to bestowe our whole force vnder your graces standard, whom God hath made as our Zerub-babel for the erecting of this most excellent Temple, and to plant & maintaine his holy word to the aduancement of his glory, for your owne honour and saluation of your soule, and for the singular comfort of that great flocke which Christ Iesus the * great shepheard hath bought with his * precious blood, and committed vnto your charge to be fed both in body and soule.

2. Cor. 2. 11.

Considering therefore how many enemies there are, which by one meanes or other, as the * aduersaries of Iudah and Beniamin went about to stay the building of that Temple, so labour to hinder the course of this building (whereof some are Papists, who vnder pretence of fauouring Gods word, traiterously seeke to erect idolatrie and to destroy your Maie-stie: some are worldlings, who as * Demas haue forsaken Christ for the loue of this worlde: others are ambitious Prelates, who as * Amasiah and * Diotrefes can abide none but themselues: and as * Demetrius many practise sedition to maintaine their errours) we perswaded our selues that there was no way so expedient and necessarie for the preseruation of the one, and destruction of the other, as to present vnto your Maiestie the holy Scriptures faithfully and plainly translated according to the languages wherein they were first written by the holy Ghost. For the word of God is an eu-ident token of Gods * loue and our assurance of his defence, wherefoeuer it is obediently receiued: it is the tryall of the * spirites: and as the Prophet saith, * It is a fire and hammer to breake the stonie heartes of them that resist Gods mercies offred by the preaching of the same. Yea it is * sharper then any two edged sword to examine the very thoughts and to iudge the affections of the heart, and to discover whatsoeuer lyeth hid vnder hypocrisie and would be secret from the face of God and his Church. So that this must be the first fundation and groundworke, according whereunto the good stones of this building must be framed, and the euill tryed out and reiected.

Now as he that goeth about to lay a fundation surely, first taketh away such impediments, as might iustly either hurt, let, or deform the worke: so is it necessarie that your Graces zeale appeare herein, that neither the craftie perswasion of man, neither worldly policie, or naturall feare dissuade you to roote out, cut downe and destroy these weedes and impediments which do not onely deface your building, but vtterly indeuour, yea and threaten the ruine thereof. For when the noble * Iosias enterprised the like kinde of worke, among other notable and many things he destroyed, not only with vtter confusion the idoles with their appertinances, but also burnt (in signe of detestation) the idolatrous Priests bones vpon their altars, and put to * death the false prophets and forcerers, to performe * the wordes of the Law of God: and therefore the Lord gaue him good successe and blessed him wonderfully, so long as he made * Gods worde his line and

King * Asa it is manifest, that the quietnes and * peace of kingdomes standeth in the vtter abolishing of idolatrie, and in aduancing of true religion: for in his dayes Iudah liued in rest and quietnes for the space of fiftie and thirtie yeere, till at length he began to be colde in the zeale of the Lord, feared the power of man, imprisoned the Prophet of God, and oppressed the people: then the Lord sent him warres, and at length tooke him away by death.

Lord, as did * Salomon, to whom God gaue an vnderstanding heart to iudge his people aright, & to discern betweene good and bad. For if God for the furnishing of the olde Temple gaue the Spirit of wisdom and vnderstanding to them that shoulde be the workemen thereof, as to * Bezaleel, Aholiab, and * Hiram: howe much more will he indoe Grace and other godly Princes and chiefe Gouvernours with a principall Spirit, that you may procure and commande things necessarie for this most holy Temple, foresee and take heede of things that might hinder it, and abolish and de-

Moreover, the marueilous diligence and zeale of Iehoshaphat, Iosiah, and Hezekiah are by the singular prouidence of God left as an example to all godly rulers to reforme their countreis and to establish the word of God with all speede, lest the * wrath of the Lord fall vpon them for the neglecting thereof. For these excellent Kings did not onely imbrace the worde promptly and ioyfully, but also procured earnestly and commanded the same to be taught, preached and maintained through all their countreis and dominions, * binding them and all their subiectes both great and small with solemne protestations and couenants before God, to obey the worde, and to walke after the wayes of the Lord. Yea and in the dayes of King * Aſa it was enacted that whosoever would not seeke the Lord God of Israel, should be flaine, whether he were small or great, man or woman. And for the establishing hereof and performance of this solemne othe, as well * Priestes as Iudges were appointed and placed through all the Cities of Iudah to instruct the people in the true knowledge and feare of God, and to minister iustice according to the worde, knowing that, except God by his worde did reigne in * the heartes and soules, all mans diligence and indeuours were of none effect: for without this worde we can not discerne betweene iustice, and iniurie, protection and oppression, wisdom and foolishnesse, knowledge and ignorance, good and euill. Therefore the Lorde, who is the chiefe gouernour of his Church, willet that nothing be attempted before wee haue inquired thereof at his mouth. For seeing he is our God, of duetie wee must giue him this preeminence, that of our selues we enterprise nothing, but that which he hath appointed, who only knoweth all things, and gouerneth them as may best serue to his glorie and our saluation. We ought not therefore to prevent him, or doe any thing without his worde, * but as soone as he hath reueiled his will, immediatly to put it in execution.

Nowe as concerning the maner of this building, it is not according to man, nor after the wisdom of the flesh, but of the Spirit, and according to the worde of God, whose * wayes are diuers from mans wayes. For if it was not lawfull for Moses to builde the materiall Tabernacle after any other sort then God had shewed him by a * paterne, neither to prescribe any other * ceremonies and lawes then such as the Lord had expressely commanded: how can it be lawfull to proceede in this spirituall building any other wayes, then Iesus Christ the Sonne of God, who is both the fundation, head, and chiefe corner stone thereof, hath commanded by his worde? And forasmuch as he hath established and left an order in his Church for the building vp of his body, * appointing some to be Apostles, some Prophets, others Euangelists, some Pastors, and Teachers, hee signifieth that euery one according as he is placed in this bodie which is the Church, ought to inquire of his ministers concerning the will of the Lord, which is reueiled in his worde. For they are, sayth * Ieremiah, as the mouth of the Lorde: yea hee * promisseth to be with their mouth, and that their * lippes shall keepe knowledge, and that the trueth and the Lawe shall be in their mouth. For it is their office chiefly to vnderstande the Scriptures, and teache them. For this cause the people of Israel in matters of difficultie vsed to * aske the Lord eyther by the * Prophets, or by the meanes of the hie * Priest, who bare Vrim and Thummim, which were tokens of light and knowledge, of holines and perfection which shoulde be in the hie Priest. Therefore when Iehoshaphat tooke this order in the Church of Israel, he appointed Amariah to be the chiefe concerning the worde of God, because he was most expert in the Lawe of the Lorde, and coulde giue counsell and gouerne according vnto the same. Els there is no degree or office which may haue that authoritie and priuledge to decide concerning Gods worde, except withall hee hath the Spirit of God, and sufficient knowledge and iudgement to define according thereunto. And as euery one is indued of God with greater giftes, so ought he to be herein chiefly heard, or at least that without the expresse worde none be heard: for hee that hath not the worde, * speaketh not by the mouth of the Lorde. Againe, what danger it is to do any thing, seeme it neuer so godly or necessarie, without consulting with Gods mouth, the examples of the Israelites, * deceiued hereby through the Gibeonites: and of * Saul, whose intention seemed good and necessarie: and of * Iosiah also, who for great considerations was moued for the defence of true religion and his people, to fight against Pharaoh Necho King of Egypt, may sufficiently admonish vs.

Last of all (most gracious Queene) for the aduancement of this building and rearing vp of the worke, two things are necessarie, First, that we haue a liuely and stedfast faith in Christ Iesus, who must * dwell in our heartes, as the onely meanes and assurance of our saluation: for he is the * ladder that reacheth from the earth to heauen: he listeth vp his Church and setteth it in the heauenly places: he maketh vs * liuely stones and buildeth vs vpon himsele: hee ioyneth vs to himsele as the members and bodie to the head: yea he maketh himsele and his Church one * Christ. The next is, that our faith bring forth good frutes, so that our godly conuersation may serue vs as a witnes to * confirme our election, and be an example to all others to * walke as apperteineth to the vocation whereunto they are called: least the worde of God be * euill spoken of, and this building be stayed to grow vp to a iust height, which cannot be without the great prouocation of Gods iust vengeance and discouraging of many thousands through all the world, if they should see that our life were not holy and agreeable to our profession. For the eyes of all that feare God in all places behold your Countries as an example to all that beleue, and the * prayers of all the godly at all times are directed to God for the preservation of your Maiestie. For considering Gods wonderfull mercies toward you at all seasons, who hath pulled you out of the mouth of the lyons, and howe that from your * youth you haue bene brought vp in the holy Scriptures, the hope of all men is so increased, that they cannot but looke that God shoulde bring to passe some wonderfull worke by your Grace to the vniuersall comfort of his Church. Therefore euen about strength you must shewe your selfe strong and bolde in Gods matters: and though Satan lay all his power and craft together to hurt and hinder the Lords building: yet be you assured that God will fight from heauen against this great * dragon, the ancient serpent, which is called the deuill and Satan, till he haue accomplished the whole worke and made his Church * glorious to himsele, without spot or wrinkle. For albeit all other Kingdomes and Monarchies, as the Babylonians, Persians, Grecians and Romanes haue fallen and taken ende: yet the Church of Christ euen vnder the Crosse hath from the beginning of the world bene victorious, and shalbe euerlastingly. Trueth it is, that sometime it seemeth to be shadowed with a cloude, or driuen with a stormie persecution, yet suddenly the beames of Christ the sunne of iustice shine and bring it to light and libertie. If for a time it lye couered with ashes, yet it is quickly kindled againe by the winde of Gods Spirit:

though it seeme drowned in the Sea, or parched and pined in the wilderness, yet God giueth euer good successe. For he punisheth the enemies, and deliuereth his, nourisheth them, and still preserueth them vnder his wings. This Lorde of lordes, and King of kings who hath euer defended his, strengthen, comfort, and preserve your Maiestie, that you may be able to build vp the ruines of Gods house to his glorie, the discharge of your conscience, and to the comfort of all them that loue the comming of Christ Iesus our Lorde.

To the diligent and Christian Reader,

Grace, mercie and peace, through Christ Iesus.

Besides the manifold and continuall benefits which almightie God bestoweth vpon vs, both corporall and spirituall, we are especially bound (deare brethren) to giue him thanks without ceasing for his great grace and unspeakable mercies, in that it hath pleased him to call vs vnto this marueilous light of his Gospell, and mercifully to regarde vs after so horrible backsliding and falling away from Christ to Antichrist, from light to darkenesse, from the liuing God to dumme and dead idoles, and that after so cruell murder of Gods Saints, as alas, hath bene among vs, wee are not altogether cast off, as were the Israelites, and many others for the like, or not so manifest wickednesse, but receiued againe to grace with most euident signes and tokens of Gods especiall loue and fauour. To the intent therefore that wee may not be vnmindfull of these great mercies, but seeke by all meanes (according to our duetie) to bee thankesfull for the same, it behoueth vs so to walke in his feare and loue, that all the dayes of our life we may procure the glorie of his holy name. Nowe forasmuch as this thing chiefly is attained by the knowledge and practising of the worde of God, (which is the light to our paths, the keye of the kingdome of heauen, our comfort in affliction, our shield and sword against Satan, the schoole of all wisdom, the glasse wherein we beholde Gods face, the testimonie of his fauour, and the onely foode and nourishment of our soules) wee thought that wee coulde bestowe our labours and studie in nothing which coulde be more acceptable to God and comfortable to his Church, then in the translating of the holy Scriptures into our natieue tongue: the which thing, albeit that diuers heretofore haue indeuoured to atchieue: yet considering the infancie of those times and imperfect knowledge of the tongues, in respect of this ripe age and cleere light which God hath now reueiled, & translations required greatly to be perused and reformed. Not that we vendicate anything to our selues about the least of our brethren (for God knoweth with what feare and trembling we haue bene, for the space of two yeeres and more day and night occupied herein) but being earnestly desired, and by diuers, whose learning and godlinesse we reuerence, exhorted, and also incouraged by the ready willes of such, whose hearts God likewise touched, not to spare any charges for the furtherance of such a benefite and fauour of God towarde his Church (though the time then was most dangerous, and the persecution sharpe and furious) we submitted our selues at length to their godly iudgements, and seeing the great opportunitie and occasions, which God presented vnto vs in his Church, by reason of so many godly and learned men: and such diuersities of translations in diuers tongues, we vnderooke this great and wonderfull worke (with all reuerence, as in the presence of God, as intreating the word of God, whereunto we thinke our selues vnsufficient) which now God according to his diuine prouidence and mercie hath directed to a most prosperous ende. And this we may with good conscience protest, that we haue in euery point and worde, according to the measure of that knowledge which it pleased Almighty God to giue vs, faithfully rendred the text, and in all hard places most sincerely expounded the same. For God is our witnesse that we haue by all meanes indeuoured to set forth the puritie of the word and right sence of the holy Ghost for the edifying of the brethren in faith and charitie.

Nowe as we haue chiefly obserued the sence, and laboured alwayes to restore it to all integritie: so haue we most reuerently kept the propriety of the wordes, considering that the Apostles who spake and wrote to the Gentiles in the Greeke tongue, rather constrained them to the liuely phrase of the Hebrew, then enterprised farre by mollifying their language to speake as the Gentiles did. And for this and other causes wee haue in many places reserued the Hebrew phrases, notwithstanding that they may seeme somewhat hard in their eares that are not well practised and also delite in the sweete sounding phrases of the holy Scriptures. Yet least eyther the simple should be discouraged, or the malicious haue any occasion of iust caviillation, seeing some translations reade after one sort, and some after another, whereas all may serue to good purpose and edification, we haue in the margent noted that diuersitie of speech or reading which may also seeme agreeable to the minde of the holy Ghost and proper for our language with this marke ||.

Againe, whereas the Hebrew speache seemed hardly to agree with ours, we haue noted it in the margent after this sort †, vsing that which was more intelligible. And albeit that many of the Hebrew names be altered from the olde text, and restored to the true writing and first originall, whereof they haue their signification, yet in the vsuall names litle is changed for feare of troubling the simple readers. Moreover, whereas the necessitie of the sentence required any thing to be added (for such is the grace and propriety of the Hebrew and Greeke tongues, that it cannot but either by circumlocution, or by adding the verbe or some word be vnderstand of them that are not well practised therein) wee haue put in the text betweene these two markes [ ] such worde or verbe as doth more properlie explyne or manifest the text in our tongue. As touching the diuision of the verses, wee haue followed the Hebrew examples, which haue so euen from the beginning distinguished them. Which thing as it is most profitable for memorie, so doeth it agree with the best translations, and is most easie to finde out both by the best Concordances, and also by the quotations which we haue diligently herein perused and set forth by this *. Besides this the principall matters are noted and distinguished by this marke ¶. Yea and the arguments both for the booke and for the chapters with the number of the verse are added, that by all meanes the reader might be holpen. For the which cause also we haue set ouer the head of euery page some notable worde or sentence which may greatly further aswell for memorie, as for the chiefe point of the page. And considering howe hard a thing it is to vnderstand the holy Scriptures, and what errors, sectes and heresies growe dayly for lacke of the true knowledge thereof, and howe many are discouraged (as they pretend) because they cannot attaine to the true and simple meaning of the same, we haue also indeuoured both by the diligent reading of the best commentaries, and also by the conference with the godly and learned brethren, to gather brieue annotations vpon all the hard places, aswell for the vnderstanding of such wordes as are obscure, and for the declaration of the text, as for the application of the same, as may most appertaine to Gods glory and the edification of his Church. Furthermore whereas certaine places in the booke of Moses, of the Kings, and Ezekiel, seemed so darke that by no description they coulde be made easie to the simple reader, wee haue so set them forth with figures and notes for the full declaration thereof, that they which cannot by iudgement, being holpen by the annotations noted by the letters a b c. &c. attaine thereunto, yet by the perspective, and as it were by the eye, may sufficiently knowe the true meaning of all such places. Whereunto also wee haue added certaine maps of Cosmographie which necessarily serue for the perfect vnderstanding and memorie of diuers places and countries, partly described, and partly by occasion touched, both in the olde and newe Testament. Finally that nothing might lacke which might be bought by labours, for the increase of knowledge and furtherance of Gods glory, we haue adioyned two most profitable Tables, the one seruing for the interpretation of the Hebrew names: and the other containing all the chiefe and principall matters of the whole Bible: so that nothing (as wee trust) that any coulde iustly desire, is omitted. Therefore, as brethren that are partakers of the same hope and saluation with vs, wee beseeche you, that this rich pearle and inestimable treasure may not be offered in vaine, but as sent from God to the people of God, for the increase of his kingdome, the comfort of his Church, and discharge of our conscience, whom it hath pleased him to raise vp for this purpose, so you woulde willingly receiue the worde of God, earnestly studie it, and in all your life practise it, that you may nowe appeare in deede to bee the people of God, not walking any more according to this world, but in the fruites of the Spirit, that God in vs may bee fully glorified through Christ Iesus our Lorde, who liueth and reigneth for euer. Amen,

(. . .)

A Prologue or Preface made by Thomas

Cranmer, sometime Archbishop of Canterburie.

Concerning two sundrie sortes of people, it seemeth much necessarie that something be saide in the entrie of this booke by the way of a Preface or Prologue, whereby hereafter it may be both the better accepted of them which hitherto coulde not well beare it, and also the better vnderstood of them which heretofore haue misused it. For truely some there are that be too slowe, and neede the spurre, some other seeme too quicke, and neede more of the bridle: some loose their game by short shooting, some by ouer shooting, some walke too much on the left hande, some too much on the right. In the former sort be all they that refuse to reade, or to heare read the Scripture in the bulgare tongue, much worse they that let also or discourage the other from the reading or hearing thereof. In the latter sort be they which by their inordinate reading, vndiscrete speaking, contentious disputing, or otherwise by their licentious liuing, slander and hinder the worde of God most of all other, whereof they would seeme to be greatest furtherers. These two sortes, albeit they be most farre unlike the one to the other, yet they both deserue in effect like reproche: neither can I well tell whether of them I may iudge the more offender, him that doth obstinately refuse so godly and goodly knowledge: or him that so vngodly and so vngoodly doth abuse the same. And as touching the former, I would marueile much that any man should be so mad, as to refuse in darkenesse, light: in hunger, foode: in colde, fire: for the worde of God is light: Lucerna pedibus meis verbum tuum. Thy worde is a lanterne vnto my feete. It is foode: Non in solo pane viuit homo, sed in omni verbo Dei. Man shall not liue by bread onely, but by every worde of God. It is fire: Ignem veni mittere in terram, & quid volo, nisi vt ardeat? I am come to sende fire on the earth, and what is my desire, but that it be kindled? I would marueile (I say at this) saue that I consider howe much custome and blage may do. So that if there were a people as some write, de Cymeriis, which neuer sawe the Sunne, by reason that they be situated farre toward the North pole, and be inclosed and ouershadowed with high mountaines: it is credible and like ynough, that if by the power and will of God, the mountaines should sinke downe, and giue place, that the light of the sunne might haue entrance to them, at the first some of them would be offended therewith. And the olde prouerbe affirmeth, that after tillage of corne was first found, many delighted more to feede of maske and acornes, wherewith they had bene accustomed, then to eate bread made of good corne. Such is the nature of custome, that it causeth vs to beare all things well and easily wherewith we haue bene accustomed, and to be offended with all things thereunto contrary. And therefore I can wel thinke them worthy pardon, which at the coming abroade of Scripture doubted and drewe backe. But such as will persist still in their wilfulnesse, I must needes iudge not onely foolish, frowarde, and obstinate: but also peeuish, peruerse, & indurate. And yet, if the matter should be tried by custome, we might also alledge custome for the reading of the scripture in the bulgare tongue, and prescribe the more ancient custome. For it is not much aboue one hundred yeere ago, since Scripture hath not bene accustomed to be read in the bulgare tongue within this Realme, and many hundred yerres before that, it was translated and read in the Saxons tongue, which at that time was our mother tongue, whereof there remaine yet diuers copies found lately in olde Abbeyes, of such antique maner of writing and speaking, that fewe men now be able to reade and vnderstand them. And when this language waxed olde and out of common blage, because folke should not lacke the fruit of reading, it was againe translated into the newe language, whereof yet also many copies remaine, and be dayly found. But now to let passe custome, and to wey, as wise men euer should, the thing in his owne nature: let vs here discusse what it auayleth Scripture to be had and read of the lay and bulgare people. And to this question I intend here to say nothing, but that was spoken and written by the noble doctour and most morall diuine, S. John Chrysostome, in his third sermon de Lazaro, albeit I will be some thing shorter, and gather the matter into fewer wordes and lesse roome then he doth there, because I would not be tedious. He exhorteth there his audience, that every man should reade by himselfe at home in the meane dayes & time, betweene sermon and sermon, to the intent they might both more profoundly fixe in their mindes and memories that he had said before vpon such textes, whereupon he had already preached: and also that they might haue their mindes the more readie and better prepared to receiue and perceiue that which he should say from thenceforth in his Sermons, vpon such textes as he had not yet declared and preached vpon: therefore saith he there, My common blage is to giue you warning before, what matter I intend after to intreate vpon, that you your selues in the meane dayes, may take the booke in hande, reade, wey, and perceiue the summe and effect of the matter, and marke what hath bene declared, and what remaineth yet to be declared, so that thereby your minde may be the more furnished to heare the rest that shalbe said. And that I exhort you (saith he) and euer haue and will exhort you, that you (not onely here in the Church) giue eare to that that is saide by the Preacher: but that also when you be at home in your houses, ye applie your selues from time to time to the reading of holy Scriptures: which thing also I neuer lin to beat into the eares of them that be my familiars, and with whome I haue priuate acquaintance and conuersation. Let no man make excuse and say (saith he) I am busied about matters of the common wealth, I beare this office, or that, I am a craftes man, I must applie mine occupation, I haue a wife, my childzen must be fed, my household must I prouide for, briefly I am a man of the world, it is not for me to reade the Scriptures, that belongeth to them that haue bidden the world farewell, which liue in solitarines, and contemplation, and haue bene brought vp and continually nourselled in learning and religion. To this answering, what sayest thou man (saith he)? Is it not for thee to studie and to reade the Scripture, because thou art encumbred and distract with cares and busines? So much the more it is behouefull for thee to haue defence of Scriptures, how much thou art the more distressed in worldly dangers. They that be free and farre from trouble and intermedling of worldly things, liue in safegard, and tranquillitie, and in the calme, or within a sure haue. Thou art in the middest of the sea of worldly wickednesse, and therefore thou needest the more of ghostly succour and comfort. They sit farre from the strokes of battell, and farre out of gunne shotte, and therefore they be but seldome wounded. Thou that standest in the forefront of the hoste, and nighest to thine enemies, must needes take now and then many strokes, and be grievously wounded, and therefore thou hast most neede to haue thy remedies and medicines at hande. Thy wife prouoketh thee to anger, thy childe giueth thee occasion to take sorowe and pensiuenesse, thine enemies lie in waite for thee, thy friend (as thou takest him) sometime enuieth thee, thy neighbour misreporteth thee, or pyketh quarels against thee, thy mate or partner vndermineth thee, thy Lord, Judge, or Justice threatneth thee, pouertie is painefull vnto thee, the losse of thy deare and welbeloued causeth thee to mourne, prosperitie exalteth thee, aduersitie bringeth thee lowe: briefly, so diuerse and so manifolde occasions of cares, tribulations, and temptations beset thee, and besiege thee rounde about. Where canst thou haue armour or fortresse against thine assaults? Where canst thou haue salues for thy sores, but of holy Scripture? Thy flesh must needes be prone and subiect to fleshly lustes, which dayly walkest and art conuersant among women, seest their beautie set forth to the eye, hearest their nice and wanton words, smellst their balme, ciuet, and muske, with many other like prouocations and stirrings: except thou hast in a readinesse where with to suppress and auoyde them, which cannot elsewhere be had, but onely out of the holy Scriptures. Let vs reade and seeke all remedies that we can, and all shall be litle ynough. How shall we then do, if we suffer and take dayly woundes, and when we haue done, will sit still and search for no medicines? Doest thou not marke and consider howe the Smith, Mason, or Carpenter, or any other handicraftes man, what neede soeuer he be in, what other shift soeuer he make, he will not sell nor lay to pledge the tooles of his occupation: for then howe should he worke his feate, or get his liuing thereby? Of like minde and affection ought we to be to wardes holy Scripture. For as mallets, hammers, sawes, chisels, ares, and hatchets be the tooles of their occupation: so be the bookes of the Prophets, and Apostles, and all holy writers inspired by the holy Ghost, the instruments of our saluation. Wherefore let vs not sticke to buy and prouide vs the Bible, that is to say, the bookes of holy Scripture, and let vs thinke that to be a better setwell in our house, then either golde or siluer. For like as theeuers be loth to assault an house where they know to be good armour and artillerie: so wheresoeuer these holy and ghostly bookes be occupied, there neither the deuill nor none of his angels dare come neere. And they that occupie them be in much safegarde, and haue a great consolation, and be the readier vnto all goodnesse, the slower vnto all euill: and if they haue done any thing amisse, anon euen by the sight of the bookes their consciences be admonished, and they ware sozie and ashamed of the fact. Peraduenture they will say vnto me, Howe and if we vnderstand not that we reade, that is contained in the bookes? What then? Suppose thou vnderstand not the deepe and profound mysteries of Scriptures, yet can it not be but that much fruit and holinesse must come and grow vnto thee by the reading: for it cannot be that thou shouldest be ignorant in all things alike. For the holy Ghost hath so ordered and attempered the Scriptures, that in them aswell publicans, fishers, and shepheards may finde their edification, as great doctours their erudition. For those bookes were not made to baine glorie, like as were the writings of the gentile Philosophers and Rhetoricians, to the intent the makers should be had in admiration for their hie stiles and obscure maner and writing, whereof nothing can be vnderstanded without a master or an expositour: But the Apostles and Prophets wrote their bookes so, that their speciall intent and purpose might be vnderstanded and perceiued of euery reader, which was nothing but the edification of amendment of the life of them that reade or heare it. Who is it that reading or hearing read in the Gospel, Blessed are they that be mecke, Blessed are they that be mercifull, Blessed are they that be of cleane heart, and such other like places, can perceiue nothing except he haue a master to teach him what it meaneth? Likewise the signes and miracles, with all other histories of the doings of Christ or his Apostles, who is there of so simple wit and capacitie, but he may be able to perceiue and vnderstand them? These be but excuses and clokes for the raine, and couerings of their owne slouthfulnesse. But still ye will say, I cannot vnderstand it, what marueile? Howe shouldest thou vnderstand, if thou wilt not reade nor looke vpon it? Take the bookes into thine handes, reade the whole storie, & that thou vnderstandest keepe it well in memorie: that thou vnderstandest not reade it againe, and againe: if thou can neither so come by it, counsell with some other that is better learned. Go to thy Curate and Preacher, shewe thy selfe to be desirous to knowe and learne: and I doubt not but God seeing thy diligence and readinesse (if no man else teach thee) will himselfe vouchsafe with his holy Spirit to illuminate thee, and to open vnto thee that which was locked from thee. Remember the Eunuch of Candace Queene of Ethiopia, which albeit he was a man of a wilde & barbarous countrey, and one occupied with worldly cares and businesse, yet ryding in his charet, he was reading the Scripture. Nowe consider, if this man passing in his iourney was so diligent as to reade the Scripture: what thinkest thou of like was he wont to do sitting at home? Again, he that letted not to reade, albeit he did not vnderstand: what did he then trowest thou, after that when he had learned and gotten vnderstanding? For that thou mayest well knowe that he vnderstoode not what he read, hearken what Philip saith there vnto him, vnderstandest thou what thou reade? And he nothing ashamed to confesse his ignorance, answered, Howe should I vnderstand hauing no body to shewe me the way? Lo when hee lacked one to shewe him the way, and to expounde to him the Scriptures, yet did hee reade: and therefore God the rather prouided for him a guide of the way, that taught him to vnderstand it. God perceiued his willing and toward minde, and therefore he sent him a teacher by and by. Therefore let no man be negligent about his owne health and saluation. Though thou haue not Philip alwayes when thou wouldest, the holy Ghost which then moued and stirred by Philip, will be readie and not faile thee, if thou do thy diligence accordingly. All these things be written vnto vs for our edification and amendment, which be borne towards the latter ende of the worlde. The reading of the Scriptures is a great and strong bulwarke or fortresse against sinne: the ignorance of the same is a greater ruine and destruction of them that will not know it. What is the thing that bringeth in heresie, that is it that causeth all corrupt and peruerse liuing, that is it that bringeth all things out of good order. Hitherto all that I haue said, I haue taken and gathered out of the foresaide sermon of this holy doctour S. John Chrysostome. Nowe if I should in like maner bring forth what the selfe same doctour speaketh in other places, and what other doctours and writers say concerning the same purpose, I might seeme to you to write an other Bible, rather then to make a Preface to the Bible.

Wherefore

The Prologue.

wherefore in few words to comprehend the largenesse & vtilitie of the Scriptures, how it containeth fruitfull instruction and erudition for euery man, if any thing be necessary to be learned, of the holy Scripture we may learne it. If falshood shalbe reprobued, therof we may gather wherewithall. If any thing be to be corrected and amended, if there need any exhortation or consolation, of the Scripture we may well learne. In þe Scriptures be the fat pastures of the soule, therein is no venemous meat, no vnwholesome thing, they be the very daintie and pure feeding. He that is ignorant shall finde there what he should learne. He that is a peruerse sinner, shall there finde his damnation, to make him to tremble for feare. He that laboureth to serue God, shall finde there his glory, & the promissions of eternal life, exhorting him more diligently to labour. Herein may princes learne how to gouerne their subiects: subiects obedience, loue, and dread to their princes: husbands how they should behaue them vnto their wiues, how to educate their children & seruants: And contrary, the wiues, children, and seruants, may know their duetie to their husbands, parents, & masters. Here all maner of persons, men, women, yong, olde, learned, vnlearned, rich, poore, priests, lay men, lords, ladies, officers, tenants, and meane men, virgins, wiues, widowes, lawyers, marchants, artificers, husbandmen, & all maner of persons, of what estate or condition soeuer they be, may in this booke learne all things what they ought to beleue, what they ought to do, and what they should not do, as well concerning Almighty God, as also concerning themselves and all other. Briefly, to the reading of the Scripture none can be enemy, but that either be so sicke that they loue not to heare of any medicine, or else that be so ignorant that they know not Scripture to be þe most healthfull medicine. Therefore as touching this former part, I will here conclude, and take it for a conclusion, sufficiently determined and appointed, that it is conuenient & good, the Scriptures to be read of all sortes & kindes of people, and in the vulgare tongue, without further allegations or probations for the same, which shall not neede, since that this one place of John Chrysostome is ynough, and sufficient to perswade all them that be not frowardly & peruerfly set in their owne wilful opinion, specially now that the Kings highnesse being supreme head next vnder Christ of this Church of England, hath approued with his royall assent þe setting forth hereof, which onely to all true & obedient subiects ought to be a sufficient reason for the allowance of the same, without further delay, reclamation, or resistance, although there were no Preface, or other reason herein expressed. Therefore now to come to the second or latter part of my purpose: here is nothing so good in this world, but it may be abused, and turned from vnhurtfull and wholesome, to hurtfull & noysome. What is there about better then the Sunne, the Moone, and the starres? Yet was there that tooke occasion by the great beautie and vertue of them, to dishonour God, and to defile themselves with idolatry, giuing the honour of the liuing God and creator of all things, to such things as he had created. What is there here beneath better then fire, water, meates, drinkes, mettals of gold, siluer, yron, and Steele? Yet we see dayly great harme & much mischief done by euery one of these, as well for lacke of wisdom and prouidence of them that suffer euill, as by the malice of them that worke the euill. Thus to them that be euill of themselves, euery thing setteth forward and increaseth their euill, be it of his owne nature a thing neuer so good: like as contrarily, to them that studie and indouour themselves to goodnesse, euery thing preuaileth them, and profiteth vnto good, be it of his owne nature a thing neuer so bad, as S. Paul saith, His qui diligunt Deum, omnia cooperantur in bonum. All things do bring good successe, to such as do loue God, euen as out of most venemous wormes is made triacle, þe most soueraigne medicine for the preservation of mans health in time of danger. wherefore I would aduise you all that come to the reading or hearing of this booke, which is the word of God, the most precious iewel, and most holy relique that remaineth vpon earth, that ye bring with you the feare of God, and that ye do it with all due reuerence, and vse your knowledge thereof, not to vainglorie of friuolous disputation: but to the honour of God, encrease of vertue, and edification both of your selues and others. And to the intent that my words may be the more regarded, I will vse in this part the authoritie of S. Gregory Nazianzene, like as in the other I did of S. John Chrysostome. It appeareth that in his time there were some (as I feare me there be also now at these dayes a great number) which were idle brablers, and talkers of the Scripture out of season and all good order, & without any increase of vertue, or example of good liuing: to them he writeth al his first booke, de Theologia. wherefore I shall briefly gather the whole effect, and recite it here vnto you. There be some (saith he) whose not onely eares and tongues, but also their liffes be whetted and ready bent all to contention and vnprofitable disputation, whom I would wish as they be vehement and earnest to reason the matter with tongue, so they were all ready and practiue to do good deedes. But for as much as they subuerting the order of all godlinesse, haue respect only to this thing, how they may binde and loose subtil questions, so that now euery market place, euery alehouse and tauerne, euery feasthouse, briefly euery company of men, euery assembly of women, is filled with such talke: Since the matter is so (saith he) and that our faith and holy religion of Christ beginneth to wane nothing else but as it were a sophistrie or a talking craft, I can no lesse do but say something thereunto. It is not fit (saith he) for euery man to dispute the high questions of diuinitie, neither is it to be done at all times, neither in euery audience must we discusse euery doubt: but we must knowe when, to whom, and how farre we ought to enter into such matters. First, it is not for euery man, but it is for such as be of exact, & exquisite iudgements, and such as haue spent their time before in studie and contemplation, and such as before haue clenfed themselves as wel in soule as body, or at the least endeouored themselves to be made cleane. For it is dangerous (saith he) for the vnclane to touch that thing which is most cleane, like as the sore eye taketh harme by looking vpon the Sunne. Secondarily, not at all times, but when we be repored, and at rest from all outward dreggs and trouble, and when that our heads be not encombrd with other worldly & wandring imaginations: as if a man should mingle balme and dirt together. For he that shall iudge & determine such matters and doubts of Scriptures, must take his time when he may apply his wits thereunto, that he may thereby the better see and discern what is truth. Thirdly, where, and in what audience. There and among those that haue bene studious to learne: And not among such as haue pleasure to trifle with such matters, as with other things of pastime, which repute for their chiefe delicacies, the disputation of high questions, to shew their wittes, learning, and eloquence in reasoning of high matters. Fourthly, it is to be considered how farre to wade in such matters of difficultie. No further (saith he) but as euery mans owne capacitie will serue him, & againe no further then the weaknesse or intelligence of the other audience may beare. For like as too great noyse hurteth the eare, too much meate hurteth mans body, heauie burdens hurt the bearers of them, too much raine doth more hurt then good to the ground: briefly in all things too much is noysome: euen so weake wittes, & weake consciences, may

The Kings highnesse hath allowed the Scripture as necessarie for vs.

There is nothing but it may be abused. Rom. 8.

may soone be oppressed with ouer hard questions. I say not this to dissuade men from the knowledge of God, and reading or studying of the Scripture: for I say that it is as necessary for the life of mans soule, as for the body to breathe. And if it were possible so to liue, I would thinke it good for a man to spende all his life in that, and to do none other thing. I commend the Lawe which biddeth to meditate & study the Scriptures alwayes both night and day, and Sermons and preachings to be made both morning, noone, and euentide, and God to be lauded and blessed in all times, to bed ward, from bed, in our iourneys, and in all other workes. I forbid not to reade, but I forbid to reason. Neither forbid I to reason so farre as is good and godly: but I allow not that is done out of season, and out of measure and good order. A man may eate too much of honie be it neuer so sweete, and there is time for every thing, & that thing that is good is not good if it be vngodly done. Euen as a flower in winter is out of season, and as a womans apparell becommeth not a man, neither contrarily, the mans the woman, neither is weeping conuenient at a brideale, neither laughing at a buriall. Now if we can obserue and keepe that is comely & timely in all other things: shall not we then the rather do the same in holy Scriptures? Let vs not runne forth as it were wilde horses, that can suffer neither bridle in their mouthes, nor sitte on their backs. Let vs keepe vs in our bounds, and neither let vs go too farre on the one side, least we returne into Egypt, neither too farre ouer the other, least we be caried away to Babylon. Let vs not sing the song of our Lord in a strange land, that is to say, let vs not dispute the worde of God at all aduentures, as well where it is not to be reasoned as where it is, and as well in the eares of them that be not fit therefore, as of them that be. If we can in no wise forbear, but that we must needes dispute, let vs forbear thus much at the least, to do it out of time & place conuenient: and let vs entreat of those things which be holy, holily: and vpon those things that be mysticall, mystically: and not to vtter the diuine mysteries in the eares vnworthy to heare them, but let vs knowe what is comely, as well in our silence & talking, as in our garments wearing, in our feeding, in our gesture, in our goings, in all our other behauing. This contention and debates about Scriptures and doubtles thereof (specially when such as do pretend to be the fauourers and students therof, cannot agree within themselves) doth most hurt to our selues, and to the furthering of the cause & quarels that we should haue furthered aboue all other things. And we in this (saith he) be not vnlike to them that being mad, set their owne houses on fire, and that slay their owne children, or beate their owne parents. I maruelle much (saith he) to recount whereof cometh all this desire of vaine glorie, whereof cometh all this tongue itch, that we haue so much delight to talke and clatter? And wherein is our communication? Not in the commendation of vertuous and good deeds, of hospitalitie, of loue betweene christian brother & brother, of loue betweene man and wife, of virginite and chastite, and of almes toward the poore: not in psalmes and godly songs, not in lamenting for our sinnes, not in repressing the affections of the body, not in prayers to God. We talke of Scripture, but in the meane time we subdue not our flesh by fasting, watching and weeping, we make not this life a meditation of death, we do not strue to be lords ouer our appetites and affections, we go not about to pull downe our proude and high mindes, to abate our sumptuous and rancorous stomaches, to restraine our lust and bodily delectations, our vndiscret sorowes, our lasciuious mirth, our inordinate looking, our insatiable hearing of vanities, our speaking without measure, our inconuenient thoughts, and briefly, to reforme our life & maners: but all our holinesse consisteth in talking. And we pardon eche other from all good liuing, so that we may sticke fast together in argumentation, as though there were no mo wayes to heauen but this alone, the way of speculation and knowledge (as they take it) but in very deed it is rather the way of superfluous contention & sophistication. Hitherto haue I recited the minde of Gregorie Nazianzene in that booke which I spake of before. The same author saith also in another place, that the learning of a Christian man ought to begin of the feare of God, to end in matters of high speculation: and not contrarily to begin with speculation, and to end in feare. For speculation (saith he) either high cunning or knowledge, if it be not stayed with the bridle of feare to offend God, is dangerous, and ynough to tumble a man headlong downe the hill. Therefore, saith he, the feare of God must be the first beginning, and as it were an A.B.C. or an introduction to all them that shall enter into the very true and most fruitfull knowledge of holy Scriptures. Where as is the feare of God, there is (saith he) the keeping of the commandments: and where as is the keeping of the commandments, there is the cleansing of the flesh: which flesh is a cloude before the soules eye, & suffreth it not purely to see the beame of the heauenly light. Where as is the cleansing of the flesh, there is the illumination of the holy Ghost, the end of all our desires, and the very light whereby the veritie of Scriptures is seene and perceiued. This is the minde, & almost the words of Gregorie Nazianzene, doctor of the Greeke Church, of whom S. Jerome saith, that vnto his time the latine Church had no writer able to be compared, and to make an euen match with him. Therefore to conclude this latter part, every man that cometh to the reading of this holy booke, ought to bring with him first and foremost this feare of almightie God, and then next, a firme and stable purpose to reforme his owne selfe according thereunto, and so to continue, proceede, and prosper from time to time, shewing himselfe to be a sober and fruitfull hearer and learner: which if he do, he shall proue at length well able to teach, though not with his mouth, yet with his liuing and good example, which is sure the most liuely and effectuous forme and maner of teaching. He that other wise intermedleth with this booke, let him be assured that once he shall make account therefore, when he shall haue said to him as it is written in the Prophet Dauid, Peccatori dicit Deus, &c. Vnto the vngodly saide God, why dost thou preach my lawes, and takest my testament in thy mouth? Whereas thou hatest to be reformed, and hast bene partaker with adulterers. Thou hast let thy mouth speake wickednesse, and with thy tongue thou hast set forth deceit. Thou satest and spakest against thy brother, and hast slandered thine owne mothers sonne. These things hast thou done, and I held my tongue, and thou thoughtest wickedly, that I am euen such a one as thy selfe: But I will reprove thee, and set before thee the things that thou hast done. Consider this, ye that forget God, least I plucke you away, and there be none to deliuer you. Who so offereth me thanks and praise, he honoureth me: and to him that ordereth his conuersation right, wil I shewe the saluation of God.

Praise be to God.

I haue here (gentle Reader) before this Translation of the Bible, at the request of diuers learned, set downe this notable Preface, (conteyning both the necessarie, and also the profitable vse of the Scriptures) as well for the godly exhortations, and louing admonitions therein giuen, as also for reteyning amongst vs the memorie of that excellent and worthy Martyr, T. C. sometimes Archbishop of Canturburie.

This Table setteth out to the eye the genealogie of Adam, so passing by the Patriarches, Iudges, Kings, Prophets, and Priestes, and the fathers of their time, continuing in lineall dissent to Christ our Sauour.

Adam, the first man, was fourmed by God of the dust of the ground, and placed in paradise, out of the which doe spring the foure notable fountes. And Adam gaue name to the woman, which was made of his ribbe (while he was a sleepe) and called her Eua, as he gaue name to all other creatures. And after he had consented unto her for eating of p apple which was forbidden them, their eyes were opened, and they knewe they were naked, and therefore they made themselves aprons of figgeleaves. And God byouet them out of Paradiſe, and ſet Cherubims and a ſerpe[n]t to keepe the way of the tree of life: And after he had rebuked him, his wife and the ſerpe[n]t, hee curſed the earth with thorne and thistle, and he was enioyned to get his bread in the ſweate of his face. Who begate thirtie ſonnes and thirtie daughters, beſide Cain and Abel, as followeth. He liued yeres 930. Genesis 5.5.

K Sheth was begotten by Adam in the 130. yere of his life, where Sheth hath omitted one hundred yeres, wherein Adam & Eua did begette Abel their ſonne to ſlaime. Gen. 5.3.

L Henoch pleaſing God, was tranſlated into Paradiſe, and liued with Elias. Which Henoch by inuention certain letters, wrote a booke as is to be gathered out of p Epistle of Jude, in whose time it is thought that Adam dyed. Gen. 5.24. and 22.

M Abel was the first martyr, who began and builded the Church, which is the Citie of God, whereof hee was the first citizen, and because he was righteous, God accepted his oblation. Gen. 4.4.

B Kain was a husbandman, and being displeased that his offerings were reprobated, and not his brother Abels (although he was rebuked of God for his crime) ſlew his brother, and offended ſeu[n]fold thereby. After that, hee was made a fugitive and a vagabonde upon the earth: for he was accuſed of God, and was ſeu[n]fold puniſhed into the ſeu[n]th generation. His ſinne was ſeu[n]fold. For first he did not rightly deuote, 2 he envied his brother, 3 hee dealt ſubtilly, 4 hee killed him, 5 hee ſtubbornly denied it, 6 hee diſpaired, 7 being condemned, hee repented not. Gen. 4.13. This Kain was the first builder of the earths Citie, in the which hee beſtowed his children for ſeaſe, because hee ſlew violence, rauen, and ſpoyle. Gen. 4.17.

N Noah in the first hundred yere of his life, upon the rage of the waters, made his Arke by Gods inuention twenty yeres before, and the waters encreaſing by nightes, hee entred his ſhip with ſeu[n] ſoules, and after a hundred and ſixty dayes the waters began to decreaſe, and the Arke did reſt upon the mountaine of Ararat. And after forty dayes hee ſent out a Raven, and after that a Dove, returning with a bowe of Olive in her mouth. And in the 27. day of the ſecond moneth, hee came out of the Arke, the ſelfe ſame day after the reuolucion of the pere that hee entred, and had granted him to eat fleſh, excepting the blood therein, and builded an altar, and ſacrificed to God, and God bleſſed him that he ſhould grow and multiplie, and had the ſigne of the rainebowe giuen him, as a token that the world ſhould be no more ouerflowen with flood. Hee first planted vines, and was drunken with the wine thereof, and was ſcormed of his ſonne Ham, who curſed him, and bleſſed his other ſonnes, and ſo dyed. Gen. 9.29.

Here at Noah doeth end the first age, hauing yeres according to the Hebrewes 1656. and according to the Septuaginta 2242.

The eight ages of the worlde.

The first age was from Adam to Noah: the ſecond, from Noah to Abraham: the thirde, from Abraham to David: the fourth, from David to the tranſmigration of Babilon: the fifth from thence to Chriſt: the ſixth, from Chriſt to the ende of the worlde: the ſeu[n]th, may be added as of them which be in reſt, which may be accounted from Chriſtes paſſion to the day of iudgement: the eighth age, as of them which ſhall riſe againe from the day of iudgement for euer.

And theſe ages be not ſo called for the diſtinct number of certaine thouſande yeres, but for certaine notable actes which were wrought in the beginning of euery one of them. For in the beginning of the first age the worlde was created: In the beginning of the ſeconde the worlde was purged by the flood: In the beginning of the thirde circumciſion was giuen againſt original ſinne: In the beginning of the fourth was the anoynting of the kings of Iſrael: In the beginning of the fifth was the tranſmigration of Gods people into Babilon: In the beginning of the ſixth was the incarnation of the ſonne of God: In the beginning of the ſeu[n]th were the gates of heauen opened, In the beginning of the eighth ſhall be the reſurrection of the bodies, the reward of good and euill. Aulen. Hierom. Oroſius.

After the flood, ſprang vp foure principall Kingdomes.

Assyrians of the East, where Belus was the first King.
Syriacians of the West, where Egiptus was the first King.
Scythians of the North, where Minus was the first King.
Egyptians of the South, where Phineus was the first King.

To this Belus ſucceeded Semiramis his wife, who did conſtitute Babilon the chiefe of his kingdom, to whom ſuccceeded, who was the deuiler of ſoules, making an image to his father Belus after his departure, and cau'd it to be honoured of all men. Hee obtained all Aſia, and called the head citie Ninueh, hee reigned in Chyacia, hee was the inuenter of the arte Magicke, and gaue the ſeu[n] liberall ſciences in two pillars, one of blaſt, and another of buicke, hee beſtowed all manner of bookes. After him ſucceeded Sardanapalus, and after him Arbaces, who tranſlated that kingdom to the Hebrews, ouer whom reigned Aſpases, whose daughter was wife to the Prince of Verſia, of whose ſpraying Cypus, who conquered Aſpases: after his death, Darius Aſpases ſonne reigned with the ſaid Cypus his nephew.

From theſe children of Noah doe ſpring 72. generations: of Iapheth 15. of Ham 30. of Shem 27. which was ſpread ouer all the whole worlde. Shem obtained Aſia, Ham Africa, Iapheth Europa, that is, the North part. The generation of Shem ſhall be followed in this genealogie, for of the other two ſpring the Gentiles.

C Iabal did first deuote h ſheep: heards cabones to be rebely carried about. Hee was the first which made diſtinction betwixt the flockes of ſheep, & the flockes of kybes, according to their age and qualitie, and did deuote them aſunder. Gen. 4.20.

D Iubal was the father of them which ſang in Harpe and Organes, not finder of the instruments, but inuenter of the Art of muſicke, to the intent that the ſhepherds labours might be ſomewhat recreated: and leſt that the Art of muſicke ſhould decay, hee granted the whole ſcience in two pillars, the one of marble againſt the floodes, the other of bricke againſt the fire. Genesis 4.21.

E Tubal-kain was the first inuenter of Smithes arte, and of graving worke in metall: by whose doing, Tubal his brother hauing delectation in the ſounde of his hammers, was the first that deuised proportions, and harmonies ſpringing out of them. Genesis 4.22.

F Of Eber came then the name of the Hebrewes, because in his familie the ancient tongue of the Jewes was kept, notwithstanding the diuſion of tongues. Gen. 11.17.

G Peleg liued when the diuſion of the tongues was made, at the building of the tower of Babel in the lande Sennaar, in whose familie the moſt ancient tongue of the Hebrewes did remaine. He was called Peleg, that is, diuided from other: For God diuided all the children of men into 72. tongues, of the which onely 18. haue their letters. In his time idoles were worſhipped in Babilon. Gen. 11.18, 19.

H Nahor after he was come out of Chaldea, hee tooke to wife Milcah the daughter of his brother Haran, hee dwelt in Haran of Meſopotamia, hee had three ſonnes, Gus, Gus, and Babel, with other ſiue. Of Babel ſprung Balaam, who is called in Job Elind Buzites. Gen. 11.29.

I Terah maketh the ende of the ſeconde generation, hauing 122. yeres according to the Hebrewes, but according to the Septuaginta 1072. This Terah the father of Abraham, not able to beare the iniuries that were done unto him of worſhipping the fire in Chaldea, where the Chaldeans beſtopped his ſiue begotten ſonne Haran, hee ſoujourned as pilgrime with Abraham and Nahor, and the familie of Haran, in Meſopotamia, where after two hundred and ſiue yeres of his age hee dyed. Genesis 11.32.

A Nahor went out of Chaldaea, and married Milcah the daughter of his brother Haran, departing and abiding in Haran of Mesopotamia, where his father being dead, and Abraham sojourning in Chanaan, had three sonnes, Uz, Buz, Bethuel, with of ther five: of Buz came Balaam. Gen. 22. 22.

B Haran was slaine by the Chaldees, because hee would not worship the fire for God. Gen. 11. whose daughter Sarai, Abraham tooke to wife, & bare him a sonne, Izhak by name. Gen. 11. 29.

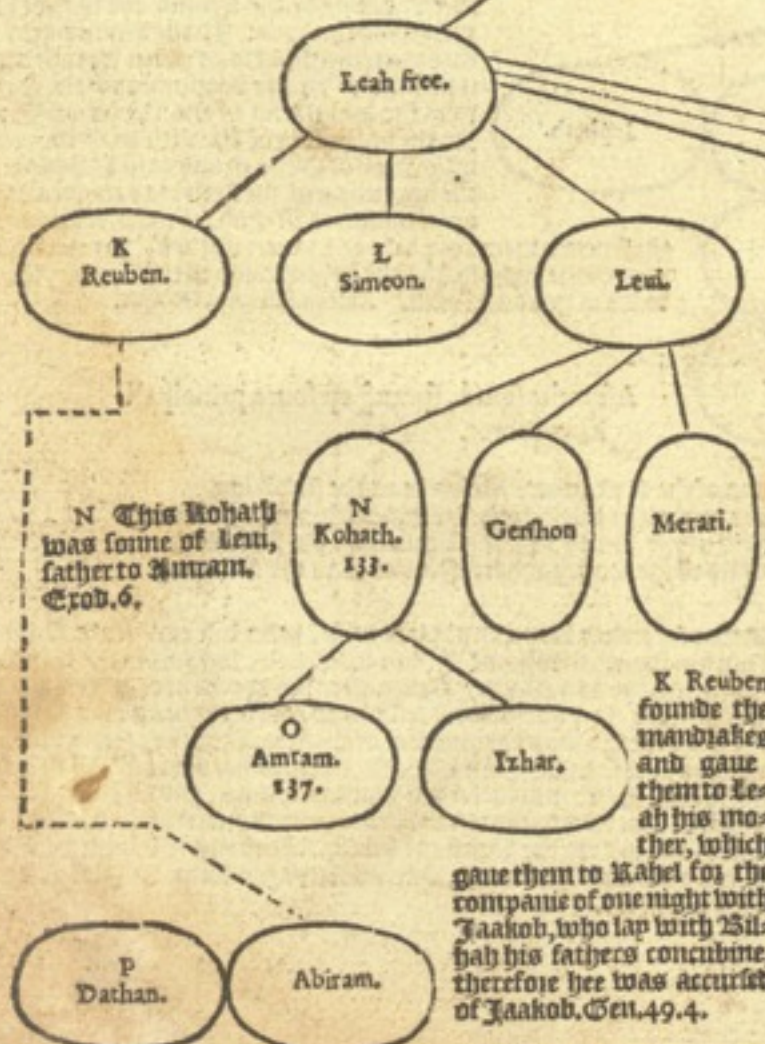

D Lot, after he was come out of Egypt, and after the destruction of five cities by fire and brimstone, and his wife turned to a salt stone, because she looked backe: and being in the mountains, and made drunken of his two daughters, hee begate two sonnes, Moab, and Ammon, of whom

H Rebekah was wife to Izhak, and came out of Mesopotamia, Labans sister the daughter of Bethuel. Gen. 24. 47.

I Iakob supplanted his brother Esau in his birth right and in his fathers blessing, went into Mesopotamia, and erected up a title might to Lusan, which is now called Jerusalem, hee laide him downe to sleepe, and sawe a ladder reaching up to heauen, and sawe Angels going up, and coming downe, and sawe the Lord standing upon the ladder, saying to him, This lande will I give to thee and to thy seede, and afterwarde journeyed Esau warde to Laban, whome hee served fourteene yeres: for his daughters, Leah and Rachel. Rachel stole her fathers idols: Iakob wrestled with the Angel, and his name was changed into Israel, his daughter Dinah was ravished by Sichem, he erected up an altar at Bethel, Rachel died of Benjamin, Reuben did abuse Bilhah his fathers concubine. Of the children of Iakob came a great issue. Gene. 46. 8.

L Of Simeon came the Scribes, who with Levi the Schemites, from Levi came the Priests, who sacrificed to God: from Judah came the Kings, those children of Kohath, but of the one descended Priests, of him onely is it sufficient to speake.

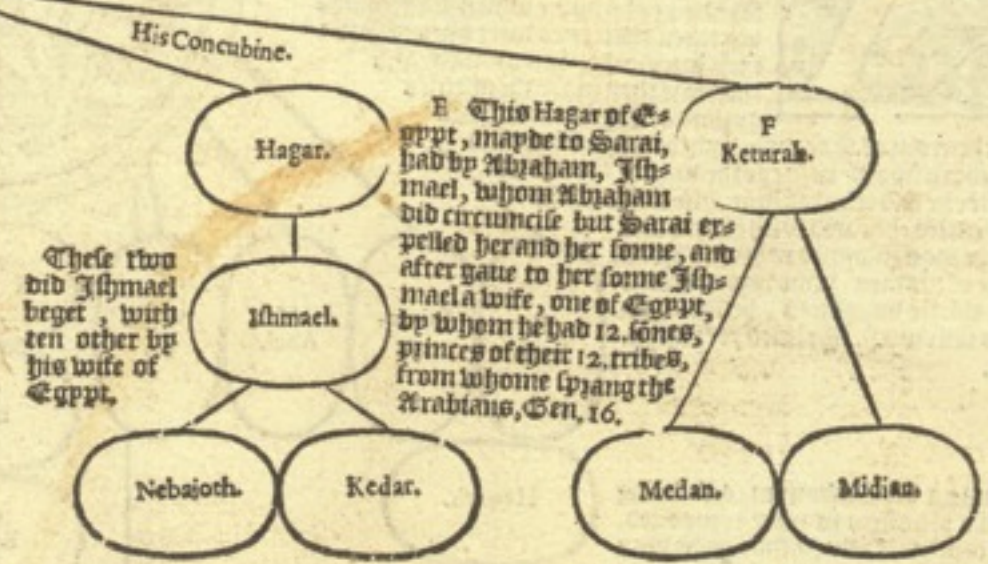

P Dathan and Abiram came from Reuben by reason of the first begotten, for that they would have entered the office of Moyses, by sedition which they raised at suggestion of Korah, which were swallowed up of the earth, with 250. men, with all their householde. Num. 16. 1.

O This Amram tooke Jochebed the daughter of Levi to wife, as the Jewes say. Exod. 6. 20.

Terah Abrahams father being offended with the Chaldeans in worshipping the fire, for which they killed his sonne Haran, departed from thence with Abraham and Nahor. Gen. 11. 31.

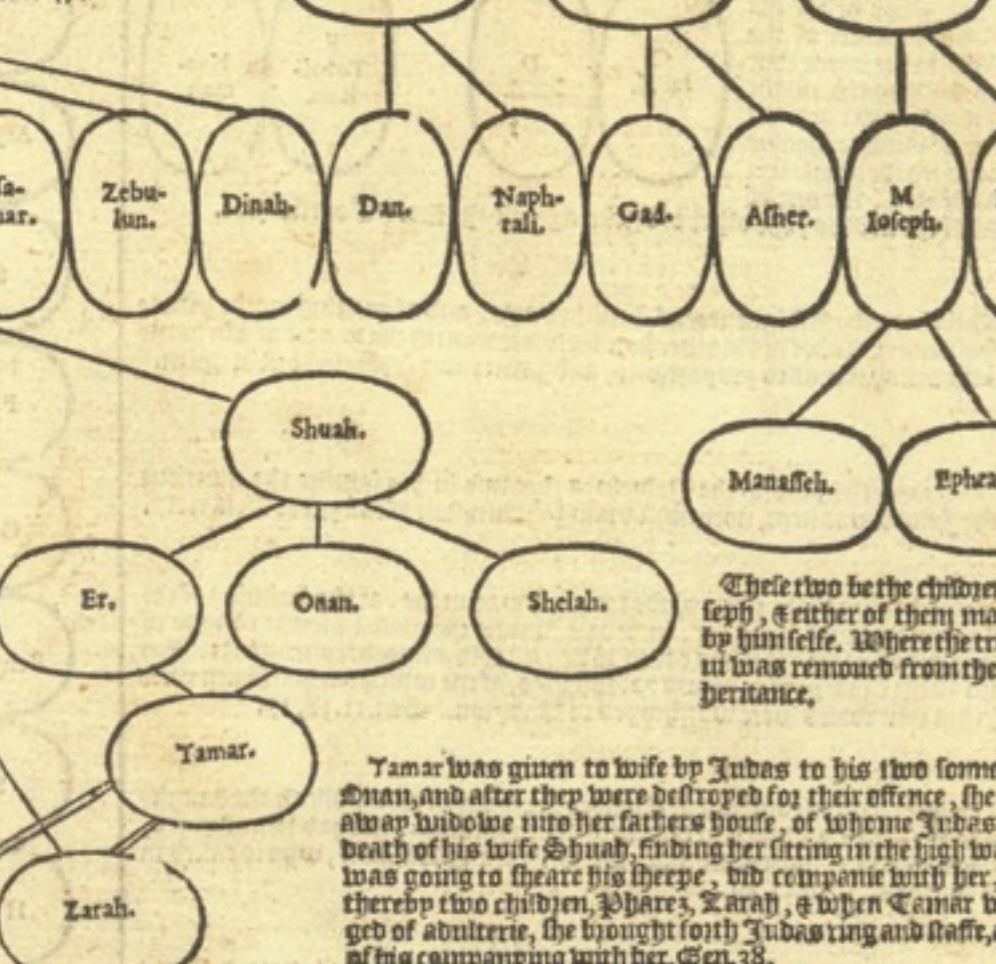

C Abraham, after the death of his brother Haran in Dr of the Chaldeans, taking Lot for his sonne by adoption, and Sarai to his wife, the daughter of Haran, did journey with his father into Charran. And after his fathers decease went into Sichem, where God appeared unto him, saying, To thy seede will I give this lande. And from thence hee came to Wentapolis. After that hee pitched his tent betwixt Bethel and Ai, and called upon the name of the Lord. And from thence he departed for the summe, and went downe into Egypt, where hee named his wife to be his sister. And from thence he went to the valley of Hamre, and dwelled himselfe from Lot. Hee did deliver Lot from his captivitee, and killed five kings, and gave to thees to Melchizedek Priest and King. And in the 85. yere of his age, he had a sonne of his handmaide, called Ishmael, whome with himselfe hee did circumcise, and in the 100. yere of his age, he had Izhak. And after the death of Sarai his wife, he married Keturah, and had five children of her: and when hee had fulfilled 175. yeres, hee dyed.

F Keturah was wife to Abraham after the death of Sarai, though some thinke she was called Hagar being his wife, and afore his concubine, of whome hee had five sonnes, from whome spring the Sarasins, and dwelt wyde in the land. Gen. 25. 1.

G Izhak was boyne in the land of Chanaan, circumcised the eight day, and when he was 5. yeres olde, his father would have made him a sacrifice. And at fourtie yeres of his age, hee tooke to wife Rebekah, who labouring in her birth, heard the revelation that Esau should serve Iakob, and in the 60. yere of his age, his two sonnes Esau and Iakob were boyne. Afterward Izhak in a great samite went to King Abimelech, and there sayned his wife to be his sister, as his father did before him. And hee digged the three pittes which his father had made, which the Philistines did stoppe up. Gen. 26. 8.

M Joseph was sold into Egypt to Pharaohs house, where hee received his father Iakob & his 11. brethren. Gen. 46. and 47.

These two be the children of Joseph, & either of them make a tribe by himselfe. Where the tribe of Levi was remoued from the lot of inheritance.

Tamar was given to wife by Judas to his two sonnes Er and Onan, and after they were destroyed for their offence, she was sent away widowe into her fathers house, of whome Judas after the death of his wife Shuah, finding her sitting in the high way, as hee was going to sheare his sheepe, did companie with her, and had thereby two children, Pharez, and Zarah, & when Tamar was charged of adulterie, he brought forth Judas ring and staffe, as pledge of his companie with her. Gen. 38.

I. Samuel was called the seer of the Lord, for hee had three dignities, being Just, Judge, and Prophet: hee at the petition of the people of Israel anointed Saul of the tribe of Benjamin for the King, giving him charge to kill the Amalekites, and Agag their King: which precept because he did not fulfill, he was rejoyced of the Lord, and Samuel did anoint David the sonne of Ithai in Bethlehem to be King. This Samuel was rapt by after his death by a Pythonesse a witch. In his time began the people of Israel to have Kings, 1. Sam. 10. 1.

P Jonathan was dearly beloued of Dauid, and in signe of friendship hee gave to Dauid his appaill, and deliuered him from his fathers ire, for hee knewe that hee was elected King by God: Dauid loued him some ſpechioberth, and did mercifully with him as hee promiſed to Jonathan, for hee ſet him at his table. 2. Sam. 9.7. His laſt was ſlaine of the Philiftins. 1. Sam. 31.2.

Obed was sonne to Booz. Ruth. 4. 17. There shall come a rodde forth of the stocke of Ithai (which is Christ) and a grasse shall growe out of his rootes, and the spirit of the Lord shall rest upon him, &c.

In the time of Dauid, Iob the sonne of Zeruah was lieutenant vpon the arme: Iosaphat secretarie, that is, writer of the actes: Zadok and Abiathar Priestes: Sheia scribe, that is, Chancelour, Benaiah ouer the Cherethites and Peletites, which were of the garde to Dauids person: Nathan and Gad were Prophets in his time. 2. Sam. 20. 23.

Dauid had seuen wives, Aglah, Abital, Bathsheba, Haggith, Haashah, Abigail, Achishor, which were mothers of these children, in order as they goe, beside other concubines, and other children many, 1. Chron.
3. 1, 2, &c.

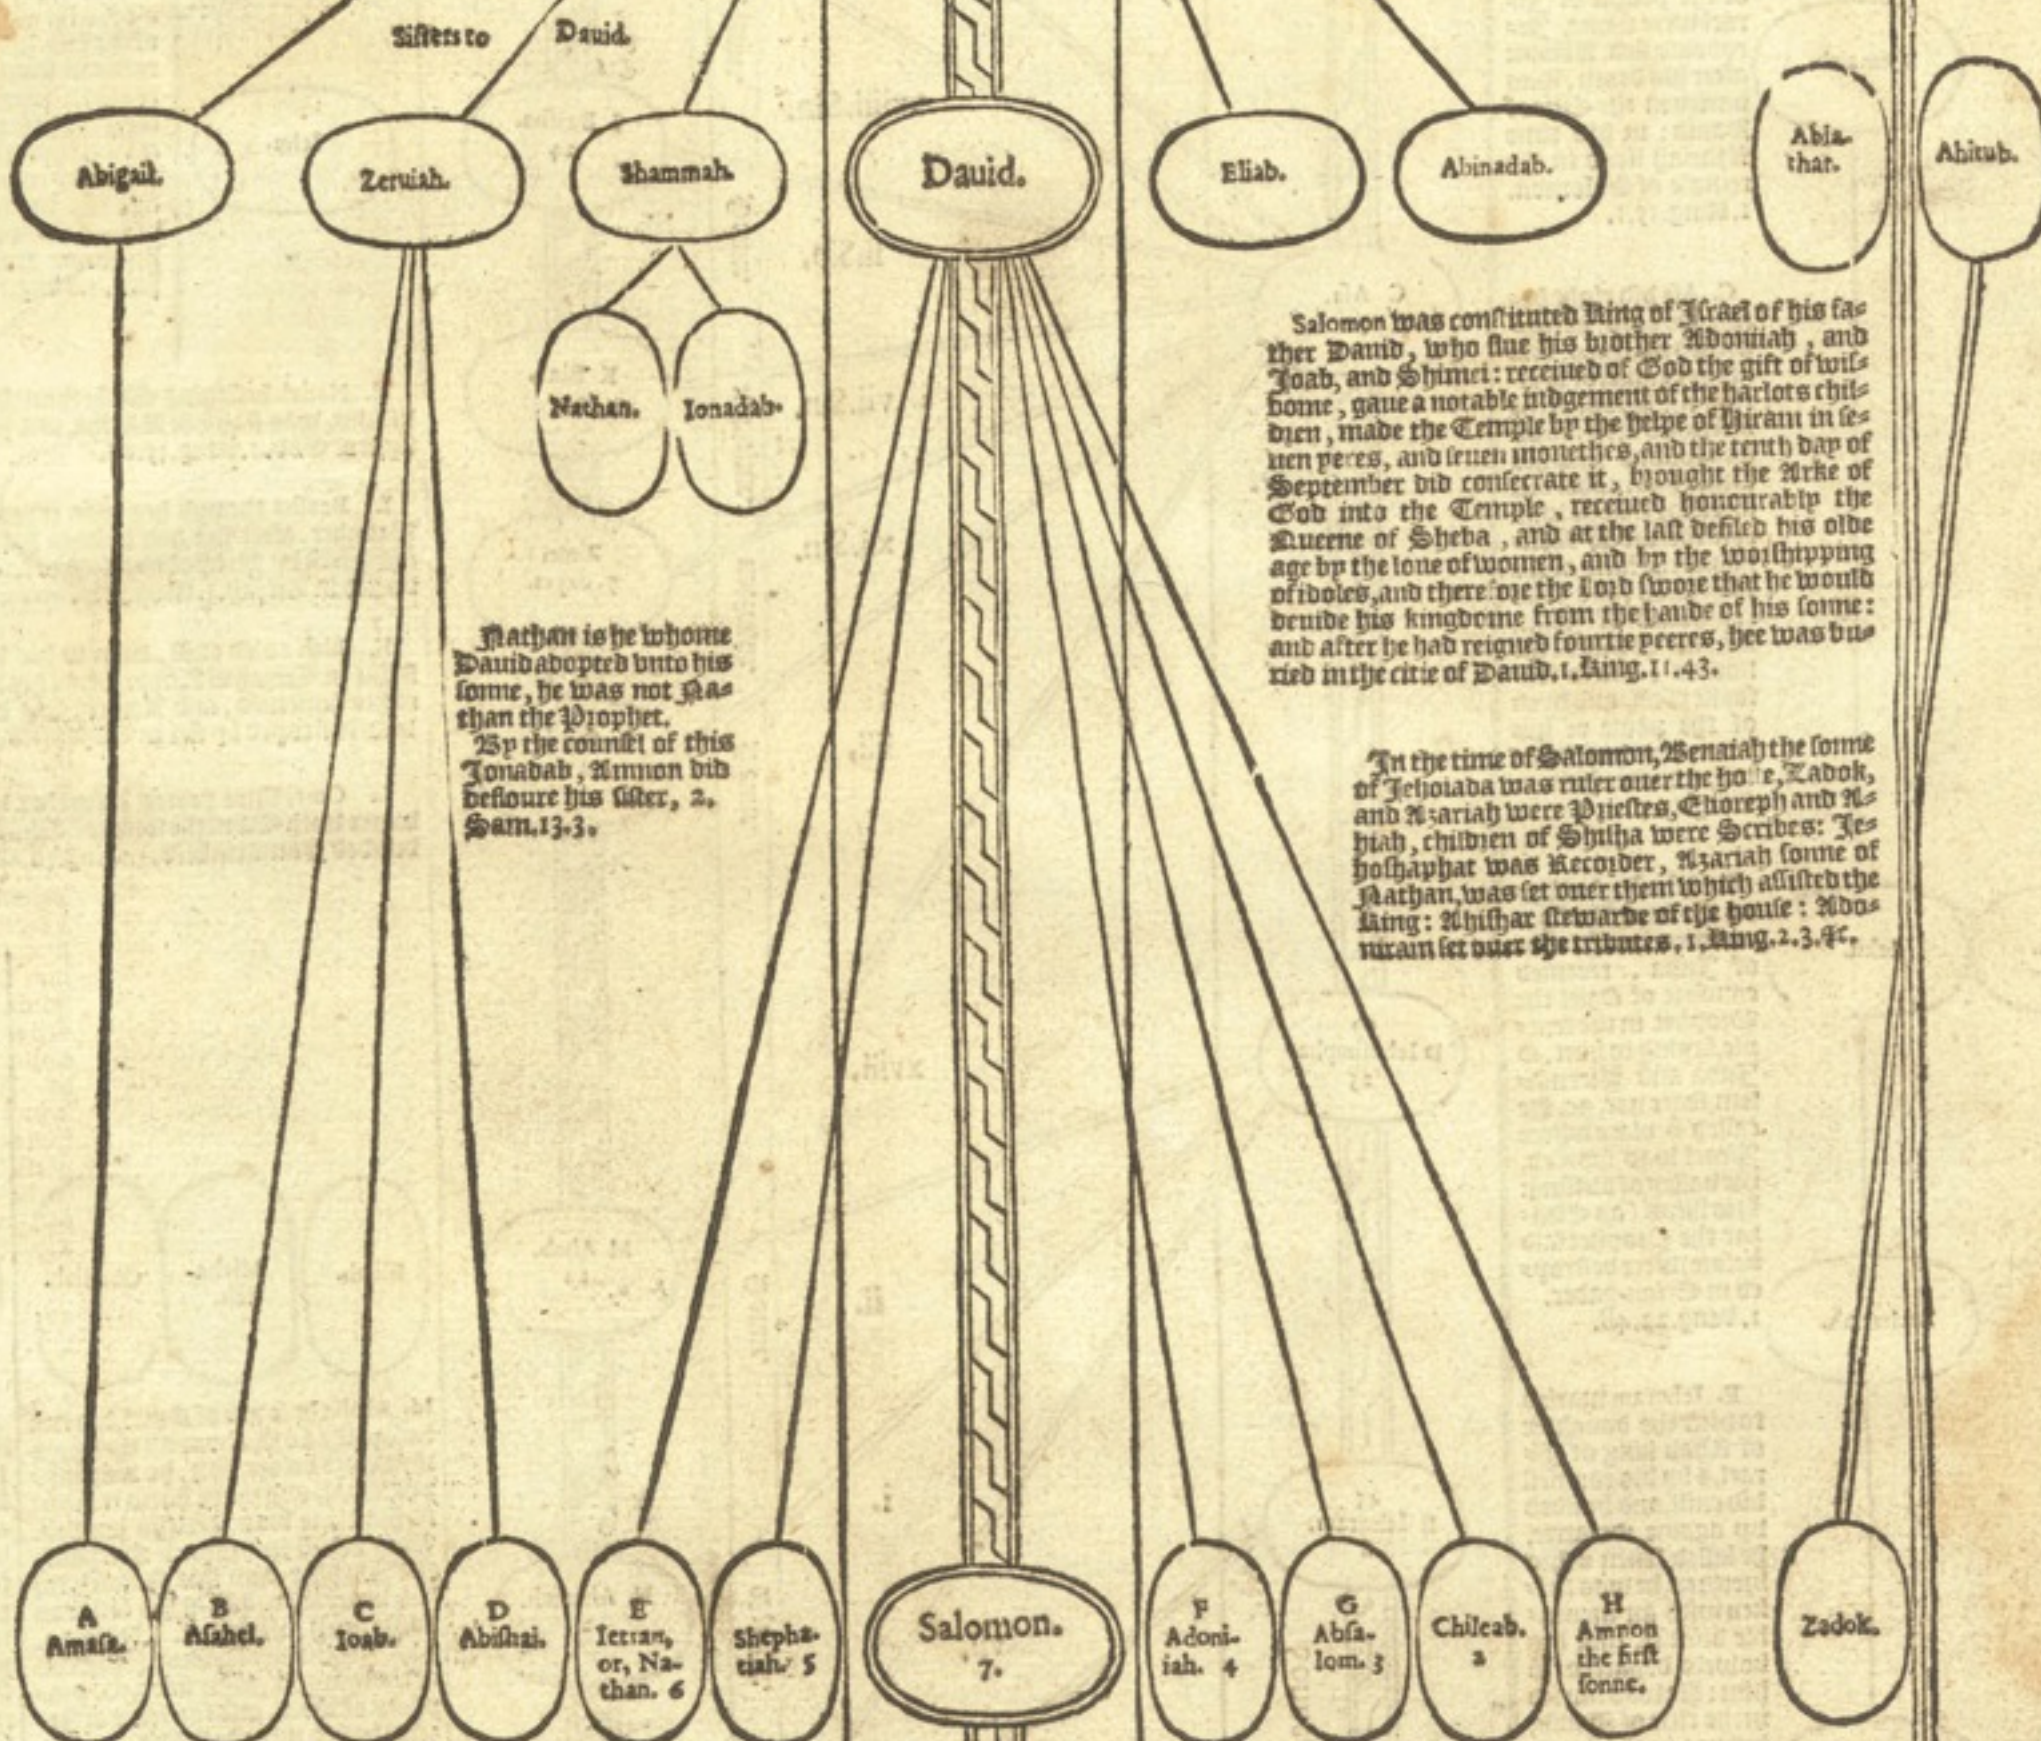

Here at Dauid endeth the thirde age, and it containeth yeeres 1020, and within this age, in the yeere 3699, from the creation of the worlde, the children of Israel went out of Egypt, and ioy-ning the yeeres from Adam vnto Dauid, there were 4204. yeeres.

then, elected of the Lord to be King, and to by Sammel anointed, 1. Sam. 16: After that, in Hebron hee was made King vpon the tribe of Iuda seuen peeres and sixe monethes: thirde, vpon all Israel thirte and thre peeres. Hee with his harpe did mitigate the furie of Saul: he by the killing of Goliath waime Ionathans heart vnto him: he was made the sonne in lawe to the King, and hauing commendations of the virgines in their longes aboue Saul, suffered much enuie of him, and was pursued directly by him to death, but was deliuered by the fauour of God. In Iob hee did eate the breads appointed for the Priestes, and countersfaired a madnesse before Achish King of Gath: hee escaped from the handes of Saul: when the Philistines came vpon him, and when Saul persecuted him, Dauid cut the hemme off his cloke in the caue that he was in: he married Abigail the wife of Nabal the Idolish, after his death: he tooke priuily away the speare and pitcher of water which was at Sauls head: After Saul was dead, comming from Achish in Ziklag, sue the Amalekites: the mel-senger that sue Saul, he executed, making a mourning long for him, after whome Salomon his sonne succeeded in his kings-dome, 1. King. 1. 2. cap.

Here returneth the Priesthoode to the children of Eleazar in the time of Salomon, who did recte Asbiathar, which was of the children of Ithamar, and restored to Zadok the Priesthoode, which was of the sonnes of Eleazar.

Salomon was constituted King of Israel of his father Dauid, who sue his brother Adoniah, and Joab, and Shimai: receiued of God the gift of wis-dome, gaue a notable iudgement of the harlots children, made the Temple by the helpe of Hiram in seuen peeres, and seuen monethes, and the tenth day of September did consecrate it, brought the Arke of God into the Temple, receiued honourably the Queene of Sheba, and at the last defiled his olde age by the loue of women, and by the worshiping of idoles, and there fore the Lord swore that he would deuide his kingdome from the hande of his sonne:
and after he had reigned fourtie peeres, hee was buried in the citie of Dauid, 1. King. 1. 43.

In the time of Salomon, Benaiah the sonne of Jehoiada was ruler ouer the ho:se, Zadok, and Azariah were Priestes, Euzeph and Ashiab, children of Shilhi were Scribes: Je-hosaphat was Recorder, Azariah sonne of Nathan, was set ouer them which assisted the King: Ahishar steward of the house: Adoniram set ouer the tributes, 1. King. 2. 3. &c.

A. Amasa was lieutenant ouer the battailes of Dauid, whome Iob sue deceitfully vnder the colour of embracing him. 2. Sam. 20. 9.

B. This Asahel was a man very swift in running, whome Abner the sonne of Ner did kill, whereupon himselfe also was slaine. 2. Sam. 2. 19.

C. This Iob was Dauids seruant, whome hee mainteyned in high dominion against all men, which killed Abner the sonne of Ner, the chiefe of Sauls hoste. 2. Sam. 3. 27.

D. Abishai went with Dauid when he tooke away the speare and pitcher of water from the head of Saul in his sleepe, whome he would haue killed, but Dauid would not suffer him. 1. Sam. 26. 6.

E. By this Ierem or Nathan the sonne of Dauid, the virgine descended, as appeareth: beginning from him, and so going downe to Marie in the right line.

F. Adoniah was deposed by Dauid, because he would raigne, and did appoint Salomon, who sue him because hee did as he Abishag the Shunammite to wife. 1. King. 2. 17.

G. Absalom was a very faire man, hee sue his brother Am-non, hee had the fauour of the people, hee tooke from his father his kingdome, lay with his concubines, at the last was slaine with thre speares. 2. Sam. 18. 14.

H. Amnon did defile his sister Tamar in his sayned Achenele, doing him seruite, by the counsaile of Ionadab, and therefore was slaine by Absalom, who fled from his father, and by suite of Iob was reconciled. 2. Sam. 13. 1. 2. &c.

G. Ieroboam tooke ten cuttes off of his cloake of Ahiah & Shillonite, fled into Egypt for the fear of Salomon, but after his death returned into Sichem, and was elected king of the ten tribes, hee made the golden calues, and put them in Dan and Bethel, and caused the people of Israel to commit idola-trie, which did sacrifice to the calues, who hearing the threate of Iddo the Prophet, and after his hande which hee stretcheth against Iddo was bried up, and by his prayer restored againe:
which Prophet being slaine of a Lion for that heeooke a dinner of the falle prophet, the said Ieroboam leauing nor his saide

ing the Prophets counsell, and asking counsell of Ahiah by his wife of p reconerie of his childe, and hearing the heauie tidings of his desolation, departed, and his sonne Nadab reigned after him, 1. King, 12. 20.

H. Nadab besieging Gibbethon the citie of the Philistines, was slaine of Baasha, and he liued euill in the sight of God, 1. King. 15. 28.

1. Baasha though hee was reprov'd of Jehu the Prophet, after hee had buried Kamah against Hia, and led by Benhabab, Hia his friend died, and was buried in Tirzah. 1. King. 15. 9.

K. Elah ruled evil, who in his drunkenness was slain in Tirzah of Zimri, being head captain of half of his hostmen, and Zimri being besieged by Omri, was destroyed by her in Tirzah. 1. King. 16. 18.

L. Omri three yeeres before hee did reigne, hee did warre with Tibni the sonne of Ganiath: after hee had builded Samaria died, 1. King. 16, 28.

Kings of Syria.

M. Ahab the sonne of Omri, did evil before the Lord, above all the kings that were before him, he worshipped Baal, and made him a temple: in his time was Jericho builded. This Ahab imprisoned Michajah the prophet, and slew Naboth for his vinegarde, and at the last was slaine with an arrowe. 1 King. 22. 34. In his time Helias prophesied of the drought, who slew 450. prophets of Baal, and for feare of Jeschabel he fled into the desert.

O. Iehoram flut Spichaiah, with caſting him downe headlong. & liſa the Prophet in his time, gave water in the deſart to three Kings and their hoſtes, & is, to Iehoram
king of Je-dom, fighting against 2. Spoabites, whose king offered his eldest sonne for a burnt offering: and after that Iehoram had escaped the famine of Samaria at the telling of the les-pers, he was wounded at 2. siege of Hamoth, & at the last slain by Jehu with an arrow, 2. King. 9. 24.

P. Benhadad warring against Hahab, was taken of him, and afterward set at liberty, wherefore he was re-proud of Eli-shah the Prophet, he also be-sieg'd Jezebel the wife of Ha-hab in Samaria, but by the power of God, hee was ejetiled, and was strangled of his servant, and so dyed. 2. King. 8.

These Kings of Syria were they which did much spoyle
the kingdome
of Israel.

Of the Golden number.

The Golden number is so called, because it was written in the Kalender with letters of gold, right at that day whereon the Moone changed: and it is the space of 19. yeeres, in the which the Moone returneth to the selfe same day of the yeere of the Sunne: and therefore it is also called the Cycle of the Moone, in the which the Solstices and Equinoctials, do returne to all one point in the Zodiaque.

To finde it euery yeere, you must adde one yeere to the yeere of Christ (for Christ was borne one yeere of the 19. already past) then diuide the whole by 19. and that which resteth, is the Golden number for that yeere, if there be no surpluse, it is then 19.

The Epact.

Epactæ hemeræ in Greeke, doeth signifie in English dayes set betweene, and therefore the 11. dayes and 3. houres that are added to the yeere of the Moone, are called Epactæ, and are added to make the yeere of the Moone, which is but 354. dayes, iust with the yeere of the Sunne, which hath 365. dayes and a quarter.

To finde out the Epact of eche yeere, do thus. To the Epact of the yeere that last went before that yeere for which you would finde the Epact, adde 11. and the summe of these two make the Epact. If it surmount 30. then take 30. out, and that which resteth about 30. is the Epact you desire.

The vse of the Epact.

To knowe howe olde the Moone is at any time for euery by the Epact, do thus: Adde vnto the dayes of your moneth where in you would knowe this, the Epact, and as many dayes moe, as are moneths from March to that moneth, including both moneths, out of the which subtract 30. as often as you may, the age remaineth: if nothing remaine, the Moone changeth that day.

For the more ease of the Reader, we haue placed here ouer an Almanacke, inclusiuely comprehending, not onely howe to finde the Epact for the space of 32. yeeres to come, but also the Golden number afore specified, together with the Dominicall letter, Leape yeere, and 7. other moueable feastes, or dayes in the yeere, during the same time, as may appeare.

Note that the Golden number and Dominicall letter doeth change euery yeere the first day of Ianuarie, and the Epact the first day of March for euery: Note also, that the yeere of our Loyde becometh the 11. day of March, the same day supposed to be the first day upon which the worlde was created, and the day when Christ was conceived in the wombe of the virgine Marie.

Howve to take profite in reading of the holy Scriptures.

Who so euer mindeth to take profite by reading scriptures, must

- 1 Earnestly & usually pray unto God that he will vouchsafe to
  - Teach the way of his statutes,
  - Give understanding,
  - Direct in the path of his commandementes.
- 2 Diligently keepe such order of reading the scriptures and prayer as may stand with his calling and state of life, So that
  - At the least twisse euerie day this exercise bee kept.
  - The time once appoynted herunto after a good entrie, be no other wise employed,
  - Superstition be auoyded.
  - At one other time that be done, which is left vndone at any time.
- 3 Understande to what ende and purpose the Scriptures serue, which were written, to
  - Teach, that we may learne truely,
  - Inproue, that we may be kept from errour,
  - Correct, that we may be vniuen from vice,
  - Instruct, that we may be setled in the way of well doing,
  - Comfort, that in trouble we may be confirmed in patient hope.
- 4 Remember that Scriptures concerne matter concerning
  - Religion and the right worshipping of God, as
    - Sayth in one God
      - Father,
      - Sonne,
      - Holy Ghost.
    - The state of mankinde, by

  - Heare preaching, and to proue by the Scriptures that which is taught, Act. 17. verse 11.

THE SVMMME OF THE whole Scripture of the bookes of the olde and newe Testament.

God,

He bookes of the olde Testament, do teach vs that the same God, whom Adam, Noe, Abraham, Iſaac, Iacob, Dauid, and the other fathers did worship, is * the only true God, and that he the same is almightie and euerlaſting: Who of his meere goodneſſe hath created by his word b<sup>e</sup>auen and earth, and all that is in them: From whom all things doe come: without whom there is nothing at all: And that he is iuſt and mercifull: Who alſo <sup>e</sup>worketh all in al, * after his owne will: <sup>f</sup>To whom it is not lawfull to ſay, wherefore he doeth thus or thus.

Creation of man.

Moreouer, theſe bookes teach vs, that this very God almightie, after he created all things, ſhoped alſo Adam the firſt man, <sup>s</sup> to the image and ſpiritual ſimilitude of himſelfe, and that he did conſtitute him lord ouer all things that he had created in earth. Which Adam, by the enuie and fraude of the deuil, tranſgreſſing the precept of his creator, <sup>b</sup> by this his finne brought in ſuch and ſo great finne into the worlde, that we which be ſprung from him by the fleſh, <sup>i</sup> be in nature the children of wrath, and thereupon we be made ſubiect and thrall to death, to damnation, to the yoke, and tyrannie of the deuil.

Sinne,

Chriſt promiſed,

The Lawe,

A<sup>l</sup>ſo they giue vs to vnderſtande, that in the meane ſeaſon, while thoſe fathers the Iſraelites looked for the ſaluation and deliuerance promiſed (for that the nature of man is ſuch, ſo proude and ſo corrupt, that thoſe would not willingly acknowledge themſelues to be ſinners, which had neede of the Satiour promiſed) God the creator gaue by Moſes his <sup>q</sup> lawe written in two tables of ſtone: that by it, finne and the malice of mans heart being <sup>r</sup> known, men might more vehemently thiſt for the <sup>s</sup> comming of Ieſus Chriſt, who ſhould redeeme and deliuer them from finne: Which thing, neither the lawe, nor yet the ſacrifices and oblations of the lawe did <sup>t</sup> perſourme. For they were ſhadowes and figures of the true oblation of the bodie of Chriſt: by which oblation all <sup>u</sup> finne ſhould be blotted out, and quire put away.

Chriſt God our Satiour came,

B<sup>y</sup> the bookes of the newe Teſtament we be taught, that Chriſt ſo afore promiſed (* which is God about all things moſt bleſſed for euer) euen he, I ſay, was ſhadowed in the bookes of the olde Teſtament, and in ſacrifices figured, that hee was <sup>a</sup> ſent at the laſt from the father, the ſelfe ſame time which the father dyd conſtitute within himſelfe: I ſay, <sup>b</sup> at that time, when all wickedneſſe abounded in the worlde, then hee was ſent: And this Ieſus our Satiour, being borne in the fleſh, <sup>c</sup> ſuffered death, and roſe againe from the dead, Which acts of his were not done by him in reſpect of the <sup>d</sup> good workes of any man (for we were all finners) but that this God our father ſhould <sup>e</sup> appeare true, in exhibiting the abundant <sup>f</sup> riches of his grace which he promiſed, and that <sup>g</sup> through his mercie he might bring vs to ſaluation.

Whereupon it is evidently ſhewed in the <sup>h</sup> newe Teſtament, that Ieſus Chriſt, being the true <sup>i</sup> lambe, the true <sup>j</sup> ſacrifice of the worlde, <sup>k</sup> putting away the finnes of men, came into this worlde to purchaſe grace and <sup>l</sup> peace for vs with the father, <sup>m</sup> waſhing vs from our finnes in his owne blood, and <sup>n</sup> ſhould deliuer vs from the bondage of the deuil, whom by finne we dyd ſerue: And ſo wee ſhould be <sup>o</sup> adopted by him to bee the ſonnes of God, made <sup>p</sup> heires with him of that moſt excellent and euerlaſting kingdom.

Nowe, that we ſhould acknowledge this ſingular and excellent benefite of God towards vs, almightie God <sup>q</sup> giueth vs his holy ſpirit: the <sup>r</sup> fruit and effect of the which is faith in God, and in his Chriſt. For, without the holy ghoſt, by which we are inſtructed and <sup>s</sup> ſealed, neither can we beleue that God the father ſent Meſſias, nor yet that Ieſus is Chriſt: For <sup>t</sup> no man (ſayeth Paul) can ſay that Ieſus is the Lorde, but by the holy ghoſt. The <sup>u</sup> ſame ſpirit witneſſeth to our ſpirit, that we are the children of God, <sup>v</sup> and poureth into our bowels that charitie which Paul deſcribeth to the Corinthians. Furthermore, that holy ſpirit doth giue vs hope, which is a ſure looking for eternall life, whereof he him ſelfe is the certaine <sup>w</sup> token and pledge. Alſo he giueth vs other <sup>x</sup> ſpirituall giſtes, of the which Paul writeth to the Galatians. Therefore the benefite of faith is not yet to be deſpised, or liſt to be ſet by. For by the meanes of this truſt and <sup>y</sup> faith in Chriſt, which <sup>z</sup> worketh by charitie, and ſeweth it ſelfe forth by the workes of charitie, mouing man thereto, we are <sup>a</sup> iuſtified and ſanctified: that is to ſay, God and the father of our Lord Ieſus Chriſt (which is made our <sup>b</sup> father alſo by him, being our <sup>c</sup> brother) doth account vs to be iuſt and holy through his grace, and through the merite of his ſonne Ieſus Chriſt, not <sup>d</sup> imputing our finnes to vs, ſo farre forth, that we ſhould ſuffer the paynes of hell for them.

Good workes,

Finally, Chriſt him ſelfe <sup>e</sup> came into the worlde, to the intent that wee through him being ſanctified and clenſed from our finnes, following his will in good workes, ſhould deny the things pertaining to the fleſh, and freely <sup>f</sup> ſerue him in righteouſneſſe and holineſſe all the dayes of our life: and that <sup>g</sup> by good workes (which God hath prepared for vs to walke in) we ſhould <sup>h</sup> ſhewe our ſelues to be called to his grace and giſt of faith: which good workes who ſo hath not, doeth ſhewe himſelfe not to haue ſuch a faith in Chriſt as is required in vs.

To Chriſt muſt we come, and <sup>i</sup> followe him with a cherefull minde, that he may teach vs: For he is <sup>j</sup> our maſter, and teacher,

led *Genesis.

THE ARGUMENT.

MOfes in effect declareth three things, which are in this booke chiefly to be considered: First, that the world and all things therein were created by God, and that man being placed in this great tabernacle of the world to beholde Gods wonderful workes, & to prayse his Name for the infinite graces, wherewith he had indued him, fell willingly from God through disobedience: who yet for his owne mercies sake restored him to life, and confirmed him in the fame by his promise of Christ to come, by whome he should overcome Satan, death and hell. Secondly, that the wicked, vnmindefull of Gods most excellent benefites, remained still in their wickednes, and so falling most horribly from sinne to sinne, prouoked God (who by his preachers called them continually to repentance) at length to destroy the whole world. Thirdly, he assureth vs by the examples of Abraham, Izhak, Iakob, and the rest of the Patriarches, that his mercies neuer fayle them, whome he chuseth to be his Church, & to professe his Name in earth, but in all their afflictions and persecutions he euer assisteth them, sendeth comfort, and deliuereth them. And because the beginning, increase, preferuation and successe thereof might be only attributed to God, Moses sheweth by the examples of Kain, Ishmael, Esau and others, which were noble in mans iudgement, that this Church dependeth not on the estimation and nobilitie of the world: and also by the fewnes of them, which haue at all times worshipped him purely according to his worde, that it standeth not in the multitude, but in the poore and despised, in the small flocke and litle number, that man in his wilddome might be confounded, and the Name of God euermore prayed.

CHAP. I.

1 God created the heauen and the earth, 2 The light and the darkenesse, 3 The firmament, 4 He separateth the water from the earth, 5 He createth the sunne, the moone, and the starres, 6 He createth the fish, birds, beastes, 7 He createth man and giueth him rule ouer all creatures, 8 And pounderth nouriture for man and beast.

In the beginning* God created the heauen and the earth.

2 And the earth was without forme and voyde, and darkenesse [was] vpon the deepe, and the Spirit of God moued vpon the waters.

3 Then God sayde, *Let there be light: And there was light.

4 And God saue the light that it was good, and God separateth the light from the darkenes.

5 And God called the light, Day, and the darknes, he called Night. † So the evening & the morning were † first day.

6 Againe God sayde, *Let there be a firmament in the muddes of the waters: and let it separate the waters from the waters.

7 Then God made the firmament, and separateth the waters, which were vnder the firmament, from the waters which were above the firmament, and it was so.

8 And God called the firmament, Heauen. † So the evening and the morning were the second day.

9 God saide againe, *Let the waters under the firmament, which only appertaineth to God, † Ebr. betweene the lights, and betweene the darknes. † The first day, † Ebr. So was the evening, so was the morning. Psal. 33. 6 & 13. 6. 5. iere. 10. 12. & 51. 15. † Or, spreading ouer, and aire. † As the sea & rivers, from those waters that are in the cloudes, which are vpholden by Gods power, lett they should ouerwhelme the world. ters vnder the heauen be gathered into one place, and let the drie land appeare, and it was so.

10 And God called † drie land, Earth, and he called the gathering together of the waters, Seas: and God saw that it was good.

11 Then God said, † Let the earth bud forth the bud of the herbe, that seedeth seede, the fruitfull tree, which beareth fruite according to his kind, which hath his seede in it selfe vpon the earth, and it was so.

12 And the earth brought forth the bud of the herbe, that seedeth seede according to his kind, also † tree that beareth fruite, which hath his seede in it selfe according to his kinde: and God saue that it was good.

13 So the evening and the morning were the third day.

14 And God saide, *Let there be lights in the firmament of the heauen, to separate the day from the night, and let them be for signes, and for seasons, and for dayes and yeres.

15 And let them be for lightes in the firmament of the heauen to giue light vpon the earth, and it was so.

16 God then made two great lights: the greater light † to rule the day, and the lesse light to rule the night: he made also the starres.

17 And God set them in the firmament of the heauen, to shine vpon the earth,

18 And to rule in the day, and in the night, and to separate the light from the sunne and the moone: and here he speakes as man iudgeth by his eye: for the moone is lesse then the planer Saturnus. † To giue it sufficient light, as instruments appointed for † time, to serue to mans vse. Ier. 31. 35.

* This worde significth the beginning and generation of the creatures, h So that we see it is the on- ly power of Gods worde that maketh the earth fruite full, which cla- naturally is barren.

i This sentence is so oft repeta- ed, to signifie that God made all his crea- tures to serue to his glory, & to the profite of man: but for- sunne they were accursed, per to the elect, by Christ, they are restored & serue to their wealth, & to the third day.

darknes: & God saith that it was good.

19 So the evening and the morning were the fourth day.

20 Afterward God saide, Let f waters bring forth in abundance [every] creeping thing that hath life: and let the soule flye vpon the earth in the open firmament of the heauen.

21 The God created f great whales, and every thing living & moving, which the 9 waters brought forth in abundance according to their kinde, & every fethered fowle according to his kinde: and God saide that it was good.

22 Then God blessed them, saying, Bring forth fruite and multiplie, and fill the waters in the seas, and let the soule multiplie in the earth.

23 So the evening and the morning were the fifth day.

24 Moreover God saide, Let the earth bring forth the living thing according to his kinde, cattel, and that which creepeth, and the beast of the earth, according to his kinde, and it was so.

25 And God made the beast of f earth according to his kinde, and the cattel according to his kinde, and every creeping thing of f earth according to his kinde: and God saide that it was good.

26 Furthermore God said, * Let vs make mā in our image according to our likenes, and let them rule over the fish of the sea, and over the soule of the heauen, and over the beasts, and over all the earth, and over every thing that creepeth and moveth on the earth.

28 And God blessed them, and God saide to them, * Bring forth fruite and multiplie, and fill the earth, and subdue it, and rule over the fish of the sea, and over the fowle of the heauen, and over every beast that moveth vpon the earth.

29 And God saide, Beholde, I haue giuen vnto you every herbe bearing seede, which is vpon all the earth, and every tree, wherein is the fruit of a tree bearing seede: [that] shalbe to you for meate.

30 Likewise to every beast of f earth, and to every soule of the heauen, and to every thing that moveth vpon the earth, which hath life in it selfe, every greene herbe [shalbe] for meate, and it was so.

31 * And God saue all that hee had made, and loe, it was very good. So the evening and the morning were the sixth day.

CHAP. II.

2 God resteth the seventh day, and sanctified it. 15 Hee created man in the garden. 22 Hee created the woman. 24 Marriage is ordeined.

Thus the heauens & the earth were finished, & all the hoste of them.

2 For in the seventh day God ended his worke which hee had made, * and the seventh day hee rested from all his worke, which he had made.

3 So God blessed the seventh day, and sanctified it, because that in it hee had rested from all his worke, which God had created and made.

4 These are the [generations of the heauens & of the earth, when they were created, in the day that the Lord God made the earth and the heauens,

5 And every plant of the field, before it was in the earth, & every herbe of the field, before it grew: for the Lord God had not caused it to raine vpon f earth, neither was there a man to till the ground.

6 But a mist went by from f earth, and watered all the earth.

7 The Lord God also made the man of the dust of the ground, & breathed in his face breath of life, * and the man was a living soule.

8 And the Lord God planted a garden Eastward in Eden, and there hee put the man whom he had made.

9 For out of the ground made the Lord God to grow every tree pleasant to the sight, & good for meate: the tree of life also in the mids of the garden, & the tree of knowledge of good & of euill.

10 And out of Eden went a riuer to water the garden, & from thence it was diuided, and became into foure heads.

¶ Because mention is made in the tenth verse of this Chapter, of the river that watered the Garden, we must note that Euphrates and Tygris, which in Hebrew, Perath & Hiddekel, were called both one then where they joined together, & they had four heads: that is two at their fountains and two where they fell into the Persian sea. In this country and most plentiful land Adam dwelt, and this was call'd Paradise: that is, a Garden of pleasure, because of the fruitfulness and abundance thereof. And whereas it is said that Pison compasseth the land of Havilah, it is meant of Tygris, which in some countries, as it is called by divers places, was called by sundry names, as sometime Diglito, in other places Ptolemy, and of some Platin or Pison. So that Tygris and Euphrates (which were but two rivers, and sometime when they joyned together, were called after one name) were according to divers places, called by these four names, so that they might seeme to have bene four divers rivers.

CHAP. III.

1 The woman seduced by the serpent, 6 Enticed her husband to sinne, 8 They both sinned from God, 14 They three are punished, 15 Christ is promised, 19 Satan is cast out of Paradise.

NOW the serpent was more subtil then any beast of the feld, which the Lord God had made: and he said to the woman, Yea, hath God in deede saide, ¶ Thal not eat of every tree of garden? 2 And the woman said unto the serpent, We eat of the fruit of the trees of garden, 3 But of the fruit of the tree, which is in the mids of garden, God hath saide, ¶ Thal not eat of it, neither shall ye touch it, lest ye die.

4 Then the serpent said to the woman, ¶ Thal not die at all,

5 But God doth know, that when ye shall eat thereof, your eyes shall be opened, and ye shall be as gods, knowing good and euill.

6 So the woman (seeing that the tree was good for meate, & that it was pleasant to the eyes, and a tree to be desired to get knowledge) tooke of the fruit thereof, and did eat, and gave also to her husband with her, and he did eat.

7 Then the eyes of them both were opened, and they knew that they were naked, and they sewed figge tree leaues together, & made themselves breeches.

8 ¶ Afterward they heard the voyce of the Lord God walking in the garden in the coole of the day, and the man & his wife hid them selves from the presence of the Lord God among the trees of the garden.

9 But the Lord God called to the man, and said unto him, where art thou?

10 who said, I heard thy voyce in the garden, and was afraid: because I was naked, therefore I hid my selfe.

11 And hee said, who tolde thee, that thou wast naked? hast thou eaten of the tree, whereof I commanded thee that thou shouldest not eat?

12 Then the man said, The woman vnto Habel, and to his offering,

5 But vnto Kain and to his offering he had no regard: Wherefore Kain was exceeding wroth, and his coun tenance fell downe.

6 ¶ Then the Lord said vnto Kain, why art thou wroth: and why is thy countenance cast downe:

7 If thou do well, shalt thou not be accepted: and if thou doest not well, sinne lieth at the doore: also vnto thee his desire shall be subject, & thou shalt rule ouer him.

8 ¶ Then Kain spake to Habel his brother, And when they were in the field, Kain rose vp against Habel his brother, and slew him.

9 ¶ Then the Lord said vnto Kain, where is Habel thy brother: who an swered, I can not tell. Am I my bro thers keeper:

10 Again hee said, What hast thou done: the voyce of thy brothers blood crieth vnto me from the earth.

11 Nowe therefore thou art cursed from the earth, which hath opened her mouth to receiue thy brothers blood from thine hand.

12 When thou shalt till the ground, it shall not henceforth yeelde vnto thee her strength: a vagabond and a runagate shalt thou be in the earth.

13 ¶ Then Kain said to the Lord, my punishment is greater, then I can beare.

14 Behold, thou hast cast me out this day from the earth, and from thy face shall I be hid, and shall be a vagabond, and a runagate in the earth, and whoe soever findeth me, shall slay me.

CHAP. V.

1 The genealogie, 5 Age and death of Adam, 6 His succersion vnto Noah y his children, 24 Henoch was taken away.

This is the booke of the generations of Adam. In the day that God created Adam, in y likenes of God made he him,

2 Male and female created he them, and blessed them, and called their name

Adam in y day that they were created.

3 And Powe Adam liued an hundred thre and thirtie yerres, and begate a childe in his owne likenes after his image, and called his name Sheth.

4 And the dayes of Adam, after he had begotten Sheth, were eight hundredth yerres, and he begate sonnes and daughters.

5 So all the dayes that Adam liued, were nine hundredth and thirtie yerres:
and he died.

6 And Sheth liued an hundredth and fine yerres, and begate Enosh.

7 And Sheth liued, after hee begate Enosh, eight hundredth and seuen yerres, and begate sonnes and daughters.

8 So all y daies of Sheth were nine hundredth & thielue yerres: and he died.

9 Also Enosh liued ninetie yerres and begate Kenan.

10 And Enosh liued, after he begate Kenan, eight hundredth & fiftene yerres,
and begate sonnes and daughters.

11 So all y dayes of Enosh were nine hundredth & fine yerres: and he died.

12 Likewise Kenan liued seuentie yerres, and begate Mahalaleel.

13 And Kenan liued, after he begate Mahalaleel, eight hundredth and fourtie yerres, and begate sonnes & daughters.

14 So all the dayes of Kenan were nine hundredth & ten yerres: and he died.

15 Mahalaleel also liued sixtie and fine yerres, and begate Jered.

16 Also Mahalaleel liued, after he begate Jered, eight hundredth and thirtie yerres, & begate sonnes and daughters.

17 So all the dayes of Mahalaleel were eight hundredth ninetie and fine yerres: and he died.

18 And Jered liued an hundredth sixtie and two yerres, & begate Henoch.

19 Then Jered liued, after he begate henoch, eight hundredth yerres, and begate sonnes and daughters.

20 So all y dayes of Jered were nine hundredth sixtie and two yerres: & he died.

21 Also Henoch liued sixtie and fine yerres, and begate Methushelah.

22 And Henoch walked with God, after hee begate Methushelah, three hundredth yerres, and begate sonnes and daughters.

23 So all the dayes of Henoch were three hundredth sixtie and fine yerres.

24 And Henoch walked with God, and hee was no more [seene]: for God
tooke him away.

25 Methushelah also liued an hundredth eightie & seuen yerres, & begate Lamech.

26 And Methushelah liued, after he begate Lamech, seuen hundredth eighty and two yerres, and begate sonnes and daughters.

29 And called his name Noah, saying, This same shall comfort vs concerning our worke & sorow of our handes, as touching the earth, which the Lord hath cursed.

30 And Lamech liued, after he begate Noah, five hundredth ninetie & five yerres, and begate sonnes and daughters.

31 So all the dayes of Lamech were seven hundredth seuentie & seven yerres: and he died.

32 And Noah was five hundredth yere olde. And Noah begate Shem, Ham and Japheth.

CHAP. VI.

3 God threatneth to bring the flood. 5 Man is altogether corrupt. 6 God repenteth that he made him. 18 Noah and his are preserved in the Arke, which he was commaunded to make.

S When men beganne to be multiplied vpon the earth, and there were daughters bozne vnto them.

2 Then the sonnes of God sawe the daughters <sup>b</sup> of men that they were faire, and they tooke them wiues of all that they liked.

3 Therefore the Lord sayde, My Spirit shall not alwaye<sup>c</sup> striue with man, because he is but flesh, & his dayes shall be an hundredth and thientie yerres.

4 There were gyants in the earth in those dayes: yea, & after the sonnes of God came vnto the daughters of men, and they had bozne them children, these were nightie men, which in olde time were men of renoume.

5 ¶ When the Lord sawe that the wickednesse of man was great in the earth, and all the imaginations of the thoughtes of his heart were onely euill continually,

6 Then it repented the Lord, that he had made man in the earth, and he was soze in his heart.

7 Therefore the Lord sayd, I will destroy from the earth the man, whom I haue created, from man to beast, to the creeping thing, & to the foule of the heauen: for I repent that I haue made them.

9 ¶ These are the generations of Noah. Noah was a iust & vpright man in his time: [and] Noah walked with God.

10 And Noah begate three sonnes, Shem, Ham and Japheth.

11 The earth also was corrupt before God: for the earth was filled with crueltye.

12 Then God looked vpon the earth, and beholde, it was corrupt: for all flesh had corrupt his way vpon the earth.

13 And God sayde vnto Noah, ¶ An end of all flesh is come before me: for the earth is filled with crueltye through them: and behold, I will destroy them with the earth.

14 ¶ Make thee an Arke of pine trees: thou shalt make cabins in the Arke, and shalt pitch it within & without with pitch.

15 And thus shalt thou make it: The length of the Arke shalbe three hundredth cubites, the breadth of it fiftie cubites, and the height of it thirtie cubites.

16 A window shalt thou make in the Arke, and in a cubite shalt thou finish it aboue, and the doore of the Arke shalt thou set in the side thereof: thou shalt make it with the towre, second and third [roume].

17 And I, beholde, I will bring a flood of waters vpon the earth to destroy all flesh, wherein is the breath of life vnder the heauen: all that is in the earth shall perish.

18 But with thee will I make an establishment my covenant, and thou shalt go into the Arke, thou, and thy sonnes, & thy wife, and thy sonnes wiues with thee.

19 And of every liuing thing, of all flesh two of every sort shalt thou cause to come into the Arke, to keepe them aliuie with thee: they shall be male and female.

20 Of the foules after their kinde, and of the cattel after their kinde, of every creeping thing of the earth after his kind, two of every sort shall come vnto thee, that thou mayest keepe them aliuie.

21 And take thou with thee of all meate that is eaten: and thou shalt gather it to thee, that it may be meate for thee and for them.

CHAP. VII.

- 1 Noah and his enter into the Arke. 20 The flood destroyeth all the rest vpon the earth.

AND the Lord sayd vnto Noah, Enter thou and all thine house into the Arke: for thee haue I seene righteous before me in this age.

2 Of euery cleane beast thou shalt take to thee by sevens, the male and his female: but of vncleane beasts by couples, the male and his female.

3 Of the foules also of the heauen by sevens, male and female, to keepe seede aliuie vpon the whole earth.

4 For seuen dayes hence I wil cause it raine vpon the earth fourtie dayes and fourtie nightes, and all the substance that I haue made, will I destroy from of the earth.

5 *Noah therefore did according vnto all that the Lord commanded him.

6 And Noah was fix hundredth yeeres olde, when the flood of waters was vpon the earth.

7 So Noah entred & his sonnes, and his wife, & his sonnes wiues with him into the Arke, because of the waters of the flood.

8 Of the cleane beasts, and of the vncleane beasts, and of the foules, and of all that creepeth vpon the earth,

9 There came two [and] two vnto Noah into the Arke, male and female, as God had commanded Noah.

10 And so after seuen dayes the waters of the flood were vpon the earth.

11 In the six hundredth yere of Noahs life in the seconde moneth, the seventeenth day of the moneth, in the same day were all the fountaines of the great deepe broken vp, and the windowes of heauen were opened,

12 And the raine was vpon the earth fourtie dayes and fourtie nightes.

13 In the selfe same day entred Noah with Shem, and Ham & Japheth, the sonnes of Noah, and Noahs wife, & the three wiues of his sonnes with them into the Arke.

14 They & euery beast after his kinde, and al cattel after their kinde, and euery thing that creepeth and mooueth vpon the earth after his kinde, and euery foule after his kinde, [euery] euery bird of euery feather.

15 For they came to Noah into the Arke, two [and] two, of all flesh where in is the breath of life.

16 And they entring in, came male and female of all flesh, as God had commanded him: and the Lord shut him in.

17 Then the flood was fourtie dayes vpon the earth, and the waters were increased, & bare vp the Arke, which was lift vp above the earth.

18 The waters also wared strong, and were increased exceedingly vpon the earth, & the Arke went vpon waters.

19 The waters preuailed so exceedingly vpon the earth, that all the high mountaines, that are vnder the whole heauen, were couered.

20 Fiftene cubites bywarde did the waters preuaile, when the mountaines were couered.

21 *Then all flesh perished that moued vpon the earth, both foule and cattel and beast, and euery thing that creepeth and mooueth vpon the earth, and euery man.

22 Euery thing in whose nostrils the spirit of life did breath, whatsoever they were in the drie land, they died.

23 So he destroyed euery thing that was vpon the earth, from man to beast, to the creeping thing, & to the foule of the heauen: they were euen destroyed from the earth. And Noah onely remained, and they that were with him in the Arke.

24 And the waters preuailed vpon the earth an hundredth and fiftie dayes.

CHAP. VIII.

- 13 The flood ceased. 16 Noah is commanded to come forth of the Arke with his. 20 He sacrificeth to the Lord. 22 God promisseth that all things shall continue in their first order.

NOW God remembered Noah, and euery beast, and all cattell that was with him in the Arke: therefore God made a winde to passe vpon the earth, and the waters ceased.

2 The fountaines also of the deepe and the windowes of heauen were stopped, and the raine from heauen was restrained.

3 And the waters returned from aboue the earth, going and returning: and after the end of the hundredth and fiftie day the waters abated.

4 And in the seventeenth moneth, in the seventeenth day of the moneth, the Arke rested vpon the mountaines of Ararat.

yeere, in the first day of <sup>f</sup> first moneth the waters were dried by from of the earth: and Noah remoued the couering of the Arke and looked, and behold, the vpper part of the ground was drie.

<sup>14</sup> And in the seconde moneth, in the seuen and twentieth day of the moneth was the earth drie.

wife, and thy sonnes and thy sonnes wives with thee.

that is with thee, of all flesh, both foule and cattel, & euery thing that creepeth & moueth vpon the earth, that they may breede abundantly in the earth, & bring forth fruite and increase vpon the earth.

after their kindes went out of the Arke.

the Lorde & tooke of euery cleane beast, and of euery cleane foule, & offered burnt offerings vpon the altar.

of rest, and the Lorde said in his heart, I mans * heart [is] euill, [even] from his youth: neither wil <sup>f</sup> I finite any more all

21 And he drunke of the wine & was drunken, and was vncovered in the middes of his tent.

22 And when Ham the father<sup>r</sup> of Canaan sawe the nakednes of his father, he toide his two brethren without.

23 Then tooke Shem and Japheth a garment, and put it vpon both their shoulders, and went backward, and couered the nakednes of their father with their faces backward: so they sawe not their fathers nakednes.

24 Then Noah awoke from his wine, and knew what his yonger sonne had done vnto him, 25 And said, Cursed [be] Canaan: a seruāt of seruants shall he be vnto his brethren.

CHAP. X.

1 The increafe of mankind by Noah and his sonnes, 10 The beginning of cities, countreys and nations,

NOW these are the generations of the sonnes of Noah, Shem, Ham and Japheth: vnto whome sonnes were borne after the flood.

2 The sonnes of Japheth were Gomer and Magog, and<sup>b</sup> Madai, and Javan, and Tubal, & Meshech, & Tiras.

3 And the sonnes of Gomer, Ashkenaz, and Riphath, and Togarmah.

4 Also the sonnes of Javan, Elishah and Tarshish, Kittim, and Dodanum.

5 Of these were the yles of the Gentiles deuised in their lands, euery man after his tongue, [and] after their families in their nations.

6 ¶ Mozeouer the sonnes of Ham were<sup>d</sup> Cush, and Mizraim, and Put, and Canaan.

7 And the sonnes of Cush, Seba and Haudah, and Sabtah, & Raamah, and Sabtecha: also the sonnes of Raamah were Sheba and Dedan.

8 And Cush begate Nimrod, who began to be<sup>e</sup> mightie in the earth.

9 He was a mightie hunter before the Lord. wherefore it is sayd, As Nimrod the mightie hunter before the Lord.

10 And y<sup>e</sup> beginning of his kingdome was Babel, and Erech, and Acad, and Calneh, in the land<sup>f</sup> of Shinar.

11 Out of that land came Ashur, and builded Nimueh, and the<sup>g</sup> citie Rehoboth, and Calah:

12 Kelen also betweene Nimueh and Calah: this is a great citie.

13 And Mizraim begat<sup>h</sup> Ludim, and Ananin, & Lehabim, & Naphtuhim.

14 Pathrusim also, and Casuthim (out of whom came the Phisitians) and Caphtozims.

15 ¶ Also Canaan begate Zidon his first borne, and Heth,

16 And Jebusi, & Emori, & Girgathi,

17 And Hui, and Arki, and Simi,

18 And Aruadi, and Zenari, & Hamathi: and afterwarde were the families of the Canaanites spred abroad.

19 Then the border of y<sup>e</sup> Canaanites was from Zidon, as thou comest to Gerar vntil Azzah, & as thou goest vnto Sodom, and Gomorah, & Admah, and Zeboim, euen vnto Lasha.

s. We declare that the Gentiles, which came of Japheth, & were separated from the Church, should be incorporated to the same by the persuasion of Gods Spirit and preaching of the Gospel.

a. These generations are here recited, partly to declare the marvellous increase in so small a time, and also to let forth their great forgetfulness of Gods graces toward their fathers.

b. Of Madai, and Javan came the Hebrews & Greeks.

c. The Hebrews call all countreys which are separated from them by sea, as Grecia, Italie, &c.

d. Of Cush & Mizraim came the Ethiopians and Egyptians.

e. Meaning a cruell oppressor, and tyrant.

f. His tyrannie came into a proverb as hard both of God and man: for he passed not to commit crueltie euen in Gods presence.

g. For there was another citie in Egypt called also Babel.

h. Of Lud came the Lybians.

i. Or, the Capadocians.

j. Or, the streets of the citie.

k. Of Lud came the Lybians.

l. Or, the Capadocians.

20 These are the sonnes of Ham according to their families, according to their tongues in their countreys [and] in their nations.

21 ¶ Unto Shem also the father of all the sonnes of Eber, & elder brother of Japheth were children borne.

22 * The sonnes of Shem [were] E-lam and Alshur, and Arpachshad, and Lud, and Aram.

23 And the sonnes of Aram, Uz and Hul, and Gether, and Mash.

24 Also Arpachshad begate Shelah, and Shelah begate Eber.

25 Unto Eber also were borne two sonnes: the name of y<sup>e</sup> one [was] Peleg: for in his dayes was the earth<sup>1</sup> diuided: and his brothers name [was] Joktan.

26 Then Joktan begat Almodad and Sheleph, and Hazarmauech, & Jerah, 27 And Hadorani, & Uzal, & Dicklah, 28 And Obal, & Abimael, & Sheba,

29 And Ophir, & Hauilah, & Jobab: all these [were] the sonnes of Joktan.

30 And their dwelling was from Mesopotamia, as thou goest vnto Sephar a mount of the East.

31 These are y<sup>e</sup> sonnes of Shem according to their families, according to their tongues, & in their countreys & nations.

32 These are the families of y<sup>e</sup> sonnes of Noah, after their generations among their people: and out of these were the nations diuided in the earth after the flood.

CHAP. XI.

6 The building of Babel was the cause of the confusion of tongues, 10 The age & generation of Shem vnto Abram, 31 Abrahams departure from Ur with his father Terah, Sarai and Lot, 32 The age and death of Terah.

¶ When the whole earth was of one language & one speache.

2 And as they went from the East, they found a plaine in y<sup>e</sup> land of Shinar, & there they abode.

3 And they said one to another, Come let vs make bricke, and burne it in the fire. So they had bricke for stone, and fyne had they in steade of morter.

4 Also they said, Go to, let vs build vs a cite and a towler, whose top may reache y<sup>e</sup>nto the heauen, that we may get vs a name, lest we be scattered vpon the whole earth.

5 But the Lorde came downe, to see the cite and towler, which the sonnes of men builded.

6 And the Lord said, Beholde, the people [is] one, & they all haue one language, and this they begin to do, neither can they now be stopped from whatsoeuer they haue imagined to do.

7 Come on, let vs goe downe, and there confounde their language, that euery one perceiue not anothers speach.

8 So the Lord scattered them from thence vpon all the earth, and they left off to build the cite.

9 Therefore the name of it was called Babel, because the Lorde did there confound the language of all the earth: from thence then did the Lorde scatter them vpon all the earth.

10 ¶ These are the generations of Shem: Shem [was] an hundredth yere olde, and begate Arpachshad two yere after the flood.

11 And Shem liued, after he begate Arpachshad, siue hundredth yeres, and begate sonnes and daughters.

12 Also Arpachshad liued siue & thirtie yeres, and begate Shelah.

13 And Arpachshad liued, after he begate Shelah, foure hundredth and thre yeres, and begate sonnes & daughters.

14 And Shelah liued thirtie yeres, and begate Eber.

15 So Shelah liued, after he begate Eber, foure hundredth and thre yeres, and begate sonnes and daughters.

16 Likewylse Eber liued foure & thirtie yeres, and begate Peleg.

17 So Eber liued, after he begate Peleg, foure hundredth & thirtie yeres, and begate sonnes and daughters.

18 And Peleg liued thirtie yeres, and begate Reu.

19 * And Peleg liued, after he begate Reu, two hundredth and nine yeres, and begate sonnes and daughters.

20 Also Reu liued two and thirtie yeres, and begate Serug.

21 So Reu liued, after he begate Serug, two hundredth and seuen yeres, and begate sonnes and daughters.

22 Moreover Serug liued thirtie yeres, and begate Nahor.

23 And Serug liued, after he begate Nahor, two hundredth yeres, & begate sonnes and daughters.

24 And Nahor liued nine and twentie yeres, and begate Terah.

25 So Nahor liued, after he begate Terah, an hundredth & nineteene yeres, and begate sonnes and daughters.

26 * So Terah liued seuentie yeres, and begate Abram, Nahor, and Haran.

1 He maketh mention first of Abram, not because he was first borne, but for the better, which properly appertaineth unto him, for by comparing this place with the 22. verse of this chapter, & the 4. verse of the 12. chapter following, it may be gathered, that Abrahams house was of the age of 130. years. <sup>2</sup> Ebr. 27 Now these are the generations of Terah: Terah begate Abram, Nahor, & Haran: and Haran begate Lot.

28 Then Haran died before Terah his father in the land of his nativité, in Ur of the Caldees.

29 So Abram & Nahor tooke them wives, the name of Abrahams wife was Sarai, and the name of Nahors wife Milcah, the daughter of Haran, the father of Milcah, & the father of Isaac.

30 But Sarai was barren, [and] had no child.

31 Then Terah tooke Abram his sonne, and Lot the sonne of Haran, his sonnes sonne, & Sarai his daughter in lawe, his sonne Abrahams wife: & they departed together from Ur of the Caldees, to go into the land of Canaan, and they came to Haran, and dwelt there.

32 So the dayes of Terah were two hundredeth and five peres, & Terah dyed in Haran.

CHAP. XII.

1 Abram by Gods comendement goeth to Canaan, 3 Christ is promised, 7 Abram buildeth altars for exercise and declaration of his faith among the idolaters, 10 Because of the dearth hee goeth into Egypt, 15 Pharaoh taketh his wife, and is punished.

The Lord had sayde unto Abram, <sup>2</sup> Get thee out of thy country, & from thy kindred, and from thy fathers house unto the land that I will shewe thee.

2 And I will make of thee a great nation, and will blesse thee, & make thy name great, & thou shalt be a blessing.

3 I will also blesse them I blesse thee, and curse them that curse thee, & in thee shall all families of the earth be blessed.

4 So Abram departed, even as the Lord spake unto him, & Lot went with him. (And Abram was seuentie and five yere old, when he departed out of Haran)

5 Then Abram tooke Sarai his wife, and Lot his brothers sonne, and all their substance that they possessed, and the doulles that they had gotten in Haran, and they departed, to go to the land of Canaan: & to the land of Canaan they came.

6 So Abram passed through the land unto the place of Shechem, & unto the plaine of Moze, (and the Canaanite was then in the land)

7 And the Lord appeared unto Abram, and said, Unto thy seerds wil I give this land. And there builded he an altar unto the Lord.

to the Lord, which appeared unto him. 8 Afterward remouing thence unto a mountaine Eastwarde from Beth-el, he pitched his tent hauing Beth-el on the Westside, and Haai on the East: & there he built an altar unto the Lord, & called on the Name of the Lord.

9 Again Abram went forth going and iourneying toward the South.

10 Then there came a famine in the land: therefore Abram went downe into Egypt, to sojourne there: for there was a great famine in the land.

11 And when he drew neere to enter into Egypt, he sayde to Sarai his wife, Beholde now, I know that thou art a faire woman to looke vpon:

12 Therefore it wil come to passe, that when the Egyptians see thee, they will say, She is his wife: so will they kill me, but they will keepe thee aliué.

13 Say, I pray thee, that thou art my sister, that I may fare wel for thy sake, & that my life may be preserved by thee.

14 Nowe when Abram was come into Egypt, the Egyptians behelde the woman: for she was very faire.

15 And the Princes of Pharaoh sawe her, & commended her vnto Pharaoh: so the woman was taken into Pharaohs house:

16 who intreated Abram well for her sake, and he had sheepe, and beeues, and hee asses, and men seruants, and mayde seruants, and thee asses, and camelles.

17 But the Lord plagued Pharaoh and his house with great plagues, because of Sarai Abrahams wife.

18 Then Pharaoh called Abram, and saide, Why hast thou done this vnto me? wherefore diddest thou not tell me, that she was thy wife?

19 Why saydest thou, She is my sister, that I shoulde take her to be my wife? Nowe therefore beholde thy wife, take her, and goe thy way.

20 And Pharaoh gaue men comendement concerning him: and they conueyed him forth, and his wife, and all that he had.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Abram departeth out of Egypt, 4 He calleth vpon the Name of the Lord, 11 Lot departeth from him, 13 The wickednes of the Sodomites, 14 The promise made to Abram is renewed, 18 Abram buildeth an altar to the Lord.

Abram went by from Egypt, hee, and his wife, and all that he had, and Lot with him toward the South.

2 And Abram was very rich in cath Because of the troubles that he had among that wicked people, i And to serueth the true God and renounced all idolatrie, k Thus the children of God may looke for no rest in this world, but must waite for the heavenly rest and quietnes, l This was a new trial of Abrahams faith: whereby we see that the end of one affliction is the beginning of another, m By this we may learne not to be bilious full meanes, nor to put others in danger to saue our selues, n reade these twentie albein it may appeare that Abram feared not so much death, as that, if he should die without yllie, Gods promise should not haue taken place: wherein appeared a true faith, <sup>2</sup> Ebr. that my soule may liue, n To be his wife, o The Lord tooke the defence of this poore stranger against a mightie King: & as he is our care full our bus, so wil he preserve Sarai, p To intent none should hurt him either in his person or goods.

3 And hee went on his iourney from the South toward <sup>b</sup> Beth-el, to y place where his tent had bene at y beginning, betweene Beth-el and Haai,

4 Unto the place of the * altar, which he had made there at the first: and there Abram called on the Name of y Lord.

5 And Lot also, who went with Abram, had sheepe, and cattell and tents,

6 So that the land coulde not beare them, that they might dwell together: for their * substance was great, so that they coulde not dwell together.

7 Also there was debate betweene the herdmen of Abrahams cattell, and the herdmen of Lots cattell. (and the * Canaanites and the Perizzites dwelled at that time in the land.)

8 Then saide Abram vnto Lot, Let there be no strife, I pray thee, betweene thee & me, neither betweene mine heardmen & thine heardme: for we be brethren.

9 Is not the whole land before thee: depart I pray thee from me: if thou wilt take the left hand, then I will go to the right: or if thou goe to the right hand, then I will take the left.

10 So when Lot lifted by his eyes, he saw y all the plaine of Jordan was watered euery where: (for before y Lord destroyed Sodom & Gomorah, it was) as the garden of the Lord, like the land of Egypt, as thou goest vnto Zoar.)

11 Then Lot chose vnto him all the plaine of Jordan, and tooke his iourney from the East: and they departed the one from the other.

12 Abram dwelled in y land of Canaan, & Lot abode in the cities of y plaine, and pitched his tent euen to Sodom.

13 Nowe the men of Sodom [were] wicked and exceeding sumers against the Lord.

14 Then the Lord said vnto Abram, (after that Lot was departed fro him) Lift by thine eyes now, and looke from the place where thou art, Northward, & Southward, & Eastward, & westward:

15 For all * the land, which thou seest, will I giue vnto thee and to thy seede for euer.

16 And I will make thy seede as the dust of y earth: so that if a man can number the dust of the earth, then shall thy seede be numbred.

17 Arise, walke through the land, in the length thereof, and breadth thereof: for I will giue it vnto thee.

18 Then Abram remoued his tent, and came and dwelled in the plaine of Hamre, which is in Hebron, and builded there an altar vnto the Lord.

CHAP. XIII.

12 In the ouerthrowe of Sodom Lot is taken prisoner, 16 Abram deliuereth him, 18 Melchizedek cometh to meete him, 23 Abram would not be enriched by y king of Sodom.

AND IN y dayes of Amraphel king of Shinar, Arioch king of Ellasar, Chedor-laomer king of Elam, & Tidal king of the <sup>b</sup> nations:

2 [These men] made warre with Bera king of Sodom, and with Birsha king of Gomorah, Shinab king of Admah, and Shemeber king of Zebodim, and the king of Bela, which is Zoar.

3 All these ioyned together in the vale of Siddim, which is the salt sea.

4 Twelue yeres were they subiect to Chedor-laomer, but in the thirtieth yere they rebelled.

5 And in the fourthieth yere came Chedor-laomer, & the kings that were with him, and smote the Rephaims in Asteroth Karnaim, and the Zuzims in Ham, and the Emims in Shauah Kiriathaim,

6 And the Horites in their mount Seir, vnto the plaine of Paran, which is by the wilderness.

7 And they returned & came to Enmishpat, which is Kadeth, & smote all the country of the Amalekites, & also the Amorites y dwelled in Hazazon-tamar.

8 Then went out y king of Sodom, and the king of Gomorah, & the king of Admah, & the king of Zebodim, and the king of Bela, which is Zoar: & they ioyned battell to them in y vale of Siddim:

9 [To wit,] w Chedor-laomer king of Elam, & Tidal king of nations, & Amraphel king of Shinar, & Arioch king of Ellasar: foure kings against fise.

10 Nowe the vale of Siddim was full of slime pittes, and the kings of Sodom and Gomorah fled and fell there: and the residue fled to the mountaine.

11 Then they tooke all the substance of Sodom and Gomorah, and all their vitalles, and went their way.

12 They tooke Lot also Abrahams brothers sonne and his substance (for he dwelt at Sodom) and departed.

13 Then came one that had escaped, and told Abram the Chaldey, which dwelt in the plaine of Hamre the Amorite, brother of Ethcol, brother of Aner, which which were confederate with Abram.

14 When Abram heard that his brother was taken, hee brought forth of them that were bozne and brought vp in his house, thre hundred and eighty teene, and pursued them vnto Dan.

15 Then he, and his seruantes deuoted themselves against them by night, & smote them & pursued the vnto Hobah, which is on the left side of Damascus,

16 And he recovered all the substance, and also brought again his brother Lot, and his goods, and the women also and the people.

17 After that he returned from the slaughter of Chedor-laomer and of the kings that were with him, came he king of Sodom forth to meet him in the valley of Shauah, which is the kings dale.

18 And Melchizedek king of Shalem brought forth bread and wine: and he was a Priest of the most high God.

19 Therefore he blessed him, saying, Blessed art thou, Abram, of God most high possessor of heauen and earth.

20 And blessed be the most high God, which hath deliuered thine enemies into thine hande. * And Abram gaue him tye of all.

21 Then the king of Sodom sayd to Abram, Giue me the persons, and take the goods to thy selfe.

22 And Abram sayde to the king of Sodom, I haue lift by mine hand vnto the Lord the most hie God possessor of heauen and earth,

23 That I will not take of all that is thine, so much as a threede or shoollatchet, lest thou shouldest say, I haue made Abram riche, 24 Saue only that, which the yong men haue eaten, & the parts of the men which went with me, Aner, Eshcol, and Mamre: let them take their parts.

CHAP. XV.

1 The Lord is Abrahams defence & reward. 6 He is iustified by faith. 13 The seruitude and deliuerance out of Egypt is declared. 18 The land of Canaan is promised the fourth time.

After these things, the word of the Lord came vnto Abram in a vision, saying, Feare not, Abram, I am thy buckler, and thine exceeding great reward.

2 And Abram saide, O Lord God, what wilt thou giue me, seeing I goe childlesse, and the steward of mine house is this Eliezer of Damascus:

3 Again Abram said, Behold, to me thou hast giuen no seede: wherefore lo, a seruat of mine house shalbe mine heire.

4 Then beholde, the word of the Lord came vnto him, saying, This man shall not be thine heire, but one that shall come out of thine owne bowels, hee shalbe thine heire.

5 Moreover he brought him forth and said, Looke by now vnto heauen, and tell the starres, if thou be able to number them: and he said vnto him, So shall thy seede be.

6 And Abram beleued the Lord, & he counted that to him for righteousness.

7 Again he said vnto him, I am the Lord, that brought thee out of the land of the Caldees, to giue thee this land to inherite it.

8 And he said, O Lord God, where by shall I know that I shall inherit it?

9 Then he said vnto him, Take me an heifer of thre yeres old, & a thee goat of thre yeres old, and a ramme of thre yeres olde, a turtle doue also & a pigeon.

10 So hee tooke all these vnto him, and deuided them in the mids, & layde euery peece one against another: but the birdes deuided he not.

11 Then foules fell on the carcases, and Abram droue them away.

12 And when the sunne went down, there fell an heauie sleepe vpon Abram: and loe, a very fearefull darkenes fell vpon him.

13 Then he saide to Abram, Know for a suretie, that thy seed shalbe a stranger in a land, that is not theirs, & foure hundred yeres, and shall serue them: and they shall intreate them euill.

14 Notwithstanding the nation, whom they shall serue, will I iudge: and afterwards shall they come out with great substance.

15 But thou shalt goe vnto thy fathers in peace, [and] shalt be buried in a good age.

16 And in the fourth generation they shall come hither againe: for the wickednes of the Amorites is not yet full.

17 Also when the sunne went downe, there was a darkenes: and beholde, a smoking fonnace, and a firebrand, which went betwene those peece.

18 In that same day the Lord made a couenant with Abram, saying, Vnto thy seede haue I giuen this land, from the riuer of Egypt vnto the great riuer, the riuer Euphrates.

NOWE Sarai Abzams wife bare him no children, and she had a mayde an Egyptian, Hagar by name.

2 And Sarai saide vnto Abzai, Beholde now, the Lord hath restrained me from child bearing. I pray thee go in vnto my mayd: [it may be that I shall receiue a childe by her. And Abzai obeyed the voyce of Sarai.

3 Then Sarai Abzams wife tooke Hagar her mayde the Egyptian, after Abzai had dwelled ten yere in the land of Canaan, and gaue her to her husband Abzai for his wife.

4 And he went in vnto Hagar, and she conceived, and when she sawe that she had conceived, her dame was despised in her eyes.

5 The Sarai said to Abzai, Thou dost me wrong. I haue giuen my mayd into thy bosom, & she seeth that she hath conceived, & I am despised in her eyes: the Lord iudge betweene me and thee.

6 Then Abzai saide to Sarai, Behold, thy mayde [is] in thine hand: doe with her as it pleaseth thee. Then Sarai dealt roughly with her: wherefore she fled from her.

7 But the Angel of the Lord found her beside a fountaine of water in the wilderness, by the fountaine in the way to Shur,

8 And he said, Hagar Sarais mayd, whence comest thou: and whither wilt thou goe? And she saide, I flee from my dame Sarai.

9 Then the Angel of the Lord sayde to her, Returne to thy dame, and humble thy selfe vnder her hands.

10 Again the Angel of the Lord said vnto her, I will so greatly encrease thy seede, that it shall not be numbred for multitude.

11 Also the Angel of the Lord said vnto her, See, thou art with child, & shalt beare a sonne, & shalt call his name Ishmael: for the Lord hath heard thy tribulation.

12 And hee shall be a wilde man: his hand shall be against euery man, & euery mans hand against him. And he shall dwell in the presence of all his brethren.

13 Then he called the name of the Lord, that spake vnto her, Thou God lookest on me: for she said, Haue I not also here looked after him that seeth me?

14 Wherefore the well was called, Beer-lahai-roi, [it is] betwene Radesch and Bered.

15 And Hagar bare Abzai a sonne, and Abzai called his sonnes name, which Hagar bare, Ishmael.

16 And Abzai was foure score & fixe yere old, when Hagar bare him Ishmael.

CHAP. XVII.

1 Abzams name is changed to confirme him in the promise. 8 The land of Canaan is the last time promised. 12 Circumcision is instituted. 15 Sarai is named Sarah, 18 Abzai named Isaac for Ishmael. 19 Ishak is promised. 23 Abraham and his house are circumcised.

WHEN Abzai was ninetie yere olde & nine, the Lord appeared to Abzai, and saide vnto him, I am God: all sufficient.

2 And I will make my covenant betweene me and thee, and I will multiplie thee exceedingly.

3 Then Abzai fell on his face, and God talked with him, saying,

4 Beholde, I make my covenant with thee, and thou shalt be a father of many nations.

5 Neither shall thy name any more be called Abzai, but thy name shall be Abzaiham: for a father of many nations haue I made thee.

6 Also I will make thee exceeding fruitfull, and will make nations of thee: yea, kings shall procede of thee.

7 Moreover I will establish my covenant betweene me and thee, and thy seede after thee in their generations, for an euerlasting covenant, to be God vnto thee, and to thy seede after thee.

8 And I will giue thee and thy seede after thee the land, wherein thou art a stranger, [euen] all the land of Canaan, for an euerlasting possession, and I will be their God.

9 Again God said vnto Abzaiham, Thou also shalt keep my covenant, thou, & thy seed after thee in their generations.

10 This is my covenant which ye shall keepe betweene me and you, and thy seede after thee. Let euery man child among you be circumcised:

of the couenant betweene me and you.

12 And euery mā childe of eight daies olde among you, shalbe circumcised in your generacions, as wel he that is borne in [thine] house, as hee that is bought with money of any stranger, which is not of thy seede.

13 He that is borne in thine house, & he that is bought wth my money, must needs be circumcised: so my couenant shalbe in your flesh for an euerlasting couenant.

14 But y<sup>e</sup> vncircumcised man childe, in whose flesh the foreskinne is not circumcised, euen that person shal be cut off from his people, [because] he hath broken my couenant.

15 Afterward God said vnto Abraham, Sarai thy wife shalt thou not call Sarai, but [Sarrah] shalbe her name.

16 And I wil blesse her, and wil also giue thee a sonne of her. yea, I wil blesse her, & the halbe the mother of nations: kings [also] of people shall come of her.

17 Then Abraham fel vpon his face, and laughed, & said in his heart, Shall a childe be borne vnto him, that is an hundred yeere olde: and shall Sarrah that is ninetie yeere olde beare?

18 And Abraham said vnto God, Oh, that Ithmael might liue in thy sight.

19 Then God said, * Sarrah thy wife shall beare thee a sonne in deede, & thou shalt call his name Izhak: and I will establish my couenant with him for an euerlasting couenant, [and] with his seede after him.

20 And as concerning Ithmael, I haue heard thee: lo, I haue blessed him, and will make him fruitfull, & will multiply him exceedingly: twelue princes shal he beget, and I will make a great nation of him.

21 But my couenant will I establish with Izhak, which Sarrah shall beare vnto thee, the next yeere at this season.

22 And he left off talking with him, and God went vp from Abraham.

23 Then Abraham tooke Ithmael his sonne & all that were borne in his house, and all that was bought with his money, [that is,] euery man childe among the men of Abrahams house, and he circumcised the foreskinne of their flesh in that selfe same day, as God had commaunded him.

24 Abraham al himselfe was ninetie yeere olde and nine, when the foreskinne of his flesh was circumcised.

25 And Ithmael his sonne was thir-teene yeere olde, when the foreskinne of his flesh was circumcised.

26 The selfe same day was Abraham circumcised, and Ithmael his sonne:

27 And all y<sup>e</sup> men of his house, [both] borne in his house, and bought with money of the stranger, were circumcised with him.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 Abraham receiued three Angels into his house, 10 Izhak is promised againe, 12 Sarrah laugheth, 18 Chait is promised to all nations, 19 Abraham taught his familie to knowe God, 21 The destruction of Sodom is declared vnto Abraham, 23 Abraham prayeth for them.

Aaine the Loide appeared vnto him in the plaine of Hamre, as he late in his tent doore about y<sup>e</sup> heate of y<sup>e</sup> day.

2 And he lift vp his eyes, and looked: and lo, threemen stood by him, & when he saw [them], he came to meete them from the tent doore, and bowed himselfe to the ground.

3 And he sayd, Lord, if I haue noth found fauour in thy sight, go not I pray thee, from thy seruant.

4 Let a litle water, I pray you, be brought, and wash your feete, and rest your selues vnder the tree.

5 And I wil bring a morfel of bread, that you may comfort your hearts, afterwarde ye shall goe your wayes: for therefore are ye come to your seruant. And they said, We eat as thou hast said.

6 Then Abraham made haste into the tent vnto Sarrah, and sayde, Make ready at once thre measures of fine meale: kneade it, and make cakes vpon the hearth.

7 And Abraham ran to the beastes, and tooke a tender and good calfe, and gaue it to the seruant, who hasted to make it ready.

8 And he tooke butter & milke, and the calfe which he had prepared, and set before them, and stood himselfe by them vnder the tree, and they did eate.

9 Then they said to him, where is Sarrah thy wife? And he answered, Beholde, she is in the tent.

10 And he said, * I wil certainly come againe vnto thee according to the time of life: and lo, Sarrah thy wife shall haue a sonne, and Sarrah heard in the tent doore, which was behinde him.

13 He that is borne in thine house, & he that is bought wth thy money, must needs be circumcised: so my couenant shalbe in your flesh for an euerlasting couenant.

14 But ¶ vncircumcised: man childe, in whose flesh the foreskinne is not circumcised, euē that person shal be cut off from his people, [because] he hath broken my couenant.

16 And I wil blesse her, and wil also giue thee a sonne of her, yea, I wil blesse her, & the shalbe the mother of nations: kings [also] of people shall come of her.

17 Then Abraham fel vpon his face, and laughed, & said in his heart, Shall a childe be borne vnto him, that is an hundred yeere olde: and shall Sarrah that is ninetie yeere olde beare?

18 And Abraham said vnto God, Oh, that Ishmael might liue in thy sight.

19 Then God said, Sarah thy wife shall beare thee a sonne in deede, & thou shalt call his name Ishak: and I will establish my couenant with him for an euerlasting couenant, [and] with his seede after him.

20 And as concerning Ishmael, I haue heard thee: lo, I haue blessed him, and will make him fruitful, & will multiply him exceedingly: twelue princes shal he beget, and I will make a great nation of him.

21 But my couenant will I establish with Ishak, which Sarah shall beare vnto thee, the next yeere at this season.

22 And he left off talking with him, and God went vp from Abraham.

23 Then Abraham tooke Ishmael his sonne & all that were borne in his house, and al that was bought with his money, [that is,] euery man childe among the men of Abrahams house, and he circumcised the foreskinne of their flesh in that selfe same day, as God had commaunded him.

26 The selfe same day was Abraham circumcised, and Ishmael his sonne:

27 And all the men of his house, [both] borne in his house, and bought with money of the stranger, were circumcised with him.

5 And I wil bring a morfel of bread, that you may comfort your hearts, afterwarde ye shall goe your wayes: for therefore are ye come to your seruant. And they said, We eue as thou hast said.

6 Then Abraham made haste into the tent vnto Sarah, and sayde, Make ready at once three measures of fine meale: kneade it, and make cakes vpon the hearth.

7 And Abraham ran to the beasts, and tooke a tender and good calfe, and gaue it to the seruant, who hastied to make it ready.

8 And he tooke butter & milke, and the calfe which he had prepared, and set before them, and dood himselfe by them vnder the tree, and they did eate.

9 Then they said to him, where is Sarah thy wife? And he answered, Beholde, she is in the tent.

sayde, Wilt thou also destroy the righte-and ashes.

28 If there shall lacke fiftie of fiftie righteous, wilt thou destroy all the cite for fiftie: And he sayde, If I finde there fiftie and fourtie, I will not destroy it.

29 And he yet spake to him againe, and sayde, what if there shall be found fourtie there: Then he answered, I wil not doe it: for teneties sake.

30 Again he sayd, Let not my Lorde now be angrie that I speake, what if thirtie be found there: Then he sayd, I wil not doe it, if I finde thirtie there.

6 Then Lot went out at the doore vnto them, and shut the doore after him.

7 And said, I pray you, my brethren, do not so wickedly.

8 Behold now, I haue two daughters, which haue not knowen man: them wil I bring out now vnto you, and do to them as seemeth you good: only vnto these men do nothing: for these are they come vnder the shadow of my rooffe.

9 Then they saide, Away hence, and they said, he is come alone as a stranger, and shall be iudge and rule: we wil now deale worse with thee then with them.

So they pressed sore vpon Lot himselfe, and came to breake the doore.

10 But the men put forth their hande and pulled Lot into the house to them and shut to the doore.

11 Then they knote the men that are at the doore of his house with blindness both small and great, so that they were weary in seeking the doore.

12 Then the men layde vnto Lot, whome hast thou yet here: either sonne in law, or thy sonnes, or thy daughters, or whatsoever thou hast in this cite, bring it out of this place.

13 For we wil destroy this place, because the cry of them is great before the Lord, and the Lord hath sent vs to destroy it.

14 Then Lot went out and spake vnto his sonnes in law, which married his daughters, and saide, Arise, get you out of this place: for the Lord wil destroy the cite: but hee seemed to his sonnes in lawe as though he had mocked.

15 And when the morning arose, the Angels hastened Lot, saying, Arise, take thy wife and thy two daughters: which are here, lest thou be destroyed in the punishment of the cite.

16 And as hee prolonged the time, the men caught both him and his wife, and his two daughters by the handes (the Lord being merciful vnto him) and they brought him forth, & set him without the cite.

17 And when they had brought them out, the Angel saide: Escape for thy life: looke not behinde thee, neither tarie thou in all the plaine: escape into the mountaine, lest thou be destroyed.

18 And Lot saide vnto them, Not so, I pray thee, my Lord.

19 Beholde now, thy seruant hath founde grace in thy sight, and thou hast magnified thy mercie, which thou hast shewed vnto me in saving my life: and I can not escape in this mountaine, lest some euil take me, and I dye.

20 See now this cite hereby to flye vnto, which is a litle one: oh let me escape thither: is it not a litle one, and my soule shall liue?

21 Then he said vnto him, Behold, I haue receiued thy request also concerning this thing, that I wil not ouerthrowe this cite, for the which thou hast spoken.

22 Hastee thee, tarrye thee there: for I can do nothing till thou be come thither. Therefore the name of the cite was called Zoar.

23 The sunne did rise vpon the earth, when Lot entered into Zoar.

24 Then the Lord rained vpon Sodom and vpon Gomorah brimstone, and fire from the Lord out of heauen.

25 And ouerthrew those cities and all the plaine, and all the inhabitants of the cities, & that that grewe vpon the earth.

26 Now his wife behinde him looked back, and she became a pillar of salt.

27 And Abraham rising vp early in the morning went to the place, where he had stand before the Lord.

28 And looking toward Sodom and Gomorah and toward all the land of the plaine, beholde, he saide the smoke of the land mounting vp as the smoke of a furnace.

29 But yet when God destroyed the cities of the plaine, God thought vpon Abraham, and sent Lot out from the mids of the destruction, when hee ouerthrew the cities, wherein Lot dwelled.

30 Then Lot went vp from Zoar, and dwelt in the mountaine with his two daughters: for he feared to tarie in Zoar, but dwelt in a caue, hee, and his two daughters.

31 And the elder saide vnto the younger, Our father is olde, and there is not a man in the earth to come in vnto vs after the maner of all the earth.

32 Come, we will make our father drinke wine, and lye with him, that we may preferre seede of our father.

33 So they made their father drinke wine that night, and the elder went and laye with her father: but hee perceived not, neither when she layd downe, neyther when she rose vp.

toide all these things vnto them, and the men were sore afraide.

9 Afterward Abimelech called Abraham, and said vnto him, What hast thou done vnto vs: and what haue I offended thee, that thou hast brought on me and on my kingdom [this] great sinne:
thou hast done things vnto mee that ought not to be done.

10 So Abimelech sayde vnto Abraham, What lawest thou that thou hast done this thing?

11 Then Abrahā answered, Because I thought [thus], Surely the feare of God [is] not in this place, and they will slay me for my wives sake.

12 Yet in very deede he is my sister:
for she is the daughter of my father, but not the daughter of my mother, and she is my wife.

13 Now whē God caused me to wander out of my fathers house, I said then to her, This is the kinde of that I shall shewe vnto me in all places where we come, * Say I of me, he is my brother.

14 Then tooke Abimelech sheep and beeues, and men seruants, and women seruants, & gaue them vnto Abraham, and restored him Sarah his wife.

15 And Abimelech said, Beholde, my lande [is] before thee: dwell where it pleaseth thee.

16 Likewise to Sarah he saide, Be-holde, I haue giue thy brother a thousand pieces of siluer: beholde, he is the <sup>a</sup> baile of thine eyes to al I are with thee, and to all others: & she was thus reponed.

17 C Then Abraham prayed vnto God, and God healed Abimelech, & his wife, and his women seruants: and they bare children.

18 For the Lord <sup>e</sup> had shut by every wombe of the house of Abimelech, because of Sarah Abrahams wife.

5 So Abraham was an hundred borne him a ſonne in his olde age.

8 Then the child grew & was weaned: and Abraham made a great feaſt the ſame day that Iſhak was weaned.

9 And Sarah ſaw the ſonne of ha-

10 Wherefore ſhe ſaid vnto Abraham, Caſt out this bond woman and her ſonne: for the ſonne of this bond woman ſhal not be heire with my ſonne Iſhak.

11 And this thing was very grieuous in Abrahams ſight, becauſe of his ſonne.

12 But God ſaid vnto Abraham, Let it not be grieuous in thy ſight for thy child, and for thy bond woman: in all that Sarah ſhall ſay vnto thee, heare her voyce:
for in Iſhak ſhall thy ſeede be called.

13 As for the ſonne of the bond woman, I will make him a nation alſo, becauſe he is thy ſeede.

e The Iſ-maelites ſhall
come of him.

14 So Abraham aroſe by early in the morning, and tooke bread, & a bottell of water, and gaue it vnto Hagar, putting it on her ſhoulder & the child alſo, and ſent her away: who departing wandered in the wildernes of Beer ſheba.

f True faith reioiceth in all naturall affections to obey Gods com-

15 And when the water of the bottell was ſpent, ſhe caſt the child vnder a certaine tree.

16 Then ſhe went and ſate her ouer againſt him a ſaerie of about a bowle ſhoote: for ſhe ſaid, I wil not ſee thy death of the child, and ſhe ſate downe ouer a-gainſt him, & liſt vp her voyce & wept.

g For his promiſes ſake made to Abraham, & not becauſe the child had dif-fection and ingratitude to ſir.

17 Then God heard the voyce of the child, & the Angel of God called to Hagar fro heauē, & ſaid vnto her, what ayleth thee, Hagar: feare not, for God hath heard the voyce of the child where he is.

h Except God open our eyes, we can neither ſee, nor ſee the means which are beſide vs.

18 Ariſe, take vp the child, and holde him in thine hande: for I will make of him a great people.

19 And God opened her eyes, and ſhe ſaw a well of water, ſo ſhe went and filled the bottell with water, and gaue
the boy drinke.

20 So God was with the child and he grew and dwelt in the wildernes, and was an archer.

21 And hee dwelt in the wildernes of Paran, & his mother tooke him a wife out of the land of Egypt.

22 And at that ſame time Abime-lech & Phicol his chiefe captaine ſpake vnto Abraham, ſaying, God [is] with thee in all that thou doeſt.

23 Nowe therefore ſweare vnto mee here by God, that thou wilt not hurt me, nor my children, nor my childrens children: thou ſhalt deale with me, and with the countrey, where thou haſt bene a ſtranger, according vnto the kindnes that I haue ſhewed thee.

f Ebr, deſire

25 And Abraham rebuked Abime-lech for a well of water, which Abimelechs ſeruaunts had violently taken away.

26 And Abimelech ſaid, I know not who hath done this thing: alſo thou ſol-deſt me not, neither heard I [of it] but this day.

k So that it is a lawfull

an othe in matters of importance, ſo to inſiſte the truth, and to aſſure

beecus, and gaue them vnto Abimelech:
and they two made a covenant.

ham, what meane theſe ſeuē lambes, which thou haſt ſet by themſelues?

30 And he answered, Becauſe thou ſhalt receiue of mine hand theſe ſeuē

32 Thus made they a covenant at Beerſheba: afterward Abimelech & Phi-col his chiefe captaine roſe vp, & turned againe vnto the land of the Philiftins.

Dachpelah, which he hath in the end of his field: that he would give it me for as much money as it is worth, for a possession to bury in among you.

10 For Ephron dwelt among the Hittites: Then Ephron the Hittite answered Abraham in the audience of all the Hittites that went in at the gates of his cite, saying,

11 No, my lord, heare me: the field giue I thee, and the caue, that therein is, I giue it thee: [euē] in the p̄sence of the soimes of my people giue I it thee, to bury thy dead.

12 Then Abraham bowed him selfe before the people of the land,

13 And spake vnto Ephron in the audience of the people of countrey, saying, Seeing thou wilt giue it, I pray thee, heare mee, I will giue the price of the fielde: receiue it of me, and I will bury my dead there.

14 Ephron then answered Abraham, saying vnto him,

15 My lord, hearken vnto me: the land [is worth] foure hundredth shekels of siluer: what [is] that betwene me and thee: burie therefore thy dead.

16 So Abraham hearkened vnto Ephron, and Abraham weped to Ephron the siluer, which he had named in the audience of the Hittites. [euē] foure hundredth siluer shekels of currant money among marchants.

17 So the field of Ephron [which was] in Dachpelah, and ouer against Hanre, [euē] the field and the caue that was therein, and all the trees that were in the field, which were in all the borders round about, was made sure

18 vnto Abraham for a possession, in the sight of the Hittites. [euē] of all that went in at the gates of his cite.

19 And after this, Abraham buried Sarah his wife in the caue of the field of Dachpelah ouer against Hanre: the same is hebron in the land of Canaan.

20 Thus the field & the caue, that is therein, was made sure vnto Abraham for a possession of buriall by the Hittites.

CHAP. XXIIII.

2 Abraham causeth his seruant to sweare to take a wife for Ishak in his owne kinred. 12 The seruant prayeth to God. 23 His desire toward his master. 50 The friends of Rebekah commit the matter to God. 58 They aske her consent and the agreeeth. 67 And is married to Ishak.

NOW Abraham was old, [and] stricken in yeeres, and the Lord had blessed Abraham in all things.

2 Therefore Abraham said vnto his eldest seruant of his house, which had the rule ouer all that he had, * But now thine hand vnder my thigh,

3 And I will make thee swear by the Lord God of the heauen, and God of the earth, that thou shalt not take a wife vnto my sonne of the daughters of the Canaanites among whom I dwell.

4 But thou shalt go vnto my countrey, and to my kinred, and take a wife vnto my sonne Ishak.

5 And the seruant saide to him, what if the woman will not come with me to this land: shal I bring thy sonne againe vnto the land from whence thou comest?

6 To whom Abraham answered, Swear that thou bring not my sonne thither againe.

7 The Lord God of heauen, who tooke me from my fathers house, and from the land where I was borne, and that spake vnto me, and that sware vnto me, saying, * vnto thy seede will I giue this land, he shal send his Angel before thee, & thou shalt take a wife vnto my sonne from thence.

8 Neuertheles if the woman wil not folowe thee, then shalt thou be * discharged of this mine othe: only bring not my sonne thither againe.

9 Then the seruant put his hand vnder the thigh of Abraham his master, and sware to him for this matter.

10 So the seruant tooke ten camels of the camels of his master, & departed: (for he had all his masters goods in his hand): [and] so he arose, and went to Haran Raharam, vnto the cite of Rahor.

11 And hee made his camels to lye downe without the cite by a well of water, at euentide about the time that the women come out to draw [water].

12 And he sayd, O Lord God of my master Abraham, I beseeche thee, send me good speede this day, and shew mercie vnto my master Abraham.

13 Lo, I stand by the well of water, whyles the mens daughters of this cite come out to draw water.

behold, <sup>h</sup>Rebekah came out, the daugh-

16 And the maide was very faire to and filled her pitcher, and came vp.

17 Then the seruant came to meete

18 And she said, Drinke + sir: and she hasted, and let downe her pitcher vpon her hand and gaue him drinke.

19 And when shee had giuen him drinke, she said, I will drabe water for thy camels also vntill they + haue drun-

22 And when the camels had left drinking, the man tooke a golde + abillebracelets for her hands, of tenn shekels weight of gold:

23 And he said, whose daughter art <sup>p</sup>:- tell me, I pray thee, Is there roume in 24 Then she saide to him, I am the daughter of Bethuel the sonne of Hileah whom the bare vnto Rahor.

25 Whereouer she said vnto him, we haue litter also and prouender ynough, and roume to lodge in.

26 And the man bowed himselfe and worshipped the Lord.

27 And said, Blessed be the Lord God of my master Abraham, which hath not withdraue his mercy: & his truth from my master: [for] When I was in the way, the Lord brought me to my masters brethrens house.

28 And the maide ranne and tolde emie of her mothers house according to these wordes.

29 And so Rebekah had a brother called Laban, and Laban ranne vnto
the man to the well.

30 For when he had seene <sup>p</sup> earings & the bracelets in his sisters hands, & when he heard the wordes of Rebekah his sister, saying, Thus saide <sup>p</sup> man vnto me, then he went to the man, & lo, + he stood by the camels at the well.

31 And he saide, Come in thou blessed of the Lord: wherefore standest thou without, seeing I haue prepared the house, and roume for the camels:

32 Then <sup>p</sup> man came into <sup>p</sup> house, and he vndlad the camels, & brought litter and prouender for the camels, and water to wash his feete, and the mens feete that were with him.

33 Afterward <sup>p</sup> meate was set before him: but he said, I wil not eat, vntill I haue saide my message. And hee saide,

37 Now my master made me sweare, saying, Thou shalt not take a wife to my sonne of the daughters of the + Canaanites, in whose land I dwell:

38 But thou shalt goe vnto my + fathers house and to my kindred, and take a wife vnto my sonne.

39 Then I saide vnto my master, what if the woman will not follow me:

40 who answered me, The Lord, before who I walke, will send his Anand thou shalt take a wife for my sonne of my kindred and my fathers house.

41 Then shalt thou be discharged of mine othe, when thou comest to my kindred: and if they giue thee not one, thou shalt be free from mine othe.

42 So I came this day to <sup>p</sup> well, and said, O Lord, the God of my master A-44 And she say to me, Drinke thou, and I will also drab for thy camels, let her be the wife, which the Lord hath prepared for my masters sonne.

45 And before I had made an end of speaking in mine + heart, behold, Rebekah came forth, and her pitcher on her do lūne her pitcher from her [shoulder, and said, Dūnke, and I will giue thy camels dūnke also. So ¶ I drank, and the gaue the camels dūnke also.

47 Then ¶ I asked her, & said, whose daughter art thou? And she answered, The daughter of Bethuel Nahors sonne, Whome Milcah bare vnto him. Then ¶ I put the abillment vpon her face, and the bracelets vpon her hands:

48 And ¶ I bowed downe & worshipped the Lord, & blessed the Lord God of my master Abrahā, which had brought me the right way to take my masters hōthers daughter vnto his sonne.

49 Nowe therefore, if ye will deale mercifully and truly with my master, tell me: and if not, tell me that I may turne me to the right hand or to the left.

50 Then answered Laban and Bethuel, and said, This thing is proceeded of the Lord: we can not therefore say vnto thee, neither euill nor good.

51 Behold, Rebekah is before thee, take her & go, & she may be thy masters sonnes wife, euen as the Lord hath said.

52 And when Abrahams seruant heard their words, he bowed himselfe toward the earth vnto the Lord.

53 Then the seruant tooke forth ieluels of siluer, and ieluels of gold, & rayment, and gaue to Rebekah: also vnto her brother and to her mother he gaue gifts.

54 Afterward they did eate & drinke, [both] he, and the men that were with him, and taried al night, and when they rose vp in the morning, he said, Let me depart vnto my master.

55 Then her brother and her mother answered, Let the maid abide with vs, at the least ten dayes: then shall he go.

56 But he said vnto them, hinder you me not, seeing the Lord hath prospered my iourney: send me away, that I may go to my master.

57 Then they saide, we will call the maide, and aske her consent.

58 And they called Rebekah, and said vnto her, wilt thou go with this man: And she answered, I will go.

59 So they let Rebekah their sister go, and her nourse, with Abrahams seruant and his men.

60 And they blessed Rebekah, & saide vnto her, Thou art our sister, grow into thousand thousands, and thy seede possesse the gate of his enemies.

61 The Rebekah arose, & her maids, & rode vpon camels, & folowed the man,

& the seruant tooke Rebekah, & departed. 62 Now Izhak came from the way of Beer-lahai-roi, (for he dwelt in the South country)

63 And Izhak wēt out to pray in the field toward evening: who lift vp his eyes & looked, & behold, camels came.

64 Also Rebekah lift vp her eyes, and when she saw Izhak, she lighted downe from the camel.

65 (For she had said to the seruant, who is yonder man, that cometh in the field to meete vs: and the seruant had saide, It is my master) So she tooke a vaille, and couered her.

66 And the seruant tolde Izhak all things, that he had done.

67 Afterwarde Izhak brought her into the tent of Sarah his mother, and he tooke Rebekah, & she was his wife, and he loued her: so Izhak was comforted after his mothers death.]

and 24. 62.

11 And after the death of Abraham God blessed Izhak his sonne, * and Izhak dwelt by Beer-lahai-roi.

12 Now these are the generations of Izhmael Abrahams sonne, whom Hagar  $\text{p}$  Egyptian Sarahs handmaide bare vnto Abraham.

1. Chro. 1. 29.

13 \* And these are the names of the sonnes of Izhmael, name by name, according to their kindreds:  $\text{p}$  \* eldest sonne of Izhmael [was] Rebaioth, then Bedar, and Abdeel, and Diblam, 14 And Izhma, & Dumah, & Basla, 15 Hadar, & Tema, Jetur, Naphish, and Kedemah.

16 These are the sonnes of Izhmael, & these are their names, by their towne and by their castles: [to wit.] twelue princes of their nations.

17 (And these are the yeeres of the life of Izhmael, an hundredth thirtie and seuen yeere, & hee yeelded the spirit, & died, and was gathered vnto his  $\text{p}$  people)

18 And they dwelt from Haulah vnto Shur,  $\text{p}$  is towards Egypt, as thou goest to Asshur. [Izhmael] dwelt in the presence of all his brethren.

19 Likewise these are the generations of Izhak Abrahams sonne. Abraham begat Izhak, 20 And Izhak was forty yeere old, when hee tooke Rebekah to wife, the daughter of Bethuel the Aramite of Padan Aram, [and] sister to Laban the Aramite.

21 And Izhak prayed vnto the Lord for his wife, because she was barren: and the Lord was intreated of him, & Rebekah his wife conceived, 22 But the children strove together within her: therefore she saide, Seeing [it is] so, why am I thus? wherefore doe I dwell vnto alke the Lord.

23 And the Lord saide to her, Two nations [are] in thy wombe, and two manner of people shall be deuised out of thy bowels, and the one people shall be mightier then the other, and the * elder shall serue the yonger.

24 Therefore when her time of deliuerance was fulfilled, behold, twins [were] in her wombe.

25 So he that came out first was red, and he was all ouer as a rough garnet, and they called his name Esau.

26 And afterward came his brother out, and his hand held Esau by  $\text{p}$  heele: therefore his name was called Iakob. Nowe Izhak was threetye yeere olde

When [Rebekah] bare them.

27 And the boyes greiue, and Esau [was] a cunning hunter, and * liued in the fields: but Iakob was a plaine man, and dwelt in tents.

28 And Izhak loued Esau, for  $\text{p}$  ventson [was] his meate, but Rebekah loued Iakob.

29 Now Iakob sodde pottage, and Esau came from the field & was wearie.

30 Then Esau said to Iakob, Let me eate, I pray thee, of the [pottage] so red, for I am wearie. Therefore was his name called Edom.

31 And Iakob saide, Sell me euen now thy birthright.

32 And Esau said, Lo, I am almost dead, what [is] then this  $\text{p}$  birthright to me?

33 Iakob then said, Swear to me euen now. And he sware to him, * and sold his birthright vnto Iakob.

34 Then Iakob gaue Esau bread and pottage of lentiles: and he did eate and drinke, & rose vp, & went his way: So Esau contemned [his] birthright.

CHAP. XXVI.

1 God proueth for Izhak in the famine. 3 He reneweth his promise. 9 The King blameth him for denying his wife. 14 The Philistines hate him for his riches. 15 Escape his welles. 16 And him him away. 24 God comforteth him. 31 He maketh alliance with Abimelech.

And there was a famine in  $\text{p}$  land besides the first famine. That was in the dayes of Abraham. wherefore Izhak went to Abimelech king of the Philistines vnto Gerar.

2 For the Lord appeared vnto him, and said,  $\text{p}$  Go not downe into Egypt, [but] abide in the land which I shall shewe vnto thee.

3 Dwell in this land, \* and I will be with thee, & will blesse thee: for to thee, & to thy seede I will giue all these countreys: & I wil performe  $\text{p}$  othe which I sware vnto Abraham thy father.

4 Also I will cause thy seede to multiply as the starres of heauen, and will giue vnto thy seede all these countreys: and in thy seede shall all the nations of the earth be * blessed.

5 Because that Abraham obeyed my voyce & kept mine * ordinance, my commandments, my statutes, & my Lawes.

kill me, because of Rebekah: for she was beautifull to the eye.

8 So after he had bene there long time, Abimelech king of the Philistines looked out at a window, & lo, he saw Izhak: sporting with Rebekah his wife.

e Or, shewing some familiar signe of loue, whereby it might be knowne that she was his wife.

9 Then Abimelech called Izhak, and sayd, Lo, she is of a suretie thy wife, and why laiest thou, She is my sister: To whome Izhak answered, Because I thought this, It may be that I shall die for her.

10 Then Abimelech sayd, why hast thou done this vnto vs: one of the people had almost lien by thy wife, so shouldest thou haue brought sinne vpon vs.

f In all ages men were persecuted for the sake of Gods vengeance should light vpon wicked breakers.

11 Then Abimelech charged all his people, saying, See that toucheth this man, or his wife, shall die the death.

12 Afterward Izhak sojourned in that land, and founde in the same yeere an hundredth soide by estimation: and so the Lorde blessed him.

g Or, an hundredth measure.

13 And the man waxed mightie, and still increased, till hee was exceeding great,

h Ebr. he went forth going & increasing.

14 For he had flockes of sheepe, and herds of cattell, and a mightie household: therefore the Philistines had enuie at him.

g The malicious enuie at the graces of God in others.

15 In so much that the Philistines stopped and filled vp with earth all the welles, which his fathers seruants digged in his father Abrahams time.

16 Then Abimelech sayde vnto Izhak, Get thee from vs, for thou art mightier then we a great deale.

17 ¶ Therefore Izhak departed thence and pitched his tent in the valley of Gerar, and dwelt there.

b The Shechem was signified a flood, or valley, where water at any time runneth.

18 And Izhak returning, digged the welles of water, which they had digged in the dayes of Abraham his father: for the Philistines had stopped them after the death of Abraham, & he gaue them the same names, which his father gaue them.

19 Izhaks seruants then digged in the valley, and found there a well of liuing water.

i Or, springing.

20 But the herdmen of Gerar did strife with Izhaks herdmen, saying, The water is ours: therefore called he the name of the well ¶ Esek, because they were at strife with him.

j Or, contention, strife.

21 Afterwarde they digged another well, and stroue for that also, and he called the name of it ¶ Sitnah.

k Or, hatred.

22 Then he remoued thence, and dig-l Or, largenes, rounne.

23 So hee went vp thence to Beer-sheba.

24 And the Lorde appeared vnto him the same night, and sayd, I am the God of Abraham thy father: feare not, for I am with thee, and will blesse thee, and multiplie thy seede for my seruant Abrahams sake.

m God assurcth Izhak against all feare by rehearsing the promises made to Abraham.
n To signifye that he would serue none other God, but the God of his father Abraham.

25 Then he built an altar there, and called vpon the name of the Lorde, and there spied his tent: where also Izhaks seruants digged a well.

26 ¶ Then came Abimelech to him from Gerar, and Ahuzzath [one] of his friends, and Bichol the captaine of his armie.

27 To whome Izhak sayd, wherefore come ye to me, seeing ye hate me and haue put me away from you?

28 Who answered, we saue certainly that the Lorde was with thee, and we thought [thus,] Let there be nowe an othe betweene vs, [euen] betweene vs and thee, and let vs make a couenant with thee.

29 ¶ If thou shalt doe vs no hurt, as we haue not touched thee, & as we haue done vnto thee nothing but good, and sent thee away in peace: thou now, the blessed of the Lord, [doe this.]

30 Then he made them a feast, & they did eate and drinke.

31 And they rose vp betimes in the morning, & sware one to another: then Izhak let them goe, and they departed from him in peace.

32 And that same day Izhaks seruants came & tolde him of a well, which they had digged, and sayd vnto him, we haue found water.

And

AND when Iſhak was olde, and his eyes were dimme (ſo that he could not ſee) he called Eſau his eldeſt ſonne, & ſayde vnto him, My ſonne. And he answered him, I am here.

2 Then he ſayd, Behold, I am now olde, and know not the day of my death:

3 Wherefore now, I pray thee take thine inſtruments, thy quiver and thy bowe, and get thee to the field, that thou mayeſt take me ſome veniſon.

4 Then make me ſauorie meat, ſuch as I loue, and bring it me that I may eate, [and] that my ſoule may bleſſe thee, before I die.

5 (Now Rebekah heard, when Iſhak ſpake to Eſau his ſonne) and Eſau went into the ſeld to hunt for veniſon, and to bring it.

6 Then Rebekah ſpake vnto Iſaakob her ſonne, ſaying, Beholde, I haue heard thy father talking with Eſau thy brother, ſaying, 7 Bring me veniſon, and make me ſauorie meat, that I may eate & bleſſe thee before the Lord, afore my death.

8 Nowe therefore, my ſonne, heare my voyce in that which I comānd thee.

9 Get thee now to the ſlocke, and bring me thence two good kiddes of the goates, that I may make pleaſant meat of them for thy father, ſuch as he loueth.

10 Then thou ſhalt bring it to thy father, and he ſhall eate, to the intent that he may bleſſe thee before his death.

11 But Iſaakob ſayd to Rebekah his mother, Beholde, Eſau my brother [is] rough, and I am ſmooth.

12 My father may poſſibly feele me, and I ſhall ſeeme to him to be a mocker: ſo ſhall I bring a curſe vpon me, and not a bleſſing.

13 But his mother ſayde vnto him, Upon mee [be] thy curſe, my ſonne: onely heare my voyce, and go and bring me [them].

14 So he went and fet [them,] and brought [them] to his mother: and his mother made pleaſant meat, ſuch as his father loued.

15 And Rebekah tooke faire clothes of her eldeſt ſonne Eſau, which were in her houſe, and clothed Iſaakob her younger ſonne:

16 And he covered his hands & the ſmooth of his necke with the ſkinnes of the kiddes of the goates.

17 Afterwarde he put the pleaſant meate and bread, which he had prepared, in the hand of her ſonne Iſaakob.

18 And when he came to his father, he ſayd, My father. Who answered, I am here: who art thou, my ſonne?

19 And Iſaakob ſayde to his father, I am Eſau thy fiſt borne. I haue done as thou baideſt me, arde, I pray thee: ſit vp and eat of my veniſon, that thy ſoule may bleſſe me.

20 Then Iſhak ſaid vnto his ſonne, Howe haſt thou found it ſo quickly my ſonne: who ſayd, Becauſe the Lord thy God brought it to mine hand.

21 Againe ſaid Iſhak vnto Iſaakob, Come nere now, that I may feele thee, my ſonne, whether thou be that my ſonne Eſau or not.

22 Then Iſaakob came nere to Iſhak his father, and he felt him and ſayd, The voyce [is] Iſaakobs voyce, but the hands [are] the hands of Eſau.

23 (For he knew him not, becauſe his hands were rough as his brothers Eſaus hands: wherefore he bleſſed him)

24 Againe he ſayd, Art thou that my ſonne Eſau: who answered, Yea.

25 Then ſayd he, Bring it me hither, and I will eate of my ſonnes veniſon, that my ſoule may bleſſe thee. And he brought it to him, and he ate: alſo he brought him wine, and he dranke.

26 Afterward his father Iſhak ſaid vnto him, Come nere now, and kiſſe me, my ſonne.

27 And he came nere and kiſſed him. Then he ſmelled the ſauour of his garments, and bleſſed him, & ſaid, Beholde, the ſmell of my ſonne [is] as the ſmell of a ſeld, which the Lord hath bleſſed.

28 God giue thee therefore of the dewe of heauen, and the fatneſſe of the earth, and plenty of wheate and wine.

29 Let people be thy ſervants, and nations bow vnto thee: be lord ouer thy brethren, & let thy mothers children honour thee. Curſed [be he] that curſeth thee, and bleſſed [be he] that bleſſeth thee.

30 And when Iſhak had made an end of bleſſing Iſaakob, & Iſaakob was ſcarre gone out from the preſence of Iſhak his father, then came Eſau his brother from his hunting, 31 And he alſo prepared ſauoury meat and brought it to his father, and ſaid vnto his father, Let my father ariſe, & eate of his ſonnes veniſon, that thy ſoule may bleſſe me.

41 Therefore Eſau hated Iakob, becauſe of the bleſſing, wherewith his father bleſſed him. And Eſau thought in his minde, * The dayes of mourning for my father wil come ſhortly, then I wil ſlay my brother Iakob.

42 And it was tolde to Rebekah of the wordes of Eſau her elder ſonne, and he ſent and called Iakob his yonger ſonne, and ſayd vnto him, Beholde, thy brother Eſau || is comforted againſt thee, [meaning] to kill thee:

4 And giue thee the bleſſing of Abrahams, [euen] to thee & to thy ſeede with thee, that thou mayeſt inherite the land (wherein thou art a b ſtranger,) which God gaue vnto Abraham.

5 Thus Iſhak ſent forth Iakob, and he went to Padan Aram vnto Laban ſonne of Bethuel the Aramite, brother to Rebekah, Iakobs and Eſaus mother.

Beer Sheba, and went to Haran, 11 And he came vnto a certaine place, and taried there all night, because the sunne was downe, & tooke of the stones of the place, and laid vnder his head and slept in the same place.

12 Then he dreamed, and beholde, there stood a ladder vpon the earth and the top of it reached vp to heauen:
and lo, the Angels of God went vp and downe by it.

13 * And beholde, the Lord stood aboue it, and said, I am the Lord God of Abraham thy father, & the God of Izhak: the land, vpon the which thou sleepest, will I giue thee and thy seede.

14 And thy seede shalbe as the dust of the earth, and thou shalt spread abroade * to the west, and to the East, and to the North, and to the South, & in thee and in thy seede shall all the * families of the 15 And lo, I am with thee, and will keepe thee whither soeuer thou goest, and will bring thee againe into this land:

for I will not forsake thee vntill I haue performed that, that I haue promised thee.

16 ¶ Then Jaakob awoke out of his sleepe, and sayd, Surely the Lord is in this place, and I was not aware.

17 And he was * afraide, and sayde, how fearefull is this place! this is none other but the house of God, and this is the gate of heauen.

18 ¶ Then Jaakob rose vp early in the morning, and tooke the stone that he had laide vnder his head, and set it vp [as] * a pillar, and poured oyle vpon the top of it.

19 And he called * þ name of that place
Beth-el: not withstanding the name of 20 ¶ Then Jaakob bowed a bowe, saying, ¶ God will be with me, and will keepe me in this iourney which I goe, and will giue me bread to eate, & clothes to put on:

21 So that I come againe vnto my Lord be my God.

22 And this stone, which I haue set vp [as] a pillar, shalbe Gods house: and of all that thou shalt giue me, wil I giue the tenth vnto thee.

CHAP. XXIX.

13 Jaakob commeth to Laban and serueth seven yeere for Rahel, 23 Leah brought to his bed in stead of Rahel, 27 He serueth seven yeere more for Rahel, 32 Leah conceiued and bareth foure sonnes.

¶ He Jaakob lift vp his feete & came into the East countrey.
2 And as he looked about, beholde there was a well in the fieelde, and lo, three flockes of sheepe lay thereby (for at that well were the flockes watered) and there was a great stone vpon the welles mouth.

3 And thither were all the flockes gathered, & they rolled the stone from the welles mouth, and watered the sheepe, and put the stone againe vpon þ welles mouth in his place.

4 And Jaakob sayd vnto them, My brethren, whence be ye: And they answered, we are of Haran.

5 ¶ Then he said vnto them, Know ye Laban the sonne of Nahor: who sayd, we know him.

6 Againe he sayd vnto them, ¶ Is he in good health: And they answered, He is in good health, & beholde, his daughter Rahel commeth with the sheepe.

7 ¶ Then he said, Lo, [it is] yet hie day, neither [is it] time that the cattell should be gathered together: water ye þ sheepe and goe feede [them].

8 But they sayde, we may not buttill all the flockes be brought together, and [til men] rolle the stone from the welles mouth, that we may water the sheepe.

9 ¶ While he talked with them, Rahel also came with her fathers sheepe, for she kept them.

10 And as soone as Jaakob saw Rahel the daughter of Laban his mothers brother, and the sheepe of Laban his mothers brother, then came Jaakob neere, & rolled the stone from the welles mouth, and watered the flocke of Laban his mothers brother.

11 And Jaakob kissed Rahel, and lift vp his voyce and wept.

12 (For Jaakob tolde Rahel, that he was her fathers brother, and that he was Rebeccahs sonne) then the ran and tolde her father.

13 And when Laban heard tell of Jaakob his sisters sonne, he ranne to meete him, and embraced him & kissed him, and brought him to his house: and he tolde Laban all these things.

14 To whom Laban sayd, wel, thou art my bone and my flesh, and he abode with him the space of a moneth.

15 ¶ For Laban sayd vnto Jaakob, Though thou be my brother, shouldest thou therefore serue me for nought: tell me, what [shall be] thy wages:

16 Now Laban had two daughters, the elder called Leah, and the younger called Rahel.

17 And Leah was tender eyed, but Rahel was beautiful and faire.

18 And Jaakob loued Rahel, and said, I will serue thee seven yerres for Rahel thy younger daughter.

19 Then Laban answered, It is better that I giue her thee, then I should giue her to another man: abide with me.

20 And Jaakob serued seven yerres for Rahel, and they seemed vnto him but a selue dayes, because he loued her.

21 ¶ Then Jaakob saide to Laban, Giue me my wife that I may go in to her: for my terme is ended.

22 Wherefore Laban gathered together all the men of the place, and made a feast.

23 But when evening was come, hee tooke Leah his daughter & brought her to him, and he went in vnto her.

24 And Laba gaue him mayd Zilpah to his daughter Leah, to be her seruāt.

25 But when the morning was come, beholde, it was Leah. Then saide he to Laban, wherefore hast thou done thus to me: did not I serue thee for Rahel: wherefore then hast thou beguiled me?

26 And Laban answered, It is not the manner of this place, to giue the younger before the elder.

27 Fulfill thine yerres for her, & we will also giue thee this for the seruice, which thou shalt serue me yet leue yerres more.

28 Then Jaakob did so, and fulfilled her seven yerres, so he gaue him Rahel his daughter to be his wife.

29 Laban also gaue to Rahel his daughter Bilhah his maide (to be) her seruāt.

30 So entred he in to Rahel also, and loued also Rahel more then Leah, and serued him yet seven yerres mo.

31 ¶ When the Lord saue that Leah was despised, hee made her fruitful: but Rahel was barren.

32 And Leah conceived and bare a sonne, and she called his name Reuben: for she said, Because the Lord hath looked vpon my tribulation, now therefore mine husband will loue me.

33 And she conceived againe, and bare a sonne, and said, because the Lord heard that I was hated, hee hath therefore giuen me this [sonne] also, and she called his name Simeon.

34 And she conceived againe and bare a sonne, and said, Now at this time will my husband keepe me companie, because I haue borne him three sonnes: therefore was his name called Leui.

35 Whereouer she conceived againe and bare a sonne, saying, Now will I praise the Lord: therefore she called his name Judah, and left bearing.

CHAP. XXX.

4. 9 Rahel and Leah being both barren giue their maides vnto their husband, and they beare him children. 15 Leah giueth mayakes to Rahel that Jaakob might lie with her. 27 Laban is enriched for Jaakobs sake. 43 Jaakob is made very rich.

¶ And when Rahel saue that she bare Jaakob no children, Rahel enuied her sister, and saide vnto Jaakob, Giue me children, or els I die.

2 Then Jaakobs anger was kindled against Rahel, and he said, Am I in Gods steade, which hath withhelden from thee the fruite of the wombe?

3 And she saide, Beholde my mayde Bilhah, goe in to her, and she shall beare vpon my knees, and I shall haue children also by her.

4 Then he gaue him Bilhah his maide to wife, & Jaakob went in to her.

5 So Bilhah conceived & bare Jaakob a sonne.

6 Then said Rahel, God hath giuen sentence on my side, and hath also heard my voice, and hath giuen mee a sonne: therefore called he his name, Dan.

7 And Bilhah Rahels mayde conceived againe, and bare Jaakob the second sonne.

8 Then Rahel said, With excellent wrestlings haue I wrestled with my sister, and haue gotten the vpper hand: and she called his name, Naphtali.

9 And when Leah saue that she had left bearing, she tooke Zilpah her maide, and gaue her Jaakob to wife.

10 And Zilpah Leahs maide bare Jaakob a sonne.

11 Then said Leah, A company cometh: and she called his name, Gad.

12 Againe Zilpah Leahs maide bare Jaakob an other sonne.

13 Then saide Leah, Ah, blessed am I, for the daughters will blesse me, and she called his name, Aser.

14 ¶ Now Reuben went in the dayes of the wheate haruest and found e mandrakes in the field and brought them vnto his mother Leah. Then saide Rahel to Leah, Giue mee, I pray thee, of thy sonnes mandrakes.

15 But she answered her, Is it a small matter matter for thee to take mine husband, except thou take my sonnes mandrakes also: Then saide Rahel, Therefore he shall sleepe with thee this night for thy sonnes mandrakes.

16 And Jaakob came from the feld in the evening, and Leah went out to meete him, and saide, Come in to me, for I haue bought and payed for thee with my sonnes mandrakes: and he slept with her that night.

17 And God heard Leah & she conceived, & bare vnto Jaakob 5 fift sonne.

18 Then said Leah, God hath giuen mee my rewarde, because I gaue my maide to my husband, and she called his name Issachar.

19 After, Leah conceived againe, and bare Jaakob the sixt sonne.

20 Then Leah saide, God hath endued me with a good dowrie: now will mine husband dwell with me, because I haue borne him sixe sonnes: and she called his name Zebulun.

21 After that, she bare a daughter, and she called her name Dinah.

22 And God remembered Rahel, & God heard her, & opened her wombe.

23 So she conceived & bare a sonne, and said, God hath taken away my rebuke.

24 And she called his name Ioseph, saying, The Lord will giue mee yet an other sonne.

25 And as soon as Rahel had borne Ioseph, Jaakob said to Laban, Send me away that I may go vnto my place and to my countrey.

26 Giue me my wiues and my children, for whom I haue serued thee, and let me goe: for thou knowest what seruice I haue done thee.

27 To Whome Laban answered, If I haue now founde fauour in thy sight, [saie: I haue] perceived that the Lord hath blessed me for thy sake.

28 Also he said, Appoint vnto me thy wages, and I will giue it [thee.]

29 But hee saide vnto him, Thou knowest, what seruice I haue done thee, and in what taking thy cattel hath bene vnder me.

30 For the little, that thou haddest before I came, is increased into a multitude: and the Lord hath blessed thee by my coming: but now when shall I travel for mine owne house also?

31 Then hee saide, what shall I giue thee: And Jaakob answered, Thou shalt giue me nothing at all: if thou wilt do this thing for me, I wil returne, seed, [and] keepe thy sheepe.

32 I wil passe through all thy flockes this day, [and] separate from them all the sheepe with litle spotted and great spotted, and all blacke lumbes among the sheepe, and the great spotted, and litle spotted among goates: and it shall be my wages.

33 So that my righteousnes answere for me hereafter, when it shall come for my rewarde before thy face, [and] euery one that hath not litle or great spotted among the goates, and blacke among the sheepe, the same shall be [thine] with me.

34 Then Laban said, Goe to, would God it might be according to thy saying.

35 Therefore he tooke out the same day the hee goates that were partie coloured and with great spotted, and all the shee goats with litle & great spotted, [and] all that had white in them, and all the blacke among the sheepe, and put them in the keeping of his sonnes.

36 And he set three dayes iourney between himselfe and Jaakob. And Jaakob kept the rest of Labans sheepe.

37 Then Jaakob tooke roddees of greene poplar, and of bafel, and of the chestnut tree, and piled white strakes in them, and made the white appeare in the roddees.

38 Then he put the roddees, which he had piled, in the gutters [and] watering troughes, when the sheepe came to drinke, before the sheepe: for they were in heat, when they came to drinke.

39 And the sheepe were in heate before the roddees, & [afterward] brought forth yong of partie colour, and with small and great spots.

40 And Jaakob parted these lambs, and turned 7 faces of the flocke towards [these] lambs partie coloured and all manner of blacke, among the sheepe of Laban: so hee put his owne flockes by themselves, and put them not with Labans flocke.

41 And in euery ramming time of the stronger sheepe, Jaakob laid the rods before the eyes of the sheepe in 7 gutters, that they might coeue before the rods.

42 But when the sheepe were feeble, hee put them not in: and so the feebler were Labans, & the stronger Jaakobs.

43 So the man increased exceedingly, and had many flockes, and made seruaunts, and men seruaunts, and camels and asses.

d This Angel was Christ which appeared to Jaakob in Beth-el and hereby appeared hee had taught his wives the feare of God: for he talketh as though they knewe this thing.

Chap. 28. 18. e For they were given to Jaakob in recompence of his service: which was a kinde of sale,

NOW he heard the wordes of Labans sones, saying, Jaakob hath taken away al that was our fathers, and of our fathers goods hath hee gotten all this honour.

2 Also Jaakob behelde the countenance of Laban, + that it was not towards him as in times past:

3 And the Lord had saide unto Jaakob, Turne againe into the land of thy fathers, and to thy kinned, and I wil be with thee.

4 Therefore Jaakob sent and called Rahel & Leah to f feede vnto his flock.

5 Then said he vnto them, I see your fathers countenance, that it is not towards me + as it was wont, & the God of my father hath bene with me.

6 And ye knowe that I haue serued your father with all my might.

7 But your father hath deceiued me, and changed my wages ten times: but God suffered him not to hurt me.

8 If he thus said, The spotted shalbe thy wages, then all the sheepe bare spotted: and if he said thus, the partie coloured shalbe thy reward, then bare all the sheepe particoloured.

9 Thus hath God taken away your fathers substance, and giuen it me.

10 For in running time I lifted vp mine eyes and saide in a dream, and beholde, the hee goates leaped vpon the three goates, that were partie coloured with litle and great spotted spotted.

11 And the Angel of God said to me in a dream, Jaakob. And I answered, Lo, I am here.

12 And hee saide, Lift vp now thine eyes, & see all the hee goats leaping vpon the three goates that are partie coloured, spotted with litle & great spotted: for I haue seene all that Laban doth vnto thee.

13 + I am the God of Beth-el, where thou + appointedst the pillar, where thou bowedst a bow vnto me. Now arise, get thee out of this countrey and returne vnto the land where thou wast borne.

14 The answered Rahel & Leah, and saide vnto him, Haue we any more portion & inheritance in our fathers house?

15 Doest not hee count vs as strangers: for hee hath sold vs, and hath eaten vp and consumed our money.

16 Therefore all the riches, which God hath taken from our father, is ours and our childrens: now hee then whatsoeuer God hath said vnto thee, do it.

17 Then Jaakob rose vp, and set his sonnes and his wives vpon camels, and hee caried away all his flocks, and all his substance which hee had gotten, [to wit,] his riches, which hee had gotten in Padan Aram, to go to Bethel his father vnto the land of Canaan.

19 When Laban was gone to sheere his sheepe, Then Rahel stole her fathers doles.

20 Thus Jaakob stole away the heart of Laban the Aramite: for he told him not that hee fled.

21 So fled hee with all that hee had, and hee rose vp, and passed the river, and set his face toward mount Gilead.

22 And the thirde day after was it tolde Laban, that Jaakob fled.

23 The hee tooke his brethren to him, and folowed after him seuen dayes iourney, & ouertooke him at mount Gilead.

24 And God came to Laban the Aramite in a dream by night, and saide vnto him, Take heede that thou speake not to Jaakob + ought saue good.

25 Then Laban ouertooke Jaakob, and Jaakob had pitched his tent in the mount: and Laban [also] with his brethren pitched vpon mount Gilead.

26 Then Laban saide to Jaakob, what hast thou done: + thou hast euen stolen away mine heart and caried away my daughters as though they had bene taken captiues with the sword.

27 Wherefore didest thou flee so secretly and steale away from me, & didest not tell me, that I might haue sent thee forth with mirth and with songs, with timbrel and with harpe:

28 But thou hast not suffered me to kisse my sonnes & my daughters: now thou hast done foolishly in doing [so.]

29 I am able to do you euil: but the God of your father spake vnto me yester night, saying, Take heede that thou speake not to Jaakob ought saue good.

30 Nowe though thou wentest thy way, because thou greatly longedst after thy fathers house, [yet] wherefore hast thou stolen my gods?

31 Then Jaakob answered, and said to Laban, Because I was afraide, and thought that thou wouldst haue taken thy daughters from me.

Or, conueyed thy selfe away priuily.

+ Ebr. power is in mine hand. g Was an idolater, and therefore would not acknowledge the God of Jaakob for his God.

32 [But] With whom thou findest thy gods, let him not live. Search thou before our brethren what I haue [of thine,] and take it to thee. [but Jaakob wist not that Rahel had stolen them]

33 Then came Laban into Jaakobs tent, and into Leahs tent, and into the two maidens tentes, but founde [them] not. So he went out of Leahs tent, and entered into Rahels tent.

¶ Or, strawe, or, saddle.

34 [Now] Rahel had taken the idoles and put them in the camels litter & late downe vpon them, and Laban searched all the tent, but found [them] not.

¶ Ebe, let not anger be in the eyes of my lord.

35 Then saide the to her father, My lord, be not angry that I can not rise before thee: for the custome of women [is] vpon me: so he searched, but founde not the idoles.

36 [Then] Jaakob was wroth, and chode with Laban: Jaakob also answered and saide to Laban, What haue I trespassed: what haue I offended, that thou hast periled after me:

37 Seeing thou hast searched all my stuffe, what hast thou found of all thine household stuffe: put it here before my brethren & thy brethren, that they may iudge betweene vs both.

38 This twentieth yeere I haue bene with thee: thine ewes and thy goates haue not cast their yong, & the rammes of thy flocke haue I not eaten.

¶ Ebe, the come, or taken by pray.
Exo. 12. 12.

39 Whatsoever was tome [of beasts,] I brought it not vnto thee, [but] made it good my selfe: of mine hand dost thou require it. [were it] stolen by daye or stolen by night.

40 I was in the day consumed with heat, and with frost in the night, and my sleepe departed from mine eyes.

¶ Or, I sleepe not.

41 Thus haue I bene twentieth yeere in thine house, and serued thee fourteene yeeres for thy two daughters, and six yeeres for thy sheepe, and thou hast changed my wages ten times.

h That is, the God whome Jaakob feare and reuerence.

42 Except the God of my father, the God of Abraham, & the feare of Izhak had bene with me, surely I hadest sent me alway now emptye: [but] God beheld my tribulation, and the labour of mine hands, and rebuked [thee] yester night.

43 Then Laban answered, and said vnto Jaakob, These daughters are my daughters, & these sonnes are my sonnes, and these sheepe are my sheepe, and all that thou seest, is mine, and what can I do this day vnto these my daughters, or to their sonnes which they haue borne:

44 Now therefore come and let vs make a couenant, I and thou, which may be a witnes betweene me and thee.

45 Then tooke Jaakob a stone, and set it vp [as] a pillar:

46 And Jaakob sayde vnto his brethren, Gather stones: who brought stones, and made an heape, and they did eate there vpon the heape.

47 And Laban called it Jegar-sahadutha, and Jaakob called it Galeed.

48 For Laban saide, This heape is witnes betweene me and thee this day: therfore he called the name of it Galeed.

49 Also [he called it] Mizpah, because he said, The Lord looke betweene me and thee, when we shalbe departed one from another.

50 If thou shalt bere my daughters, or shalt take wiuues beside my daughters: [there is] no man with vs, behold, God [is] witnes betweene me and thee.

51 Moreover Laban said to Jaakob, Beholde this heape, & behold the pillar, which I haue set betweene me and thee, 52 This heape [shalbe] witnes, and the pillar [shalbe] witnes, that I will not come ouer this heape to thee, & that thou shalt not passe ouer this heape and this pillar vnto me for euill.

53 The God of Abraham, & the God of Izhak, [and] the God of their father be iudge betweene vs: But Jaakob sware by the feare of his father Izhak.

54 Then Jaakob did offer a sacrifice vpon the mount, and called his brethren to eate [bread,] and they did eate bread, and taried all night in the mount.

55 And early in the morning Laban rose vp and killed his sonnes and his daughters, and blessed them, & Laban departing, went vnto his place againe.

CHAP. XXXII.

1 God comforteth Jaakob by his Angels, 2. 10 He prayeth vnto God confessing his sinnes, 13 He sendeth presents vnto Esau, 24. 28 He wrestled with the Angel wha named him Izhak.

NOWE Jaakob went forth on his journey and the Angels of God met him.

2 And when Jaakob saw them, he said, This is Gods hoste, and called the name of the same place Jahanaim.

3 Then Jaakob sent messengers before him to Esau his brother, vnto the land of Seir into the countrey of Edom:

Chap. 48. 16, a He acknowledgeth Gods mercies: who for the preferuation of his, sendeth hostes of Angels, ¶ Or, tents.

b He reuerenced his brother in worldly things, because he chiefly looked to be preferred to the spiritual promises.

saith thus, I haue bene a stranger with Laban, and taried vnto this time.

5 I haue becues also & asses, sheepe, and men seruants, & women seruants, and haue sent to thelve my lord, that I may finde grace in thy sight.

6 God's messengers came againe to Iaakob, saying, We came vnto thy brother Elau, and he also commeth against thee and foure hundred men with him.

7 Then Iaakob was greatly affraide, and was sore troubled, and deuised the people that was with him, and the sheepe, and the becues, and the camels into two companies.

8 For he said, If Elau come to the one company and smite it, the other company shall escape.

9 ¶ Moreover Iaakob saide, O God of my father Abraham, and God of my father Israhak: Lord, which saidest vnto me, Returne vnto thy country and to thy kindred, and I wil doe thee good.

10 I am not worthy of the least of all the mercies and all the truth, which thou hast shewed vnto thy servant: for with my staffe came I ouer this Jordan, & now haue I gotten two bandes.

11 I pray thee, deliuer me from the hand of my brother, from the hand of Elau: for I feare him, lest he will come and smite me, [and] the mother vpon the children.

12 For thou saidst, I wil surely doe thee good, and make thy seede as the sand of the sea, which can not be nombred for multitude.

13 And he taried there the same night, and tooke of that which came to hand, & present for Elau his brother:

14 Two hundred shee goates, and twentie hee goates, two hundred ewes and twentie rammes:

15 Thirtie milche camels with their coltes, fourtie kine, and ten bullockes, twentie shee asses and ten foales.

16 So he deliuered the into the hand of his seruants, euery droue by them selues, & said vnto his seruants, Passe before me, and put a space betwene droue & droue.

17 And he commaunded the foremost, saying, If Elau my brother meete thee, and alke thee, saying, whole seruant art thou: And whither goest thou: And whole are these before thee:

18 Then thou shalt say, They be thy seruants Iaakobs: it is a present sent vnto my lord Elau: and behold, he him self also is behinde vs.

19 So likewise commaunded he the second & the third, and al that folowed the droues, saying, After this manner, ye shall speake vnto Elau, when ye finde him.

20 And ye shall say moreover, Behold, thy servant Iaakob [cometh] after vs [for hee thought, I shall appeale his wrath with the present that goeth before me, and afterwarde I wil see his face: it may be that he wil accept me.]

21 So went the present before him, but he taried the night with the company.

22 And he rose by the same night, and tooke his two wives, & his two maides, and his eleuen children, and went ouer the forde Jabbok.

23 And he tooke them, and sent them ouer the river, & sent ouer that he had.

24 ¶ Nowe when Iaakob was left himselfe alone, there wrestled a man with him vnto the breaking of the day.

25 And he said that he couide not preuaile against him: therefore he toucheth the holow of his thigh, and the holowe of Iaakobs thigh was loosed, as hee wrestled with him.

26 And he saide, Let me goe, for the morning appeareth. Who answered, I wil not let thee go, except thou bleesse me.

27 Then saide he vnto him, What is thy name: And he said, Iaakob.

28 Then said he, Thy name shall be called Iaakob no more, but Israel: because thou hast had a poulder with God, thou shalt also preuaile with men.

29 Then Iaakob demanded, saying, Tell me, I pray thee, thy name. And he said, wherefore now dost thou aske my name: And he blessed him there.

30 And Iaakob called the name of the place Bethel: for, [said he, I haue scene God face to face, & my life is preserved.]

31 And the sunne rose to him as he passed Bethel, & he halted vpon his thigh.

32 Therefore the children of Israel eate not of the finew that shanke in the holowe of the thigh, vnto this day: because he toucheth the finew that shanke in the holowe of Iaakobs thigh.

2 Dinah is rauished. 8 Hamor aſketh her in marriage for his ſonne. 22 The Shechemites are circumciſed at the request of Iakobſ ſonnes, and the perſuaſion of Hamor. 25 The whoyedome is reuenged. 28 Iakob reſproueth his ſonnes.

Then Dinah the daughter of Leah, which he bare vnto Iakob, <sup>a</sup> Went out to ſee the daughters of that countrey.

6 Then Hamor the father of Shechem went out vnto Iakob to commune with him.

7 And when the ſonnes of Iakob were come out of the ſeld and heard it, it grieved the men, and they were very angrie, becauſe he had wrought villenie in Iſrael, in that he had lien with Iakobſ daughter: <sup>f</sup> which thing ought not to be done.

king deceitfully, because hee had defiled
Dinah their sister,

14 And they said vnto them, <sup>c</sup>We can not doe this thing, to giue our sister to an vncircumcised man: for that were a <sup>d</sup>reprouce vnto vs.

15 But in this will we consent vnto you, if ye will be as we [are,] that euery man child among you be <sup>e</sup>circumcised:

16 Then will we giue our daughters to you, and we will take your daughters to vs, and will dwell with you, and be one people.

17 But if ye will not hearken vnto vs to be circumcised, then will we take our daughters and depart.

18 Now their words pleased Hamor, and Shechem Hamors sonne.

19 And the yong man deferred not to do the thing because hee loued Iaakobs daughter: he was also the <sup>g</sup>most set by of all his fathers house.

20 ¶ Then Hamor and Shechem his sonne went vnto the <sup>f</sup>gate of their ci-tie, and communed with <sup>g</sup>men of their cie, saying,

21 These men are <sup>h</sup>peaceable with vs: and that they may dwell in the land, and do their affaires therein (for behold, the land hath rounne ynough for them) let vs take their daughters to wiues, and giue them our daughters.

22 Only herein will the men consent vnto vs for to dwell with vs, & to be one people, if all the men children among vs be circumcised as they are circumcised.

23 Shall not <sup>i</sup>their flocks and their substance and all their cattell be ours:
onely let vs consent [herein] vnto them,
and they will dwell with vs.

24 And vnto Hamor, and Shechem his sonne hearkened all that went out of the gate of his cie: and all the men children were circumcised, [euery] all that went out of the gate of his cie.

25 And on the third day (when they were foretwo of the sonnes of Iaakob, Simeon and Leui, Dinahs brethren tooke either of the his wynde & went into the cie boldly, and <sup>k</sup>slaw euery male.

26 They slew also Hamor and Shechem his sonne with the edge of the sword, and tooke Dinah out of She-chems house, and went their way.

27 [Again] <sup>l</sup>other sonnes of Iakob came vpon the dead, and spoyled the cie, because they had defiled their sister.

28 They tooke their sheepe, & their beenes, and their asses, and whatsoeuer was in the cie, and in the fieldes.

29 Also they caried away captiue and spoyled all their goods, and all their children and their wiues, and all that was in the houses.

30 Then Iaakob said to Simeon and Leui, Ye haue troubled me, and made me <sup>m</sup>shinke among the inhabitants of the land, [alwe] the Canaanites, as the Pe-rizzites, & I being seide in nomber, they shall gather them selues together a-and the child was with the sonnes of Zilpah, and with the sonnes of Zilpah, his fathers wiues. And Ioseph brought vnto their father their euill <sup>b</sup> saying.

3 Nowe Israel loued Ioseph more then all his sonnes, because he begat him in his old age, and he made him a coat of many colours.

4 So when his brethren saue that their father loued him more then all his brethren, then they hated him, and could not speake peaceably vnto him.

5 And Ioseph dreamed a dreame, and told his brethren, who hated him to much the more.

6 For he sayd vnto them, heare, I pray you, this dreame which I haue dreamed.

7 Beholde nowe, wee were binding sheaues in the middes of the field: and lo, my sheafe arose and aldo stoode vpright, and beholde, your sheaues compassed round about, and did reuerence to my sheafe.

8 Then his brethren sayde to him, what, shalt thou reigne ouer vs, and rule vs: or shalt thou haue altogether dominion ouer vs: And they hated him so much the more, for his dreames, and for his wordes.

9 Again hee dreamed an other dreame, and tolde it his brethren, & said, Beholde, I haue had one dreame more, and behold the Sunne and the Moone and eleuen starres did reuerence to me.

10 Then he told it vnto his father and to his brethren, and his father rebuked him, and said vnto him, what is this dreame, which thou hast dreamed: shall I, and thy mother, and thy brethren come in dedde and fall on the ground before thee?

11 And his brethren enmied him, but his father noted the saying.

12 Then his brethren went to keepe their faders sheepe in Shechem.

13 And Israel said vnto Ioseph, Do not thy brethren keepe in Shechem: come and I will send thee to them.

14 And he answered him, I am here. Then hee sayd vnto him, So nowe, see whether it be well with thy brethren, and how the flocks prosper, and bring me word againe. so hee sent him from the vale of hebron, and he came to Shechem.

15 Then a man found him: for lo he was wandring in the field, and the man asked him, saying, what seekest thou:

16 And he answered, I seeke my brethren: tell me, I pray thee, where they keepe [sheepe.]

17 And the man saide, They are departed hence: for I heard them say, Let vs go vnto Dothan. Then went Ioseph after his brethren, and found them in Dothan.

18 And when they saw him a farre off, euen before he came at them, they conspired against him for to slay him.

19 For they said one to another, We hold, this dreamer cometh.

20 Come now therefore, and let vs slay him, and cast him into some pit, and wee will say, A wicked beast hath deuoured him: then we shall see, what will come of his dreames.

21 But when Reuben heard [that,] he deliuered him out of their handes, and said, Let vs not kill him.

22 Also Reuben said vnto the, Shead not blood, [but] cast him into this pit that is in the wilderness, and lay no hand vpon him. [Thus he saide,] that he might deliuer him out of their hand, & restore him to his father againe.

23 Now when Ioseph was come vnto his brethren, they stript Ioseph out of his coat, his particoloured coat that was vpon him.

24 And they tooke him, and cast him into a pit, and the pit was empty, with out water in it.

25 Then they sate them downe to eat bread: and they lift vp their eyes and looked, and behold, there came a companie of Ithmeelites from Gilead, and their camels laden with spicerie, and balmie, and myrrhe, and were going to carie it downe into Egypt.

26 Then Iudah said vnto his brethren, what aualeth it, if we slay our brother, though we keepe his blood secret?

27 Come & let vs sell him to the Ithmeelites, and let not our handes be vpon him: for he is our brother, and our flesh: and his brethren obeyed.

28 Then the Ithmeelites marchant men passed by, and they drew forth, and lift Ioseph out of the pit, and solde Ioseph vnto the Ithmeelites for twentie [pieces] of siluer: who brought Ioseph into Egypt.

2 The marriage of Iudah, 7. 9 The trespass of Er & Onan, and the vengeance of God y<sup>e</sup> came thereupon. 18 Iudah lieth with his daughter in lawe Tamar, 29. 30 The birth of Ipharez & Zarah. 24 Tamar is iudged to be burnt for whoredome.

Ad at y<sup>e</sup> time<sup>a</sup> Iudah went down from his brethren, and turned in to a man called Hirah an Adullamite.

2 And Iudah saide there the daughter of a man called<sup>a</sup> Shuah a Canaanite: and he tooke her [to wife], & went in vnto her.

3 So she conceived and bare a sonne, and he called his name Er.

4 And she conceived againe, & bare a sonne, and she called his name Onan.

5 Whereouer she bare yet a sonne, whom she called Shelah: and Iudah was at Chezib when he bare him.

6 Then Iudah tooke a wife to Er his first borne sonne whose name was Tamar.

7 Now Er the first borne of Iudah was wicked in the sight of the Lorde: therefore the Lorde slewe him.

8 Then Iudah said to Onan, Go in vnto thy brothers wife, and do the office of a kinsman vnto her, and rayse y<sup>e</sup> by seede vnto thy brother.

9 And Onan knelbe that the seede should not be his: therfore whē he went in vnto his brothers wife, he spilled it on the ground, lest he should giue seede vnto his brother.

10 And it was wicked in the eyes of the Lorde, which he did: wherefore he slewe him also.

11 Then saide Iudah to Tamar his daughter in Law, <sup>d</sup>Remaine a widow in thy fathers house, till Shelah my sonne growe vp (for he thought thus, Least he die as well as his brethren.) So Tamar went and dwelt in her fathers house.

12 And in proesse of time also the daughter of Shuah Judahs wife died. Then Iudah, when he+ had left mourning, went vp to his sheepe shepers to Timnah, he, and his neighbour Hirah the Adullamite.

13 And it was tolde Tamar, saying, Behold, thy father in lawe goeth vp to Timnah, to there his sheepe.

14 Then ther put her widowes garments off from her, and couered her with a baile, and wrapped her selfe, and late downe in y<sup>e</sup> Bethah-enaim, which is by the way to Timnah, because she saw that Shelah was grown, and she was not giuen vnto him to wife.

15 whē Iudah saw her, he iudged her an whore: for he had couered her face.

16 And he turned to y<sup>e</sup> way to bathe herselfe, and saide, Come, I pray thee, let me lie with thee, (for he knelbe not that she was his daughter in lawe) And she answered, what wilt thou giue me for to lie with me?

17 Then said he, I wil send thee a kid of the goates from the flocke, and thee sayde, [well,] if thou wilt giue mee a pledge, till thou sende it.

18 Then he saide, what is the pledge that I shall giue thee? And she answered, Thy signet, and thy cloke, and thy staffe that is in thine hande. So he gaue it her, and lay by her, and she was with child by him.

19 Then the rose, and went & put her baile from her and put on her widowes rayment.

21 Then asked he y<sup>e</sup> men of that place, saying, where is the whore, [that late] in Enaim by the way side? And they answered, There was no whore here.

22 Hec came therefore to Iudah againe, and saide, I can not finde her, and also the men of the place saide, There was no whore there.

1 Ioseph is tolde to Josephar. 2 God prospereth him. 7 Josephars wife tempteth him. 13. 20 He is accused and cast in prison. 21 God sheweth him fauour.

Nowe Ioseph was brought dolue into Egypt: and Potiphar an eunuch of Pharaohs (and his chiefe steuerman an Egyptian) bought him at the hande of the Ishmeelites, which had bought him thicher.

a Read Chap. 37. 36.

2 And the Lord was with Ioseph, and hee was a man that prospered and was in the house of his master the Egyptian.

3 And his master sawe that the Lord was with him, and that the Lord made all that he did to prosper in his hand.

4 So Ioseph founde fauour in his sight, and serued him: and he made him ruler of his house, and put all that hee had in his hand.

c Because God prospered him: and so he made religion to serue his profite.

5 And from that time he had made him ruler ouer his house and ouer all that he had, the Lord blessed the Egyptians house for Josephs sake: and the blessing of the Lord was vpon all that hee had in the house, and in the field.

d The wicked are blessed by the companie of the good.

6 Therefore he left all that hee had in Josephs hand, and tooke account of nothing, [that was] with him, save onely of the bread, which hee dyd eate. And Ioseph was a fayre person, and well fauoured.

e For he was assured that all things shoulde prosper vnto him: therefore hee ate and drank, and tooke no care.

7 Now therfore after these things, his masters wife cast her eyes vpon Ioseph, and sayde, Lye with me.

f In this word hee declared the summe wherunto all her flatteries did tende.

8 But he refused and saide to his masters wife, Behold, my master knoweth not what [hee hath] in the house with me, but hath committed all that hee hath to mine hande.

9 There is no man greater in this house then I: neither hath hee kept any thing from mee, but onely thee, because thou art his wife: howe then can I doe this great wickednesse and [to] sinne against God?

g The feare of God preserved him against her continuall tentations.

10 And albeit he spake to Joseph day by day, yet hee hearkened not vnto her, to lye with her, [or] to be in her company.

11 Then on a certaine day [Joseph] entred into the house, to doe his busines: and there was no man of the household in the house:

12 Therefore shee taught him by his garment, saying, Sleepe with me: but he left his garment in her hand and fled, and got him out.

13 Now when she saw that hee had left his garment in her hand, & was fled out, 14 Shee called vnto the men of her house, and tolde them, saying, Beholde, hee hath brought in an Ebrewe vnto vs, to mocke vs: who came in to me for to haue slept with me: but I cryed with a loude voyce.

h Or, to doe vs villanie and shame.

15 And when he heard that I lift vp my voyce and cryed, he left his garment with me, and fled away, & got him out.

i This declaration where incontinencie is, thereunto is toynd extreme impudencie & craft.

16 So shee layed vp his garment by her, vntill her lord came home.

17 Then shee tolde him according to these wordes, saying, The Ebrewe seruant, which thou hast brought vnto vs, came in to me to mocke me.

l Or, after this manner.

18 But as soone as I lift vp my voyce and cryed, he left his garment with me, and fled out.

19 Then when his master heard the wordes of his wife, which she tolde him, saying saying, After this manner did thy seruant to me, his anger was kindled.

20 And Iosephs master tooke him & put him in<sup>21</sup> prison, in the place, where the kings prisoners lay bound: & there he was in prison.

21 But the Lord was with Ioseph, and shewed him mercy, & got him fauor in the sight of the master of the prison.

22 And the keeper of the prison committed to Iosephs hand all the prisoners that were in the prison, and whatsoeuer they did there, that did he.

23 And the keeper of the prison looked vnto nothing that was vnder his hand, seeing that the Lord was with him: for whatsoeuer he did, the Lord made it to prosper.

CHAP. XL.

8 The interpretation of dreames is of God. 12, 19 Ioseph expounded the dreames of the two prisoners. 23 The ingratitude of the butler.

After these things, the butler of the King of Egypt and his baker offended their lord the King of Egypt.

2 And Pharaoh was angry against his two officers, against the chiefe butler, and against the chiefe baker.

3 Therefore he put them in ward in his chief stewards house, in the prison [and] place where Ioseph was bound.

4 And the chief steward gaue Ioseph charge ouer them, & he serued them: and they continued a season in ward:

5 And they both dreamed a dreame, eache of them his dreame in one night, eache one according to the interpretation of his dreame, [both] the butler and the baker of the king of Egypt, which were bound in the prison.

6 And when Ioseph came in vnto the in the morning, and looked vpon them, behold, they were sad.

7 And he asked Pharaohs officers, & were w<sup>h</sup> him in his masters ward, saying, wherefore looke ye so sadly to day?

8 who answered him, we haue dreamed, & eache one a dreame, and there is none to interpret the same. Then Ioseph said vnto them, Are not interpretations of God, tell them me now.

9 So the chief butler told his dreame to Ioseph, and said vnto him, In my dreame, behold, a vine was before me,

10 And in it were three branches, and as it budded, her flour came forth: and the clusters of grapes waxed ripe.

11 And I had Pharaohs cup in mine hand, & I tooke the grapes, and wrung them into Pharaohs cup, and I gaue the cup into Pharaohs hand.

12 then Ioseph said vnto him, This is the interpretation of it: The three branches are three dayes.

13 within three dayes shall Pharaoh lift vp thine head, and restore thee vnto thine office, and thou shalt giue Pharaohs cup into his hand after the olde manner, when thou wast his butler.

14 But haue me in remembrance with thee, when thou art in good case, & shew me mercie, I pray thee, vnto me, and make mention of me to Pharaoh, that thou mayest bring me out of this house.

15 For I was stolen away by theft out of the land of the Ebrewes, and here also haue I done nothing, wherefore they should put me in the dungeon.

16 And when the chiefe baker sawe that the interpretation was good, hee said vnto Ioseph, Alas me thought in my dreame that I had three white baskets on mine head.

17 And in the byppermost basket there [was] of all manner baken meates for Pharaoh: and the birdes did eate them out of the basket vpon mine head.

18 Then Ioseph answered, and said, This is the interpretation thereof: The three baskets are three dayes:

19 within three dayes shall Pharaoh take thine head from thee, & shall hang thee on a tree, and the birdes shall eate thy flesh from of thee.

20 And so the third day, [which was] Pharaohs birthday, he made a feast vnto all his seruants: and he lifted vp the head of the chiefe butler, and the head of the chiefe baker among his seruants.

21 And he restored the chiefe butler vnto his butler ship, who gaue the cup into Pharaohs hand, 22 But he hanged the chiefe baker, as Ioseph had interpreted vnto them.

23 Yet the chiefe butler did not remember Ioseph, but forgot him.

CHAP. XLII.

after them out of the riuer, euilsauoured and leane fleshed, and stood by the other kinne vpon the bank of the riuer.

4 And the euilsauoured and leane fleshed kine did eate by the seuen wellsauoured & fat kine: so Pharaoh awoke.

5 Again he slept, and dreamed the second time: and beholde, seuen eares of corne greiue vpon one stalk, ranke and goodly.

6 And lo, seuen thynne eares, & blasted with East wind, sprang vp after them: 7 And the thynne eares deuoured the seuen ranke and full eares. Then Pharaoh awoke, and lo, [it was] a dreame.

8 Now when the morning came, his spirit was troubled: therefore he sent & called all the soothlayers of Egypt, and all the wise men thereof, and Pharaoh tolde them his dreames: but none could interpret them to Pharaoh.

9 Then spake the chiefe butler vnto Pharaoh, saying, I call to minde my faultes this day.

10 Pharaoh being angrie with his seruantes, put me in warde in the chiefe stewards house, both me and the chiefe baker.

11 Then we dreamed a dreame in one night, both I, and he: we dreamed ech man according to the interpretation of his dreame.

12 And there [was] with vs a yong man, an Ebrew, seruant vnto the chiefe steward, whom when we told, he declared our dreames to vs, to euery one he declared according to his dreame.

13 And as hee declared vnto vs, so it came to passe: [for] hee restored mee to mine office, and hanged him.

14 Then sent Pharaoh, and called Ioseph, and they brought him hastily out of prison, and he shaued him, & changed his rayment, and came to Pharaoh.

15 Then Pharaoh said to Ioseph, I haue dreamed a dreame, & no man can interpret it, and I haue heard say of thee, that when thou hearest a dreame, thou canst interpret it.

16 And Ioseph answered Pharaoh, saying, Without me God shall answer for the wealth of Pharaoh.

17 And Pharaoh sayd vnto Ioseph, In my dreame, behold, I stood by the bank of the riuer:

18 And lo, there came by out of a riuer seuen fat fleshed, and wellsauoured kine, and they fed in the medowe.

19 Also lo, seuen other kine came by after them, poore and very euilsauoured, and leane fleshed: I neuer sawe the like in all the land of Egypt, for euilsauoured.

20 And the leane and euilsauoured kine did eate by the first seuen fat kine.

21 And when they had eaten them by, it could not be knowen that they had eaten them, but they were still as euilsauoured, as they were at the beginning: so did I awake.

22 Whereouer I saw in my dreame, & beholde, seuen eares sprang out of one stalk, full and faire.

23 And loe, seuen eares, withered, thynne, and blasted with East winde, sprang vp after them.

24 And the thynne eares deuoured the seuen good eares. Now I haue told the soothlayers, and none can declare it vnto me.

25 Then Ioseph answered Pharaoh, Both Pharaohs dreames are one. God hath shewed Pharaoh, what he is about to do.

26 The seuen good kine are seuen yeeres, and the seuen good eares are seuen yeeres: this is one dreame.

27 Likewise the seuen thynne and euilsauoured kine, that came out after them, are seuen yeeres: and the seuen empye eares blasted with East wind, are seuen yerres of famine.

28 This is the thing which I haue said vnto Pharaoh, God hath shewed vnto Pharaoh, what he is about to do.

29 Behold, there come seuen yerres of great plentie in all the land of Egypt.

30 Again, there shall arise after the seuen yerres of famine, so that all the plentie shall be forgott in the land of Egypt, and the famine shall consume the land:

31 Neither that the plentie be knowen in the land, by reason of this famine that shall come after: for it shall be exceeding great.

32 And therefore the dreame was doubled vnto Pharaoh the second time, because the thing is established by God, & God hasteth to performe it.

33 Now therefore let Pharaoh provide for a man of vnderstanding & wisdom, and let him ouer the land of Egypt.

34 Let Pharaoh make and appoint officers ouer the land, & take by the fifth part of the land of Egypt in the seuen plenteous yerres.

35 Also let them gather all the foode of these good yerres that come, & lay by corne vnder the hande of Pharaoh for foode, b All these means God vsed to deliuer his seruant, & to bring him into fauour & auoyde.

c This feare was enough to reach him, that this vision was sent of God.

d The wisdome of the wisest vnderstand not Gods secrets, but to his seruantes his will is reueiled.

36 So the foode shall be for the provision of the lande, against the seven yeeres of famine, which shall bee in the lande of Egypt, that the lande perish not by famine.

37 And the saying pleased Pharaoh and all his servants.

38 Then saide Pharaoh vnto his servants, Can he be found [such] a man as this, in whom [is] the Spirit of God?

39 Then Pharaoh saide to Joseph, Forasmuch as God hath shewed thee all this, there is no man of vnderstanding, or of wise dome like vnto thee.

40 Thou shalt be ouer mine house, and as thy word shall all my people be armed, onely in the kings throne will I be about thee.

41 Moreover Pharaoh saide to Joseph, Beholde, I haue set thee ouer all the lande of Egypt.

52 Also he called the name of the seconde, Ephraim: for God, [saide he,] hath made me fruitful in the land of mine affliction.

53 So the seven yeeres of the plentie that was in the lande of Egypt were ended.

54 Then beganne the seven yeeres of famine to come, according as Joseph had sayde: and the famine was in all landes, but in all the land of Egypt was bread.

55 At the length all the land of Egypt was affamished, and the people cried to Pharaoh for bread. And Pharaoh sayd vnto all the Egyptians, Goe to Joseph: what he saith to you, do ye.

56 When the famine was vpon all the lande, Joseph opened al places, wherein [the store was] and solde vnto the Egyptians: for the famine waxed sore in the land of Egypt.

now speake a word in my lordes eares, & let not thy wrath be kindled against thy seruant: for thou art euen as Pharaoh.

19 By Iorde asked his seruants, saying, * Haue ye a father, or a brother?

20 And we answered my Iorde, Wee haue a father that is olde, and a yong childe, [ which he begate in his age: & his brother is dead, & he alone is left of his mother, and his father loueth him.

21 Solue thou laidest vnto thy seruants, Bring him vnto me, that I may set mine eye vpon him.

22 And we answered my Iorde, The childe can not depart fro his father: for if he leaue his father, [ his father ] would die.

23 Then laidest thou vnto thy seruantes, * Except your yonger brother come downe with you, looke in my face no more.

24 So when we came vnto thy seruant our father, and shewed him what my Iord had laide,

25 And our father said vnto vs, Goe againe, bye vs a little foode, 26 Then we answered, We can not goe downe: but if our yongest brother goe with vs, then will we go down: for we may not see the mas face, except our yongest brother be with vs.

27 Then thy seruant my father said vnto vs, We knowe that my Wife bare me two sonnes, 28 And the one went out from me, & I said, Of a suretie he is toyme in * pletes, and I saw him not since.

29 Now ye take this also alway from me: if death take him, the eye shal bring my gray head in sorow to the graue.

30 Now therefore, when I come to thy seruant my father, & the childe [ be ] not with vs [ seeing that his life dependeth on the childes life ]

31 Then when hee shall see that the childe [ is ] not [ come ], he will die: so shall thy seruants bring the gray head of thy seruant our father vnto sorow to a graue.

32 Doubtles thy seruant became suretie for the childe to my father, and laide, * If I bring him not vnto thee againe, then I will beare the blame vnto my father for ever.

33 Now therefore, I pray thee, let my thy seruant bide for the childe, [ as ] a seruant to my Iorde, and let the childe goe by with his brethren.

34 For how can I goe by to my father, if the childe [ be ] not with me, but lesse I would see the euil that shal come on my father?

CHAP. XLV.

1 Ioseph maketh him self knowne to his brethren, & he sheweth that all was done by Gods prouidence. 18 Pharaoh commaundeth him to sende for his father. 24 Ioseph exhorteth his brethren to concord. 27 Yaakov reioyseth.

Then Ioseph coulde not refraine himselfe before all that stoode by him, but hee cried, * Haue Iorh euery man from me. And there taried not one with him, while Ioseph bitered himselfe vnto his brethren.

2 And he wept and cried, [ so ] that the Egyptians heard: the house of Pharaoh heard also.

3 Then Ioseph said to his brethren,
I am Ioseph: doeth my father yet liue?
But his brethren could not answer him,
for they were astonished at his presence.

4 Againe Ioseph said to his brethren, Come nere, I pray you, to me. And they came neere. And he said, * I am Ioseph your brother, whom ye sold into Egypt.

5 Now therefore be not sad, neither grieved with your selues, that ye solde me hither: * for God did sende me before you for [ your ] preseruacion.

6 For nowe two yeeres of famine

7 Wherefore God sent me before you to preserue your posteritie in this land, & to saue you aliuie by a great deliuerance.

8 Now then you sent not me hither, but God, who hath made mee a father vnto Pharaoh, and Iord of all his house, and ruler throughout al lād of Egypt.

9 Haste you and go by to my father, and tell him, Thus saith thy sonne Jo-all that thou hast.

11 Also I will nourish thee there [ for yet ] remaine [ five ] yeeres of famine ] lest thou perish through pouertie, thou and thy household, and all that thou hast.

12 And behold, your eyes do see, and the eyes of my brother Beniamin, that my mouth speaketh to you.

13 Therefore tell my father of all mine honour in Egypt, and of al that ye haue seene, and make haste, and bring my father hither.

23 Also the sonnes of Dan: Hushim.

24 Also the sonnes of Naphtali: Jahzeel, & Guni, and Jezer, and Shilleim.

25 These are the sonnes of Bilhah, which Laban gaue vnto Rahel his daughter, and the bare these to Jaakob, in all, seuen soules.

26 All the soules, that came with Jaakob into Egypt, which came out of his loines (besides Jaakobs sonnes wifes) [were] in the whole, thre score and six soules.

27 Also the sonnes of Joseph, which were borne him in Egypt, [were] two soules: so that all the soules of the house of Jaakob, which came into Egypt, [are] seutentie.

28 Then he sent Judah before him vnto Joseph, to direct his way vnto Goshen, & they came into p land of Goshen.

29 The Joseph made ready his charer and went vp to Goshen to meete Israel his father, and presented himselfe vnto him and fel on his necke, and wept vpon his necke a good while.

30 And Israel said vnto Joseph, Now let mee die, since I haue seene thy face, [and] that thou art yet aliue.

31 Then Joseph said to his brethren, & to his fathers house, I wil go by & shew Pharaoh, and tel him, My brethren and my fathers house, which were in the land of Canaan, are come vnto me, 32 And the men [are] shepherds, & because they are shepherds, they haue brought their sheepe & their cattel, and all that they haue.

33 And if Pharaoh shall call you, and aske you, what is your trade:

34 Then ye shall say, Thy seruants are men occupied about cattell, from our childehoode euē vnto this time, both we and our fathers: that yee may dwell in the lande of Goshen: for euerie sheepe keeper is an abomination vnto the Egyptians.

Then came Joseph and tolde Pharaoh, and saide, My father, and my brethren, & their sheepe, and their cattel, and all that they haue, are come out of the land of Canaan, and beholde, they are in the land of Goshen.

2 And Joseph tooke part of his brethren, [euē] his fine men, and presented them vnto Pharaoh.

3 Then Pharaoh saide vnto his brethren, what is your trade: And they answered Pharaoh, Thy seruants [are] shepherdes, both we and our fathers.

4 They saide moreover vnto Pharaoh, For to sojourn in the land are we come: for thy seruants haue no pasture for [their] sheepe, sofore is the famine in the land of Canaan. Now therefore, we pray thee, let thy seruants dwell in the land of Goshen.

5 Then spake Pharaoh to Joseph, saying, Thy father and thy brethren are come vnto thee.

6 The land of Egypt is before thee: in the best place of the land make thy father and thy brethren dwell: let them dwell in the land of Goshen: and if thou knowest that there bee men of activitie among them, make them rulers ouer my cattell.

7 Joseph also brought Jaakob his father, & let him before Pharaoh. And Jaakob saluted Pharaoh.

8 Then Pharaoh said vnto Jaakob, Howe olde art thou?

9 And Jaakob said vnto Pharaoh, The whole time of my pilgrimage [is] an hundred and thirtie yeres: few and euill haue the dayes of my life bene, and I haue not attained vnto the yeres of the life of my fathers, in the dayes of their pilgrimages.

in the lande of Egypt, in the best of the land euen in the land of Rameses, as Pharaoh had commanded.

12 And Ioseph nourished his father, & his brethren, & all his fathers household with bread, euen to the yong children.

13 ¶ Nowe there was no bread in all the land: for the famine was exceeding sore: so that the land of Egypt, and the land of Canaan were famished by reason of the famine.

14 And Ioseph gathered all the money, that was found in y land of Egypt, and in the land of Canaan, for the corne which they bought, and Ioseph layde by the money in Pharaohs house.

15 So When money failed in the land of Egypt, & in the land of Canaan, then all the Egyptians came vnto Ioseph, & said, Give vs bread: for why should we die before thee: for our money is spent.

16 Then said Ioseph, Bring your cattell, and I will giue you for your cattell, if [your] money be spent.

17 So they brought their cattell vnto Ioseph, and Ioseph gaue them bread for the horses, & for the flockes of sheepe, and for the hearbes of cattell, and for the asses: so he fed them with bread for all their cattell that yere.

18 But whē the yere was ended, they came vnto him the next yere, and saide vnto him, We will not hide frō my lord, that since our money is spent, and my lord hath the hearbes of the cattell, there is nothing left in the sight of my lord, but our bodies and our ground.

19 Why shall wee perish in thy sight, both we, and our land: bye vs and our land for bread, and we and our land will be bond to Pharaoh: therefore giue vs seede, that we may liue and not die, and that the land go not to waste.

20 So Ioseph bought all the land of Egypt for Pharaoh: for the Egyptians sold euery man his ground because the famine was sore vpon them: so the land became Pharaohs.

21 And he remoued the people vnto the cities, from one side of Egypt euen to the other.

22 Onely the land of y Priests bought he not: for the Priests had an ordinarie of Pharaoh, and they did eate their ordinarie, which Pharaoh gaue them: wherefore they sold not their ground.

23 Then Ioseph said vnto the people, Behold, I haue bought you this day, & your land for Pharaoh: lo, [there is] seed for you: so lve therefore the ground.

24 And of the increase ye shall giue the fift part vnto Pharaoh, and foure parts shall be yours for the seed of the field, and for your meate, & for them of your householdes, and for your children to eate.

25 Then they answered, Thou hast saued our liues: let vs finde grace in the sight of my lord, & we will be Pharaohs seruants.

26 Then Ioseph made it a law ouer the lande of Egypt vnto this day, that Pharaoh should haue the fift part: except the land of the priests onely, which was not Pharaohs.

27 And Israel dwelt in the land of Egypt, in the country of Goshen: and they had their possessions therein, and grew and multiplied exceedingly.

28 Moreover, Iaa. kob liued in the land of Egypt seenteene yeeres, so that the whole age of Iaa. kob was an hundredth fourtie and seven yeere.

29 Now when the time drew neere that Israel must die, he called his sonne Ioseph, and saide vnto him, If I haue now found grace in thy sight, put mine hand vnder my thigh, & deale mercifully and truly with me: bury me not, I pray thee, in Egypt.

30 But when I shall sleepe with my fathers, thou shalt carie mee out of Egypt, and burie me in their buriall. And he answered, I will do as thou hast said.

31 Then he saide, Swear vnto mee. And hee sware vnto him. And Israel worshipped toward the beds head.

20 So he blessed them that day, and laide, In thee Israel shall bleſſe, and say, God make thee as Ephraim and as Danasseh, and hee let Ephraim be fore Danasseh.

21 Then Israel laide vnto Ioseph, Beholde, I die, and God shall be with you, and bring you againe vnto the land of your fathers.

punished them not according to their deserts, but dealt with them in great mercies, and euer with new benefites laboured to ouercome their malice: for he still gouerned them and gaue them his word and Lawe, both concerning the maner of seruing him, and also the forme of iudgements and ciuill policie: to the intent that they should not serue God after their owne inuentions, but according to that order, which his heavenly wisdom had appointed.

CHAP. I.

2 The children of Iacob that came into Egypt. 3 The newe Pharaoh oppresseth them. 12 The promise of God to haue them. 15 The Kings commandment to the midwives. 22 The sonnes of the Egyptians are commanded to be cast into the riuer.

Gen. 46.8. a Moses describeth the wonderfull order that God obserueth in performing his promises to Abraham, Gen. 15.14.

NOWE * these are the names of the children of Israel, which came into Egypt (euery man & his household came) together (with Iacob)

2 Reuben, Simeon, Leui, & Iudah, 3 Issachar, Zebulun, and Benjamin, 4 Dan, and Naphtali, Gad, & Acher. 5 So all the soules, that came out of the loynes of Iacob, were * seuentie soules: Ioseph was in Egypt alreadie.

6 Now Ioseph died and all his brethren, and that whole generation.

7 ¶ And the children of Israel brought forth fruit and increased in abundance, and were multiplied, & were exceeding mightie, so that the land was full of them.

8 Then there rose vp a new King in Egypt, who knew not Ioseph.

9 And he said vnto his people, Behold, the people of the children of Israel are greater and mightier then we.

10 Come, let vs worke wisely with them, lest they multiply, and it come to passe, that if there be warre, they toyne themselves also vnto our enemies, and fight against vs, and <sup>d</sup> get them out of the land.

11 Therefore did they set taskmasters ouer them, to keepe them vnder with burdens: and they built the cities Pithom and Raames for the treasures of Pharaoh.

12 But the more they bered them, the more they multiplied and grew: therefore they were more grieved against the children of Israel.

13 Wherefore the Egyptians by crueltie caused the children of Israel to serue.

14 Thus they made them wearie of their liues by fore labour in clay and in bricke, and in all worke in the field, with all maner of bondage, * which they layd vpon them most cruelly.

15 ¶ Moreover the king of Egypt commanded the midwives of the Ebrew women, (of which) ones name was <sup>f</sup> Shiphrah,

& the name of the other Puah)

16 And said, * When ye do the office of a midwife to the wombe of the Ebrewes and see them on their stooles, if it be a sonne, then ye shall kill him: but if it be a daughter, then let her liue.

17 Notwithstanding the midwives feared God, and did not as the king of Egypt commanded them, but preferred aloue the men children.

18 Then the king of Egypt called for the midwives, & said vnto them, Why haue ye done thus, and haue preferred aloue the men children?

19 And the midwives answered Pharaoh, Because the Ebrew wombe are not as the women of Egypt: for they are liuely, & are deliuered yer the midwife come at them.

20 God therefore prospered the midwives, and the people multiplied & were very mightie.

21 And because the midwives feared God, therefore he made them houses.

22 Then Pharaoh charged all his people, saying, Every man child that is borne, cast ye into the riuer, but reserve euery made child aloue.

CHAP. II.

4 Now his sister stood a farre off, to wit what would come of him.

5 ¶ Then the daughter of Pharaoh came down to wash her in the riuer, and her maidens walked by the riuers side: and when shee saue the arke among the bulrushes, she sent her maid to fetch it.

7 Then said his sister vnto Pharaohs daughter, Shall I go and cal vnto thee a nurce of the Ebrewen women to nurce the childe?

9 To whome Pharaohs daughter saide, take this childe away, and nurce it for me, and I will reward thee. The woman tooke the childe and nurced him.

10 Nowe the childe greiue, and thee brought him vnto Pharaohs daughter, and he was as her sonne, and she called his name Moses, because, saide she, I dzeiue him out of the water.

11 And in those dayes, when Moses was growen, he went forth vnto his brethren, and looked on their burdens: also he saue an Egyptian smiting an Ebrewen one of his brethren.

12 And he looked rounde about, and when he saw no man, he sleiue <sup>h</sup> Egyptian, and hid him in the sande.

13 Againe he came forth <sup>h</sup> second day, and behold, two Ebrewes stroue: and he said vnto him that did <sup>h</sup> wrong, wherefore smitest thou thy fellowe?

14 And he answered, who made thee a man of authoritie and a iudge ouer vs? Thinkest thou to kill me, as thou killest the Egyptian? Then Moses <sup>h</sup> feared and sayde, Certainly this thing is knowen.

15 Nowe Pharaoh heard this matter, and sought to slay Moses: therefore Moses fled from Pharaoh, and dwelt in the lande of Midian, & he late downe by a well.

16 And the Priest of Midian had seven daughters, which came and dzeiue water, and filled the troughs, for to water their fathers sheepe.

17 Then the shepheardes came and droue them away: but Moses rose vp and <sup>h</sup> defended them, and watered their sheepe.

18 And whē they came to Kenel their father, hee sayde, howe are yet come so soone to day?

19 And they said, A man of Egypt deliuered vs from the hande of the shepheardes, & also dzeiue vs water pnowgh, and watered the sheepe.

20 Then hee sayde vnto his daughters, And where is he? why haue ye so left the man? call him that he may eat bread.

21 And Moses agreed to dwell with the man: who gaue vnto Moses Zipporah his daughter:

22 And she bare a sone, whose name he called Gershom: for he saide, I haue bene a stranger in a strange land.

23 Then in proceſſe of time, the King of Egypt dyed, and the children of Israel lighted for the bondage and cryed: and their crie for the bondage came vnto God.

24 Then God heard their mone, & God remembred his couenant with Abraham, Ishak, and Jaakob.

25 So God looked vpon the children of Israel, and God had respect vnto them.

CHAP. IJ.

1 Moses keepeth sheepe, and God appeareth vnto him in a bulche. 10 He sendeth him to deliuer the children of Israel. 14 The name of God. 16 God teacheth him what to doe.

Then Moses kept the sheepe of Jetho his father in lawe, Priest of Midian, and droue the flocke to the backside of the desert, and came to the Mountaine of God, Horeb.

2 Then the Angell of the Lorde appeared vnto him in a flame of fire, out of the middes of a bush: and he looked, and beholde, the bush burned with fire, and the bush was not consumed.

3 Therefore Moses sayde, I will turne aside nowe, & see this great sight, why the bush burneth not.

4 And when the Lorde sawe that he turned aside to see, God called vnto him out of the middes of the bush, and saide, Moses, Moses. And he answered, I am here.

5 Then he sayde, Come not hither, put thy shooes off thy feete: for the place whereon thou standest is holye grounde.

6 Moreover he sayd, I am the God of thy father, the God of Abraham, the God of Ishak, & the God of Jaakob. Then Moses hid his face: for he was afraid to looke vpon God.

7 Then the Lorde saide, I haue surely seene the trouble of my people, which are in Egypt, & I haue heard their crie, because of their taskemasters: for I knowe their sorowes.

8 Therefore I am come downe to deliuer them out of the hande of the Egyptians, and to bring them out of that lande into a good lande and a large, into a land that floweth with milke and honie, [even] into <sup>h</sup> place of Canaanites, and

10 ¶ But Moses said vnto the Lord, Oh my Lord, I am not eloquent, neither at any time [haue bene,] nor yet since thou hast spoken vnto thy seruant: but I am slowe of speach and slowe of tongue.

11 Then the Lord said vnto him, who hath giuen the mouth to man: or who hath made the deaffe, or the blinde, or him that seeth, or the blinde, haue not I the Lord?

12 Therefore go now, and * I will be with thy mouth, and will teach thee what thou shalt say.

13 But he sayd, Oh my Lord, sende, I pray thee by the hand [of him], who thou shouldst send.

14 Then the Lord was very angry with Moses, and sayd, Do not I know Aaron thy brother the Leuite, that hee himselfe shall speake: for lo, he cometh also forth to mee thee, and when he seeth thee, he will be glad in his heart.

15 Therefore thou shalt speake vnto him, and I will put the wordes in his mouth, and I will be with thy mouth, and with his mouth, and will teach you what ye ought to do.

22 Then thou shalt say to Pharaoh, Thus sayeth the Lord, Israel [is] my sonne, [eu]en my first borne.

23 Wherefore I say to thee, Let my sonne goe, that he may serue me: if thou refuse to let him goe, behold, I will slay thy sonne, [eu]en thy first borne.

24 ¶ And as he was by the way in the ynnie, the Lord met him, and would haue killed him.

25 Then Zipporah tooke a sharpe knife, & cut away the foreskinne of her sonne, & cast it at his feete, & saide, Thou [art] in deed a bloody husband vnto me.

26 So he departed from him. Then she said, O bloodie husbando (because of the circumcision.)

27 ¶ Then the Lord sayd vnto Aaron, Goe meete Moses in the wilderness. And he went and met him in the Mount of God, and kissed him.

28 Then Moses tolde Aaron all the wordes of the Lord, who had sent him, and all the signes wherewith hee had charged him.

29 ¶ So went Moses and Aaron, and gathered all the Elders of the children of Israel.

8 And the Lord had spoken vnto Moses and Aaron, saying,

9 If Pharaoh speake vnto you, saying, Shew a miracle for you, then thou shalt say vnto Aaron, Take thy rod, & cast it before Pharaoh, [and] it shalbe [turned into a] serpent.

10 Then went Moses & Aaron vnto Pharaoh, & did euen as the Lord had commanded: & Aaron cast forth his rod before Pharaoh & before his seruants, & it was turned into a serpent.

12 For they call down euery man his rod, & they were [turned] into serpents: but Aarons rod deuoured their rods.

13 So Pharaohs heart was hardened, and he hearkened not to them, as the Lord had said.

14 The Lord then said vnto Moses, Pharaohs heart is obstinate, hee refuseth to let the people go.

15 So vnto Pharaoh in the morning, (so he will come forth vnto the water) & thou shalt stand and meete him by the riuers brynke, and the rod, which was turned into a serpent, shalt thou take in thine hand.

16 And thou shalt say vnto him, The Lord God of the Cherevies hath sent me vnto thee, saying, Let my people goe, that they may serue mee in the wilderness: and beholde, hitherto thou wouldest not heare.

17 Thus saith the Lord, In this thou shalt know that I am the Lord: behold, I will smite with the rod that is in mine hand vpon the water that is in y<sup>e</sup> riuier, and it shall be turned to blood.

18 And the fish that is in the riuier shall die, and the riuier shal stinke, and it shall grieue the Egyptians to drinke of the water of the riuier.

19 The Lord then spake to Moses, Say vnto Aar<sup>o</sup>, Take thy rod, & stretch out thine had ouer the waters of Egypt, ouer their Treanies, ouer their riuers, & ouer their pondes, and ouer al pooles of their waters, and they shalbe blood, & there shalbe blood throughout all the lād of Egypt, both in [vessels] of wood, and of stone.

20 So Moses & Aaron did euen as y<sup>e</sup> Lord comanded: & he lift vp the rod, & smote the water that was in the riuier in the sight of Pharaoh, & in y<sup>e</sup> sight of his seruants: and at the water that was in the riuier, was turned into blood.

21 And the fish that was in the riuier died, and the riuier stanke: so that the Egyptians could not drinke of the water of the riuier: and there was blood throughout all the land of Egypt.

22 And the encharers of Egypt did likewise with their sozeries: and the heart of Pharaoh was hardened: so that he did not hearken vnto them, as the Lord had said.

23 Then Pharaoh returned, & went againe into his house, neither did this yet enter into his heart.

24 All the Egyptians then digged round about the riuier [for] waters to drinke: for they could not drinke of the water of the riuier.

14 For I wil at this time send all my plagues vpon thine heart, and vpon thy seruants, and vpon thy people, that thou mayest knowe that there is none like me in all the earth.

15 For nowe I will stretch out mine hand, that I may smite thee and thy people with y pestilence: and thou shalt perish from the earth.

16 And in dede, for this cause haue I appointed thee, to shewe my power in thee, & to declare my Name throughout all the world.

17 Yet thou exaltest thy selfe against my people, and lettest them not goe.

18 Behold, to morow this time I wil cause to raine a mightie great haile, such as was not in Egypt since the foundation thereof was layd vnto this time.

19 Send therefore now, [and] gather thy cattell, and all that thou hast in the field: for vpon all the men, & the beasts, which are found in the field, and not brought home, the haile shall fall vpon them and they shal die.

20 Such then as feared the word of the Lord among the seruants of Pharaoh, made his seruants and his cattell flee into the houses:

21 But such as regarded not the worde of the Lord, left his seruants, and his cattell in the field.

22 And the Lord sayd to Moses, Stretch forth thine hand toward heauen, that there may be haile in all the land of Egypt, vpon man, & vpon beast, and vpon all the herbes of the field in the land of Egypt.

23 Then Moses stretched out his rod toward heauen, and the Lord sent thunder and haile, and lightning vpon the ground: and the Lord caused haile to raine vpon the land of Egypt.

24 So there was haile, & fire mingled with the haile, so greivous, as there was none throughout all the land of Egypt, since it was a nation.

25 And the haile smote throughout all the land of Egypt all that was in the field, both man and beast: also the haile smote all the herbes of the field, & brake to pieces all the trees of the field.

26 Only in the land of Goshen (where the children of Israel were) was no haile.

27 Then Pharaoh sent and called for Moses & Aaron, and sayd vnto them, I haue now sinned: the Lord is righteous, but I and my people are wicked.

28 Praye vnto the Lord (for it is ynough) that there be no more mightie thunders and haile, and I will let you go, of God.

29 Then Moses sayde vnto him, As soone as I am out of the cite, I will spread mine hands vnto the Lord, and the thunder shall cease, neither shall there bee any more haile, that thou mayest knowe that the earth is the Lords.

30 As for thee and thy seruants, I know<sup>h</sup> above: I pray ye wil feare before the face of the Lord God.

31 (And the flaxe, and the barley were smitten: for the barley was eared, and the flaxe was bolled.)

32 But the wheate and the rye were not smitten, for they were hid in the ground.

33 Then Moses went out of the cite from Pharaoh, & spred his hands to the Lord, and the thunder & the haile ceased, neither rained it vpon the earth.

34 And when Pharaoh saw that the raine and the haile & the thunder were ceased, he sinned againe, and hardened his heart, both he, and his seruants.

35 So the heart of Pharaoh was hardened: neither would he let the children of Israel go, as the Lord had sayd by Moses.

Chap. 4. 21.

Gaine the Lord sayde vnto Moses, Go to Pharaoh: for I haue hardened his heart, and the heart of his seruants, that I might worke these my miracles in the middes of his realme.

|| Or, in his presence, or among them.

2 And that thou mayest declare in the eares of thy sonne, and of thy sonnes sonne, what things I haue done in Egypt, and my miracles, which I haue done among them: that ye may knowe that I am the Lord.

a The miracles should be so great, that they should be spoken of for euer, where as to we see the dutie of poemes toward their children.

3 Then came Moses and Aaron vnto Pharaoh, and they sayde vnto him, Thus saith the Lord God of the Ebreiues, Howe long wilt thou refuse to humble thy selfe before me? Let my people go, that they may serue me.

b The embe of afflictions is, to humble our selues with true repentance vnder the hand of God.

Wald. 1. 6. 9.

4 But if thou refuse to let my people goe, beholde, to morowe will I bring *grashoppers into thy coastes.

5 And they shall couer the face of the earth, that a man can not see the earth: and they shall eate the residue which remaineth vnto you, & hath escaped from the haile: and they shall eate all your trees that bud in the fildes.

6 And they shall fill thine houses, and all thy seruants houses, and the houses of all the Egyptians, as neither thy fathers, nor thy fathers fathers haue seene, since the time they were vpon the earth vnto this day. So he returned, and went out from Pharaoh.

7 Then Pharaohs seruants sayde vnto him, How long shall he be | an offence vnto vs: let the men goe, that they may serue the Lord their God: wilt thou first know that Egypt is destroyed?

c Spanning, the occasion of all these cruelties: so are the godly euer charged, as Elias was by Achab.

8 So Moses & Aaron were brought againe vnto Pharaoh, and he sayde to them, Go serue the Lord your God, but who are they that shall goe?

9 And Moses answered, We wil goe with our yong and with our olde, with our sonnes & with our daughters, with our sheepe and with our cattell will we goe: for we | must celebrate a feast vnto the Lord.

10 And he sayd vnto them, Let the Lord so be with you, as I wil let you go and your children: beholde, for euill is before your face.

d That is, I would the Lord were no more affectioned toward you, then I am minded to let you go.

11 [It shall not be] so: nothe goe ye [that are] men, & serue the Lord: for that was your desire. Then they were thrust out from Pharaohs presence.

e Punishment is prepared for you, some reade, &e inuincible mischiefe.

12 ¶ After, the Lord sayd vnto Moses, Stretch out thine hand vpon the land of Egypt for the grashoppers, that they may come vpon the land of Egypt, and eat all the herbes of the land, [euen] all that the haile hath left.

13 Then Moses stretched forth his rod vpon the land of Egypt: and the Lord brought an East winde vpon the land all that day, and all that night: and in the morning, the East winde brought the grashoppers.

14 So the grashoppers went by vpon all the land of Egypt, and remained in all quarters of Egypt: so grievous grashoppers, like to these were neuer before, neither after them shalbe such.

|| Or, he caused them to remaine.

15 For they couered all the face of the earth, so that the land was darke: and they did eate all the herbes of the land, and all the fruites of the trees, which the haile had left, so that there was no greene thing left vpon the trees, nor among the herbes of the fildes throughout all the land of Egypt.

16 Therfore Pharaoh called for Moses and Aaron in haste, and said, I haue sinned against the Lord your God, and against you,

f The wicked in their miserie seek to Gods ministers for helpe, albeit they hate and detest them.

17 And

17 And now forgive me my sinne once by this once, and pray vnto the Lord your God, that he may take away from me this death onely.

18 [Moses] then went out from Pharaoh, and prayed vnto the Lord.

19 And the Lord turned a mightie strong west winde, and tooke away the grasshoppers, and violently cast them into the red Sea, [so that there remained not one grasshopper in all the coast of Egypt.

20 But the Lord hardened Pharaohs heart, and he did not let the children of Israel goe.

21 [Again] the Lord said vnto Moses, Stretch out thine hand toward heaven, that there may be vpon the land of Egypt darknesse, euen darknesse that may be felt.

22 Then Moses stretched forth his hand toward heaven, and there was a blacke darknesse in all the land of Egypt three dayes.

23 No man saw another, neither rose by from the place where he was [for] three dayes: but all the children of Israel had light where they dwelt.

24 Then Pharaoh called for Moses and said, So, serue the Lord: onely your sheepe and your cattel shall abide, & your children shall go with you.

25 And Moses said, Thou must giue vs also sacrifices, and burnt offerings that we may doe [sacrifice] vnto the Lord our God.

26 Therefore our cattel also shall go with vs: there shall not an hoofe be left, for thereof must we take to serue the Lord our God: neither doe we knowe how we shall serue the Lord, vntill we come thither.

27 [But] the Lord hardened Pharaohs heart, and he would not let them go.

28 And Pharaoh sayd vnto him, Get thee from me: looke thou see my face no more: for whensoever thou comest in my sight, thou shalt die.

29 Then Moses said, Thou hast said well: from henceforth wilt I see thy face no more.

CHAP. XI.

1 God promisseth their departure. 2 He willeth them to knowe their neighbours iewels. 3 Moses was esteemed of all since Pharaoh. 4 He signified the death of the first borne.

NOW the Lord had sayd vnto Moses, Yet will I bring one plague more vpon Pharaoh, and vpon Egypt: after that, he will let you go hence:

when he letteth you go, he shall at once chase you hence.

2 Speake thou now to the people, that euery man require of his neighbour, & euery woman of her neighbour iewels of silver and iewels of golde.

3 And the Lord gaue the people fauour in the sight of the Egyptians: also Moses [was] very great in the land of Egypt, in the sight of Pharaohs seruants, and in the sight of the people.

4 Also Moses sayd, Thus saith the Lord, About midnigh will I goe out into the muddes of Egypt.

5 And all the first borne in the land of Egypt shall die, from the first borne of Pharaoh that sitteth on his throne, vnto the first borne of the maide seruant, that is at the mill, and all the first borne of beastes.

6 Then there shall be a great crye throughout all the land of Egypt, such as was neuer none like, nor shall be.

7 But against none of the children of Israel shall a dogge moue his tongue, neither against man nor beast, that ye may know that the Lord putteth a difference betwene the Egyptians & Israel.

8 And all these thy seruants shall come downe vnto me, and fall before me, saying, Get thee out, and all the people that are at thy feet, and after this wilt I depart. So he went out from Pharaoh verie angrie.

9 And the Lord sayde vnto Moses, Pharaoh shall not heare you, that my wonders may be multiplied in the land of Egypt.

10 So Moses and Aaron did all these wonders before Pharaoh: but the Lord hardened Pharaohs heart, and he suffered not the children of Israel to goe out of his land.

11 And thus ſhall ye eate it, Your loynes girded, your ſhoes on your feete, and your ſtaues in your handes, and ye ſhall eat it in haſte: [for] it is the Lords Paſſeouer.

12 For I will paſſe through the land of Egypt the ſame night, and will ſmite all the firſt borne in the lande of Egypt, both man and beaſt, and I will execute iudgement vpon all the gods of Egypt. I am the Lord.

13 And the blood ſhalbe a token for you vpon the houſes where ye are: ſo when I ſee the blood, I will paſſe over you, and the plague ſhall not be vpon you to deſtruction, when I ſmite the lande of Egypt.

14 And this day ſhalbe vnto you a remembrance: and ye ſhall keepe it an holy feaſt vnto the Lord, throughout your generations: ye ſhall keepe it holy by an ordinance for euer.

15 Seuen dayes ſhall ye eat vbleauened bread, and in any caſe ye ſhall put away leauen the firſt day out of your houſes: for whoſoeuer eateth leauened bread from the firſt day vntill the ſeuenth day, that perſon ſhall be cut off from Iſrael.

16 And in the firſt day ſhalbe an holy aſſembly: alſo in the ſeuenth day ſhall be an holy aſſembly vnto you: no worke ſhall be done in them, ſaue about that which every man muſt eate: that onely may ye do.

17 Ye ſhall keepe alſo [the feaſt] of vbleauened bread: for that ſame day I will bring your armies out of the lande of Egypt: therefore ye ſhall obſerue this day, throughout your poſteritie, by an ordinance for euer.

18 ¶ In the firſt moneth and the fourteenth day of the moneth at euen, ye ſhall eate vbleauened bread vnto the one and twentieth day of the moneth at euen.

19 Seuen dayes ſhall no leauen be found in your houſes: for whoſoeuer eateth leauened bread, that perſon ſhall be cut off from the Congregation of Iſrael: whether he be a ſtranger, or borne in the land.

20 Ye ſhall eate no leauened bread: [but] in all your habitations ſhall ye eate vbleauened bread.

21 ¶ Then Moſes called all the Elders of Iſrael, & ſaid vnto them, Choole out & take you for [euery] of your houſholdes a lambe, and kill the Paſſeouer.

22 And take a bunch of hyſſop, and dip it in the blood that is in the baſen, and ſtrike the lintel, and the doore cheekes with the blood that is in the baſen, and let none of you go out at the doore of his houſe, vntill the morning.

23 For the Lord will paſſe by to ſmite the Egyptians: and when hee ſeeth the blood vpon the lintel and on the two doore cheekes, the Lord will paſſe over the doore, and will not ſuffer the deſtroyer to come into your houſes to plague you.

24 Therefore ſhall ye obſerue this thing as an ordinance [both] for thee and thy ſonnes for euer.

25 And when ye ſhall come into the land, which the Lord will giue you, as he hath promiſed, then ye ſhall keepe this ſeruite.

26 ¶ And when your children aſke you, what ſeruite is this ye keepe?

27 Then ye ſhall ſay, It is the ſacrifice of the Lords Paſſeouer, which paſſed over the houſes of the children of Iſrael in Egypt, when he ſmote the Egyptians, and preſerued our houſes. Then the people bowed themſelues, and worſhipped.

29 Now at * midnight, the Lorde * smote all the first borne in the lande of Egypt, from the first borne of Pharaoh that sat on his throne, vnto the * first borne of the captiue that was in prison, and all the first borne of beastes.

30 And Pharaoh rose vp in the night, he, and all his seruants and all the Egyptians: and there was a great crye in Egypt: for there [was] ° no house where there [was] not one dead.

31 And he called to Moses and to Aaron by night, and saide, Rise vp, get you out from among my people, both ye, and the children of Israel, and goe serue the Lord as ye haue said.

32 Take also your sheepe and your cattell as ye haue saide, and depart, and I blesse me also.

33 And the Egyptians did force the people, because they would sende them out of the lande in haste: for they sayde, we die all.

34 Therefore the people tooke their dough before it was leauened, [euen] their dough bound in clothes vpon their shoulders.

35 And the children of Israel did according to the saying of Moses, and they alked of the Egyptians * ieruels of siluer and ieruels of golde, and raiment.

36 And the Lorde gaue the people fa-uour in the sight of the Egyptians: and they granted their request: so they spoled the Egyptians.

37 Then the * children of Israel tooke their iourney from * Rameses to Suecoth about fixe hundredth thousande men of foote, beside children.

38 And * a great multitude of sundrie sorts of people went out with them, and sheepe, and beecues, [and] cattell in great abundance.

39 And they baked the dough which they brought out of Egypt, [and made] unleuened cakes: for it was not leaue-ned, because they were thrust out of Egypt, neither coulde they tarie, nor yet prepare themselves vitayles.

40 So the dwelling of the children of Israel, while they dwelled in Egypt, [was] * foure hundredth & thirtie yerres.

41 And when the * foure hundredth and thirtie yerres were expired, euen the selfe same day departed all the hostes of the Lord out of the land of Egypt.

42 It [is] a night to be kept [holy] to the Lord, because hee brought them out of the lande of Egypt: this is that night of the Lorde, which all the children of Israel must keepe throughout their generations.

43 Also the Lorde saide vnto Moses and Aaron, This is the Lawe of the Passouer: ° no stranger shal eat thereof.

44 But euery seruant that is bought for money, when thou hast circumcised him, then shall hee eat thereof.

45 A stranger or an hyrced seruant shall not eat thereof.

46 * In one house shall it be eaten: ° thou shalt carrie none of the flesh out of the house, neither shall ye breake a bone thereof.

47 All the Congregation of Israel shall obserue it.

48 But if a stranger dwel with thee, and will obserue the Passouer of the Lorde, let him circumcise all the males, that belong vnto him, and then let him come and obserue it, & hee shalbe as one that is borne in the land: for none unciruncised person shall eat thereof.

49 One ° lawe shalbe to him that is borne in the lande, and to the stranger that dwelleth among you.

50 Then all the children of Israel did as the Lorde commaunded Moses and

14 And when thy sonne shall aske thee || to morowe, saying, what is this: thou shalt then saye vnto him, with a nightie hand the Lord brought vs out of Egypt, out of the house of bondage.

15 For when Pharaoh was harde hearted against our departing, the Lord then slew all the first borne in the land of Egypt: from the first borne of man euen to the first borne of beaſt: therefore I sac- rifice vnto the Lord all the males that [first] open the wombe, but all the first borne of my sonnes I redeeme.

16 And it shalbe as a token vpon thine hande, and as frontiers betwene thine eyes, that the Lord brought vs out of Egypt by a nightie hand.

17 And when Pharaoh had let the people goe, God caried them not by the way of the Philistines country, though it were nearer: (for God said, Lest the people repent when they see warre, and turne againe to Egypt)

18 But God made the people to go about by the way of the wilderness of the red sea: and the children of Israel went by armed out of the land of Egypt.

19 (And Moses tooke bones of Joseph with him: for he had made the chil- dren of Israel sweare, saying, * God will surely visite you, and ye shall take my bones alway hence with you)

20 * So they tooke their iourney from Succoth, and camped in Etham in the edge of the wilderness.

21 And the Lord went before them by day in a pillar of a cloud to lead them the way, and by night in a pillar of fire to giue them light, that they might goe both by day and by night.

22 Hee tooke not away the pillar of the cloud by day, nor the pillar of fire by night from before the people.

4. 8 Pharaohs heart is hardened, and pursueth the Israelites, 11 The Israelites stricken with seare murmure against Mo- ses, 13 Moses doeth encourage them, 21 Hee denieth the Sea, 23, 27 The Egyptians follow and are drowned.

Then the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

2 Speak to the children of Israel, that they returne and campe before Pi-hahiroth, betwene Migdol and the Sea, ouer against Wa- al-zephon: about it shall ye campe by the Sea.

3 For Pharaoh will say of the chil- dren of Israel, They are tangled in the land: the wilderness hath shut them in.

4 And I will harde Pharaohs heart that hee shall follow after you: so I will get mee honour vpon Pharaoh, and vpon all his hoste: the Egyptians also shall knowe that I am the Lord: and they did so.

5 Then it was tolde the King of Egypt, that people fled: and the heart of Pharaoh and of his seruantes was turned against the people, and they said, why haue we this done, & haue let Israel go out of our seruice?

6 And hee made readie his charets, and tooke his people with him,

7 And tooke sixe hundred chosen cha- rets, and all the charets of Egypt, and captaines ouer euery one of them.

10 And when Pharaoh ſaw this, he ſaid vnto his ſeruaunts, Behold, the children of Iſrael liſt by their eyes, & be- hold, the Egyptians marched after them, and they were ſore afraid: wherefore the children of Iſrael cryed vnto the Lord.

f They, which a little before in their deli- uerance reſpiced, being now in danger are aſ- fraide, & mur- mure.

In this figure ſour chief points are to be con- ſidered. Firſt, that the Church of God is ever ſub- iect in this world to the Croſſe, and to be afflicted after one ſort or other. The ſecond, that the mi- niſters of God following their vocation ſhall be euill ſpoken of, and murmured againſt, & euen of them that pretend the ſame cauſe and religion that they doe. The third, that God deliuereth not his Church incontinently out of dangers, but to exerciſe their faith and patience continually their trouble, yea and oftentimes augmenteth them: as the Iſraelites were now in ſuch hope of their liues, then when they were in Egypt. The fourth point is, that when the dangers are moſt great, then Gods helpe is moſt ready to ſuccour: for the Iſraelites had on either ſide them huge rocks and mountains, beſide them the Sea be- hind them moſt cruel enemies, ſo that there was no way left to eſcape to mans iudgement.

11 And they ſayde vnto Moſes, haſt thou brought vs to die in the wildernes, becauſe there were no graues in Egypt: wherefore haſt thou ſerued vs thus, to taria vs out of Egypt?

g Such is the impatience of the fleſh, that it cannot abide Gods appointed time.

12 Did not we tell thee this thing in Egypt, ſaying, Let vs be in reſt, that we may ſerue the Egyptians: for it had bene better for vs to ſerue the Egyptians, then that we ſhould die in the wildernes.

h Or, delinea- tance.

13 Then Moſes ſayde to the people, Feare ye not, ſtand ſtill, and behold the ſaluation of the Lord which hee will ſhew to you this day. For the Egyptians, whome ye haue ſeene this day, ye ſhall neuer ſee them againe.

14 The Lord ſhall fight for you: therefore holde you your peace.

i Oneſy put your truſt in God without grudging or doubting.

15 And the Lord ſaid vnto Moſes, wherefore reſt thou vnto me: ſpeake vnto the children of Iſrael that they goe forward:

i Thus in tem- tations faith fighteth a- gainſt the fleſh, and crepeth with inward groanings to the Lord.

16 And liſt thou by thy rod, & ſtretch out thine hand vpon the Sea and de- uide it, and let the children of Iſrael goe on drie ground thorow the muddes of the Sea.

17 And I beholde I will harden the heart of the Egyptians, that they may follow them, and I will get me honour vpon Pharaoh, and vpon all his hoſte, vpon his charrets, & vpon his hoſemen.

18 Then the Egyptians ſhall knowe that I am the Lord, when I haue gotten me honour vpon Pharaoh, vpon his charrets, and vpon his hoſemen.

19 And the Angel of God, which went before the hoſte of Iſrael, remo- ued and went behinde them: alſo the pillar of the cloude went from before them, and ſtoode behinde them, 20 And came betwene the campe of the Egyptians and the campe of Iſrael: it was both a cloude and darkenes, yet gaue it light by night, ſo that all night long the one came not at the other.)

21 And Moſes ſtretched forth his hand vpon the Sea, and the Lord cau- ſed the ſea to run backe by a ſtrong Eaſt winde all the night, & made the Sea drie land: for the waters were deuſed.

22 Then the children of Iſrael went through the mids of the Sea vpon the drie ground, and the waters [were] a wall vnto them on their right hand, and on their left hand.

23 And the Egyptians purſued and went after them to the mids of the Sea, [euen] at Pharaohs hoſtes, his charrets, and his hoſemen.

24 So ſolue in the morning watche, when the Lord looked vnto the hoſte of the Egyptians, out of the fire and clou- die pillar, hee ſtrooke the hoſte of the Egyptians with ſcare.

m Or, heauily.

26 Then the Lord ſaid to Moſes, ſtretch thine hand vpon the Sea, that the waters may returne vpon the Egyptians, vpon their charrets and vpon their hoſemen.

27 Then Moſes ſtretched forth his hand vpon the Sea, and the Sea returne- ned to his force eaſely in the morning, and the Egyptians fled againſt it: but the Lord ouerthrew the Egyptians in the muddes of the Sea.

n So the Lord by the water ſaued his, and by the water drowned his ene- mies.

28 So the water returned and coue- red the charrets & the hoſemen, [euen] all the hoſte of Pharaoh that came into the Sea after them: there remained not one of them.

29 But the children of Iſrael walked vpon drie lande thorow the muddes of the Sea, and the waters [were] a wall vnto them on their right hande, and on their left.

30 Thus the Lord ſaued Iſrael the ſame day out of the hand of the Egyp- tians, and Iſrael ſawe the Egyptians dead vpon the Sea bank.

Then sang Moses and the children of Israel this song vnto the Lord, and saide in this manner. I will sing vnto the Lord: for he hath triumphed gloriously: the horse and him that rode vpon him hath he ouerthrowen in the Sea.

2 The Lord [is] my strength and I praye, and he is become my saluation. he is my God, and I wil prepare him a tabernacle. [he is] my fathers God, and I will exalt him.

3 The Lord [is] a man of warre, his Name [is] Jehouah.

4 Pharaohs charrets and his hoste hath he cast into y Sea: his chosen captaines also were drownded in y red Sea.

5 The depths haue couered them, they sanke to the bottome as a stone.

6 Thy right hand, O Lord, is glorious in powder: thy right hande, O Lord, hath brused the enemye.

7 And in thy great glory thou hast ouerthrowe them that rose against thee: thou sentest forth thy wrath, [which] consumed them as the stubble.

8 And by the blast of thy nootrels the waters were gathered, the floods stood still as an heape, the depths congealed together in the heart of the Sea.

9 The enemye said, I will pursue, I will ouertake them, I will deuide the spoyle, my lust shalbe satisfied vpon them, I will drawe my sword, mine hand shall destroy them.

10 Thou blewest with thy winde, the Sea couered them, they sanke as leade in the nightie waters.

11 who is like vnto thee, O Lord, among the Gods: who is like thee [so] glorious in holines, [so] fearful in power, doing wonders!

12 Thou stretchest out thy right hand, the earth swallowed them.

13 Thou wilt by thy mercie carie this people, [which] thou deliueredst: thou wilt bring them in thy strength vnto thine holy habitation.

14 The people shall heare [and] be a frayde: for soe shall come vpon the inhabitants of Palestina.

amased, and trembling shall come vpon the great men of Moab: all the inhabitants of Canaan shal ware faunt hearted.

17 Thou shalt bring them in, & plant them in the mountaine of thine inheritance, [which is] the place [that] thou hast prepared, O Lord, for to dwell in, [even] the sanctuary, O Lord, [which] thine hands shall establish.

18 The Lord shal reigne for ever and euer.

19 For Pharaohs hostes went with his charrets and horsemen into the Sea, and the Lord brought the waters of the Sea vpon them: but y children of Israel went on drie land in y mids of the Sea.

20 ¶ And Miriam the propheteesse, sister of Aaron tooke a timbrell in her hand, and all the women came out after her with timbrels and daunces.

21 And Miriam answered the men, Sing ye vnto the Lord: for he hath triumphed gloriously: the horse and his rider hath he ouerthrowen in the Sea.

22 Then Moses brought Israel fro the red Sea, and they went out into the wilderness of Shur: and they went three dayes in the wilderness, and found no waters.

23 And when they came to Harah, they could not drinke of the waters of Harah, for they were bitter: therefore the name of y place was called Harah.

24 Then y people murmured against Moses, saying, what shall we drinke?

25 And he cryed vnto the Lord, and the Lord shewed him a tree, [which] when he had cast into the waters, y waters were sweete: there he made them an ordinance and a lawe, and there he proued them,

26 And saide, If thou wilt diligently hearken, O Israel, vnto the voyce of the Lord thy God, & wilt do that [which] is right in his sight, and wilt giue care vnto his commandements, and keepe al his ordinances, then wilt I put none of these diseases vpon thee, [which] I brought vpon y Egyptians: for I [am] the Lord that healeth thee.

1 The Israelites come to the desert of Sin, and murmure against Moses and Aaron. 13 The Lord sendeth quailes and Manna. 23 The Sabbath is sanctified unto the Lord. 27 The turned day Manna could not be founde. 32 It is kept for a remembrance to the posteritie.

Afterward all the Congregation of the children of Israel departed from Elim, & came to the wilderness of Sin, (which is betwene Elim and Sinai) the fiftieth day of the second moneth after their departing out of the land of Egypt.

2 And the whole Congregation of the children of Israel murmured against Moses and against Aaron in the wilderness.

3 For the children of Israel saide to them, Oh that we had died by the hand of the Lord in the land of Egypt, when we fate by the fellys<sup>b</sup> pots, when we ate bread [our] bellies full: for ye haue brought vs out into this wilderness to kill this whole companie with famine.

4 Then saide the Lord vnto Moses, Beholde, I will cause bread to raine from heauen to you, and the people shall go out, and gather: that that is sufficient for euery day, that I may proue them, whether they will walke in my Law or no.

5 But the sixt day they shall prepare that which they shall bring home, and it shall be twise as much as they gather dayly.

6 Then Moses and Aaron said vnto all the children of Israel, At euen ye shall know, that the Lord brought you out of the land of Egypt:

7 And in the morning ye shall see the glorie of the Lord: for he hath heard your grudgings against the Lord: and what are we that ye haue murmured against vs:

8 Againe Moses saide, At euen shall the Lord giue you flesh to eat, & in the morning your fill of bread: for the Lord hath heard your murmurings, which ye murmure against him: for what are we: your murmurings are [not] against vs, but against the Lord.

9 And Moses saide to Aaron, Say vnto all the Congregation of the children of Israel, Draw neere before the Lord: for he hath heard your murmurings.

10 Moses as Aaron spake vnto the whole Congregation of the children of Israel, they looked toward the wilderness, and beholde, the glorie of the Lord appeared in a cloude.

11 (For the Lord had spoken vnto Moses saying,

12 *I haue heard the murmurings of the children of Israel: tel them [therefore,] and say, [At euen ye shall eate flesh, and in the morning ye shall be filled with bread, and ye shall know that I am the Lord your God])

13 And so at euen the quailes came and couered the campe: and in the morning the dew lay round about the hoste.

14 And when the dew that was fallen was ascended, behold, a small round thing [was] vpon the face of the wilderness, small as the hoare frost on the earth.

15 And when the children of Israel sawe it, they saide one to another, It is man, for they wist not what it was. And Moses saide vnto them, *This is the bread which the Lord hath giuen you to eate.

16 This is the thing which the Lord hath commanded: gather of it euery man according to his eating: an Omer for a man, [according to the number of your persons: euery man shall take for them which are in his tent.

17 And the children of Israel did so, and gathered some more, some lesse.

18 And whē they did measure it with an Omer, *he that had gathered much, had nothing ouer, & he that had gathered little, had no lacke: [so] euery man gathered according to his eating.

19 Moses then saide vnto them, Let no man reserue thereof till morning.

20 Notwithstanding they obeyed not Moses: but some of them reserued of it till morning, and it was full of wormes, and stank: therefore Moses was angrie with them.

21 And they gathered it euery morning, euery man according to his eating: for when the heate of the sunne came, it was melted.

22 And the sixt day they gathered twise so much bread, two Omers for one man: then all the rulers of the Congregation came and told Moses.

23 And he answered them, This is that which the Lord hath said, To morrow [is] the rest of the holy Sabbath vnto the Lord: bake that to day which ye will bake, & seethe that which ye will seethe, and all that remaineth, lay it vp to be kept till the morning for you.

24 And they laied it vp till the morning, as Moses bade, and it stank not, neither was there any worme therein.

a This is the right place wherein they had campe: there is another place called Sin, which was the place wherein they camped: and is also called Kadeth, Rom. 32:36.

27 ¶ Notwithstanding, there went out some of the people in the seventh day for to gather, and they found none.

28 And the Lord saide vnto Moses, How long refuse ye to keepe my commandements, and my lawes?

29 Behold, howe & Lord hath giuen you & Sabbath: therefore he giueth you the first day bread for two dayes: tarie [therefore] euery man in his place: let no man go out of his place the seventh day.

1 The Israelites came into Rephidim and grudge for water. 6 Water is giuen them out of the rocke. 11 Moses holdeth by his hands, and they overcome the Amalekites. 15 Moses buildeth an altar to the Lord.

¶ And all the Congregation of the children of Israel departed from & wilderness of Sin, by their iourneys at & commandment of the Lord, and camped in Rephidim, where [was] no water for the people to drinke.

2 * Wherefore the people contended with Moses, and saide, Giue vs water that we may drinke. And Moses saide vnto them, Why contend ye with me? Wherefore doe ye & tempt the Lord?

3 So the people thirsted there for water, and the people murmured against Moses, and saide, Wherefore hast thou thus brought vs out of Egypt to kill vs and our children & our cattell with thirst?

4 And Moses cryed to the Lord, saying, What shall I doe to this people: for they be almost ready to stone me.

5 And the Lord answered to Moses, Go before the people, and take with thee of the Elders of Israel: and thy rod, wherewith thou smotest the river, take in thine hand, and go:

6 Behold, I will stand there before thee vpon the rocke in Horeb, and thou shalt smite on the rocke, and water shall come out of it, that & people may drinke. And Moses did so in the sight of the Elders of Israel.

7 And he called the name of the place, Massah and Meribah, because of the contention of the children of Israel, and because they had tempted the Lord, saying, Is the Lord among vs, or no?

8 ¶ Then came Amalek & fought with Israel in Rephidim.

9 And Moses said to Joshua, Chuse vs out men, and goe fight with Amalek: to morrow I will stand on the top of the hill with the rod of God in mine hand.

10 So Joshua did as Moses bad him, & fought with Amalek: & Moses, Aaron, and hur, went by to the top of the hill.

11 And when Moses held by his hand, Israel prevailed: but when hee let his hand & downe, Amalek prevailed.

12 Now Moses hands were heauie: therefore they tooke a stone and put it vnder him, and hee sate vpon it: and Aaron and hur stayed by his hands, & one on the one side, and & other on the other side: so his hands were steady vntill the going downe of the sunne.

13 And Joshua discomfited Amalek & his people with the edge of the sword.

14 ¶ And the Lord laide to Moses, Write this for a remembrance <sup>h</sup> in the booke, & rehearse it to Joshua: for * I will utterly put out the remembrance of Amalek from vnder heaven.

15 (And Moses built an altar, and called the name of it, Jehovah-nissi)

16 Also hee saide, * The Lord hath sworn, that hee will haue warre with Amalek from generation to generation.

4 And the name of the other [was] Eliezer: for the God of my father, saide he, was mine helpe, and deliuered me from the sword of Pharaoh)

5 And Iethro Moses father in law came with his two sonnes, and his wife vnto Moses into the wilderness, where he camped by † the mount of God.

6 And he said to Moses, I thy father in law Iethro am come to thee, and thy wife and her two sonnes with her.

7 And Moses went out to meete his father in law, and did obeisance and kissed him, and eche asked other of his † welfare: & they came into the tent.

8 Then Moses told his father in law all that the Lorde had done vnto Pharaoh, and to the Egyptians for Israels sake, [and] al the trauaile that had come vnto them by the way, and [howe] the Lord deliuered them.

9 And Iethro reioyced at all † goodnesse, which the Lorde had shewed to Israel, [and] because he had deliuered them out of the hand of the Egyptians.

18 Thou both † weariest thy selfe greatly, and this people that is with thee: for the thing [is] to heauy for thee: † thou art not able to do it thy selfe alone.

19 Heare now my † voyce, I wil giue thee counsell, and God shall be with thee) be thou for the people to † Godwarde, and report thou the causes vnto God, 20 And admonish them of † ordinances, and of the lawes, & shewe them the way, wherein they must walke, and the worke that they must do.

21 Moreover, prouide thou among all † people: men of courage, fearing God: men dealing truly, hating couetousnes: and appoint [such] ouer them [to be] rulers ouer thousands, rulers ouer hundredths, rulers ouer fifties, and rulers ouer tens.

22 And let them iudge the people at all seasons: but euery great matter let them bring vnto thee, and let them iudge all small causes: so shall it be easier for thee, when they shal beare the burden with thee.

23 If thou do this thing, (& God [to] commande thee) both thou shalt be able to endure, and all this people shall also go quietly to their place.

24 So Moses † obeyed † voyce of his father in law, & did all that he had saide:

25 And Moses chose men of courage out of all Israel, and made them heades ouer the people, rulers ouer thousands, rulers ouer hundredths, rulers ouer fifties, and rulers ouer tens.

26 And they iudged the people at all seasons, [but] they brought † hard causes vnto Moses: for they iudged al small matters them selues.

27 Afterward Moses † let his father in law depart, and hee went into his countrey.

Heb. 12. 20.

In the thirde moneth, after the children of Iſrael were gone out of the land of Egypt, the ſame day came they into the wilderness of Sinai.

2 For they departed from Rephidim, & came to the desert of Sinai, and camped in the wilderness: euen there Iſrael camped before the mount.

3 But Moſes went by vnto God, for the Lord had called out of the mount vnto him, ſaying, Thus shalt thou ſay to the house of Iſaiah, and tel the children of Iſrael,

4 We haue ſeene what I did vnto the Egyptians, and how I caried you vpon eagles wings, and haue brought you vnto me.

5 Now therefore if ye will heare my voyce in deede, and keepe my couenant, then yee shall be my chief treasure above all people, though all the earth be mine.

6 We ſhal be vnto me alſo a kingdome of Priests, and an holy nation. These are the words which thou shalt ſpeake vnto the children of Iſrael.

7 Moſes then came and called for the Elders of the people, and propoſed vnto them all theſe things, which the Lord commanded him.

8 And the people answered all together, and ſayd, All that the Lord hath commaunded, we wil doe. And Moſes reported the wordes of the people vnto the Lord.

9 And the Lord ſaid vnto Moſes, Lo, I come vnto thee in a thicke cloud, that the people may heare, whiles I talke with thee, & that they may alſo beleue thee for euer. (for Moſes had tolde the wordes of the people vnto the Lord)

10 Moreover, the Lord ſaid vnto Moſes, Go to the people, and ſanctifie them to day and to morrow, & let them waſh their clothes.

11 And let them be ready on the third day: for the third day the Lord will come downe in the ſight of all the people vpon mount Sinai:

12 And thou shalt ſet markes vnto the people round about, ſaying, Take heede to your ſelues that ye goe not by to the mount, nor touch the border of it: whoſoever toucheth the mount, ſhall ſurely dye.

13 No hand ſhall touch it, but he ſhall be ſtoned to death, or ſtricken through with darts, whether it be beaſt or man, he ſhall not liue: When the hoſe bloweth long, they ſhall come by into the mountaine.

14 Then Moſes went downe from the mount vnto the people, and ſanctified the people, and they waſhed their clothes.

15 And he ſayde vnto the people, Be ready on the third day, [and] come not at [your] viues.

16 And the third day, when it was morning, there was thunders & lightnings, and a thicke cloude vpon the mount, and the ſound of the trumpet exceeding loud, ſo that all the people, that was in the campe, was afraide.

17 Then Moſes brought the people out of the tents to meete with God, and they ſtoode in the nether part of the mount.

18 And mount Sinai [was] all on ſmoke, becauſe the Lord came downe vpon it in fire, and the ſmoke thereof aſcended, as the ſmoke of a furnace, and all the mount trembled exceedingly.

19 And when the ſound of the trumpet blew long, and waxed louder and louder, Moſes ſpake, and God answered him by voyce.

20 For the Lord came downe vpon mount Sinai on the top of the mount) and when the Lord called Moſes by name to the top of the mount, Moſes went by.

21 Then the Lord layde vnto Moſes, Goe downe, charge the people, that they breake not their boundes, to goe by to the Lord to gaze, leaſt many of them periſh.

22 And let the Priests alſo which come to the Lord be ſanctified, leaſt the Lord deſtroy them.

23 And Moſes ſayd vnto the Lord, The people can not come by into the mount Sinai: for thou haſt charged vs, ſaying, Set markes on the mountaine, and ſanctifie it.

24 And the Lord ſayde vnto him, Goe, get thee downe, and come by, thou, and Aaron with thee: but let not the Priests and the people breake their boundes to come by vnto the Lord, leſt he deſtroy them.

25 So Moſes went downe vnto the people, and tolde them.

that are in heauen aboue, neither that are in the earth beneath, nor that are in the waters vnder the earth.

5 Thou shalt not bowe downe to them, neither serue them: for I am the Lorde thy God, a ielous God, visiting the iniquitie of the fathers vpon the children, vpon the thirde generation and vpon the fourth of them that hate me:

6 And thou shalt loue me, and keepe my commandements.

7 * Thou shalt not take the Name of Lorde will not holde him guiltles that taketh his Name in vaine.

8 Remember thy Sabbath day, to keepe it holy.

9 * Sixe dayes shall thou labour, and doe all thy worke,

10 But the seventh day [is] the Sabbath of the Lorde thy God: [in it] thou shalt not doe any worke, thou, nor thy sonne, nor thy daughter, thy manser-uant, nor thy maid, nor thy beast, nor thy stranger that is within thy gates.

11 * For in sixe dayes the Lorde made the heauen and the earth, the sea, and all that in them is, & rested the seventh day:
therefore the Lorde blessed the Sabbath day, and hallowed it.

12 * Honour thy father & thy movpon the land, which the Lorde thy God ginieth thee.

13 * Thou shalt not kill.

14 Thou shalt not commit adulterie.

18 And all the people sawe the thunders, and the lightnings, and the found of the trumpet, & the mountaine smoking, and when the people sawe it they fled and stood afarre off,

19 And said vnto Moses, Talke thou with vs, and we will heare: but let not God talke with vs, lest we die.

20 Then Moses sayde vnto the people, Feare not: for God is come to proue you, & that his feare may be before you, that ye sinne not.

21 So the people stood afarre off, but Moses drew neere vnto the darkenesse where God [was].

22 And the Lorde said vnto Moses, Thus thou shalt say vnto the children of Israel, Ye haue seene that I haue talked with you from heauen.

23 Ye shal not make [therefore] with me gods of siluer, nor gods of golde: you shall make me none.

24 * An altar of earth thou shalt make vnto me, and thereon shalt offer thy burnt offerings, and thy peace offerings, thy sheepe, and thine oxen: in all places, where I shall put the remembrance of my Name, I will come vnto thee, and blesse thee.

25 * But if thou wilt make me an altar of stone, thou shalt not builde it of hewen stones: for if thou lift by thy tooke vpon them, thou hast polluted it them.

26 Neither shalt thou go by by steps

15 The barres shall be in the rings of the Arke: they shall not be taken away from it.

16 So thou shalt put in the Arke the Testimonie which I shall give thee.

17 Also thou shalt make a Merciseat of pure golde, two cubites & an halfe long, and a cubite and an halfe broad.

19 And the one Cherub shalt thou make at the one end, and the other Cherub at the other end: of the matter of the Merciseat shalt ye make the Cherubims, on the two endes thereof.

20 And the Cherubims shall stretch their wings on hie, covering the Merciseat with their wings, and their faces one to another: to the Merciseat ward shall the faces of the Cherubims be.

21 And thou shalt put the Merciseat above vpon the Arke, and in the Arke thou shalt put the testimonie, which I will give thee.

22 And there I will declare my selfe vnto thee, and from above the Merciseat * betwene the two Cherubims, which are vpon the Arke of the Testimonie. I will tell thee all things which I will give thee in commandment vnto the children of Israel.

23 Thou shalt also make a table of Shittim wood, of two cubites long, and 24 And thou shalt cover it with pure golde, & make thereto a crowne of golde round about.

25 Thou shalt also make vnto it a border of four fingers round about: Or, an hand broad.

26 After, thou shalt make for it four rings of golde, and shalt put the rings in the four corners that are in the four feet thereof:

27 Quere against the border shall the rings be for places for barres, to beare the Table.

28 And thou shalt make the barres of Shittim wood, & shalt overlay them with gold, that the Table may be borne with them.

29 Thou shalt make also dishes for it, and incense cups for it & coverings for it, and goblets. Where with it shall be covered, one of fine gold shalt I make them.

30 And thou shalt set vpon the Table the shewbread before me continually.

The Candlestick.

Because the fashion of the Candlestick is so plain and evident, it needeth not to describe the particular partes thereof according to the order of letters. Only whereas it is sayde in the 34. verse that there shall be four boules or cuppes in the Candlestick, it must be vnderstood of the shaft or handle: for there are but three for every one of the other branches. Also the knobs of the Candlestick are those which are vnder the branches as they issue out of the shaft on either side.

31 Thou shalt make a Candlestick of pure gold: of worke beaten out with the hammer, shalt the Candlestick be made, his shaft, and his branches, his boules, his knobs: and his floures shall be of the same.

32 Six branches also shall come out of the sides of it: three branches of the Candlestick out of the one side of it, and three branches of the Candlestick out of the other side of it.

1 The forme of the Tabernacle and the apperainces. 33 The place of the Arke, of the Spercitate, of the Table, and of the Candlesticke.

Afterwarde thou shalt make the Tabernacle with ten curtaynes of fine wined linen, and blew silke, & purple, and skarlet: and in them thou shalt make Cherubims of<sup>a</sup> broyded worke.

2 The length of one curtaine [shalbe] eight and thirtie cubites, and the bredth of one curtaine, foure cubites: every one of the curtaynes shall haue one measure.

3 Five curtaynes shall be coupled one to another: & the [other] five curtaynes shalbe coupled one to another.

4 And thou shalt make stringes of blew silke vpon the edge of the one curtaine, which is in the seluedge<sup>b</sup> of the coupling: and likewise shalt thou make in the edge of the [other] curtaine in the seluedge, in the second coupling.

5 Fiftie stringes shalt thou make in one curtaine, and fiftie stringes shalt thou make in the edge of the curtaine, which is in the second coupling: the stringes [shalbe] one right against another.

6 Thou shalt make also fiftie [taches] of golde, and couple the curtaynes one to another with the taches, and it shalbe one [Tabernacle].

7 Also thou shalt make curtaynes of goates [heare], to be a covering vpon the Tabernacle: thou shalt make them [to the number] of eleuen curtaynes.

8 The length of a curtaine [shall be] thirtie cubites, and the breadth of a curtaine foure cubites: the eleuen curtaynes [shall be] of one measure.

9 And thou shalt couple five curtaynes by themselves, and the five curtaynes by themselves: but thou shalt double the first curtaine vpon the forefront of the covering.

10 And thou shalt make fiftie stringes in the edge of one curtaine in y seluedge of the coupling, and fiftie stringes in the edge of the [other] curtaine in the second coupling.

11 Likewise thou shalt make fiftie [taches] of brasle, and fasten them on the stringes, and shalt couple the covering together, that it may be one.

12 And the remnant that resteth in the curtaynes of the covering, [even] the halfe curtaine that resteth, shall be left at the backe side of the Tabernacle.

13 That the cubite on the one side, and the cubite on the other side of that which is left in the length of the curtaynes of the covering, may remaine on either side of the Tabernacle to cover it.

14 Moreover, for that covering thou shalt make a covering of rams skinnnes dyed red, and a covering<sup>h</sup> of badgers skinnnes aboue.

15 Also thou shalt make boardes for the Tabernacle of Shittim wood to stand by.

17 Two tenons shall be in one board set in order as the feet of a ladder, one against another: thus shalt thou make for all the boardes of the Tabernacle.

The Tabernacle.

A Twentie boardes on the Southside, and as many on the Northside, which were of 10 cubites in length, that is, from E. to E. K The holy place, wherein on the Southside the candlestick was placed, and on the Northside against it, the Table of shewbread.

L Eight boardes that close up the Tabernacle on the West end, which was the uppermost end of the place.

M A hanging or vaile, which was at the entrie of the Tabernacle, being at the East end which was fastened to hang at five pillars.

18 And thou shalt make boardes for the Tabernacle, [even] twenty boardes on the South side, even full South.

¶ Or, baffe pieces, wherein were the mortaises for the tenons.

19 And thou shalt make forty sockets of silver vnder the twentie boardes, two sockets vnder one boarder for his two tenons, and two sockets vnder another boarder for his two tenons.

20 In like maner on the other side of the Tabernacle toward the North side [shall be] twentie boardes, 21 And their fourtie sockets of silver, two sockets vnder one boarder, and two sockets vnder another boarder.

22 And on the side of the Tabernacle, toward the west, shalt thou make five boardes.

23 Also two boardes shalt thou make in the corners of the Tabernacle in the two sides.

24 Also they shall be joynted beneath, and likewise they shall be joynted aboue to a ring: thus shall it be for them two: they shall be for the two corners.

i The Cherubim were figuratively twinnes: declaring that they should be so perfect and well joynted as were possible.

25 So they shall be eight boardes having sockets of silver, [even] sixteen sockets, [that is,] two sockets vnder one boarder, and two sockets vnder another boarder.

26 ¶ Then thou shalt make five barres of Shittim wood for the boardes of one side of the Tabernacle.

27 And five barres for the boardes of the other side of the Tabernacle: also five barres for the boardes of the side of the Tabernacle toward the west side.

28 And the middle barre shall goe through the middes of the boardes, from ende to ende.

29 And thou shalt couer the boardes with gold, and make their rings of gold, for places for the barres, and thou shalt couer the barres with gold.

36 Also thou shalt make an * hanging for the doore of the Tabernacle of blew silke, and purple, and skarlet, and fine twined linen wrought with needle.

n This hanging of bawle was betwene the holy place & there where the people were.

37 And thou shalt make for the hanging five pillars of Shittim, and couer them with gold: their heads [shall be] of golde, and thou shalt cast five sockets of brasie for them.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 The altar of the burnt offering. 2 The court of the Tabernacle. 20 The lampes continually burning.

Moreover thou shalt make the altar of Shittim wood, five cubites long and five cubites broad (the altar shall be four square) and the height thereof three cubites.

a For the burnt offering.

2 And thou shalt make it hornes in the foure corners thereof: the hornes shall be of it * selfe, and thou shalt couer it with bawle.

H H Ashpannes, besomes, fleshhookes, basens and such instruments appertaining to the altar.

3 Also thou shalt make his ashpens for his ashes and his besomes, and his basens, and his fleshhookes, & his censers: thou shalt make all þ instruments thereof of brasle.

¶ Or, fire pans.

4 And thou shalt make vnto it a grate like networke of brasle: also vpon that grate shalt thou make foure brazen rings vpon the foure corners thereof.

† Ebr. net.

5 And thou shalt put it vnder þ compasse of the altar beneath, that the grate may be in the middes of the altar.

6 Also thou shalt make barres for the altar barres, of Shittim wood, and shalt couer them with brasle.

7 And the barres thereof shall be put in the rings, the which barres shall be vpon the two sides of the altar to beare it.

8 Thou shalt make the altar holbe betweene the boardes: as God shewed thee in the mount, so shall they make it.

9 Also thou shalt make the court of the Tabernacle in þ Southside, euen full South: the court shall haue curtaines of fine twined linen, of an hundred cubites long, for one side, e This was the first entrie into the Tabernacle, where the people abode.

10 And it shall haue twentie pillars, with their twentie sockets of brasle: the heades of the pillars, and their fillets shall be of siluer.

d They were certaine hoops or circles for to beautifie the pillar.

11 Likewise on þ Northside in length there shall be hangings of an hundred cubites long, and the twentie pillars thereof with their twentie sockets of brasle: the heades of the pillars and the fillets shall be of siluer.

12 And the breadth of the court on the west side shall haue curtaines of fiftie cubites, with their ten pillars and their ten sockets.

13 And the breadth of the court, Eastward full East shall haue fiftie cubites.

e Speaking curtains of fiftie cubites, f Of the doore of the court.

14 Also hangings of fiftie cubites shall be on the one side with their three pillars and their three sockets.

15 Likewise on the other side shall be hangings of fiftie cubites, with their three pillars and their three sockets.

16 And in the gate of the court shall be a baile of fiftie cubites, of blewe silke, and purple, and skarlet, and fine twined linen wrought w needle, with the foure pillars thereof and their foure sockets.

17 All the pillars of the court shall haue fillets of siluer round about, with their heades of siluer, and their sockets of brasle.

18 The length of the court shall be an hundred cubites, and the breadth fiftie at either end, and the height fiftie cubites, and the hangings of fine twined linen, and their sockets of brasle.

19 All the vessels of the Tabernacle for all manner seruice thereof, and all the spindles thereof, and all the pinnes of the court shall be of brasle.

g Or stakes, wherewith the curtains were fastened to the ground, h Such as cometh from the olive, when it is first pressed or beaten, Or, ascend vp.

20 And thou shalt commande the children of Israel, that they bring vnto thee pure oyle olive beaten for the light, that the lampes may alway burne.

21 In the Tabernacle of the Congregation without the baile, which is before the Testimonie, shall Aaron and his sonnes dresse them from euenyng to morning before the Lorde, for a statute for ever vnto their generations, to be obserued by the children of Israel.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 The Lorde calleth Aaron and his sonnes to the Priesthoode, 4 Their garments, 12, 29 Aaron entred into the Sanctuary in the name of the children of Israel, 30 Chim and Chummin, 38 Aaron beareth the iniquitie of the Israelites offerings.

And cause thou thy brother Aaron to come vnto thee and his sonnes with him, from among the children of Israel, that hee may serue me in the Priestes office: I meane Aaron, Nadab, and Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar Aarons sonnes.

2 Also thou shalt make holy garments for Aaron thy brother, glorious and beautifull.

3 Therefore thou shalt speake vnto all cunning men, whom I haue filled with the spirit of wisdom, that they make Aarons garments to consecrate him, that he may serue me in the Priestes office.

a Wherby his office may be knowne to be glorious and excellent, Ebr. wise in heart, b Which is, to separate him from the rest.

The garments of the high Priest.

A The Ephod, or yponest coate, which was like cloth of golde and was girded vnto him, wherein was the brest plate with the twelue stones, which was tyed about with two chaines to two outes floues, and beneath with two laces.

B The robe which was next vnder the Ephod, wherunto were ioynted the pomegranates and belles of golde.

C The tunicle or broidered coate, which was vnder the robe & longer then it, and was also without sleeves.

4 Now these shalbe the garments, which they shall make, a brest plate, and an Ephod, and a robe, and a broidered coate, a miter, & a girdle, so [these] holy garments shall they make for Aaron thy brother, and for his sonnes, that he may serue me in the Priestes office.

5 Therfore they shal take gold, a blew silke, & purple, and skarlet, and fine linen,

6 And they shall make the Ephod of golde, blew silke, and purple, skarlet, and fine twined linen of broidered worke.

7 The two shoulders thereof shall be ioynted together by their two edges: so shall it be closed.

8 And the d embroidered garde of the same Ephod, which shalbe vpon him, shalbe of the selfe same worke & stuffe, [euen] of golde, blew silke, and purple, and skarlet, and fine twined linen.

9 And thou shalt take two Onix stones, and graue vpon them the names of the children of Israel:

10 Sixe names of them vpon the one stone, and the sixe names that remaine, vpon the second stone, according to their generations.

11 Thou shalt cause to graue the two stones according to the names of the children of Israel by a grauer of signets, that worketh & graueth in stone, & shalt make them to be set & embossed in golde.

12 And thou shalt put the two stones vpon the shoulders of the Ephod, [as] stones of remembrance of the children of Israel: for Aaron shall beare their names before the Lord vpon his two shoulders for a remembrance.

13 So thou shalt make bosses of gold, 14 And two cheynes of fine gold at the ende, of wretched worke shalt thou make them, and shalt fasten the wretched cheynes vpon the bosses.

15 Also thou shalt make the brest plate of iudgement to broidered worke: like the worke of the Ephod shalt thou make it: of golde, blew silke, and purple, and skarlet, and fine twined linen shalt thou make it.

16 Four square it shalbe [and] double, an hand breadth long and an hand breadth broad.

17 Then thou shalt set it full of places for stones, euen foure rowes of stones: the order shalbe this, a Rubie, a Topaze, and a Carbuncle in the first rowe.

18 And in the second rowe thou shalt set an Emeraude, a Saphir, and a Diamond.

19 And in the third rowe a Turkeis, an Achate, and an hematite.

20 And in the fourth rowe a Chrysolite, an Onix, and a Jasper: and they shall be set in gold in their embossments.

21 And the stones shall be according to the names of the children of Israel, twelve, according to their names, grauen as signets, euery one after his name, and they shalbe for the twelue tribes.

22 Then thou shalt make vpon the brest plate two cheynes at the endes of wretched worke of pure golde.

23 Thou shalt make also vpon the brest plate two rings of golde, & put the two rings on the two ends of the brest plate.

24 And thou shalt put the two wretched cheynes of golde in the two rings in the endes of the brest plate.

25 And the other two endes of the two wretched cheynes, thou shalt fasten in the two embossments, and shalt put them vpon the shoulders of the Ephod on the fore side of it.

26 Also thou shalt make two rings of gold, which thou shalt put in the two other ends of the brest plate, vpon the border thereof, toward the inside of the Ephod.

27 And two other rings of golde thou shalt make, and put them on the two sides of the Ephod, beneath in the fore part of it ouer against the coupling of it vpon the broidered garde of the Ephod.

28 Thus they shall bind the brest plate by his rings vnto the rings of the Ephod, with a lace of blew silke, that it may be fast vpon the broidered garde of the Ephod, and that the brest plate be not loosed from the Ephod.

29 So Aaron shall beare the names of the children of Israel in the brest plate of iudgement vpon his heart, when he goeth into the holy place, for a remembrance continually before the Lord.

30 Also thou shalt put in the brest plate of iudgement the Urin and the Thummim, which shalbe vpon Aarons heart, when he goeth in before the Lord:

h It was so called, because the brestplate could not give sentence in iudgement without that on his brest.

and Aaron shall beare the iudgement of the children of Israel vpon his head before the Lord continually.

31 And thou shalt make the robe of the Ephod altogether of blew silk.

32 And the hole for his head shall be in the mids of it, hauing an edge of wouen worke round about the collar of it: so it shall be as the collar of an habergeon that it rent not.

38 So it shall be vpon Aarons forehead, that Aaron may beare the iniquitie of the offerings, which the children of Israel shall offer in all their holy offerings: and it shall be alwayes vpon his forehead, to make them acceptable before the Lord.

39 Likewise thou shalt embroyder the fine linen coate, and thou shalt make a niter of fine linen, but thou shalt make a girdle of needle worke.

40 Also thou shalt make for Aarons sonnes coates, & thou shalt make them girdles, & bonets shall thou make them for glory and comelines.

41 And thou shalt put them vpon Aaron the brother, and on his sonnes with him, and shalt anoint them, and fill their hands, & sanctifie them, that they may minister vnto me in the Priestes office.

42 Thou shalt also make them linen breeches to couer their priuities: fro the loynes vnto the thighs shall they reach.

43 And they shall be for Aaron and his sonnes when they come into the tabernacle of the Congregation, or when they come vnto the altar to minister in the holy place, that they commit not iniquitie, & so die. [This shall be] a lawe for euer vnto him & to his seede after him.

1 The manner of consecrating the Priestes. 38 The continuall sacrifice. 45 The Lord promitteth to dwell among the children of Israel.

1 This thing also shalt thou doe vnto them when thou consecrest the to be my Priestes, Take a yong calfe, and two rams without blemish,

2 And vbleauened bread and cakes vbleauened tempered with oyle, & wafers vbleauened anointed with oyle: (of fine wheat flour shalt thou make the)

3 Then thou shalt put them in one basket, and present them in the basket with the calfe and the two rams,

4 And shalt bring Aaron & his sonnes vnto the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and wash them with water.

5 Also thou shalt take the garments, and put vpon Aaron the tunicke, and the robe of the Ephod, and the Ephod, and the breast plate, and shalt close them to him with the broydzed gird of Ephod.

6 Then thou shalt put the niter vpon his head, & shalt put the holy crovne vpon the niter.

7 And thou shalt take the anointing oyle, and shalt polvre vpon his head, and anoint him.

8 And thou shalt bring his sonnes, and put coates vpon them,

9 And shalt gird them with girdels, [both] Aaron and his sonnes: and shalt put the bonets on them, and the Priestes office shall be theirs for a perpetual law: thou shalt also fill the hands of Aaron, and the hands of his sonnes.

10 After, thou shalt present the calfe before the Tabernacle of the Congregation, & Aaron and his sonnes shall put their handes vpon the head of the calfe.

11 So thou shalt kill the calfe before the Lord, at the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

12 Then thou shalt take of the blood of the calfe, and put it vpon the hornes of the altar with thy finger, & shalt polvre all [the rest] of the blood at the foote of the altar.

13 Also thou shalt take all the fat that couereth the inwards, and the kal, [that is] on the liuer, and the two kidneys, and the fat that is vpon them, & shalt burne them vpon the altar.

14 But the flesh of the calfe, & his skinne, & his doing shalt thou burne with fire without the hoste: it is a sinne offering.

17 And thou shalt cut ¶ ram in pierces, and wash the inwardes of him and his legges, & shalt put them vpon the pierces thereof, and vpon his head.

18 So thou shalt burne the whole ram vpon the altar: [for] it is a burnt offering vnto ¶ Lord: for a sweete savour: it is an offering made by fire vnto ¶ Lorde.

19 ¶ And thou shalt take the other ram, and Aaron & his sonnes shall put their hands vpon the head of the ram.

20 Then shalt thou kill the ram, and take of his blood & put it <sup>c</sup> vpon the lap of Aarons eare, and vpon the lap of the right eare of his sonnes, and vpon the thumbe of their right hande, and vpon the great toe of their right foote, & shalt sprinkle the blood vpon the altar round about.

21 And thou shalt take of the blood that is <sup>c</sup> vpon the altar, and of the anointing oyle, and shalt sprinkle it vpon Aaron, and vpon his garments, & vpon his sonnes, and vpon the garments of his sonnes with him: so hee shall be hallowed, and his clothes, & his sonnes, and the garments of his sonnes with him.

22 Also thou shalt take of ¶ rams the fat and the rumpe, euen the fat that covereth the inwardes, and the kalle of the liver, and the two kidneis, & the fat that is vpon them, and the right shoulder, (for it is the ¶ ram of consecration)

23 And one loafe of bread, & one cake of bread [tempered] with oyle, and one wafer, out of the basket of the vileauened [bread] that is before the Lord.

24 And thou shalt put all this in the handes of Aaron, and in the handes of his sonnes, and shalt shake them to and fro before the Lord.

25 Again, thou shalt receiue them of their hands, and burne them vpon the altar besides ¶ burnt offering for a sweete savour before the Lord: [for] this is an offering made by fire vnto the Lord.

26 Likewise thou shalt take the brest of the ram of the consecration, which is for Aaron, & shalt shake it to <sup>h</sup> and fro before the Lord, and it shall be thy part.

27 And thou shalt sanctifie the brest of the shaken offering, and the shoulder of the heave offering, which was shaken to and fro, & which was heaued <sup>h</sup> by the ram of the consecration, which [was] for Aaron, and which [was] for his sonnes.

28 And Aaron & his sonnes shall haue it by a statute for euer, of the children of Israel: for it is an heave offering, and it shall be an heave offering of the children of Israel, of their <sup>k</sup> peace offerings, [euen] their heave offering to the Lord.

29 ¶ And the holy garments, which [appertene] to Aaron, shall be his sonnes after him, to be anointed therein, and to be consecrate therein.

30 That sonne that shall be Priest in his stead, shall put them on seven dayes, when he cometh into the Tabernacle of the Congregation to minister in the holy place.

31 ¶ So thou shalt take the ram of the consecration, and seethe his flesh in the holy place.

32 ¶ And Aaron and his sonnes shall eat the flesh of the ram, and the bread that is in the basket, at the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

33 So they shall eat these things, whereby their attennement was made, to consecrate them, [and] to sanctifie them: but a stranger shall not eat [thereof], because they are holy things.

34 Nowe if ought of the flesh of the consecration, or of the bread remaine vnto the morning, then thou shalt burne the rest with fire: it shall not be eaten, because it is an holy thing.

35 Therefore shalt thou do thus vnto Aaron & vnto his sonnes, according to all things, which I haue comanded thee: seven daies shalt thou <sup>i</sup> consecrate them.

36 And shalt offer euery day a calfe for a sinne offering, for <sup>m</sup> reconciliation: and thou shalt cleanse the altar. When thou shalt offer vpon it for reconciliation, and shalt anoint it, to sanctifie it.

37 Seven dayes shalt thou cleanse the altar, and sanctifie it, so the altar shall be most holy: [and] whatsoever toucheth the altar, shall be holy.

1 The altar of incense. 12 The summe that the Israelites should pay to the Tabernacle. 18 The brasen laver. 23 The anointing oile. 34 The making of the perfume.

Althermore I shalt make an altar for sweete perfume, of Shittim wood thou shalt make it.

2 The length thereof a cubite and the bredth thereof a cubite (it shall be foure square) & the height thereof two cubites: the hornes thereof shalbe <sup>b</sup> of the same.

3 And thou shalt ouerlay it with fine gold, [both] the top thereof and the sides thereof round about, and his hornes: also thou shalt make vnto it a crowne of gold round about.

4 Besides this thou shalt make vnder this crowne two golden rings on either side: [euen] on every side shalt thou make the, that they may be as places for the barres to beare it withall.

The Altar of sweete perfume,

This altar was one cubite long, and one cubite broad, and in height was two cubites: the rest may be vnderstand by the former figures.

5 The which barres thou shalt make of Shittim wood, and shalt couer them with golde.

6 After thou shalt set it before I baile, that is nere the Arke of Testimonie, before the Mercyseat that is vpo the Testimonie, where I will appoynt to thee.

7 And Aaron shall burne thereon sweet incense every morning: When he doth seth the lampes thereof, shall he burne it.

8 Likewise at euen, When Aaron setteth by the lampes thereof, he shall burne incense: [this] perfume I shalbe perpetually before the Lord, throughout your generations.

9 We shall offer no strange incense thereon, nor burnt sacrifice, nor offering, neither poure any drinke offering thereon.

10 And Aaron shall make reconciliation vpon the hornes of it once in a yere with the blood of the sinne offering [in the day] of reconciliation: once in the yere shall hee make reconciliation vpon it throughout your generations: this is most holy vnto the Lord.

11 Afterward the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

12 * When thou takest the summe of the children of Israel after their number, then they shall giue every man a redemption of his life vnto the Lord, when thou tellest them, that there be no plague among them when thou countest them.

13 This shall every man giue, that goeth into the number, halfe a shekel, after the shekel of the Sanctuary: (a shekel [is] twentie gerahs) the halfe shekel [shalbe] an offering to the Lord.

14 All that are nombred from twenty yere old and aboue, shall giue an offering to the Lord.

15 The rich shal not passe, & the poore shal not diminish from halfe a shekel, when yee shall giue an offering vnto the Lord: for the redemption of your liues.

16 So thou shalt take the money of redemption of the children of Israel, and shalt put it vnto the vse of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, that it may be a memorial vnto I childre of Israel before the Lord for the redemption of your liues.

The Lauer of brasse.

Because the manner of this figure is not particularly described, we haue put it in this forme: as well for y it agreeth with the text, as also it is after this fashon in other copies of sundrie languages.

17 Also the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

18 Thou shalt also make a lauer of brasle, and his foote of brasle to wash, and shalt put it betweene the Tabernacle of the Congregation and the altar, and shalt put water therein.

19 For Aaron & his sonnes shall wash their hands and their feete thereat.

20 When they go into the Tabernacle of the Congregation, or when they go vnto the altar to minister [and] to make the perfume of the burnt offering to the Lord, they shall wash themselves with water, lest they die.

21 So they shall wash their handes and their feete that they die not: & [this] shall be to them an ordinance for euer, [both] vnto him & to his seede through out their generations.

22 Also the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

23 Take thou also vnto thee, principall spices of the most pure myrrhe five hundred [the] shekels, of sweete cinnamon halfe so much, [that is,] two hundredeth and fiftie, and of sweete calamus, two hundredeth, and fiftie:

24 Also of Cassia five hundredeth, after the shekel of the Sanctuarie, and of oyle olive an <sup>m</sup> Min.

25 So thou shalt make of it the oyle of holy ointment, [even] a most precious ointment after the arte of the apoticarie: this shall be the oyle of holy ointment.

26 And thou shalt anoint the Tabernacle of the Congregation therewith, and the Arke of the Testimonie:

27 Also the Table, and all the instruments thereof, and the Candlestick, with all the instruments thereof, and the altar of incense:

28 Also the altar of burnt offering with all his instruments, and the lauer and his foote.

29 So thou shalt sanctifie them, and they shall bee most holy: all that shall touch them, shall be holy.

30 Thou shalt also anoint Aaron and his sonnes, and shalt consecrate them, that they may minister vnto me in the Priestes office.

31 Moreover thou shalt speake vnto the children of Israel, saying, This shall be an holy ointing oile vnto me, through out your generations.

32 None shall anoint mans flesh therewith, neither shall ye make any composition like vnto it: [for] it is holy, [and] shall be holy vnto you.

33 Whosoever shall make the like ointment, or whosoever shall put any of it vpon a stranger, euen he shall cut off from his people.

34 And the Lord saide vnto Moses, Take vnto thee [these] spices, pure myrrhe and cleare gumme and galbanum, [these] odours with pure frankincense, of the like weight:

35 Then thou shalt make of them perfume composed after the arte of the apoticarie, mingled together, pure & holy.

36 And thou shalt beate it to powder, & shalt put of it before [the Arke] of the Testimonie in the Tabernacle of the Congregation, where I will make appointment with thee: it shall be vnto you most holy.

37 And ye shall not make vnto you any composition like this perfume, which thou shalt make: it shall be vnto thee holy for the Lord.

38 Whosoever shall make like vnto that to smell thereto, euen he shall cut off from his people.

1 The Israelites impute their delinquency to the calfe. 2 God is appeased by Moses prayer. 3 Moses breaketh the Tables. 27 He sleaeth the idolaters. 32 Moses scale for the people.

When the people sawe, that Moses taried long, & he came downe from the mountaine, the people gathered the felues together against Aaron, and said vnto him, Up, make vs gods to go before vs: for of this Moses (the man that brought vs out of the land of Egypt) we knowe not what is become of him.

2 And Aaron sayde vnto the, Plucke off the golden earrings, which are in the eares of your wives, of your sonnes, and of your daughters, and bring them vnto me.

3 Then all the people pluckt from them felues the golden earrings, which were in their eares, and they brought them vnto Aaron.

4 Who receiued them at their hands, and fashioned it with the graving tooles, & made of it a molten calfe: then they said, These be thy gods, O Israel, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt.

5 When Aaron saide that, he made an altar before it: and Aaron proclaimed, saying, To morrow shall be the holy day of the Lord.

6 So they rose by the next day in the morning, and offered burnt offerings, and brought peace offerings: also the people late them downe to eate and drinke, and rose vp to play.

7 Then the Lord said vnto Moses, Go, get thee downe: for the people which thou hast brought out of the land of Egypt, hath corrupted [their] wayes.]

8 They are soone turned out of the way, which I commanded them: for they haue made them a molten calf, and haue worshipped it, and haue offered thereto, saying, These be thy gods, O Israel, which haue brought thee out of the land of Egypt.

9 Again the Lord said vnto Moses, I haue seene this people, and behold, it is a stiffe necked people.

10 Now therefore let me alone, that my wrath may war hote against them, for I will consume them: but I will make of thee a mighty people.

11 But Moses prayed vnto the Lord his God, and said, O Lord, why doest thou wrath war hote against thy people, which thou hast brought out of the land of Egypt, with great power and with a mighty hand?

12 Wherefore shall the Egyptians speake, and say, he hath brought them out maliciously for to slay them in the mountaines, and to consume them from the earth: turne from thy feare wrath, and change thy minde from this euill toward thy people.

15 So Moses returned and went downe fro the mountaine with the two Tables of the Testimonie in his hand: the Tables were written on both their sides, euen on the one side and on the other were they written.

16 And these Tables were the worke of God, and this writing was the writing of God grauen in the Tables.

17 And when Joshua heard the noise of the people, as they holwred, he sayde vnto Moses, [There is a noise of warre in the hoste.

18 Who answered, It is not the noise of them that haue the victorie, nor the noise of them that are ouertome: [but] I do heare the noise of singing.

19 Now, as soone as he came neere vnto the hoste, hee sawe the calfe and the dancing: so Moses wrath waxed hote, and he cast the Tables out of his hands, and brake them in pecies beneath the mountaine.

20 * After, he tooke the calfe, which they had made, and burned it in the fire, and ground it vnto powder, & strowed it vpon the water, and made the children of Israel drinke of it.

21 Also Moses said vnto Aaron, what did this people vnto thee, that thou hast brought so great a sinne vpon them:

22 Then Aaron answered, Let not the wrath of my lord waxe fierce: thou knowest this people, that they are [euen] set on mischief.

23 And they said vnto me, Make vs gods to go before vs: for we knowe not what is become of this Moses (the man that brought vs out of  $\beta$  land of Egypt.)

24 Then I said to them, Ye that haue gold, plucke it off: and they brought it me, and I did cast it into the fire, and [thereof] came this calfe.

25 Moses therefore saw that the people were naked: (for Aaron had made them naked vnto [their] shame among their enemies)

26 And Moses stood in the gate of the campe, and said, whoso [pertineth] to the Lord: [let him come] to me. And all the sonnes of Levi gathered their selues vnto him.

27 Then he saide vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Put euery man his sword by his side: go to and fro, from gate to gate, through the hoste, and slay euery man his brother, and euery man his companion, and euery man his neighbour.

28 So the children of Levi did as Moses had commanded: and there fell of the peole the same day about three thousand men.

29 (For Moses had said, Consecrate your hands vnto the Lord this day, eue every man vpon his  $\text{m}$  sonne, and vpon his brother, that there may be giue you a blessing this day)

30 And when the morning came, Moses said vnto the people, We haue committed a grievous crime: but now I will go vp to  $\beta$  Lord, if I may pacifie [him] for your sinne.

31 Moses therefore went againe vnto the Lord, & said, Oh, this people haue sinned a great sinne, and haue made the gods of golde.

32 Therefore now if thou pardon their sinne, [thy mercy shall appeare: but if thou wilt not, I pray thee, rase me  $\text{m}$  out of thy booke, which thou hast written.

33 Then the Lord saide to Moses, Whosoever hath sinned against mee, I will put him out of my  $\text{b}$  booke.

34 So now therefore, bzing the people vnto the place which I commanded thee: beholde, mine Angel shall go before thee, but yet in the day of my visitation I will visite their sinne vpo them.

22 ¶ Thou shalt also obserue the feast of weekes [in the time] of the first fruits of wheat harvest, & the feast of gathering [fruits] in the end of the yere.

23 ¶ Thrice in a yere shall all your men children appeare before the Lord Iehouah God of Israel.

24 For I will cast out the nations before thee, and enlarge thy coastes, so that no man shall desire thy land, when thou shalt come by to appeare before the Lord thy God thide in the yere.

25 ¶ Thou shalt not offer the blood of my sacrifice with leauen, neither shall ought of the sacrifice of the feast of Passeouer be left vnto the morning.

26 The first ripe fruites of thy lande thou shalt bring vnto the house of the Lord thy God: [yet] shalt thou not

27 And the Lord said vnto Moses, Write thou these wordes: for after the tenour of * these wordes I haue made a covenant with thee and with Israel.

28 So he was there with the Lord

Willingly to bring for all þ worke which the Lord had comanded them to make by the hand of Moses, brought a free offering to the Lord.

30 ¶ Then Moses said vnto the children of Israel, Behold, the Lord hath called by name Bezaleel, the sonne of Otri, the sonne of Hur of þ tribe of Judah,

31 And hath filled him [with an excellent spirit of wisdom, of vnderstanding, and of knowledge, & in al manner worke,

32 To finde out curious workes, to worke in golde, and in siluer, & in brasle, 33 And in grauing stones to set them, and in haruing of wood, [euen] to make any manner of fine worke.

34 And he hath put in his heart þ he may teach other: both he, and Aholiab þ sonne of Ahilamach of þ tribe of Dan:

35 The hath he filled with wisdom of heart to worke all manner of cunning and brydded, & needle worke: in blew silke, and in purple, in skarlet, and in fine linen & weauing, euen to doe all manner of worke and subtil inuentions.

CHAP. XXXVI.

¶ The great readines of the people, in so much that he comanded them to cease, 8 The curtaines made, 19 The couerings, 20 The boards, 31 The barres, 35 And the vails,

When brought Bezaleel, & Aholiab, and al cunning men, to whome the Lord gaue wisdom, and vnderstanding, to knowe howe to worke all manner worke for the seruice of the Sanctuarie, according to all that the Lord had comanded.

2 For Moses had called Bezaleel, and Aholiab, & all the wise hearted men, in whose hearts the Lord had giuen wisdom, [euen] as many as their hearts encouraged to come vnto that worke to worke it.

3 And they retained of Moses all þ offering which the children of Israel had brought for þ worke of the seruice of the Sanctuarie, to make it also: they brought still vnto him free gifts every morning.

4 So all the wise men, that wrought all the holy worke, came every man fro his worke which they wrought,

5 And spake to Moses, saying, The people bring to much, [and] more then ynough for the vse of the worke, which the Lord hath comanded to be made.

6 Then Moses gaue a commandement, and they caused it to be proclaimed throughout the hoste, saying, Let neither man nor woman prepare any more worke for the oblation of the Sanctuarie. So the people were stayed from offering.

7 For þ stuffe they had, was sufficient for al the worke to make it, & too much.

8 ¶ All the cunning men therefore among the workmen, made [for the Tabernacle ten curtaines of fine twined linen, and of blew silke, and purple, and skarlet: Cherubims of brydded worke made they vpon them.

9 The length of one curtaine [was] twentie and eight cubites, & the breadth of one curtaine foure cubites: [and] the curtaines were all of one fise.

10 And he coupled fine curtaines together, & other fine coupled he together.

11 And he made strings of blew silke by the edge of one curtaine, in þ seluedge of the coupling: likewise he made on the side of the [other] curtaine in þ seluedge in the second coupling.

12 ¶ Fiftie strings made he in the one curtaine, & fiftie strings made hee in the edge of the [other] curtaine, which was in the second coupling: the strings were set one against another.

13 After, he made fifty taches of gold, & coupled þ curtaines one to another w the taches: [so] was it one Tabernacle.

14 Also he made curtaines of goats heare [for the] couering vpon the Tabernacle: he made them [to the number] of eleuen curtaines, 15 The length of one curtaine [had] thirtie cubites, and the breadth of one curtaine foure cubites: the eleuen curtaines [were] of one fise.

16 And he coupled fine curtains by the selues, and fixe curtains by them selues:

17 Also he made fiftie strings vpo the edge of [one] curtaine in the seluedge in the coupling, and fiftie strings made hee vpon the edge of the [other] curtaine in the second coupling.

18 He made also fiftie taches of brasle to couple þ curtains that it might be one.

19 And he made a couering vpon the paullion of rams skins died red, and a couering of badgers skins above.

20 Likewise he made the boardes for the Tabernacle of Shittim wood to stand vp.

21 The length of a board [was] ten cubites, and the breadth of one board [was] a cubite, and an halfe.

22 One board had two tenons, set in order as the feet of a ladder, one against another: thus made he for al the boardes of the Tabernacle.

Chap. 26, 3, 4.

¶ Which were little pictures with wings in the forme of children.

Chap. 26, 10.

Or, hookes.

Or, paullion.

¶ These two were above the couering of goates heare.

23 So hee made twentie boards for the South side of the Tabernacle, euen full South.

24 And fourtie sockets of siluer made he vnder the twentie boards, two sockets vnder one board for his two tenons, and two sockets vnder another board for his two tenons.

25 Also for the other side of the Tabernacle toward the North, hee made twentie boards, 26 And their fourtie sockets of siluer, two sockets vnder one board, and two sockets vnder another board.

27 Likewise toward the West side of the Tabernacle he made six boards.

28 And two boards made he in the corners of the Tabernacle, for either side, 29 And they were ioyned beneath, & likewise were made sure about with a ring: thus he did to both in both corners.

30 So there were eight boards and their sixteene sockets of siluer, vnder euerie board two sockets.

31 After, he made barres of Shittim wood, five for the boards in the one side of the Tabernacle, 32 And five barres for the boards in the other side of the Tabernacle, and five barres for the boards of the Tabernacle on the side toward the West.

33 And he made the middlest barre to shoothe through the boards, from one end to the other.

34 He overlaid also the boards with golde, and made their rings of golde for places for the barres, and couered the barres with golde.

35 Moreover hee made a baile of blew silke, and purple, and of skarlet, & of fine twined linen: with cherubins of broydyd woike made he it:

36 And made thereunto foure pillars of Shittim, & overlaid them with golde: whose hooks were also of golde, and he cast for them foure sockets of siluer.

37 And he made an hanging for the Tabernacle doore, of blew silke, & purple, and skarlet, and fine twined linen, and neede woike, 38 And the five pillars of it with their hooks, and overlaid their chapiters & their files with golde, but their five sockets were of brafle.

1 The Arke. 6 The Merciseate. 10 The Table. 17 The Candlesticke. 25 The Altar of incense.

After this, Bezaleel made the Arke of Shittim wood, two cubites and an halfe long, and a cubite and an halfe broad, and a cubite and an halfe hie:

2 And overlaid it with fine gold with in and without, and made a croulne of golde to it round about,

3 And cast for it foure rings of golde for the foure corners of it: that is, two rings for the one side of it, and two rings for the other side thereof.

4 Also hee made barres of Shittim wood, and couered them with golde,

5 And put the barres in the rings by the sides of the Arke, to beare the Arke.

6 And he made the Merciseate of pure golde: two cubites and an halfe was the length thereof, and one cubite and an halfe the breadth thereof.

7 And he made two Cherubins of gold, vpon the two endes of the Merciseate: [enen] of woike beaten with the hammer made he them.

8 One Cherub on the one ende, and an other Cherub on the other ende: of the Merciseate made he the Cherubins, at the two endes thereof.

9 And the Cherubins spread out their wings on hie, & couered the Merciseate with their wings, & their faces were one towards another: toward the Merciseate were the faces of the Cherubins.

10 Also he made a Table of Shittim wood: two cubites was the length thereof, and a cubite the breadth thereof, and a cubite and an halfe the height of it.

11 And he overlaid it with fine gold, and made thereto a croulne of gold round about.

12 Also hee made thereto a border of an hand breadth round about, and made vpon the border a croulne of gold round about.

13 And he cast for it foure rings of gold, and put the rings in the foure corners that were in the foure feete thereof.

14 Against the border were rings, as places for barres to beare the Table.

15 And he made the barres of Shittim wood, and couered them with gold to beare the Table.

16 Also hee made the instruments for the Table of pure golde: dishes for it, and incense cups for it, and goblets for it, and couerings for it, wherewith it should be couered.

17 Likewise he made the Candlesticke of pure golde: of woike beaten out with the hammer made he the Candlesticke: and his shaft, and his branch, his bolles, his knops, and his floures were

19 In one branche three bolles made like almondes, a knop & a floure: and in another branche three bolles made like almondes, a knop and a floure: and so throughout the six branches that proceeded out of the Candlesticke.

20 And upon the Candlesticke [were] foure bolles after the facio of almondes, the knops thereof & the floures thereof:

21 That is, vnder euey two branches a knop [made] therof, and a knop vnder the second branche thereof, and a knop vnder the thirde branche thereof, according to the sixe branches comming out of it.

22 Their knops and their branches were of the same: it was all one * beaten worke of pure golde.

23 And he made for it seuen lampes with the snuffers, and snufothes thereof of pure golde.

24 Of a talent of pure golde made he it with all the instruments thereof.

25 Furthermore he made the perfume altar of Shittim wood: the length of it was a cubite, and the breadth of it a cubite [it was square] and two cubites hie, [and] the homes thereof was of the same.

26 And hee covered it with pure golde, both the top and the sides thereof round about, and the homes of it, and made vnto it a crowne of golde round about.

27 And he made two rings of golde for it, vnder the crowne thereof in the two corners of the two sides thereof, to put barres in for to beare it therewith.

28 Also he made the barres of Shittim wood, & ouerlaide them with golde.

29 And he made the holy * anointing oyle, and the swete pure incense after the apoticaries arte.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

1 The Altar of burnt offerings, 8 The brazen Lauer, 9 The Court, 24 The summe of that the people offered.

Also he made the altar of the burnt offering * of Shittim wood: five cubites [was] the length thereof, and five cubites the breadth thereof: [it was] square and three cubites hie.

2 And he made vnto it homes in the foure corners thereof: the homes thereof were of the same, and he ouerlaide it with brasle.

3 Also he made all the instruments of the altar: the * ashpans, & the besomes, and the basins, the fleshhooks, and the censers: all the instruments thereof made he of brasle.

4 Moreover he made a brazen grate wrought like a net to the Altar, vnder the compasse of it beneath in the * mids of it,

5 And cast foure rings of brasle for the foure ends of the grate to put barres in.

6 And he made the barres of Shittim wood, and covered them with brasle.

7 The which barres he put into the rings on the sides of the altar to beare it wth al, & made it * holow within the boardes.

8 Also he made the Lauer of brasle, and the foote of it of brasle of the glasses of the women that did assemble & came together at the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

9 Finally he made the court on the South side full South: the hangings of the court [were] of fine twined linen, hauing an hundred cubites.

10 Their pillars [were] twentie, and their brazen sockets twentie: the hooks of the pillars, & their filets [were] of siluer.

11 And on the Northside [the] hangings were an hundred cubites: their pillars twentie, and their sockets of brasle twentie, the hooks of the pillars and their filets of siluer.

12 On the Westside also [were] hangings of fiftie cubites, their ten pillars with their ten sockets: the hooks of the pillars and their filets of siluer.

13 And toward the Eastside, full East, [were] hangings of fiftie cubites.

22 So Bezaleel the sonne of Uri the sonne of Hur of the tribe of Iudah, made all that the Lord commanded Moses.

23 And to him Oholiab sonne of Ahisamach of the tribe of Dan, a cunning workeman & an embroideryer & a worker of needle worke in blew silke, and in purple, and in skarlet, and in fine linen.

24 All the golde that was occupied in al the worke wrought for the holy place (which was of golde of the offering) was nine and twentie talents, and seuen hundredeth & thirtie shekels, according to the shekel of the Sanctuary.

25 But the siluer of them that were nombred in the Congregation, was an hundredeth talents, and a thousand seuen hundredeth seuentie and five shekels, after the shekel of the Sanctuary.

Or, half: a shekel.

26 A position for a man, that is, half a shekel after the shekel of the Sanctuary, for all them that were nombred from twenty yeere olde and aboue, among six hundredeth thousand, and three thousand, and five hundredeth and fiftie men.

27 Moreover there were an hundredeth talents of siluer, to cast the sockets of the Sanctuary, and the sockets of the vail: an hundredeth sockets of an hundredeth talents, a talent for a socket.

28 But he made the hooks for the pillars of a thousand seuen hundredeth & seuentie and five [shekels], and overlaid their chapters, & made filets about the.

29 Also the baste of the offering was seuentie talents, and two thousand, & foure hundredeth shekels.

30 Whereof he made the sockets to the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and the basen altar, and the basen grate which was for it, with all the instruments of the Altar.

31 And the sockets of the court round about, and the sockets for the court gate, and all the * pines of the Tabernacle, and all the pines of the court round about.

CHAP. XXXIX.

The apparel of Aaron and his sonnes. 32 All that the Lord commanded, was made, and finished, 43 Moses blessed the people.

Moreover they made a garment of ministration to minister in the Sanctuary of blew silke, & purple, & skarlet: they made also holy garments for Aaron, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

Chap. 31. 10.

2 So hee made the Ephod of golde, blew silke, and purple, and skarlet, and fine twined linen.

3 And they did beate the golde into thinne plates, and cut it into byers, to worke it in the blew silke and in the purple, and in the skarlet, and in the fine linen, with broydzed worke.

4 For which they made shoulders to couple together: for it was closed by the two edges thereof.

5 And the broydzed garde of his Ephod that was vpon him, was of the same stuffe, and of like worke: [euen] of golde, of blew silke, and purple, & skarlet, and fine twined linen, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

6 And they wrought two Onyx stones closed in ouches of gold, and graven, as signets are graven, with the names of the children of Israel.

Chap. 28. 9.

7 And put them on the shoulders of the Ephod, as stones for a remembrance of the children of Israel, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

b That is, of

Chap. 28. 12.

8 Also hee made the brest plate of broydzed worke like the worke of the Ephod: [to wit,] of golde, blew silke, & purple, and skarlet, & fine twined linen.

9 They made the brest plate double, and it was square, an had breadth long, and an handbreadth broade: [it was also] double.

10 And they filled it with foure rowles of stones. The order was thus, a Rubie, a Topaze, and a Carbunde in the first rowe:

11 And in the second rowe, an Emerald, a Saphir, and a Diamond:

12 Also in the third rowe, a Turckes, an Achate, and an hematite:

13 Likewise in the fourth rowe, a Chrysolite, an Onix, and a Jasper: closed and set in ouches of golde.

14 So the stones were according to the names of the children of Israel [euen] twelue after their names, graven like signets signets every one after his name according to the twelve tribes.

15 After, they made vpon the best plate cheines at the endes, of wyethen woꝝke [and] pure golde.

16 They made also two bosses of gold, and two golde rings, and put the two rings in þe two corners of the best plate.

17 And they put þe two wyethē cheines of golde in the two rings, in the corners of the best plate.

18 Also the two [other] endes of þe two wyethē cheines they fastened in the two bosses, and put them on the shoulders of the Ephod vpon the forefront of it.

19 Likewise they made two rings of golde, & put them in the two [other] corners of the best plate vpon the edge of it, which was on þe inside of the Ephod.

20 They made also two [other] golde rings, and put them on the two sides of the Ephod, beneath on the foreshide of it, and ouer against his coupling about the boynderd garde of the Ephod.

21 Then they fastened the best plate by his rings vnto þe rings of the Ephod, with a lace of blew silke, that it might be [fast] vpon the boynderd garde of the Ephod, and that the best plate should not be loosed from the Ephod, as the Lorde had commanded Moyses.

22 Moreover, he made the robe of the Ephod of wouen woꝝke, altogether of blew silke.

23 And [the hole of the robe] was in the middes of it, as the collar of the habergeon, with an edge about the collar, that it should not rent.

24 And they made vpon þe skirts of the robe pomegranates, of blew silke, and purple, and skarlet, & fine linen twined.

25 They made also * belles of pure gold, & put the belles betwene the pomegranates vpon the skirts of the robe round about betwene þe pomegranates.

26 A bell and a pomegranate, a bell & a pomegranate rounde about the skirts of the robe to minister in, as the Lorde had commanded Moyses.

27 After, they made coates of fine linen, of wouen woꝝke for Aaron and for his sonnes.

28 And the miter of fine linen, & good: by bonnets of fine linen, and linen * breeches of fine twined linen,

29 And the girdle of fine twined linen, and of blew silke, and purple, and skarlet, [even] of needle woꝝke, as the Lorde had commanded Moyses.

30 Finally they made þe plate for the holy crowne of fine gold, & wrote vpon it a superscription like to þe graving of a signet, * HOLINES TO THE LORD.

31 And they tied vnto it a lace of blew silke to fasten it on hie vpon the miter, as the Lorde had commanded Moyses.

32 Thus was al þe woꝝke of þe Tabernacle, [even] of þe Tabernacle of the Congregation finished: and the childe of Israel dyd according to all that the Lorde had commanded Moyses: so dyd they.

33 Afterwarde they brought the Tabernacle vnto Moyses, the Tabernacle and all his instrumentes, his taches, his boardes, his barres, and his pillars, and his sockets, 34 And the couering of rams skynnes died redden, and the couering of badgers skynnes, and the couering baile.

35 The Arke of the Testimonie, & the barres thereof, and the Mercieseat, 36 The Table, with al þe instrumentes thereof, and the shewbread,

37 The pure Candlesticke, & lampes thereof, [even] the lampes set in order, and all the instrumentes thereof, and the oyle for light:

38 Also the golden Altar & the anointing oyle, and þe sweete incense, and the hanging of the Tabernacle doore, 39 The brazen Altar with his grate of braile, his barres and all his instrumentes, the Laver and his foote.

40 The curtaynes of the court with his pillars, and his sockets, and the hanging to the court gate, [and] his cordes, and his pynnes, and all the instrumentes of the seruice of the Tabernacle, [called] the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

41 Finally, þe ministring garments to serue in þe Sacrifice, & the holy garments for Aaron the Priest, & his sonnes garments to minister in þe Priests office.

42 According to euery poynt that the Lorde had commanded Moyses, so the children of Israel made all the woꝝke.

43 And Moyses beheld all the woꝝke, and behold, they had done it as the Lorde had commanded: so had they done: and Moyses blessed them.

4 Also thou shalt bring in the *Table, and set it in order as it doth require: thou shalt also bring in the Candlesticke, and light his lampes,

5 And thou shalt set the incense Altar of golde before the Arke of the Testimonie, & put the hanging at the doore of the Tabernacle.

6 Moreover, thou shalt set the burnt offering Altar before y<sup>e</sup> doore of the Tabernacle, [called] the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

7 And thou shalt set the Laver betwene the Tabernacle of the Congregation and the Altar, & put water therein.

8 Then thou shalt appoynt the court rounde about, and hang vp the hanging at the court gate.

9 After, thou shalt take the anointing oyle, and anoynt the Tabernacle, and all that is therein, and halow it with all the instruments thereof, that it may be holy.

10 And thou shalt anoynt the Altar of the burnt offering, & all his instruments, and shalt sanctifie the Altar, that it may be an altar most holy.

11 Also thou shalt anoynt the Laver and his foote, and shalt sanctifie it.

12 Then thou shalt bring Aaron and his sonnes vnto the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, & wash them with water.

13 And thou shalt put vpon Aaron the holy garments, and shalt anoynt him, and sanctifie him that hee may minister vnto me in the Priestes office.

14 Thou shalt also bring his sonnes, and clothe them with garments,

15 And shalt anoint the as thou didest anoint their father, that they may minister vnto mee in the Priestes office: for their anointing shalbe [a signe,] that the priesthoode<sup>d</sup> shalbe euertlasting vnto the throughout their generations.

16 So Moses did according to all that the Lord had commanded him: so did he.

17 ¶ Thus was the Tabernacle reared vp y<sup>e</sup> first day of the first moneth in y<sup>e</sup> second yere.

18 Then Moses reared vp the Tabernacle and fastened his sockets, and set vp the boards thereof, and put in the barres of it, and reared vp his pillars,

19 And he spred the couering ouer the Tabernacle, & put the couering of that couering on he aboue it, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

20 ¶ And he tooke and put the<sup>f</sup> Testimonie in the Arke, and put the barres in [the rings] of the Arke, & set the<sup>f</sup> Veruise on he vpon the Arke.

21 He brought also the Arke into the Tabernacle, and hanged by the<sup>f</sup> couering baile, and covered the Arke of the Testimonie, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

22 ¶ Furthermore he put the Table in the Tabernacle of the Congregation in y<sup>e</sup> Northside of the Tabernacle, with out the baile, 23 And set the bread in order before the Lord, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

24 ¶ Also he put the Candlesticke in the Tabernacle of the Congregation, ouer against the Table toward y<sup>e</sup> Southside of the Tabernacle.

25 And he<sup>l</sup> lighted the lampes before the Lord, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

26 ¶ Moreover he set the golden Altar in the Tabernacle of the Congregation before the baile, 27 And burnt sweete incense thereon, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

28 ¶ Also hee hanged by the baile at the<sup>s</sup> doore of the Tabernacle.

29 After, he set the burnt offering Altar [without] the doore of the Tabernacle, [called] the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and offered the burnt offering and the sacrifice thereon, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

30 ¶ Likewise hee set the Laver betwene the Tabernacle of the Congregation and the Altar, and powred water therein to wash with.

31 So Moses, and Aaron, and his sonnes washed their handes and their feete thereat.

32 When they went into the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and when they approached to the Altar, they washed, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

33 Finally, hee reared vp the court rounde about the Tabernacle and the Altar, and hanged by the baile at the court gate: so Moses finished the worke.

oreouer the Lord spake vnto Moyses, saying,

2 Speake vnto the children of Israel, saying, If any shall sinne through ignorance, in any of the commandements of the Lord, (which ought not to be done) but shall doe [contrary] to any of them,

3 If the Priest that is anoynted doe sinne [according to the sinne of the people] then shall hee offer, for his sinne which he hath sinned, a yong bullocke without blemish vnto the Lord for a sinne offering,

4 And he shall bring the bullocke vnto the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation before the Lord, and shall put his hand vpon the bullockes head, and kill the bullocke before the Lord.

5 And the Priest that is anoynted shall take of the bullockes blood, and bring it into the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

6 Then the Priest shall dip his finger in the blood, and sprinkle of the blood seuen times before the Lord, before the bayle of the Sanctuary.

7 The Priest also shall put [some] of the blood before the Lord, vpon the hornes of the altar of sweete incense, which is in the Tabernacle of the Congregation, then shall hee powre all the rest of the blood of the bullock at the foote of the altar of burnt offering, which is at the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

8 And he shall take away all the fat of the bullock for the sinne offering: [to wit,] the fat that couereth the inwardes, and all the fat that is about the inwardes.

9 He shall take away also the two kidneies, and the fat that is vpon them, and vpon the flankes, and the kail vpon the inner with the kidneies,

10 As it was taken away from the bullock of the peace offerings, and the Priest shall burne them vpon the altar of burnt offering.

11 But the skinn of the bullocke, and all his flesh, with his head, and his legs, and his inwardes, & his dung [shall hee beare out.]

12 So he shall carie the whole bullock out of the hoste vnto a cleane place, where the ashes are powdred, and shall burne him on the wood in the fire: where the ashes are cast out, shall hee be burnt.

29 And he shall lay his hande vpon the head of the sinne offering, & slay the sinne offering in place of burnt offering.

30 Then the Priest shall take of the blood thereof with his finger, and put it vpon the hornes of the burnt offering altar, and polvze all the rest of the blood thereof at the foote of the altar, 31 And shall take away all his fat, as the fat of the peace offerings is taken away, and the Priest shall burne it vpon the altar for a sweete savour vnto the Lord, & the Priest shall make an atonement for him, & it shalbe forgiven him.

32 And if hee bring a lambe for his sinne offering, hee shall bring a female without blemish, 33 And shall lay his hand vpon the head of the sinne offering, & he shall slay it for a sinne offering in the place where he shoulde kill the burnt offering.

34 Then the Priest shall take of the blood of the sinne offering with his finger, and put it vpon the hornes of the burnt offering altar, and shal polvze all the rest of the blood thereof at the foote of the altar.

35 And he shall take away all the fat thereof, as the fat of the lambe of peace offerings is taken away: then the Priest shall burne it vpon the altar with the oblations of the Lord made by fire, and the Priest shall make an atonement for him concerning his sinne that hee hath committed, & it shalbe forgiven him.

6 Therefore shall hee bring his trespass offering vnto the Lord for his sinne which he hath committed, [even] a female from the flocke, [be it] a lambe or a shee goate for a sinne offering, and the Priest shall make an atonement for him, concerning his sinne.

7 But * if hee bee not able to bring a sheepe, hee shall bring for his trespass offering hee hath committed, two turtle doves, or two yong pigeons vnto the Lord, one for a sinne offering, and the other for a burnt offering.

10 Also he shall offer the seconde for a burnt offering, as the maner is: so shall the Priest make an atonement for him (for his sinne which he hath committed) and it shall be forgiven him.

11 But if hee * bee not able to bring two turtle doves, or two yong pigeons, then hee that hath sinned, shall bring for his offering, the tenth part of an Ephah of fine flour for a sinne offering, hee shall put none oyle thereto, neither put any incense thereon: for it is a sinne offering.

12 Then shall he bring it to the Priest, and the Priest shall take his handfull of it for the * remembrance thereof, and burne it vpon the altar. With the offerings of the Lord made by fire: [for] it is a sinne offering.

13 So the Priest shall make an atonement for him, as touching his sinne that he hath committed in one of these [pointes], and it shall be forgiven him: and [the remnant] shall be the Priestes, as the meate offering.

14 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

15 If any person transgresse & sinne through ignorance [by taking away] things consecrated vnto the Lord, hee shall then bring for his trespass offering vnto the Lord a ram without blemish out of the flocke, [worth] two shekels of silver by the estimation after the shekel of the Sanctuary, for a trespass offering.

16 So hee shall restore that wherein he hath offended, [in taking away] of the holy thing, and shall put the fifth part more thereto, & giue it vnto the Priest: so the Priest shall make an atonement for him with the ramme of the trespass offering, and it shall be forgiven him.

17 Also if any sinne & do against any of the commandments of the Lord, which ought not to be done, and knowe not and sinne and beare his iniquitie, 18 Then shall he bring a ram without blemish out of the flock, in the estimation [worth] two shekels for a trespass offering vnto the Priest: and the Priest shall make an atonement for him concerning his ignorance wherein he erred, & was not ware: so it shall be forgiven him.

8 ¶ Then the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,

9 Commande Aaron and his sonnes, saying, This is the lawe of the burnt offering, (it is the burnt offering because it burneth vpon the altar all the night into the morning, and the fire burneth on the altar)

10 And the Priest shall put on his linen garment, & shall put on his linen breeches vpon his flesh, and take away the ashes when the fire hath consumed the burnt offering vpon the altar, and he shall put them beside the altar.

11 After he shall put off his garments, and put on other rayment, and carry the ashes forth without the holste into a cleane place.

12 But the fire vpon the altar shall burne thereon [and] neuer bee put out: wherefore the Priest shall burne wood on it euery morning, and lay the burnt offering in order vpon it, & he shall burne thereon the fat of the peace offerings.

13 The fire shall euer burne vpon the altar, [and] neuer goe out.

14 ¶ Also this is the lawe of the meate offering, which Aarons sonnes shall offer in the presence of the Lord, before the altar.

15 He shall enen take thence his handfull of fine flour of the meate offering and of the oyle, and all the incense which [is] vpon the meate offering, and shall burne it vpon the altar for a sweet savour, [as] a memoriall thereof into the Lord:

16 But the rest thereof shall Aaron and his sonnes eat: it shall be eat with out leauen in the holy place: in the court of the Tabernacle of the Congregation they shall eat it.

17 It shall not be baked with leauen: I haue given it for their portion of mine offerings made by fire: for it is as the sinne offering and as the trespass offering.

18 All the males among the children of Aaron shall eat of it: It shall be a statute for ever in your generations concerning the offerings of the Lord, made by fire: Whatsoever toucheth it shall be holy,

19 ¶ Again the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,

20 This is the offering of Aaron and his sonnes, which they shall offer into the Lord in the day when he is anointed: the tenth part of an Ephah of fine flour for a meate offering perpetual: halfe of it in the morning, & halfe thereof at night.

21 In the frying pan it shall be made with oyle: thou shalt bring it fried, [and] shalt offer the baken pieces of the meate offering for a sweet savour into the Lord.

22 And the Priest that is anointed in his steade, among his sonnes shall offer it: [it is] the Lordes ordinance for ever, it shall be burnt altogether.

23 For euery meate offering of the Priest shall be burnt altogether, it shall not be eaten.

24 ¶ Furthermore, the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,

25 Speake unto Aaron, and unto his sonnes, & say, This is the lawe of the sinne offering. In the place where the burnt offering is killed, shall the sinne offering be killed before the Lord: [for] it is most holy.

26 The Priest that offereth this sinne offering, shall eat it: in the holy place shall it be eaten, in the court of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

27 Whatsoever shall touche the flesh thereof shall be holy: and when there droppeth of the blood thereof vpon a garment, thou shalt wash that whereon it droppeth in the holy place.

28 Also the earthen pot that it is sodden in, shall be broken, but if it be sodden in a brasen pot, it shall both be scoured & washed with water.

29 All the males among the Priests shall eat thereof, [for] it is most holy.

30 But no sinne offering, whose blood is brought into the Tabernacle of the Congregation to make reconciliation in the holy place, shall be eaten, [but] shall be burnt in the fire.

10 And every meate offering mingled with oyle, and that is drie, shall pertaine vnto all the somes of Aaron, to all alike.

11 Furthermore, this is the labe of the peace offerings, which he shall offer vnto the Lord.

12 If he offer it to  $\text{g}^{\text{e}}$  give thanks, then he shall offer for his thanks offering, vbleaunened cakes mingled with oyle, and vbleaunened wafers anointed with oyle, and fine flour froyed [with] the cakes mingled with oyle.

13 He shall offer also his offering with cakes of leaunened bread, for his peace offerings, to give thanks.

14 And of all the sacrifice he shall offer one [cake] for an heaue offering vnto the Lord, [and] it shall be the Priestes that sprinkle  $\text{p}^{\text{r}}$  blood of the peace offerings.

15 Also the flesh of his peace offerings, for thanksgiving, shall be eate the same day that it is offered: he shall leaue nothing thereof vntill the morning.

16 But if the sacrifice of his offering be  $\text{h}^{\text{e}}$  a  $\text{b}^{\text{e}}$  bolue, or a free offering, it shall be eate the same day that he offereth his sacrifice: and so in the morning the residue thereof shall be eaten.

Aaron the Priest and vnto his sonnes by a statute for euer from among the children of Israel.

35 ¶ This is the <sup>a</sup> anointing of Aaron, and the anoynting of his sonnes, concerning <sup>b</sup> offerings of the Lord made by fire, in the day when he presented them to serue in <sup>c</sup> priests office vnto the Lord.

36 The which [portions] the Lord commaunded to giue them in the day that he anoynted them from among the children of Israel, by a statute for euer in their generations.

37 This is [also] the lawe of <sup>d</sup> burnt offering, of the meate offering, and of the sinne offering, & of the trespasse offering, and of the <sup>e</sup> confederations, and of the peace offerings,

38 which the Lord commaunded Moses in the mount Sinai, when he commaunded the children of Israel to offer their gifts vnto the Lord in the wilderness of Sinai.

CHAP. VIII

12 The anoynting of Aaron, and his sonnes with the sacrifice concerning the same.

¶ Afterwarde the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

Exod. 28. 1, 4.

2 *Take Aaron & his sonnes with him, & the garments & the <sup>a</sup> anoynting oyle, and a bullocke for <sup>b</sup> sinne offering, & two rams, and a basket of breauened bread,

Exod. 30. 24.

3 And assemble all the companie at the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

4 So Moses did as the Lord had commaunded him, and the companie was assembled at the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

Exod. 29. 4.

5 Then Moses layde vnto the companie, * This is the thing which the Lord hath commaunded to do.

6 And Moses brought Aaron & his sonnes, and washed them with water.

7 And put vpon him the coate, and girded him with a girdle, and clothed him with the robe, and put the Ephod on him, which he girded with the breaſtplate of the Ephod, and bounde it vnto him therewith.

Exod. 28. 30.

8 After he put the breaſtplate thereon, and put in the breaſt plate <sup>a</sup> the Urim and the Thummim.

9 Also he put <sup>b</sup> niter vpon his head, and put vpon the niter on the forefront the golden plate, [and] the holy crown, as the Lord had commaunded Moses.

10 ¶ Now Moses had taken <sup>c</sup> anoynting oyle, & anointed the <sup>d</sup> Tabernacle, & all that was therein, & sanctified them.

11 And sprinkled thereof vpon the altar seuen times, and anointed the altar and all his instruments, and the lauer, and his foote to sanctifie them)

12 *And he poured of the anoynting oyle vpon Aarons head, and anointed him to sanctifie him.

Ecclus. 45. 15. psal. 133. 2.

13 After, Moses brought Aarons sonnes, and put coates vpon them, and girded them with girdles, & put bonets vpon their heades, as the Lord had commaunded Moses.

14 *Then he brought <sup>e</sup> bullocke for the sinne offering, & Aaron & his sonnes put their handes vpon the head of the bullocke for the sinne offering.

Exod. 29. 1. chap. 9. 2.

15 And Moses slewe him, and tooke the blood, which he put vpon <sup>f</sup> hornes of the Altar rounde about with his finger, and purified the Altar, and poured [the rest] of the blood at the foote of the Altar: so he sanctified <sup>g</sup> it, to make reconciliation vpon it.

16 Then he tooke all the fatte <sup>h</sup> was vpon the inwards, and the kail of the liuer & the two kidneis, with their fatte, which Moses burned vpon the Altar.

17 But the bullocke and his <sup>i</sup> hide, and his flesh, and his dung, he burnt with fire without the hoſte, as the Lord had commaunded Moses.

18 ¶ Also he brought the ramme for the burnt offering, and Aaron and his sonnes put their handes vpon the head of the ramme.

19 So Moses killed it, & sprinkled the blood vpon the Altar round about.

20 And Moses cut <sup>j</sup> ram in pieces, & burnt the head with the pieces, & the fat,

21 And washed the inwards and the legges in water: so Moses burnt the ram euery whit vpon the Altar: [for] it was a burnt offering for a sweet sauour, which was made by fire vnto the Lord, as the Lord had commaunded Moses.

22 ¶ After, he brought the other ram, the ramme of confederations, and Aaron and his sonnes layd their hands vpon the head of the ramme,

Exod. 29. 31.

23 which Moses <sup>k</sup> slewe, and tooke of the blood of it, and put it vpon the lap of Aarons right eare, & vpon the thumb of his right hande, and vpon the great toe of his right foote.

24 Then Moses brought Aarons sonnes, & put of the blood on the lappe of their right eares, & vpon the thumbes of

of their right handes, & vpon the great toes of their right fecte, & Moses sprinkled [the rest] of the blood vpon the altar round about.

25 And he tooke the fat & the rumpe, and all the fatte that was vpon the inwardes, and the kal of the liuer, and the two kidneis with their fatte, & the right shoulder.

26 Also he tooke of the basket of the unleauned bread that was before the Lord, one unleauned cake and a cake of oyled bread, and one wafer, and put them on the fatte, and vpon the ryght shoulder.

Exod. 29. 24.

27 So he put * all in Aarons handes, and in his sonnes handes, and shooke it to and fro before the Lord.

28 After, Moses tooke them out of their handes, and burnt them vpon the altar for a burnt offering: [for] these were consecrations for a swete sauour which were made by fire vnto the Lord.

Exod. 29. 16.

29 Likewise Moses tooke the breast of the ramme of consecrations, & shooke it to and fro before the Lord: [for] it was Moses' portion, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

30 Also Moses tooke of the anoynting oyle, and of the blood which was vpon the Altar, and sprinkled it vpon Aaron, vpon his garments, & vpon his sonnes, and on his sonnes garments with him: so hee sanctified Aaron, his garments, and his sonnes, & his sonnes garments with him.

g At the doore of the court, Exod. 29. 32. chap. 24. 9.

31 ¶ Afterwarde Moses sayde vnto Aaron and his sonnes. Seethe the flesh at the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and there * eate it with the bread that is in the basket of consecrations, as I commanded, saying, Aaron and his sonnes shall eate it, 32 But that which remaineth of the flesh & of the bread, shall ye burne w fire.

Exod. 29. 35.

33 And ye shall not depart from the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation seuen dayes, vntill the dayes of your consecrations be at an ende: * for seuen dayes, [sayde the Lord,] shall he * consecrate you,

† Ebr. fill your hands, † Or, as I haue done,

34 As he hath done this day: [to] the Lord hath commanded to doe, to make an atonement for you.

35 Therefore shall ye abide at the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation day and night, seuen daies, & shal keepe the watch of the Lord, that ye die not: for so I am commanded,

36 So Aaron and his sonnes did all things which the Lord had commanded by the hand of Moses.

h By commission giuen to Moses,

CHAP. IX.

8 The first offerings of Aaron. 23 Aaron blesteth the people. 23 The glozie of the Lord is shewed. 24 The fire cometh from the Lord.

And in the eight daye Moses called Aaron and his sonnes, and the Elders of Israel:

a After their consecration: for 8 seuen dayes before, the priestes were consecrate. Exod. 29. 1.

2 Then he sayde vnto Aaron, Take thee a young calfe for a <sup>b</sup> sinne offering, & a ram for a burnt offering, [both] without blemish, and bring [them] before the Lord.

b Aard entirely into the pollution of the priesthoode and offereth 4 foure principal sacrifices: the burnt offering, 3 sinne offerings, 3 peace offerings, & the meate offerings.

3 And vnto the childre of Israel thou shalt speake, saying, Take ye an hee goate for a sinne offering, and a calfe, and a lambe, both of a yeere olde, without blemish for a burnt offering:

4 Also a bullocke, & a ram for peace offerings, to offer before the Lord, and a meate offering mingled with oyle: for to day the Lord wil appeare vnto you.

5 ¶ Then they brought that which Moses commanded before the Tabernacle of the Congregation, & all the assemblie dwelwe nere: & stood before the Lord.

c Before the altar, where his glozy appeared,

6 [For Moses had sayde, This is the thing, which the Lord commanded that ye should doe, and the glozie of the Lord shall appeare vnto you]

7 Then Moses sayde vnto Aaron, Dwaue nere to the Altar, and offer thy sinne offering, and thy burnt offering, and make an atonement for thee and for the people: offer also the offering of the people, and make an atonement for them, as the Lord hath commanded.

d Read for the understanding of this place, Heb. 5. 3. and 7. 27.

8 ¶ Aaron therefore went vnto the Altar, and killed the calfe of the sinne offering, which was for him selfe.

9 And the sonnes of Aaron brought the blood vnto him, and he dypt his finger in the blood, & put it vpon the hornes of the altar, and polshed [the rest] of the blood at the foote of the Altar.

10 But the fat and the kidneis and the kall of the liuer of the sinne offering, hee burnt vpon the Altar, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

e That is, he sayd them in order, and so they were burnt when the Lord sent downe fire.

11 The flesh also & the hide he burnt with fire without the holte.

12 After, he slewe the burnt offering, and Aarons sonnes brought vnto him the blood, which he sprinkled rounde about vpon the Altar.

13 Also they brought the burnt offering vnto him with the pecies thereof, & the head, & he burnt [them] vpon the Altar.

14 Like

f All this must be vnderstande of the preparation of the sacrifices which were burnt after verse 24.

14 Likewise he did wash <sup>f</sup> inwards and the legges, and <sup>f</sup> burnt [them] vpon
the burnt offering on the Altar.

15 ¶ Then he offered the peoples offering, and tooke a goate, which was the sinne offering for the people, and slew it, and offered it for sinne, as the first:

16 So he offered the burnt offering, and prepared it, according to the maner.

17 He presented also the meat offering, and filled his hand thereof, and *beside the burnt sacrifice of the morning hee burnt [this] vpon the Altar.

18 He helve also the bullocke, and the ram for the peace offerings, that was for the people, and Aarons sonnes brought vnto him the blood, which he sprinkled vpon the Altar round about.

19 With the fatte of the bullocke, and of the rani, the rumpe, and that which couereth the inwards and the kidneis, and the gall of the liver.

20 So they laid y<sup>e</sup> fat vpon y<sup>e</sup> breasts, and he burnt the fatte vpon the Altar.

21 But the <sup>s</sup> breastes and the right Shoulder Aaron shooke to and fro before the Lorde, as the Lorde had commaunded Moses.

22 So Aaron lift by his hande toward the people, and blessed them, and came downe from offering of the sinne offring, and the burnt offering, and the peace offerings.

23 After, Moses and Aaron went in to the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and came out, and <sup>1</sup> blessed the people, * and the glory of the Lord appeared to all the people.

24. * And there came a fire out from the Lode and consumed vpon the Altar the burnt offering and the fat: which when all the people sawe, they gaue thanks and fell on their faces.

CHAP. X.

2 Nadab & Abihu are burnt, 6 Israel mourneth for thē, but the Priests might not. 9 The Priests are forbidden wine.

BU<sup>t</sup> Nadab and Abihu, the sones of Aaron, tooke either of them his censoz, & put fire therein, & put incense thereupon, and offered strange fire before the Lord, which he had not commanded the 2 Therefore a fire went out from the Lord, and deuoured them: so they dyed before the Lord.

3 Then Moſes ſayde vnto Aaron,
This is it that the Lorde ſpake, ſaying,
I will be <sup>b</sup> ſanctified in them that come neere me, and before al the people I wil be glorified : but Aaron helde his peace.

4 And Moses called Bilhah & Elizabeth the sonnes of Uzziel, the vncle of Aaron, and sayde vnto them, Come neere, cary your brethren from before the Sanctuarie out of the hoste.

§ Then they went, and carryed them in their coats out of the hoste, as Moses had commanded.

6 After, Moſes ſayde vnto Aaron and vnto Eleazar and Ithamar his

7 And goe not ye out from the doore of the Tabernacle of the Cōgregation, least ye dye: for the anoynting oyle of the Lorde [is] vpon you: and they did according to Moyses commaundement.

8 And the Lord spake vnto Aaron, saying,

9 Thou shalt not drinke wine nor strong drinke, thou, nor thy sones with thee, whē ye come into the Tabernacle of the Congregation, leaſt ye dye: [this

12 ¶ Then Moses saide vnto Aaron and vnto Eleazar and to Ithamar his sonnes that were left, Take ye meate offering that remaineth of the offerings of ye Lord, made by fire, & eat it without leauen beside the altar: for it is most holy:

13 And ye shal eat it in the holy place, because it is thy duetie and thy sommes duetie of the offerings of the Lord made by fire : for so I am commanded.

14 Also the * shaken breast and the

CHAP. XI.

¶ Of beastes, fishes and birdes, which be cleane, and which be vncleane.

¶ After, the Lorde spake vnto Moses and to Aaron, saying vnto them,

2 Speake vnto the children of Israel, & say, * These are the beastes which ye shall eate, among all the beastes that are on the earth.

3 Whatsoever parteth the hoofe, and is clouen footed, and cheweth the cud among the beastes, that shal ye eate:

4 But of them that chewe the cud, or deuide the hoofe onely, of them ye shall not eate: as the camel, because he cheweth the cud, and deuiderth not the hoofe, he shalbe vncleane vnto you.

5 Likewise the conie, because he cheweth the cud and deuiderth not the hoofe, he shalbe vncleane to you.

6 Also the hare, because he cheweth the cud, and deuiderth not the hoofe, he shalbe vncleane to you.

7 * And the swine, because he parteth the hoofe & is clouen footed, but cheweth not the cud, he shalbe vncleane to you.

8 Of their flesh shall ye not eate, and their carkeise shall ye not touche: [for] they shalbe vncleane to you.

9 ¶ These shal ye eate, of all that are in the Waters: Whatsoever hath finnes and scales in the waters, in the seas, or in the riuers, them shal ye eate.

10 But all that haue not finnes nor scales in the seas, or in the riuers, of all that moueth in the waters, & of all liuing things that are in the waters, they shalbe an abomination vnto you.

11 They, I say, shalbe an abomination to you: ye shal not eate of their flesh, but shal abhorre their carkeise.

12 Whatsoever hath not finnes nor scales in the waters, that shalbe abomination vnto you.

13 ¶ These shal ye haue also in abomination among the foules, they shal not be eaten: [for] they are an abomination, the eagle, and the goshauke, and the osprey:

14 Also the vultur, and the kite after his kinde,

15 And all rauens after their kinde: 16 The ostrich also, and the night crowe, and the leameaw, & the hauke after his kinde:

17 The little owle also, and the cormorant, and the great owle.

18 Also the redhanke and the pellicane, and the swanne:

19 The storke also, the heron after his kinde, and the lapwing, and the backe:

20 Also euery foule that creepeth [ & ] goeth vpon all foure, such shalbe an abomination vnto you.

21 Yet these shal ye eate: of euery foule that creepeth, [and] goeth vpon all foure which haue their feete and legs all of one to leape withall vpon the earth, 22 Of them ye shall eate these, the grasshopper after his kind, & the solean after his kind, the bargol after his kind, and the hagab after his kinde.

23 But all [other] foules that creepe [and] haue foure feete, they shalbe abomination vnto you.

24 For by such ye shall be polluted: Whosoever toucheth their carkeise, shal be vncleane vnto the euening.

25 Whosoever also beareth of their carkeise, shal wash his clothes, and be vncleane vntil euen.

26 Euery beast that hath clawes deuided, & is [not] clouen footed, nor cheweth the cud, such shalbe vncleane vnto you: euery one that toucheth them, shal be vncleane.

27 And whatsoever goeth vpon his pawes among all manner beastes that goeth on all foure, such shalbe vncleane vnto you: who so doeth touch their carkeise shalbe vncleane vntil the euen.

30 Also the rat, and the lizard, and the chameleon, and the skellie, & the molle.

31 These shall be vncleane to you among all that creepe: whosoever doeth touch them when they be dead, shall be vncleane vntill the euen.

32 Also whatsoever any of the dead carkeises of them doeth fall vpon, shall be vncleane, whether it be vessel of wood, or raiment, or skinne, or sarkie: whatsoever befall it be that is occupied, it shall be put in the water as vncleane vntill the euen, and [so] be purified.

36 Yet the fountaines & welles where there is plenty of water shall be cleane: but that which toucheth their carkeises shall be vncleane.

37 And if there fall of their dead carkeises vpon any seede, which bleseth to be sown, it shall be cleane.

38 But if any <sup>l</sup> water be polvred vpon the seede, and there fall of their dead carkeises thereon, it shall be vncleane vnto you.

39 If fall any beast, whereof ye may eat, dye, he that toucheth the carkeises thereof shall be vncleane vntill the euen.

40 And he that eateth of the carkeises of it, shall wash his clothes & be vncleane vntill the euen: he also that beareth the carkeises of it, shall wash his clothes, and be vncleane vntill the euen.

41 Every creeping thing therefore that creepeth vpon the earth shall be an abomination, and [not] be eaten.

42 Whatsoever goeth vpon <sup>p</sup> breast, and whatsoever goeth vpon all foure, or that hath many feete among all creeping things that creepe vpon the earth, ye shall not eat of them, for they shall be abomination.

43 Ye shall not pollute your selues with any thing that creepeth, neither make your selues vncleane with them, neither defile your selues thereby: ye shall not, I say, be defiled by them, 44 For I am the Lord your God: be sanctified therefore, and be <sup>m</sup> holy, for I am holy, and defile not your selues with any creeping thing, that creepeth vpon the earth.

45 For I am the Lord that brought you out of the land of Egypt, to be your God, and that you should be holy, for I am holy.

46 This is the lawe of bestes, and of foules, and of every living thing that moueth in the waters, & of every thing that creepeth vpon the earth:

47 That there may be a difference betwene the vncleane & cleane, and betwene the beast that may be eaten, and the beast that ought not to be eaten.

CHAP. XII.

2 A lawe how women should be purged after their deliuerance.

And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

2 Speake vnto the children of Israel, and say, when a woman hath brought forth seede, & borne a man child, she shall be vncleane <sup>a</sup> seven dayes, like as she is vncleane when she is put apart for her <sup>b</sup> diseafe.

3 (* And in the eighth day, the foreskin of the childes flesh shall be circumcised)

4 And she shall continue in the blood of her purifying three & thirty dayes: she shall touch no <sup>c</sup> halowed thing, nor come into the <sup>d</sup> Sanctuarie, vntill the time of her purifying be out.

5 But if she beare a mayd child, then she shall be vncleane two <sup>e</sup> weekes, as when she hath her diseafe: and she shall continue in the blood of her purifying three seere and sixe dayes.

6 Purge when the dayes of her purifying are out (Whether it be for a sonne or for a daughter) she shall bring to the Priest a lambe of one yeere olde for a burnt offering, and a young pigeon or a turtle doue for a sinne offering, vnto the doore of the <sup>f</sup> Tabernacle of the Congregation,

7 who shall offer it before the Lord, and make an atonement for her: so she shall be purged of the issue of her blood, this is the lawe for her that hath borne a male or female.

8 But if she <sup>g</sup> be not able to bring a lambe, she shall bring two <sup>h</sup> turtles, or two yong pigeons: the one for a burnt offering,

CHAP. XIII.

2 What considerations the Priest ought to observe in judging the leprosie, 29 The blacke spot of skab, 47 and the leprosie of the garment.

Moreover the Lord spake unto Moses, & to Aaron, saying, 2 The man that shall have in the skin of his flesh a swelling or a skab, or a white spot, so that in the skin of his flesh it be like the plague of leprosie, then he shall be brought unto Aaron the Priest, or unto one of his sonnes the Priests,

3 And the Priest shall looke on the soze in the skin of [his] flesh: if the heare in the soze be turned into white, & the soze seeme to be lower then the skin of his flesh, it is a plague of leprosie: therefore the Priest shall looke on him, and pronounce him vncleane:

4 But if the white spot be in the skin of his flesh, and seeme not to be lower then the skin, nor the heare thereof be turned into white, then the Priest shall shut vp [him that hath] the plague, seven dayes.

5 After, the Priest shall looke vpon him the seventh day: and if the plague seeme to him to abide still, & the plague grow not in the skin, the Priest shall shut him vp yet seven dayes more.

6 Then the Priest shall looke on him againe the seventh day, and if the plague be darke, and the soze growe not in the skin, then the Priest shall pronounce him cleane, for it is a skab: therefore he shall wash his clothes and be cleane.

7 But if the skab growe more in the skin, after that he is seene of the Priest, for to be purged, he shall be seene of the Priest yet againe.

8 Then the Priest shall consider, and if the skab growe in the skin, then the Priest shall pronounce him vncleane: [for] it is leprosie.

9 When the plague of leprosie is in a man, he shall be brought unto the Priest,

10 And the Priest shall see [him]: and if the swelling be white in the skin, and haue made the heare white, and there be raw flesh in the swelling,

11 It is an olde leprosie in the skin of his flesh: and the Priest shall pronounce him vncleane, and shall not shut him vp, for he is vncleane.

12 Also if the leprosie breake out in the skin, & the leprosie couer all the skin of the plague, from his head euen to his feete, wheresoeuer the Priest looketh, 13 Then the Priest shall consider: and if the leprosie couer all his flesh, he shall pronounce the plague to be cleane, because it is all turned into whitenes: [so] he shall be cleane.

14 But if there be rawe flesh on him when he is seene, he shall be vncleane.

15 For the Priest shall see the rawe flesh, and declare him to be vncleane: [for] the rawe flesh is vncleane, [therefore] it is the leprosie.

16 Or if the rawe flesh change and be turned into white, then he shall come to the Priest, 17 And the Priest shall beholde him: and if the soze be changed into white, then the Priest shall pronounce the plague cleane, [for] it is cleane.

18 If the flesh also in whose skinne there is a bile and is healed,

19 And in the place of the bile there be a white swelling, or a white spot somewhat reddish, it shall be seene of the Priest.

20 And when the Priest seeth it, if it appeare lower then the skinne, and the heare thereof be changed into white, the Priest then shall pronounce him vncleane: [for] it is a plague of leprosie, broken out in the bile.

21 But if the Priest looke on it, and there be no white heares therein, and if it be not lower then the skin, but be darker, then the Priest shall shut him vp seven dayes.

22 And if it be spread abroade in the flesh, the Priest shall pronounce him vncleane, [for] it is a soze.

23 But if the spot continue in his place, and grow not, it is a burning bile: therefore the Priest shall declare him to be cleane.

24 If there be any flesh, in whose skinne there is an hot burning, and the quick flesh of the burning haue a white spot, somewhat reddish or pale,

25 Then the Priest shall looke vpon it: and if the heare in that spot be changed into white, & it appeare lower then the skinne, it is a leprosie broken out in the burning: therefore the Priest shall pronounce him vncleane: [for] it is the plague of leprosie.

26 But if the Priest looke on it, and there be no white heare in the spot, and be no lower then the [other] skin, but be darker, then the Priest shall shut him vp seven dayes.

<sup>g</sup> None were exempted, but if the Priest pronounced him vncleane, he was put out from among the people: as appeareth by sparie & phylis, 23. 12. 14. and by king Cizziah, 2. Chron. 26. 20.

<sup>h</sup> If he haue a white spot in place, where the burning was, and was after healed,

27 After, the Priest shal looke on him the seuenth day: if it be growen abroad in his skinne, then the Priest shall pronounce him vnclane: for it is the plague of leprosie.

28 And if the spot abide in his place, not groweing in the skin, but is darke, it is a sining of the burning: the Priest shal therefore declare him cleane, for it is the dyping by of the burning.

29 ¶ If also a man or woman hath a soze on the head or in the beard,

30 Then the Priest shall see the soze: and if it appeare lower then the skinne, and there be in it a small yelow heare, then the Priest shall pronounce him vnclane: for it is a blacke spot, and leprosie of the head or of the beard.

31 And if the Priest looke on the soze of the blacke spot, & if it seeme not lower then the skin, nor haue any blacke heare in it, then the Priest shall shut vp him, that hath the soze of the blacke spotte, seuen dayes.

32 After, in the seuenth day the Priest shal looke on the soze: and if the blacke spot growe not, & there be in it no yelow heare, & the blacke spot seeme not lower then the skin,

33 Then he shall be shauen, but [the place] of the black spot shal he not haue: but the Priest shal shut vp him, that hath the blacke spot, seuen dayes more.

34 And the seuenth day the Priest shal looke on the blacke spot: and if the black spot growe not in the skinne, nor seeme lower then the [other] skinne, then the Priest shal cleanse him, and he shall wash his clothes, and be cleane.

35 But if the blacke spot growe abroad in the flesh after his cleansing, 36 Then the Priest shal looke on it: and if the blacke spot growe in the skin, the Priest shal not seeke for the yelow heare: for he is vnclane.

37 But if the blacke spot seeme to him to abide, and that blacke heare growe therein, the blacke spot is healed, he is cleane, and the Priest shal declare him to be cleane.

38 ¶ Furthermore if there be many white spottes in the skin of the flesh of man or woman, 39 Then the Priest shal consider: and if the spots in the skinne of their flesh be somewhat darke and white withall, it is but a white spotte broken out in the skin: therefore he is cleane.

40 And the man whose heare is fall-len off his head, [and] is balde, is cleane.

41 And if his head lose the heare on the forepart, [and] be balde before, he is cleane.

42 But if there be in the balde head, or in the balde forehead a white reddish soze, it is a leprosie springing in his balde head, or in his balde forehead.

43 Therefore the Priest shall looke vpon it, & if the rising of the soze be white reddish in his balde head, or in his balde forehead, appearing like leprosie in the skin of the flesh, 44 He is a leper and vnclane: therefore the Priest shall pronounce him altogether vnclane: for the soze is in his head.

45 The leper also in whom the plague is, shall haue his clothes rent, and his head bare, and shall put a cowering vpon his lips, and shal crye, I am vnclane, I am vnclane.

46 As long as the disease shal be vpon him, he shalbe polluted, for he is vnclane: he shal dwell alone, without the campe shal his habitation be.

47 ¶ Also the garment that the plague of leprosie is in, whether it be a wollen garment or a linen garment,

48 Whether it be in the warpe or in the woofe of linen or of wollen, either in a skin, or in any thing made of skin,

49 And if the soze be greene or somewhat reddish in the garment or in the skin, or in the warpe, or in the woofe, or in any thing that is made of skin, it is a plague of leprosie and shalbe shewed vnto the Priest.

50 Then the Priest shal see the plague, and shut vp [it that hath] the plague, seuen dayes, 51 And shal looke on the plague the seuenth day: if the plague growe in the garment or in the warpe, or in the woof, or in the skinne, or in any thing that is made of skin, that plague is a freating leprosie and vnclane.

52 And he shal burne the garment, or the warpe, or the woofe, whether it be woll or linen, or any thing that is made of skin, wherein the plague is: for it is a freating leprosie, [therefore] it shal be burnt in the fire.

53 If the Priest yet see that the plague growe not in the garment, or in the woofe, or in whatsoever thing of skin it be,

54 Then the Priest shal command them to wash the thing wherein the plague plague is, and hee shall shut it by seven dayes more.

55 Again the Priest shall looke on the plague, after it is washed: & if the plague haue not changed his colour, though the plague spread no further, it is vncleane: thou shalt burn it in the fire, for it is a feat inward, whether the spot be in the bare place of the whole, or in part thereof.

56 And if the Priest see that the plague be darker, after that it is washed, he shall cut it out of his garment, or out of the skin, or out of the warpe, or out of the woofe.

57 And if it appeare still in the garment or in the warpe, or in the woofe, or in any thing made of skinne, it is a spreading leproie: thou shalt burne the thing wherein the plague is, in the fire.

58 If thou hast washed the garment or the warpe, or the woofe, or whatsoever thing of skinne it be, if the plague be departed therefrom, then shall it bee washed: the second time, and be cleane.

59 This is the lawe of the plague of leprosie in a garment of wollen or linen, or in the warpe, or in the woofe, or in any thing of skinne, to make it cleane or vncleane.

CHAP. XIII.

3 The cleansing of the leper, 34 And of the house that he is in.

And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

2 This is the law of the leper in the day of his cleansing: that is, he shall be brought vnto the Priest,

3 And the Priest shall goe out of the campe, & the Priest shall consider him: and if the plague of leprosie be healed in the leper,

4 Then shall the Priest commaunde to take for him that is cleansed, two sparowes aliuē and cleane, and cedar wood and a skarlet lace, and hyssop.

5 And the Priest shall commaunde to kill one of the byrdes ouer pure water in an earthen vessel.

6 After, he shall take the liue sparow with the cedar wood, & the skarlet lace, and the hyssop, and shall dip them and the liuing sparow in the blood of the sparow slaine, ouer the pure water,

7 And he shall sprinkle vpon him that must bee cleansed of his leprosie, seven times, and cleanse him, and shall let goe the liue sparow into the broad field.

8 Then hee that shall be cleansed, shall wash his clothes, and haue off all his heare, and wash himselfe in water, so he shall be cleane: after that shall hee come into the hosie, but shall tary without his tent seven dayes.

9 So in the seventh day he shall haue off all his heare, both his head, and his beard, and his eye brydes: euen all his heare shall he haue, and shall wash his clothes and shall wash his flesh in water: so he shall be cleane.

10 Then in the eighth day hee shall take two hee lambes without blemish, and an ewe lambe of a yeere olde without blemish, & three tenth deales of fine flower for a meat offering, mingled with oyle, and a pinte of oyle.

11 And the Priest shall make him cleane shall bring the man which is to be made cleane, and those things, before the Lord, at the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

12 Then the Priest shall take one lambe, and offer him for a trespass offering, and the pinte of oyle, and shake them to and fro before the Lord.

13 And hee shall kill the lambe in the place where the sinne offering & the burnt offering are slaine, euen in the holy place: for as the sinne offering is of Priests, so is the trespass offering: for it is most holy.

14 So the Priest shall take of the blood of the trespass offering, and put it vpon the lap of the right eare of him that shall be cleansed, and vpon the thumbe of his right hande, and vpon the great toe of his right foote.

15 The Priest shall also take of the pinte of oyle, and polye it into the palme of his left hand,

16 And the Priest shall dip his right finger in the oyle that is in his left hand, and sprinkle of the oyle with his finger seven times before the Lord.

17 And of the rest of the oyle that is in his hande, shall the Priest put vpon the lap of the right eare of him that is to be cleansed, & vpon the thumbe of his right hand, and vpon the great toe of his right foote, where the blood of the trespass offering was put.

18 But the remnant of the oyle that is in the Priestes hand, hee shall polye vpon the head of him that is to be cleansed: so the Priest shall make an atonement for him before the Lord.

19 And the Priest shall offer the sinne offering and make an atonement for him that is to be cleansed of his vncleannes: then after shall he kill the burnt offering.

20 So the Priest shall offer the burnt offering and the meate offering vpon the 33 ¶ The Lord also spake vnto Moses and to Aaron, saying, l This declarplague nor pu-

without Gods providence and his sending.

34 When ye be come vnto the land of Canaan which I giue you in possession, if I sende the plague of leprosie in an house of the land of your possession,

35 Then hee that oweth the house, shall come and tell the Priest, saying, Hee thinke there is like a plague of leprosie in the house.

36 Then the Priest shall command them to empty the house before the Priest goe into it to see the plague, that all that is in the house be not made vnclane, and then shall the Priest goe in to see the house,

37 And hee shall marke the plague: and if the plague be in the walles of the house, and that there be deepe spots, greenish or reddish, which seeme to be lower then the wall, ll Or, blacknes, streakes.

38 Then the Priest shall go out of the house to the doore of the house, and shall cause to shut vp the house seuen dayes.

39 So the Priest shall come againe the seuenth day: and if hee see that the plague be increased in the walles of the house, 40 Then the Priest shall command them to take away the stones wherein the plague is, and they shall cast them into a foule place without the cite.

ll Or, polluted.

41 Also hee shall cause to scrape the house within rounde about, and poure the dust, that they haue pared off, with- out the cite in an vnclane place.

42 And they shall take other stones, and put them in the places of those stones, and shall take other morter, to plaister the house with.

m Where ca-people might

43 But if the plague come againe and breake out in the house, after that hee hath taken away the stones, and after that hee hath scraped and plaistered the house,

44 Then the Priest shall come and see: and if the plague grow in the house, it is a fretting leprosie in the house: it is therefore vnclane.

45 And hee shall breake downe the house, with the stones of it, and the timber thereof, and all the morter of the house, and he shall carie them out of the cite vnto an vnclane place.

n That is, he shall command
it to be pulled

46 Howsoeuer he that goeth into the house all the while that it is shut vp, hee shall be vnclane vnto the euen.

47 Hee also that sleepech in the house shall wash his clothes: hee like wise that eateth in the house, shall wash his clothes.

48 But if the Priest shall come and see, that the plague hath spread no further in the house, after the house be plaistered, the Priest shall pronounce that house cleane, for the plague is healed.

49 Then shall hee take to purifie the house, two sparowes, and cedar wood, and and skarlet lace, and hyssop.

50 And he shall kill one sparow ouer pure water in an earthen vessel,

51 And shall take the cedar wood, and the hyssop, and the skarlet lace with the lue sparow, and dip them in the blood of the lue sparow, and in the pure water, and sprinkle the house seven times:

52 So shall hee cleanse the house with the blood of the sparow, and with the pure water, and with the lue sparow, and with the cedar wood, and with the hyssop, and with the skarlet lace.

53 Afterward he shall let goe the lue sparow out of the towne into the broad fieldes: so shall hee make atonement for the house, and it shall be cleane.

54 This is the lawe for every plague of leprosie and * blacke spot, 56 And of the swelling, and of the skab, and of the white spot.

57 This is the lawe of the leprosie to teach: when [a thing] is vncleane, and when it is cleane.

CHAP. XV.

21. 29 The manner of purging the vncleane issues both of men and women. 31 The children of Israel must bee separate from all vncleannes.

Moreouer the Lord spake vnto Moses, & to Aaron, saying, 2 Speake vnto the children of Israel, and say vnto them, whosoever hath an issue from his flesh, is vncleane, because of his issue.

3 And this shall be his vncleannes in his issue: when his flesh auoydeth his issue, or if his flesh be stopped from his issue, this is his vncleannes.

4 Every bed whereon he lyeth & hath the issue, shall be vncleane, & every thing whereon he sitteth, shall be vncleane.

5 Whosoever also toucheth his bed, shall wash his clothes, & wash himself in water, & shall be vncleane vntill the euen.

6 And hee that sitteth on any thing, whereon hee late that hath the issue, shall wash his clothes, and wash himself in water, & shall be vncleane vntill the euen.

7 Also hee that toucheth the flesh of him that hath the issue, shall wash his clothes, & wash himself in water, and shall be vncleane vntill the euen.

8 If he also, that hath the issue, spit vpon him that is cleane, he shall wash his clothes, and wash himself in water, and shall be vncleane vntill the euen.

9 And what saddle soeuer hee rideth

vpon, that hath & issue, shall be vncleane, 10 And whosoever toucheth any thing that was vnder him, shall be vncleane vnto the euen: and he that beareth those things, shall wash his clothes, & wash himself in water, and shall be vncleane vntill the euen.

11 Likewise whosoever hee toucheth that hath the issue, and hath not washed his handes in water, shall wash his clothes and wash himself in water, and shall be vncleane vntill the euen.

12 * And the vessell of earth that hee toucheth, which hath the issue, shall be broken: and every vessell of wood shall be rinsed in water.

13 But if he that hath an issue, be cleansed of his issue, then shall hee count him seven dayes for his cleansing, and wash his clothes, and wash his flesh in pure water: so shall he be cleane.

14 Then the eighth day hee shall take vnto him two turtle doves, or two yong pigeons, & come before the Lord at the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, & shall giue them vnto the Priest.

15 And the Priest shall make of the one of them a sinne offering, and of the other a burnt offering: so the Priest shall make an atonement for him before the Lord, for his issue.

16 Also if any mans issue of seede depart from him, he shall wash all his flesh in water, and be vncleane vntill the euen.

17 And every garment, & every skinne whereupon shall be issue of seede, shall be euen washed with water, and be vncleane vnto the euen.

18 If he that hath an issue of seede, do lie with a woman, they shall both wash themselves with water, and be vncleane vntill the euen.

19 Also when a woman shall haue an issue, and her issue in her flesh shall be blood, shee shall be put apart seven dayes: and whosoever toucheth her, shall be vncleane vnto the euen.

20 And whosoever hee lieth vpon in her separation, shall be vncleane, & every thing & hee lieth vpon, shall be vncleane.

21 Whosoever also toucheth her bed, shall wash his clothes, and wash himself with water, and shall be vncleane vnto the euen.

22 And whosoever toucheth any thing that shee late vpon, shall wash his clothes, and wash himself in water, and shall be vncleane vnto the euen:

30 And the Priest shall make of y one a sinne offering, and of the other a burnt offering, and the Priest shall make an atonement for her before the Lord, for the issue of her vncleannes.

31 Thus shall ye separate the children of Israel fro their vncleannes, that they die not in their vncleannes, if they defile my Tabernacle that is among them.

32 This is the lawe of him that hath an issue, and of him from whome goeth an issue of feede whereby he is defiled:

33 Also of her y is sicke of her floures, and of him that hath a running issue, whether it be man or woman, & of him that lieth with her which is vncleane.

CHAP. XVI.

The Priest might not at all times come into the most holy place. 8 The scape goate. 14 The purging of the Sanctuary. 17 The cleansing of the Tabernacle. 21 The Priest counteth the times of y people. 29 The feast of cleansing times.

1 Furthermore the Lord spake vnto Moses, * after the death of the two sonnes of Aaron, when they came to offer before the Lord, and died:

2 And the Lord layde vnto Moses, Speake vnto Aaron thy brother, * that hee come not at all times into the holy place within the vail, before the Per-seat, which is vpon the Arke, that he die not: for y wil appeare in the cloud vpon the Mercseat.

3 After this [sort] shall Aaron come into the holy place: [euen] with a yong bullocke for a sinne offering, and a ram for a burnt offering.

4 He shall put on the holy linen coat, and shall haue linen breeches vpon his flesh, & shall be girded with a linen girdle, and shall couer his head with a linen miter: these are y holy garments: therefore shall hee wash his flesh in water, when he doth put them on.

5 And he shall take of the Congregation of the children of Israel, two hee goates for a sinne offering, and a ramme for a burnt offering.

6 Then Aaron shall offer y bullocke for his sinne offering, & make an atonement for himselfe, and for his house.

7 And he shall take y two hee goates, and present them before the Lord at the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

8 Then Aaron shall cast lots ouer the two hee goates: one lot for the Lord, and the other for the Scape goate.

9 And Aaron shall offer the goate, vpon which the Lords lot shall fall, and make him a sinne offering.

10 But the goat, on which the lot shall fall to be the Scape goate, shall be presented alive before the Lord, to make reconciliation by him, [and] to let him go (as a Scape goate) into the wilderness.

11 Thus Aaron shall offer y bullocke for his sinne offering, and make a reconciliation for himselfe, and for his house, and shall kill the bullocke for his sin offering.

12 And hee shall take a censer full of burning coles from off y altar before the Lord, and his handfull of sweete incense beate small, & bring it within the vail,

13 And shall put the incense vpon the fire before y Lord, that the cloud of the incense may couer the Mercseat that is vpon the Testimonie: so hee shall not die.

14 And hee shall take of the blood of the bullocke, & sprinkle it with his finger vpon the Mercseat Eastward: and before the Mercseat shall hee sprinkle of the blood with his finger seuen times.

15 Then shall hee kill the goat that is the peoples sinne offering, and bring his blood within the vail, and doe with that blood, as hee did with the blood of the bullocke, & sprinkle it vpon the Mercseat, and before the Mercseat.

16 So he shall purge the holy place from the uncleannes of the children of Israel, and from their trespasses of all their finnes: so shall he do also for the Tabernacle of the Congregation placed with them, in the mids of their uncleannes.

17 And there shall be no man in the Tabernacle of the Congregation, when he goeth in to make an atonement in the holy place, untill he come out, and haue made an atonement for him selfe, and for his household, and for all the Congregation of Israel.

18 After, he shall go out vnto the altar that is before the Lorde, and make a reconciliation vpon it, and shall take of the blood of the bullocke, and of the blood of the goat, and put it vpon the hornes of the Altar round about:

19 So shall he sprinkle of the blood vpon it with his finger seven times, & cleanse it, and halowe it from the uncleannes of the children of Israel.

20 When he hath made an ende of purging the holy place, and the Tabernacle of the Congregation, & the Altar, then he shall bring the lue goat:

21 And Aaron shall put both his hands vpon the head of the lue goat, and confesse ouer him all the iniquities of the children of Israel, and all their trespasses, in all their finnes, putting them vpon the head of the goat, and shall send him away (by the hand of a man appointed) into the wilderness.

22 So the goat shall beare vpon him all their iniquities into the land that is not inhabited, and he shall let the goat go into the wilderness.

23 After, Aaron shall come into the Tabernacle of the Congregation, & put off the linnen clothes, which he put on when he went into the holy place, and leaue them there.

24 He shall wash also his flesh with water in the holy place, and put on his owne rayment, and come out, and make his burnt offering, and the burnt offering of the people, and make an atonement for him selfe, and for the people.

25 Also the fat of the sinne offering shall he burne vpon the altar.

26 And he that caried forth the goat, [called] the Scape goat, shall wash his clothes, and wash his flesh in water, and after that shall come into the holte.

27 Also the bullocke for the sinne offering, and the goat for the sinne offering (whose blood was brought to make a reconciliation in the holy place) shall one carie out without the holte to be burnt in the fire, with their finnes, and with their flesh, and with their dung.

28 And he that burneth them shall wash his clothes, and wash his flesh in water, and afterward come into the holte.

29 So this shall be an ordinance for euer vnto you: the tenth [day] of the seventh moneth, ye shall humble your soules, and do no worke at all, whether it be one of the same countrey, or a stranger that sojourneth among you.

30 For that day shall the Priest make an atonement for you to cleanse you: ye shall be cleane from all your finnes before the Lorde.

31 This shall be a Sabbath of rest vnto you, and ye shall humble your soules, by an ordinance for euer.

32 And the Priest whom he shall appoint, and whom he shall consecrate (to minister in his fathers trade) shall make the atonement, and shall put on the linnen clothes and holy vestments.

33 And shall purge the holy Sanctuary and the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and shall cleanse the altar, & make an atonement for the Priests and for all the people of the Congregation.

34 And this shall be an euermaking ordinance vnto you to make an atonement for the children of Israel for all their finnes once a yeere: and as the Lorde commanded Moses, he did.

a For whome the Priests may lament. b Howe pure the Priests ought to be, both in themſelves and in their familie.

AND the Lord ſayd vnto Moſes. Speake vnto the Priests the ſonnes of Aaron, and ſay vnto them, Let none be deſiled by the dead among his people.

2 But by his kineſman that is neere vnto him: [to wit,] by his mother, or by his father, or by his ſonne, or by his daughter, or by his brother,

3 Or by his ſiſter a<sup>b</sup> mayde, that is neere vnto him. Which hath not had a huſband: for her<sup>b</sup> he may lament.

4 He ſhal not lament for the<sup>c</sup> Prince among his people, to pollute himſelfe.

5 They ſhal not make* balde partes vpon their head, nor ſhaue off the locks of their beard, nor make any cuttings in their fleſh.

6 They ſhal be holy vnto their God, and not pollute the Name of their God: for the ſacrifices of the Lord made by fire, [and] the bread of their God they doe offer: therefore they ſhal be holy.

7 They ſhall not take to wife an Whore, or<sup>d</sup> one polluted, neither ſhall they marrie a woman diuorced from her huſband: for ſuch one [is] holy vnto his God.

8 Thou ſhalt<sup>e</sup> ſanctifie him therefore, for he offereth the<sup>f</sup> bread of thy God: he ſhal be holy vnto thee: for I the Lord, Which ſanctifie you, am holy.

9 ¶ If a Prieſtes daughter fall to play the whore, the polluted her father: [therefore] ſhal ſhe be burnt With fire.

10 ¶ Alſo the hie Prieſt among his brethren, (vpon whole head the anointing oile was powred, & hath conſecrated his hand to put on the garments) ſhall not<sup>g</sup> vncouer his head, nor rent his clothes,

11 Neither ſhal he go to any<sup>h</sup> dead bodie, nor make himſelfe vncleane by his father or by his mother,

12 Neither ſhall he goe out of the<sup>i</sup> Sanctuary, nor pollute the holy place of his God: for the<sup>j</sup> crowne of the anointing oyle of his God [is] vpon him: I am the Lord.

13 Alſo he ſhal take a mayde vnto his wife:

14 [But] a widow, or a diuorced woman, or a polluted, [or] an harlot, theſe ſhal he not marrie, but ſhal take a mayde of his owne<sup>k</sup> people to wife:

15 Neither ſhal he deſile his<sup>l</sup> ſeede among his people: for I am the Lord, Which ſanctifie him.

16 ¶ And the Lord ſpoke vnto Moſes, ſaying,

17 Speake vnto Aaron, & ſay, Whoſoeuer of thy ſeede in their generations hath any blemiſhes, ſhall not preſe to offer the bread of his God:

18 For whoſoeuer hath any blemiſh, ſhall not come neere: as [a] man blinde or lame, or that hath<sup>m</sup> a flat noſe, or that hath any<sup>n</sup> miſſhapen member.]

19 Or a man that hath a broken foot, or a broken hand,

20 Or [is] crooked backt, or bleare eyed, or hath a blemiſh in his eye, or be ſcarred, or ſcabbed, or haue<sup>o</sup> his ſtones broke.

21 None of the ſeede of Aaron the Prieſt that hath a blemiſh, ſhall come neere to offer the ſacrifices of the Lord made by fire, hauing a blemiſh: he ſhall not preſe to offer the bread of his God.

22 The bread of his God, [euen] of the<sup>p</sup> moſte holy, & of the holy ſhal he eate:

23 But hee ſhall not goe in vnto the<sup>q</sup> baile, nor come neere the altar, becauſe he hath a blemiſh, leaſt he pollute my Sanctuaries: for I am the Lord that ſanctifie them.

24 Thus ſpake Moſes vnto Aaron, and to his ſonnes, and to all the children of Iſrael.

CHAP. XXII.

3 ¶ Who ought to abſtaine from eating the things that were offered. 19 ¶ That oblations ſhould be offered.

AND the Lord ſpoke vnto Moſes, ſaying,

2 Speake vnto Aaron, and to his ſonnes, that they be<sup>r</sup> ſeparated from the holy things of the children of Iſrael, and that they pollute not mine holy Name in thoſe things, Which they haue vnto me: I am the Lord.

3 Say vnto them, Whoſoeuer [he be] of all your ſeede among your generations after you, that<sup>s</sup> toucheth the holy things which the children of Israel ha-loib vnto the Lord, hauing his uncle annes vpon him, euen that person shalbe cut off from my sight: I am the Lord.

Chap. 15. 2.

4 * Whosoever also of the seede of Aaron is a leper, or hath a running issue, he shal not eate of the holy things vntill he be cleane: and who so toucheth any that is uncleane [by reason] of the dead, or a man whose issue of seede runneth from him,

c By touching any dead thing, or being at buriall of the dead.

5 Or the man that toucheth any creeping thing, whereby he may be made uncleane, or a man, by whome he may take uncleannes, * Whatsoever unclean-nes he hath,

f Ebr. according to all his uncleannes.

6 The person that hath touched such, shal therefore be uncleane vntill the euen, & shal not eate of the holy things, [except he haue washed his flesh with water.

|| Or, vntill.

7 But when the Sunne is downe, he shalbe cleane, and shall afterward eate of the holy things: for it is his [foode].

|| Or, bread.

8 * Of a beast that dyeth, or is rent [with beasts], wherby he may be defiled, he shall not eate: I am the Lord.

9 Let them keepe therefore mine ordinance, least they beare [their] sinne for it, & die for it, if they defile it: I the Lord sanctifie them.

d Which is not of the tribe of Levi.

10 There shal no <sup>d</sup>stranger also eate of the holy thing, neither the ghest of the Priest, neither shall an hired seruant eate of the holy thing:

e Some reade, the seruant which had his care boyes & would not goe free,
Exod. 21. 6.

11 But if the Priest bye any with money, he shal eat of it, also he that is bozne in his house: they shal eate of his meate.

12 If the Priestes daughter also be married vnto a <sup>d</sup>stranger, she may not eate of the holy offerings.

f Who is not of the Priestes kindred.

13 Notwithstanding if the Priestes daughter be a widowe or diuorced, and haue no house, but is returned vnto her fathers house, she shall eate of her fathers bread, as she did in her <sup>youth</sup>: but there shal no stranger eate thereof.

Chap. 10. 14.

14 ¶ If a man eate of the holy thing vntwittingly, he shall put the <sup>s</sup>sift part thereunto, and giue it vnto the Priest with the halowd thing.

g He shal giue that and a fifth part ouer.

15 So they shall not defile the holy things of the children of Israel, which they offer vnto the Lord.

16 Neither cause the people to beare the iniquitie [of their] <sup>h</sup>trespasse, while they eate their holy thing: for I the Lord doe halowe them.

h For if they did not offer for their error, the people by their example might commit like offence.

17 ¶ And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

18 Speake vnto Aaron, and to his sonnes, and to all the children of Israel, and say vnto them, whosoever he be [of the house of Israel, or of the strangers in Israel, that will offer his sacrifice for all their bodies, and for all their free offerings, which they be to offer vnto the Lord for a burnt offering,

19 [Ye shal offer] of your free minde a male without blemish of the beemes, of the sheepe, or of the goates.

20 Ye shall not offer any thing that hath a blemish: for that shall not be acceptable for you.

Deut. 15. 21.
ecclus. 35. 12.

21 * And whosoever bringeth a peace offering vnto the Lord to accomplish his vow, or for a free offering, of the beemes, or of the sheepe, his free offering shall be perfect, no blemish shalbe in it.

22 Blinde, or broken, or maimed, or hauling a [wenne], or skirue, or scabbid:
these shal ye not offer vnto the Lord, nor make an offering by fire of these vpon the altar of the Lord.

|| Or, wart.

23 ¶ Let a bullocke, or a sheepe that hath [any *member] superfluous, or lacking, such maist thou present for a free offering,
but for a bold it shal not be accepted.

Chap. 31. 28.

24 Ye shal not offer vnto the Lord that which is bruised, or crushed, or broken, or cut away, neither shall ye make [an offering thereof] in your land,

25 Neither of the hand of a stranger shall ye offer the bread of your God of any of these, because their corruption [is] in the, there is a blemish in them: therefore shall they not be accepted for you.

i He shal not reciue any imperfect thing, of a stranger, to make it the Lords offering:
which be called the bread of the Lord.

26 ¶ And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

27 When a bullocke, or a sheepe, or a goat shalbe brought forth, it shalbe euen seuen daies vnder his damme: and from the eight day forth, it shalbe accepted for a sacrifice made by fire vnto the Lord.

28 As for the colwe, or the ewe, ye shal not <sup>h</sup>kill her, & her yong [both] in one day.

Deut. 22. 6.

29 So when ye wil offer a thanke offering vnto the Lord, ye shall offer willingly.

30 The same day it shalbe eaten, ye shall leaue *none of it vntill the morow:
I am the Lord.

Chap. 7. 15.

31 Therefore shall ye keepe my com-mandements and doe them: [for] I am the Lord.

32 Neither shall ye <sup>k</sup>pollute mine holy Name, but I wil be halowed among the children of Israel. I the Lord sanc-tifie you,

k For whoso euer doeth as therwise then God commandeth, polluteth his name.

33 Which haue brought you out of the land of Egypt, to be your God: I am the Lord.

CHAP. XXIII.

2 The feastes of the Lord. 3 The Sabbath. 5 The Passouer. 6 The feast of unleavened bread. 10 The feast of first frutes. 16 Whitsonde. 24 The feast of blowing trumpets. 34 The feast of Tabernacles.

AND <sup>2</sup>THE LORD spake vnto Moses, saying, <sup>2</sup>SPEAKE vnto the children of Israel, and say vnto them, The feastes of the Lord which ye shall call the holie assemblies, [euē] these are my feastes.

3 *SIXE dayes [shal worke be done, but in the seuenth day [shal be] the Sabbath of rest, an holie conuocation: ye shal doe no worke [therein,] it is the Sabbath of the Lord, in all your dwellings.

4 THESE are the feastes of the Lord, [and] holie conuocations, which ye shall proclaime in their seasons.

5 IN <sup>1</sup>first moneth, [and] in the fourteenth day of the moneth at euening [shal be] the Passouer of the Lord.

6 AND on the fifteenth day of this moneth [shal be] the feast * of unleavened bread vnto the Lord: seuen daies ye shal eate unleavened bread.

7 IN the first day ye shal haue an holie conuocation: ye shal doe no <sup>b</sup> seruile worke [therein].

8 ALSO ye shal offer sacrifice made by fire vnto the Lord seuen dayes, [in the] seuenth day [shal be] an holie conuocation: ye shal doe no seruile worke [therein].

9 AND the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

10 SPEAKE vnto the children of Israel, & say vnto them, When ye be come into the lande which I giue vnto you, and reape the harvest thereof, then ye shal bring a sheafe of the first frutes of your harvest vnto the Priest.

11 AND he shal shake the sheafe before the Lord, that it may be acceptable for you: the morow after the <sup>1</sup>Sabbath, the Priest shal shake it.

12 AND that day when ye shake the sheafe, shal ye prepare a lambe without blemish of a yere old, for a burnt offering vnto the Lord:

13 AND the meat offering thereof [shal be] two tenth deales of fine flour mingled with oyle, for a sacrifice made by fire vnto the Lord of sweete savour: and the drinke offering thereof of the fourth part of an hin of wine.

14 AND ye shal eate neither bread nor parched come, nor greene eares vntill the lease same day that ye haue brought an offering vnto your God: [this shal be] a lawe for ever in your generations and in all your dwellings.

15 YE shall count also to you from the morow after the <sup>1</sup>Sabbath, [euē] from the day that ye shal bring the sheaf of the shake offering, [euē] <sup>1</sup>Sabbaths, they shal be complete.

16 Vnto the morow after the seuenth Sabbath shal ye number fiftie dayes: then ye shal bring a newe meate offering vnto the Lord.

17 YE shall bring out of your habitations bread for the shake offering: they shal be two [loaves] of two tenth deales of fine flour, which [shal be] baked with leauen for first frutes vnto the Lord.

18 ALSO you shal offer with the bread seuen lambs without blemish of one yere olde, and a yong bullocke and two rammes: they shal be for a burnt offering vnto the Lord, with their meate offerings and their drinke offerings, for a sacrifice made by fire of a sweet savour vnto the Lord.

19 THEN ye shall prepare an hee goat for a sinne offering, and two lambs of one yere olde for peace offerings.

20 AND the Priest shal shake them to and fro with the bread of the first frutes before the Lord, [and] with the two lambs: they shal be holie to the Lord, for the Priest.

21 SO ye shal proclaime the same day, [that] it may be an holie conuocation vnto you: ye shal doe no seruile worke [therein: it shal be] an ordinance for ever in all your dwellings, throughout your generations.

22 *AND when you reape the harvest of your land, thou shalt not ridde cleane the corners of thy field when thou reapest, neither shalt thou make any aftergathering of thy harvest, [but] thou leaue them vnto the poore & to the stranger: I am the Lord your God.

23 AND the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

24 SPEAKE vnto the children of Israel, and say, In the <sup>1</sup>seuenth moneth, [and] in the first day of the moneth shal ye <sup>1</sup>haue a Sabbath, for the remembrance of blowing the trumpets, an holie conuocation.

25 YE shal doe no seruile worke [therein], but offer sacrifice made by fire vnto the Lord.

[Or, full eares.

27 The seventh also of this seventh moneth shall be a day of reconciliation: it shall be an holy conuocation vnto you, and ye shall humble your soules, and offer sacrifice made by fire vnto the Lord.

28 And ye shall doe no worke that same day: for it is a day of reconciliation, to make an atonement for you before the Lord your God.

29 For euery person that humblyeth not himselfe that same day, shall euen be cut off from his people.

30 And euery person that shall doe any worke that same day, & same person also will I destroy from among his people.

31 Ye shall do no manner worke there: for this shall be a lawe for euer in your generations, [throughout] all your dwellings.

32 This shall be vnto you a Sabbath of rest, and ye shall humble your soules: in the ninth day of the moneth at euen, from euen to euen shall ye celebrate your Sabbath.

33 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

34 Speake vnto the children of Israel, and say, * In the fiftieth day of this seventh moneth [shall be] for seven dayes the feast of Tabernacles vnto the Lord.

35 In the first day [shall be] an holy conuocation: ye shall do no seruile worke [therein.]

36 Seven dayes ye shall offer * sacrifice made by fire vnto the Lord, [and] in the eighth day shall be an holy conuocation vnto you, and ye shall offer sacrifices made by fire vnto the Lord: it is the solemn assemblee, ye shall doe no seruile worke [therein.]

37 These are the feastes of the Lord (which ye shall call holy conuocations) to offer sacrifice made by fire vnto the Lord, [as] burnt offering, and meate offering, * sacrifice, and drinke offerings, euery one vpon his day,

38 Beside the Sabbaths of the Lord, and beside your gifts, and beside all your bowles, and beside all your free offerings, which ye shall giue vnto the Lord.

39 But in the fiftieth day of the seventh moneth, when ye haue gathered in the fruite of the land, ye shall keepe an holy feast vnto the Lord seven dayes: in the first day [shall be] a Sabbath: likewise in the eighth day [shall be] a Sabbath,

40 And ye shall take you in the first day the fruite of goodly trees, branches of palme trees, & the boughes of thick trees, and willowes of the brooke, and shall reioyce before the Lord your God seven dayes.

41 So ye shall keepe this feast vnto the Lord seven dayes in the yeere, by a perpetuall ordinance through your generations: in the seventh moneth shall you keepe it.

42 Ye shall dwell in boothes seven dayes: all that are Israelites borne, shall dwell in boothes, 43 That your posteritie may knowe that I haue made the children of Israel to dwell in boothes, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt: I am the Lord your God.

44 So Moses declared vnto the children of Israel the feastes of the Lord.

18 And if ye will not for these [things] obey me, then will I punish you<sup>j</sup> seven times more, according to your times.

j That is, moe extremely.

19 And I will breake the pride of your power, and I will make your heauen as<sup>k</sup> yron, and your earth as brass:

k I will haue brought and barrennes, Agg. 1.10.

20 And your strength shalbe spent in vaine: neither shall your lande giue her encrease, neither shall the trees of the land giue their fruite.

l Or, labour. m As, some reade, by sowing, imputing my plagues to chance and fow time.

21 C<sup>n</sup> And if ye walke<sup>n</sup> stubbornly against me, and will not obey me, I will then bring seven times moe plagues vpon you, according to your times.

n Of your children, 2. king. 17.25.

22 I will also send wilde beastes vpon you, which shall<sup>o</sup> spoile you, and destroy your cattell, and make you selve in number: so your hie<sup>o</sup> wayes shalbe desolate.

o Because none bare pass thereby for feare of beausts.

23 Yet if by these ye will not be reformed by me, but walke stubburnly against me,

2 Sam. 21. 27.
psal. 18. 26.

24 Then will I also walke * stubburnly against you, and I wil smite you yet seven times for your finnes:

25 And I will send a sword vpon you, that shall auenge the quarell of my couenant: and when ye are gathered in your cities, I will sende the pestilence among you, and ye shall be deliuered into the hand of the enemye.

n That is, the strength where by the life is sustained, Eye. 4. 7. 8. 5. 16.
o One ouen shall be sufficient for ten families,

26 When I shall breake the staffe of your bread, then ten women shall bake your bread in one o uen, and they shall deliuer your bread againe by weight, and ye shall eate, but not be satisfied.

27 Yet if ye will not for this obey me, but walke against me stubburnly, Deut. 28. 33.

28 Then will I walke stubburnly in [mine] anger against you, and I will also chastise you seven times [more] according to your finnes.

29 And ye shall eate the flesh of your finnes, and the flesh of your daughters shall ye denoure.

2. Chro. 34. 7.
|| Or, carions,

30 I will also destroy your hie places, and * cut away your images, and cast your carkises vpon the [bodies of your] idoles, and my soule shall abhorre you.

31 And I will make your cities desolate, and bring your Sanctuarie vnto nought, and I will not smell the sauour of your sweete odours.

32 I will also bring the land vnto a wilderness, & your enemies which dwell therein, shall be astonished thereat.

33 Also I will scatter you among the heathen, and I will drabe out a sword after you, and your land shall be waste, and your cities shall be desolate.

q Signifying that no memercan come without Gods sending.
Chap. 25. 2.

34 Then shall the lande enioy her * Sabbaths, as long as it lieth boyd, and ye shall be in your enemies land: then shall the land rest, and enioy her Sabbaths.

35 All the dayes that it lieth boyde, it shall rest, because it did not rest in your Sabbaths, when ye dwelt vpon it.

r Which I commanded you to keepe.
|| Or, cowardnes.

36 And vpon them that are left of you, I will sende euen a faintnes into their hearts in the land of their enemies, and the sounde of a lease shaken shall chase them, and they shall flee as fleeing from a sword, and they shall fall, no man pursuing them.

s As if their enemies did chase them,

37 They shall fall also one vpon another, as before a sword, though none pursue them, and ye shall not be able to stand before your enemies:

38 And ye shall perish among the heathen, and the land of your enemies shall eate you vp.

39 And they that are left of you, shall pine away for their iniquitie, in your enemies lands, and for the iniquities of their fathers that they pine away with them also.

t Forasmuch as they are culpable of their fathers faults, they shall be punished as well as their fathers.

40 Then they shall confesse their iniquitie, and y wickednes of their fathers for their trespassse, which they haue trespassed against me, and also because they haue walked stubburnly against me.

41 Therefore I wil walke stubburnly against them, and bring them into the land of their enemies: so then their vncircumcised hearts shall be humbled, and then they shall willingly beare [the punishment of] their iniquitie.

|| Or, pray for their sinne.

42 Then I will remember my couenant with Iacob, and my couenant also with Israhel, & also my couenant with Abraham will I remember, and wil remember the land.

43 The land also [in the meane season] shall be left of them, and shall enioy her Sabbaths while the earth waste without them, but they shall willingly suffer the punishment of their iniquitie, because they despised my lawes, and because their soule abhorred mine ordinances.

u Which they are captiues, and without repentance,

44 Yet notwithstanding this, when they shall be in the land of their enemies, * I will not cast them away, neither will I abhorre them, to destroy them utterly, [nor] to breake my couenant with them: for I am the Lord their God:

Deut. 4. 31.
rom. 11. 26.

45 But I wil remember for them the * couenant of old when I brought them out of the land of Egypt in the sight of the heathen that I might be their God: I am the Lord.

x Gode to their forefathers,

18 And they called all the Congregation together, in the first day of the second moneth, who declared their kindreds by their families, [and] by the houses of their fathers, according to the number of their names, from twentie yeere olde and above, man by man.

19 As the Lord had commanded Moses, so he nombred them in the wilderness of Sinai.

20 So were the sommes of Reuben Israels eldest sonne by their generations, by their families, [and] by the houses of their fathers, according to the number of their names, man by man, euery male from twentie yeere old and above, as many as went forth to warre.

21 The number of them, [I say,] of the tribe of Reuben, was fixe and fourtie thousand, and fure hundredeth.

22 Of the sonnes of Simeon by their generations, by their families, [and] by the houses of their fathers, the summe thereof by the number of their names, man by man, euery male from twentie yeere olde and above, all that went forth to warre:

23 The summe of them, [I say,] of the tribe of Simeon was nine and fiftie thousand, and thre hundredeth.

24 Of the sonnes of Gad by their generations, by their families, [and] by the houses of their fathers, according to the number of their names, from twentie yeere olde and above, all that went forth to warre:

25 The number of them, [I say,] of the tribe of Gad was fure and fourtie thousand, and fixe hundredeth and fiftie.

26 Of the sonnes of Judah by their generations, by their families, [and] by the houses of their fathers, according to the number of their names, from twentie yeere olde and above, all that went forth to warre:

27 The number of them, [I say,] of the tribe of Judah was threescore and fourtene thousand, and fixe hundredeth.

28 Of the sonnes of Issachar by their generations, by their families, [and] by the houses of their fathers, according to the number of their names, from twentie yeere olde and above, all that went forth to warre:

29 The number of them [also] of the tribe of Issachar was foure and fiftie thousand and foure hundredeth.

30 Of the sonnes of Zebulun by their generations, by their families,

[and] by the houses of their fathers, according to the number of their names, from twentie yeere olde and above, all that went forth to warre:

31 The number of them [also] of the tribe of Zebulun was seven and fiftie thousand and foure hundredeth.

32 Of the sonnes of Joseph, namely of the sonnes of Ephraim by their generations, by their families, [and] by the houses of their fathers, according to the number of their names, from twentie yeere olde and above, all that went forth to warre:

33 The number of them [also] of the tribe of Ephraim was forty thousand and fure hundredeth.

34 Of the sonnes of Manasse by their generations, by their families, [and] by the houses of their fathers, according to the number of their names, from twentie yeere olde and above, all that went forth to warre:

35 The number of them [also] of the tribe of Manasse was two and thirtie thousand and two hundredeth.

36 Of the sonnes of Benjamin by their generations, by their families, [and] by the houses of their fathers, according to the number of their names, from twentie yeere olde and above, all that went forth to warre:

40 Of the sonnes of Aſher by their generations, by their families, [and] by the houſes of their fathers, according to the number of [their] names, from twentie yeere olde and aboue, all that went forth to warre:

41 The number of them [also] of the tribe of Aſher [was] one & fourtie thousand and five hundred.

42 Of the children of Naphtali, by their generations, by their families, [&] by the houſes of their fathers, according to the number of [their] names, from twentie yeere olde and aboue, all that went to the warre.

43 The number of them [also] of the tribe of Naphtali, [was] three and fiftie thousand, and four hundred.

44 Theſe are þ[er] ſummes which Moſes, and Aaron numbred, & the princes of Iſrael, the twelue men, which were e- uery one for the houſe of their fathers.

45 So of this [was] al the ſumme of the ſonnes of Iſrael, by the houſes of their fathers, from twentie yeere old & aboue, all that went to the warre in Iſrael, 46 And all they were in number fixe hundredeth and three thouſand, five hundredeth and fiftie.

47 But the Leuites, after the tribes of their fathers were not numbred among them.

48 For the Lorde had ſpoken vnto Moſes, and ſaid,

49 Onely thou ſhalt not number the tribe of Lewi, neither take the ſumme of them among the children of Iſrael:

50 But thou ſhalt appoint the Leuites ouer the Tabernacle of the Teſtimonie, and ouer all the instrumentes thereof, and ouer all things that belong to it: they ſhall beare the Tabernacle, and al the instrumentes thereof, and ſhal miniſter in it, and ſhall dwel round about the Tabernacle.

51 And when the Tabernacle goeth forth, the Leuites ſhall take it downe: & when the Tabernacle is to be pitched, the Leuites ſhall ſet it vp: for the ſtranger that cometh neere, ſhalbe ſlaine.

52 Alſo the children of Iſrael ſhall pitch their tents, euery man in his camp, and euery man vnder his ſtandard

9 And thou shalt give the Levites vnto Aaron and to his sonnes: [for] they are given him freely from among the children of Israel.

10 And thou shalt appoint Aaron and his sonnes to execute their Priests office: and the stranger that commeth neere, shall be slaine.

11 Also the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

12 Behold, I haue euen taken the Levites from among the children of Israel for all the first borne, that openeth the matrix among the children of Israel, and the Levites shall be mine, 13 Because all the first borne are mine: for the same day, that I smote all the first borne in the land of Egypt. * I sanctified vnto mee all the first borne in Israel, both man and beast: mine they shall be: I am the Lord.

14 Moreover, the Lord spake vnto Moses in the wilderness of Sinai, saying, 15 Number the children of Leui after the houses of their fathers, in their families: every male from a moneth olde and aboue shalt thou number.

16 Then Moses numbered them according to the word of the Lord, as he was commanded.

17 And these were the sonnes of Leui by their names, * Gerſhon, & Kohath, and Merari.

18 Also these are the names of the sonnes of Gerſhon by their families: Libni, and Shimei.

19 The sonnes also of Kohath by their families: Amram, and Jſehar, Hebzon, and Uzziel.

20 And the sonnes of Merari by their families: Gadi and Pusht. These are the families of Leui, according to the houses of their fathers.

21 Of Gerſhon [came] the familie of the Libnites and the familie of the Shimeites: these are the families of the Gerſhonites.

22 The summe whereof (after the number of all the males from a moneth old and aboue) was counted seuen thousand and six hundred.

23 The families of the Gerſhonites shall pitch behinde the Tabernacle westward.

24 The captaine and ancient of the house of the Gerſhonites [shall be] Eliaſaph the sonne of Lael.

25 And the charge of sonnes of Gerſhon in the Tabernacle of the Congregation [shall be] the Tabernacle, and the pavilion, the covering thereof, and the baile of the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation,

26 And the hanging of the court, and the baile of the doore of the court, which is neere the Tabernacle, and neere the Altar round about, and the cordes of it for all the seruice thereof.

27 And of Kohath [came] the familie of the Amramites, and the familie of the Jſeharites, & the familie of the Hebzonites, and the familie of the Uzzielites: these are the families of the Kohathites.

28 The number of all the males from a moneth olde and aboue [was] eight thousand and six hundred, hauing the charge of the Sanctuary.

29 The families of the sonnes of Kohath shall pitch on the Southside of the Tabernacle.

30 The captaine & ancient of the house, [and] families of the Kohathites [shall be] Eliaſaph the sonne of Uzziel:

31 And their charge shall be the Arke, and the table, and the candleſtike, & the altars, and the instruments of the Sanctuary that they minister with, and the baile, and all that serueth thereto.

32 And Eleazar the sonne of Aaron the Priest [shall be] chiefe captaine of the Levites, hauing the oversight of them that haue the charge of the Sanctuary.

33 Of Merari [came] the familie of the Gadites, and the familie of the Pushtites: these are the families of the Merari.

34 And the summe of them, according to the number of all the males, from a moneth olde and aboue [was] six thousand and two hundred.

35 The captaine and the ancient of the house of the families of Merari [shall be] Zurie the sonne of Abihail: they shall pitch on the Northside of the Tabernacle.

36 And in the charge and custodie of sonnes of Merari shall be the boards of the Tabernacle, and the barres thereof, and his sockets, and all the instruments thereof, and all that serueth thereto.

39 The whole summe of the Levites, which Moses and Aaron nombred at the comādemēt of the Lord throughtout their families, [even] all the males from a moneth olde and above, [was] two and twentie thousand.

40 And the Lord said unto Moses, Prober all the first borne that are males among the children of Israel, from a moneth olde and above, and take the number of their names.

41 And thou shalt take the Levites to me for at the first borne of the children of Israel [I am] the Lord and the cattell of the Levites for at the first borne of the cattell of the children of Israel.

42 And Moses nombred, as the Lord commanded him, at the first borne of the children of Israel.

43 And at the first borne males rehearsed by name from a moneth olde and above according to their number were two and twentie thousande, two hundredth secentie and three.

44 And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,

45 Take the Levites for all the first borne of the children of Israel, & the cattell of the Levites for their cattell, and the Levites shall be mine. [I am the Lord]

46 And for the redeeming of the two hundredth secentie and three, [which are] more then the Levites of the first borne of the children of Israel.

47 Thou shalt also take five shekels for every person: after the weight of the Sanctuary shalt thou take it: * the shekel conteyneth] twentie gerahs.

48 And thou shalt give the money, wherewith the odde number of them is redeemed, unto Aaron & to his sonnes.

49 Thus Moses tooke the redemption of them that were redeemed, being more then the Levites:

50 Of the first borne of the children of Israel tooke he the money: [even] a thousand three hundredth three score and five [shekels] after the shekel of the Sanctuary.

51 And Moses gave the money of them that were redeemed, unto Aaron and to his sonnes according to the word of the Lord, as the Lord had comādemēt Moses.

4 This shalbe the office of the sonnes of Kohath in the Tabernacle of the Congregation about the holiest of all.

5 When the host remoueth, the Aaron and his sonnes shall come and take doivne the covering baile, & shall cover the Arke of the Testimonie therewith.

6 And they shall put thereon a covering of badgers skins, & shall spred upon it a cloth altogether of blew silk, & put to the barres thereof:

7 And upon the table of shew bread they shal spread a cloth of blew silk, and put thereon the dishes, and the [incense] cups, and goblets, and coverings to cover it with, and the bread shalbe thereon continually:

8 And they shall spread upon them a covering of skarlet, and cover the same with a cover of badgers skins, and put to the barres thereof.

9 Then they shall take a cloth of blew silk, and cover the Candlesticke of light with his lampes and his snuffers, & his snuffe dishes, and all the oyle vessels thereof, which they occupie about it.

10 So they shall put it, and all the instruments thereof in a covering of badgers skins, and put it upon the barres.

11 Also upon the golden altar they shall spread a cloth of blew silk, & cover it with a covering of badgers skins, and put to the barres thereof.

12 And they shall take all the instruments of the ministration wherewith they minister in the Sanctuary, & put them in a cloth of blew silk, and cover them with a covering of badgers skins, and put them on the barres.

13 Also they shal take away the ashes from the altar, and spread a purple cloth upon it,

14 And shall put upon it al the instruments thereof, which they occupie about it: the censers, the fleshhookes and the bestons, and the basens, [even] all the instruments

17 And the Lord spake vnto Moses and to Aaron, saying,

18 We shall not cut off the tribe of the families of the Kohathites from among the Leuites:

19 But thus do vnto them, that they may liue & not die, when they come nere to the most holy things: let Aaron and his sonnes come and appoint them, euery one to his office, and to his charge.

20 But let them not go in, to see when the Sanctuary is folded vp, lest they die.

21 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

22 Take also the summe of the sones of Gerſhon, euery one by the houses of their fathers throughout their families:

23 From thirtie yeere olde and aboue, vntill fiftie yeere olde shalt thou number them, all that enter into the assemblie for to do seruice in the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

24 This shalbe the seruice of the families of Gerſhonites, to serue & to beare.

25 They shall beare the curtaines of the Tabernacle, and the Tabernacle of the Congregation, his couering, and the couering of badgers skins, that is on he vpon it, and the baile of the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation:

27 At the commandement of Aaron and his sonnes shall all the seruice of the sonnes of the Gerſhonites be done, in all their charges and in all their seruice, and ye shall appoint them to keepe all their charges.

28 This is the seruice of the families of the sonnes of the Gerſhonites in the Tabernacle of the Congregation, & their watche shalbe vnder the hande of Jthamar the sone of Aaron the Priest.

29 Thou shalt number the sonnes of Merari by their families, and by the houses of their fathers:

30 From thirtie yeere olde and aboue, euen vnto fiftie yeere old shalt thou number them, all that enter into the assemblie, to doe the seruice of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

31 And this is their office and charge according to all their seruice in the Tabernacle of the Congregation: the boards of the Tabernacle with barres therof, and his pillars, and his sockets, 32 And the pillars round about the court, with their sockets and their pins, and their cordes, with all their instruments, euen for all their seruice: and by name ye shall reckon the instruments of their office and charge.

33 This is the seruice of the families of the sonnes of Merari, according to all their seruice in the Tabernacle of the Congregation vnder the hand of Jthamar the sone of Aaron the Priest.

34 Then Moses and Aaron & the princes of the Congregation nombred the sonnes of the Kohathites, by their families & by the houses of their fathers,

2 The leprous and the polluted ſhalbe caſt forth, 6 The purging of ſinne, 15 The triall of the ſuſpect wife.

AND the Lord ſpake vnto Moſes, ſaying,

2 Command the children of Iſrael that they put out of the hoſte every leper, and every one that hath an iſſue, and whoſeuer is deſiled by the dead.

3 Both male and female ſhall ye put out : out of the hoſte ſhall ye put them, that they deſile not their tents among whom I dwell.

4 And the children of Iſrael did ſo, and put them out of the hoſt, even as the Lord had commanded Moſes, ſo did the children of Iſrael.

5 And the Lord ſpake vnto Moſes, ſaying,

6 Speake vnto the children of Iſrael, when a man or woman ſhall commit any ſinne that men committe, and tranſgreſſe againſt the Lord, when that perſon ſhall treſpaſſe,

7 Then they ſhall confeſſe their ſinne which they haue done, and ſhall reſtore the damage thereof with his principal, and put the ſixt part of it more thereto, & ſhall giue it vnto him, againſt whom he hath treſpaſſed.

8 But if the man haue no kiſman, to whom he ſhould reſtore the damage, the damage ſhalbe reſtored to the Lord for the prieſtes uſe, beſides the ramme of the atonement, whereby he ſhall make atonement for him.

<sup>2</sup> Speake unto the children of Israel, and say unto them, When a man or a woman doeth separate them selves to vow a bove of a Nazarite to separate him-

selfe vnto the Lord, he shall abstaine from wine & strong drinke, and shall drinke no sower wine nor sower drinke, nor shall drinke any liquor of grapes, neither shall eate fresh grapes nor dried.

<sup>4</sup> As long as his abstinence endureth, shall he eate nothing that is made of the wine of the vine, neither the kernels, nor the huske.

<sup>5</sup> While he is separate by his bove, the razor shall not come vpon his head, vntill the dayes be out, in the which he separateth [him selfe] vnto the Lord, he shall be holy, and shall let the lockes of the heare of his head growe.

<sup>6</sup> During the time that he separateth him selfe vnto the Lord, hee shall come at no dead body:

<sup>8</sup> All the dayes of his separation hee shall be holy to the Lord.

<sup>9</sup> And if any dye suddenly by him, or he be ware, then the head of his consecration shall be defiled, and he shall shau his head in the day of his denising: in the seuenth day he shall shau it.

<sup>10</sup> And in the eighth day he shall bring two turtles, or two yong pigeons to the Priest, at the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

<sup>11</sup> Then the Priest shall prepare the one for a sinne offering, & the other for a burnt offering, & shall make an atonement for him, because he sinned by the dead: so shall he halowe his head the same day.

instruments thereof, and the altar with all the instruments thereof, and had anointed them and sanctified them,

[Or, vessels.]

2 Then the princes of Israel, heads of the houses of their fathers (they were princes of the tribes, who were over them that were nombred) offered,

[Or, capitaines.]

3 And brought their offering before the Lord, six covered charrets, and twelve oxen: one charret for two princes, and for every one an ox, and they offered them before the Tabernacle.

a Like hostlers to keep things, that were carpen in them, from weather.

4 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

5 Take these of them, that they may be to doe the service of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and thou shalt give them vnto the Leuites, to euery man according vnto his office.

b That is, to carry things & stuff in.

6 So Moses tooke the charrets and the oxen, and gaue them vnto the Leuites:

7 Two charrets and foure oxen hee gaue to the sonnes of Gershon, according vnto their office.

c For their life to carry with.

8 And foure charrets and eight oxen hee gaue to the sonnes of Merari according vnto their office, vnder the hande of Jethamar the sonne of Aaron the Priest.

9 But to the sonnes of Kohath hee gaue none, because the charge of the Sanctuary belonged to them, [which] they did beare vpon their shoulders.

d The holy things of the Sanctuary must be carpen vpon their shoulders, and not wauen as orf, chap. 4. 15.

10 The princes also offered in the dedication for the altar in the day that it was anointed: then the princes offered their offering before the altar.

e That is, with the first sacrifice was offered thereupon by Aaron, Leuit. 9. 1.

11 And the Lord layde vnto Moses, One prince one day, and another prince another day shall offer their offering, for the dedication of the altar.

12 So then on the first daye did the sonne of Amminadab of the tribe of Iudah offer his offering.

f The offering of Nathyon.

13 And his offering [was] a silver charger of an hundredth and thirty shekels weight, a silver boule of seuentie shekels, after the shekel of the Sanctuary, both full of fine flour, mingled with oyle, for a meate offering,

CHAP. VIII.

2 The order of the lampes. 6 The purifying and offering of the Leuites. 24 The age of the Leuites, when they are reueined to seruile, and when they are dismissed.

And

And the Lorde spake vnto Moyses, saying,
2 Speake vnto Aaron, & say vnto him, when thou lightest the lamps, the seven lamps that give light toward the forefront of the Candlestick.

3 And Aaron did so, lighting the lampes thereof toward the forefront of the Candlestick, as the Lorde had commanded Moyses.

4 And this was the worke of the Candlestick, [euē] of golde beaten out with the hammer, both the chafte, & the floures thereof was beaten out with the hammer: according to the paterne, which the Lord had shewed Moyses, to make the Candlestick.

5 And the Lorde spake vnto Moyses, saying,

6 Take the Leuites from among the children of Israel, and purifie them.

7 And thus shalt thou doe vnto the, when thou purifiest them, Sprinkle water of purification vpon them, & let them shauē all their flesh, & wash their clothes: so they shalbe cleane.

8 Then they shall take a yong bullocke with his meate offering of fine flour, mingled with oyle, and another yong bullocke shalt thou take for a sinne offering.

9 Then thou shalt bring the Leuites before the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and assemble all the Congregation of the children of Israel.

10 Thou shalt bring the Leuites also before the Lord, and the children of Israel shall put their handes vpon the Leuites.

11 And Aaron shall offer the Leuites before the Lorde, as a shake offering of þe children of Israel, that they may execute the seruice of the Lord.

12 And the Leuites shall put their handes vpon the heads of the bullockes, and make thou the one a sinne offering, and the other a burnt offering vnto the Lord, that thou maiest make an atonement for the Leuites.

13 And thou shalt let the Leuites befoze Aaron and befoze his sonnes, & offer them as a shake offering to the Lord.

14 Thus thou shalt separate the Leuites from among þe children of Israel, and the Leuites shalbe mine.

15 And afterward shall the Leuites go in, to serue in the Tabernacle of the Congregation, & thou shalt purifie them and offer them, as a shake offering.

16 For they are freely giuen vnto me from among the children of Israel, for such as open any wombe: for all the first borne of the children of Israel haue I taken them vnto me.

17 For all the first borne of the children of Israel are mine, both of man & of beast: since þe day that I smote every first borne in the land of Egypt, I sanctified them for my selfe.

18 And I haue taken the Leuites for all the first borne of þe children of Israel, 19 And haue giuen the Leuites as a gift vnto Aaron, and to his sonnes from among the children of Israel, to doe the seruice of the children of Israel in the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and to make an atonement for the children of Israel, that there be no plague among the children of Israel, when þe children of Israel come neere vnto þe Sanctuary.

20 Then Moyses and Aaron & all the Congregation of the children of Israel did with the Leuites, according vnto all that the Lord had commanded Moyses concerning the Leuites: so did the children of Israel vnto them.

21 So the Leuites were purified, & washed their clothes, and Aaron offered them as a shake offering befoze þe Lorde, and Aaron made an atonement for the, to purifie them.

22 And after that, went the Leuites in to do their seruice in the Tabernacle of the congregation, befoze Aaron and befoze his sonnes: as the Lord had commanded Moyses concerning the Leuites, so they did vnto them.

23 And the Lord spake vnto Moyses, saying,

24 This also [belongeth] to the Leuites: from sine and twentie yeere olde and vpward, they shall go in, to execute [their] office in the seruice of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

25 And after the age of fiftie yeere, they shall cease from executing the office, and shall serue no more:

26 But they shall minister with their brethren in the Tabernacle of the Congregation, to keepe things committed to their charge, but they shall do no seruice: thus shalt thou do vnto the Leuites touching their charges.

And the Lord ſpake vnto Moſes in the wildernes of Sinai, in the firſt moneth of the ſecond yeere, after they were come out of the lande of Egypt, ſaying,

2 The children of Iſrael ſhall alſo celebrate the Paſſeouer at the time appointed therunto.

3 In the fourth day of this moneth at euen, ye ſhall keepe it in his due ſeaſon: according to all the ordinances of it, and according to all the ceremonies thereof ſhall ye keepe it.

4 Then Moſes ſpake vnto the children of Iſrael, to celebrate the Paſſeouer.

5 And they kept the Paſſeouer in the fourth day of the firſt moneth at euen in the wildernes of Sinai: according to all that the Lord had commanded Moſes, ſo did the children of Iſrael.

6 And certaine men were deſiled by a dead man, that they might not keepe the Paſſeouer the ſame day: and they came before Moſes and before Aaron the ſame day.

7 And thoſe men ſaid vnto him, wee are deſiled by a dead man: wherefore are we kept backe that we may not offer an offering vnto the Lord in the time therunto appointed among the children of Iſrael?

8 Then Moſes ſaid vnto theſe, Stand ſtill, and I will heare what the Lord will commande concerning you.

9 And the Lord ſpake vnto Moſes, ſaying,

10 Speake vnto the children of Iſrael, and ſay, If any among you, or of your poſteritie ſhalbe vncleane by the reaſon of a corps, or bee in a long iourney, he ſhall keepe the Paſſeouer vnto the Lord.

11 In the fourth day of the ſecond moneth at euen they ſhall keepe it: with vncleauened bread and ſoure herbes ſhall they eate it.

12 They ſhall leaue none of it vnto the morning, nor breake any bone of it: according to all the ordinance of the Paſſeouer ſhall they keepe it.

13 But the man that is cleane and is not in a iourney, & is negligent to keepe the Paſſeouer, the ſame perſon ſhalbe cut off fro his people: becauſe he brought not the offering of the Lord in his due ſeaſon, that man ſhall beare his ſinne.

14 And if a ſtranger dwell among you, & wil keepe the Paſſeouer vnto the Lord, as the ordinance of the Paſſeouer, and as the maner thereof is, ſo ſhall he do: ye ſhall haue one lawe both for the ſtranger, and for him that was borne in the ſame land.

15 And when the Tabernacle was reared by, a cloude covered the Tabernacle, [namely] the Tabernacle of Teſtimonie: and at euen there was vpon the Tabernacle, as the appearance of fire vntill morning.

16 So it was alway: the cloude covered it [by daye,] and the appearance of fire by night.

17 And when the cloude was taken by from the Tabernacle, then afterward the children of Iſrael iourneyed: and in the place where the cloude abode, there the children of Iſrael pitched their tents.

18 At the commandement of the Lord the children of Iſrael iourneyed, and at the commandement of the Lord they pitched: as long as the cloude abode vpon the Tabernacle, they lay ſtill.

19 And when the cloude taried ſtill vpon the Tabernacle a long time, the children of Iſrael kept the watch of the Lord, and iourneyed not.

20 So when the cloude abode a few daies vpon the Tabernacle, they abode in their tents according to the commandement of the Lord: for they iourneyed at the commandement of the Lord.

21 And though the cloude abode vpon the Tabernacle from euen vnto the morning, yet if the cloude was taken by in the morning, then they iourneyed: whether by day or by night the cloude was taken by, then they iourneyed.

22 Or if the cloude taried two daies or a moneth, or a yeere vpon the Tabernacle, abiding thereon, the children of Iſrael abode ſtill, & iourneyed not: but when it was taken by, they iourneyed.

23 At the commandement of the Lord they pitched, and at the commandement of the Lord they iourneyed, keeping the watche of the Lord at the commandement of the Lord by the hand of Moſes.

12 And the children of Israel departed on their iourneys out of the desert of Sinai, and the cloud rested in þ wilderness of Paran.

13 So they first tooke their iourney at the commandement of the Lorde, by the hand of Moses.

14 ¶ In the first place went the stæderd of the hoste of the children of Judah, according to their armies: & Nathanson the sonne of Ammadab [was] ouer his bande.

15 And ouer the bande of the tribe of the children of Issachar [was] Bethaneel the sonne of Zuar.

16 And ouer the bande of the tribe of the children of Zebulun [was] Eliab the sonne of Helon.

17 When the Tabernacle was taken downe, then the sonnes of Gershon, and the sonnes of Merari went forwarde bearing the Tabernacle.

18 After, departed the stæderd of the hoste of Reuben according to their armies, and ouer his bande [was] Elisur the sonne of Shedeur.

19 And ouer the bande of the tribe of the children of Simeon [was] Shelumiel the sonne of Shurishaddai.

20 And ouer the bande of the tribe of the children of Gad [was] Eliasaph the sonne of Deuel.

21 The Kohathites also went forwarde and bare the Sanctuarie, and the former did set by the Tabernacle against they came.

22 Then the stæderd of the hoste of the children of Ephraim wet forwarde according to their armies, & ouer his bande [was] Elithama the sonne of Ammud.

23 And ouer the bande of the tribe of the sonnes of Manasseh [was] Gamiel the sonne of Pedasur.

24 And ouer the bande of the tribe of the sonnes of Benjamin [was] Abidan the sonne of Gideon.

25 Last, the stæderd of the hoste of the children of Dan marched, gathering all the hostes according to their armies: and ouer his bande [was] Ahieser the sonne of Ammishaddai.

26 And ouer the bande of the tribe of the children of Asher [was] Bagiel the sonne of Ocran.

27 And ouer the bande of the tribe of the children of Naphtali [was] Ahira the sonne of Enan.

28 These were the remouings of the children of Israel according to their armies, when they marched.

29 After, Moses said vnto Hobab the sonne of Reuel the Midianite, the father in lawe of Moses, we go into the place, of which the Lorde laide, I will giue it you: Come thou with vs, and we will do the good: for the Lorde hath promised good vnto Israel.

30 And he answered him, I will not go: but I will depart to mine owne country, and to my kindred.

31 Then he said, I pray thee leaue vs not: for thou knowest our camping places in the wilderness: therefore thou maist be our guide.

When the people became mur-murers, + it diſpleaſed the Lord: and the Lorde heard it, therefore his wrath was kindled, and the fire of the Lorde burnt among them, and + conſumed the beſt part of the hoſte.

2 Then the people cried vnto Hoſes: and when Hoſes prayed vnto the Lord, the fire was quenched.

3 And he called the name of that place <sup>h</sup> Taberah, becauſe the fire of the Lorde burnt among them.

4 And a number of + people that was among them, fel a luſting, and turned away, and the children of Iſrael alſo wept, and ſayde, who ſhall giue vs fleſh to eate:

5 We remember <sup>h</sup> fiſh which wee did eate in Egypt for + nought, the cucumbers, and the peppons, & the leekes, and the onions, and the garlike.

6 But now our ſoule is + dried away, we can ſee nothing but this MAN.

7 (The MAN alſo was as + roſiander ſeede, and his colour like the colour of + bdellium.

8 The people went about and gathered it, and grounde it in milles, or beat it in morters, & baked it in a cauldron, and made cakes of it, and the taſte of it was like vnto the taſte of freſh oyle.

9 And when the dewe fell downe vpon the hoſte in the night, the MAN fell with it.

10 Then Hoſes heard the people weepe throughout their families, euery man in the doore of his tent, & the wrath of the Lorde was grievouſly kindled:

alſo Hoſes was grieved.

11 And Hoſes ſayde vnto the Lorde, wherefore haſt thou <sup>h</sup> bered thy ſervant: and why haue I not founde + fauour in thy ſight, ſeeing thou haſt put the charge of all this people vpon me?

12 Haue I + conceiued all this people: or haue I begotten the, that thou ſhouldeſt ſay vnto me, Carry the in thy boſome (as a nurſe beareth the ſucking child) vnto the <sup>h</sup> lande for the which thou ſwa- reſt vnto their fathers:

14 I am not able to beare all this people alone, for it is too heauie for me.

15 Therefore if thou deale thus with me, I pray thee, if I haue found fauour in thy ſight, kill me, that I be holde nor my miſerie.

16 Then the Lord ſaide vnto Hoſes, Gather vnto me ſeuentie men of the Elders of Iſrael, whom thou knoweſt, that they are the Elders of the people, & gouernours ouer them, and bring them vnto the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and let them ſtand there with thee.

17 And I will come downe, and talke with thee there, + and take of the Spirit, which is vpon thee, and put vpon them, and they ſhall beare the burthen of the people with thee: ſo thou ſhalt not beare it alone.

18 Furthermoze thou ſhalt ſaye vnto the people, + Be ſanctified againſt to morrow, and ye ſhall eat fleſh: for you haue wept in the eares of the Lorde, ſaying, who ſhall giue vs fleſh to eate: for wee were better in Egypt: therefore <sup>h</sup> Lorde will giue you fleſh, and ye ſhall eate.

24 C So Moses went out, & told the people the wordes of the Lorde, & gathered leuitie men of the Elders of the people, and let them round about the Tabernacle.

25 Then the Lorde came downe in a cloude, and spake vnto him, and tooke of the Spirit that was vpon him, & put it vpon the leuitie Ancient men: & when the Spirit rested vpon them, then they prophesied, and did not cease.

26 But there remained two of the men in the hoste: the name of the one was Eldad, & the name of the other Bedad, and the Spirit rested vpon them, (for they were of the that were written, and went not out vnto the Tabernacle) and they prophesied in the hoste.

27 Then there ran a yong man, and tolde Moses, and sayde, Eldad & Bedad doe prophesie in the hoste.

28 And Joshua the sonne of Nun the seruant of Moses one of his yong men, answered and sayde, My lord Moses, forbid them.

29 But Moses sayd vnto him, Enuieest thou for my sake: yea, wouldest thou that all the Lordes people were Prophets, [and] that the Lorde would put his Spirit vpon them.

30 And Moses returned vnto the hoste, he and the Elders of Israel.

31 Then there went forth a winde from the Lorde, and brought quailles from the Sea, and let them fall vpon the campe, a dayes iourney on this side, and a dayes iourney on the other side, round about the hoste, and they were about twobites about the earth.

32 Then the people arose, at that day, and all the night, and all the next day, and gathered the quailles: he that gathered the least, gathered ten homers full, and they spread them abroad for their vse round about the hoste.

33 While the flesh was yet betwene their teeth, before it was the wed, eue the wrath of the Lorde was kindled against the people, & the Lorde smote the people with an exceeding great plague.

CHAP. XII.

1 Aaron and Miriam grudge against Moses, 20 Miriam is striken with leprosie, and healed at the prayer of Moses.

Afterward Miriam & Aaron spake against Moses, because of the woman of Ethiopia whom he had married, (for hee had married a woman of Ethiopia)

2 And they said, What hath the Lord spoken but onely by Moses: hath he not spoken also by vs: and the Lorde heard [this.]

3 (But Moses was a very meeke man, aboue all the men that were vpon the earth)

4 And by and by the Lord sayde vnto Moses, and vnto Aaron, and vnto Miriam, Come out yee three vnto the Tabernacle of the Congregation: and they three came forth.

5 Then the Lord came downe in the pillar of the cloude, and stood in the doore of the Tabernacle, & called Aaron and Miriam, and they both came forth.

6 And he said, heare now my words, If there be a Prophet of the Lord among you, I will be knownen to him by a vision, [ & ] I will speake vnto him by a dreame.

7 My seruant Moses is not so, who is faithfull in all mine house.

8 Vnto him will I speake mouth to mouth, and by vision, and not in darke words, but he shall see the similitude of the Lorde. wherefore then were ye not afraide to speake against my seruant, [euen] against Moses:

9 Thus the Lorde was very angry with them, and departed.

10 Also the cloude departed from the Tabernacle: & behold, Miriam was leprosie like snow: & Aaron looked vpon Miriam, and beheld, [she was leprosie.]

11 Then Aaron saide vnto Moses, Alas, my lord, I beseech thee, lay not thy sinne vpon vs, which we haue foolishly committed: & wherin we haue sinned.

12 Let her not, I pray thee, be as one dead, of whom the flesh is halfe consumed, when hee cometh out of his mothers wombe.

4 Certaine men are ſent to ſearch the land of Canaan. 24 They bring of the fruites of the land. 31 Caleb comfortheth the people againſt the diſcouraging of the other ſpies.

Then after ward the people remoued from Hazeroth, and pitched in the wildeſneſſe of Paran.

2 And the Lorde ſpake vnto Moſes ſaying,

3 Sende thou men out to ſearch the lande of Canaan which I giue vnto the children of Iſrael: of every tribe of their fathers ſhall ye ſende a man, [ ſuch as are ] all rulers among them.

4 Then Moſes ſent them out of the wildeſneſſe of Paran at the commandement of the Lorde: all thoſe men were heads of the children of Iſrael.

5 Alſo their names are theſe: of the tribe of Reuben, Shammua ſonne of Zaccur:

6 Of the tribe of Simeon, Shaphat the ſonne of Hori:

7 Of the tribe of Iudah, Caleb the ſonne of Iephunneh:

8 Of the tribe of Iſſachar, Igal the ſonne of Joſeph:

9 Of the tribe of Ephraim, Oſhea the ſonne of Nun:

10 Of the tribe of Benjamin, Balai the ſonne of Raphu:

11 Of the tribe of Zebulun, Gaddiel the ſonne of Sodi:

12 Of the tribe of Joſeph, [ to wit. ] of the tribe of Manaſſeh, Gaddi the ſonne of Suſi:

13 Of the tribe of Dan, Ammuel the ſonne of Gemalli:

14 Of the tribe of Aſher, Sethur the ſonne of Michael:

15 Of the tribe of Naphtali, Naſibi the ſonne of Nophſi:

16 Of the tribe of Gad, Geuel the ſonne of Machi.

17 Theſe are the names of the men, which Moſes ſent to ſpie out the lande: and Moſes called the name of Oſhea the ſonne of Nun Jeſhoſhua.

18 So Moſes ſent the to ſpie out the land of Canaan, and ſaid vnto them, Go by this way toward the South, and go by into the mountaines,

19 And conſider the land what it is, & the people that dwell therein, whether they be ſtrong or weak, either few or many,

20 Alſo what the lande [ is ] that they dwell in, whether it bee good or bad: and what cities they be, if they dwell in, whether they dwell in tents, or in walled towneſ:

21 And what the land [ is ] whether it be fat or leane, whether there be trees therein, or not. And be of good courage, and bring of the fruites of the land [ for the ] [ was ] the time of the firſt ripe grapes:

22 So they went by, and ſearched out the land, from the wildeſneſſe of Zin vnto Rehob, to go to Hamath,

23 And they aſcended toward the South, and came vnto Hebron, where were Ahiman, Shethai & Talmai, the ſonnes of Anak. And Hebron was built ſeuen yere before Zoan in Egypt.

24 Then they came to the river of Eſthol, & cut downe there a branch with one cluſter of grapes, & they bare it vpon a barre betwene two, and brought of the pomegranates and of the figges.

25 That place was called the river Eſthol, becauſe of the cluſter of grapes, which the children of Iſrael cut downe thence.

26 Then after fourtie dayes, they turned againe from ſearching of the land.

27 And they went & came to Moſes & to Aaron and vnto al the Congregation of the children of Iſrael, in the wildeſneſſe of Paran, to Kadeſh, and brought to them, & to all the Congregation tidings, and ſhewed them the fruites of the land.

28 And they tolde him, and ſaid, We came vnto the lande whither thou haſt ſent vs, & ſurely it floweth with milke and hony: and here is of the fruites of it.

29 Neuertheleſſe the people bee ſtrong that dwell in the land, and the cities are walled and exceeding great: and moreover, we ſaw the ſonnes of Anak there.

30 The Amalekites dwell in the South country, and the Hittites, and the Jebuſites, and the Amorites dwell in the mountaines, and the Canaanites dwell by the Sea, and by the coaſt of Iordan.

31 Then Caleb ſtilled the people before Moſes, and ſayde, Let vs go by at once, and poſſeſſe it: for undoubtedly we ſhall ouercome it.

32 But the men, that went by to him, ſaid, We be not able to go by againſt the people: for they are ſtronger then we.

33 So they brought by an euill report of the land which they had ſearched for the children of Iſrael, ſaying, The land which wee haue gone through to ſearch it out, is a land that eateth vp the inhabitants thereof: for at the people that we

CHAP. XIII.

2 The people murmur against Moses, 10 The people would have stoned Caleb and Ioshua, 13 Moses pacifieth God by his prayer, 45 The people that would enter into the land, contrary to Gods will, are slaine.

When all the Congregation lifted by their voyce, and cryed: and the people wept that night,

2 And all the children of Israel murmured against Moses and Aaron: and the whole assembly said vnto them, would God we had died in the land of Egypt, or in this wilderness: would God we were dead.

3 Wherefore now he hath the Lord brought vs into this land to fall vpon the sword: our wiues, and our children shall be a pray: were it not better for vs to returne into Egypt?

4 And they said one to another, Let vs make a captain, & returne into Egypt.

5 Then Moses & Aaron fell on their faces before all the assembly of the Congregation of the children of Israel.

6 And Ioshua the sonne of Nun, and Caleb the sonne of Iephunneh [two] of them that searched the lande, rent their clothes,

7 And spake vnto all the assembly of the children of Israel, saying, The land which we walked through to search it, is a verie good land.

8 If the Lord loue vs, he will bring vs into this land, & giue it vs, which is a land that floweth with milke and hony.

9 But rebell not ye against the Lord, neither feare ye the people of the land: for they are but bread for vs: their shield is departed from them, and the Lord is with vs, feare them not.

10 And all the multitude said, Stone them with stones: but the glory of the Lord appeared in the Tabernacle of the Congregation, before all the children of Israel.

11 And the Lord saide vnto Moses, How long will this people prouoke me, and how long will it be, yet they beleeeue me, for all the signes which I haue thewed among them?

12 I will smite them with the pestilence & destroy them, and will make thee a greater nation & mightier then they.

13 But Moses saide vnto the Lord,

* When the Egyptians shall heare it, (for thou broughtest this people by thy powder from among them)

14 Then they shall say to the inhabitants of this land, ([for] they haue heard that thou, Lord, art among this people, and) that thou, Lord, art seene face to face, and that thy cloud standeth ouer them, and that thou goest before them by day time in a pillar of a cloude, and in a pillar of fire by night)

15 That thou wilt kill this people as one man: so the heathen which haue heard the fame of thee, shall thus say,

16 Because the Lord was not able to bring this people into the land, which he swore vnto them, therefore hath hee slaine them in the wilderness.

17 And now, I beseech thee, let the powder of my Lord be great, according as thou hast spoken, saying,

18 The Lord is able to anger, and of great mercy, and forgiving iniquitie, and sinne, but not making [the wicked] innocent, and blissing the wickednes of the fathers vpon the children, in y third and fourth [generation:]

19 Be mercifull, I beseech thee, vnto the iniquitie of this people, according to thy great mercy, and as thou hast forgiven this people, from Egypt, euen vntill now.

20 And the Lord said, I haue forgiven<sup>h</sup> it, according to thy request.

21 Notwithstanding, as I live, all the earth shall be filled with the glorie of the Lord.

22 For all those men which haue seemed my glory, and my miracles which I did in Egypt, and in the wilderness, & haue tempted me this ten times, & haue not obeyed my voyce, 23 Certainly they shall not see y land, whereof I swore vnto their fathers: neither shall any that prouoke me, see it.

24 But my seruant Caleb, because he had another spirit, and hath followed me full, euen him will I bring into the lande, whither hee went, and his seede shall inherite it.

25 Now the Amalekites and the Canaanites remaine in the valley: Wherefore turne backe to morrow, and get you into the wilderness, by the way of the red Sea.

25 And the Priest shall make an atonement for all the Congregation of the children of Israel, & it shall be forgiven them: for it is ignorance: and they shall bring their offering for an offering made by fire vnto the Lord, and their sinne offering before the Lord for their ignorance.

26 Then it shall be forgiven all the Congregation of the children of Israel, and the stranger that dwelleth among them: for all the people [were] in ignorance, 27 *But if any one person sinne through ignorance, then he shall bring a hee goat of a yere old for a sinne offering.

Leuit. 4. 27.

28 And the Priest shall make an atonement for the ignorant person, when hee sinneth by ignorance before the Lord, to make reconciliation for him: and it shall be forgiven him.

29 He that is borne among the children of Israel, & the stranger that dwelleth among them, shall haue both one lawe, who so doeth sinne by ignorance.

32 And while the children of Israel were in the wilderness, they found a man that gathered sticks vpon the Sabbath day.

33 And they that found him gathering sticks, brought him vnto Moses & to Aaron, & vnto all the Congregation, 34 And they put him in ward: for it was not declared what should be done vnto him.

Leuit. 24. 12.

35 Then the Lord sayde vnto Moses, This man shall die the death: and let all the multitude stone him with stones without the hoste.

36 And all the Congregation brought him without the hoste, and stoned him with stones, and he dyed, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

37 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

|| Or, before
Moses.

Chap. 26. 9.

2 And they rose vp || against Moses, with certaine of the children of Israel, two hundredeth and fiftie captaines of the assemblie, * famous in the Congregation, and men of renoume,

3 Who gathered themselves together against Moses, and against Aaron, and saide vnto them, * [Take] to much vpon you, seeing all the Congregation is holy, <sup>b</sup> every one of them, and the Lord is among the: wherefore then lift ye your selues above the Congregation of the Lord:

a Or, let it suffice you: meaning, to haue abused them thus long.
b All are alike holy: therefore none ought to be preferred above other: thus the wicked reason against Gods ordinance.

4 But when Moses heard it, he fell vpon his face,

5 And spake to Korah and vnto all his companie, saying, To morrow the Lord will shewe who is his, and who is holy, and who ought to appoche neere vnto him: and whom hee hath chosen, he will cause to come neere to him.

c To see the Priest, and to offer.

6 This do therefore, [Take you censers, both] Korah, & all his companie,

7 And put fire therein, & put incense in them before the Lorde to morrow: and the man whom the Lorde doeth chuse, the same shall be holy: <sup>d</sup> [ye take] to much vpon you, ye sonnes of Levi.

d He layeth the same to their charge justly, in that which they wrongfully charged him,

8 Againe Moses saide vnto Korah, Heare, I pray you, ye sonnes of Levi,

9 Seemeth it a small thing vnto you that the God of Israel hath separated you from the multitude of Israel, to take you neere to him selfe, to do the seruice of the Tabernacle of the Lord, & to stande before the Congregation and to minister vnto them:

e To serue in the Congregation, as in the verse before,

10 Hee hath also taken thee to him, and all thy brethren the sonnes of Levi with thee, and seeke ye the office of the Priest also:

11 For which cause, thou, and all thy companie are gathered together against the Lorde: and what is Aaron, that ye murmure against him?

12 And Moses sent to cal Dathan, and Abiram the sonnes of Eliab: who answered, We will not come vp.

f Thus they spake eternally, referring Egypt to Canaan,

13 Is it a small thing that thou hast brought vs out of a land that floweth with milke & hony, to kill vs in the wil-dernesse, except thou make thy selfe lord and ruler ouer vs also:

14 Also thou hast not brought vs vnto a land that floweth with milke & hony, neither giue vs inheritance of fields & vineyards: wilt thou put out the eyes of these men: We will not come vp.

g While thou make them, & searchest the land, beleene not by which they saue. Gen. 4. 4. 5.

15 Then Moses waxed very angry, and said vnto the Lord, * Looke not vnto their offering: I haue not taken so much as an asse fro them, neither haue I hurt any of them.

16 And Moses saide vnto Korah, Be thou & all thy companie <sup>h</sup> before the Lord: [both] thou, they, and Aaron to morrow:

h At the doore of the Tabernacle.

17 And take every man his censer, and put incense in them, and bring yee every man his censer before the Lorde, two hundredeth and fiftie censers: thou also and Aaron, every one his censer.

18 So they tooke every man his censer, and put fire in them, and laid incense thereon, and stood in the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation with Moses and Aaron.

19 And Korah gathered all the multitude against them vnto the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation: then the glorie of the Lord appeared vnto all the Congregation.

i All that were of their factis.

20 And the Lord spake vnto Moses and to Aaron, saying,

21 Separate your selues from among this Congregation, that I may consume them at once.

22 And they fell vpon their faces and sayde, O God, the God of spirits, [of all flesh, hath not one man] onely] sinned, & wilt thou be wroth with all the Congregation:

|| Or, of every creature.

23 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

24 Speake vnto the Congregation & say, Get you away from about the Tabernacle of Korah, Dathan & Abiram.

25 Then Moses rose vp, and went vnto Dathan and Abiram, and the Elders of Israel followed him.

26 And he spake vnto the Congregation, saying, Depart, I pray you, from the tents of these wicked men, and touch nothing of theirs, least yee perish in all their finnes.

k With them that haue committed to many finnes.

27 So they gate them away from the Tabernacle of Korah, Dathan & Abiram on euery side: and Dathan, & Abiram came out and stood in the doore of their tentes with their wiues, and their sonnes, and their little children.

28 And

28 And Moses saide, hereby ye shall know that the Lord hath sent me to do all these workes: for [I haue] not done them of mine owne minde.

1 I haue not forgoten them of mine owne

29 If these men die the comon death of all men, or if they be visited after the visitation of all men, the Lord hath not sent me.

32 And the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed them by, with their families, and all the men that were with Korah, and all their goods.

33 So they and all that they had, went downe aliue into the pit, and the earth couered them: so they perished from among the Congregation.

34 And all Israel were about the, fled at the cry of them: for they said, Let vs flee, leaue the earth swallowe vs by.

35 But there came out a fire from the Lord, and consumed the two hundredeth and fiftie men that offered the incense.

36 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

37 Speake vnto Eleazar, the sonne of Aaron the Priest, that he take by the censers out of the burning, & scatter the fire beyond the altar: for they are halowed,

38 The censers, [I say,] of these sinners, that destroyed them selues: and let them make of them broade plates for a covering of the altar: for they offered them before the Lord, therefore they shalbe holy, and they shalbe a signe vnto the children of Israel.

o Which were the occasion of their owne death.

39 Then Eleazar the Priest tooke the brazen censers, which they, that were burnt, had offered, & made broade plates of them for a covering of the Altar.

p Of Gods

against rebels,

40 [It is] a remembrance vnto the children of Israel, y no stranger which is not of the seede of Aaron, come neere to offer incense before the Lord, that he be not like Korah and his companie, as the Lord said to him by the hand of Moses.

q Which presented about his vocation.

41 But on the morrow all the multitude of the children of Israel murmured against Moses & against Aaron, saying, We haue killed the people of the Lord.

42 And whē the Congregation was gathered against Moses and against Aaron, then they turned their faces towarde the Tabernacle of the Congregation: and beholde, the cloude couered it, and the glory of the Lord appeared.

Or fled to wit, Moses and Aaron.

43 Then Moses and Aaron were come before the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

44 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

45 Get you by fro among this Congregation: for I will consume them quickly: then they fel vpon their faces.

46 And Moses layde vnto Aaron, Take the censer & put fire therein of the Altar, & put therein incense, & go quickly vnto the Congregation, and make an atonement for them: for there is wrath gone out fro the Lord: y plague is begun.

For it had not lawfull to take any other fire, but of the Altar of burnt offering, Levit.
10. 1.

47 Then Aaron tooke as Moses commaunded him, and came into the mids of the Congregation, and beholde, the plague was begun among the people, and hee put in incense, and made an atonement for the people.

For hee had been to punish the people.

48 And when he stood betwene the dead, and them that were aliue, the plague was stayed.

For hee had backe his hand and hee also to punish them.

49 So they died of this plague fouretene thousand & seuen hundredeth, beside them that died in the conspiracie of Korah.

50 And Aaron went againe vnto Moses before the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and the plague was stayed.

2 The twelue rodde of the twelue princes of the tribes of Israel, 8 Aarons rodde budde, and beareth blossoms, 10 For a testimonie against the rebellious people.

And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

3 Speake vnto the children of Israel, and take of euery one of them a rod, after the house of their fathers, of all their princes according to the familie of their fathers, euē twelue rods: [and] thou shalt write euery mans name vpon his rod.

dye of Israel, and all their Princes gaue him a rodde, one rodde for euery Prince, according to the houses of their fathers, [euery] threue rodde, and the rodde of Aaron [was] among their rods.

7 And Moses layed the rods before the Lord in the Tabernacle of the Testimonie.

8 And when Moses on the morowe went into the Tabernacle of the Testimonie, behold, the rod of Aaron for the house of Leui was budded, and brought forth buddes, and brought forth blossoms, and bare ripe almondes.

9 Then Moses brought out all the rods from before the Lord vnto all the children of Israel: and they looked vpon them, and tooke euery man his rodde.

10 After, the Lord sayde vnto Moses, *Bring Aarons rodde againe before the Testimonie to be kept for a token to the rebellious children, and thou shalt cause their murmurings to cease from me, that they dye not.

11 So Moses did as the Lord had commanded him: so did he.

12 And the children of Israel spake vnto Moses, saying, Beholde, we are dead, we perish, we are all lost:

13 Whosoener commeth neere, or approacheth to the Tabernacle of the Lord, shall dye: shall we be consumed and die?

AND the Lord saide vnto Aaron, Thou, and thy sonnes & fathers house with thee, shall beare the iniquitie of the Sanctuary: both thou and thy sonnes with thee shall beare the iniquitie of your Priestes office.

2 And bring also with thee thy brethren of the tribe of Leui of the familie of thy father, which shall be ioynd with thee, and minister vnto thee: but thou, & thy sonnes with thee, shall minister before the Tabernacle of the Testimonie:

3 And they shall keepe thy charge, euery charge of all the Tabernacle: but they shall not come neere the instruments of the Sanctuary, nor to the Altar, least they dye, both they and you:

4 And they shall be ioynd with thee, and keepe the charge of the Tabernacle of the Congregation for all the seruice of the Tabernacle: and no stranger shall come neere vnto you:

5 Therefore shall yee keepe charge of the Sanctuary, and the charge of the altar: so there shall fall no more wrath vpon the children of Israel.

6 Forso, I haue taken your brethren the Leuites from among the children of Israel, [which] as a gift of yours, are giuen vnto the Lord, to do the seruice of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

7 But thou, & thy sonnes with thee shall keepe your Priestes office for all thinges of the altar, & within the baile: therefore shall yee serue: for I haue made your Priestes office an office of seruice: therefore the stranger that cometh neere, shall be slaine.

8 Again the Lord spake vnto Aaron, Beholde, I haue giuen thee the keeping of mine offerings, of all the hallowed thinges of the children of Israel: vnto thee I haue giuen them for the appointments sake, and to thy sonnes, for a perpetuall ordinance.

9 This shall be thine of the most holy thinges, referred from the fire: all their offering, of all their meate offering, & of all their sinne offering, & of all their trespass offering, which they bring vnto me, I shall be most holy vnto thee & to thy sonnes.

10 In the most holy place shalt thou eate it: euery male shall eate of it: it is holy vnto thee.

12 All the fat of the oyle, & all the fat of the wine, and of wheat, which they shall offer vnto the Lord for their first fruites, I haue giuen them vnto thee.

13 And the first ripe of all that is in their land, which they shall bring vnto the Lord, shall be thine: all the cleane in thine house shall eate of it.

14 *Euery thing separate from the common vse in Israel, shall be thine.

16 And those that are to be redeemed, shalt thou redeeme from the age of a moneth, according to thy estimation, for the money of shekels, after the shekel of the Sanctuary,

And the Lord spake to Moses, and to Aaron, saying,

2 This is the ordinance of the law, which the Lord hath commanded, saying, Speake vnto the children of Israel that they bring thee a redde kowe without blemish, wherein is no spot, vpon the which neuer came yoke.

a According to this lawe and ceremonie, ye shall sacrifice
the red kowe.

3 And ye shall giue her vnto Eleazar the Priest, that he may bring her* without the hofte, and caule her to be slaine before his face.

Heb. 13. 11.

Heb. 9. 13.

5 And caule y<sup>e</sup> kowe to be burnt in his Leuit. 4. 11. 12.

6 Then shall the Priest take cedar wood, and hyssope and skarlet [lace], & cast them in the mids of the fire where the kowe burneth.

c Speaking Eleazar.
d The inferior Priest who killed her and burned her.

7 Then shall the Priest wash his clothes, and he shall wash his flesh in water, and then come into the hofte, and the Priest shalbe vncleane vnto y<sup>e</sup> euen.

e Because y<sup>e</sup> thing that was so polluted for their vnclean-nesse, were sprinkled ther-with & made cleane. Chap.
8. 7. It is also called holy water, because it was offered to an holy
use. chap. 5. 17.

8 Also he that<sup>a</sup> burneth her, shall wash his clothes in water, & wash his flesh in water, & be vncleane vntill euen.

9 And a man, [that is] cleane shall take by the athes of the kowe, and purthem without the hofte in a cleane place:
and it shalbe kept for the Congregation of the children of Israel for a sprinkling water: it is a sinne offering.

10 Therefore

10 Therefore he that gathereth the ashes of the kolv, shall wash his clothes, and remaine vncleane untill euen: and it shall be vnto the children of Israel, and vnto the stranger that dwelleth among them, a statute for euer.

11 He that toucheth the dead body of any man, shall be vncleane euen seven dayes.

12 He shall purifie him selfe <sup>f</sup> there: with the third day, and the seventh day he shall be cleane: but if he purifie not him selfe the third day, then the seventh day he shall not be cleane.

13 Who so euer toucheth the corpes of any man that is dead, and purgeth not him selfe, defileth the Tabernacle of the Lorde, and that person shall be <sup>g</sup> cut off from Israel, because the sprinkling water was not sprinkled vpon him: he shall be vncleane, and his vncleannesse shall remaine still vpon him.

14 This is the lawe, when a man dyeth in a tent, all that come into the tent, and all that is in the tent, shall be vncleane seven dayes.

15 And all the vessels that be open, which haue no <sup>h</sup> couering fastened vpon them, shall be vncleane.

16 Also whosoever toucheth one that is slaine with a sword in the fieelde, or a dead person, or a bone of a dead man, or a graue, shall be vncleane seven dayes.

17 Therefore for an vncleane person they shall take of the burnt ashes of the <sup>i</sup> sinne offering, and pure water shall be put thereto in a vessell.

18 And a <sup>k</sup> cleane person shall take hyssope and dip it in the water, and sprinkle it vpon the tent, and vpon all the vessels, and on the persons that were therein, & vpon him that touched the bone, or the slaine, or the dead, or the graue.

19 And <sup>l</sup> a cleane person shall sprinkle vpon the vncleane the third day, and the seventh day, and he shall purifie him selfe the seventh day, and wash his clothes, and wash him selfe in water, and shall be cleane at euen.

20 But the man that is vncleane and purifieth not him selfe, that person shall be cut off from among the Congregation, because he hath defiled the Sanctuary of the Lorde: and the sprinkling water hath not bene sprinkled vpon him: [therefore] shall he be vncleane.

1 Spiritum dyeth, 2 The people murmure, 3 They haue water out of the rocke, 14 Euen despecth the Israelites passage, 25, 28 The death of Aaron, in whose roume Eleazar succedeth.

When the children of Israel came with the whole Congregation to <sup>a</sup> desert of Zin in the first moneth, & the people abode at Iadeth: where <sup>b</sup> Spiritum dyed, and was buried there.

2 But there was no water for the Congregation, and they assembled the selues against Moses & against Aaron.

3 And the people chode with Moses, and spake, saying, woulde God we had perished, * When our brethren dyed before the Lorde.

4 * Why haue ye thus brought the Congregation of the Lorde vnto this wilderness, that [both] we, and our cattell should dye there?

5 Wherefore now haue ye made vs to come vp from Egypt, to bring vs into this miserable place, [which is] no place of seede, nor figges, nor vines, nor pomegranates: neither is there any water to drinke.

6 Then Moses and Aaron went fro the assemble vnto the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and fell vpon their faces: and the glorie of the Lord appeared vnto them.

7 And <sup>c</sup> the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

8 Take the <sup>d</sup> rod, and gather thou & thy brother Aaron the Congregation together, and speake ye vnto the rocke before their eyes, and it shall giue forth his water, and thou shalt bring them water out of the rocke: so thou shalt giue the Congregation, and their beasts drinke.

9 Then Moses tooke the rod fro before the Lord, as he had commanded him.

10 And Moses and Aaron gathered the Congregation together before the rocke, & [Moses] said vnto them, heare now, ye rebels: shall we bring you water out of this rocke?

11 Then Moses lift by his hand, and with his rod he smote the rocke twise, & the water came out abundantly: so the Congregation, and their beasts drinke.

ses, and to Aaron, Because ye beleueed me not, to sanctifie me in the presence of the children of Israel, therefore ye shall not bring this Congregation into the land which I haue given them.

13 This is the water of Meribah, because the children of Israel stroue with the Lord, & he was sanctified in them.

14 Then Moses sent messengers from Kadesh vnto the king of Edom, [saying,] Thus saith thy brother Israel, Thou knowest all the trouble that we haue had,

15 How our fathers went downe into Egypt, and we dwelt in Egypt a long time, where the Egyptians handled vs euill and our fathers.

16 But when we cried vnto the Lord, he heard our voyce, and sent an Angel, and hath brought vs out of Egypt, and behold, we are in the cite Kadesh, in thine utmost border.

17 I pray thee that we may passe through thy country: we wil not goe through the fields nor vineyards, neither wil we drinke of the water of the welles: we wil go by kings way, and neither turne vnto the right hand nor to the left, until we be past thy borders.

18 And Edom answered him, Thou shalt not passe by me, least I come out against thee with the sword.

19 Then the children of Israel said vnto him, we wil go vp by the hie way: and if I and my cattell drinke of thy water, I wil then pay for it: I wil only without any harme go through on thy feete.

20 He answered againe, Thou shalt not go through. Then Edom came out against him with much people, & with a mightie powder.

21 Thus Edom denied to giue Israel passage through his country: wherefore Israel turned away from him.

22 And when the children of Israel with all the Congregation departed fro Kadesh, they came vnto the mount Hor.

23 And the Lord spake vnto Moses and to Aaron in the mount Hor neere the coast of the land of Edom, saying, 24 Aaron shall be gathered vnto his people: for he shall not enter into the land, which I haue giuen vnto the children of Israel, because ye disobeyed my commandement at the water of Meribah.

25 Take Aaron & Eleazar his sonne, and bring them vp into the mount Hor, 26 And cause Aaron to put off his garments and put them vpon Eleazar his sonne: for Aaron shall be gathered to his fathers, and shall die there.

27 And Moses did as the Lord had commanded: and they went vp into the mount Hor, in the sight of all the Congregation.

28 And Moses put off Aarons clothes, and put them vpon Eleazar his sonne: so Aaron died there in the toppe of the mount: and Moses and Eleazar came downe from off the mount.

29 When all the Congregation sawe that Aaron was dead, all the house of Israel wept for Aaron thirtie dayes.

3 Israel banqueteth king Arab. 6 The fierie serpents are sent for the rebellion of the people. 24. 33. Dison and Og are overcome in battell.

When King Arab the Canaanite, which dwelt towarde the South, heard that Israel came by the way of the spies, then fought he against Israel, and tooke of them prisoners.

2 So Israel bowed a bowe vnto the Lord, & sayd, If thou wilt deliuer [and] giue this people into mine hand, then I will utterly destroy their cities.

3 And the Lord heard the voyce of Israel, and deliuered them the Canaanites: and they utterly destroyed them and their cities, and called the name of the place Hormah.

4 After, they departed from the mount Hor by the way of the red Sea, to compass the land of Edom: and the people were sore grieved because of the way.

5 And the people spake against God and against Moses, saying, Wherefore haue ye brought vs out of Egypt, to die in the wilderness: for here is neither bread nor water, and our soule lotheth this light bread.

6 Wherefore the Lord sent fierie serpents among the people which stung the people: so that many of the people of Israel died.

7 Therefore the people came to Moses & sayd, we haue sinned: for we haue spoken against the Lord, and against thee: pray to the Lord, that he take away the serpents from vs: and Moses prayed for the people.

8 And the Lord sayd vnto Moses, Make thee a fierie serpent, and let it be for a signe, that as many as are bitten, may looke vpon it, and liue.

fielde: and Balak the sonne of Zippor [was] King of the Moabites at that time.

5 He sent messengers therefore vnto
Balaam the sonne of Beor to Bethor (which is by the river of the land of the children of his folke) to call him, saying, Behold, there is a people come out of Egypt, which couer the face of the earth, and lie ouer against me.

6 Come nowe therefore, I pray thee, [and] curse me this people (for they are stronger then I) so it may be that I shall be able to smite them and to drine them out of the land: for I knowe that he, whome thou blessest, is blessed, and he whome thou cursest, shall be cursed.

7 And the Elders of Moab, & the Elders of Midian departed, hauing [the reward] of [the] soothsaying in their hand, and they came vnto Balaam, and tolde him the wordes of Balak.

8 Who answered them, Tarie here this night, & I will giue you an answer, as the Lord shall say vnto me. So the princes of Moab abode with Balaam.

9 Then God came vnto Balaam, and sayd, what men are these with thee?

10 And Balaam sayd vnto God, Balak the sonne of Zippor, king of Moab hath sent vnto me, [saying,]

11 Beholde, [there is] a people come out of Egypt and couereth the face of the earth: come nowe, curse them for my sake: so it may be that I shall be able to ouercome them in battell, and to drine them out.

12 And God [sayd] vnto Balaam, Go not thou with them, neither curse the people, for they are blessed.

13 And Balaam rose vp in [the] morning, and sayd vnto the princes of Balak, Returne vnto your land: for the Lord hath refused to giue me leaue to go with you.

14 So the princes of Moab rose vp, and went vnto Balak, and sayde, Bala-am hath refused to come with vs.

15 And Balak yet sent againe more princes, and more honourable then they.

16 Who came to Balaam, and sayd to him, Thus saith Balak [the] sonne of Zip-por, Be not thou stayed, I pray thee, from coming vnto me.

17 For I will promote thee vnto great honour, and will doe whatsoever thou sayest vnto me: come therefore, I pray thee, curse me this people.

18 And Balaam answered, and sayd vnto the seruants of Balak, If Balak would giue me his house full of silver and golde, I can not go beyond the worde of the Lord my God, to doe lesse or more.

19 But nowe I pray you, tarie here this night, that I may wit, what the Lord will say vnto me [more].

20 And God came vnto Balaam by night, and sayde vnto him, If the men come to call thee, rise vp, [and] goe with them: but onely what thing I say vnto thee, that shalt thou doe.

21 So Balaam rose vp early, and sad-led his asse, and went with the princes of Moab.

22 And the wrath of God was kindled, because he went: and the Angel of the Lord stood in the way to be against him, as he rode vpon his asse, & his two seruants [were] with him.

23 And when the asse sawe the Angel of the Lord stand in the way, and his sword drawen in his hand, the asse turned out of the way & went into the field, but Balaam smote the asse, to turne her into the way.

24 Againe the Angel of the Lord stood in a path of the vineyardes, [hauing] a wall on the one side, and a wall on the other.

25 And when the asse sawe the Angel of the Lord, she thrust her selfe vnto the wall, & dashed Balaams foot against the wall: wherefore he smote her againe.

26 Then the Angel of the Lord went further, & stood in a narrow place, where was no way to turne, [either] to [the] right hand, or to the left.

27 And when the asse sawe the Angel of the Lord, she lay downe vnder Balaam: therefore Balaam was verie wroth, and smote the asse with a staffe.

28 Then the Lord opened [the] mouth of the asse, and she sayd vnto Balaam, what haue I done vnto thee, that thou hast smitten me now three times?

29 And Balaam sayd vnto the asse, Because thou hast mocked me: I would there were a sword in mine hand, for nowe would I kill thee.

30 And the asse sayde vnto Balaam, Am not I thine asse, which thou hast ridden vpon? since thy first time vnto this day: haue I vsed at any time to doe thus vnto thee? who sayd, Nay.

31 And the Lord opened the eyes of Balaam, and he sawe the Angel of the Lord standing in [the] way with his sword drawen in his hand: then he bowed himselfe, and fell flat on his face.

32 And the Angel of the Lord said vn-

35 But the Angel ſayd vnto Balaam, Go with the men: but what I ſay vnto thee, that ſhalt thou ſpeake. So Balaam went with the princes of Balak.

36 And when Balak heard that Balaam came, he went out to meet him vnto a citie of Moab, which is in the border of Arnon, euen in the vtmoſt coaſt.

37 Then Balak ſayd vnto Balaam,
Did I not ſende for thee to call thee:

Balak, Lo, I am come vnto thee, and can I now ſay any thing at all: the worde that God putteth in my mouth, that ſhall I ſpeake.

39 So Balaam went with Balak, and they came into the citie of Huſoth.

40 Then Balak offered bullockes, and

5 Balaam prophesiech of the great prosperitie that should come vnto Iſrael: 17 Also of the coming of Christ, 20 The destruction of the Amalekites, and of the Kenites,

When Balaam saw that he pleased the Lorde to blesse Iſrael, then he went not, as certaine times before, to set diuinations, but let his face toward the wilderness.

2 And Balaam lift by his eyes, and looked vpon Iſrael, which dwelt according to their tribes, & the Spirit of God came vpon him.

3 And hee offered his parable, and sayde, Balaam the sonne of Beor hath sayde, and the man, whose eyes were shut by, hath said,

4 Hee hath sayde, which heard the wordes of God, and sawe the vision of the Almighty, and falling in a trance had his eyes opened:

5 Howe goodly are thy tentes, O Iakob, & thine habitations, O Iſrael:

6 As the valleys, are they stretched forth, as gardens by the riuers side, as the alooe trees, which the Lord hath planted, as the cedars, beside the waters.

7 The water droppeth out of his bucket, & his seede shalbe in many waters, and his king shalbe hier then Agag, and his kingdome shalbe exalted.

8 God brought him out of Egypt: his strength shalbe as an unicorn: he shall eate the nations his enemies, and bruiſe their bones, and shoote them through with his arrowes.

9 Hee couched [and] lyeth downe as a yong lyon, & as a lyon: who shall stirre him by: blessed is hee that bleſseth thee, and cursed is hee that curseth thee.

10 The Balak was very angry with Balaam, and smote his hands together: so Balak sayde vnto Balaam, I sent for thee to curse mine enemies, and behold, thou hast blessed them now three times.

11 Therefore now see vnto thy place: I thought surely to promote thee vnto honour, but loe, the Lord hath kept thee backe from honour.

12 Then Balaam answered Balak, I did I not also thy messengers, which thou sentest vnto me, saying,

13 If Balak would giue me his house full of silver and golde, I can not passe the commandement of the Lord, to doe [either] good or bad of mine owne mind: what the Lord shall commaunde, that same will I speake.

14 And now behold, I go vnto my people: come, I will advertise thee what this people shall do to thy folke in the later dayes.

15 And he offered his parable, & sayd, Balaam the sonne of Beor hath said, & the man whose eyes were shut by, hath said,

16 He hath said that heard the wordes of God, and hath the knowledge of the most high, and sawe the vision of the Almighty, and falling in a trance had his eyes opened:

17 I shall see him, but not now: I shall beholde him, but not neere: there shall come a starre of Iakob, and a scepter shall rise of Iſrael, and shall smite the coastes of Moab, and destroy all the sonnes of Sheth.

2 The people committeth fornication with the daughters of Moab, 9 Phinehas killeth Zimri and Cozbi, 11 God maketh his covenant with Phinehas, 17 God commandeth to kill the Midianites.

NOW whiles Israel abode in Shittim, the people began to commit whozome with the daughters of Moab:

2 which called the people
vnto the sacrifice of their gods, & the people ate, and bowed downe to their gods.

3 And Israel coupled himselfe vnto Baal Peor: wherefore the wrath of the Lord was kindled against Israel:

4 And the Lord saide vnto Moses, Take all the heades of the people, and hang them by before the Lord against the sunne, y the indignation of the Lords wrath may be turned from Israel.

5 Then Moses said vnto the Iudges of Israel, Every one slay his men that were ioyned with Baal Peor.

6 And beholde, one of the children of Israel came and brought vnto his bethren a Midianitish woman in the sight of Moses, and in the sight of all the Congregation of the children of Israel, who wept before the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

7 And when Phinehas the sonne of Elezar the sonne of Aaron the Priest saw it, he rose vp from the middes of the Congregation, and tooke a speare in his hand,

8 And followed the man of Israel into the tent, & thrust them both through:
[to wit,] the man of Israel, and the woman, through her bellie: so the plague ceased from the children of Israel.

9 And there dyed in that plague, four and twentie thousand.

10 Then the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

11 Phinehas the sonne of Eleazar the sonne of Aaron the Priest, hath turned mine anger away from the children of Israel, while he was zealous for my sake among them: therefore I haue not consumed the children of Israel in my ielousie.

12 Wherefore say [to him,] Beholde,
I giue vnto him my covenant of peace,

13 And hee shall haue it, and his seede after him, [euen] the covenant of the Priests office for euer, because hee was zealous for his God, and hath made an atonement for the children of Israel.

14 And y name of the Israelitish yustaine, which was killed with the Medianitish woman, [was] Zimri the sonne of Salu, prince of the familie of the Simeonites.

15 And the name of the Midianitish woman, that was slaine, [was] Cozbi the daughter of Zur, who [was] head ouer
the people of his fathers house in Midia.

16 C Againe the Lord spake vnto
Moses, saying,

17 Take y Midianites, & smite them:
18 For they trouble you with their wyles, wherewith they haue beguiled you as concerning Peor, and as concerning their sister Cozbi the daughter of a prince of Midian, which was slaine in the day of the plague because of Peor.

of the Huphamites.

40 And the sonnes of Zela were Ard and Raaman: of Ard came the familie of the Ardites, of Raaman, the familie of the Raamites.

41 These are the sonnes of Benjamin after their families, and their numbers, five & fourtie thousand and six hundredeth.

42 These are the sonnes of Dan after their families: of Shuham came the familie of Shuhamites: these are the families of Dan after their households.

43 All the families of Shuhamites were after their numbers, three score and foure thousand, and foure hundredeth.

44 The sonnes of Ather after their families were: of Jinnah, the familie of the Jinnites: of Jluu, the familie of the Jluutes: of Seriah, the familie of the Serites.

45 The sonnes of Beriah were, of Heber the familie of Heberites: of Balchiel, the familie of the Balchielites.

46 And the name of the daughter of Ather was Sarah.

47 These are the families of the sonnes of Ather after their numbers, three and fiftie thousand and foure hundredeth.

48 The sonnes of Naphthali after their families were: of Jahzeel, the families of the Jahzeelites: of Guni, the familie of the Gunites.

49 Of Jeser, the familie of the Jesrites: of Shilem, the familie of the Shilemites.

50 These are the families of Naphthali according to their households, and their number, five and fourtie thousand and foure hundredeth.

51 These are the numbers of the children of Israel: six hundredeth and one thousand, seven hundredeth and thirtie.

52 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

53 Unto these the land shalbe deuoted for an inheritance, according to the number of names.

54 To many thou shalt give the more inheritance, & to few thou shalt give lesse inheritance: to euery one according to his number shalbe given his inheritance.

55 For withstanding, the land shalbe deuoted by lot: according to the names of the tribes of their fathers they shall inherit:

56 According to the lot shall the possession therof be deuoted betweene many and few.

57 These also [are] the numbers of the Leuites, after their families: of Gershon came the familie of the Gershonites: of Kohath, the familie of the Kohathites: of Merari, the familie of the Merarites.

58 These are the families of Leui, the familie of the Libnites: the familie of the Hebronites: the familie of the Shalmites: the familie of the Shushites: the familie of the Kohites: And Kohath begate Amram.

59 And Amrams wife was called Jochebed the daughter of Leui, which was borne vnto Leui in Egypt: and the bare vnto Amram Aaron, and Moses, and Miriam their sister.

60 And vnto Aaron were borne Nadab, and Abihu, Eleazar, and Jthamar.

61 And Nadab & Abihu died, because they offered strange fire before the Lord.

62 And their numbers were three and twentie thousand, all males from a moneth olde & aboue: for they were not nombred among the children of Israel, because there was none inheritance given them among the children of Israel.

63 These are the numbers of Moses and Eleazar the Priest which nombred the childre of Israel in the plaine of Moab nere Jordan toward Jericho.

64 And among these there was not a ma of them, whom Moses & Aaron the Priest nombred, when they told the children of Israel in the wilderness of Sinai.

65 For the Lord said of them, They shall die in the wilderness: so there was not left a man of them, save Caleb the sonne of Iephunneh, and Ioshua the sonne of Nun.

be taken away from among his familie, because he hath no sonne: giue vs a pos-

5 Then Moses brought their cause before the Lord.

6 And the Lord spake vnto Moses,
saying,

7 The daughters of Zelophehad speake right: thou shalt giue them a possession to inherit among their fathers brethren, and shalt turne the inheritance of their father vnto them.

8 Also thou shalt speake vnto the chilhaue no sonne, then ye shall turne his inheritance vnto his daughter.

9 And if he haue no daughter, ye shall giue his inheritance vnto his brethren.

10 And if he haue no brethren, ye shall giue his inheritance vnto his fathers brethren.

11 And if his father haue no brethren, ye shall giue his inheritance vnto his next kinsman of his familie, and he shall pos-seste it: and [this] shall be vnto the children of Israel a lawe of iudgement, as the Lord hath commanded Moses.

12 ¶ Again the Lord said vnto Moses, * Go by vnto this mount of Abarim, and behold the land which I haue giuen vnto the children of Israel.

13 And when thou hast seene it, thou shalt be gathered vnto thy people also,
* as Aaron thy brother hath gathered.

14 For ye were * disobedient vnto my word in the desert of Zin, in the strife of the assemblie, to sanctifie me in the waters before their eyes. * That is the water of [Heribah] in Kadesh in the wil-dernes of Zin.

15 ¶ Then Moses spake vnto þ Lord,
saying,

16 Let the Lord God of the spirits of all flesh appoint a man ouer the Congregation,

17 who may go out & in before them, and leade them out and in, that the Congregation of the Lord be not as sheepe, which haue not a shepheard.

18 And the Lord laide vnto Moses, Take thee Ioshua the sonne of Nun, in whom is þ spirit, and put thine hands vpon him,

19 And set him before Eleazar þ Priest, and before all the Congregation, & giue him a charge in their sight.

20 And giue him of thy glory, that all the Congregation of the children of Israel may obey.

21 And he shall stand before Eleazar the Priest, who shall aske counsell for him by the iudgement of Urim before the Lord: at his word they shall go out, and at his word they shall come in, both þ he, and all the children of Israel with him and all the Congregation.

22 So Moses did as the Lord had commanded him, and he tooke Ioshua, and set him before Eleazar þ Priest, and before all the Congregation.

23 Then he put his hands vpon him, and gaue him a charge, as the Lord had spoken by the hand of Moses.

CHAP. XXVIII.

4 The dayly sacrifice, 9 The sacrifice of the Sabbath, 11 Of the poultice, 16 Of the Passouer, 26 Of the first fruits.

¶ And þ Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

2 Command the children of Israel, & say vnto them, Ye shall obserue to offer vnto me in their due season mine offering [and] my bread, for my sacrifices made by fire for a sweete sauiour vnto me.

3 Also thou shalt say vnto them, * This is the offering made by fire which ye shall offer vnto the Lord, two lambes of a yeere olde without spot, dayly, for a continuall burnt offering.

4 One lambe shalt thou prepare in the morning, and the other lambe shalt thou prepare at euen.

5 * And the tenth part of an Ephah of offering vnto the Lord.

8 And the other lambe thou shalt prepare at euen: as the meate offering of the morning, & as the drinke offering thereof shalt thou prepare [this] for an offering made by fire of sweete sauiour vnto the Lord.

9 ¶ But on the Sabbath day [ye shall offer] two lambes of a yeere olde, without spot, and two tenth deales of fine flour for a meate offering mingled with oyle, and the drinke offering thereof.

11 And in the beginning of your moneths, ye shall offer a burnt offering vnto the Lord, two yong bullockes, & a ram, and seven lambs of a yeere olde, without spot.

12 And three tenth deales of fine flour for a meat offering mingled with oyle for one bullocke, & two tenth deales of fine flour for a meat offering, mingled with oyle for one ram,

13 And a tenth deale of fine flour mingled with oyle for a meat offering vnto one lambe: for a burnt offering of sweete sauer: [it is] an offering made by fire vnto the Lord.

14 And their drinke offerings shall be halfe an hin of wine vnto one bullocke, and the third part of an hin vnto a ram, and the fourth part of an hin vnto a lambe: this is the burnt offering of euery moneth, throughout the moneths of the yeere.

15 And one hee goate for a sinne offering vnto the Lord shall be prepared, besides the continuall burnt offering, & his drinke offering.

16 Also the fourteenth day of the first moneth [is] the Passouer of the Lord.

17 And in the fifteenth day of the same moneth is the feast: seven dayes shall vneleavened bread be eaten.

18 In the first day [shall be] an holy conuocation, ye shall doe no seruile worke therein.

19 But ye shall offer a sacrifice made by fire for a burnt offering vnto the Lord, two yong bullockes, one ram, and seven lambs of a yeere olde: see that they be without blemish.

20 And their meate offering [shall be] of fine flour mingled with oile: three tenth deales shall ye prepare for a bullocke, and two tenth deales for a ramme:

21 One tenth deale shall thou prepare for euery lambe, [euery] for the seven lambs.

22 And an hee goate for a sinne offering, to make an atonement for you.

23 Ye shall prepare these, beside the burnt offering in the morning, which is a continuall burnt sacrifice.

24 After this manner ye shall prepare throughout all the seven dayes, for the maintenance of the offering made by fire for a sweete sauer vnto the Lord: it shall be done beside the continuall burnt offering and drinke offering thereof.

25 And in the seventh day ye shall haue an holy conuocation, wherein ye shall doe no seruile worke.

26 Also in the day of your first fruites, when ye bring a newe meat offering vnto the Lord, according to your weekes ye shall haue an holy conuocation, and ye shall doe no seruile worke [in it].

27 But ye shall offer a burnt offering for a sweete sauer vnto the Lord, two yong bullockes, a ram, and seven lambs of a yeere olde.

28 And their meate offering of fine flour mingled with oyle, three tenth deales vnto a bullocke, two tenth deales to a ramme,

29 And one tenth deale vnto euery lambe throughout the seven lambs,

30 And an hee goate to make an atonement for you:

31 Ye shall doe [this] besides the continuall burnt offering, & his meat offering: see they be without blemish, with their drinke offerings.

2 And ye shall make a burnt offering for a sweete sauer vnto the Lord: one yong bullocke, one ramme, [and] seven lambs of a yeere olde, without blemish.

3 And their meate offering [shall be] of fine flour mingled with oile, three tenth deales vnto the bullocke, and two tenth deales vnto the ramme,

4 And one tenth deale vnto one lambe, for the seven lambs,

5 And an hee goate for a sinne offering to make an atonement for you,

6 Beside the burnt offering of the moneth, and his meat offering, and the continuall burnt offering, and his meate offering and drinke offerings of the same, according to their manner, for a sweete sauer: [it is] a sacrifice made by fire vnto the Lord.

7 And ye shall haue in the tenth [day] of the seventh moneth, an holy conuocation: and ye shall humble your soules, [and] shall not doe any worke therein:

8 But ye shall offer a burnt offering vnto the Lord for a sweete sauer: one yong bullocke, a ram, & seven lambs of a yeere olde: see they be without blemish.

21 With their meate offering and their drinke offerings, for the bullocks, for the rams, and for the lambes after their number according to the maner,

22 And an hee goate for a sinne offering, beside the continuall burnt offering, & his meate offering and his drinke offering.

23 And the fourth day [ye shall offer] ten bullocks, two rams, [and] fourtene lambes of a yeere olde without blemish.

24 Their meate offering & their drinke offerings, for the bullocks, for the rams, and for the lambes according to their number, after the maner,

25 And an hee goate for a sinne offering, beside the continuall burnt offering, his meate offering and his drinke offering.

26 In the fifth day also [ye shall offer] nine bullocks, two rammes, [and] fourtene lambes of a yeere olde without blemish,

27 And their meate offering and their drinke offerings for the bullocks, for the rams, and for the lambes according to their number, after the maner,

28 And an hee goate for a sinne offering, beside the continuall burnt offering, & his meate offering and his drinke offering.

29 And in the sixth day [ye shall offer] eight bullocks, two rams, [and] fourtene lambes of a yeere olde without blemish,

30 And their meate offering, and their drinke offerings for the bullocks, for the rams, and for the lambes according to their number, after the maner,

31 And an hee goate for a sinne offering, beside the continuall burnt offering, his meate offering and his drinke offerings.

32 In the seventh day also [ye shall offer] seven bullocks, two rams, [and] fourtene lambes of a yeere olde without blemish,

33 And their meate offering and their drinke offerings for the bullocks, for the rams, and for the lambes according to their number, after the maner,

34 And an hee goate for a sinne offering, beside the continuall burnt offering, his meate offering and his drinke offering.

35 In the eighth day, ye shall haue a solemn assemble: ye shall doe no seruile worke therein,

36 But ye shall offer a burnt offering, a sacrifice made by fire for a sweete sauer vnto the Lord, one bullock, one ram, [and] seven lambes of a yeere olde without blemish,

37 Their meate offering & their drinke offerings for the bullocke, for the ram, and for the lambes according to their number, after the maner, 38 And an hee goate for a sinne offering, beside the continuall burnt offering, and his meate offering, & his drinke offering.

39 These things ye shall doe vnto the Lord in your feasts, beside your vowes, and your free offerings, for your burnt offerings, and for your meate offerings, and for your drinke offerings & for your peace offerings.

5 And her father heare her vowe and bonde, wherewith the hath bounde her ſelfe, and her father hold his peace concerning her, then all her vowes ſhall ſtand, and every bond, wherewith ſhee hath bound her ſelfe, ſhall ſtand.

b For in ſo doing, he dooth appoyne her.

6 But if her father diſallow her the ſame day that he heareth all her vowes and bondes, wherewith the hath bound her ſelfe, they ſhall not be of value, and the Lord will forgive her, becauſe her father diſallowed her.

21 And Eleazar the Priest sayd vnto the men of warre, which went to the battell, This is the ordinance of the law which the Lord commanded Moses.

22 As for golde, & silver, brasse, yron, timme, and lead:

23 Euen all that may abide the fire, ye shall make it go through the fire, and it shall be cleane: yet, it shall be purified with the water of purification: and all that suffreth not the fire, ye shall cause to passe by the water.

24 We shall wash also your clothes the seuenth day, & ye shall be cleane: and afterward ye shall come into the hoste.

25 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

26 Take the summe of the pray that was taken, both of persons and of cattel, thou and Eleazar the Priest, and the chiefe fathers of the Congregation.

27 And deuide the pray betweene the souldiers that went to the warre, and all the Congregation.

28 And thou shalt take a tribute vnto the Lord of the men of warre, which went out to battell: one person of five hundredth, both of the persons, & of the beenes, & of the asses, and of the sheepe.

29 We shall take it of their halfe and giue it vnto Eleazar the Priest, as an heaue offering of the Lord.

30 But of the halfe of the children of Israel thou shalt take one, taken out of fiftie, both of the persons of the beenes of the asses, and of the sheepe, euen of all the cattel: and thou shalt giue them vnto the Levites, which haue charge of the Tabernacle of the Lord.

31 And Moses & Eleazar the Priest did as the Lord had commanded Moses.

32 And the bootie, to wit, the rest of the pray which the men of warre had spoiled, was five hundredth seuentie and five thousand sheepe,

33 And seuentie and two thousand beenes,

34 And three score and one thousand asses,

35 And two & thirtie thousand persons in all, of women that had bene by no man.

36 And the halfe, to wit, the part of them that went out to warre touching the number of sheepe, was three hundredth seuen & thirtie thousand, & five hundredth.

37 And the Lords tribute of the sheepe was five hundredth and seuentie & five:

38 And the beenes were five & thirtie thousand, whereof the Lordes tribute was seuentie and two.

39 And the asses were thirtie thousand and five hundredth, whereof the Lords tribute was three score and one:

40 And of persons sixtene thousand, whereof the Lordes tribute was two and thirtie persons.

2 The request of the Reubenites and Gadites, 16 And their promise vnto Moses, 20 Moses graunteth their request.

33 The Gadites, Reubenites, and halfe the tribe of Simeon, conquer, and build cities on this side Iordan.

¶ We the children of Reuben, and the children of Gad had an exceeding great multitude of cattell: & they saue the land of Jazer, & the land of Gilead, that it was an apt place for cattell.

2 Then the children of Gad, and the children of Reuben came, & spake vnto Moses & to Eleazar the Priest, and vnto the princes of the Congregation, saying,

3 The land of Astaroth, and Dibon, and Jazer, and Nimrah, and Bethbon, and Elealeh, and Shebam, and Bebo, and Beon,

4 which countrey the Lorde smote before the Congregation of Israel, is a land [meete] for cattell, and thy seruants haue cattell:

5 wherefore, sayde they, if we haue found grace in thy sight, let this land be giuen vnto thy seruants for a possession, and bring vs not ouer Iordan.

6 And Moses sayd vnto the children of Gad, and to the children of Reuben, Shall your brethren goe to warre, and yet tarie here:

7 wherefore now discourage ye the heart of the children of Israel, to goe ouer into the land, which the Lord hath giuen them:

8 Thus did your fathers when I sent them from Kadesh-barnea to see the land.

9 For when they went vp euen vnto the river of Ethcol, and sawe the land: they discouraged the heart of the children of Israel, that they would not goe into the land, which the Lord had giuen them.

10 And the Lords wrath was kindled the same day, and he did sweare, saying,

11 None of the men that came out of Egypt from twentie yeere olde and aboue, shall see the land for the which I swore vnto Abraham, to Isaac, and to Iacob, because they haue not wholly followed me:

12 Except Caleb the sonne of Iephunneh the Kenesite, and Joshua the sonne of Nun: for they haue constantly followed the Lord.

13 And the Lorde was very angrie with Israel, and made them wander in the wilderness fourtie yeeres, vntill all the generation that had done euill in the sight of the Lord were consumed.

14 And beholde, ye are risen vp in your fathers stead as an increase of sinful men, stil to augment the fierce wrath of the Lord toward Israel.

15 For if ye turne away from following him, he wil yet againe leave the people in the wilderness, and ye shall destroy all this folke.

18 We wil not returne vnto our houses, untill the children of Israel haue inherited euery man his inheritance.

19 Neither wil we inherite with them beyond Iordan and on that side, because our inheritance is fallen to vs on this side Iordan Eastward.

20 ¶ And Moses sayd vnto them, If ye will doe this thing, and go armed before the Lord to warre:

21 And will goe euery one of you in harness ouer Iordan before the Lord, until he hath cast out his enemies from his sight:

22 And untill the land be subdued before the Lord, then ye shall returne and be innocent toward the Lord, & toward Israel: and this land shall be your possession before the Lord.

26 Our children, our wiues, our sheepe, and all our cattell shall remaine there in the cities of Gilead, 27 But thy seruants will goe euery one armed to warre before the Lord for to fight, as my lord saith.

28 So concerning them, Moses commanded Eleazar the Priest, & Joshua the sonne of Nun, and the chiefe fathers of the tribes of the children of Israel:

29 And Moses said vnto them, If the children of Gad, & the children of Reuben, wil go with you ouer Iordan, armed to fight before the Lord, then when the land is subdued before you, ye shall giue them the land of Gilead for a possession:

30 But if they will not go ouer w you armed, then they shall haue their possessions among you in the land of Canaan.

31 And the children of Gad, & the children of Reuben answered, saying, As the Lord hath sayd vnto thy seruants, so will we doe.

32 We wil go armed before the Lord into the land of Canaan: that the possession of our inheritance [may be] to vs on this side Iordan.

33 So Moses gaue vnto them, [eu]n to the children of Gad, and to the children of Reuben, and to halfe the tribe of Manasseh the sonne of Joseph, the kingdome of Sihon king of the Amorites, and the kingdome of Og king of Bashan, the land with the cities thereof and coastes, euery one of the cities of the country round about.

34 ¶ Then the children of Gad built Dibon, and Ataroth, and Aroer, 35 And Atroth, Shophan, & Jazer, and Jogbehah,

36 And Beth-nimrah, and Beth-haran, defended cities: also sheepe foldes.

37 And the children of Reuben built Hethbon, and Elealeh, & Kiriathaim, 38 And Bebo, and Baal-meon, and turned their names, and Shimonah: and gaue other names vnto the cities which they built.

39 And the children of Machir the sonne of Manasseh went to Gilead, and tooke it, and put out the Amorites that dwelt therein.

40 Then Moses gaue Gilead vnto Machir the sonne of Manasseh, and he dwelt therein.

41 ¶ And Jair the sonne of Manasseh, went and tooke the small towynes thereof, and called them Baioth Jair.

42 Also Nobah went and tooke Kenath, with the villages thereof and called it Nobah, after his owne name.

6 An order for the marriage of the daughters of Zelophehad, 7 The inheritance could not be given from one tribe to another.

When the chiefe fathers of the family of the sonnes of Gilead, the sonne of Machir the sonne of Manasse, of the families of the sonnes of Joseph, came, and spake before Moses, and before the princes, the chiefe fathers of the children of Israel,

p It seemeth that the tribes concerned who might marrie these daughters to haue their inheritance: and therefore the sonnes of Joseph praye to

2 And said, * The Lord commanded my lord to giue the lande to inherit by lot to the children of Israel: and my lord was commaunded by the Lord, to giue the inheritance of Zelophehad our brother vnto his daughters.

3 If they be married to any of the sonnes of the other tribes of the children of Israel, then shall their inheritance be taken away from the inheritance of our fathers, and shall be put vnto the inheritance of the tribe whereof they shall be: so shall it be taken away from the lot of our inheritance.

4 Also when the Tribes of the children of Israel cometh, then shall their inheritance be put vnto the inheritance of the tribe whereof they shall be: so shall their inheritance be taken away from the inheritance of the tribe of our fathers.

5 Then Moses commanded the children of Israel, according to the word of the Lord, saying, The tribe of the sonnes of Joseph haue said well.

6 This is the thing that the Lord hath commanded, concerning the daughters of Zelophehad, saying, They shall be wiues, to whome they thinke best, only to the familie of the tribe of their father shall they marrie:

d For the tribe could not haue continued if the inheritance which was the thereof should haue bene ad-

7 So shall not the inheritance of the childzen of Israel remoue from tribe to tribe. for euery one of the childzen of Israel shall ioyne him selfe to the inheritance of the tribe of his fathers.

e When there is no male to inherit.

8 And euery daughter that posseseth any inheritance of the tribes of the childzen of Israel, shall be wife vnto one of the familie of the tribe of her father: that the childzen of Israel may enioy euery man the inheritance of their fathers.

9 Neither shall the inheritance go about from tribe to tribe: but euery one of the tribes of the childzen of Israel shall sticke to his owne inheritance.

10 As the Lord commanded Moles, so did the daughters of Zelophehad.

THE ARGUMENT.

THE wonderful loue of God toward his Church is liuely set forth in this booke. For albeit through their ingratitude and sundrie rebellions against God, for the space of fourty yeres, Deut. 9.7. they had deserued to haue bene cut off from the number of his people, and for euer to haue bene deprived of the vse of his holy word, and sacraments: yet hee did euer preferue his Church euen for his owne mercies sake, and woulde still haue his Name called vpon among them. Wherefore hee bringeth them into the land of Canaan, destroyeth their enemies, giueth them their countrey, townes and goods, and exhorteth them by the example of their fathers (whose infidelitie, idolatrie, adulteries, murmurings and rebellion, he had most sharply punished) to feare and obey the Lord, to embrace and keepe his Lawe without adding thereunto or diminishing therefrom. For by his word he would be knowne to be their God, & they his people: by his word he would gouerne his Church, and by the same they should learne to obey him: by his word he would discerne the false Prophet from the true, light from darknes, ignorance from knowledge, & his owne people from all other nations and infidels: teaching them thereby to refuse and detest, destroy and abolish whatsoever is not agreeable to his holy will, seeme it otherwise neuer so good or precious in the eyes of man. And for this cause God promised to raise vp Kings and gouernours, for the setting forth of this word and preservation of his Church: giuing vnto them an especiall charge for the executing thereof: whom therefore he willett to exercise themselves diligently in the continual studie and meditation of the same: that they might learne to feare the Lorde, loue their subiects, abhorre couetousnes and vice, and whatsoever offendeth the maiestie of God. And as he had tofore instructed their fathers in all things appertaining, both to his spirituall seruice, and also for the maintenance of that societie which is betwene men: so he precribeth here anewe, all such lawes and ordinances, which either concerne his diuine seruice, or else are necessarie for a common weale: appointing vnto euery estate and degree their charge and duetie: a fwell, how to rule and liue in the feare of God, as to nourish friendship toward their neighbours, and to preserve that order which God hath established among men: threatening withall, most horrible plagues to them that transgresse his commandements, and promising all blessings and felicitie to such as obserue and obey them.

the mountaine of the Amorites, and vnto all the places neere thereunto: in the plaine, in the mountaine, or in the valley:

both Southward, and to the Sea side, to the land of the Canaanites, and vnto Lebanon: [euē] vnto the great river, the riuer | Perath.

8 Behold, I haue set the land before you: go in and possesse that land which the Lorde swaue vnto your fathers, Abraham, Izhak, and Yaakob, to giue vnto them and to their seede after them.

9 And I spake vnto you the same time, saying, I am not able to beare you my selfe alone:

10 The Lord your God hath multiplied you: and behold, ye are this day as the starrs of heauen in number:

11 (The Lorde God of your fathers make you a thousand times so many mo as ye are, and blesse you, as he hath promised you)

12 Holv can I alone beare your cumbrance and your charge, and your strife:

13 Bring you men of wisdom and of vnderstanding, and knowen among your tribes, and I will make them rulers ouer you:

14 Then ye answered me and saide, The thing is good that thou hast commanded | vs | to doe.

15 So I tooke the chiefe of your tribes wise and knowen men, and made them rulers ouer you, captaynes ouer thousands, and captaynes ouer hundreds, and captaynes ouer fiftie, and captaynes ouer ten, and officers among your tribes.

16 And I charged your iudges that same time, saying, Heare the controuersies betweene your brethren, and iudge righteously betweene euery man and his brother, and the stranger that is with him.

17 Ye shall haue no respect of person in iudgement, * but shall heare the small as well as the great: ye shall not feare the face of man: for iudgement is Gods: and the cause that is hard for you, bring vnto me, and I will heare it.

18 Also I commanded you the same time all the things which ye should doe.

19 Then we departed from Horeb, and went through all that great and terrible wilderness (as ye haue seene) by the way of the mountaine of the Amorites, as the Lorde our God commanded vs: and we came to Kadesh-barnea.

20 And I said vnto you, Ye are come vnto the mountaine of the Amorites, which the Lorde our God doeth giue vnto vs.

21 Beholde, the Lorde thy God hath layed the land before thee: go vp [and] possesse it, as the Lorde the God of thy fathers hath saide vnto thee: feare not, neither be discouraged.

22 Then ye came vnto me enery one, and said, We will send men before vs, to search vs out the land and to bring vs worde againe, what way we must go by, and vnto what cities we shall come.

23 So the saying pleased me well, and I tooke twelue men of you, of euery tribe one.

24 Who departed, and went by into the mountaine, and came vnto the riuer Eshcol, and searched out the land.

25 And tooke of the fruite of the land in their handes, and brought it vnto vs, and brought vs worde againe, and said, It is a good land, which the Lorde our God doeth giue vs.

26 Notwithstanding, ye would not go by, but were disobedient vnto commandement of the Lord your God.

27 And murmured in your tents, and said, Because the Lord hated vs, therefore hath he brought vs out of the land of Egypt, to deliuer vs into the hand of the Amorites, and to destroy vs.

28 Whither shall we go by: our brethren haue discouraged our hearts, saying, The people [is] greater, and taller then we: the cities [are] great and walled by to heauen: and moreover we haue seene the sonnes of the Anakims there.

29 But I saide vnto you, Dread not, nor be afraid of them.

30 The Lord your God, who goeth before you, he shall fight for you, according to all that he did vnto you in Egypt before your eyes.

31 And in the wilderness, where thou hast seene howe the Lord thy God bare thee, as a man doeth beare his sonne, in all the way which ye haue gone, vntill ye came vnto this place.

32 Yet for all this ye did not beleue the Lord your God,

21 A people [that was] great, and many, and tall, as the Anakims: but the Lord destroyed them before them, and they succeeded them in their inheritance, and dwelt in their stead:

22 As he did to the children of Esau which dwelt in Seir, when he destroyed the Horims before them, and they possessed them, and dwelt in their steade vnto this day.

23 And the Amims which dwelt in Hazzarim [even] vnto Assah, the Caphtorims which came out of Caphtor destroyed them, and dwelt in their steade.

24 ¶ Rise vp therefore, said the Lord: take your iourney, and passe ouer the riuer Arnon: behold, I haue giuen into thy hand Sihon, the Amozite King of Heshbon, and his land: begin to possesse it and prouoke him to battell.

25 This day will I begin to send thy feare and thy dread vpon all people vnder the whole heauen, which shall heare thy fame, and shall tremble and quake before thee.

26 Then I sent messengers out of the wilderness of Kedemoth vnto Sihon king of Heshbon, with words of peace, saying, 27 ¶ Let me passe through thy land: I will go by the hie way: I will neither turne vnto the right hand nor to the left.

28 Thou shalt set me meat for money, for to eate, and shalt giue me water for money for to drinke: onely I will goe through on my foote,

29 As the children of Esau which dwelt in Seir, and the Moabites which dwelt in Ar, did vnto me: vntill I be come ouer Jordan, into the land which the Lord our God giueth vs.

30 But Sihon the king of Heshbon woulde not let vs passe by him: for the Lord thy God had hardened his spirit, and made his heart obstinate, because he woulde deliuer him into thine hand, as [appeareth] this day.

31 And the Lord saide vnto me, Beholde, I haue begonne to giue Sihon and his land before thee: begin to possesse and inherite his land.

32 ¶ Then came out Sihon to meete vs, him selfe with all his people to fight at Jahaz.

33 But the Lord our God deliuered him into our powder, and we smote him, and his sonnes, and all his people.

34 And we tooke all his cities the same time, and destroyed euery cite, men, and women, and children: we let nothing remaine.

35 Onely the cattell we tooke to our selues, and the spoyle of the cities which we tooke,

36 From Arcoer, which is by the banke of the riuer of Arnon, & [from] the cite that is vpon the riuer, euen vnto Silead: there was not one cite that escaped vs: [for] the Lord our God deliuered by all before vs.

37 Onely vnto the land of the children of Ammon thou camest not, [nor] vnto any place of the riuer Jabbok, nor vnto the cities in the mountains, nor vnto whatsoeuer the Lord our God forbade vs.

15 For, remember that thou wast a seruant in the lande of Egypt, and [that] the Lord thy God brought thee out thence by a mighty hande and a stretched out arme: therefore the Lord thy God commanded thee to obserue the Sabbath day.

16 Honour thy father and thy mother, as the Lord thy God hath commanded thee, that thy daies may be prolonged, and that it may go well with thee vpon the land, which the Lord thy God giueth thee.

17 Thou shalt not kill.

18 Neither shalt thou commit adultery.

19 Neither shalt thou steale.

21 Neither shalt thou couet thy neighbours wife, neither shalt thou desire thy neighbours house, his fielde, nor his man seruant, nor his mayd, his oxe, nor his asse, nor ought that thy neighbour hath.

22 These wordes the Lord spake vnto all your multitude in the mount out of the middes of the fire, the cloude and the darkenes, with a great voyce, and added no more thereto: and wrote them vpon two tables of stone, and deliuered them vnto me.

23 And when ye heard the voyce out of the middes of the darkenes, [for the mountaine did burne with fire] then yee came to me, all the chiefe of your tribes, and your Elders:

5 And thou shalt loue the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soule, and with all thy might.

6 * And these wordes which I commaund thee this day, shalbe in thine heart.

7 And thou shalt rehearse them continually vnto thy children, and shalt talke of them when thou tardest in thine house, and as thou walkest by the way, and when thou liest downe, and when thou risest vp:

8 And thou shalt bind them for a signe vpon thine hande, and they shalbe as frontlets betweene thine eyes.

9 Also thou shalt write them vpon the postes of thine house, & vpon thy gates.

10 And when the Lord thy God hath brought thee into the lande, which hee swaue vnto thy fathers, Abraham, Izhak, and Iaakob, to giue to thee, with great and goodly cities which thou buildedst not,

11 And houses full of all maner of goods which thou filledst not, and welts digged which thou diggedst not, vineyardes and olive trees which thou plantest not, and [when] thou hast eaten and art full,

12 Beware least thou forget<sup>t</sup> the Lord, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage.

13 Thou shalt feare the Lord thy God, and serue him, and shalt<sup>t</sup> sweare by his Name.

14 Ye shal not walke after other gods, [after any] of the gods of people which are round about you.

15 (For the Lord thy God is a ielous God among you: least the wrath of the Lord thy God be kindled agaynst thee, and destroy thee from the face of the earth.)

16 Che shal not<sup>t</sup> tempt<sup>t</sup> the Lord your God, as ye did tempt him in Massah:

17 [But] ye shall keepe diligently the commandements of the Lord your God, and his testimonies, and his ordinances which he hath commanded thee.

18 And thou shalt doe that which is right and good in the sight of the Lord: that thou mayest prosper, and that thou mayest go in, and possesse that good lande which the Lord swaue vnto thy fathers, 19 To cast out all thine enemies before thee, as the Lord hath said.

20 When<sup>t</sup> thy sonne shall aske thee in time to come, saying, what meane these testimonies, and ordinances, and lawes, which the Lord our God hath commanded you:

21 Then thou shalt say vnto thy sonne, We were Pharaohs bodmen in Egypt: but the Lord brought vs out of Egypt with a mighty hand.

22 And the Lord shewed signes and wonders great and euill vpon Egypt, vpon Pharaoh, and vpon all his household, before our eyes, 23 And<sup>t</sup> brought vs out from thence, to bring vs in, and to giue vs the lande which he swaue vnto our fathers.

24 Therefore the Lord hath commanded vs, to do all these ordinances, [and] to feare the Lord our God, that it may go euer well with vs, [and] that he may perseue vs aliuie as at this present.

25 Moreover, this shalbe our righteousnes before the Lord our God, if we take heede to keepe all these commandements, as he hath commanded vs.

23 But the Lord thy God shall giue them before thee, and shall destroy them with a mightie destruction, vntill they be brought to nought.

24 And he shall deliuer their Kings into thine hande, and thou shalt destroy their name from vnder heauen: there shall no man be able to stand before thee, vntill thou hast destroyed them.

25 The grauen images of their gods shall ye burne with fire, and couet not the siluer and golde, [that is] on them, nor take it vnto thee, least thou be snared therewith: for it is an abomination [before] the Lord thy God.

26 Bring not therefore abomination into thine house, lest thou bee accursed like it, but utterly abhorre it, and count it most abominable: for it is accursed.

CHAP. VIII.

God humbled the Israelites to trie what they haue in their heart. 5 God chastised them as his children. 14 The heart ought not to be proud for Gods benefites. 19 The forgetfulness of Gods benefites causeth destruction.

¶ And thou shalt keepe all the commandements which I command thee this day, for to do them: that ye may liue, and be multiplied, and go in, and possesse the land which the Lord sware vnto your fathers.

2 And thou shalt remember all the way which the Lord thy God led thee this fourtie yere in the wilderness, for to humble thee, and to proue thee, to knowe what was in thine heart, whether thou wouldest keepe his commandements or no.

3 Therefore he humbled thee, & made thee hungry, and fedde thee with man, which thou knewest not, neither did thy fathers knowe it, that he might teach thee that man liueth not by bread onely, but by euery word that proceedeth out of the mouth of the Lord, doth a man liue.

4 Thy raiment waxed not olde vpon thee, neither did thy foote swell those fourtie yeres.

5 Know therefore in thine heart, that as a man nouretereth his sonne, so the Lord thy God nouretereth thee.

6 Therefore shalt thou keepe the commandements of the Lord thy God, that thou mayest walke in his wayes, and feare him.

7 For the Lord thy God bringeth thee into a good land, a land in the which are riuers of water and fountaines, and depths that spring out of vailles and mountaines:

8 A land of wheate and barley, and of vineyards, and figtrees, and pomegranates: a land of oile olue and honie:

9 A land wherein thou shalt eat bread without scarcite, neither shalt thou lacke any thing therein: a land whose stones are yron, & out of whose mountaines thou shalt digge brasle.

10 And when thou hast eaten and filled thy selfe, thou shalt blesse the Lord thy God for the good lande, which hee hath giuen thee.

11 Beware that thou forget not the Lord thy God, not keeping his commandements, and his lawes, and his ordinances, which I command thee this day:

12 Lest when thou hast eaten and filled thy selfe, and hast built goodly houses and dwelt therein,

13 And thy beasts, and thy sheepe are increased, and thy siluer and gold is multiplied, & all that thou hast is increased,

14 Then thine heart be lifted vp, thou forget the Lord thy God, which brought thee out of the lande of Egypt, from the house of bondage.

15 Who was thy guide in the great & terrible wilderness, [wherein were] fiery serpents, & scorpions, & drought, where [was] no water, who brought forth water for thee out of the rocke of flint:

16 Who led thee in the wilderness with man, which thy fathers knew not) to humble thee, and to proue thee, that he might do thee good at thy latter ende.

17 Beware, least thou say in thine heart, By powder, and the strength of mine owne hand hath prepared me this abundance.

18 But remember the Lord thy God: for it is he which giueth thee powder to get substance to establish his couenauent which he sware vnto thy fathers as appeared this day.

19 And if thou forget the Lord thy God, & walke after other gods, & serue them, and worship them, I testifie vnto you this day, ye shall surely perish.

20 As the nations which the Lord destroyed before you, so ye shall perish, because ye would not be obedient vnto the voyce of the Lord your God.

out before thee [saying,] For my<sup>d</sup> righte-to possesse this land: but for the wicked-of those nations, & for the which God doeth cast them out before thee, and that hee might performe the worde which the Lord thy God sware vnto thy fathers, Abraham, Ishak, and Yaakob.

6 Understand therefore, that p<sup>e</sup> Lord thou prouokedst the Lord thy God to anger in the wilderness: since the day that thou didst depart out of the land of Egypt, vntill ye came vnto this place ye haue rebelled against the Lord.

8 Also in thozed ye prouoked the Lord to anger so that the Lord was wroth with you, [even] to destroy you.

Exod. 24. 18.

made wth you: & * I abode in the mount fourtie daies & fourtie nights, [and] I neither ate bread nor yet dranke water:

Exod. 31. 18.

10 Then p<sup>e</sup> Lord deliuered me two tables of stone, written with the s<sup>e</sup> finger of God, & in the was cōtēmed according to all the words which p<sup>e</sup> Lord had said
vnto you in the mount out of the middes

11 And when the fourtie dayes and fourtie nyghtes were ended, the Lord for thy people which thou hast brought out of Egypt, haue<sup>h</sup> corrupt their wayes: they are soone turned out of the way, which I commanded them: they haue made them a molten image.

13 Furthermore, the Lord spake vnto me, saying, I haue seene this people, and beholde, it is a stiffnecked people.

14 Let me alone, that I may destroy them, and put out their name from vnder

i Signifying that the pray-

15 So I returned, and came downe from the Mount (and the Mount burnt with fire, and the two Tables of the couenant were in my two handes)

16 Then I looked, & beholde, ye had sinned against the Lord your God: for ye had made you a molten calfe, [and] had turned quickly out of the<sup>k</sup> way which the Lord had commanded you.

k That is frō

17 Therefore I tooke the two Ta-and brake them before your eyes.

18 And I fel downe before the Lord, fourtie dayes, and fourtie nights, as before: I neither ate bread nor dranke water, because of all your sinnes, which ye had committed, in doing wickedly in the sight of the Lord, in that ye prouoked him vnto wrath.

19 [For] I was afraid of the wrath & indignation, whereof the Lord was moued against you, [euen] to destroy you) yet the Lord heard me at that time allo.

20 Likewise the Lord was very an-grie with Aaron, [euen] to destroy him:
but at that time I prayed also for Aaron.

CHAP. X.

5 The second Tables put in the Arke. 8 The tribe of Leui is dedicate to the seruice of the Tabernacle. 12 What the Lord requirerh of his. 16 The circumcision of the heart. 17 God regardeth not person. 21 The Lord is the praise of Israel.

Exod. 34. 1.

In the same time the Lord saide vnto me, "Hew thee two Tables of stone like vnto the first, and come by vnto me into the mount, and make thee an Arke of wood,

2 And I wil write vpon the Tables, the words that were vpon the first Tables, which thou brakest, and thou shalt put them in the Arke."

a Which wood is of long continuance.

3 And I made an Arke of Shittim wood, and hewed two Tables of stone like vnto the first, & went by vnto the Mountaine, & the two Tables in mine hande.

4 Then hee wrote vpon the Tables according to the first writing (the ten commandments, which the Lord spake vnto you in the Mount out of the middes of the fire, in the day of the<sup>b</sup> assemblie) and the Lord gaue them vnto me.

b When you were assembled to receiue the lawe.

5 And I departed, and came downe from the Mount, and put the Tables in the Arke which I had made: and there they be, as the Lord commanded me.

6 And the children of Israel tooke their iourney from Beeroth of the children of Iakob, to Holera, where Aaron dyed, and was buried, and Eleazar his sonne became Priest in his steade.

c This mountaine was also called Hoy, Nom. 20. 28.

7 From thence they departed vnto Sudgodah, and from Sudgodah to Iotbath a land of running waters.

8 The same time the Lord separated the tribe of Leui to beare the Arke of the couenant of the Lord, (and) to stand before the Lord, to minister vnto him, and to blesse in his Name vnto this day.

d That is, to offer sacrifices and to declare the Law to the people.

9 Wherefore Leui hath no part nor inheritance with his brethren: [for] the Lord is his inheritance, as the Lord thy God hath promised him.

10 And I taried in the mount, as at the first time, fourtie dayes and fourtie nightes, & the Lord heard me at the time also, [for] the Lord would not destroy thee.

11 But the Lord saide vnto me, Arise, goe forth in the iourney before the people, that they may go in and possesse the land, which I sware vnto their fathers to giue vnto them.

12 And now, Israel, what doeth the Lord thy God require of thee, but to feare the Lord thy God, to walke in all his wayes, and to loue him, and to serue the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soule:

13 That I keepe the commandments of the Lord, and his ordinaes, which I command thee this day, for thy wealth:

14 Beholde, heauen, and the heauen of heauens [is] the Lords thy God, and the earth, with all that therein is.

15 Notwithstanding, the Lord set his delight in thy fathers to loue them, & did choole their seede after the, [eu]er thou aboue al people, as appeareth this day.

16 Circumcise therefore the foreskin of your heart, and harden your neckes no more.

17 For the Lord your God is God of gods, & Lord of lordes, a great God, mightie, & terrible, which accepteth no persons nor taketh reward:

18 Who doeth right vnto the fatherlesse, & terrible, which accepteth no persons nor taketh reward: who doeth right vnto the fatherlesse and widowe, and loueth the stranger, giuing him foode and rayment.

19 Loue ye therefore the stranger: for ye were strangers in the land of Egypt.

20 Thou shalt feare the Lord thy God: thou shalt serue him, and thou shalt cleaue vnto him, & thou shalt sweare by his Name.

1 An exhortation to loue God, & keepe his law. 10 The praises of Canaan. 18 To meditate continually the word of God, 19 To teach it vnto the children. 26 Blessing, and cursing.

Therefore thou shalt loue the Lord thy God, & shalt keepe that, which he commandeth to be kept: that is, his ordinaes, and his lawes, and his commandments allway.

2 And consider this day [for] I speake not]

2 De. which haue seene Gods graces with your eyes, ought rather to be moued, the more children, which haue onely heard of them.

not] to your childre, which haue neither knowen nor seene) the chastisement of <sup>b</sup> Lord your God, his greatnes, his mightie hand, and his stretched out arme,

3 And his signes, & his actes, which he did in <sup>c</sup> the maddes of Egypt vnto Pharaoh the King of Egypt and vnto al his land:

4 And what he did vnto the hoste of the Egyptians, vnto their hostes and to their charets. When hee caused the waters of the red Sea to ouerflowe them, as they pursued after you, & the Lord destroyed them vnto this day:

5 And what he did vnto you in <sup>d</sup> wilderness, vntil ye came vnto this place:

6 And what he did vnto Dathan and Abiram the sonnes of Eliab the sonne of Reuben, when the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed the with their householdes and their tents, and al their substance that they had in the maddes of all Israel.

7 For your eyes haue seene all the great actes of the Lord which he did.

8 Therefore shall ye keepe all the commandements, which I commande you this day, that ye may be strong, and goe in and possesse the land whither ye go to possesse it:

9 Also that ye may prolong [your] dayes in <sup>e</sup> the land, which the Lord swaue vnto your fathers, to giue vnto them & to their seede, euen a land that floweth with milke and honie.

10 For the lande whither thou goest to possesse it, is not as the lande of Egypt, from whence ye came, where thou sowdest thy seede, and wateredst it with thy <sup>f</sup> hand as a garden of herbes:

11 But I lad whither ye go to possesse it, is a land of mountains & vaillets, [and] drinketh water of the raine of heauen.

12 This land doth the Lord thy God care for: the eyes of the Lord thy God [are] all wayes vpon it, from <sup>g</sup> the beginning of the yeere, euen vnto the end of <sup>h</sup> yeere.

13 If ye shall hearken therefore vnto my commandements, which I commande you this day, that ye loue the Lord your God and serue him with all your heart, and with all your soule, 14 I also wil giue raine vnto your land in due time, the first raine & the latter, & thou mayest gather in thy wheate, and thy wine, and thine oyle.

15 Also I will send grasse in thy fields for thy cattell, that thou mayst eate, and haue ynough.

16 [But] beware lest your heart

deceiue you, and least ye turne aside, & serue other gods, and worship them,

17 And [so] the anger of the Lord be kindled against you, and he shut vp the heauen, that there be no raine, and that your land yeelde not her fruite, and ye perish quickly from <sup>i</sup> good land, which the Lord giueth you.

18 Therefore shall ye lay by these my wordes in your heart and in your soule, and <sup>j</sup> binde them for a signe vpon your hand, that they may be as a frontlet betwene your eyes, 19 And ye shall <sup>k</sup> teache them your children, speaking of them, when thou sittest in thine house, & when thou walkest by the waye, and when thou liest downe, and when thou risest vp.

20 And thou shalt write them vpon <sup>l</sup> thy posts of thine house, & vpon thy gates,

21 That your dayes may be multiplied, and the dayes of your children, in the lande which the Lord swaue vnto your fathers to giue them, as long as <sup>m</sup> the heauens are aboute the earth.

22 For if ye keepe diligently all these commandements, which I commande you to doe: [that is,] to loue the Lord your God, to walke in all his wayes, and to cleaue vnto him,

23 Then wil <sup>n</sup> the Lord cast out all these nations before you, and ye shall possesse great nations and mightier then you.

24 All the places whereon the soles of <sup>o</sup> your feete shal treade, shalbe yours: your coast shalbe from the wilderness and from Lebanon, and from the River, [euen] the river Perath, vnto the bittermost Sea.

25 No man shall stande against you: [for] the Lord your God shall cast the feare and dread of you vpon all the land that ye shal treade vpon, as he hath said vnto you.

26 Beholde, I set before you this day a blessing and a curse:

27 The blessing, if ye obey the commandements of the Lord your God which I commande you this day:

28 And the curse, if ye will not obey the commandements of the Lord your God, but turne out of the way, which I commande you this day, to go after other gods, which ye haue not <sup>p</sup> knowen.

29 When the Lord thy God therefore hath brought thee into <sup>q</sup> the land, whither thou goest to possesse it, then thou shalt put the <sup>r</sup> blessing vpon mount Gerizim, and the curse vpon mount Ebal.

2 To destroy the idolatrous places, 5. 8. To serue God where he commandeth, and as he commandeth, and not as men fantasie. 19 The Leuites must be nourished. 31 Idolaters burnt their children to their gods. 32 To add nothing to Gods word.

These are the ordinaunces and the lawes, which ye shal obserue and doe in the lande (which the Lord God of thy fathers giueth thee to possesse it) as long as ye liue vpon the earth.

2<sup>a</sup> Ye shall bitterly destroy al the places wherein the nations which ye shal possesse, serued their gods vpon the hie mountaines and vpon the hilles, and vnder euery greene tree.

3<sup>a</sup> Also ye shall ouerthrowe their altars, and breake downe their pillars, and burne their y<sup>e</sup> groues with fire: and ye shall hew downe the grauen images of their gods, and abolish their names out of that place.

4 Ye shall not so do vnto the Lord your God.

5 But ye shall seeke the place which the Lord your God shall chuse out of all your tribes, to put his Name there, [and] there to diuell, and thither thou shalt come.

6 And ye shall bring thither your burnt offerings, and your sacrifices, and your tithes, and the offering of your handes, and your bolues, and your free offerings and the first borne of your kine and of your sheepe.

7 And there ye shall eate before the Lord your God, and ye shall reioyce in al that ye put your hand vnto, [both] ye, and your houtholdes, because the Lord thy God hath blessed thee.

8 We shall not do after al these things that we do here this day: that is euery man whatsoever seemeth him good in his owne eyes.

9 For ye are not yet come to rest, and to the inheritance which the Lord thy God giueth thee.

10 But when ye go ouer Jordan, and diuell in the land, which the Lord your God hath giuen you to inherite, and [when] he hath giuen you rest from all your enemies round about, and ye diuell in safetie,

11 When there shalbe a place which the Lord your God shal chuse, to cause his Name to diuell there, thither shall ye bring all that I command you: your burnt offerings, and your sacrifices, your tithes, and the offering of your handes, and all your speciall bolues which ye bring vnto the Lord:

12 And ye shall reioyce before the Lord your God, ye, and your sonnes and your daughters, and your seruants, and your maydes, and the Leuite that is with you in your gates: for he hath no part nor inheritance with you.

13 Take heede that thou offer not thy burnt offerings in euery place that y<sup>e</sup> see:

14 But in the place which the Lord thy chuse in one of thy tribes, there shalt thou offer thy burnt offerings, and there thou shalt do all that I command thee.

15 Notwithstanding thou mayest kill and eate flesh in all thy gates, whatsoeuer thine heart desireth, according to the blessing of the Lord thy God which he hath giuen thee: [both] the vncleane and the cleane may eate thereof, as of the roe bucke, and of the hart.

16 Onely ye shall not eate the blood, [but] poure it vpon the earth as water.

17 Thou mayest not eate within thy gates the tithe of thy come, nor of thy wyne, nor of thine oyle, nor the first borne of thy kine, nor of thy sheepe, neither any of thy bolues which thou boldest, nor thy free offerings, nor the offering of thine hands,

18 But thou shalt eate it before the Lord thy God, in the place which the Lord thy God shal chuse, thou, and thy sonne, and thy daughter, and thy seruant, and thy mayde, and the Leuite that is within thy gates: and thou shalt reioyce before the Lord thy God, in all that thou puttest thine hand to.

19 Beware, thou forsake not the Leuite, as long as thou liuest vpon y<sup>e</sup> earth.

20 When the Lord thy God shall enlarge thy border, as he hath promised thee, & thou shalt saye, I will eate flesh, (because thine heart logeth to eate flesh) thou mayest eate flesh, whatsoever thine heart desireth.

1 The yere of releasing of debts. 5 God blesseth them that keepe his commandmentes. 7 To helpe the poore. 12 The freedom of seruants. 19 The first borne of the cattell must be offered to the Lord.

AT the terme of seven yeres thou shalt make a freedom.

2 And this is the manner of freedom: euery creditour shall quite his ioue of his hand which he hath lent to his neighbour: hee shal not aske it againe of his neighbour, nor of his brother: for [the yere] of the Lords freedom is proclaimed.

3 Of a stranger thou mayest require it: but that which thou hast with thy brother, thine hand shall remit:

4 Save when there shalbe no poore with thee: for the Lord shall blesse thee in þ land, which þ Lord thy God giueth thee, for an inheritance to possesse it:

5 So that thou hearken vnto þ voice of þ Lord thy God to obserue and do all these commandmentes, which I command thee this day.

6 For the Lord thy God hath blessed thee, as he hath promised thee: & thou shalt lende vnto many nations, but thou thy selfe shalt not borrow, and thou shalt reigne ouer many nations, and they shal not reigne ouer thee.

7 ¶ If one of thy brethren do thee be poore: win any of thy gates in thy land, which the Lord thy God giueth thee, thou shalt not harden thine heart, nor shut thine hand from thy poore brother:

8 But thou shalt open thine hande vnto him, and shalt lende him sufficient for his neede which he hath.

9 Beware that there be not a wicked thought in thine heart, to say, The seuenth yere, the yere of freedom is at hand: therefore it grieveth thee to looke on thy poore brother, and thou giuest him nought, and he crye vnto the Lord against thee, so that sinne be in thee:

10 Thou shalt giue him, and let it not grieue thine heart to giue vnto him: for because of this the Lord thy God shall blesse thee in all thy workes, & in all that thou puttest thine hand to.

11 Because there shall be euery [some] poore in the land, therefore I command thee, saying, Thou shalt open thine hand vnto thy brother, to thy needy, and to the poore in thy land.

12 ¶ If thy brother an Ebrewe sell him selfe to thee, or an Ebrewe, and serue thee six yeres, even in the seventh yere thou shalt let him go free fro thee:

13 And whē thou sendest him out free from thee, thou shalt not let him goe away empty,

14 [But] shalt giue him a liberal rewarde of thy sheepe, and of thy come, & of thy wine: thou shalt giue him of þ wherewith þ Lord thy God hath blessed thee.

15 And remember þ thou wast a seruant in the land of Egypt, and the Lord thy God deliuered thee: therefore I command thee this thing to day.

16 And if he lay vnto thee, I will not go away from thee, because hee loveth thee and thine house, [and] because he is well with thee.

17 ¶ Then shalt thou take a naule, and perce his eare through against the doore, and he shall be thy seruant: for euery: and vnto thy mayde seruant thou shalt doe likewise.

18 Let it not grieue thee, whē thou lettest him go out free fro thee: for he hath serued thee six yeres, [which is] the double worth of an hired seruant: and the Lord thy God shall blesse thee in all that thou doest.

2 The franchised to wimes, 14 How to remove thy neighbours bounds, 16 The punishment of him that beareth false witness.

When the Lord thy God shall roote out the nations, whose lande the Lord thy God giueth thee, and thou shalt possess them, and dwell in their cities, and in their houses,

2 Thou shalt separate three cities for thee in the mides of thy land, which the Lord thy God giueth thee to possess it.

3 Thou shalt prepare thee the way, and deuide the coasts of the land, which the Lord thy God giueth thee to inherit, into three partes, that every man slayer may flee thither.

4 This also is the cause wherefore the manslayer shall flee thither, and live: who so killeth his neighbour ignorantly, and hated him not in time passed:

5 As hee goeth vnto the wood with his neighbour to herb wood, & his hand straketh with an axe to cut downe a tree, if the head slip from the helme, & hit his neighbour that he dieth, the same shall flee vnto one of the cities, and live.

6 Least the auenger of the blood follow after the manslayer, while his heart is chased, and ouertake him, because his way is long, and slay him, although he be not worthy of death, because he hated him not in time passed.

7 Wherefore I commande thee, saying, Thou shalt appoynt out three cities for thee.

10 Thou shalt hearken therefore vnto the voyce of the Lord thy God, & doe his commandments & his ordinances, which I command thee this day.

11 And Moses charged the people the same day saying,

12 These shall stand vpon mount Gerizim, to blesse the people when ye shall passe ouer Jordan: Simeon, and Leui, and Iudah, and Issachar, & Joseph, and Benjamin.

13 And these shall stand vpon mount Ebal to curse: Reuben, Gad, & Asher, and Zebulun, Dan, and Naphtali.

14 And the Leuites shall answer and say vnto all the men of Israel with a loude voyce, 15 Cursed bee the man that shall make anie carved or molten image, [which is] an abomination vnto the Lord, the worke of the handes of the craftsman, and putteth it in a secreete place: And all the people shall answer, and say: So be it.

1 The promises to them that obey the commandments, 15 The threatnings to the contrary.

1 If thou shalt obey diligently the voyce of the Lord thy God, and obserue and doe all his commandments, which I commaunde thee this day, then the Lord thy God will

2 let thee on high above all the nations of the earth.

3 And all these blessings shall come on thee, and ouertake thee, if thou shalt obey the voyce of the Lord thy God.

4 Blessed shalt thou be in the citie, & blessed also in the field.

5 Blessed shall be the fruit of thy body, and the fruite of thy cattell, the increase of thy kinde, and the flockes of thy sheepe.

6 Blessed shalt thou be, when thou comest in, and blessed also when thou goest out.

7 The Lord shall cause thine enemies that rise against thee, to fall before thy face: they shall come out against thee one way, and shall flee before thee another wayes.

8 The Lord shall command the blessing to be with thee in thy store houses, and in all that thou settest thine hand to, and will blesse thee in the land which the Lord thy God giueth thee.

9 The Lord shall make thee an holy people vnto himselfe, as he hath sworne vnto thee, if thou shalt keepe the commandments of the Lord thy God, and walke in his wayes.

10 Then all the people of the earth shall see that the name of the Lord is called vpon ouer thee, and they shall be

11 afraide of thee.

12 And the Lord shall make thee plenteous in goods, in the fruite of thy body, and in the fruite of thy cattell, and in the fruite of thy ground, in the land which the Lord shall giue thee.

raime of thy land, dust and ashes: [even] from heauen shall it come downe vpon thee, vntill thou be destroyed.

25 [And] the Lord shall cause thee to fall before thine enemies: thou shalt come out one way against them, & shalt flee seven wayes before them, and shalt be scattered through all the kingdomes of the earth.

26 And thy carkeis shall be meate

2 The people are exhorted to obserue the commandements. 10 The whole people from the heist to the lowest are comprehended vnder Gods covenant. 19 The punishment of him that flattereth himselfe in his wickednes. 24 The cause of Gods wrath against his people.

These are the wordes of the covenant which the Lord commanded Moses to make with the children of Israel in the land of Moab beside the covenant which he had made w them in Horeb.

2 And Moses called all Israel, and sayde vnto them, We haue seene all that the Lord doo before your eyes in y land of Egypt vnto Pharaoh and vnto al his seruants, and vnto al his land,

3 The great tentations which thine eyes haue seene, thole great miracles and wonders:

4 Yet the Lord hath not giuen you an heart to perceiue, and eyes to see, and eares to heare, vnto this day.

5 And I haue led you fourtie yeere in the wilderness: your clothes are not waxed old vpon you, neither is thy shoe waxed olde vpon thy foote.

6 We haue eaten no bread, neither drunke wine, nor strong drinke, that ye might know how that I am the Lord your God.

7 After, ye came vnto this place, and Sihon king of Heshbon, & Og King of Bashan came out against vs vnto batel, and we slewe them,

8 And tooke their land, and gaue it for an inheritance vnto the Reubenites, and to the Gadites, & to the halfe tribe of Manasseh.

9 * Keepe therefore the wordes of this covenant and do them, that ye may prosper in all that ye shall doe.

10 We stand this day euery one of you before the Lord your God: your heads of your tribes, your Elders and your officers, [euē] all the men of Israel:

11 Your children, your wiues, and thy stranger that is in thy campe from the heber of thy wood, vnto the drawer of thy water,

12 That thou shouldest passe into the covenant of the Lord thy God, and into his othe which the Lord thy God maketh with thee this day, 13 For to establish thee this day a people vnto himselfe, & that he may be vnto thee a God, as he hath sayde vnto thee, and as he hath sborne vnto thy fathers, Abraham, Ishak, and Jaakob.

14 Neither make I this covenant, and this othe with you onely, 15 But [alwell] with him that standeth here with vs this day before the Lord our God, as with him that is not here with vs this day.

16 For ye know, how we haue dwelt in the land of Egypt, & howe we passed through the mids of the nations, which ye passed by.

17 And ye haue seene their abominations & their idoles (wood, and stone, siluer and gold) which were among them,

18 That there should not be among you man nor woman, nor familie, nor tribe, which should turne his heart away this day from the Lord our God, to goe & serue the gods of these nations, [and] that there should not be among you [any] roote that bringeth forth gall and bwoynelwood, 19 So that when he heareth y wordes of this curse, he [b]lesse himselfe in his heart, saying, I shall haue peace, although I walke according to the stubbornnesse of mine owne heart, thus adding drunkennes to thirst.

27 Therefore the wrath of the Lord wared hot against this land, to bring vpon it euery curse that is written in this booke.

28 And the Lord hath rooted them out of their land in anger, and in wrath, and in great indignation, and hath cast them into another land, as [appeareth] this day.

29 The secret things [belong] to the Lord our God, but the things reueiled [belong] vnto vs, and to our children for euer, that we may doe all the wordes of this Lawe.

CHAP. XXX.

1 Speeie shewen when they repent. 6 The Lord doeth circumcise the heart. 11 All excuse of ignorance is taken away. 19 Life and death is set before them. 20 The Lord is their life which obey him.

NOWE when all these things shall come vpon thee, [either] the blessing or curse which I haue set before thee, & thou shalt turne into thine heart, among all the nations whither the Lord thy God hath driuen thee,

2 And shalt returne vnto the Lord thy God, and obey his voyce in all that I commaund thee this day: thou, and thy children with all thine heart, and with all thy soule,

3 Then the Lord thy God will cause thy captiues to returne, and haue compassion vpon thee, and will returne, to gather thee out of all the people, where the Lord thy God hath scattered thee.

4 Though thou werest cast into the vtmost part of heauen, from thence will the Lord thy God gather thee, & from thence will he take thee,

5 And the Lord thy God will bring thee into the land which thy fathers possessed, and thou shalt possesse it, and he will shewe thee fauour, and will multiply thee about thy fathers.

6 And the Lord thy God will circumcise thine heart, and the heart of thy seede, that thou mayest loue the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soule, that thou mayest liue.

7 And the Lord thy God will lay all these curses vpon thine enemies, & on them, that hate thee, and that persecute thee.

8 Returne thou therefore, and obey the voyce of the Lord, and doe all his commandements, which I commaund thee this day.

9 And the Lord thy God will make thee plenteous in euery worke of thine hand, in the fruite of thy body, and in the fruite of thy cattel, and in the fruite of the land for thy wealth: for the Lord will turne againe and reioyce ouer thee to doe thee good, as he reioyed ouer thy fathers,

10 Because thou shalt obey the voyce of the Lord thy God, in keeping his commandements, and his ordinances, which are written in the booke of this Lawe, when thou shalt returne vnto the Lord thy God with all thine heart and with all thy soule.

11 For this commandement which I commaunde thee this day, is not hid from thee, neither is it farre off.

12 It is not in heauen, that thou shouldest say, who shall go vp for vs to heauen, and bring it vs, and cause vs to heare it, that we may doe it:

13 Neither is it beyonde the sea, that thou shouldest say, who shall goe ouer the sea for vs, and bring it vs, and cause vs to heare it, that we may doe it:

14 But the word is very neere vnto thee: [euen] in thy mouth and in thine heart, for to doe it.

7 And Moses called Ioshua, and saide vnto him in the sight of all Israel, Be <sup>c</sup> of a good courage and strong: for thou shalt goe with this people vnto the land which the Lord hath sworne vnto their fathers, to giue them, & thou shalt giue it them to inherite.

9 And Moses wrote this Lawe, and deliuered it vnto the Priestes the sonnes of Levi (which bare the Arke of the couenant of the Lord) and vnto all the Elders of Israel,

10 And Moses commaunded them, saying, <sup>e</sup> Every seuenth yere <sup>f</sup> when the yere of freedome [shalt be] in the feast of the Tabernacles:

Nehem. 8. 2. Chap. 15. 1.

11 When all Israel shall come to appeare <sup>g</sup> before the Lord thy God, in the place which hee shall chuse, thou shalt reade this Lawe before all Israel that they may heare it.

e Before the Arke of the couenant, which was the signe of Gods presence, and the figure of Christ.

12 Gather the people together: men, and women, and children, and thy stranger that is within thy gates, that they may heare, & that they may learne, and feare the Lord your God, and keepe, and obserue all the wordes of this Law.

13 And that their childre which haue not knowne it, may heare it, and learne to feare the Lord your God, as long as ye liue in the lande, whither ye goe ouer Iordén to possesse it.

f Which were not borne vnto the Lawe was giuen.

14 <sup>h</sup> Then the Lord sayd vnto Moses, Beholde, thy dayes are come, that thou must die: Call Ioshua, and stande ye in the Tabernacle of the Congregation that I may giue him a charge. So Moses and Ioshua went, and stood in the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

h Or, commandment.

15 And the Lord appeared in the Tabernacle, in the pillar of a cloude: and the pillar of the cloude stood ouer the doore of the Tabernacle.

g In a cloude that was fashioned like a pillar.

16 And the Lord said vnto Moses, Beholde, thou shalt sleepe with thy fathers, and this people will rise vp, and go a whooping after the gods of a strange land (whither they goe [to dwell] therein) and will forsake me, & breake my couenant which I haue made with them.

h That is, I will take my fauour from them: as to turne his face toward vs, is to shewe vs his fauour.

from them: then they shalbe consumed, and many aduersities and tribulations shall come vpon them: so then they will say, Are not these troubles come vpon me, because God is not with me?

18 But I will surely hide my face in that day, because of all the euill, which they shall commit, in that they are turned vnto other gods.

19 Now therefore write ye this song for you, and teach it the children of Israel: put it in their mouthes, that this song may be my witnes against the children of Israel.

20 For I will bring them into the land (which I swaue vnto their fathers) that floweth with milke and honie, and they shall eate, and fill themselves, and ware fatte: then shall they turne vnto other gods, and serue them, and contemne me, and breake my couenant.

21 And then when many aduersities and tribulations shall come vpon them, this song shall answer them to their face as a witnesse: for it shall not be forgotten out of the mouthes of their posteritie: for I knowe their imagination, which they goe about euen now, before I haue brought them into the lande which I swaue.

22 Moses therfore wrote this song the same day and taught it the children of Israel.

23 And God gaue Ioshua the sonne of Nun a charge, and saide, Be strong, and of a good courage: for thou shalt bring the childre of Israel into the land, which I swaue vnto them, and I will be with thee.

24 And when Moses had made an ende of writing the wordes of this Lawe in a booke vntill he had finished them,

25 Then Moses commaunded the Leuites, which bare the Arke of the couenant of the Lord, saying,

26 Take the booke of this Law, and put ye it in the side of the Arke of the couenant of the Lord your God, that it may be there for a witnes against thee.

27 For I knowe thy rebellion and thy stiff necke: beholde, I being yet alive with you this day, ye are rebellious against the Lord: how much more then after my death?

28 Gather vnto me all the Elders of your tribes, and your officers, that I may speake these wordes in their audience, and call heauen and earth to record against them.

29 For I am sure that after my death ye wil bitterly be corrupt and turne from the way, which I haue commaunded you: therefore euill will come vpon you at the length, because ye will commit euill in the sight of the Lord, by prouoking him to anger through the worke of your handes.

30 Thus Moses spake in the audience of all the Congregation of Israel the wordes of this song, vntill hee had ended them.

CHAP. XXXII.

Harken, ye heauens, and I will speake: and let the earth heare the wordes of my mouth. By doctrine shall drop as the raine, and my speache shall still as the dewe, as the showre vpon the herbes, and as the great raine vpon the grasse.

3 For I will publish the Name of the Lord: gaue ye glory vnto our God.

4 Perfect is the worke of the mighty God: for all his wayes are iudgement. God is true, and without wickednes: iust, and righteous is he.

5 They haue corrupted them selues towarde him by their vice, not doing his children, [but] a frowarde and crooked generation.

6 Doe ye so reward the Lord, O foolish people and vnwise: is not he thy father, that hath bought thee: hee hath made thee, and proportioned thee.

7 Remember the dayes of olde, consider the yeeres of so many generations: aske thy father, and he will shew thee: thine Elders, and they wil tell thee.

8 When the most hie God denuded to the nations their inheritance, when he separated the sommes of Adam, he appointed the borders of the people, according to the number of the children of Israel.

9 For the Lords portion [is] his people: Iacobob is the lot of his inheritance.

10 He found him in the land of the wilderness, in a waste, and roaring wilderness: hee led him about, hee taught him, [and] kept him as the apple of his eye.

12 [So] the Lord alone led him and there was no strange god with him.

13 Hee caried him vp to the hie places of the earth, that hee might eate the fruites of the fieldes, and hee caused him to sucke home out of the stone, and oyle out of the hard rocke:

14 Butter of kine, and milke of sheepe with fat of the lambes, and rammes fed in Bashan, and goates, with the fatte of the graines of wheat, and the red licour of the grape hast thou drunke.

15 But he that should haue bene bright, when hee wared fatte, spurned with his heele: thou art fatte, thou art grosse, thou art laden with fannes: therefore hee forlooke God that made him, and regarded not the strong God of his saluation.

16 They prouoked him with strange gods: they prouoked him to anger with abominations.

17 They offered vnto deuils, not to God, but to gods whome they kneelue not: newe gods that came newly by, whom their fathers feared not.

18 Thou hast forgotten the mightie God, that begate thee, and hast forgotten God that formed thee.

19 The Lord then saue it, and was angrie, for the prouocation of his sonnes and of his daughters.

20 And hee saide, I will hide my face from them: I will see what their ende shalbe: for they are a froward generation, children in whom is no faith.

21 They haue mooued me to ielousie with that which is not God: they haue prouoked me to anger with their vanities: and I will moue them to ielousie with those which are no people: I will prouoke them to anger with a foolish nation.

22 For fire is kindled in my wrath, and shal burne vnto the bottome of hell, and shal consume the earth with her increase, and let on fire the foundations of the mountaines.

23 I wil spend plagues vpon them: I will bestow mine arrowes vpon them.

24 They shalbe burnt with hunger, and consumed with heate, and with bitter destruction: I will also sende the teeth of beastes vpon them, with the beuine of serpents, creeping in the dust.

25 The sword shall kill them without, and in the chambers feare: both the yong man and the yong woman, the suckling with the man of gray heare.

26 I haue said, I would scatter them abroad: I would make their remembrance to cease from among men.

27 Saue that I feared the furie of the enemy, lest their aduersaries should beare proude, and lest they should say, Our hie hande and not the Lord hath done all this.

28 For they are a nation boyd of countsell, neither is there any vnderstanding in them.

29 Oh that they were wise, then they would vnderstand this: they would consider their latter ende.

30 How should one chase a thousand, and tivo put ten thousande to flight, except their strong God had solde them, and the Lord had shut them vp?

31 For their god is not as our God, euen our enemies being iudges.

32 For their vine is of the vine of Sodom, and of the vines of Gomorah: their grapes are grapes of gall, their clusters be bitter.

33 Their wine is the poyson of dragons, and the cruell gall of aspes.

34 Is not this layd in store with me, and sealed by among my treasures:

35 Vengeance and recompense are mine: their foote shall slide in due time: for day of their destruction is at hande, and the things that shall come vpon them, make haste.

36 For the Lord shal iudge his people, and repent toward his seruantes, when he seeth that their power is gone, & none shut by in holde nor left abroad.

37 When men shall say, where are their gods, their mightie God in whom they trusted, 38 which did eate the fatte of their sacrifices, and did drinke the wine of their drinke offering, let them rise by, and helpe you: let him be your refuge.

39 Beholde now, for I am he, and there is no gods with me: I kill, & giue life: I wound, and I make whole: neither is there any that can deliuer out of mine hande.

40 For I lift by mine hande to heauen, and say, I lue for euer.

41 If I whet my glittering sword, and mine hand take hold on iudgement, I will execute vengeance on mine enemies, & will reward them that hate me.

42 I will make mine arrowes drinke with blood, (and my sworde shall eate flesh) for the blood of the slaine, and of the captiues, when I beginne to take

5 So Moses the seruant of the Lorde dyed there in the land of Moab, according to the word of the Lorde.

6 And hee buried him in a valley in the land of Moab ouer against Bethpeor, but no man knoweth of his sepulchre vnto this day.

7 Moses was now an hundred and twentie yeere olde when he died, his eye was not dimme, nor his naturall force abated.

8 And the children of Israel wept for Moses in the plaine of Moab thirtie daies: so the dayes of weeping and mourning for Moses were ended.

9 And Ioshua the sonne of Nun was full of the spirit of wisdom: for Moses had put his handes vpon him. And the children of Israel were obedient vnto him, and did as the Lorde had commanded Moses.

THE ARGVMENT.

IN this booke the holy Ghost setteth most liuely before our eyes the accomplishment of Gods promise, who as he promised by the mouth of Moses, that a Prophet should be raised vp vnto the people like vnto him, whom he willeth to obey, Deut. 18. 15. so he sheweth himselfe here true in his promise, as at all other times, and after the death of Moses his faithfull seruant, he raised vp Ioshua to be ruler and gouernour ouer his people, that neither they should be discouraged for lacke of a captaine, nor haue occasion to distrust Gods promises hereafter. And because that Ioshua might be confirmed in his vocation, and the people also might haue none occasion to gudge, as though he were not approued of God: he is adorned with most excellent gifts and graces of God, both to gouerne the people with counsell, and to defende them with strength, that he lacked nothing which either belonged to a valiant captaine or a faithfull minister. So hee ouercometh all difficulties and bringeth them into the land of Canaan: the which according to Gods ordinance he deuידed among the people and appointeth their borders: he establisheth lawes and ordinances, and putteth them in remembrance of Gods manifold benefites, assuring them of his grace and fauour, if they obey God, and contrariwise of his plagues and vengeance, if they disobey him. This historie doth represent Iesus Christ the true Ioshua, who leadeth vs into eternall felicitie, which is signified vnto vs by this land of Canaan. From the beginning of the Genesis to the end of this booke are conteyned 2576. yeeres. For from Adam vnto the flood are 1656. from the flood vnto the departure of Abraham out of Caldea, 423. and from thence to the death of Ioseph 290. So that the Genesis containeth 2369. Exodus 140. the other three bookes of Moses 40. Ioshua 27. So the whole maketh 2576. yeeres.

CHAP. II.

1 Joshua ſendeth men to ſpye Jericho, whom Rahab hideth. 11
She conſeſſeth the God of Iſrael. 22 She requirerh a ſigne for her deliuerance. 27 The ſpies returne to Joshua wth comfortable tidings.

Then Joshua þ ſonne of Nun ſent out of Shittim two men to ſpie ſecretly, ſaying, Goe, ſpye þ land, & alſo Jericho:
and they went, & came into an harlots
houſe, named Rahab, and lodged there.

2 Then report was made to the king of Jericho, ſaying, ſchoide, there came men hither to night, of the chylidren of Iſrael, to ſpie out the country.

3 And the King of Jericho ſent vnto Rahab, ſaying, Þ King ſoeth the men that are come to thee, [and] which are entred into thine houſe: for they be come to ſearch out all the land.

4 (But the Woman had taken the two men, and hidde them) Therefore ſaid ſhe thus, There came men vnto me, but I wiſt not whence they were.

5 And when they ſhut the gate in the darke, the men went out, whither the men went I wote not: followe ye after them quickly, for ye ſhal ouertake them.

6 (But ſhe had brought them by to the rooſe of the houſe, & hid them wth the ſtalles of ſtalle, which ſhe had ſpread abroade vpon the rooſe)

7 And certaine men purſued after the,
the way to Jordan, vnto the fords, and as ſoone as they which purſued after them, were gone out, they ſhut the gate.

8 And befor they were a ſleepe, ſhe came by vnto them vpon the rooſe,

9 And ſaid vnto þ men, I know þ the Lord hath giue you þ land, & that þ feare of you is fallen vpon vs, & that all þ inhabitants of the lande faint becauſe of you.

10 For we haue heard, how þ Lord dry-ed þ water of the red Sea before you, whē you came out of Egypt, & what you did vnto the two Kings of þ Amorites, þ were on the other ſide Jordan, vnto þ

hon & to Og, who ye vtterly deſtroyed:

11 And when we heard it, our heartes did fainte, and there remained no moze courage in any becauſe of you: for the Lord your God, he is the God in heauen aboue, and in earth beneath.

12 Now therefore, I pray you, ſwear vnto me by þ Lord, þas I haue ſwew you mercy, ye will alſo thew mercy vnto my fathers houſe, & giue me a true toke.

13 And that ye will ſaue aliuē my father and my mother, & my brethren, & my ſi-ſters, and all that they haue: and that ye will deliuer our ſoules from death.

14 And the men answered her, Our life for you to dye, if ye better not this our buſineſſe: & when the Lord hath giuen vs the land, we will deale mercifully and truely wth thee.

15 Then the let them downe by a cord through þ window, for her houſe was vpon the towne wall, and the diuelt by-on the wall.

16 And the ſaid vnto them, Go you into the mountaine, leaſt the purſuers meeteth you, & hide your ſelues there three dayes, vntill the purſuers be returned:
then after ward may ye go your way.

17 And the men ſaid vnto her, We wil be blameles of this thine othe, which thou haſt made vs ſwear.

18 Behold, when we come into þ land, thou ſhalt binde this cord of redde threde in the window, wherby thou letteſt vs downe, and thou ſhalt bring thy father and thy mother, and thy brethren, and all thy fathers houſhold homie to thee.

19 And whoſoeuer then doeth go out at the doores of thine houſe into þ ſtreete, his blood ſhalbe vpon his head, and he will be gatlleſſe: but whoſoeuer ſhalbe wth thee in the houſe, his blood ſhalbe on our head, if any hand touch him:

20 And if thou biter this our matter, we will be quit of thine othe, which thou haſt made vs ſwear.

21 And ſhe answered, According vnto your wordes ſo be it: then ſhe lent them away, and they departed, and the bound the red corde in the windowe.

22 And they departed, & came into the mountaine, and there abode three dayes, vntill the purſuers were returned: & the purſuers ſought the throughout all the way, but found them not.

23 So the two men returned, and deſ-cended fro the mountaine, & paſſed ouer, and came to Joshua the ſonne of Nun, & told him all things that came vnto them.

CHAP. III.

3 Ioshua commandeth them to depart when the Arke remoueth. 7 The Lord promisseth to raise Ioshua before the people. 9 Ioshua's exhortation to the people. 16 The waters part asunder whiles the people passe.

When Ioshua rose very early, and they remoued fro Shittim, and came to Iorden, he, and all the children of Israel, and lodged there before they went ouer.

2 And after three dayes the officers went throughout the hoste,

3 And commanded the people, saying, when ye see the Arke of the couenant of the Lorde your God, and the Priests of the Leuites bearing it, ye shall depart from your place, and go after it.

4 Yet there shalbe a space betweene you and it, about two thousand cubites by measure: ye shall not come neere vnto it, that ye may knowe the way, by the which ye shall go: for ye haue not gone this way in times past.

5 (Nowe Ioshua had saide vnto the people, * Sanctifie your selues: for to morowe the Lorde will do wonders among you)

6 Also Ioshua spake vnto the Priests, saying, Take by the Arke of the Couenant, and goe ouer before the people: so they tooke by the Arke of the Couenant, and went before the people.

7 ¶ Then the Lorde saide vnto Ioshua, This day will I begin to magnifie thee in the sight of all Israel, which shall knowe, that * as I was with Moses, so will I be with thee.

8 Thou shalt therefore command the Priests that beare the Arke of the Couenant, saying, when ye are come to the brink of the waters of Iorden, ye shall stand still in Iorden.

9 ¶ Then Ioshua said vnto the children of Israel, Come hither, and heare the wordes of the Lord your God.

10 And Ioshua said, hereby ye shall knowe that y<sup>e</sup> living God is among you, and that he will certainlye tast ouer before you the Canaanites, & the Hittites, and the Hivites, and the Perizzites, and the Gergashites, and the Amorites, and the Jebusites.

11 Beholde, the Arke of the Couenant of the Lord of all the world: passeth before you into Iorden.

12 Nowe therefore take from among you twelve men out of the tribes of Israel, out of euery tribe a man.

13 And as soone as the soles of the feet of the Priests (that beare the Arke of the Lord God the Lord of all the world) shall stay in the waters of Iorden, the waters of Iorden shalbe cut off: for the waters that come from aboue, * shall stand still vpon an heape.

14 ¶ Then when the people were departed from their tentes to goe ouer Iorden, the Priests bearing the Arke of the Couenant, [went] before the people.

15 And as they that bare the Arke came vnto Iorden, and the feet of the Priests that bare the Arke were dipped in the brink of the water, (* for Iorden beeth to fill all his banks all the time of harvest)

16 ¶ Then the waters that came downe from aboue, staid [and] rose by on an heape and departed farre from the citie of Adam, that was beside Zaretan: but the waters that came downe towarde the Sea of the wilderness, [euen] the salt Sea, failed, and were cut off: so the people went right ouer against Jericho.

17 But the Priests that bare the Arke of the couenant of the Lorde, stood dry within Iorden ready prepared, and all the Israelites went ouer dry, vntill all the people were gone cleane ouer through Iorden.

CHAP. IIIII.

4 Then Ioshua called the twelve men, whom he had prepared of the children of Israel, out of euery tribe a man,

5 And Ioshua saide vnto them, Goe ouer before the Arke of the Lorde your God, euen through the middes of Iorden, & take by euery man of you a stone vpon his shoulder according vnto the number

6 That this may be a signe among you, that when your children shall aske their fathers in time to come, saying, What meane you by these stones?

7 Then ye may answer them, That the waters of Jordan were cut off before the Arke of <sup>c</sup> covenant of the Lord: [for] when it passed through Jordan, the waters of Jordan were cut off: therefore these stones are a memoriall vnto the children of Israel for ever.

8 Then the children of Israel did euen so, as Joshua had commaunded, and tooke by twelue stones out of the muddes of Jordan, as the Lord had said vnto Joshua, according to the number of the tribes of <sup>d</sup> children of Israel, and caried them away with them vnto the lodging, and layd them downe there.

9 And Joshua set by <sup>d</sup> twelue stones in the mids of Jordan, in <sup>e</sup> place where the feete of the Priests, which bare the Arke of the covenant, stood, and there haue they continued vnto this day.

10 C So the Priests, which bare the Arke, stood in the muddes of Jordan, vntill every thing was finished that the Lord had commaunded Joshua to say vnto the people, according to all that Moses charged Joshua: then the people hastned and went ouer.

11 When all the people were cleane passed ouer, the Arke of the Lord went ouer also, and the Priests before the people.

12 * And the sonnes of Reuben, and the sonnes of Gad, and halfe the tribe of Manasseh went ouer before the children of Israel armed, as Moses had charged them.

13 Euen fourtie thousande prepared for warre, went before the <sup>f</sup> Lord vnto battell, into the plaine of Jericho.

14 That day the Lord magnified Joshua in the sight of all Israel, & they feared him, as they feared Moses all dayes of his life.

15 And the Lord spake vnto Joshua, saying,

16 Command the Priests that beare the Arke of the Testimonie, to come by out of Jordan.

17 Joshua therefore commaunded the Priests, saying, Come ye by out of Jordan.

18 And when the Priests that bare the Arke of the covenant of the Lord were come by out of the muddes of Jordan, & as soone as the soles of the Priests feete were set on the drie land, the waters of Jordan returned vnto their place, and flowed ouer all the banks thereof, as they did before.

19 C So the people came by out of Jordan the tenth day of the <sup>h</sup> first month, and pitched in Gilgal, in the East side of Jericho.

20 Also the twelue stones, which they tooke out of Jordan, did Joshua pitch in Gilgal.

21 And he spake vnto the children of Israel, saying, when your children shall aske their fathers in time to come, & say, What meane these stones?

22 Then ye shall shew your children, and say, Israel came ouer this Jordan on drie land:

23 For the Lord your God dried by the waters of Jordan before you, vntill ye were gone ouer, as the Lord your God did the red Sea, * which he dried by before vs, till we were gone ouer, 24 That all the people of the world may know that the hand of the Lord is mightie, that ye might feare the Lord your God continually.

CHAP. V.

1 The Canaanites are afraid of the Israelites. 2 Circumcision is commanded the second time. 10 The Passouer is kept. 12 Spina casteth. 13 The Angel appeareth vnto Joshua.

NOwe when all the Kings of the Amorites, which were beyond Jordan westward, and all the Kings of the Canaanites, which were by the sea, heard that the Lord had dried by the waters of Jordan before the children of Israel vntill they were gone ouer, their heart faimted: and there was no courage in them any more because of the children of Israel.

2 C That same time the Lord said vnto Joshua, * Take thee sharpe knives, [and] returne, & circumcise the sonnes of Israel the second time.

3 Then Joshua made him sharpe knives, and circumcised the sonnes of Israel in the hill of the foreskinnes.

4 And this is the cause why Joshua circumcised all the people, [euen] the males that came out of Egypt, because all the men of warre were dead in the wilderness by the way after they came out of Egypt.

5 For all the people that came out were circumcised: but all the people that

Were borne in the wilderness by the way after they came out of Egypt, were not circumcised.

6 For the children of Israel walked fourtie yerres in the wilderness, till all the people of men of warre that came out of Egypt were consumed, because they obeyed not the voyce of the Lord: vnto whome the Lord swaue, that he would not helpe them the land, * which the Lord had sworne vnto their fathers, that he would giue vs. [eu]en a land that floweth with milke and hony.

7 So their sonnes whome he raised vp in their stead, Joshua circumcised: for they were vncircumcised, because they circumcised them not by the way.

8 And when they had made an ende of circumcising all the people, they abode in the places in the campe till they were whole.

9 After the Lord sayd vnto Joshua, This day I haue take away the shame of Egypt from you: wherefore he called the name of that place Gilgal, vnto this day.

10 So the children of Israel abode in Gilgal, and kept the feast of the Passouer the fourteenth day of the moneth at euen in the plaine of Jericho.

11 And they did eate of the corne of the land, on the morrow after the Passouer, vnto leuened bread, and parched come in the same day.

12 And the MAN ceased on the morrow after they had eaten of the corne of the land, neither had the children of Israel any more, but did eate of the fruit of the land of Canaan that yere.

13 And when Joshua was by Jericho, he lift vp his eyes and looked: and behold, there stood a man against him, hauing a sword drawn in his hand: and Joshua went vnto him, and sayde vnto him, Art thou on our side, or on our aduersaries?

14 And he sayd, Nay, but as a captaine of the hoste of the Lord am I now come: then Joshua fell on his face to the earth, and did worship, & said vnto him, What saith my Lord vnto his seruant?

15 And the captaine of the Lords hoste sayd vnto Joshua, Loose thy shoe off thy foote: for the place whereon thou standest, is holy: and Joshua did so.

3 The Lord instructed Joshua what he should doe as touching Jericho. 6 Joshua commandeth the Priests & warriors what to do. 20 The walles fall. 22 Rahab is saved. 24 All is burnt saue gold & metal. 26 The curse of him that buildeth Jericho.

NOW Jericho was shut vp, and closed, because of the children of Israel: none might goe out nor enter in.

2 And the Lord sayd vnto Joshua, Beholde, I haue giuen into thine hand Jericho and the king thereof, [and] the strong men of warre.

3 All ye therefore [that be] men of warre, shall compasse the citie, in going round about the citie: once: thus shall you doe sixe dayes:

4 And seven Priests shal beare seven trumpets of rams hornes before the Arke: and the seventh day ye shall compasse the citie seven times, & the Priests shall blow with the trumpets.

5 And when they make a long blast with the rams hornes, and ye heare the sound of the trumpet, all the people shal shoute with a great shout: then shall the wall of the citie fall downe flat, and the people shall ascende vp, euery man straight before him.

6 Then Joshua the sonne of Nun called the Priests and sayde vnto them, Take by the Arke of the couenant, & let seven Priests beare seven trumpets of rams hornes before the Arke of the Lord.

7 But he sayd vnto the people, Goe and compasse the citie: and let him that is armed, goe forth before the Arke of the Lord.

8 And when Joshua had spoken vnto the people, the seven Priests bare the seven trumpets of rams hornes, & went forth before the Arke of the Lord, and blew with the trumpets, & the Arke of the couenant of the Lord followed them.

9 And the men of armes went before the Priests, that blew the trumpets: then the gathering [hoste] came after the Arke, as they went and blew the trumpets.

10 (Nowe Joshua had commanded the people, saying, Ye shall not shoute, neither shal a voyd proceede out of your mouth, vntill the day that I say vnto you, Shout, then shall ye shout)

11 So the Arke of the Lord compassed the citie, & went about it once: then they returned into the hoste, and lodged in the campe.

12 And Joshua rose early in the morning, and the Priests bare the Arke of the Lord:

Arke of the Lord, and going blew with the trumpets: and the men of armes went before them: but the hoste came after the Arke of the Lord, as they went and blew the trumpets.

14 And the second day they compassed the citie once, and returned into the hoste: thus they did sixe dayes.

15 And when the seventh day came, they rose early, even with the dawning of the day, and compassed the citie after the same maner: seven times: onely that day they compassed it citie seven times.

16 And when the priests had blown the trumpets the seventh time, Joshua sayd vnto the people, Shoute: for the Lord hath given you the citie.

17 And the citie shall be an execrable thing, both it, and all that are therein, vnto the Lord: onely Rahab the harlot shall liue, she, and all that are with her in the house: for she hid the messengers that we sent.

18 Notwithstanding, be ye ware of the execrable thing, least ye make your selues execrable, and in taking of the execrable thing, make also the hoste of Israel execrable, and trouble it.

19 But all siluer, and golde, and vessels of brasse, & yon shall be consecrate vnto the Lord, and shall come into the Lords treasure.

20 So the people shouted, when they had blown trumpets: for when the people had heard the sound of the trumpet, they shouted with a great shout: and the wall fel down flat: so the people went vp into the citie, euery man straight before him: and they tooke the citie.

21 And they bitterly destroyed all that was in the citie, both man and woman, yong, and olde, and ore, and sheepe, and asse, with the edge of the sworde.

22 But Joshua had sayde vnto the two men that had spied out the countrey, Go into the harlots house, & bring out thence the woman, and all that she hath, as ye sware to her.

23 So the yong men that were spies, went in, and brought out Rahab, & her father, and her mother, & her brethren, and all that she had: also they brought out all her familie, and put them without the hoste of Israel.

24 After they burnt the citie with fire, and all that was therein: onely the siluer & the golde, and the vessels of brasse and yron, they put vnto the treasure of the house of the Lord.

25 So Joshua saved Rahab the harlot, and her fathers householde, and all that she had, and she dwelt in Israel euen vnto this day, because she had hid the messengers, which Joshua sent to spie out Jericho.

26 And Joshua swore at that time, saying, Cursed be the man before the Lord, that riseth vp, & buildeth this citie Jericho: he shall lay the foundation thereof in his eldest sonne, & in his yongest sonne shall he set vp the gates of it.

27 So the Lord was with Joshua, & he was famous through all the world.

1 The Lord is angry with Achaz. 4 They of Ai put the Israelites to flight. 6 Joshua properly to the Lord. 16 Joshua inquiryeth out him that sinned, and smother him and all his.

BUT the children of Israel communicated a trespass in the communicating thing: for Achaz the sonne of Carni, the sonne of Zabdi, the sonne of Zerah of the tribe of Iudah tooke of the excommunicate thing: wherefore the wrath of the Lord was kindled against the children of Israel.

2 And Joshua sent men from Jericho to Ai, which is beside Bethauen, on the East side of Beth-el, and spake vnto them, saying, Go vp, and besiege the countrey. And the men went vp, & besieged Ai.

3 And returned to Joshua, & said vnto him, Let not all the people go vp, but let as it were two or three thousand men go vp, & smite Ai, and make not all the people to labour thither, for they are fewe.

4 So there went vp thither of the people about three thousand men, and they fled before the men of Ai.

5 And the men of Ai smote of them vpon a thirtie and sixe men: for they chased them from before the gate vnto Shebarim, and smote them in the going downe: wherefore the hearts of the people melted away like water.

6 Then Joshua rent his clothes, and fell to the earth vpon his face before the Arke of the Lord, vntill the euentide, he, and the Elders of Israel, and put dust vpon their heads.

7 And Joshua sayd, Alas, O Lord God, wherefore hast thou brought this people over Jordan, to deliuer vs into the hand of the Amorites, & to destroy vs: would God we had bene content to dwell on the other side Jordan.

10 ¶ And the Lord sayde vnto Joshua, Get thee vp: wherefore liest thou thus vpon thy face?

11 ¶ Israel hath sinned, and they haue transgressed my covenant, which I commanded them: for they haue euen taken of the excommunicate thing, & haue also stollen, & dissembled also, and haue put it euen with their owne stuffe.

12 Therefore the children of Israel can not stand before their enemies, [but] haue turned their backs before their enemies, because they be execrable: neither wil I be with you any more, except ye destroy the excommunicate from among you.

13 ¶ Up therefore, sanctifie the people, and say, Sanctifie your selues against to morrow: for thus saith the Lord God of Israel, There is an execrable thing among you, O Israel, [therefore] ye can not stand against your enemies, until ye haue put the execrable thing from among you.

14 In the morning therefore ye shall come according to your tribes, and the tribe which the Lord taketh, shall come according to families: and the familie which the Lord shal take, shall come by the households: & the household which the Lord shal take, shall come man by man.

15 And he that is taken with the excommunicate thing, shall be burnt with fire, he, and all that he hath, because he hath transgressed the covenant of the Lord, and because he hath wrought folly in Israel.

16 ¶ So Joshua rose by early in the morning and brought Israel by their tribes: & the tribe of Judah was taken.

17 And he brought the families of Judah, & tooke the familie of the Zarithes, and he brought the familie of the Zarithes, man by man, & Zabdi was taken.

18 And he brought his household, man by man, and Achan the sonne of Carmi, the sonne of Zabdi, the sonne of Zerah of the tribe of Judah was taken.

19 ¶ Then Joshua layde vnto Achan, My sonne, I beseech thee, giue glory to the Lord God of Israel, and make confession vnto him, & shewe me now what thou hast done: hide it not from me.

20 And Achan answered Joshua, and sayde, In deede, I haue sinned against the Lord God of Israel, & thus, and thus haue I done.

21 I saue among the spoyle a goodly Babylonish garment, and two hundred shekels of silver, and a wedge of golde of siccite shekels weight, and I co-ucted them, & tooke them: and behold, they lie hid in the earth in the middes of my tent, and the silver vnder it.

22 ¶ Then Joshua sent messengers, which ran vnto the tent, and behold, it was hid in his tent, & the silver vnder it.

23 Therefore they tooke them out of the tent, & brought them vnto Joshua, and vnto all the children of Israel, and layd them before the Lord.

24 ¶ Then Joshua tooke Achan the sonne of Zerah, & the silver, & the garment & the wedge of golde & his sonnes, and his daughters, and his oxen, & his asses, & his sheepe, and his tent, and all that he had: and all Israel with him brought them vnto the valley of Achor.

25 And Joshua sayd, ¶ In as much as thou hast troubled vs, the Lord shall trouble thee this day: and all Israel threw stones at him, and burned them with fire, and stoned them with stones.

26 And they cast vpon him a great heape of stones vnto this day: and [so] the Lord turned from his fierce wrath: therefore he called þ name of that place, The valley of Achor, vnto this day.

f To the intent that they in the citie might the better discouer his armye.

14 And when the king of Ai saw it, then the men of the citie hastened and rose vp early, and went out against Israel to battell, he and all his people at the time appointed, before the plaine: for he knew not that [any] lay in waite against him on the backside of the citie.

15 Then Joshua and all Israel [as] beaten before them, fled by the way of the wilderness.

16 And all the people of the citie were called together, to pursue after them: and they pursued after Joshua, & were drayned away out of the citie,

17 So that there was not a man left in Ai, nor in Beth-el, that went not out after Israel: and they left the citie open, and pursued after Israel.

18 Then the Lord said vnto Joshua, Stretch out the speare that is in thine hand, towarde Ai: for I will giue it into thine hande: and Joshua stretched out the speare that hee had in his hande, toward the citie.

h Or, lift up the banner, to signifye when they shall invade the citie.

19 And they that lay in waite, arose quicklie out of their place, and ranne as soone as he had stretched out his hand, and they entred into the citie, & tooke it, and halted, and set the citie on fire.

20 And the men of Ai looked behinde them, and saw it: for so, the smoke of the citie ascended by to heauen, & they had no power to flee this way or that way: for the people that fled to the wilderness, turned backe vpon the pursuers.

¶ Or, toward the heauen.

21 When Joshua and all Israel saw that they that lay in waite, had taken the citie, and that the smoke of the citie mounted vp, then they turned againe and slew the men of Ai.

22 Also the other issued out of the citie against them: so were they in y<sup>e</sup> mids of Israel, these [being] on the one side, and the rest on the other side: and they serue them, so that they let none of them remaine nor escape.

k For the fire, which they had before set in the citie, was not to consume it, but to signifye vnto Joshua, that they were entred.

25 And all that fell that day, both of men & women, were twelue thousand, even all the men of Ai.

2 They gathered them ſelues together, to fight againſt Ioshua, & againſt Israel with one accord.

3 C * But the inhabitants of Gibeon heard what Ioshua had done vnto Jericho, and to Ai.

4 Come vp vnto me, & helpe me, that we may smite Gibeon: for they haue made peace with Joshua and with the children of Israel.

5 Therefore the five kings of the Amorites, the king of Ierusalem, the king of Hebron, the king of Jarmuth, the king of Lachish, [and] the king of Eglon gathered themselves together, and went vp, they with all their hostes, and besieged Gibeon, & made<sup>b</sup> warre against it.

6 And the men of Gibeon sent vnto Joshua, [cut] to the hoste to Gilgal, saying, withdraw not thine hand from thy seruants: come vp to vs quickly, and saue vs, and helpe vs: for all the kings of the Amorites which dwell in<sup>c</sup> mountaines, are gathered together against vs.

7 So Joshua ascended from Gilgal, hee, & all the people of warre with him, and all the men of might.

8 And the Lord said vnto Joshua, <sup>c</sup> Feare them not: for I haue giue them into thine hand: none of them shall stand against thee.

9 Joshua therefore came vnto them sodenly: [for] hee went vp from Gilgal all the night.

10 And the Lord discomfited them before Israel, & slew them with a great slaughter at Gibeon, and chased them along the way that goeth vp to Beth horon, and smote them to Azekah and to Dakkedah.

11 And as they fled from before Israel, [ & ] were in the going downe to Beth horon, the Lord cast downe great stones from heauen vpon them, brail Azekah, and they died: [ they were ] more I died with<sup>d</sup> hailstones, then they whom the children of Israel slew with the sword.

12 Then spake Joshua to<sup>e</sup> the Lord, in the day when the Lord gaue the Amorites before the childre of Israel, and he saide in the sight of Israel, * Summe, slay thou in Gibeon, and thou moone, in the valley of Alalon.

13 And the sunne abode, & the moone stood still, untill the people auenged themselves vpo their enemies: [ Is not this written in the booke of<sup>f</sup> ] fo the sunne abode in the middes of the heaurn, and hasted not to goe downe for a while day.

14 And there was no day like that before it, nor after it, that the Lord heard the voyce of a man: for the Lord fought for Israel.

15 After, Ioshua returned, & all Israel with him vnto the campe to Gilgal:

16 But the five Kings fled and were hid in a caue at Hakkedah.

17 And it was tolde Ioshua, saying, The five Kings are founde hid in a caue at Hakkedah.

18 Then Ioshua saide, Roule great stones vpon the mouth of the caue, and set men by it for to keepe them.

19 But stand ye not still: follow after your enemies, and smite all the hindmost, suffer them not to enter into their cities: for the Lord your God hath giuen them into your hand.

20 And when Ioshua & the children of Israel had made an ende of slaying them with an exceeding great slaughter till they were consumed, and the rest that remained of them were entred into walled cities, 21 Then all the people returned to the campe, to Ioshua at Hakkedah in peace: no man moued his tongue against the children of Israel.

22 After, Ioshua sayde, Open the mouth of the caue, and bring out these five Kings vnto me forth of the caue.

23 And they did so, and brought out those five Kings vnto him forth of the caue, [even] the king of Ierusalem, the king of Hebron, the king of Iarnuth, the king of Lachish, [and] the king of Egion.

24 And when they had brought out those kings vnto Ioshua, Ioshua called for all the men of Israel, and said vnto the chiefe of the men of warre, which went with him, Come nere, set your feet vpon the neckes of these kings: and they came nere and set their feete vpon their neckes.

25 And Ioshua said vnto them, Feare not, nor be faint hearted, [but] be strong and of a good courage: for thus will the Lord doe to all your enemies, against whom ye fight.

26 So then Ioshua smote them, and slew them, & hanged them on five trees, and they hanged still vpon the trees vntill the euening.

27 And at the going downe of the sunne, Ioshua gaue commaundement, that they shoulde take * them downe of the trees, and cast them into the caue [wherein they had bene hid] and they laide great stones vpon the caues mouth, [which remaine] vntill this day.

28 And the same day Ioshua tooke Hakkedah and smote it with the edge of the sword, & the king thereof destroyed hee with them, and [all] the soules that were therein, he let none remaine: for hee did to the king of Hakkedah as he had done vnto the king of Jericho.

29 Then Ioshua went from Hakkedah, & all Israel with him vnto Libnah, and fought against Libnah.

30 And the Lord gaue it also and the king thereof into the hande of Israel: and he smote it with the edge of the sword, and all the soules that were therein: he let none remaine in it: for hee did vnto the king thereof, as hee had done vnto the king of Jericho.

31 And Ioshua departed from Libnah, and all Israel with him vnto Lachish, and besieged it, and assaulted it.

32 And the Lord gaue Lachish into the hand of Israel, which tooke it the second day, and smote it with the edge of the sword, and all the soules that were therein, according to all as hee had done to Libnah.

33 Then Hozam king of Gazer came vp to helpe Lachish: but Ioshua smote him and his people, vntill none of his remained.

34 And from Lachish Ioshua departed vnto Egion, and all Israel with him, and they besieged it, & assaulted it.

35 And they tooke it the same day, and smote it with the edge of the sword, and all the soules that were therein hee utterly destroyed the same day, according to all that hee had done to Lachish.

36 Then Ioshua went vp from Egion, and all Israel with him vnto Hebron, and they fought against it.

37 And when they had taken it, they smote it with the edge of the sword, and the king thereof, and all the cities thereof, and all the soules that were therein: hee left none remaying, according to all as hee had done to Egion: for hee destroyed it utterly, and all the soules that were therein.

38 So Ioshua returned, & all Israel with him to Debir, & fought against it.

39 And when hee had taken it, and the king thereof, and all the cities thereof, they smote them with the edge of the sword, a Diuers Kings and Cities, and Countreys ouercome by Ioshua. 15 Ioshua did all that Moſes had commanded him, ſo God hardeneth the enemies hearts that they might be deſtroyed.

AD WHE Jabin King of Haſor had heard this, then hee ſent to Jobab King of Hadon, & to the King of Shimron, and to the King of Achthaph,

2 And vnto the Kings that were by the North in the mountaines, & plaines towarde the Southſide of <sup>b</sup> Emmeroth, and in the valleys, and in the borders of Dor weſtward,

3 [And] vnto the Canaanites, [both] by Eaſt, and by weſt, and vnto the Amorites, and Hittites, and Perizzites, and Jebuſites in the mountaines, and vnto the Hiuites vnder <sup>c</sup> Hermon in the land of Miſep.

4 And they came out & all their hoſtes with them, many people as ſ lande that is on the ſea ſhoze for multitude, with horſes and charrets exceeding many.

5 So all theſe Kings met together, & came and pitched together at the Waters of Perom, for to fight againſt Iſrael.

6 C Then the Lord ſaide vnto Ioshua, Be not afraid for them: for to morrow about this time will I deliuer them all ſlaine before Iſrael: thou ſhalt <sup>d</sup> hough their horſes, and burne their charrets with fire.

7 Then came Ioshua and all the men of warre with him againſt them by the Waters of Perom ſuddenly, and fell vpon them.

8 And the Lord gaue them into the hand of Iſrael: and they ſmote them, and chaſed them vnto great Zidon, and vnto <sup>e</sup> Miſrephothmain, & vnto ſ valley of Miſpeh Eaſtwarde, and ſmote them vntill they had none remaining of them.

9 And Ioshua did vnto them as the Lord bade him: he houghed their horſes, and burnt their charrets with fire.

10 C At that time alſo Ioshua turned backe, and tooke Haſor, and ſmote the King thereof with the ſword: for Haſor beforetime was the head of all thoſe kingdomes.

11 Moreouer, they ſmote all the <sup>f</sup> perſons that were therein with ſ edge of the ſword, utterly deſtroying all, leauing none aliue, and he burnt Haſor with fire.

12 So al the cities of thoſe Kings, and all the Kings of them did Ioshua take, and ſmote them with the edge of the ſword, and utterly deſtroyed them, as <sup>g</sup> Moſes the ſeruant of the Lord had commanded.

13 But Iſrael burnt none of the cities that ſtood ſtil in their ſtrength, ſaue Haſor only, that Ioshua burnt.

14 And all the ſpoyle of theſe cities and the cattell the children of Iſrael tooke for their pray, but they ſmote euery <sup>h</sup> man with ſ edge of the ſword vntill they had deſtroyed them, not leauing one aliue.

15 C As the Lord had commanded Moſes his ſeruant, ſo did Moſes command Ioshua, and ſo did Ioshua: he left nothing vndone of all that the Lord had commanded Moſes.

16 So Ioshua tooke all this land of the mountaines, and all the South, and all the land of Goſhen, and the low countrey, and the plaine, and the <sup>i</sup> mountaine of Iſrael, and the lowe countrey of the ſame, 17 From the mount <sup>k</sup> Balak, that goeth vp to Seir, euen vnto <sup>l</sup> Baal-gad in the valley of Lebanon, vnder mount Hermon: and all their kings he tooke, and ſmote them, and ſlew them.

18 Ioshua made warre long time with all thoſe Kings.

19 Neither was there any cite that made peace with the children of Iſrael, ſaue thoſe Hiuites that inhabited Gibeon: all [other] they tooke by battell.

20 For it came of the Lord, to harden their hearts that they ſhoulde come againſt Iſrael in battell to the intent that they ſhoulde deſtroy them utterly, [and] ſlew them no mercy, but that they ſhould bring them to nought: as ſ Lord had commanded Moſes.

22 There was no Anakim left in the land of the children of Israel: onely in Azzah, <sup>m</sup> in Gath, and in Ashdod were they left.

23 So Ioshua tooke the whole land, according to all that the Lord had said unto Moses: and Ioshua gave it for an inheritance unto Israel * according to their portions through their tribes: then the land was at rest without warre.

32 These are the heritages, which Moses did distribute in the plaine of Moab beyond Jordan, [towards] Jericho Eastward.

33 But unto the tribe of Levi Moses gave none inheritance: [for] the Lord God of Israel is their inheritance, as he said unto them.

CHAP. XIII.

The land of Canaan was divided among the nine tribes and the halfe. 6 Caleb requireth the heritage that was promised him. 13 Hebron was given him.

These also are the places which the children of Israel inherited in the lande of Canaan, which Eleazar the Priest, and Joshua the sonne of Nun and the chiefe fathers of the tribes of the children of Israel distributed to them,

2 By lot of their inheritance, as the Lord had commanded by the hand of Moses, to give to the nine tribes, & the halfe tribe.

3 For Moses had given inheritance unto two tribes and an halfe tribe, beyond Jordan: but unto the Leuites hee gave none inheritance among them.

4 For the children of Joseph were two tribes, Manasseh and Ephraim: therefore they gave no part unto the Leuites in the lande, save cities to dwell in, with the suburbs of the same for their beastes and their substance.

5 As the Lord had commanded Moses, so the children of Israel did when they divided the land.

6 Then the children of Judah came unto Joshua in Gilgal: and Caleb the sonne of Jephunneh the Kenazite said unto him, Thou knowest what the Lord said unto Moses the man of God, concerning me and thee in Kadish-barnea.

7 Fourtie yeere old was I, when Moses the servant of the Lord sent me from Kadish-barnea to espie the lande, and I brought him word againe, as I thought in mine heart.

8 But my brethren went by with me, discouraged the heart of the people: yet I followed still the Lord my God.

9 Wherefore Moses sware the same day, saying, Certainly the land whereon thy feete have troden, shall be thine inheritance, and thy childrens for ever, because thou hast followed constantly the Lord my God.

10 Therefore beholde now, the Lord hath kept me alive, as he promised: this is the fourtie and fifth yeere since the Lord spake this thing unto Moses, while the children of Israel wandered in the wilderness: and now loe, I am this day fourefore and five yeere old:

11 And yet am as strong at this time, as I was when Moses sent me: as strong as I was then, so strong am I now, either for warre, or for government.

12 Now therefore give me this mountaine whereof the Lord spake in the day (for thou heardest in the day, how the Anakims were) there, & the cities great & walled: if so be the Lord will be with me, that I may drive them out, as the Lord said.

13 Then Joshua blessed him, & gave unto Caleb the sonne of Jephunneh, Hebron for an inheritance.

14 Hebron therefore became the inheritance of Caleb the sonne of Jephunneh the Kenazite, unto this day: because he followed constantly the Lord God of Israel.

15 And the name of Hebron [was] beforetime, Biriath-arba: which [Arba] was a great man among the Anakims: thus the land ceased from warre.

1 The lot of the children of Iudah, and the names of the cities and villages of the same. 13 Calebs portion. 18 The request of Achish.

Nomb. 34.3.

Nomb. 33.36.

his then was the lot of the tribe of the children of Iudah by their families: [even] * to the border of Edom and * wilderness of * Zin, Southward on the Southcoast.

2 And their Southborder was the salt Sea coast, from * the point that looketh Southward.

3 And it went out on the Southside toward Baaleth-akrabbim, and went along to Zin, and ascended by on the Southside unto Kadeth-barnea, and went along to Herson, and went by to Adar, and set a compass to Karkaa.

4 From thence went it along to Azmon, & reached unto the river of Egypt, & the end of that coast was on the Westside: this shall be your Southcoast.

5 Also the Eastborder shall be the salt Sea, unto the * end of Jordan: and the border on the Northquarter from the point of the Sea, [and] from the end of Jordan.

6 And this border goeth by to Beth-hogla, and goeth along by the Northside of Beth-arabah: so the border from thence goeth by to the * stone of Bohan the sonne of Reuben.

7 Again this border goeth by to Debir from the valley of Achor, & Northward, turning toward Gilgal, that lieth before * going by to Adummim, which is on the Southside of * river: also this border goeth by to the waters of * En-hemeth, and endeth at * En-rogel.

8 Then this border goeth by to the valley of the sonne of Hinnom, on the Southside of the Jebusites: the same is Jerusalem, also this border goeth by to the top of the mountaine that lieth before the valley of Hinnom Westward, which is by the end of the valley of the * gyants Northward.

9 So this border compasseth from the top of the mountaine unto the fountaine of the water of Nephtoi, and goeth out to the cities of mount Ephron: and this border diueth to Baalah, which is * Kiriath-tearim.

10 Then this border compasseth to Baalah Westward unto mount Seir, and goeth along unto the side of mount Fearim, which is Chelalon on * Northside: so it cometh downe to Beth-hemeth, and goeth to Timnah.

11 Also this border goeth out unto the side of Ekron Northward: and this border diueth to Shicron, and goeth along to mount Baalah, and stretcheth unto Jabneel: and the ends of this coast are to the * Sea.

12 And the Westborder [is] to the great Sea: so this border shall be the boundes of the children of Iudah round about, according to their families.

13 And unto Caleb the sonne of Jephumeh did Joshua give a part among the children of Iudah, as the Lord commanded him, [even] * Kiriath-arba of the father of Anak, which is Hebron.

14 And Caleb * boue thence three sonnes of Anak, Shephai and Ahiman, and Tamai, the sonnes of Anak.

15 And he went by thence to the inhabitants of Debir: and the name of Debir before time [was] * Kiriath-sepher.

16 Then Caleb said, He that smiteth Kiriath-sepher, & taketh it, even to him will I give Achish my daughter to wife.

17 And Othniel, the sonne of Kenaz, the * brother of Caleb tooke it: & he gave him Achish his daughter to wife.

18 And as shee went in to him, [shee] moued him to aske of her father a field: & the lighted off her asse, and Caleb said unto her, What wilt thou?

19 Then shee answered, [I] give mee a blessing: for thou hast giuen * mee the South countrey: give me also springs of water. And hee gave her the springs above and the springs beneath.

20 This shall be the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Iudah according to their families.

21 And the most cities of the tribe of the children of Iudah, toward * coasts of Edom Southward [were] Kabez, and Eder, and Jagur, 22 And Kinah, and Dimonah, and Abadai,

23 And Kedeth, & Hazor, & Ithnan,

24 Ziph, and Telem, and Bealoth,

25 And Hazor, Hadattah, & Kerioth, Helton (which is Hazor)

26 Anam, and Shema, & Moladah,

27 And Hazar, Gaddah, & Bethmon, and Beth-palet,

28 And Hazer-thual, and Beer-sheba, and Biziothiah,

29 Baalah, and Jim, and Azem,

30 And Etolad, and Chesil, & Hor, & Ziklag, and Madmanna, and Sanlammah, 33 ¶ In the low country were Esh-taol, and Zozeah, and Aihnah,

34 And Zanoah, and En-gannim, Tappuah, and Enani, 35 Jacmuth, and Adullam, Socoh, and Azekah,

36 And Sharam, and Withaim, and Gederah, and Gederothaim: fourteen cities with their villages.

37 Zenan, and Hadathah, and Migdal gad,

38 And Dileam, and Mizpeh, & Joktheel,

39 Lachish, and Bosphath, and Eglon,

40 And Cabbon, and Lahmiam, and Kirjath,

41 And Gederoth, Beth-dagon, and Raamah, and Hakkedah: sixteen cities with their villages.

42 Lebna, and Esher, and Aishan,

43 And Jiphthah, & Aihnah, & Keshib,

44 And Keilah, and Azib, and Parshah: nine cities with their villages.

45 Ekron with her townnes and her villages,

46 From Ekron, even unto the Sea, all that lieth about Ashdod with their villages.

47 Ashdod with her townnes and her villages: Azah with her townnes & her villages, unto the river of Egypt, and the great sea was their coast.

48 ¶ And in the mountaines were Shamir, and Jattir, and Socoh,

49 And Dannah, & Kirjath-sannah (which is Debir)

50 And Anab, and Aithemoh, & Anim,

51 And Goshen, and Holon, & Giloh: eleven cities with their villages,

52 Arab, and Dumah, and Eshcan,

53 And Janum, and Beth-tappuah, and Apherah,

54 And Humentah, and Kirjath-arba, (which is Hebron) and Zior: nine cities with their villages.

55 Maon, Carmel, & Ziph, & Juttah,

56 And Jireel, and Jokdeam, and Zanoah,

57 Kain, Gibeon, and Timnah: ten cities with their villages.

58 Halhul, Beth-zur, and Gedoz,

59 And Maarath, and Beth-anoch, & Etchen: five cities with their villages.

60 Kirjath-baal, which is Kirjath-earim, and Rabbah: two cities with their villages.

61 ¶ In the wilderness were Beth-arabah, Biddin, and Seretah, 62 And Bethshan, and the city of salt, & Engedi: five cities with their villages.

63 Neuertheless, the Jebusites that were the inhabitants of Jerusalem, could not the children of Judah cast out, but the Jebusites dwell with the children of Judah at Jerusalem unto this day.

And the lot fell to the children of Joseph from Jordan by Jericho unto the water of Jericho Eastward, [and] to the wilderness that goeth by from Jericho by the mount Beth-el:

2 And goeth out fro Beth-el to * Luz, and runneth along unto the borders of Archiataroth,

3 And goeth down westward to the coast of Japhleti, unto the coast of Beth-hozon the nether, and to Gezer: and the endes thereof are at the Sea.

4 So the children of Joseph, Manasseh & Ephraim, took their inheritance.

5 ¶ Also the borders of the children of Ephraim according to their families, unto the borders of their inheritance on the Eastside, were Atroth-addar, unto Beth-hozon the upper.

6 And this border goeth out to the Sea unto Michmethah on the Northside, & this border returneth Eastward unto Taanath-shiloh, and passeth it on the Eastside unto Janohah,

7 And goeth down to Atroth, and Maarath, and cometh to Jericho, and goeth out at Jordan.

8 And this border goeth from Tappuah westward unto the river Kanah, and the ends thereof are at the Sea: this is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Ephraim by their families.

9 And the separate cities for the children of Ephraim were among the inheritance of the children of Manasseh: all the cities with their villages.

10 And they cast not out the Canaanite that dwelt in Gezer, but the Canaanite dwelt among the Ephraimites unto this day, and served under tribute.

n That is, to Ephraim and his children: for Manasseh's portion fell to them.

b Of their inheritance.

c Generally, first Ephraim, and then Manasseh.

d For so farre the coast reach.

e Because Ephraim's tribe was farre greater then Manasseh, therefore hee had moe cities.

Gen. 47, 51. and 46, 20. and 50, 23. Of Num. 32, 39 of Machir the first borne of Manasseh, [and] the father of Gilead: now because he was a man of warre, he had Gilead and Bashan.

2 And also of the rest of the sonnes of Manasseh by their families, [even] of the sonnes of Abieser, and of the sonnes of Helek, and of the sonnes of Azriel, and of the sonnes of Shechem, and of the sonnes of Iephther, and of the sonnes of Shenuda: these were the males of Manasseh, the sonne of Joseph according to their families.

3 But Zelophehad the sonne of Iephther, the sonne of Gilead, the sonne of Machir, the sonne of Manasseh, had no sonnes, but daughters: and these are the names of his daughters, Mahlah, and Noah, Hoglah, Milcah & Tirzah:

4 which came before Eleazar the Priest, and before Joshua the sonne of Nun, and before the princes, saying, The Lord commanded Moses to give vs an inheritance among our brethren: therefore according to the commaundment of the Lord he gaue them an inheritance among the brethren of their father.

5 And there fell ten portions to Manasseh, beside the land of Gilead and Bashan, which is on the other side Jordan.

6 Because the daughters of Manasseh did inherit among his sonnes: and Manasseh's other sonnes had the lande of Gilead.

7 So the borders of Manasseh were from Asher to Michmethah that lieth before Shechem, and this border goeth on the right hande, euen vnto the inhabitants of En-tappuah.

8 The land of Tappuah belonged to Manasseh, but Tappuah beside the border of Manasseh belongeth to the sonnes of Ephraim.

9 Also this border goeth doorne vnto the riuer Kanah Southward to the riuer: these cities of Ephraim are among the cities of Manasseh: and the border of Manasseh is on the Northside of the riuer, and the ends of it are at the Sea.

10 The South pertaineth to Ephraim, and the North to Manasseh, and the Sea is his border: and they met together in Asher Southward, and in Issachar Eastward.

11 And Manasseh had in Issachar and in Asher, Beth-shean, and her towynes, and Jibeam, and her towynes, and the inhabitants of Dor with the towynes thereof, and the inhabitants of Endor with the towynes thereof, and the inhabitants of Thaanach with her towynes, and the inhabitants of Megiddo with the towynes of the same, [euen] three countreys.

12 Yet the children of Manasseh could not destroy those cities, but the Canaanites dwelled still in that land.

13 Nevertheless, when the children of Israel were strong, they put the Canaanites vnder tribute, but cast them not out wholly.

14 Then the children of Joseph spake vnto Joshua, saying, why hast thou giuen mee but one lot, and one portion to inherit, seeing I am a great people, for as much as the Lord hath blessed me hitherto:

15 Joshua then answered them, If thou be much people, get thee vp to thee wood, & cut trees for thy self there in the land of the Perizzites, and of the giants, if mount Ephraim be to narrow for thee.

16 Then the children of Joseph sayd, The mountaine will not be enough for vs: and all the Canaanites that dwell in the lowe countrey haue charrets of yron, as well they in Beth-shean, and in the towynes of the same, as they in the valley of Jezreel.

17 And Joshua spake vnto the house of Joseph, to Ephraim, & to Manasseh, saying, Thou art a great people, & hast great power: & shalt not haue one lot.

18 Therefore the mountaine shall bee thine: for it is a wood, and thou shalt cut it doorne: and the ends of it shall be thine, and thou shalt cast out the Canaanites, though they haue yron charrets, [and] though they be strong.

2 Nowe there remained among the children of Israel leuen tribes, to whom they had not deuided their inheritance.

3 Therefore Joshua laide vnto the children of Israel, howe long are ye to slacke to enter and possesse the lande which the Lord God of your fathers hath giuen you?

tribe three men, that I may send them, and that they may rise, & walke through the land, and distribute it according to their inheritance, and returne to me.

3 And that they may deuide it vnto them into seuen parts, Iudah shall abide in his coast at the South, and the house of Ioseph shall stande in their coasts at the North.

6 We shall describe the land therefore into seuen parts, and shal bring them hither to me, and I will cast lots for you here before the Lord our God.

7 But the Leuites shall haue no part among you: for the Priesthoode of the Lord is their inheritance: also Gad and Reuben & halfe the tribe of Manasse haue receiued their inheritance beyonde Iordan Eastwarde, which Moses the seruant of the Lord gaue them.

8 ¶ Then the men arose, and went their way: and Joshua charged them that went to describe the lande, saying, Depart, and go through the lande, and describe it, and returne to mee, that I may here cast lottes for you before the Lord in Shiloh.

9 So the men departed, and passed through the land, & described it by cities into seuen parts in a booke, & returned to Joshua into the campe at Shiloh.

10 ¶ Then Joshua cast lots for the land before the Lord, & there Joshua deuided the land vnto the children of Israel according to their portions:

11 ¶ And the lot of the tribe of the children of Benjamin came forth according to their families, and the coast of their lot lay betwene the children of Iudah, and the children of Ioseph.

12 And their coast on the Northside was from Iordan, and the border went by to the side of Jericho on the Northpart, and went by through the mountaines Westward, and the ends thereof are in the wilderness of Beth-aui:

13 And this border goeth along from thence to Luz, [even] to the Southside of Luz (the same is Beth-el) and this border descendeth to Atroth-addar nere the mount, that lyeth on the Southside of Beth-horon the nether.

14 So the border turneth, and compasseth the corner of the Sea Southward, from the mount that lieth before Beth-horon Southward: and the ends thereof are at Kiriath-baal (which is Kiriath-earim) a citie of the children of Iudah: this is the Westquarter.

15 And the Southquarter [is] fro the end of Kiriath-earim, and this border goeth out Westward, and commeth to the fountaine of waters of Nephtoa.

16 And this border descendeth at the end of the mountaine, that lieth before the valley of Ben-humom, which is in the valley of the Igvants Northwarde, & descendeth into the valley of humom by the side of Jebusi Southwarde, and goeth downe to En-rogel.

17 And compasseth from the North, and goeth forth to En-hemeth, and stretcheth to Geliloth, which is toward the going by vnto Adummim, and goeth downe to the stone of Bothan the sonne of Reuben.

18 So it goeth along to the side ouer against the plaine Northward, and goeth downe into the plaine.

19 After this border goeth along to the side of Beth-hoglah Northwarde: and the ends thereof, [that is,] of the border, reach to the point of the salt Sea Northward, [&] to the end of Iordan Southward: this is the Southcoast.

20 Allo Iordan is the border of it on the Eastside: this is the inheritance of the children of Benjamin by the coastes thereof round about according to their families.

21 Nowe the cities of the tribe of the children of Benjamin according to their families, are Jericho, & Beth-hoglah, and the valley of Keiz.

22 And Beth-arabah, and Zemaraim, and Beth-el.

23 And Auiim, & Parah, and Ophrah,

24 And Chephar Ammonai, & Ophni, and Gaba: twelue cities with their villages.

25 Gibeon, and Ramah, & Beeroth,

26 And Beth-peh, and Chephirah, and Dozah,

27 And Bechem, & Irpeel, & Taralah,

28 And Zela, Eleph, & Jebusi (which is Ierusalem) Gibeath, [and] Kiriath: fourteene cities with their villages: this is the inheritance of the children of Benjamin according to their families.

5 And Ziklag, and Beth-maraboth, and Hazar-sual,

6 And Beth-lebaoth, and Sharuben: thirteen cities with their villages.

7 Ain, Remmon, & Ether, & Elhan: four cities with their villages.

8 And all the villages that were round about these cities, unto Baalath-beer, [<sup>f</sup>] Ramath Southward: this is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Simeon according to their families.

9 Out of the portion of the children of Judah [came] the inheritance of <sup>f</sup> children of Simeon: for the part of the children of Judah was too much for them: therefore <sup>f</sup> children of Simeon had their inheritance within their inheritance.

10 Also the thirde lot arose for the children of Zebulun according to their families: and the coasts of their inheritance came to Sarid,

11 And their border goeth by Westward, even to Haralah, and reacheth to Dabbatheth, and meeteth with the river that lieth before Joknean, 12 And turneth fro Sarid Eastward toward the sunne rising unto the border of Chisloth-tabor, and goeth out to Daberath, and ascendeth to Japhia, 13 And from thence goeth along Eastward toward the sunne rising to Gittah-hepher to Jitah-kazin, and goeth forth to Rimmon, and turneth to Reah.

14 And this border compasseth it on <sup>f</sup> North side to Hannathon, and the endes thereof are in the valley of Jiphthah-el,

15 And Battath, and Rahallal, and Shimon, and Idalah, and <sup>d</sup> Beth-lehem: twelve cities with their villages.

16 This is the inheritance of the children of Zebulun according to their families: [that is,] these cities and their villages.

17 The fourth lot came out to Issachar, [even] for the children of Issachar according to their families.

18 And their coast was Jezreel, and Chesulloth, and Shunem,

19 And Hapharaim, and Shion, and Anaharath,

20 And Harabith, & Kishion, & Abes,

22 And this coast reacheth to Tabor, and Shabazimath, and Beth-hemeth, and the ends of their coast reach to Jordan: sixteen cities with their villages.

23 This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Issachar according to their families: [that is,] the cities, and their villages.

24 Also the fift lot came out for the tribe of the children of Asher according to their families.

25 And their coast was Helcath, and Hali, and Beten, and Achshaph, 26 And Alammelech, and Amad, & Misheal, & came to Carmel Westward, and to Shihor Libnath, 27 And turneth toward the sunne rising to Beth-dagon, and cometh to Zebulun, and to the valley of Jiphthah-el, toward the Northside of Beth-emek, and Peier, and goeth out on the leftside of Cabul, 28 And to Ezron, and Rehob, and Hammon, & Kanah, unto great Zidon.

29 Then the coaste turneth to Ramah and to the strong cite of Zor, and this border turneth to Hoshah, and the endes thereof are at the Sea from Helcath to Achshaph, 30 Unniah also & Aphek, & Rehob: two & twentie cities with their villages.

31 This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Asher according to their families: [that is,] these cities and their villages.

32 The sixte lot came out to <sup>f</sup> children of Naphtali, [even] to the children of Naphtali according to their families.

33 And their coast was from Heleph, [and] from Allon in Zaanannim, and Adaminekeb, and Jabneel, even to Lakum, & the endes thereof are at Jordan.

34 So this coast turneth Westward to Asnoth-tabor, and goeth out from thence to Hakkok, and reacheth to Zebulun on the Southside, and goeth to Asher on the Westside, & to Judah by Jordan toward the sunne rising.

35 And the strong cities are Ziddim, Zer, and Hamnath, Bakkath, and Cimmereth, 36 And Adanah, & Ramah, & Hazor,

37 And Kedesh, & Edrei, & En-hazor,

38 And Iron, & Migdal-el, Hozem, and Beth-anah, & Beth-hemeth: nineteene cities with their villages.

44 And Eltekeh, and Gibbethon, and Baalah,

45 And Jeshud, and Bene-berak, and Gath-rimmion,

46 And Be-larkon, & Bakkon, with the border that lieth before <sup>k</sup> Japho.

47 But the coastes of the children of Dan fel out too litte for them: therefore the children of Dan went by to fight against Lethem, and tooke it, and smote it with the edge of the sword, & possessed it, and dwelt therein, & called Lethem, * Dan, after y name of Dan their father.

48 This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Dan accordyng to their families: [that is,] these cities and their villages.

49 When they had made an ende of deviding the land by the coastes thereof, then the children of Israel gaue an inheritance vnto Ioshua the sonne of Nun among them.

50 Accordyng to the word of the Lord they gaue him the cite which he asked, [euē] * Timnath-serah in mount Ephraim: he built y cite & dwelt therein.

51 These are the heritages which Eleazar the Priest, and Ioshua the sonne of Nun, & the chiefe fathers of the tribes of the childre of Israel deuided by lot in Shiloh before the Lord at the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation: so they made an end of deuiding y cōtreyn.

3 That the slayer that killeth any person by ignorance, [and] vmbittingly, may flee thither, and they shall bee your refuge from the auenger of blood.

4 And he that doeth flee vnto one of those cities, shall stand at the entring of the gate of the cite, and shall shewe his cause to the Elders of the cite: and they shal receiue him into the cite vnto them, and giue him a place, that he may dwell with them.

5 And if the <sup>b</sup> auenger of blood pursue after him, they shall not deliuer the slayer into his hande because hee smote his neighbour ignorantly, neither hated he him before time:

6 But he shall dwell in that cite vntill he stande before the Congregation in iudgement, * [or] vntill the death of the hye Priest that shall bee in those dayes: then shall the slayer returne, and come vnto his owne cite, and vnto his owne house, [euē] vnto the cite from whence he fled.

7 Then they appointed Kedesh in Galil in mount Naphtali, and Shechem in mount Ephraim, and Kiriat-arba, (which is Hebron) in the mountaine of Iudah.

8 And on the other side Iordan toward Jericho Eastward, they appointed Bezer in the wilderness vpon the playne, out of the tribe of Reuben, and Ramoth in Gilead, out of the tribe of Gad, and Golan in Basan, out of the tribe of Manasseh.

9 These were the cities appointed for all the children of Israel, & for the stranger that sojourned among them, that whosoever killed any person ignorantly, might flee thither, and not dye by the hand of the auenger of blood, vntill hee stood before the Congregation.

4 And y lot came out for y families of the Kohathites: & the children of Harod the Priest, which were of the Leuites, had by lot, out of y tribe of Iudah, & out of the tribe of Simeon, & out of the tribe of Beniamin: thirteene cities.

of Ephraim, and out of the tribe of Dan, and out of the halfe tribe of Manasseh, tenne cities.

6 Also the children of Gerſhon [had] by lot out of the families of the tribe of Issachar, and out of the tribe of Aſſer, and out of the tribe of Naphtali, and out of the halfe tribe of Manasseh in Baſhan, thirteene cities.

7 The children of Merari according to their families [had] out of the tribe of Reuben, and out of the tribe of Gad, and out of the tribe of Zebulun, twelue cities.

8 So the children of Iſrael gaue by lot vnto the Leuites these cities with their suburbs, as the Lord had commanded by the hand of Moſes.

9 And they gaue out of the tribe of the children of Iudah, & out of the tribe of the children of Simeon, these cities which are here named.

10 And they were the childrens of Aaron [being] of the families of the Kohathites, [and] of the sonnes of Leui, (for theirs was the first lot)

11 So they gaue them Kiriath-arba of the father of Anok (which is Hebzon) in the mountaine of Iudah, with the suburbs of the same round about it.

12 But the lande of the citie, and the villages thereof, gaue they to Caleb the sonne of Iephunneh to be his possession.

13 Thus they gaue to the children of Aaron the priest, a citie of refuge for the slaier, [euē] Hebzon with her suburbs, and Libnah with her suburbs.

14 And Jattir with her suburbs, and Esthemoa and her suburbs,

15 And Holon with her suburbs, and Debir with her suburbs,

16 And Ain with her suburbs, and Juttah with her suburbs, Beth-she-meth with her suburbs: nine cities out of those two tribes.

17 And out of the tribe of Benjamin [they gaue] Gibeon with her suburbs, Geba with her suburbs, 18 Anathoth with her suburbs, and Almon with her suburbs: foure cities.

19 All the cities of the children of Aaron priests, [were] thirteene cities with their suburbs.

20 But to the families of the children of Kohath of the Leuites, which were the rest of the children of Kohath (for the cities of their lot were out of the tribe of Ephraim)

21 They gaue them the citie of refuge for the slaier, Shechem with her suburbs in mount Ephraim, and Sezer with her suburbs,

22 And Kibzaim with her suburbs, and Beth-hozon with her suburbs: foure cities.

24 Ailalon with her suburbs, Gath-rimmon with her suburbs: foure cities.

25 And out of the halfe tribe of Manasseh, Tanach with her suburbs, and Gath-rimmon with her suburbs: two cities.

26 All the cities for the other families of the children of Kohath [were] tenne with their suburbs.

27 Also vnto the children of Gerſhon of the families of the Leuites, [they gaue] out of the halfe tribe of Manasseh, the citie of refuge for the slaier, <sup>k</sup> Solan in Baſhan with her suburbs, & Beel-terah with her suburbs: two cities.

28 And out of the tribe of Issachar, Kishon with her suburbs, Dabereh with her suburbs, 29 Jarmuth with her suburbs, Engannim with her suburbs: foure cities.

31 Helkiah with her suburbs, and Rehob with her suburbs: foure cities.

32 And out of the tribe of Naphtali, the citie of refuge for the slaier, Kedesh in Galilaea with her suburbs, and Hammoth-dor with her suburbs, & Kartan with her suburbs: three cities.

33 All the cities of the Gerſhonites according to their families, [were] thirteene cities with their suburbs.

34 Also vnto the families of the children of Merari the rest of the Leuites, [they gaue] out of the tribe of Zebulun, Jokneam with her suburbs, [and] Kartah with her suburbs, 35 Dinnah with her suburbs, Na-halal with her suburbs: foure cities.

37 Kedemoth with her suburbs, & Hephaath with her suburbs: foure cities.

38 And out of the tribe of Gad [they gaue] for a citie of refuge for the slaier, Ramoth in Gilead with her suburbs, and Bahanaim with her suburbs, 39 Bethdon with her suburbs, [and] Jazer with her suburbs: foure cities in all.

40 So al cities of the childre of Reuben according to their families (which were the rest of the families of the Leuites) were by their lot, twelue cities.

41 [And] all the cities of the Leuites within the possession of the children of Israel, were] egypt and fourtie with their suburbs.

42 These cities lay euery one [seuerally] with their suburbs round about them: so were all these cities.

43 So the Lord gaue vnto Israel al the land, which he had sborne to gaue vnto their fathers: and they possessed it, and dwelt therein.

44 Also the Lord gaue them rest round about according to all that he had sborne vnto their fathers: and there stood not a man of all their enemies before them: for] the Lord deliuered all their enemies into their hande.

CHAP. XXII.

1 Reuben, Gad, and the halfe tribe of Manasse had sent againe to their possessions. 10 They builde an altar for a memoriall. 15 The Israelites reprove them. 21 Their answer for defence of the same.

When Ioshua called the Reubenites, & the Gadites, and the halfe tribe of Manasseh,

2 And said vnto them, We haue kept al that Moses the seruant of the Lord commanded you, and haue obeyed my voyce in all that I commanded you:

3 We haue not forsaken you brethren this long season vnto this day, but haue diligently kept the commandement of the Lord your God.

4 And now the Lord hath giuen rest vnto your brethren as he promised them: therefore now returne ye and go to your tentes, to the lande of your possession, which Moses the seruant of the Lord hath giuen you beyonde Jordan.

5 But take diligent heede, to doe the commandement and law, which Moses the seruant of the Lord commanded you: [that is,] * that ye loue the Lord your God, and walke in all his wayes, and keepe his commandementes, and cleaue vnto him, and serue him with all your heart and with all your soule.

6 So Ioshua blessed them and sent them away, and they went vnto their tentes.

7 Now vnto one halfe of the tribe of Manasse Moses had giuen [a possession] in Bashan: and vnto the [other] halfe thereof gaue Ioshua among their brethren on this side Jordan westward: therfore when Ioshua sent them away vnto their tentes, and blessed them,

8 Thus he spake vnto them, saying, Returne with much riches vnto your tentes, and with a great multitude of cattell, with siluer and with golde, with brasse and with yron, and with great abundance of rayment: deuide the spoile of your enemies with your brethren.

9 So the children of Reuben, and the children of Gad, and halfe the tribe of Manasseh returned, and departed from the children of Israel from Shiloh (which is in the lande of Canaan) to go vnto the countrey of Gilead to the land of their possession, which they had obtained, according to the worde of the Lord by the hande of Moses.

10 And when they came vnto the borders of Jordan (which are in the lande of Canaan) then the children of Reuben, and the children of Gad, and the halfe tribe of Manasseh, built there an altar by Jordan, a great altar to see to.

11 When the children of Israel heard say, Behold, the children of Reuben, and the children of Gad, and the halfe tribe of Manasseh haue built an altar in the forefront of the lande of Canaan vpon the borders of Jordan at the passage of the children of Israel:

12 When the children of Israel heard it, then the whole Congregation of the children of Israel gathered the together at Shiloh to go by to warre against the.

13 Then the children of Israel sent vnto the children of Reuben, and to the children of Gad, and to the halfe tribe of Manasseh into the land of Gilead, Phinehas the sonne of Eleazar the Priest,

14 And with him ten princes, of euery chiefe house a prince, according to all the tribes of Israel: for euery one was chiefe of their fathers household among the thousandes of Israel.

15 So they went vnto the children of Reuben, and to the children of Gad, and to the halfe tribe of Manasseh, vnto the lande of Gilead, and spake with them, saying,

16 Thus saith the whole Congregation of the Lord, what transgression is this that ye haue transgressed against the God of Israel, to turne away this day fro the Lord, in ye haue built you

17 Have we to little for the wickedness of Deor, whereof we are not clesed into this day, though a plague came upon the Congregation of the Lord:

18 We also are turned away this day from the Lord: and seeing ye rebell to day against the Lord, even to morrow he will be wroth withal the Congregation of Israel.

19 Notwithstanding if the lande of your possession be <sup>1</sup>uncleane, come ye over into the lande of the possession of the Lord, wherein the Lordes Tabernacle dwelleth, and take possession among vs: but <sup>1</sup>rebell not against the Lord, nor rebell not against vs in buiding you an altar, beside the altar of the Lord our God.

20 Did not Achan the sonne of Zerah trespass grievously in the execrable thing, and wrath fell on <sup>1</sup>all the Congregation of Israel: & this man alone <sup>1</sup>perished not in his wickednes.

21 Then the children of Reuben &
the children of Gad, and halfe the tribe of Manasse answered, and saide unto the heads over the thousands of Israel,

22 The Lord God of gods, the Lord God of gods, he knoweth, and Israel him selfe shall knowe: if by rebellion, or by transgression against the Lord we have done it, save thou vs not this day.

23 If we have buyt vs an altar to returne away from the Lord, either to offer thereon burnt offering, or meate offering, or to offer peace offerings thereon, let the Lord <sup>1</sup>him selfe require it:

24 And if we have not rather done it for feare of [this] thing, saying, In time to come your childre might say unto our childre, what have ye to doe with the Lord God of Israel:

25 For the Lord hath made Jordan a border betwene vs and you, ye children of Reuben, and of Gad: therefore ye have no part in the Lord: so shall your children make our children cease from fearing the Lord.

26 Therefore we said, we will not goe about to make vs an altar, not for burnt offering, nor for sacrifice,

27 But it shalbe a witness betwene vs and you, and betwene our generations after vs, to execute the service of the Lord before him in our burnt offerings, and in our sacrifices, and in our peace offerings, and that your childre should not say to our children in time to come, We have no part in the Lord.

28 Therefore saide we, It shalbe that they should say to vs, or to our generations in time to come, then will we an-swere, Beholde the faction of the altar of the Lord, which our fathers made, not for burnt offering nor for sacrifice, but it is a witness betwene vs and you.

29 God forbid, that we should rebell against the Lord, and turne this day away from the Lord to build an altar for burnt offering, or for meate offering, or for sacrifice, save the altar of the Lord our God, that is before his Tabernacle.

30 And when Phinehas the Priest, and the princes of the Congregation and heades over the thousands of Israel which were with him, heard <sup>1</sup>wordes, that the children of Reuben, and childre of Gad, and the children of Manasse spake, <sup>1</sup>they were well content.

31 And Phinehas the sonne of Eleazar the Priest saide unto the children of Reuben and to the children of Gad, and to the children of Manasse, This day we perceive, that the Lord is <sup>1</sup>among vs, because ye have not done this tres-passe against the Lord: now ye have delivered the children of Israel out of the hand of the Lord.

32 Then Phinehas the sonne of Eleazar the Priest with the princes returned from the children of Reuben, and from the children of Gad, out of the lande of Gilead, unto the lande of Canaan, to the childre of Israel, & brought them answer.

33 And the saying pleased the children of Israel: and the children of Israel blessed God, and <sup>1</sup>minded not to goe against them in battel, for to destroy the land, wherein the children of Reuben, and Gad dwelt.

34 Then the children of Reuben, &
the children of Gad called <sup>1</sup>an altar [Ed:]
for it shalbe a witness betwene vs, that the Lord [is] God.

4 Beholde, I haue deuided vnto you by lot these nations that remaine, to bee an inheritance according to your tribes, from Jordan, with all the nations that I haue destroyed, euen vnto the great Sea, westward.

5 And the Lord your God shall expell them before you, and cast them out of your sight, and ye shall possesse their lande, as the Lord your God hath laide vnto you.

6 Be ye therefore of a balliant courage, to obserue and doe all that is written in the booke of the lawe of Moses, that ye turne not therefrom to the right hande nor to the left.

7 Neither company with these nations: that is, with them which are left with you, neither make mention of the name of their gods, nor cause to sweare by them, neither serue them nor bolue vnto them.

11 Take good heede therefore vnto your selues, ye loue the Lord your God.

12 Els if ye goe backe, and cleaue vnto the rest of these nations: that is, of them that remaine with you, and shall make marriages with them, and goe vnto them, and they to you,

14 And behold, this day do I enter into the waye of all the worlde, and yee knowe in all your heartes and in all your soules, that nothing hath fayled of all the good things which the Lord your God promised you, but all are come to passe vnto you: nothing hath fayled thereof.

15 Therefore as all good things are come vpon you, which the Lord your God promised you, so shall the Lord bring vpon you euery euill thing, vntill he haue destroyed you out of this good land, which the Lord your God hath giuen you.

16 When ye shall transgresse the covenant of the Lord your God, which he commanded you, and shal goe and serue other gods, and bolue your selues to them, then shall the wrath of the Lord beare hote against you, and ye shall perish quickly out of the good land which he hath giuen you.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 Ioshua rehearsed Gods benefites, 14 and exhorteth the people to feare God. 25 The league renewed betwene God and the people. 29 Ioshua dyeth. 32 The bones of Ioseph are buried. 33 Eleazar dyeth.

And Ioshua assembled againe all the tribes of Israel to Shechem, & called the Elders of Israel, and their heads, & their Judges, & their officers, & they presented them selues before God.

2 Then Ioshua said vnto al the people, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Your fathers dwelt beyond the flood in olde time, (euen Terah) the father of Abraham, and the father of Nachor, & serued other gods.

3 And I tooke your father Abraham from beyonde the flood, and brought him through all the lande of Canaan, and multiplied his seede, and gaue him Ishak.

5 I sent Moses also and Aaron, and I plagued Egypt: and when I had done among them, I brought you out.

6 So I brought your fathers out of Egypt, and ye came vnto the Sea, & the Egyptians pursued after your fathers with charrets and horsemen vnto the Red Sea.

7 Then they cryed vnto the Lord, and he put a darkenes betwene you and the Egyptians, and brought the Sea vpon them, and couered them: so your eyes haue seene what I haue done in Egypt: also ye dwelt in the wilderness a long season.

11 And yee went ouer Iordan, and came vnto Iericho, and the men of Iericho fought against you, the Amozites, and the Perizzites, and the Canaanites, and the Hittites, and the Girgashites, the Hittites and the Jebulites, and I deliuered them into your hand.

18 And the Lord did cast out before vs all the people, euen the Amozites which dwelt in the lande: [therefore] will we also serue the Lord, for hee is our God.

19 And Ioshua said vnto the people, We can not serue the Lord: for he is an holy God: he is a ielous God: he will not pardon your iniquitie nor your sinnes.

20 If ye forsake the Lord and serue strange gods, *then he will returne and bring euill vpon you, and consume you, after that he hath done you good.

21 And the people said vnto Ioshua, Nay, but we will serue the Lord.

22 And Ioshua said vnto the people, We are witnesses against your selues, that yee haue chosen you the Lord, to serue him: and they sayd, We are witnesses.

23 Then put away now, [sayd he,] the strange gods which are among you, & bowe your hearts vnto the Lord God of Israel.

24 And the people said vnto Ioshua, The Lord our God will we serue, and his voyce will we obey.

25 So Ioshua made a couenant with the people the same day, and gaue them an ordinance and laide in Shethem.

26 And Ioshua wrote these wordes in the booke of the Lawe of God, and tooke a great stone, and pitched it there vnder an oke that was in the Sanctuarie of the Lord.

27 And Ioshua saide vnto all the people, Behold, this stone shalbe a witness vnto vs: for it hath heard all the wordes of the Lord which he spake with vs: it shalbe therefore a witness against you, lest ye denie your God.

28 Then Ioshua let the people depart, euery man vnto his inheritance.

29 And after these things Ioshua the sonne of Nun, the seruant of the Lord dyed, being an hundred and ten yeeres olde.

30 And they buried him in the border of his inheritance in *Tannath-serah, which is in moist Ephraim, on the North side of mount Gaath.

31 And Israel serued the Lord all the dayes of Ioshua, and all the dayes of the Elders that ouertuned Ioshua, and which had knowen all the workes of the Lord that hee had done for Israel.

32 And the bones of Ioseph, which the children of Israel brought out of Egypt, buried they in Shethem in a parcel of ground which Iaakob bought of *the sonnes of Hamor the father of Shethem, for an hundred pices of silver, and the children of Ioseph had the in their inheritance.

The booke of Iudges.

THE ARGUMENT.

Albeit there is nothing that more prouoketh Gods wrath, then mans ingratitude, yet is there nothing so displeasing and heynous that can turne backe Gods loue from his Church. For now when the Israelites were entred into the land of Canaan, and sawe the truth of Gods promes performed, in steade of acknowledging his great benefites and giuing thanks for the same, they fell to most horrible obliuion of Gods graces, contrarie to their solemne promes made vnto Ioshua, and so prouoked his vengeance (as much as in them stood) to their vtter destruction. Whereof as they had most euident signes by the mutabilitie of their state: (for he suffered them to be most cruelly vexed and tormented by tyrants: he pulled them from libertie, and cast them into slaerie, to the intent they might feele their owne miseries and so call vnto him and be deliuered) So to shewe that his mercies endure for euer, hee rayled vp from time to time such as should deliuer them and assure them of his fauour and grace, if they would turne to him by true repentance. And these deliuerers the Scripture calleth Iudges, because they were excecutors of Gods iudgements, not chosen of the people nor by succession, but raised vp, as it seemed best to God, for the gouernance of his people. They were fourteene in number besides Ioshua, and gouerned from Ioshua vnto Saul the first King of Israel. Ioshua and these vnto the time of Saul ruled 377 yeeres. In this booke are many notable points declared, but two especially: first, the battell that the Church of God hath for the maintenance of true religion against idolatrie and superstition: next, what great danger that comon welth is in, whē as God giueth nor a magistrate to retaine his people in the purenes of religion & his true seruice.

CHAP. I.

- 1 After Ioshua was dead, Iudah was constitute capitaine.
6 Adoni-bezek is taken. 14 The request of Achlah.
16 The children of Reuē, 18 The Canaanites are made tributaries, but not destroyed.

fter that Ioshua was dead, the children of Israel asked the Lorde, saying, who shall goe vp for vs against the Canaanites, to fight first against them:

2 And the Lorde sayd, Iudah shall goe vp: beholde, I haue giuen the land into his hande.

3 And Iudah said vnto Simeon his brother, Come vp with me into my lot, that wee may fight against the Canaanites: and I likewise will goe with thee into thy lot: so Simeon went with him.

4 Then Iudah went vp, and the Lorde deliuered the Canaanites and the Perizzites into their handes, and they slewe of them in Bezek ten thousand men.

5 And they founde Adoni-bezek in Bezek: & they fought against him, and slew the Canaanites, & the Perizzites.

6 But Adoni-bezek fled, & they pursued after him, & caught him, & cut off the thumbs of his hands & of his feete.

7 And Adoni-bezek said, Seuentie Kings hauing the thumbs of their hands & of their feete cut off, gathered [bread] vnder my table: as I haue done, so God hath rewarded me. so they brought him to Ierusalem, and there he dyed.

8 [Nowe the children of Iudah had fought against Ierusalem, and had taken it and smitten it with the edge of the sword, and had set the citie on fire.)

9 Afterwarde also the children of Iudah went dooane to fight against the Canaanites, that dwelt in the mountaine, and toward the South, and in the low countrey.

10 And Iudah went against the Canaanites, that dwelt in hebron, which hebron before time was called Kirjath-arba: and they slew Sheshai, and Achiman and Talmai.

11 And from thence he went to the inhabitants of Debir, & the name of Debir in olde time was Kirjath-sepher.

12 And Caleb saide, hee that smiteth Kirjath-sepher, and taketh it, euen to him will I giue Achlah my daughter to wife.

13 And Othniel the sonne of Kenaz Calebs yonger brother tooke it, to whom he gaue Achlah his daughter to wife.

14 And when she came to him, she moued him to aske of her father a field, and she lighted off her asse, and Caleb said vnto her, what wilt thou?

15 And she answered him, Giue me a blessing: for thou hast giuen me a South countrey, giue me also springs of water: and Caleb gaue her the springs aboue & the springs beneath.

16 And the children of Ben-Hozes father in law went vp out of the citie of the palme trees with the children of Iudah, into the wilderness of Iudah, that lieth in the South of Arad, & went and dwelt among the people.

17 But Iudah went with Simeon his 18 Also Judah tooke <sup>1</sup> Azzah with the coastes thereof, and Ashkelon with the coastes thereof, and Ekron with the coastes thereof.

19 And the Lord was with Judah, & he possessed <sup>p</sup> mountaines: for he could not drive out the inhabitants of the valleys, because they had chariots of yron.

20 And they gaue Hebron vnto Caleb, as * Moses had layde, and hee expelled thence the three sonnes of Anak.

21 But the children of Benjamin did not cast out the Jebusites, that <sup>1</sup> inhabited Jerusalem: therefore the Jebusites dwell with the children of Benjamin in Jerusalem vnto this day.

22 ¶ They also that were of the house of Joseph, went vp to Beth-el, and the Lord was with them,

23 And the house of Joseph caused to bield Beth-el (and the name of the citie beforetime was * Luz)

24 And the spies saue a man come out of the citie, and they saide vnto him, Shewe vs, we pray thee, the way into the citie, * and we wil shew thee mercie.

25 And when he had shewed the way into the citie, they smote the citie with the edge of the sword, but they let the man and all his household depart.

26 Then the man went into the land of the Hittites, and built a citie, and called the name thereof Luz, which is the name thereof vnto this day.

27 ¶ Neither dyd Manasseh destroy Beth-shean with her towynes, nor Taanach with her towynes, nor the inhabitants of Dor with her towynes, nor the inhabitants of Ibleam with her towynes, neither the inhabitants of Megiddo with her towynes: but the Canaanites dwelled still in that land.

28 Nevertheless when Israel was strong, they put the Canaanites to tribute, and expelled them not wholly.

29 ¶ Likewise Ephraim expelled not the Canaanites that dwelt in Gezer, but the Canaanites dwelt in Gezer among them.

30 ¶ Neither dyd <sup>m</sup> Zebulun expell the inhabitants of Kitron, nor the inhabitants of Nahalol, but the Canaanites dwelt among them, and became tributaries.

31 ¶ Neither did Asher cast out the inhabitantes of Accho, nor the inhabitants of Zidon, nor of Ahlab, nor of Achzib, nor of Helbah, nor of Aphik, nor of Rehob, 32 But the Asherites dwelt among the Canaanites the inhabitants of the land: for they did not drive them <sup>n</sup> out.

33 ¶ Neither did Naphtali drive out the inhabitants of Beth-shechem, nor the inhabitants of Beth-anath, but dwelt among the Canaanites the inhabitants of the land: neuertheless the inhabitants of Beth-shechem, and of Beth-anath became tributaries vnto them.

34 And the Amorites <sup>1</sup> drove the children of Dan into the mountaine: so that they suffered them not to come downe to the valley.

35 And the Amorites <sup>1</sup> dwelt still in mount Heres in Aialon, and in Shaalbin, and when the hand of Josephs family preuailed, they became tributaries:

36 And the coast of the Amorites was from Haaleh ak-rabbim, [euen] from <sup>p</sup> Seilah and byward.

¶ And an <sup>2</sup> Angel of the Lord came by from Gilgal to Bochim, and layde, I made you to goe by out of Egypt, and haue brought you vnto the land which I had sware vnto your fathers, and laide, I will neuer breake my couenant with you.

2 ¶ Yet also shall make no couenant with the inhabitants of this land, <sup>1</sup> but shall breake downe their altars: but yet haue not obeyed my voyce. why haue ye done this:

all the dayes of Joshua, & all the dayes of the Elders that outlived Joshua, which had seene alle the great woorkes of the Lord that he did for Israel.

8 But Joshua the sonne of Nun the seruant of the Lord dyed, when he was an hundred and tenne yeeres olde:

9 And they buried him in the coastes of his inheritance, in Timnath-heres in mount Ephraim, on the Northside of mount Gaath.

10 And so al that generation was gathered vnto their fathers, and an other generation arose after them, which neither knewe the Lord, nor yet the woorkes, which he had done for Israel.

11 Then the children of Israel did wickedly in the light of the Lord, and serued Baalim, 12 And forsooke the Lord God of their fathers, which brought them out of the land of Egypt, and folowed other gods, [euē] the gods of the people that were round about them, and bowed vnto the, and prouoked the Lord to anger.

13 So they forsooke the Lord, and serued Baal, and Astartoth.

14 And the wrath of the Lord was hote against Israel, & he deliuered them into the hands of spoylers, that spoyled them, and he sold them into the hands of their enemies rounde about them, so that they coulde no longer stande before their enemies.

15 Whithersoener they went out, the hande of the Lord was fore against them, as the Lord had saide, and as the Lord had swore vnto them: so he punished them fore.

16 Notwithstanding, the Lord raised vp Iudges, which deliuered them out of the hands of their oppressours.

17 But yet they would not obey their Iudges: for they went a whooring after other gods, & worshipped them, [and] turned quickly out of the way, wherein their fathers walked, obeying the commandements of the Lord: they did not so.

18 And when the Lord had raised them by Iudges, the Lord was with the Iudge, and deliuered them out of the hand of their enemies al the daies of the Iudge (for the Lord had compassion of their groanings, because of them that oppressed them and tormented them)

19 Yet when the Iudge was dead, they returned, and did worse then their fathers, in following other gods to serue them and worshipping them: they ceased not from their owne inuentions, nor from their rebellious way.

20 Wherefore the wrath of the Lord was kindled against Israel, and he said, Because this people hath transgressed my couenant, which I commanded their fathers, and hath not obeyed my boyce, 21 Therefore will I no more cast out before them any of the nations, which Joshua left when he dyed.

22 That through the I may proue Israel, whether they wil keepe the way of the Lord, to walke therein, as their fathers kept it, or not.

23 So the Lord left those nations, and droue them not out immediately, neither deliuered the into the hand of Joshua.

1 The Canaanites were left to trie Israel. 9 Othniel deliuereth Israel. 21 Eglon killeth King Eglon. 31 Shamgar killeth the Philistines.

These now are the nations which the Lord left, that he might proue Israel by the [euē] as many of Israel as had not knowen alle the warres of Canaan.

3 Five princes of the Philistines, and all the Canaanites, and the Sidonians, and the Hittites that dwelt in mount Lebanon, from mount Baal-hermon untill one come to Hamath.

4 And these remained to proue Israel by them, to wit, whether they woulde obey the commandements of the Lord, which hee commanded their fathers by the hand of Moses.

5 And the children of Israel dwelt among the Canaanites, the Hittites, and the Amorites, and the Perizzites, and the Hittites, and the Jebusites.

6 And they tooke their daughters to be their wiues, & gaue their daughters to their sonnes, and serued their gods.

7 So the childre of Israel did wickedly in the sight of the Lord, and forgot the Lord their God, and serued Baalim, and Astartoth.

8 Therefore the wrath of the Lord was kindled against Israel, and he sold them into the hande of Chushan rishathaim King of Aram-naharaim, and the childre of Israel serued Chushan rishathaim eight yeeres.

9 And when the children of Israel cryed vnto the Lord, the Lord stirred vp a saviour to the childre of Israel, and he

10 And the Spirit of the Lord came vpon him, and he iudged Ifrael, & went out to warre: and the Lord delivered Chushan rishathaim King of Aram into his hand, and his hand prevailed against Chushan rishathaim.

11 So the land had rest fourety yeres, and Othniel the sonne of Kenaz dyed.

12 ¶ Then the children of Ifrael againe committed wickednesse in the sight of the Lord: and the Lord strenghtened Eglon King of Moab against Ifrael, because they had committed wickednesse before the Lord.

13 And he gathered vnto him the children of Ammon, and Amalek, and went and smote Ifrael, and they possessed the cite of Palme trees.

14 So the children of Ifrael serued Eglon King of Moab eightene yeres.

15 But when the children of Ifrael cried vnto the Lord, the Lord stirred the vp a lamour, Ehud the sonne of Gera the sonne of ¶ Jemini, a man lame of his ryght hand: & the children of Ifrael sent a present by him vnto Eglon King of Moab.

16 And Ehud made him a dagger with two edges of a cubite length, and he did gird it vnder his rayment vpon his ryght thigh,

17 And he presented the gift vnto Eglon King of Moab (and Eglon was a very fat man)

18 And when he had now presented the present, he sent away the people that bare the present,

19 But he turned againe from the quarries, that were by Gilgal, & saide, I haue a secret errand vnto thee, O King, & he saide, Keepe silence: and all that stood about him, went out from him.

20 Then Ehud came vnto him, (and he sate alone in a sommer parler, which he had) and Ehud saide, I haue a message vnto thee from God. Then he arose out of his throne,

21 And Ehud put forth his left hand, and tooke the dagger from his ryght thigh, and thrust it into his bellie,

22 So that the fast went in after the blade, and the fat closed about the blade, so that he could not draw the dagger out of his bellie, but the dirt came out.

23 Then Ehud gate him out into the porch, and shut the doores of the parler vpon him, and locked them.

24 And when hee was gone out, his seruants came: who seeing that the doores of the parler were locked, they sayde, Surely hee doeth his calement in his sommer chamber.

25 And they taried till they were ashamed: and seeing hee opened not the doores of the parler, they tooke the key, and opened them, and behold, their lord was fallen dead on the earth.

26 So Ehud escaped (while they taried) and was passed the quarries, and escaped vnto Seirath.

27 And when hee came [home,] he blew a trumpet in mount Ephraim, and the childre of Ifrael went downe with him from the mountaine, and hee went before them.

28 Then said he vnto them, Follow me: for the Lord hath delivered your enemies, [even] Moab into your hande. So they went downe after him, & tooke the passages of Iordan toward Moab, and suffered not a man to passe ouer.

29 And they slewe of the Moabites the same time about ten thousand men, all fed men, and all were warriours, and there escaped not a man.

30 So Moab was subdued that day, vnder the hand of Ifrael: and the land had rest fourefcore yeres.

31 ¶ And after him was Shamgar the sonne of Anath, which slewe of the Philistines sixe hundred men with an ore goade, and he also deliuered Ifrael.

in multitude: so that they and their camels were without number: and they came into the land to destroy it.

6 So was Israel exceedingly impoverished by the Midianites: therefore the children of Israel cried unto  $\text{J}^{\text{h}}$  Lord.

7 And when the children of Israel cried unto the Lord because of the Midianites,

8 The Lord sent unto the children of Israel a prophet, who said unto them, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, I have brought you up from Egypt, & have brought you out of the house of bondage.

9 And I have delivered you out of the hands of the Egyptians, and out of the hands of all that oppressed you, and have cast them out before you, and given you their land.

10 And I said unto you, I am the Lord your God: * feare not the gods of the Amozites in whose land you dwell: but you have not obeyed my voyce.

11 And the Angel of the Lord came, and sat under the oke which was in Ephrah, that pertained unto Joash the father of the Ezrites, and his sonne Gideon thesheld weate by the winepresse, to hide it from the Midianites.

12 Then the Angel of the Lord appeared unto him, and said unto him, The Lord is with thee, thou valiant man.

13 To whom Gideon answered, Ah my Lord, if the Lord be with vs, why then is all this come vpon vs: & where bee all his miracles which our fathers tolde vs of, and said, Did not the Lord bring vs out of Egypt: but now  $\text{J}^{\text{h}}$  Lord hath forsaken vs, and deliuered vs into the hand of the Midianites.

14 And the Lord looked vpon him, and said, Go in this thy night, and thou shalt saue Israel out of the hands of the Midianites: haue not I sent thee?

15 And he answered him, Ah my Lord, whereby shall I saue Israel: beholde, my father is poore in Manasseh, and I am the least in my fathers house.

16 Then the Lord said unto him, I will therefore be with thee, & thou shalt smite the Midianites, as one man.

17 And he answered him, I pray thee, if I haue founde fauour in thy sight, then shew me a signe, that thou talkest with me.

18 Depart not hence, I pray thee, until I come vnto thee, and bring mine offering, and lay it before thee. And he said, I will tarry vntill thou come againe.

19 Then Gideon went in, & made ready a kid, and unleavened bread of an Ephah of flour, and put the flesh in a basket, and put the broth in a pot, and brought it out vnto him vnder the oke, and presented it.

20 And the Angel of God saide vnto him, Take the flesh and the unleavened bread, and lay them vpon this stone, and poure out the broth: and he did so.

21 Then the Angel of the Lord put forth the end of the staffe that hee helde in his hande, and touched the flesh and the unleavened bread: and there arose by fire out of the stone, and consumed the flesh & the unleavened bread: so the Angel of the Lord departed out of his sight.

22 And when Gideon perceived that it was an Angel of the Lord, Gideon then said, Alas, my Lord God: \* for because I haue seene an Angel of  $\text{J}^{\text{h}}$  Lord face to face, [I shall die.]

23 And  $\text{J}^{\text{h}}$  Lord said vnto him, Peace be vnto thee: feare not,  $\text{J}^{\text{h}}$  shalt not die.

24 The Gideon made an altar there vnto the Lord, and called it,  $\text{J}^{\text{h}}$  Jehovah shalom: vnto this day it is in Ephrah, of the father of the Ezrites.

25 And the same night the Lord said vnto him, Take thy fathers yong bullocke, and an other bullocke of seuen yeeres olde, & destroy the altar of Baal that thy father hath, and cut downe the groue that is by it.

26 And buyd an altar vnto the Lord thy God vpon the top of this rocke, in a plaine place: and take the second bullocke, and offer a burnt offering with the wood of  $\text{J}^{\text{h}}$  groue, which thou shalt cut downe.

27 Then Gideon tooke ten men of his seruants, and did as the Lord bade him: but because hee feared to doe it by day for his fathers household and the me of the citie, he did it by night.

28 And when the men of the citie arose early in the morning, beholde, the altar of Baal was broke, and the groue cut downe that was by it, and the second bullocke offered vpon the altar that was made.

29 Therefore they sayde one to another, who hath done this thing: and when they inquired and asked, they sayde, Gideon the sonne of Joash hath done this thing.

30 Then  $\text{J}^{\text{h}}$  men of this citie said vnto Joash, Isung out thy sonne, & he may die:

32 And in that day was Gideon called Jerubbaal, that is, Let Baal pleade for himselfe because he hath broke downe his altar.

33 Then all the Midianites and the Amalekites and they of the East, were gathered together, and went & pitched in the valley of Jezreel.

34 But the spirit of the Lord came vpon Gideon, and he blew a trumpet, and Abiezer was ioyned with him.

35 And hee sent messengers throught out all Manasse, which also was ioyned with him, & he sent messengers vnto Asher, and to Zebulun and to Naphtali, and they came vp to meete them.

36 Then Gideon said vnto God, If thou wilt saue Israel by mine hande, as thou hast sayde, 37 Behold, I will put a fleece of wool in the threshing place : if the dewe come on the fleece onely, and it be drie vpon all the earth, then shall I be sure, that thou wilt saue Israel by mine hande, as thou hast sayde.

38 And so it was : for he rose by early on the morrowe, and thrust the fleece together, and wringing the dewe out of the fleece, and filled a bowle of water.

39 Againe, Gideon sayde vnto God, Be not angrie with mee, that I may speake once more : let mee proue once againe. I pray thee, with the fleece : let it not be drie onely vpon the fleece, and let dewe be vpon all the ground.

40 And God did so that same nyght : for it was drie vpon the fleece onely, and there was dewe on all the ground.

CHAP. VII.

1 The Lord commaunded Gideon to send away a great part of his companie, 22 The Midianites are discomfited by a wonderful sight, 25 Oreb and Zeeb are slaine.

Then Jerubbaal (who is Gideon) rose by early and al the people that were with him, and pitched beside the well of Harod, so that the host of the Midianites was on the Northside of them in the valley by the hill of Bozeth.

2 And the Lord said vnto Gideon, The people that are with thee, are to many for me to giue. Midianites into their hands, least Israel make their vaunt against me, and say, Mine hand hath saued me.

3 Nowe therefore proclaim in the audience of the people, and say, Who so is timorous or fearefull, let him returne, and depart early from mount Gilead. And there returned of the people which were at mount Gilead, two and twenty thousande : so ten thousand remained.

4 And the Lord said vnto Gideon, The people are yet too many : bring them downe vnto the water, and I will trie them for thee there : and of whom I say vnto thee, This man shall goe with thee, the same shall goe with thee : and of whomsoever I say vnto thee, This man shall not goe with thee, the same shall not goe.

5 So he brought downe the people vnto the water. And the Lord said vnto Gideon, As many as lap water with their tongues, as a dog lappeth, the put by themselves, & every one that dole downe his knees to drinke, put apart.

6 And the number of them that lapped [by putting] their handes to their mouthes, [were] three hundred men : but al the remnant of the people kneeled down vpon their knees to drinke water.

7 Then the Lord saide vnto Gideon, By these three hundred men that lapped, will I saue you, and deliuer the Midianites into thine hand : and let all the [other] people goe every man vnto his place.

8 So the people tooke bitailes with them, and their trumpets : and he sent all the rest of Israel, every man vnto his tent, and retained the three hundred men : and the host of Midian was beneath him in a valley.

9 And the same night the Lord sayde vnto him, Arise, get thee downe vnto the hoste : for I haue deliuered it into thine hande.

10 But if thou feare to goe downe, [then] goe thou, and Phurah thy seruant downe to the hoste.

11 And thou shalt hearken what they say, and so shall thine handes be strong to go downe vnto the hoste. Then went he downe and Phurah his seruant vnto the outside of the souldiers that were in the hoste.

12 And the Midianites, & the Amalekites and all they of the East, lay in the valley like grasshoppers in multitude, & their camels were without number.

13 And when Gideon was come, he holde, a man tolde a dreame vnto his neighbour, and sayde, Beholde, I dreamed a dreame, and loe, a cake of barley bread tumbled fro aboue into the hoste of Midian, and came vnto a tent, and smote it that it fell, and ouerturned it, that the tent fell downe.

14 And his fellowe answered, and sayd, This is nothing els saue the sword of Gideon the sonne of Joash a man of Israel: for into his hand hath God deliuered Midian and all the hoste.

15 When Gideon heard the dreame told, and the interpretation of the same, he worshipped, and returned vnto the hoste of Israel, and sayde, Up: for the Lord hath deliuered into your hand the hoste of Midian.

16 And he deuised the three hundred men into three bandes, and gaue euery man a trumpet in his hande with emptye pitchers, and lampes within the pitchers.

17 And he said vnto them, Looke on me, and do likewise, when I come to the side of the hoste: euen as I do, so do you.

18 When I blow with a trumpet and al that are with me, blow ye with trumpets also on euery side of the hoste, & say, For the Lord, and for Gideon.

19 So Gideon and the hundred men that were with him, came vnto the outside of the hoste, in the beginning of the middle watch, & they rayed vp the watchmen, and they blew with their trumpets, and brake the pitchers that were in their hands.

20 And the three companies blew with trumpets and brake the pitchers, and held the lampes in their left hands, and trumpets in their right handes to blow withall: & they cryed, The sword of the Lord and of Gideon.

21 And they stood, euery man in his place rounde about the hoste: and all the hoste ranne, and cryed, and fled.

22 And the three hundred blew with trumpets, & the Lord set euery mans sword vpon his neighbour, and vpon al the hoste: so the hoste fled to Beth-hanittah in Zererah, [and] to the border of Abel-meholah, vnto Tabbath.

23 Then the men of Israel being gathered together out of Ephraim, & out of Asher, and out of all Manasse pursued after the Midianites, 24 And Gideon sent messengers vnto all mount Ephraim, saying, Come downe against the Midianites, and take before the waters vnto Beth-barah, and Jordan. Then all men of Ephraim gathered together and tooke the waters vnto Beth-barah, and Jordan.

25 And they tooke two princes of the Midianites, Oreb and Zeeb, and slew Zeeb vpon the rocke Zeeb, and slew Zeeb at the winepresse of Zeeb, and pursued the Midianites, & brought the heades of Oreb and Zeeb to Gideon beyonde Jordan.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Ephraim murmured against Gideon, 2 Who appeareth them, 4 He passeth the Jordan, 16 He reuengeth himselfe on them of Succoth and Penuel, 27 He maketh an Ephod which was the cause of idolatry, 30 Gideons sonnes and of his death.

Then the men of Ephraim said vnto him, Why hast thou serued vs thus that thou caldest vs not, when thou wentest to fight with the Midianites: and they chode with him sharpe.

2 To whome he sayde, What haue I nowe done in comparison of you: is not the gleaming of grapes of Ephraim better, then the vintage of Abiezer?

3 God hath deliuered into your hands the princes of Midian, Oreb and Zeeb: and what was I able to doe in comparison of you: & when he had thus spoke, then their spirits abated toward him.

4 And Gideon came to Jordan to passe ouer, he, and the three hundred men that were with him, weary, yet pursuing them.

5 And he saide vnto the men of Succoth, Gibe, I pray you, morfels of bread vnto the people that followe me, [for they be weary] & I may follow after Zebah, & Zalmunna kings of Midian.

6 And the princes of Succoth sayde, Are the hands of Zebah and Zalmunna nowe in thine hands, that we should giue bread vnto thine armie?

7 Gideon then saide, Therefore whē the Lord hath deliuered Zebah and Zalmunna into mine hand, I will teare your flesh with thornes of the wilderness and with breezes.

8 And he went by thence to Penuel, and spake vnto them likewise, and the men of Penuel answered him, as the men of Succoth answered.

9 And he said also vnto the men of Penuel, when I come againe in peace, I will breake downe this towre.

19 And he saide, They were my bretheren, euen my <sup>k</sup> mothers children: as the Lorde liueth, if ye had sau'd their liues, I would not slay you.

20 Then he laide vnto Jether his first borne sonne, Up, and slay them: but the boy dwelbe not his sword: for he feared, because he was yet yong.

21 Then Zebah and Zalmunna layde, Rise thou, and fall vpon vs: for as the man is, so is his strength. And Gideon arose and slewe Zebah and Zalmunna, and tooke away the || ornaments, that were on their camels necks.

22 C Then the men of Israel layde vnto Gideon, Reigne thou ouer vs, both thou, and thy sonne, & thy <sup>m</sup> sonnes sonne: for thou hast deliuered vs out of the hand of Midian.

23 And Gideon layde vnto them, I will not reigne ouer you, neither shall my child reigne ouer you, but the Lord shall reigne ouer you.

24 Againe Gideon saide vnto them, <sup>n</sup> I woulde desire a request of you, that you woulde giue me euery man the earings of his pray (for they had golden earings because they were <sup>n</sup> Amalecites)

25 And they answered, we will giue them. And they spyed a garnet, and did cast therein euery man the earings of his pray.

26 And the weight of the golden earings that he required, was a thousand and seuen hundredeth || shekels || of golde, beside tollers, || and iewels, and purple raiment that was on the Kings of Midian, and beside the theines that were about their camels neckes.

27 And Gideon made an <sup>o</sup> Ephod thereof, and put it in Ephrah his cite: and all Israel went a whozing there after it, which was the destruction of Gideon and his house.

28 Thus was Midian brought low before the childre of Israel, so that they lift vp their heades no more: and the countrey was in quietnes fourtie yeres in the dayes of Gideon.

29 Then Jerubbaal the sonne of Joash went, and dwelt in his owne house.

30 And Gideon had seuentie sonnes || begotten of his body: for he had many wiues.

CHAP. IX.

1 Abimelech durst the kingdome, and putteth his brethren to death. 7 Iotham propoeth a parable. 23 Barred betweene Abimelech and the Shechemites. 26 Baal conspireth against him, and is ouercome. 33 Abimelech is wounded to death by a woman.

Iben Abimelech the sonne of Jerubbaal went to Shechē vnto his mothers brethren, and communed with them, and with all the familie, [and] house of his mothers father, saying,

2 Say, I pray you, in the audience of all the men of Shechem, whether is better for you, that all the sonnes of Je-rubbaal, which are seuentie persons, reigne ouer you, either that one reigne ouer you: Remember also, that I am your bone, and your flesh.

3 Then his mothers brethren spake of him in the audience of all the men of Shechem, all these wordes: and their heartes were moued to followe Abime-lech: for said they, he is our brother.

4 And they gaue him seuentie pecies of siluer out of the house of Baal-berith, where with Abimelech hired baime and light fellows which followed him.

5 And he wēt vnto his fathers house at Ophrah, and slew his brethren, the sonnes of Jerubbaal, [about] seuentie persons vpon one stone: yet Iotham the yongest sonne of Jerubbaal was left: for he hid him selfe.

6 And at the men of Shechem gathered together with all the house of Hillo, and came and made Abimelech king in the plaine, where the stone was erected in Shechem.

7 And whē they told it to Iotham, he went and stood in the toppē of moūt Gerizim, and lift vp his voice, and cried, and saide vnto them, hearken vnto me, you men of Shechem, that God may hearken vnto you.

8 The trees went forth to anoint
a King ouer them, and saide vnto the o-line tree, Reigne thou ouer vs.

9 But the oline tree saide vnto them, Shoulde I leaue my fatnesse, wherewith by me they honour God and man, and goe to aduance me about the trees:

10 Then the trees said to the fig tree,
Come thou, and be King ouer vs.

11 But the figge tree answered them, Shoulde I forsake my sweetnesse, and my good fruite, and goe to aduance me about the trees:

12 Then sayde the trees vnto the Vine, Come thou, [and] be King ouer vs.
13 But the Vine laide vnto them, Shoulde I leaue my wine, whereby I cheere God and man, and go to aduance me about the trees:

14 Then saide all the trees vnto the Vible, Come thou, [and] reigne ouer vs.
15 And the vible saide vnto the trees, If ye wil in deede anoint me king ouer you, come, and put your trust vnder my shadowe: and if not, the fire shall come out of the vible, and consume the Cedars of Lebanon.

16 Now therefore, if ye do truly and vncorruptly to make Abimelech King, and if yee haue dealt well with Jerub-baal and with his house, and haue done vnto him according to the deseruing of his handes,

17 For my father fought for you, and aduentured his life, and deliuered you out of the hands of Midian.

18 And ye are risen vp against my fathers house this day, [and] haue slaine his children, [about] seuentie persons vpon one stone, and haue made Abimelech the sonne of his mayde seruaut, King ouer the men of Shechem, because he is your brother)

19 If ye then haue delt truly [and] purely with Jerubbaal, and with his house this day, then reioyce ye with Abime-lech, and let him reioyce with you.

20 But if not, let a fire come out from Abimelech, and consume the men of Shechem [and] the house of Hillo: also let a fire come forth from the men of Shechem, and from the house of Hillo, and consume Abimelech.

21 And Iotham ran away, and fled, and went to Beer and dwelt there for feare of Abimelech his brother.

22 So Abimelech reigned three yere ouer Israel.

23 But God sent an euill spirit betweene Abimelech, and the men of Shechem: and the men of Shechem brake their promise to Abimelech,

24 That the crueltie toward the seuentie sonnes of Jerubbaal and their blood might come and be laid vpon Abimelech their brother, which had slaine them, and vpon the men of Shechem, which had ayded him to kill his brethren.

25 So the men of Shechem set men in wait for him in the tops of the moun-taines: who robbed all that passed that way by them: [and] it was told Abimelech.

26 Then Gaal the sonne of Ebed came with his brethren, and they went to Shechem: and the men of Shechem put their confidence in him.

i Before they were afraid of Abimelechs power, and durst not go out of the citie,

27 Therefore they went out into the field, and gathered in the grapes and troade them, and made mery, and went into the house of their gods, and did eate and drinke, & cursed Abimelech.

28 Then Gaal the sonne of Ebed said, who is Abimelech: and who is Shechem, that we should serue him: Is he not the sonne of Jerubbabai: and Zebul is his officer: Serue rather the men of Hamor: the father of Shechem: for why should we serue him:

29 Now would God this people were vnder mine hand: then would I put away Abimelech. And he said to Abimelech, Increase thine army, & come out.

k Draggingly, as though he had bene present, or to his captaine Zebul, 30 And when Zebul the ruler of the citie heard the wordes of Gaal the sonne of Ebed, his wrath was kindled.

#Ebr., craftily,

31 Therefore he sent messengers vnto Abimelech, prauely saying, Beholde, Gaal the sonne of Ebed and his brethren be come to Shechem, and behold, they fortifie the citie against thee.

32 Now therefore arise by night, thou and the people that is with thee, and lie in waite in the field.

33 And rise early in the morning, as soon as the sunne is vp, and assault the citie: and when he and the people that is with him, shall come out against thee, do to him what thou canst.

#Ebr. what thine hande can finde,

34 So Abimelech rose vp, and all the people that were with him by night: and they lay in waite against Shechem in foure bandes.

35 Then Gaal the sonne of Ebed wot out and stood in the entering of the gate of the citie: and Abimelech rose vp, and the folke that were with him, from lying in waite.

36 And when Gaal sawe the people, he said to Zebul, Beholde, there come people downe from the toppes of the mountaines: and Zebul layde vnto him, The shadowe of the mountaines seeme men vnto thee.

l Thou art afraid of a shadowe.

37 And Gaal spake againe, and said, See, there come folke downe by the middle of the lande, and another bande cometh by the way of the plaine of Hebronim.

#Ebr. by the haull,

[Or, charmers,

38 Then layde Zebul vnto him, where is now thy mouth, that sayde, who is Abimelech, that we should serue him: Is not this the people that thou hast despised: Go out now, I pray thee, and fight with them.

39 And Gaal went out before the men of Shechem, and fought with Abimelech.

m As these captaines,

40 But Abimelech pursued him, and he fled before him, and many were overthrowen and wounded, euen vnto the entering of the gate.

41 And Abimelech dwelt at Arumah: and Zebul thrust out Gaal and his brethren that they should not dwell in Shechem.

42 And on the morowe, the people went out into the field: which was tolde Abimelech.

43 And he tooke the people, and deduced them into three bandes, and layde waite in the fieldes, and looked, and beholde, the people were come out of the citie, and he rose vp against them, and smote them.

n Which were of his companie,

44 And Abimelech, and the bandes that were with him, rushed forwarde, and stood in the entering of the gate of the citie: and the two other bandes ran vpon al the people that were in the field and slewe them.

45 And when Abimelech had fought against the citie all that day, he tooke the citie, and slewe the people that was therein, and destroyed the citie and sowed salt in it.

46 And when all the men of the towne of Shechem heard it, they entred into an hold of the house of the god Berith.

o That it should be vnfruitfull and neuer serue to any use, 47 And it was tolde Abimelech, that all the men of the towne of Shechem were gathered together.

p That is, of Baal-berith, as chap. 8. 33,

48 And Abimelech gate him by to mount Zainon, he and all the people that were with him: Abimelech tooke axes with him and cut downe boughes of trees and tooke them, and bare them on his shoulder, and layd vnto the folke that were with him, what yee haue seene me do, make haste, & doe like me.

49 Then al the people also cut downe euery man his bough, and folloved Abimelech, and put them to the hold, and set the holde on fire with them: so all the men of the towne of Shechem dyed also, about a thousand men and women.

q Meaning, that all were destroyed, as well they in the towne as the ether.

50 And when Abimelech to Tebez, and besieged Tebez, and tooke it.

51 But there was a strong towne within the citie, & thither fled al the men and women, and al the chiefe of the citie, and and shut it to them, and went by to the toppes of the towre.

52 And Abimelech came vnto the towre & fought against it, & went hard vnto y<sup>e</sup> doore of the towre to set it on fire.

2 Sam. 11. 21.

53 But a certaine woman * cast a peece of a millstone vpon Abimelechs head, and brake his braine pan.

54 Then Abimelech called hastily his page that bare his harness, and sayd vnto him, Waite thy sworde and slay me, y<sup>e</sup> men say not of me, A woman slewe him. And his page thrust him through, and he dyed.

r Thus God by such miserable death taketh vengeance on tyrants euen in this life.

55 And when the men of Israel saw that Abimelech was dead, they departed every man vnto his owne place.

56 Thus God rendred the wickednesse of Abimelech, which he did vnto his father, in slaying his seutie brethren.

57 Also all the wickednes of the men of Shechem did God bring vpon their heades. So vpon them came the curse of Jothan the sonne of Jerubbabai.

7 Therefore the wrath of the Lorde was kindled against Israel, and hee solde them into the handes of the Philistins, and into the handes of the children of Ammon:

¶ Or, deliuered.

b As the Reubenites, Gadites, and halfe the tribe of Manasse.

9 Moreover, the children of Ammon went ouer Jordan to fight against Judah, and against Benjamin, and against the house of Ephraim: so that Israel was sore tormented.

10 Then the children of Israel cryed vnto y<sup>e</sup> Lorde, saying, we haue sinned against thee, eue because we haue forsake our owne God, and haue serued Baalim.

c They prayed to the Lorde & confessed their sinnes.

11 And the Lorde <sup>d</sup> sayd vnto the children of Israel, Did not I deliuer you from the Egyptians and from the Amorites, from the children of Ammon and from the Philistins?

d By stirring them by some prophet, as Chap. 6. 8.

12 The Zidonians also, and the Amalekites, and the Moabites did oppresse you, and ye cryed to me, and I saued you out of their hands.

13 Yet ye haue forsaken me, and serued other gods: wherefore I will deliuer you no more.

Deut. 32. 15. Iere. 2. 13.

15 And the children of Israel said vnto the Lorde, we haue sinned: doe thou vnto vs whatsoeuer please thee: onely we pray thee to deliuer vs this day.

16 Then they put away the strange gods from among them, and serued the Lorde: and y<sup>e</sup> soule was grieved for the miserie of Israel.

e That is, from this present danger. ¶ This is true repentance, to put away the euill, and to serue God aright. ¶ Or, hee pitied.

17 Then the children of Ammon gathered them selues together, and pitched in Gilead: and the children of Israel assembled them selues, and pitched in Bethpeh.

5 And when the children of Ammon fought with Iſrael, the Elders of Gilead went to ſet Iphtah out of the land of Tob.

6 And they ſaid vnto Iphtah, Come and be our captaine, that we may fight with the children of Ammon.

7 Iphtah then answered the Elders of Gilead, Did not ye hate me, and expell me out of my fathers houſe? howe then come you vnto me now in time of your tribulation?

8 Then the Elders of Gilead ſaid vnto Iphtah, Therefore we turne againe to thee now, that thou mayeſt go with vs, and fight againſt the children of Ammon, and be our head ouer all the inhabitants of Gilead.

9 And Iphtah ſayd vnto the Elders of Gilead, If ye bring me home againe to fight againſt the children of Ammon, if the Lord giue them beſore me, ſhall I be your head:

12 Then Iphtah ſent meſſengers vnto the King of the children of Ammon, ſaying, What haſt thou to do with me, that thou art come againſt me, to fight in my land?

13 And the King of the children of Ammon answered vnto the meſſengers of Iphtah, *Because Iſrael tooke my land, when they came by from Egypt, from Arnon vnto Iabbok, and vnto Iordan: now therefore reſtore thoſe lands *quietly.

14 But Iphtah ſent meſſengers againe vnto the King of the children of Ammon, 15 And ſayde vnto him, Thus ſayeth Iphtah, *Iſrael tooke not the land of Moab, nor the land of the children of Ammon.

16 But when Iſrael came by from Egypt, and walked through the wilderneſſe vnto the red Sea, then they came to Kadeſh.

17 *And Iſrael ſent meſſengers vnto the King of Edom, ſaying, Let me, I pray thee, go through thy land: but the King of Edom would not conſent: and alſo they ſent vnto the King of Moab, but he would not: therefore Iſrael abode in Kadeſh.

18 Then they went through the wilderness, and compaſſed the land of Edom, and the land of Moab, & came by the Eaſtſide of the land of Moab, and pitched on the other ſide of Arnon, and came not within the coaſt of Moab: for Arnon was the border of Moab.

19 Alſo Iſrael ſent meſſengers vnto Sihon, King of the Amozites, the King of Heſhbon, and Iſrael ſayde vnto him, Let vs paſſe, we pray thee, by thy land vnto our place.

20 But Sihon conſented not to Iſrael, that he ſhoulde goe through his coaſt: but Sihon gathered all his people together, and pitched in Jahaz, and fought with Iſrael.

21 And the Lord God of Iſrael gaue Sihon and all his folke into the hands of Iſrael, & they ſmote them: ſo Iſrael poſſeſſed all the land of the Amozites, the inhabitants of that countrey:

22 And they poſſeſſed all the coaſt of the Amozites, from Arnon vnto Iabbok, & from the wilderness euen vnto Iordan.

23 Now therefore the Lord God of Iſrael haſh call out the Amozites beſore his people Iſrael, and ſhouldeſt thou poſſeſſe it?

24 Wouldeſt not thou poſſeſſe that which Chemosh thy god giueth thee to poſſeſſe? So whomſoeuer the Lord our God diueth out beſore vs, them will we poſſeſſe.

29 ¶ Then the Spirit of the Lorde came vpon Iphthah, and he passed ouer to Gilead and to Manasseh, and came to Dispeh in Gilead, and from Dispeh in Gilead hee went vnto the children of Ammon.

m As the Apostle commeth Iphthah for his wayfaring enterprise in deliuering the people, Heb. 11:32: so by his rash vow and wicked performance of the same, his victory was defeated: and here we see that the finnes of the godly doe not utterly extinguish their faith, Or, the plaine

30 And Iphthah<sup>m</sup> boiued a bolue vnto the Lorde, & said, If thou shalt deliuer the children of Ammon into mine hands, 31 Then that thing that commeth out of the doores of mine house to meeete me, when I come home in peace from the children of Ammon, shalbe the Lords, and I will offer it for a burnt offering.

32 And so Iphthah went vnto the children of Ammon to fight against them, and the Lorde deliuered them into his hands.

33 And he smote them from Aroer euen till thou come to Hinnith, twentie cities, and so forth to Abel of the vineyards, with an exceeding great slaughter. Thus the children of Ammon were humbled before the children of Israel.

n According to the manner after the victorie,

34 ¶ Nowe when Iphthah came to Dispeh vnto his house, behold, his daughter came out to meeete him with timbrels and daunces, which was his onely childe: he had none other sonne, nor daughter.

o Being overcome with blind zeale, & not considering whether the vow was lawfull or no,

35 And when he saw her, he rent his clothes, & said, Alas my daughter, thou hast brought me sorow, and art of them that trouble me: for I haue opened my mouth vnto the Lorde, & can not go backe.

36 And she sayd vnto him, My father, if thou hast opened thy mouth vnto the Lorde, doe woe as thou hast promised, seeing that the Lord hath auenged thee of thine enemies þe children of Ammon.

37 Also she said vnto her father, Doe thus much for me: suffer me two moneths, that I may go to the mountaines, and bewaile my virginity, I and my fellowes.

p For it was counted as a shame in Israel, to dye with out children, & therefore they reioiced to be married, 38 And he sayd, Go: and he sent her away two moneths: so she went with her companions, and lamented her virginity vpon the mountaines.

39 And after the end of two moneths, she turned againe vnto her father, who did woe her according to his bolue which he had boiued, and she had knowen no man. And it was a custome in Israel:

40 The daughters of Israel wet yere by yere to lament the daughter of Iphthah the Gileadite, foure dayes in a yere.

6 Iphthah killeth two and foureie thousand Ephraimites, 8 After Iphthah succedeth Ibsan, 12 Elon, 13 And Abdon.

¶ And the men of Ephraim gathered themselves together, and went Northward and said vnto Iphthah, wherefore wentest thou to fight against the children of Ammon, and diddest not call vs to go with thee? we wil therefore burne thine house vpon thee with fire.

After they had passed Jordan,

2 And Iphthah said vnto them, I and my people were at great strife with the children of Ammon, and when I called you, ye deliuered me not out of their hands.

Thus ambition enuicheth others, as they do also against Gideon, Chap. 8.

3 So when I sawe that ye deliuered me not, I put my life in mine hands, and went vnto the children of Ammon: so the Lorde deliuered them into mine hands, wherefore then are ye come vpon me now to fight against me?

That is, I ventured my life, and when mans help failed, I put my trust onely in God, 4 Then Iphthah gathered all the men of Gilead, & fought with Ephraim: and the men of Gilead smote Ephraim, because they said, We Gileadites are runnagates of Ephraim among Ephraimites, and among the Manassites.

He ran from vs, & chose Gilead, & now in respect of vs, we are nothing,

5 Also the Gileadites tooke the passages of Jordan before the Ephraimites, and when the Ephraimites that were escaped, sayde, Let me passe, then the men of Gilead layd vnto him, Art thou an Ephraimite? If he sayd, Nay,

Which signifieth the fall of waters, or an eare of corn,

6 Then said they vnto him, Say now Shibboleth: and he said, Sibboleth: for he could not so pronounce: then they tooke him, and slew him at the passages of Jordan: & there fel at that time of the Ephraimites two and foureie thousand.

7 And Iphthah iudged Israel sixe yeere: then dyed Iphthah the Gileadite, and was buried in one of the cities of Gilead.

8 ¶ After him Ibsan of Beth-lehem iudged Israel,

Some thinke that this was Bony the husband of Rache,

9 who had thirtie somes and thirtie daughters, which he sent out, & tooke in thirtie daughters from abroad for his somes, and he iudged Israel seven yeere.

10 Then Ibsan dyed, and was buried at Beth-lehem.

11 ¶ And after him iudged Israel Elon, a Zebulonite, and he iudged Israel ten yeere.

12 Then Elon the Zebulonite dyed, and was buried in Aialon in the countrey of Zebulun.

13 ¶ And after him Abdon the sonne of of hill: the Pirathonite iudged Ifrael.

14 And he had fourtie sonnes & thirtie nephewes that rode on leuentei assecolts: and he iudged Ifrael eight yerres.

15 Then dyed Abdon the sonne of hill: the Pirathonite, and was buried in Pirathon, in the land of Ephraim, in the mount of the Amalekites.

RAt the children of Ifrael continued to commit wickednes in the sight of the Lorde, and the Lorde deliuered them into the hands of Philistims fourtie yere.

2 Then there was a man in Zorah of the family of the Danites, named Manoah, whose wife was baren, and bare not.

3 And the Angel of the Lorde appeared vnto the woman, and said vnto her, Beholde now, thou art baren, and bearest not: but thou shalt conceive, & beare a sonne.

4 And now be therefore beware that thou drinke no wine, nor strong drinke, neither eate any vncleane thing.

5 For loe, thou shalt conceive & beare a sonne, and no razor shall come on his head: for the childe shall be a Nazarite vnto God from his birth: and he shall begin to saue Ifrael out of the hands of the Philistims.

6 Then the wife came, & tolde her husband, saying, A man of God came vnto me, and the faction of him was like the faction of the Angel of God exceeding fearefull, but I asked him not whence he was, neither tolde he me his name.

7 But he said vnto me, Behold, thou shalt conceive, and beare a sonne, & now thou shalt drinke no wine, nor strong drinke, neither eate any vncleane thing: for the childe shall be a Nazarite to God from his birth to the day of his death.

8 Then Manoah prayed to the Lord and said, I pray thee, my Lorde, let the man of God, whome thou sentest, come againe now vnto vs, and teach vs what we shall doe vnto the childe when he is borne.

9 And God heard the voyce of Manoah, and the Angel of God came againe vnto the wife, as the fate in the feld, but Manoah her husbände was not with her.

10 And the wife made haste and ran, and shewed her husband and sayd vnto him, Behold, the man hath appeared vnto me, that came vnto me to day.

11 And Manoah arose and went after his wife, and came to the man, and said vnto him, Art thou the man that spakest vnto the woman: and he sayd, Yea.

12 Then Manoah sayd, Now let thy saying come to passe: [but] howe shall we order the childe, and doe vnto him?

13 And the Angel of the Lord said vnto Manoah, The woman must beware of all that I sayd vnto her.

14 She may eat of nothing that cometh of the vine tree: she shall not drinke wine nor strong drinke: nor eat any vncleane thing: let her obserue all that I haue commanded her.

15 Manoah then sayd vnto the Angel of the Lord, I pray thee, let vs retaine thee, vntill we haue made ready a kid for thee.

16 And the Angel of the Lord said vnto Manoah, Though thou make me abide, I will not eate of thy bread, and if thou wilt make a burnt offering, offer it vnto the Lord: for Manoah knew not that it was an Angel of the Lord.

17 Againe Manoah sayde vnto the Angel of the Lorde, What is thy name, that when thy saying is come to passe, we may honour thee?

18 And the Angel of the Lorde sayde vnto him, Why asked thou thus after my name, which is secret?

19 Then Manoah tooke a kid with a meate offering, and offered it vpon a stone vnto the Lord: & the Angel did wonderously, whilst Manoah and his wife looked on.

20 For when the flame came by towarde heaven from the altar, the Angel of the Lord ascended by in the flame of the altar, and Manoah and his wife beheld it, and fell on their faces vnto the ground.

21 (So the Angel of the Lord did no more appeare vnto Manoah & his wife) Then Manoah knewe that it was an Angel of the Lord.

22 And Manoah sayd vnto his wife, We shall surely dye, because we haue seene God.

23 But his wife said vnto him, If the Lord would kill vs, he would not haue receiued a burnt offering, and a meate offering of our handes, neither would he haue shewed vs all these things, nor would now he haue tolde vs any such.

3 Then his father and his mother sayde vnto him, Is there neuer a wife among the daughters of thy brethren, and among all my people, that thou must go to take a wife of the vncircumcised Philistines: And Samson said vnto his father, Giue me her, for the pleasureth me well.

5 ¶ Then went Samson & his father and his mother down to Timnath, and came to the vineyards at Timnath: and beholde, a yong Lion roared vpon him.

6 And the Spirit of the Lord came vpon him, & he tare him, as one should haue rent a kid, and had nothing in his hand, neither tolde he his father nor his mother what he had done.

7 And he went downe, and talked with the woman which was beautifull in the eyes of Samson.

2 And her father said, I thought that thou hadst hated her: therefore gaue I her to thy companio. Is not her yonger sister sayre then she: take her, I pray thee, in steade of the other.

3 Then Samson sayde vnto them, No, I am I more blamelesse then the Philistims: therefore will I doe them displeasure.

4 And Samson went out, and tooke three hundred fores, & tooke firebrands, & turned them taile to taile, and put a firebrande in the middes betwene two taitles.

5 And when he had set the brands on fire, hee sent them out into the standing corne of the Philistims, & burnt by both the riekes and the standing corne with the vineyards and oliues.

6 Then the Philistims sayd, who hath done this: And they answered, Samson the sonne in law of the Timnite, because hee had taken his wife, and giuen her to his companion. Then the Philistims came by and burnt her and her father with fire.

7 And Samson sayde vnto them, Though ye haue done this, yet wil I be auenged of you, and then I will cease.

8 So he smote them with hippe and thigh with a mightie plague: then hee went and dwelt in the top of the rocke Etam.

9 Then the Philistims came by, and pitched in Judah, and were spied abroad in Lehi.

10 And the men of Judah saide, why are ye come by vnto vs: And they answered, To binde Samson are wee come by, [and] to doe to him as hee hath done to vs.

11 Then three thousande men of Judah went to the top of the rocke Etam, and said to Samson, Knowest thou not that the Philistims are rulers ouer vs:

12 Wherefore the hast thou done thus vnto vs: And he answered them, As they did vnto me, so haue I done vnto them.

13 Again they said vnto him, We are come to binde thee, & to deliuer thee into the hande of the Philistims. And Samson saide vnto them, I sweare vnto me, that ye wil not fall vpon me your selues.

14 And they answered him, saying, No, but we wil binde thee and deliuer thee vnto their hand, but we wil not kill thee. And they boad him with two new cordes, and brought him from the rocke.

14 When he came to Lehi, the Philistims shouted against him, and the Spirit of the Lord came vpon him, and the cordes that were vpon his armes, became as flaxe that was burnt with fire: for the bandes loosed from his handes.

15 And he founde a newbe iawbone of an asse, and put forth his hand, and caught it, and slewe a thousande men therewith.

16 Then Samson said, with the iaw of an asse are heapes vpo heapes: with the iaw of an asse haue I slaine a thousand men.

17 And when he had left speaking, he cast away the iawbone out of his hand, and called that place, Ramath Lehi.

18 And he was sore a thurst, and called on the Lord, and saide, Thou hast giuen this great deliuerance into the hande of thy seruant: and nowe shall I die for thirst, and fall into the handes of the vncircumcised:

19 Then God brake the cheeke tooth, that was in the iaw, and water came thereout: and when he had drunke, his Spirit came againe, and hee was reuiued: wherefore the name thereof is called, En-hakkore, which is in Lehi vnto this day.

20 And he iudged Israel in the dayes of the Philistims twentie yeres.

3 Samson carpeeth away the gates of Azah. 18 Hee was decieued by Delilah. 20 Hee pulleth downe the house vpon the Philistims, and dieth with them.

Then went Samson to Azah, and saide there, an harlot, and went in vnto her.

2 And it was tolde to the Azzahites, Samson is come hither. And they went about, and layde waite for him all night in the gate of the cite, and were quiet all the night, saying, Abide: all the morning early, and we shall kill him.

3 And Samson slept till midnight, and arose at midnight, and tooke the doores of the gates of the cite, & the two postes and lift them away with the barres, and put them vpon his shoulders, and carried them by to the top of the mountaine that is before Hebron.

4 And after this hee loued a woman by the name of Sorak, whose name was Delilah.

6 ¶ And Delilah saide to Samson, Tell me, I pray thee, wherein thy great strength [lyeth,] and wherewith thou mightest be bound, to do thee hurt.

7 Samson then answered vnto her, If they binde mee with seuen || greene cordes that were neuer dreyed, then shall I be weake, and be as an other man.

8 And the princes of the Philistines brought her seuen greene cordes that were not dry, and she bound him therewith.

9 (And he had 4 men lying in waite with her in the chamber) Then she said vnto him, The Philistines [be] vpon thee, Samson. And he brake the cordes, as a threede of tolue is broken, when it feeleth fire: so his strength was not known.

10 ¶ After, Delilah saide vnto Samson, See, thou hast mocked me and tolde mee lyes. I pray thee now, tell mee wherewith thou mightest be bound.

11 Then hee answered her, If they binde me with newe ropes that neuer were occupied, then shall I be weake, and be as an other man.

12 Delilah therefore tooke new ropes, and bound him therewith, and said vnto him, The Philistines [be] vpon thee, Samson: (and men lay in waite in the chamber) and hee brake them from his armes, as a threede.

13 ¶ Afterward Delilah said to Samson, Hitherto thou hast beguiled me, and tolde me lyes: tell me howe thou mightest be bound. And he said vnto her, If thou platted seven lockes of mine head with the threedes of the woufe.

14 And he fastened it with a pume, and said vnto him, The Philistines [be] vpon thee, Samson. And he awoke out of his sleepe, and went away with the || pume of the web and the woufe.

15 Again she saide vnto him, howe canst thou say, I loue thee, when thine heart is not with me: thou hast mocked me these three times, and hast not tolde me wherein thy great strength [lyeth.]

16 And because she was importunate vpon him with her wordes continually, and vexed him, his soule was pained vnto the death.

17 Therefore hee tolde her all his heart, and saide vnto her, There neuer came rasor vpon mine head: for I am a Nazarite vnto God from my mothers wombe: therefore if I be shauen, my strength will go from me, and I shall be weake, and be like all [other] men.

18 And whē Delilah saw that he had tolde her all his heart, she sent, and called for the princes of the Philistines, saying, Come vpon once [again]: for he hath shewed me all his heart. Then the Princes of the Philistines came vnto her, and brought the money in their handes.

19 And he made him sleepe vpon her knees, and she called all [other] men, and made him to haue off the seuen lockes of his head, and she began to bere him, and his strength was gone from him.

20 Then she saide, The Philistines [be] vpon thee, Samson. And he awoke out of his sleepe, and thought, I will go out now as at other times, and shake my selfe, but he knew not that the Lord was departed from him.

21 Therefore the Philistines tooke him, and put out his eyes, and brought him downe to Azah, and bounde him with fetters: and hee did grinde in the pylon house.

22 And the heare of his head began to grow againe after that it was shauen.

23 Then the princes of the Philistines gathered them together for to offer a great sacrifice vnto Dagon their god, and to reioyce: for they saide, Our god hath deliuered Samson our enemy into our handes.

24 Also when the people sawe him, they praised their god: for they said, Our god hath deliuered into our handes our enemy and destroyer of our countrey, which hath slaine many of vs.

25 And whē their hearts were merry, they saide, Call Samson, that hee may make vs pastime. So they called Samson out of the pylon house, and he was a laughing stocke vnto them, and they set him betwene the pillars.

26 Then Samson saide vnto the seruant that led him by the hande, Leade me, that I may touche the pillars that the house standeth vpon, & that I may leane to them.

27 (Nowe the house was full of men and women, and there [were] all the Princes of the Philistines: also vpon the rooffe [were] about three thousand men and women that behelde while Samson [played])

28 Then Samson called vnto the Lord, i Thus his immoderate affection toward a wicked woman, caused him to lose Gods excellent gifts, & become slave vnto them, whome he should haue ruled, k Not for the losse of his heare, but for the contempt of the ordinance of God, which was the cause that God departed from him.

l Yet had he not his strength againe, till he had called vpon God, and reconciled himselfe.

m Thus the Gods iust iudgements they are made slaves to misdeeds which neglect their vocation in being the faithful, <sup>o</sup> He speaketh not this of despair, but lamenting himself for neglecting his office and the offence thereby giuen.

<sup>30</sup> Then said Samson, Let me lose my life with the Philistins: <sup>h</sup> he bowed him with all his might, & the house fell vpon the Princes, and vpon all the people that were therein. So <sup>h</sup> dead which he slew at his death were moe then they which he had slaine in his life.

<sup>31</sup> Then his brethren, and all the house of his father came downe & tooke him, and brought him vp and buried him betwene Zorah and Eshtaoi, in the sepulchre of Manoah his father: now he had iudged Israel twentie yeres.

Chap. 21. 25. <sup>f</sup> For where there is no magistrate fearing God, there can be no true religion, nor order.

<sup>3</sup> And when he had restored the eleuen hundred [shekels] of silver to his mother, his mother saide, I had dedicate the silver to the Lord of mine hande for my sonne, to make <sup>b</sup> a grauen and molten image. Nowe therefore I will giue it thee againe.

<sup>4</sup> And when he had restored the money vnto his mother, his mother tooke two hundred [shekels] of silver, & gaue them to the founder, which made there of a grauen and molten image, and it was in the house of Michah.

<sup>6</sup> In those dayes there was no king in Israel, but euery man did that which was good in his owne eyes.

<sup>8</sup> And the man departed out of the citie, [even] out of Beth-lehem Judah, to dwell where he could finde [a place]: and as hee iourned, hee came to mount Ephraim to the house of Michah.

<sup>9</sup> And Michah said vnto him, where comest thou: And the Leuite answered him, I [come] from Beth-lehem Judah, and goe to dwell where I may finde [a place].

<sup>g</sup> For in those dayes the seruice of God was corrupt in all estates, and the Leuites were not looked vnto.

<sup>10</sup> Then Michah sayde vnto him, Dwell with me, and be vnto me a father, and a Priest, and I will giue thee ten [shekels] of silver by yere, and a lute of apparel, and thy meate and drinke. So the Leuite went in.

<sup>h</sup> Not considering that hee forsooke the true worshiping of God for to maintain his owne bellie, <sup>i</sup> Thus the idolaters persecuted themselves of Gods fauour, when in deede hee doeth detest them.

<sup>c</sup> They knewe him by his speech that he was a stranger there.

<sup>4</sup> And he answered them, Thus and thus dealeth Michah with me, and hath hyred me, and I am his Priest.

whether the way which we goe, shalbe prosperous.

6 And the Priest said vnto them, <sup>d</sup> Go in peace: for the Lord guideth your way which ye go.

7 Then the five men departed and came to Laish, and saue the people that were therein, which dwelt careles, after the manner of the Zidonians, quiet and sure, because no man <sup>e</sup> made any trouble in the land, or blurred any dominion: also they were farre from the Zidonians, and had no businesse with [other] men.

8 So they came againe vnto their brethren to Zorah & Eshaiol: and their brethren saide vnto them, what haue ye [done:]

9 And they answered, Arise, that we may goe vp against them: for we haue seene the land, and surely it is very good, and do ye sit still: be not slouthfull to go and enter to possesse the land:

10 [If ye will go, ye shall come vnto a carelesse people, and the country [is] large] for God hath giuen it into your hande. [It is] a place which doth lacke nothing that is in the world.

11 Then there departed thence of the familie of the Danites, from Zorah and from Eshaiol, sixe hundred men appointed with instruments of warre.

12 And they went by, and pitched in Kiriath-earim in Iudah: wherefore they called that place. || Bahaneh-Dan vnto this day: and it is behinde Kiriath-earim.

13 And they went thence vnto mount Ephraim, & came to y<sup>e</sup> house of Michah.

14 Then answered the five men, that went to spie out the countrey of Laish, and saide vnto their brethren, <sup>f</sup> Knowe ye not, that there is in these houses an Ephod, and Teraphim, and a grauen and a molten image: Proue therefore consider what ye haue to do.

15 And they turned thitherward and came to the house of y<sup>e</sup> young man the Leuite, [euen] vnto the house of Michah, and saluted him peaceably.

16 And the sixe hundred men appointed with their weapōs of warre, which were of the children of Dan, stood by the entring of the gate.

17 Then the five men that went to spie out the land, went in thither, [and] tooke the <sup>g</sup> grauen image and the Ephod, and the Teraphim, and the molten image: and the Priest stood in the entring of the gate with the sixe hundred men, that were appointed with weapōs of warre,

18 And the other went into Michahs house and sette the grauen image, the Ephod, and the Teraphim, and the molten image. Then saide the Priest vnto them, what do ye.

19 And they answered him, holde thy peace: lay thine hande vpon thy mouth, and come with vs to be our father and Priest. Whether is it better y<sup>e</sup> thou shouldest be a Priest vnto y<sup>e</sup> house of one man, or that thou shouldest be a Priest vnto a tribe and to a familie in Israel:

20 And the Priestes heart was glad, and hee tooke the Ephod and the Teraphim, and the grauen image, and went among the <sup>h</sup> people.

21 And they turned and departed, and put the children, and the cattell, and the substance before them.

22 When they were farre off from the house of Michah, the men that were in the houses neere to Michahs house, gathered together, and pursued after the children of Dan,

23 And cried vnto the children of Dan: who turned their faces, and saide vnto Michah, what ayleth thee, that thou makest an outcrie:

24 And he said, We haue taken away my <sup>i</sup> gods, which I made, & the Priest, and go your wayes: and what haue I more: hold then say ye vnto me, what ayleth thee:

25 And the children of Dan said vnto him, Let not thy boye be heard among vs, lest <sup>j</sup> angry fellowes run vpon thee, and thou lose thy life with the iues of thine householde.

26 So the children of Dan went their wayes: and when Michah saide that they were to strong for him, hee turned, and went backe vnto his house.

27 And they tooke the things which Michah had made, and the Priest which he had, & came vnto Laish, vnto a quiet people and without mistrust, and smote them with the edge of the sword, and burnt the cite with fire:

28 And there was none to helpe, because <sup>k</sup> Laish was farre from Zidon, and they had no businesse with [other] men: also it was in the balley that lyeth by Beth-rehob. After, they built the cite, and dwelt therein,

CHAP. XIX.

1 A Leuites wife being an harlot, forsooke her husband, and he tooke her againe. 25 At Gibeah she was most villenously abused to the death. 29 The Leuite cutteth her in pieces and sendeth her to the euellie tribes.

ALso in those dayes, * When there was no King in Israel, a certaine Leuite dwelt on the side of mount Ephraim, and tooke to wife a concubine out of Beth-lehem Judah,

2 And his concubine played & whored there, and went away from him vnto her fathers house to Beth-lehem Judah, and there continued the space of foure monthes.

3 And her husband arose and went after her, to speake & friendly vnto her, and to bring her againe: [he had] also his seruant with him, and a couple of asses: & he brought him vnto her fathers house, and when the yong womans father saide him, he reioyced of his coming.

4 And his father in lawe, the yong womans father retayned him: and he abode with him thre dayes: so they did eate and drinke, and lodged there.

5 And when the fourth day came, they arose early in the morning, and he prepared to depart: then the yong womans father said vnto his sonne in law, Comfort thine heart with a morsell of bread, and then go your way.

6 So they late doolne, and did eate and drinke both of them together. And the yong womans father said vnto the man, Be content, I pray thee, and tarie all night, and let thine heart be merie.

7 And when the man rose vp to depart, his father in lawe was earnest: therefore he returned, and lodged there.

8 And he arose by early the fifth day to depart, and the yong womans father said, Comfort thine heart, I pray thee: and they taried vntill after nidday, and they both did eate.

9 Afterward when the man arose to depart with his concubine and his seruant, his father in lawe, the yong womans father saide vnto him, Beholde now, the day & diueth toward euene: I pray you, tarie all night: beholde the sunne goeth to rest: lodge here, that thine heart may be merie, and to morrowe get you early vpon your way, and go to thy tent.

10 But the man would not tarie, but arose and departed, and came ouer against Iebus, (which is Ierusalem) and his two asses laden, and his concubine [were] with him.

11 When they were neere to Iebus, the day was fore spent, and the seruant saide vnto his master, Come, I pray thee, and let vs turne into this cite of the Iebusites, and lodge all night there.

12 And his master answered him, We will not turne into the cite of strangers that are not of the children of Israel, but we will go forth to Gibeah.

13 And he said vnto his seruant, Come, and let vs draw neere to one of these places, that we may lodge in Gibeah or in Ramah.

14 So they went forward vpon their way, and the sunne went doolne vpon them neere to Gibeah, which is in Benjamin.

15 Then they turned thither to go in and lodge in Gibeah: and when hee came, hee late him doolne in a streete of the cite: for there was no man & he tooke them into his house to lodging.

16 And behold, there came an old man from his worke out of the fiede at euene, and & man was of mount Ephraim, but dwelt in Gibeah: & the men of the place were the children of Benjamin.

17 And when he had lift vp his eyes, he saw a wayfaring man in the streetes of the cite: then this old man saide, Whither goest thou, & whence comest thou?

18 And hee answered him, We came from Beth-lehem Judah, vnto the side of mount Ephraim: from thence am I: and I went to Beth-lehem Judah, and go [now] to the house of the Lord: and no man receiueth me to house, 19 Although we haue strawe and pauer for our asses, and also bread and wine for me & thine handmaide, and for the boy that is with thy seruant: we lacke nothing.

23 And this man the master of the house went out vnto them, and said vnto them, Say my brethren, do not so wickedly, I pray you: seeing that this man is come into mine house, do not this villenie.

24 Beholde, [here is] my daughter, a virgine, and his concubine: them will I bring out now, humble them, and do with them what seemeth you good: but to this man do not this villenie.

25 But the men would not hearken to him: therefore the man tooke his concubine, and brought her out vnto them: and they knewe her and abused her all the night vnto the morning: and when the day began to spring, they let her go.

26 So the woman came in the dawning of the day, and fell downe at the doore of the mans house, where her lord was, till the light day.

27 And her lord arose in the morning, & opened the doores of the house, and went out to go his way, and beholde, the woman his concubine [was] dead at the doore of the house and her handes [lay] vpon the threhold.

28 And he saide vnto her, Up and let vs go: but she answered not. Then he tooke her vp vpon the asse, and the man rose vp, and went vnto his place.

29 And when hee was come to his house, he tooke a knife, and laid hand on his concubine, and deuided her in pieces with her bones into twelue partes, and sent her through all quarters of Israel.

30 And all that saide it, saide, There was no such thing done or seene since the time that children of Israel came vp from land of Egypt vnto this day: consider the matter, consult and giue sentence.

CHAP. XX.

1 The Israelites assemble in Mizpeh, to whom the Leuite declared his wrong. 2 They sent for him & did the villenie. 3 The Israelites are euill overcome. 4 And at length get the victory.

Then * all the children of Israel went out, and the Congregation was gathered together as one man, from Dan to Beertheba, with the land of Gilead, vnto the Lord in Mizpeh.

2 And the chiefe of all the people, [and] all the tribes of Israel assembled in the Congregation of people of God foure hundredth thousand footmen that drew sword.

3 Now children of Benjamin heard that the children of Israel were gone vp to Mizpeh. Then the children of Israel saide, Holwe is this wickednes committed?

4 And the same Leuite, the womans husband that was slaine, answered and saide, I came vnto Gibeah in Benjamin with my concubine to lodge,

5 And the men of Gibeah arose against me, and beset the house rounde about vnto me by night, thinking to haue slaine me, and haue forced my concubine that he is dead.

6 Then I tooke my concubine, and cut her in pieces, and sent her throughout all the countrey of the inheritance of Israel: for they haue committed abomination and villenie in Israel.

7 Beholde, ye are all children of Israel: giue your aduise, & counsell herein.

8 Then all the people arose as one man, saying, There shall not a man of vs go to his tent, neither any turne into his house.

9 But now we this is that thing which we will do to Gibeah: [we will go vp] by lot against it,

10 And we will take ten men of hundredth throughout all the tribes of Israel, and an hundredth of the thousand, and a thousand of ten thousand to bring a bundle for people that they may do [what] they come to Gibeah of Benjamin according to all the villenie, that it hath done in Israel.

11 So all the men of Israel were gathered against the citie, knit together, as one man.

12 And the tribes of Israel sent men through all the tribe of Benjamin, saying, What wickednes is this that is committed among you?

13 Now therefore deliuer vs those wicked men which are in Gibeah, that we may put them to death, and put away euill from Israel: but the children of Benjamin would not obey the voyce of

of their brethren the children of Israel.

14 But the children of Benjamin gathered themselves together out of the cities unto Gibeah, to come out & fight against the children of Israel.

15 And the children of Benjamin were nombred at that time out of the cities six and twentie thousand men that drelve sworde, beside the inhabitants of Gibeah, which were nombred seven hundred chosen men.

16 Of all this people [were] seven hundred chosen men, being left handed: all these coulde sling stones at an heave breadth, and not faile.

17 Also the men of Israel, beside Benjamin, were nombred foure hundred thousand men that drelve sworde, even all men of warre.

18 And the children of Israel arose, and went vp to the house of God, and asked of God, saying, Which of vs shall go vp first to fight against the children of Benjamin? And the Lord saide, Judah [shalbe] first.

19 Then the children of Israel arose by early and camped against Gibeah.

20 And the men of Israel went out to battell against Benjamin, and the men of Israel put them selves in aray to fight against them beside Gibeah.

21 And the children of Benjamin came out of Gibeah, and slewe dolbne to the ground of the Israelites that day two and twentie thousand men.

22 And the people, the men of Israel plucked vp their hearts, & set their battell againe in aray in the place where they put them in aray the first day.

23 For the children of Israel had gone by and wept before the Lord unto the evening, and had asked of the Lord, saying, Shall I go againe to battell against the children of Benjamin my brethren, and the Lord said, Go by against them.

24 Then the children of Israel came neere against the children of Benjamin the second day.

25 Also the second day Benjamin came forth to meete them out of Gibeah, and slewe dolbne to the ground of the children of Israel againe eightene thousand men: all they coulde handle the sword.

26 Then all the children of Israel went by and all the people came also unto the house of God, and wept and fasted there before the Lord and fasted that day unto the evening, & offered burnt of-frings & peace offerings before the Lord.

27 And the children of Israel asked the Lord (for there was the Arke of the covenant of God in those dayes, 28 And Phinehas the sonne of Eleazar, the sonne of Aaron stood before it at that time) saying, Shall I yet go any more to battell against the children of Benjamin my brethren, or shall I cease? And the Lord said, Go by: for to morrow I will deliuer them into your hand.

29 And Israel set men to lie in waite rounde about Gibeah.

30 And the children of Israel went by against the children of Benjamin the third day, and put them selves in aray against Gibeah, as at other times.

31 Then the children of Benjamin comming out against the people, were drawen from the citie: and they began to smite of the people and kill as at other times, [even] by the wayes in the fieldes (whereof one goeth by to the house of God, and the other to Gibeah) vpon a thirtie men of Israel.

32 (For the children of Benjamin said, They are fallen before vs, as at the first. But the children of Israel saide, Let vs flee and plucke them away from the citie unto the hie wayes)

33 And all the men of Israel rose by out of their place, and put themselves in aray at Baal tamar: and the men that lay in waite of the Israelites came forth of their place, [even] out of the medowes of Gibeah,

34 And they came ouer against Gibeah, ten thousand chosen men of all Israel, and the battell was sore: for they knew not that the euil was neere them.

35 And the Lord smote Benjamin before Israel, and the children of Israel destroyed of the Beniamites the same day five and twentie thousand and an hundred men: all they coulde handle the sword.

36 So the children of Benjamin saw that they were stricken dolbne: for the men of Israel gaue place to the Beniamites, because they trusted to the men that lay in waite, which they had laide beside Gibeah.

37 And they that lay in waite hasted, and brake forth toward Gibeah, and the embushment drelve themselves along, and smote all the citie with the edge of the sword.

38 Also the men of Israel had appointed a certaine time with the embushments, that they shoulde make a great flame,

40 But when flame began to arise out of the citie, [as] a pillar of smoke, the Beniamites looked backe, and beholde, the flame of the citie began to ascend vp to heauen.

41 Then the men of Israel turned againe, and the men of Benjamin were astonied: for they sawe that euill was neere vnto them.

42 Therefore they fled before the men of Israel vnto the way of the wilderness, but the battell ouertooke them: also they which came out of the citie, slew them among them.

43 [Thus] they compassed the Beniamites about, [and] chased them at ease, and ouerraine them, euen ouer against Gibeah on the Eastside.

44 And there were slaine of Benjamin eightene thousand men, which were all men of warre.

45 And they turned and fled to the wilderness vnto the rocke of Rimmon: and the [Israelites] * gained of them by the way fise thousand men, and pursued after them vnto Gidom, and slewe two thousand men of them.

46 So that all that were slaine that day of Benjamin, were 7 fise and twentie thousand men that dyeve the sword, which were all men of warre:

47 But six hundred men turned and fled to the wilderness vnto the rocke of Rimmon, & abode in the rocke of Rimmon foure moneths.

48 Then the men of Israel returned vnto the children of Benjamin, & smote them with the edge of the sword from the men of the citie vnto the beastes, and all that came to hand: also they set on fire all the cities that they could come by.

4 And on the morowe the people rose vp and made there an altar, and offered burnt offerings & peace offerings.

5 Then the children of Israel saide, who is he among all the tribes of Israel, that came not by with the Congregation vnto the Lorde: for they had made a great othe concerning him that came not by to the Lorde to Mizpeh, saying, Let him die the death.

6 And the children of Israel were sorie for Benjamin their brother, & said, There is one tribe cut off from Israel this day.

7 Now shall we do for wiues to them that remaine, seeing we haue sworne by the Lorde, that we will not giue them of our daughters to wiues:

8 Also they saide, Is there any of the tribes of Israel that came not out to Mizpeh to the Lorde: and behold, there came none of Jabel Gilead vnto the hoste [and] to the Congregation.

9 For when the people were debed, beholde, none of the inhabitants of Jabel Gilead were there.

10 Therefore the Congregation sent thither twelve thousand men of the most valiant, and commanded them, saying, Go, and finite the inhabitants of Jabel Gilead with the edge of the sword, both women and children.

11 * And this is it that ye shall do: ye shall bitterly destroy all the males and all the women that haue lien by men.

12 And they founde among the inhabitants of Jabel Gilead foure hundred maidens, virgines that had knowne no man by lying with any male: and they brought them vnto the hoste to Shiloh, which is in the land of Canaan.

13 Then the whole Congregation sent and spake with the children of Benjamin that were in the rocke of Rimmon, and called peaceably vnto them.

14 And Benjamin came againe at that time, and they gaue them wiues which they had sau'd alime of the women of Jabel Gilead: but they had not so enough for them.

The booke of Ruth.

THE ARGUMENT.

THIS booke is intituled after the name of Ruth: which is the principall person spoken of in this treatise. Wherein also figuratively is set forth the state of the Church which is subiect to manifold afflictions, and yet at length God giveth good and ioyfull issue: teaching vs to abide with patience till God deliver vs out of troubles. Herein also is described how Iesus Christ, who according to the flesh ought to come of David, proceeded of Ruth, of whome the Lorde Iesus did vouchsafe to come, notwithstanding she was a Moabite of base condition, and a stranger from the people of God: declaring vnto vs thereby that the Gentiles should be sanctified by him, and ioyned with his people, and that there should be but one sheepefold, and one shepheard. And it seemeth that this historie appertaineth to the time of the Iudges.

CHAP. I.

1 Elimelech goeth with his wife and children into the land of Moab. 2 He and his sonnes die. 3 Naomi & Ruth come to Beth-lehem.

At the time that the iudges ruled, there was a dearth in the land, & a man of Beth-lehem Judah went for to sojourn in the country of Moab, he, and his wife, and his two sonnes.

2 And the name of the man [was] Elimelech, and the name of his wife, Naomi: and the names of his two sonnes, Mahlon, and Chilion, Ephrathites of Beth-lehem Judah: and when they came into the land of Moab, they continued there.

3 Then Elimelech the husbande of Naomi dyed, and she remained with her two sonnes.

4 Which tooke them wives of the

Moabites: the ones name [was] Orpah, and the name of the other Ruth: and they dwelled there about ten yeres.

5 And Mahlon and Chilion dyed also both twaine: so the woman was left destitute of her two sonnes, and of her husband.

6 Then she arose with her daughters in lawe, and returned from the country of Moab: for she had heard say in the country of Moab, that the Lord had visited his people, and given them bread.

7 Wherefore she departed out of the place where she was, & her two daughters in lawe with her, and they went on their way to returne vnto the land of Judah.

8 Then Naomi sayde vnto her two daughters in lawe, Goe, returne eche of you vnto her owne mothers house: the breach in the tribes of Israel.

16 Therefore the Elders of the Congregation sayde, Holve shall we doe for wives to the remnant: for the women of Benjamin are destroyed.

17 And they sayd, [There must be] an inheritance for them that be escaped of Benjamin, that a tribe be not destroyed out of Israel.

g Benjamin must be referred to have the twelve portion in the inheritance of Jacob.

18 Howbeit we may not give them wives of our daughters: for the children of Israel had sowne, saying, Cursed be he, that giveth a wife to Benjamin.

19 Therefore they sayde, Beholde, there is a feast of the Lorde every yeere in Shiloh [in a place,] which is on the Northside of Beth-el, and on the Eastside of <sup>h</sup> way that goeth by from Beth-el to Shechem, and on the South of Lebanonah.

h He describeth the place where the maidens danced, as the manner then was, & to sing psalmes and songs of Gods works among them.

20 Therefore they commanded the children of Benjamin, saying, Go, and lie in wait in the vineyardes.

21 And when ye see that the daughters of Shiloh come out to dance in dances, then come ye out of the vineyardes, and catch you every man a wife of the daughters of Shiloh, and goe into the land of Benjamin.

22 And when their fathers or their brethren come vnto vs to complaine, we will say vnto them, Haue pitie on them for our sakes, because we referred not to eche man his wife in the warre, and because ye haue not given vnto them hitherto, ye haue sinned.

Though they thought here- by to perswade men that they kept their oth, yet before God it was broken.

23 And the children of Benjamin did so, and tooke wives of them that danced according to their number: which they tooke, and went away, and returned to their inheritance, and repaired the cities and dwelt in them.

k Examining, two hundred.

24 So the children of Israel departed thence at that time, every man to his tribe, and to his familie, and went out from thence every man to his inheritance.

25 In those dayes there was no king in Israel, [but] every man did that which was good in his eyes.

The booke of Ruth.

THE ARGUMENT.

THIS booke is intituled after the name of Ruth: which is the principall person spoken of in this treatise. Wherein also figuratively is set forth the state of the Church which is subiect to manifold afflictions, and yet at length God giveth good and ioyfull issue: teaching vs to abide with patience till God deliver vs out of troubles. Herein also is described how Iesus Christ, who according to the flesh ought to come of David, proceeded of Ruth, of whome the Lorde Iesus did vouchsafe to come, notwithstanding she was a Moabite of base condition, and a stranger from the people of God: declaring vnto vs thereby that the Gentiles should be sanctified by him, and ioyned with his people, and that there should be but one sheepefold, and one shepheard. And it seemeth that this historie appertaineth to the time of the Iudges.

CHAP. I.

1 Elimelech goeth with his wife and children into the land of Moab. 2 He and his sonnes die. 3 Naomi & Ruth come to Beth-lehem.

At the time that the iudges ruled, there was a dearth in the land, & a man of Beth-lehem Judah went for to sojourn in the country of Moab, he, and his wife, and his two sonnes.

2 And the name of the man [was] Elimelech, and the name of his wife, Naomi: and the names of his two sonnes, Mahlon, and Chilion, Ephrathites of Beth-lehem Judah: and when they came into the land of Moab, they continued there.

3 Then Elimelech the husbande of Naomi dyed, and she remained with her two sonnes.

4 Which tooke them wives of the

Moabites: the ones name [was] Orpah, and the name of the other Ruth: and they dwelled there about ten yeres.

5 And Mahlon and Chilion dyed also both twaine: so the woman was left destitute of her two sonnes, and of her husband.

6 Then she arose with her daughters in lawe, and returned from the country of Moab: for she had heard say in the country of Moab, that the Lord had visited his people, and given them bread.

7 Wherefore she departed out of the place where she was, & her two daughters in lawe with her, and they went on their way to returne vnto the land of Judah.

8 Then Naomi sayde vnto her two daughters in lawe, Goe, returne eche of you vnto her owne mothers house: the a In the land of Canaan.

b In the tribe of Judah, which was also called Beth-lehem Ephrath, because there was another citie so called in the tribe of Zabulon.

Lord shew fauour vnto you, as ye haue done With the dead, and with me.

<sup>e</sup> Verely it appereth that Naomi by dwelling among boylers was warrē in colde in the true scale of God, which respect to the ease of the body then to the comfort of the soule.

9 The Lord grant you, that you may finde rest, either of you in the house of her husbande. And when she kissed them, they lift vp their voyce and wept.

10 And they said vnto her, Surely we wil returne With thee vnto thy people.

11 But Naomi sayd, Turne againe, my daughters: for what cause will you go With me: are there any more sonnes in my wombe, that they may be your husbands:

12 Turne againe, my daughters: go your way: for I am to olde to haue an husband. If I should say, I haue hope, [and if I had an husband this night: yea, if I had borne sonnes, 13 Would ye tarie for them, till they were of age: would ye be deferred for them from taking of husbands: nay my daughters: for it grieveth me much for your sakes that the hand of the Lord is gone out against me.

<sup>ff</sup> Or, more then you.

14 Then they lift vp their voyce and wept againe, and Orpah<sup>f</sup> kissed her mother in lawe, but Ruth abode still With her.

15 And Naomi sayd, Beholde, thy sister in lawe is gone backe vnto her people and vnto her gods: returne thou after thy sister in lawe.

<sup>g</sup> No persuasions can preuaile to turne them backe from God, whom he hath chosen to be his.

16 And Ruth answered, Intreate me not to leaue thee, nor to depart from thee: for whither thou goest, I will go: and where thou dwellest, I will dwell: thy people shall be my people, and thy God my God.

17 Where thou dyest, will I dye, and there will I be buried, the Lord doe so to me and more also, if I ought but death depart thee and me.

18 When the lawe that she was stedfastly minded to go With her, she left speaking vnto her.

19 So they went both vntill they came to Beth-lehem: and when they were come to Beth-lehem, it was<sup>h</sup> noised of them through all the citie, and they sayd, Is not this Naomi:

20 And she answered them, Call me not Naomi, but call me | Mara: for the Almighty hath giuen me much bitterness.

21 I went out full, and the Lord hath caused me to returne empty: why call ye me Naomi, seeing the Lord hath humbled me, & the Almighty hath brought me vnto aduersitie:

22 So Naomi returned & Ruth the Moabitess her daughter in lawe With her. When she came out of the countrey of Moab: and they came to Beth-lehem in the beginning of barly harvest.

<sup>i</sup> Which was in the moneth of Aprill, that cometh part of March and part of Aprill.

CHAP. II.

Then Boaz his husband had a kinsman, one of great power of the familie of Elimelech, and his name was Boaz.

2 And Ruth the Moabitess layde vnto Boaz, I pray thee, let me go to the fielde, and gather eares of corne after him, in whose sight I finde fauour. And she said vnto her, So my daughter, <sup>b</sup> Whiche humilitie declared her great affection towards her mother in law, so much as she feared no painful diligence to get both their livings.

3 And she went, and came and gleaned in the fielde after the reapers, and it came to passe, that she met With the portion of the fielde of Boaz, who was of the familie of Elimelech.

4 And beholde, Boaz came from Beth-lehem, and layd vnto the reapers, The Lord be With you: and they answered him, The Lord bless thee.

5 Then sayd Boaz vnto his seruant that was appointed ouer the reapers, whose maide is this:

6 And the seruant that was appointed ouer the reapers, answered, and sayd, It is the Moabitish maide, that came With Naomi out of the countrey of Moab:

7 And she sayd vnto vs, I pray you, let me gleane and gather after the reapers among the sheaves: so she came, and hath continued from that time in the morning vnto now, saue that she taried a litle in the house.

8 Then sayde Boaz vnto Ruth, Hearest thou, my daughter: go to none other fielde to gather, neither go from hence: but abide here by my maidens.

9 Let thine eyes be on the fielde that they doe reape, and goe thou after the maidens, haue I not charged the seruants, that they touch thee not: Moreover when thou art a thirst, go vnto the vessels, and drinke of that which the seruants haue drawen.

10 Then she fell on her face, and bowed her selfe to the ground, and sayd vnto him, how haue I found fauour in thine eyes, that thou shouldst know me, seeing I am a stranger:

11 And Boaz answered, and said vnto her, All is told and shewed me that thou hast done vnto thy mother in lawe, since the death of thine husband, and holde thou thou hast left thy father and thy mother, & the land where thou wast borne, and art come vnto a people which thou knewest not in time past.

12 The Lord recompence thy worke and a full rewarde be giuen thee of the Lord God of Israel, vnder whose wings thou art come to trust.

13 Then she sayd, Let me find fauour in thy sight, my lord: for thou hast comforted me, and spoken comfortably vnto thy maide, though I be not like to one of thy maidens.

14 And Boaz sayd vnto her, At the meale time come thou hither, and eate of the bread, and dip thy morsel in the vineger. And she late beside the reapers, and he reached her parched corne: and she did eate, and was sufficed, and left thereof.

15 ¶ And when she arose to glean, Boaz commanded his seruants, saying, Let her gather among the sheaves, and doe not rebuke her.

16 Also let fall [some] of the sheaves for her, and let it lie, that she may gather it by, and rebuke her not.

17 So she gleaned in the fielde vntill euening, and she threshed that she had gathered, and it was about an <sup>e</sup> Ephah of barley.

18 ¶ And she tooke it by, & went into the cite, and her mother in lawe salued what she had gathered: Also she tooke forth, and gaue to her that which she had reserved, when she was sufficed.

19 Then her mother in lawe said vnto her, where hast thou gleaned to day: and where wroughtest thou: blessed be he, that kneib thee. And she shewed her mother in lawe, with whome she had wrought, and sayde, The mans name, with whom I wrought to day, is Boaz.

20 And Naomi said vnto her daughter in lawe, Blessed be he of the Lord: for he hath not to doe good to the living and to the dead. Againe Naomi sayd vnto her, The man is neere vnto vs, and of our affinitie.

21 And Ruth the Moabitess said, he said also certainly vnto me, Thou shalt be with my seruants, vntill they haue ended all my haruest.

22 And Naomi answered vnto Ruth her daughter in lawe, It is best my daughter, that thou goe out with his maidens, that they meete thee not in an other felde.

23 Then she kept her by the maidens of Boaz, to gather vnto the end of barley haruest, and of wheat haruest, & dwelt with her mother in lawe.

CHAP. III.

1 Naomi giueth Ruth counsell. 8 She sleepeth at Boaz feete, 12 He acknowledgeth himselfe to be her kinsman.

¶ Afterwarde Naomi her mother in lawe sayde vnto her, My daughter, shall not I seeke a rest for thee, that thou mayest prosper?

2 Nowe also is not Boaz our kinsman, with whose maidens thou wast: beholde, he winnoweth barley to night in the floore.

3 Wash thy selfe therefore, and anoint thee, and put the raiment vpon thee, and get thee downe to the floore: let not the man know of thee, vntill he haue left eating and drinking.

4 And when he shall sleepe, marke the place where he layeth him downe, and go, and vncouer the place of his feet, and lay thee downe, and he shall tel thee what thou shalt doe.

5 And she answered her, All that thou biddest me, I will doe.

6 ¶ So she went downe vnto the floore, and did according to all that her mother in lawe bade her.

7 And when Boaz had eaten, and drunken, and chered his heart, he went to lie downe at the end of the heape of corne, and she came softly, & vncouered the place of his feete, and lay downe.

8 And at midnight the man was awake, and caught holde: and lo, a woman lay at his feete.

9 Then he sayd, who art thou? And she answered, I am Ruth thine handmaide: I spread therefore the wing of thy garment ouer thine handmaide: for thou art the kinsman.

10 Then sayd he, Blessed be thou of the Lord, my daughter: thou hast shewed more goodnesse in the latter end, then at the beginning, in as much as thou follovest not young men, were they poore or rich.

11 And now, my daughter, feare not: I wil doe to thee all that thou requirest: for all the cite of my people doeth know, that thou art a vertuous woman.

12 And nowe, it is true that I am thy kinsman, howbeit there is a kinsman neerer then I.

14 And she lay at his feete vntill the morning: and she arose before one could knowe another: for he sayd, Let no man knowe, that a woman came in to the floore.

15 Also he said, Bzing the sheete that thou hast vpon thee, and holde it. And when she helde it, he measured six measures of barley, and layed them on her, and she went into the citie.

16 And when she came to her mother in laibe, she sayde, Who art thou, my daughter: And she tolde her all that the man had done to her,

17 And sayd, These six measures of barley gaue he me: for he sayde to me, Thou shalt not come emptie vnto thy mother in laibe.

18 Then sayd she, My daughter, sit still, vntill thou knowe holde the thing will fall: for the man will not be in rest, vntill he haue finished the matter this same day.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Boaz speaketh to Ruths next kinsman touching her marriage. 7 The ancient custome in Israel. 10 Boaz marrieth Ruth, of whome he beggeth Obed. 18 The generation of Pharez.

¶ When went Boaz vp to the gate, and late there, and beholde, the kinsman, of whom Boaz had spoken, came by: and he said, Ho, such one, come, sit down here. And he turned, and late downe.

2 Then he tooke ten men of the Elders of the citie, and sayd, Sit ye downe here. And they late downe.

3 And he sayde vnto the kinsman, Naomi, that is come againe out of the country of Moab, will sell a parcel of land, which was our brother Elimelechs.

4 And I thought to aduertise thee, saying, Bze it before the assistants, and before the Elders of my people. If thou wilt redeeme it, redeeme it: but if thou wilt not redeeme it, tell me: for I know that there is none besides thee to redeeme it, and I am after thee. Then he answered, I will redeeme it.

5 Then sayd Boaz, what day thou brest the field of þ hand of Naomi, thou must also bye it of Ruth the Moabitess the wife of the dead, to steepe by þ name of the dead, vpon his inheritance.

6 And the kinsman answered, I can not redeeme it, lest I destroy mine owne inheritance: redeeme my right to thee, for I can not redeeme it.

7 Now this was the maner before: time in Israel, concerning redeeming and changing, for to stablish all things: a man did plucke off his shoe, and gaue it his neighbour, and this was a sure witness in Israel.

8 Therefore the kinsman sayde to Boaz, Bze it for thee: and he drelve off his shoe.

9 And Boaz sayde vnto the Elders and vnto all the people, Ye are witnesses this day, that I haue bought all that was Elimelechs, & all that was Chitons & Bahlons, of the hand of Naomi.

10 And moreover, Ruth the Moabitess þ wife of Bahlon, haue I bought to be my wife, to steepe by the name of the dead vpon his inheritance, and that the name of the dead be not put out from among his brethren, and from the gate of his place: ye are witnesses this day.

11 And all the people that were in the gate, and the Elders sayd, We are witnesses: the Lorde make the wife that cometh into thine house, like Rahel and like Leah, which twaine did build the house of Israel: and that thou mayest do worthily in Ephrathah, and be famous in Beth-lehem.

12 And that thine house be like þ house of Pharez (whom Thamar bare vnto Judah) of the seede which the Lorde shall giue thee of this yong woman.

13 So Boaz tooke Ruth, and she was his wife: and when he went in vnto her, the Lorde gaue, that she conceived, and bare a sonne.

14 And the women said vnto Naomi, Blessed be the Lorde, which hath not left thee this day without a kinsma, and his name shall be continued in Israel.

15 And this shal bring thy life againe, and cherish thine old age: for thy daughter in law which loueth thee, hath borne vnto him, and she is better to thee then seven sonnes.

16 And Naomi tooke the childe, and layed it in her lappe, and became nource vnto it.

17 And the women her neighbours gaue it a name, saying, There is a childe borne to Naomi, and called the name thereof Obed: the same was the father of Ithai, the father of Dauid.

And therefore he punisheth the ingratitude of his people, and sendeth them continuall warres both at home and abroad. And because Saul, whome of nothing God had preferred to the honour of a King, did not acknowledge Gods mercie toward him, but rather disobeyed the word of God and was not zealous of his glorie, he was by the voyce of God put downe from his state, and Dauid the true figure of Mesiiah placed in his steade, whose patience, modestie, constancie, persecution by open enemies, fained friends, and dissembling flatterers, are left to the Church and to euery member of the same, as a paterne and example to beholde their state and vocation.

19 ¶ Then they rose vp early, and worshipped before the Lord, and returned, and came to their house to Ramah. Now Elkanah knew Hannah his wife, and the Lord remembered her.

20 For in proesse of time Hannah conceived, and bare a sonne, and she called his name Samuel, because, [saide she] I haue asked him of the Lord.

21 ¶ So the man Elkanah and all his house went vp to offer vnto the Lord the yere ly sacrifice, and his bolue:

22 But Hannah went not vp: for she laide vnto her husbände. [I will tarie] vntill the childe be weined, then I will bring him that hee may appeare before the Lord, and there abide for euer.

23 And Elkanah her husbände laide vnto her, Do what seemeth thee best: tarie vntill thou hast weined him: onely the Lord accomplish his word. So the woman abode, and gaue her sonne sucke vntill she weined him.

24 ¶ And when she had weined him, she tooke him with her with three bullocks and an Ephah of flour and a botell of wine, and brought him vnto the house of the Lord in Shiloh, and the childe was yong.

25 And they sleue a bullocke, and brought the childe to Eli.

26 And she laide, Oh my lord, as thy soule liueth, my lord, I am the woman that stood with thee here praying vnto the Lord.

27 I prayed for this childe, and the Lord hath giuen me my desire which I asked of him.

28 Therefore also I haue giuen him vnto the Lord: as long as he liueth he shall be giue vnto the Lord: and he worshipped the Lord there.

CHAP. II.

1 The song of Hannah, 12 The sonnes of Eli, wicked, 13 The newe custome of the Priestes, 18 Samuel ministred before the Lord, 20 Eli blessed Elkanah and his wife, 23 Eli reproued his sonnes, 27 God sendeth a Propheet to Eli, 31 Eli is menaced for not chastising his children.

¶ And Hannah prayed, & laide, Mine heart reioyeth in the Lord, mine home is exalted in the Lord: my mouth is enlarged ouer mine enemies, because I reioyce in thy saluation.

2 There is none holy as the Lord: yea, there is none besides thee, and there is no God like our God.

3 Speake no more presumptuously: let not arrogancie come out of your mouth, for the Lord is a God of knowledg, and by him enterprises are established.

4 The bolue [and] the mightie men are broken, and the weake haue girded themselves with strength.

5 They that were full, are hired forth for bread, and the hungrie are no more hired, so that the baren hath borne seuen: and she that had many children, is feeble.

6 The Lord killeth and maketh alieue: bringeth dolue to the graue and raiseth vp.

7 The Lord maketh poore and maketh rich: bringeth lowe, and exalteth.

8 Hee raiseth vp the poore out of the dust, & lifteth vp the begger fro the dooghill, to set [them] among princes, and to make them inherit the seate of glorie: for the pillars of the earth are the Lords, and he hath set the world vpon them.

9 He will keepe the feet of his Samits, and the wicked shall keepe silence in darkness: for in [his owne] might shall no man be strong.

10 The Lords aduersaries shall be destroyed, and out of heauen shall he thunder vpon them: the Lord shall iudge the endes of the world, and shall giue poluer vnto his King, and exalt the horne of his Anointed.

11 And Elkanah went to Ramah to his house, and the childe did minister vnto the Lord before Eli the Priest.

12 ¶ Nowe the sonnes of Eli [were] wicked men [and] knew not the Lord.

13 For the Priestes custome toward the people [was this]: When any man offered sacrifice, the Priestes boy came, while the flesh was seething and a fleshy hooke with three teeth in his hand,

14 And thrust it into the kettie, or into the caldron, or into the panne, or into the pot: all that the fleshy hooke brought vp, the Priest tooke for him selfe: thus they did vnto all the Israelites, that came thither to Shiloh.

15 ¶ Be, before they burnt the fat, the Priestes boy came and laide to the man that offered, Give me flesh to roast for the Priest: for he will not haue sodden flesh of thee, but rawe.

16 And if any man laide vnto him, Let them burne the fat according to the custome, then take as much as thine heart desireth: then he would answere, No, but but thou shalt giue it no lve: and if thou wilt not, I will take it by force.

17 Therefore þe lme of the yong men was very great before the Lorde: for men abhorred the offering of the Lorde.

18 ¶ Nowe Samuel being a yong childe nursed before the Lorde, girded with a linnen Ephod.

19 And his mother made him a litle coate, and brought it to him from yere to yere, when she came by with her husband, to offer the yere ly sacrifice.

20 And Eli blessed Elkanah and his wife, and said, the Lorde giue thee seede of this woman, for the petition that she asked of the Lorde: and they departed vnto their place.

21 And the Lorde visited Hannah, so that she conceived, and bare three sonnes, and two daughters. And the childe Samuel grewe before the Lorde.

22 ¶ So Eli was very olde, & heard all that his sonnes did vnto all Israel, and how they lay with the women that assembled at the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

23 And he saide vnto them, why doe ye such things: for of all this people I heare euill reportes of you.

24 [Do no] more, my sonnes: for it is no good report þe beare, whichis, that ye make the Lorde people to trespasse.

25 If one man sinne against another, the iudge shal iudge it: but if a man sinne against the Lorde, who will pleade for him: notwithstanding they obeyed not the voyce of their father, because the Lorde would slay them.

26 ¶ Nowe the childe Samuel profited and grewe and was in fauour both with the Lorde and also with men.

27 And there came a man of God vnto Eli, and said vnto him, Thus saith the Lorde, Did not I plainly appeare vnto the house of thy father, when they were in Egypt in Pharohs house:

28 And I chose him out of all þe tribes of Israel to be my Priest, to offer vpon mine altar, and to burne incense, and to weare an Ephod before me, and I gaue vnto þe house of thy father all þe offerings made by fire of the childe of Israel.

29 Wherefore haue you kicked against my sacrifice and mine offering which I commaunded in my Tabernacle, and honourst thy children aboue me, to make your selues eate of the first frutes of all the offerings of Israel my people:

30 wherefore the Lorde God of Israel saith, I saide, that thine house and the house of thy father should walke before me for euer: but now the Lorde saith, It shall not be so: for them that honour me, I will honour, and they that despise me, shalbe despised.

31 Beholde, the dayes come, that I will cut off thine arme, and the arme of thy fathers house, that there shall not be an olde man in thine house.

32 And thou shalt see thine enemy in the habitation of þe Lorde in all things wherewith God shall bless Israel, and there shall not bee an olde man in thine house for euer.

33 Neuertheless, I will not destroy euery one of thine from mine altar, to make thine eyes to faile, & to make thine heart sorrowfull: and all the multitude of thine house shall die, whet they be men.

34 And this shalbe a signe vnto thee, that shall come vpon thy two sonnes Hophni and Phinehas: in one day they shall die both.

35 And I will stirre me by a faithfull Priest, that shall doe according to mine heart and according to my minde: and he shall builde him a sure house, and he shall walke before mine Anointed for euer.

36 And all that are left in thine house, shall come and bowe downe to him for a piece of siluer and a morsell of bread, and shall say, Appoint me, I pray thee, to one of the Priestes offices, that I may eate a morsell of bread.

5 And he ran vnto Eli, and said, Here am I, for thou calledst me. But he said, I called thee not: go againe and sleepe. And he went and slept.

7 Thus [did] Samuel, before hee knewe the Lord, and before the word of the Lord was reueiled vnto him.

8 And the Lord called Samuel againe the thirde time: and he arose, and went to Eli, & said, I am here: for thou hast called me. Then Eli perceived that the Lord had called the childe.

9 Therefore Eli saide vnto Samuel, Go [ & sleepe: and if he call thee, then say, Speake Lord, for thy seruant heareth. So Samuel went, and slept in his place.

10 And the Lord came, and stood, and called as at other times, Samuel, Samuel. Then Samuel answered, Speake, for thy seruant heareth.

11 C Then the Lord said to Samuel, Beholde, I will doe a thing in Israel, whereof whosoener shall heare, his two eares shall tingle.

12 In that day I wil raise vp against Eli all things which I haue spoken concerning his house: when I begin, I wil also make an ende.

13 And I haue tolde him that I will iudge his house for euer, for the iniquitie which he knoweth, because his sonnes ran into a slaughter, & he stayed them not.

14 Now therefore I haue sware vnto the house of Eli, that the wickednesse of Elies house, shall not be purged with sacrifice nor offering for euer.

15 Afterward Samuel slept vntil the morning, and opened the doores of the house of the Lord, and Samuel feared to shew Eli the vision.

16 C Then Eli called Samuel, and said, Samuel my sonne. And he answered, here I am.

17 Then he said, what is it, that the Lord said vnto thee: I pray thee, hide it not from me. God doe loe to thee, and more also, if thou hide any thing from me, of all that he said vnto thee.

18 So Samuel tolde him euery whit, and hid nothing from him. Then hee saide, It is the Lord: let him doe what seemeth him good.

19 C And Samuel greiue, and the Lord was with him, and let none of his wordes fall to the ground.

20 And all Israel from Dan to Beer sheba knewe [ that faithfull Samuel was the Lords Prophet.

21 And the Lord appeared againe in Shiloh: for the Lord reueiled him selfe to Samuel in Shiloh by his word.

1 Israel is overcome by the Philistims. 4 They do see the Arke, wherefore the Philistims do feare. 10 The Arke of the Lord is taken. 11 Eli and his children die. 19 The death of the wife of Phinehas the sonne of Eli.

And Samuel spake vnto all Israel: and Israel went out against the Philistims to battell and pitched beside Eben-esser: and the Philistims pitched in Aphek.

2 And the Philistims put themselves in aray against Israel: and when they toyked the battell, Israel was smitten downe before the Philistims: who slew of the armie in the field about foure thousand men.

3 So when the people were come into the campe, the Elders of Israel saide, wherefore hath the Lord smitten vs this day before the Philistims: let vs bring the Arke of the couenant of the Lord out of Shiloh vnto vs, that whe it cometh among vs, it may saue vs out of the hand of our enemies.

4 Then the people sent to Shiloh, and brought from thence the Arke of the couenant of the Lord of hostes, who dwelleth betwene the Cherubims: and there were the two sonnes of Eli, Hophni, and Phinehas, with the Arke of the couenant of God.

5 And when the Arke of the couenant of the Lord came into the hoste, all Israel shouted a mightie shout, so that the earth rang againe.

6 And when the Philistims heard the noyse of the shout, they saide, what meaneth the sound of this mightie shout in the hoste of the Ebrewes: and they vnderstoode, that the Arke of the Lord was come into the hoste.

7 And the Philistims were afrade, and said, God is come into the hoste: therefore laide they, woe vnto vs: for it hath not bene so heretofore.

8 Woe vnto vs, who shall deliuer vs out of the hand of these mightie Gods: these are the Gods that smote the Egyptians with all the plagues in the wilderness. 9 Be strong & play the men, O Philistims, that ye be not seruants vnto the Ebrewes, as they haue serued you: be valiant therefore, and fight.

10 And the Philistims fought, and Israel was smitten downe, and fled euery man into his tent: and there was an exceeding great slaughter: for there fell of Israel thirtie thousand footemen.

2 The Philistins bring the Arke into the house of Dagon, which Idole fell downe before it. 3 The men of Ashdod are plagued. 4 The Arke is caried into Gath and after to Ekron.

a Which was one of the five principall cities of the Philis-

2 ¶ Then the Philistins tooke the Arke of God, and brought it into the house of Dagon, and let it by Dagon.

3 And when they of Ashdod rose the next day in the morning, behold, Dagon was fallen vpon his face on the ground before the Arke of the Lorde, and they tooke by Dagon, and let him in his place againe.

5 Therefore the priests of Dagon, and all that come into Dagon's house treade not on the thresholde of Dagon in Ashdod, vnto this day.

8 They sent therefore and gathered all the princes of the Philistins vnto them, and said, What shall we do with the Arke of the God of Israel? And they answered, Let the Arke of the God of Israel be caried about vnto Gath: and they caried the Arke of the God of Israel about.

9 And when they had caried it about, the hand of the Lord was against the citie with a very great destruction, and he smote the men of the citie both final and great, and they had Emerods in their secret partes.

CHAP. VI.

1 The time that the Arke was with the Philistims which they sent againe with a gift, 12 It cometh to Beth-shemesh, 17 The Philistims offer golden emerods, 19 The men of Beth-shemesh are stricken for looking into the Arke.

So the Arke of  $\bar{p}$  Lorde was in the country of the Philistims: seven moneths.

2 And the Philistims called the Priestes & the souldiers, saying, what shall we do with the Arke of the Lorde: tell vs where with we shall send it home againe.

3 And they said, If you send away the Arke of the God of Israel, send it not away empty, but give vnto it a sinne offering: then shall ye be healed, and it shall be knowen to you, why his hand departed from you.

4 Then saide they, what shal be the sinne offering, which we shall give vnto it: And they answered, Five golde emerods and five golden mice, according to the number of the princes of the Philistims: for one plague [was] on you all, and on your princes.

5 Wherefore ye shall make the similitudes of your emerods, and the similitudes of your mice that destroy  $\bar{p}$  lande: so ye shal give glory vnto the God of Israel, that he may take his hand from you, and from your gods, and from your land.

6 Wherefore then shoulde ye harden your hearts, as  $\bar{p}$  Egyptians & Pharaoh hardened their hearts: Why he wrought wonderfully among them, did they not let them go, and they departed:

7 Nowe therefore make a new cart, and take two milche kine, on whoe there hath come no yoke: and tye the kine to the cart, & bring the calves home from them.

8 Then take the Arke of the Lorde, and set it vpon the cart, and put the iewels of gold which ye gave it for a sinne offering in a coffer by the side thereof, and send it away, that it may go.

9 And take heede, if it go by the way of his owne coast to Beth-shemesh, it is: he that did vs this great evil: but if not, we shall know then, that it is not his hand that smote vs, [but] it was a chance that happened vs.

10 And the men did so: for they tooke two kine that gaue milke, and tied them to the cart, and shut the calves at home.

11 So they let the Arke of the Lorde vpon the cart, and the coffer with  $\bar{p}$  mice of gold, and with the similitudes of their emerods.

12 And the kine went  $\bar{p}$  straight way to Beth-shemesh, and kept one path and lolled as they went, and turned neither to the right hand nor to the left: also the princes of the Philistims went after them, vnto the borders of Beth-shemesh.

13 Now they of Beth-shemesh were reaping their wheate harvest in the valley, and they lift by their eyes, and spied the Arke, & reioyced when they saw it.

14 And the cart came into the field of Joshua a Beth-shemite, and stood still there. there was also a great stone, and they claue the wood of the cart, and offered the kine for a burnt offering vnto the Lord.

15 And the Leuites tooke downe the Arke of the Lord, and  $\bar{p}$  coffer that was with it, wherein the iewels of golde were, and put them on the great stone, and the men of Beth-shemesh offered burnt offering, and sacrificed sacrifices that same day vnto the Lord.

16 And when the five princes of the Philistims had seene it, they returned to Ekron the same day.

17 So these are  $\bar{p}$  golden emerods, which the Philistims gave for a sinne offering to the Lord: for  $\bar{p}$  Ashdod one, for  $\bar{p}$  Gaza one, for  $\bar{p}$  Askelon one, for  $\bar{p}$  Gath one, [and] for  $\bar{p}$  Ekron one.

18 And golden mice, according to the number of all  $\bar{p}$  cities of the Philistims, [belonging] to the five princes, both of walled towines, and of towines unballed, vnto  $\bar{p}$  great [stone] of Abel, where: on they set the Arke of the Lord: which stone remaineth vnto this day in the feld of Joshua the Beth-shemite.

19 And he smote of the men of Beth-shemesh, because they had looked in the Arke of the Lord: he slew euen among the people fiftie thousand men and threescore and ten men. and the people lamented, because the Lord had slaine the people with so great a slaughter.

20 Wherefore the men of Beth-shemesh saide, who is able to stand before this holy Lord God: and to whom shal he go from vs:

21 And they sent messengers to the inhabitants

a They thought by continuance of time the plague would have ceased, & so would haue kept the Arke still.

1 The Arke is brought to Kiriathearim. 2 Samuel exhorteth the people to forsake their sinnes and turne to the Lord. 3 The Philistins fight against Israel and are overcome. 4 Samuel iudgeth Israel.

a Little in the tribe of Iudah, called also Kiriathearim, Josh. 15. 60.

When the men of Kiriathearim came, and tooke by the Arke of the Lord, & brought it into the house of Abinadab in the hill: & they sanctified Eleazar his sonne, to keepe the Arke of the Lord.

2 For while the Arke abode in Kiriathearim, & time was long, for it was twentie yeeres) and all the house of Israel lamented after the Lord.

3 Then Samuel spake vnto all the house of Israel, saying, If ye be come againe vnto the Lord with all your heart, put away the strange gods from among you, and Ashteroth, and direct your hearts vnto the Lord, and serue him onely, and hee shall deliuer you out of the hand of the Philistins.

4 Then the children of Israel did put away Baalim and Ashteroth, and serued the Lord onely.

5 And Samuel saide, Gather all Israel to Mizpeh, and I will pray for you vnto the Lord.

6 And they gathered together to Mizpeh, and drew water and poured it out before the Lord, and fasted the same day, and saide there, we haue sinned against the Lord. And Samuel iudgeth the children of Israel in Mizpeh.

7 When the Philistins heard that the children of Israel were gathered together to Mizpeh, & princes of the Philistins went by against Israel: and while the children of Israel heard that, they were afraid of the Philistins.

8 And the children of Israel saide to Samuel, Cease not to crie vnto the Lord our God for vs, that he may saue vs out of the hand of the Philistins.

9 Then Samuel tooke a sucking lambe, & offered it altogether for a burnt offering vnto the Lord, and Samuel cried vnto the Lord for Israel, and the Lord heard him.

10 And as Samuel offered the burnt offering, the Philistins came to fight against Israel: but the Lord thundered with a great thunder that day vpon the Philistins, and scattered them: so they were slaine before Israel.

11 And the men of Israel went from Mizpeh & pursued the Philistins, and smote them vntill they came vnder Beth-el.

12 Then Samuel tooke a stone and pitched it betweene Mizpeh & Shiloh, and called the name thereof, Eben-ezer, which he saide, hitherto hath the Lord holpen vs.

13 So the Philistins were brought vnder, and they came no more againe into the coastes of Israel: and the hand of the Lord was against the Philistins all the dayes of Samuel.

14 Also cities which the Philistins had taken from Israel, were restored to Israel, from Ekron euen to Gath: and Israel deliuered the coastes of the same out of the hands of the Philistins: and there was peace betweene Israel and the Amozites.

15 And Samuel iudgeth Israel all the dayes of his life.

16 And went about yeere by yeere to Beth-el, and Gilgal, and Mizpeh, and iudgeth Israel in all those places.

17 Afterward he returned to Ramah: for there was his house, and there hee iudgeth Israel: also hee built an altar there vnto the Lord.

1 Samuel maketh his sonnes Judges ouer Israel, who follow not his steps. 2 The Israelites aske a King. 3 Samuel declarer in what state they shoulde be vnder the King. 4 Samuel standing they aske one still, and the Lord willeth Samuel to grant vnto them.

When Samuel was now become old, he made his sonnes Judges ouer Israel.

2 And the name of his eldest sonne was Joel, and the name of the second Abiah [euen] iudges in Beersheba.

3 And his sonnes walked not in his wayes, but turned aside after lucre, and tooke rebwardes, and peruerter the iudgement.

4 Wherefore all the Elders of Israel gathered them together, and came to Samuel vnto Ramah,

5 And said vnto him, Beholde, thou art old, and thy sonnes walke not in thy wayes: make vs now a King to iudge vs like all nations.

6 But the thing displeased Samuel, where they saide, Give vs a King to iudge vs: and Samuel prayed vnto the Lord.

7 And the Lord saide vnto Samuel, heare the voyce of the people in all that they shall say vnto thee: for they haue not cast thee away, but they haue cast me away, that I should not reigne ouer them.

8 As they haue euer done since I brought them out of Egypt euen vnto this day, (I haue forsake me, and serued other Gods) euen so do they vnto thee.

9 Now therefore hearken vnto their voyce: howbeit yet testifie vnto them, and thelme them the manner of the King that shall reigne ouer them.

10 So Samuel told all þ words of the Lorde vnto the people that asked a King of him.

11 And he said, This shalbe the manner of the King that shall reigne ouer you: he will take your sonnes, and appoint them to his charrets, and to be his hozsmen, and [some] shall runne before his charret.

12 Also hee will make them his captaynes ouer thousands, and captaynes ouer fifties, and to eare his ground, and to reape his harvest, and to make instruments of warre, and the things that serue for his charrets.

13 He will also take your daughters and make them apoticaries, and cookes and bakers.

14 And he will take your fieldes, and your vineyardes, and your best Oliue trees, and giue them to his seruants.

15 And he will take the tenth of your seede, and of your vineyardes, and giue it to his Eunuches, and to his seruants, 16 And he will take your men seruants, and your maide seruants, and the chiefe of your yong men, and your asses, and put them to his worke.

17 He will take þ tenth of your sheepe, and ye shall be his seruants.

18 And ye shall crie out at that day, because of your King, whom ye haue chosen you, and the Lorde will not heare you at that day.

19 But the people would not heare the voyce of Samuel, but did say, Nay, but there shall be a King ouer vs.

20 And we also will be like all [other] nations, and our King shall iudge vs, and go out before vs, & fight our battels.

21 Therefore when Samuel heard all the wordes of the people, he rehearsed them in the eares of the Lord.

22 And the Lorde saide to Samuel, Hearken vnto their voyce, and make them a King. And Samuel saide vnto the men of Israel, So euery man vnto his cite.

3 Saul seeing his fathers asses, by the counsell of his seruante goeth to Samuel. 9 The Prophets called Seers. 15 The Lord reuelled to Samuel Sauls coming, commanding him to anoynt him King. 22 Samuel bringeth Saul to the feast.

There was now a man of Benjamin, mighty in polber named Kish, the sonne of Abiel, the sonne of Zeror, þ sonne of Bechorath, the sonne of Aphiah, the sonne of a man of Jemini.

2 And he had a sonne called Saul, a goodly yong man and a faire: so that among the children of Israel there was none goodlier then he: from the shoulders vpwarde he was hie then any of the people.

3 And the asses of Kish Sauls father were lost: therefore Kish saide to Saul his sonne, Take nowe one of þ seruants with thee, and arise, go, and seeke the asses.

4 So he passed through mount Ephraim, and went through the land of Shalishah, but they founde them not. Then they went through the land of Shalim, and [there they were] not: he went also through the land of Jemini, but they found them not.

5 When they came to the lande of Zuph, Saul said vnto his seruante that was with him, Come & let vs returne, least my father leaue [the care] of asses, and take thought for vs.

6 And he said vnto him, Behold now, in this cite is a man of God, and he is an honorable man: all that he saith cometh to passe: let vs nowe go thither, if so be that he can shew vs what way we may go.

7 Then said Saul to his seruante, wel then, let vs go: but what shall we bring vnto the man? For the bread is spent in our vessels, & there is no present to bring to the man of God: what haue we?

8 And the seruante answered Saul againe, and said, Beholde, I haue found about me the fourth part of a shekel of siluer: that wil I giue the man of God, to tell vs our way.

9 (Beforetime in Israel when a man went to seeke an auil were of God, thus he spake, Come, & let vs go to the Seer: for [he that is called] now a Prophet, was in the olde time called a Seer)

10 Then saide Saul to his seruante, wel saide, come, let vs go: so they went into the cite where þ man of God was.

12 And they answered them, & sayd, Pea: lo, [he is] before you: make haste now, for he came this day to the citie: for there is an offering of the people this day in the hie place.

13 When ye shall come into the citie, ye shall find him straight way: yet he come bp to the hie place to eate: for the people will not eat until he come, because he will blesse the sacrifice: & then eat they that be bidden to the feast: now therefore go bp: for euen now shall ye find him.

14 When they went bp into the city, & when they were come into the mids of the citie, Samuel came out against the, to go bp to the hie place.

16 To morrow about this time, I will send thee a man out of the lande of Beniamin: him shalt thou anoint to be gouernour ouer my people Israel, that he may saue my people out of the hands of the Philistines: for I haue looked vpon my people, & their crye is come vnto me.

17 Whē Samuel therfore saib Saul, the Lorde answered him, See, this is the man whom I spake to thee of, he shall rule my people.

18 Then went Saul to Samuel in the mids of the gate, & said, Tell me, I pray thee, where the Seers house is.

19 And Samuel answered Saul, and sayde, I am the Seer: go bp before mee vnto the hie place: for ye shall eate with me to day, and to morrowe I will let thee go, and will tell thee all that is in thine heart.

20 And as for thine asses that were lost thre dayes ago, care not for them: for they are found, and on whom [is set] all the desire of Israel: is it not vpon thee and on all thy fathers house?

21 ¶ But Saul answered, and sayde, Am not I the sonne of Jemini of the smallest tribe of Israel: and my familie [is] the least of all the families of the tribe of Beniamin. wherefore then speakest thou so to me?

22 And Samuel tooke Saul and his seruant, & brought them into the chamber, and made them sitte in the chiefest place among them that were bidden: which were about thirtie persons.

23 And Samuel laide vnto the cooke,

Bring forth the portion which I gaue thee, [and] whereof I said vnto thee, Keepe it with thee.

24 And the cooke tooke bp the shoulder, and that which was vpon it, and set it before Saul. And Samuel sayd, Beholde, that which is left, let it be fore thee, and eate: for hitherto hath it bene kept for thee, saying, Alas I haue called the people. So Saul did eate with Samuel that day.

25 And when they were come downe fro the hie place into the citie, he communed with Saul vpo the top of the house.

26 And when they arose early about the spring of the day, Samuel called Saul to the top of the house, saying, Up, that I may send thee arway. And Saul arose, and they went out, both he, and Samuel.

27 And when they were come downe to the ende of the citie, Samuel laide to Saul, Bid thy seruant go before vs, (for he went but stand thou still now, that I may shew thee the worde of God.

20 And when Samuel had gathered together all the tribes of Israel, the tribe of Benjamin was taken.

21 Afterward he assembled the tribe of Benjamin according to their families, and the family of Kith was taken. So Saul the sonne of Kith was taken, and when they sought him, he could not be found.

22 Therefore they asked the Lord a game, if that man should yet come thither, And the Lord answered, Behold, he hath hid himselfe among the stuffe.

23 And they ran, & brought him thence: and when he stood among the people, he was hier then any of the people from the shoulders backward.

24 And Samuel said to all the people, See ye not him, whom the Lorde hath chosen, that there is none like him among all the people: And at the people shouted and said, God saue the King.

25 Then Samuel told the people the dutie of the kingdome, and wrote it in a booke, and laid it by before the Lorde, and Samuel sent all the people away euery man to his house.

26 Saul also went home to Gibeah, and there followed him a bande of men, whose heart God had touched,

3 And Jonathan smote the garison of the Philistines, that was in the hill: and it came to the Philistines eares: and Saul blewe the trumpet throught out all the lande, saying, heare, O ye Ebreies.

4 And all Israel heard saye, Saul hath destroyed a garison of the Philistines: wherefore Israel was had in adomination with the Philistines: and the people gathered together after Saul to Gilgal.

5 The Philistines also gathered themselves together to fight with Israel, thirtie thousand chariots, and fixe thousand horsemen: for the people was like the land which is by the sea side in multitude, and came by, & pitched in Beth-mesh Eastward from Beth-auen.

6 And when the men of Israel sawe that they were in a strait (for the people were in distresse) the people hid themselves in caues, and in holdes, & in rocks, and in towres, and in pittes.

7 And some of the Ebreies went ouer Iordan vnto the lande of Gad and Gilead: and Saul was yet in Gilgal, all the people for feare folowed him.

8 And he taried seuen dayes, according vnto the time that Samuel had appointed: but Samuel came not to Gilgal, therefore the people were scattered from him.

9 And Saul saide, Bring a burnt offering to me and peace offerings: and hee offered a burnt offering.

10 And alsoone as he had made an end of offering the burnt offering, behold, Samuel came: & Saul went forth to meete him, to salute him.

11 And Samuel said, what hast thou done: then Saul saide, Because I sawe that the people was scattered from mee, and that thou comest not with me the dayes appointed, and that the Philistines liftins gathered themselves together to Michmash,

12 Therefore said I, The Philistims will come doo vne vpon me to Gilgal, and I haue not made supplication vnto the Lord. I was bold therfore and offered a burnt offering.

13 And Samuel sayd to Saul, Thou hast done foolishly: thou hast not kept the commandment of the Lord thy God, which he commanded thee: for the Lord had nowe stablished thy kingdome vpon Israel for euer.

14 But nowe thy kingdome shall not continue: the Lord hath sought him a man after his owne heart, and the Lord hath commanded him to be gouernour ouer his people. because thou hast not kept that which the Lord had commanded thee.

15 And Samuel arose, and gat him self from Gilgal in Gibeah of Benjamin: and Saul nombred the people that were founde with him, about fixe hundred men.

16 And Saul & Jonathan his sonne, and the people that were founde with them, had their abyding in Gibeah of Benjamin: but the Philistims pitched in Michmash.

17 And there came out of the host of the Philistims || three bandes to destroy, one bande turned vnto the way of Ephraim vnto the land of Shual,

18 And another bande turned toward the way to Beth-horon, and the || thirde bande turned toward the way of the coast that looketh toward the valley of Zebodin, toward the wilderness.

19 Then there was no smith founde throughout all the land of Israel: for the Philistims said, Least || Ebreiues make them swords or speares.

20 Wherefore all the Israelites went down to the Philistims, to sharpen euery man his share, his mattocke, and his axe, and his weeding hook.

21 Yet they had a file for the shares, and for the mattocks, and for the picket-forkes, and for the axes, and for to sharpen the goades.

22 So when the day of battell was come, there was neither || sword nor speare found in the hands of any of the people that were with Saul and with Jonathan: but || onely with Saul and Jonathan his sonne was there found.

23 And the garison of the Philistims came out to the passage of Michmash, 14 Jonathan and his armour bearer put the Philistims to flight. 24 Saul bindeth the people by an othe, not to eat till evening. 32 The people ate with the blood. 38 Saul would put Jonathan to death. 45 The people deliuer him.

When on a day Jonathan the sonne of Saul saide vnto the yong man that bare his armour, Come and let vs goe ouer toward || Philistims garison, that is yonder on the other side, but he tolde not his father.

2 And Saul taried in the border of Gibeah vnder a pomegranate tree, which was in Pigron, and the people that were with him, || were about fixe hundred men.

3 And Ahiah the sonne of Ahitub, Ithabods brother, the sonne of Phinehas, the sonne of Eli, was || Lordes Priest in Shiloh, and ware an Ephod: and the people knewe not that Jonathan was gone.

4 Now in the way whereby Jonathan sought to goe ouer to the Philistims garison, there was a sharpe rocke on the one side, & a harp rock on || other side: the name of || one was called Bozez, and the name of the other Seneh.

5 The one rocke stretched from the North toward Michmash, & the other || was from the South toward Gibeah.

6 And Jonathan said to the yong man that bare his armour, Come, and let vs go ouer vnto the garison of these || Philistims: it may be that the Lord will worke with vs: for it is || not hard to the Lord to saue with many, or with fewe.

7 And he that bare his armour, said vnto him, Doe all that is in thine heart: goe where it pleaseth thee: beholde, I am with thee as thine heart desireth.

8 Then said Jonathan, Behold, we go ouer vnto those men, and will thewe our selues vnto them.

13 So Jonathan went vpon <sup>f</sup> his handes and vpon his feete, and his armour bearer after him: and some fell before Jonathan, and his armour bearer slew others after him.

14 So the first slaughter which Jonathan and his armour bearer made, was about twentie men, as it were within halfe an acre of lande which two oxen plowe.

15 And there was a feare in the hoste, [and] in the field, and among all the people: the garison also, and they that went out to spoyle, were afraide themselves: and the earth trembled: for it was stricken with feare by God.

16 Then the watchmen of Saul in Gibeah of Beniamin saw: and behold, the multitude was discomfited, & smitten as they went.

17 Therefore said Saul vnto the people that were with him, Search nowle and see, who is gone from vs. And when they had nombered, beholde, Jonathan and his armour bearer were not there.

18 And Saul sayd vnto Ahiah, Bring hither the Arke of God (for the Arke of God was at that time with the children of Israel)

19 And while Saul talked vnto the Priest, the noyle, that was in the hoste of the Philistims, spread farther abroad, & increased: therefore Saul said vnto the Priest, Withdraw thine hand.

20 And Saul was assembled with all the people that were with him, and they came to the battell: and beholde, euery mans sworde was agaynst his fellowe, [and] there was a verie great discomfiture.

21 Moreover, the Ebrewes that were with the Philistims before time, and were come with them into all partes of the hoste, when they also turned to bee with the Israelites that were with Saul and Jonathan.

22 Also all the men of Israel which had hid themselves in mount Ephraim, when they heard that the Philistims were fled, they followed after them in the battell.

23 And so the Lorde saued Israel that day: and the battell continued vnto Beth-auen.

24 And at that time the men of Israel were pressed [with hunger:] for Saul charged the people with an othe, saying, Cursed be the man that eateth foode till night, that I may be auenged of mine enemies: so none of the people tasted any sustenance.

25 And all they of the land came to a wood, where hony lay vpon the ground.

26 And the people came into the wood, and beholde, the hony dropped, and no man moued his hand to his mouth: for the people feared the Lord.

27 But Jonathan heard not when his father charged the people with the othe: wherefore he put forth the end of his rod that was in his hand, and dipt it in an honie combe, and put his hand to his mouth, and his eyes received sight.

28 Then answered one of the people, and said, Thy father made the people to sweare, saying, Cursed be the man that eateth sustenance this day: and the people were faint.

29 Then said Jonathan, My father hath troubled the land: see now holbe mine eyes are made cleare, because I haue tasted a litle of this hony.

30 How much more, if the people had eaten to day of the spoyle of their enemies which they founde: for had there not bene nowle a greater slaughter among the Philistims:

31 And they smote the Philistims that day, from Bethmuth to Aialon: & the people were exceeding faint.

32 So the people turned to the spoyle, & tooke sheepe, and oxen, and calves, and slew them on the ground, and the people did eat them with the blood.

33 Then men told Saul, saying, Behold, the people sinne against the Lord, in that they eat with the blood. And he said, We haue trespassed: poule a great stone vnto me this day.

34 Againe Saul said, Go abroade among the people, and bid them bring me euery man his ore, and euery man his sheepe, and slay them here, and eat and sinne not against the Lord in eating with the blood. And the people brought euery man his ore in his hand that night, and slew them there.

35 Then Saul made an altar vnto the Lord, [and] that was the first altar that he made vnto the Lord.

36 And Saul said, Let vs go down after the Philistims by night, & spoile them till the morning shine, and let vs not leaue a man of them. And they sayde, tolde him, and sayde, I tasted a little ho-heare of his head fall to the gronde: for hee hath wrought with God this day.

So the people deliuered Jonathan that he dyed not.

46 Then Saul came by fro the Philis-Afterwarde Samuel sayde vnto Saul, The Lorde sent me to anoint thee king ouer his people ouer Israel: now therefore obey the voyce of the wordes of the Lorde.

2 Thus sayeth the Lorde of hostes, I remember what Amalek did to Israel, howe they laid [wayte] for them in the way, as they came by from Egypt.

3 Nowe [therefore] goe, and smite Avnto them, and haue no compassion on them, but slay both man and woman, both infant and suckling, both ore, and 4 ¶ And Saul assembled the people, and nombrd them in Telaim, two hundred thousand footemen, and ten thousand men of Iudah.

5 And Saul came to a citie of Ama-lek, and set watch at the river.

6 And Saul sayd vnto the Kenites,

12 And when Samuel arose early to meete Saul in the morning, one tolde Samuel, saying, Saul is gone to Carmel: & behold, he hath made him there a place, from whence he returned, and departed, and is gone downe to Gilgal.

13 ¶ Then Samuel came to Saul, and Saul layde vnto him, Blessed be thou of the Lord, I haue fulfilled the commandement of the Lord.

14 But Samuel layde, what meaneth then the bleating of the sheepe in mine eares, and the lowling of the oxen which I heare?

15 And Saul answered, They haue brought them from the Amalekites: for the people spared the best of the sheepe, and of the oxen to sacrifice them vnto the Lord thy God, and the remnant haue we destroyed.

16 Again Samuel layde to Saul, Let mee tell thee what the Lord hath layde to me this night. And he layde vnto him, Say on.

17 Then Samuel layde, when thou wast a little in thine owne sight, wast thou not made the head of the tribes of Israel: for the Lord anoynted thee King ouer Israel.

18 And the Lord sent thee on a iourney, and said, Go, and destroy those sinners the Amalekites, and fight agaynst them, vntill thou destroy them.

19 Now wherefore hast thou not obeyed the voyce of the Lord, but hast turned to the pray, and hast done wickedly in the sight of the Lord?

20 And Saul layde vnto Samuel, Yea, I haue obeyed the voyce of the Lord, and haue gone the way which the Lord sent me, and haue brought Agag the King of Amalek, and haue destroyed the Amalekites.

21 But the people tooke of the spoyle, sheepe & oxen, & the chiefest of the things which should haue byn destroyed, to offer vnto the Lord thy God in Gilgal.

22 And Samuel said, hath the Lord as great pleasure in burnt offerings and sacrifices, as wyl the voyce of the Lord is obeyed: beholde, * to obey is better then sacrifice, and to hearken [is better] then the fatte of rammes.

23 For rebellion [is as] the sinne of witchcraft, and transgression is wickednesse & idolatrie. Because thou hast cast away the worde of the Lord, therefore he hath cast away thee fro being King.

24 Then Saul layd vnto Samuel, I haue sinned: for I haue transgressed the commandement of the Lord, and thy words, because I feared the people, and obeyed their voyce.

25 Now therefore, I pray thee, take away my sinne, and turne againe with me, that I may worshipspe the Lord.

26 But Samuel layd vnto Saul, I will not returne with thee: for thou hast cast away the worde of the Lord, and the Lord hath cast away thee, that thou shalt not be King ouer Israel.

27 And as Samuel turned him selfe to goe away, he caught the lappe of his coate, and it rent.

28 Then Samuel layde vnto him, The Lord hath rent the kingdome of Israel from thee this day, and hath giuen it to thy neighbour, that is better then thou.

29 For in deede the strength of Israel will not lie: no repent: for he is not a man that he should repent.

30 Then he said, I haue sinned: but honour me, I pray thee, before the Elders of my people, and before Israel, and turne againe with me, that I may worshipspe the Lord thy God.

31 ¶ So Samuel turned againe, and folloved Saul: and Saul worshipped the Lord.

32 Then said Samuel, Bring ye hither to me Agag the King of the Amalekites: and Agag came vnto him pleasantly, and Agag layde, Truly the bitterness of death is passed.

33 And Samuel sayd, * As thy word hath made women childlesse, so shall thy mother be childlesse among other women. And Samuel bowed Agag in pieces before the Lord in Gilgal.

34 ¶ So Samuel departed to Ramah, and Saul went vp to his house to Gibeath of Saul.

35 And Samuel came no more to see Saul vntill the day of his death: but Samuel mourned for Saul, and the Lord repented that he made Saul King ouer Israel.

1 Samuel is repoyed of God, and is sent to anoyne Dauid.
 7 God regardeth the heart. 13 The Spirit of the Lorde cometh vpon Dauid. 14 The wicked spirit is sent vpon Saul. 19 Saul sendeth for Dauid.

he Lorde then said vnto Samuel, holbe long wilt thou mourne for Saul, seeing I haue cast him away fro reigning ouer Israel: fill thine home with oyle and come, I will sende thee to Jshai the Bethlehenite: for I haue pounded mee a King among his sonnes.

2 And Samuel said, how can I go: for if Saul shall heare it, he will kill me. The Lorde answered, Take an heifer with thee, and say, I am come to doe sacrifice to the Lorde.

3 And call Jshai to the sacrifice, and I will shewe thee what thou shalt doe, & thou shalt anoint vnto me him whom I name vnto thee.

4 So Samuel did that the Lorde bade him, and came to Beth-lehem, and the Elders of the towne were asomied at his coming, and said, Comest thou peaceably?

5 And he answered, yea: I am come to doe sacrifice vnto the Lorde: sanctifie your selues, and come with me to the sacrifice. And he sanctified Jshai and his sonnes, and called them to the sacrifice.

6 And when they were come, he looked on Eliab, & said, Surely the Lorde hath Anointed is before him.

7 But the Lorde said vnto Samuel, Looke not on his countenance, nor on the height of his stature, because I haue refused him: for God seeth not as man seeth: for man looketh on the outward appearance, but the Lorde beholdeth the heart.

8 Then Jshai called Abinadab, and made him come before Samuel. And he said, Neither hath y Lorde chosen this.

9 Then Jshai made Shammah come. And he said, Neither yet hath the Lorde chosen him.

10 Againe Jshai made his seuen sonnes to come before Samuel: & Samuel said vnto Jshai, The Lorde hath chosen none of these.

11 Finally, Samuel laid vnto Jshai, Are there no more children? but these? And he said, there remaineth yet a little one behinde, that keepeth the sheepe. The Samuel laide vnto Jshai, Send and set him: for we will not sit downe, till he be come hither.

12 And he sent, & brought him in: and he was ruddie, & of a good countenance, and comely visage. And the Lorde saide, Arise, and anoint him: for this is he.

13 Then Samuel tooke the horn of oyle, and anointed him in the middes of his brethren. And the Spirit of the Lorde came vpon Dauid, from that day forward: then Samuel rose vp, & went to Ramah.

14 But the Spirit of the Lorde departed from Saul, and an euill spirit sent of the Lorde bered him.

15 And Sauls seruants laide vnto him, Behold now, the euill spirit of God bereth thee.

16 Let our Lorde therefore command thy seruants, [that are] before thee, to seeke a mā, that is a cunning player vpon the harpe: that when the euill spirit of God cometh vpon thee, he may play with his hande, and thou mayest be eased.

17 Saul then said vnto his seruants, Prouide me a man, I pray you, that can play well, and bring him to me.

18 The answered one of his seruants, and said, Behold, I haue seene a sonne of Jshai, a Bethlehenite, that can play, and is strong, valiant & a man of warre, and wise in matters, & a comely person, and the Lorde is with him.

19 Wherefore Saul sent messengers vnto Jshai, & said, Send mee Dauid thy sonne, which is with the sheepe.

20 And Jshai tooke an asse [laden] with bread and a flagon of wine and a kid, and sent them by the hand of Dauid his sonne vnto Saul.

21 And Dauid came to Saul, & stood before him: and he loued him very well, and he was his armour bearer.

22 And Saul sent to Jshai, saying, Let Dauid now remaine with me: for he hath found fauour in my sight.

23 And so when y euill spirit of God came vpon Saul, Dauid tooke an harp and played with his hande, and Saul was refreshed, and was eased: for the euill spirit departed from him.

Now the Philistims gathered their armies to battell, and came together to Shohoh, which is in Judah, & pitched betweene Shohoh and Azekah, in the coast of Dammin.

7 And the shaft of his speare [was] like a weauers beame: and his speare head [weyde] six hundred shekels of yron: & one bearing a shield went before him.

8 And he stode, & cryed against the hoste of Israel, and said vnto the, why are ye come to set your battell in aray: am not I a Philistin, and you seruants to Saul: chuse you a man for you, and let him come downe to me.

Chap. xvi. 1.

12 Nowe this Dauid [was] the sonne of an Ephratite of Beth-lehem Iudah, named Ishai, which had eight sonnes: and this man was taken for an old man in the dayes of Saul.

13 And the three eldest sonnes of Ishai wet and folloved Saul to the battell: and the names of his three sonnes that went to battell, were Eliab the eldest, and the next Abinadab, & the third Shammah.

14 So Dauid was the least: and the three eldest went after Saul.

15 Dauid also went, but he returned from Saul to feede his fathers sheepe in Beth-lehem.

16 And the Philistin dwelue neere in the morning, and euening, and continued fourtie dayes.

17 And Ishai saide vnto Dauid his sonne. Take nowe for thy brethren an Ephah of this parched corne, and these tenne cakes, and run to the hoste to thy brethren.

18 Also carie these ten freshe cheeles vnto the captaine, and looke holue thy brethren face, and receiue their pledge.

19 Then Saul and they, and all the men of Israel [were] in the valley of Elah, fighting with the Philistins.

20 So Dauid rose vp early in the morning, and left the sheepe with a keeper, and tooke and went as Ishai had commanded him, and came within the compasse of the hoste: and the hoste wet out in aray, and shouted in the battell.

21 For Israel & the Philistins had put theselues in aray, arming against armie.

22 And Dauid left the things, which he bare, vnder the handes of the keeper of the cariage, and ran into the hoste, and came, and asked his brethren how they did.

23 And as he talked with them, beholde, the man [that was] betweene the two armies, came vp. [Whole name] [was] Goliath the Philistin of Gath) out of the army of the Philistins, & spake such wordes, and Dauid heard them.

24 And all the men of Israel, when they saw the man, ran away from him, and were sore afayed.

25 For euery man of Israel saide, Saw ye not this ma that cometh by: euen to reuile Israel is he come vp: and to him that killeth him, will the King giue great riches, and will giue him his daughter, yea, and make his fathers houle free in Israel.

26 Then Dauid spake to the men that stode with him, & said, what shall be done to the ma that killeth this Philistin, and taketh away the shame from Israel: for who is this vncircumcised Philistin, that he should reuile the hoste of the liuing God?

27 And the people answered him after this maner, saying, Thus shall it be done to the man that killeth him.

28 And Eliab his eldest brother heard when he spake vnto the men, and Eliab was very angry with Dauid, and saide, why camest thou downe hither: & with whome hast thou left those fewe sheepe in the wilderness: I know thy pride, & the malice of thine heart, that thou art come downe to see the battell.

29 Then Dauid sayd, what haue I now done: Is there not a cause?

c To serue Saul, as chap. 16. vers. 19.

30 And hee departed from him into the presence of another, and spake of the same maner, and the people answered him according to the former wordes.

31 And they heard his words which Dauid spake, rehearsed them before Saul, which caused him to be brought.

32 So Dauid saide to Saul, Let no mans heart faile him, because of him: thy seruant wil go, & fight wth this Philistim.

33 And Saul said to Dauid, Thou art not able to go against this Philistim to fight with him: for thou art a boy, and he is a man of warre from his youth.

34 And Dauid answered vnto Saul, Thy seruant kept his fathers sheepe, & there came a lyon, and likewise a beare, and tooke a sheepe out of the flocke, 35 And I went out after him and smote him, & tooke it out of his mouth: and when he arose against me, I caught him by the beard, and smote him, and slew him.

36 So thy seruant slue both the lyon, and the beare: therefore this vncircumcised Philistim shall be as one of them, seeing he hath rayled on the hoste of the liuing God.

37 Moreover Dauid saide, The Lord that deliuered me out of the pawe of the lyon, and out of the pawe of the beare, he will deliuer me out of the hand of this Philistim. Then Saul sayde vnto Dauid, <sup>m</sup>Goe, and the Lord be with thee.

38 And Saul put his raiment vpon Dauid, and put an helmet of brasse vpon his head, and put a brigandine vpon him.

39 Then girded Dauid his sword vpon his raiment, and began to goe: for he neuer proued it: and Dauid said vnto Saul, I can not goe with these: for I am not accustomed. wherefore Dauid put them off him.

40 Then tooke he his <sup>n</sup>staffe in his hande, & chose him five smooth stones out of a brooke, and put them in his shepherds bag or skrippe, and his sling was in his hande, and he drewe nere to the Philistim.

41 And the Philistim came & drewe nere vnto Dauid, and the ma that bare the shield went before him.

42 Nowe when the Philistim looked about and saide Dauid, hee disdained him: for he was but yong, ruddie, & of a comely face.

43 And the Philistim said vnto Dauid,

Am I a dog, that thou comest to me with stauers: And the Philistim cursed Dauid by his gods.

44 And the Philistim said to Dauid, Come to mee, and I will giue thy flesh vnto the foules of the heauen, and to the beastes of the field.

45 Then saide Dauid to the Philistim, Thou comest to me wth a sword, & with a speare, and with a shield, but I come to thee in the Name of the Lord of hostes, the God of the host of Israel, whom thou hast rayled vpon.

46 This day shall the Lord close thee in mine hande, and I shall smite thee, and take thine head from thee, and I will giue the carkeases of the hoste of the Philistims this day vnto the foules of the heauen, and to the beastes of the earth, that al the world may know that Israel hath a God.

47 And that all this assembly may knowe, that the Lord sauech not with sword nor with speare (for the battell is the Lordes) and hee will giue you into our handes.

48 And when the Philistim arose to come and drabe nere vnto Dauid, Dauid halted and ran to fight against the Philistim.

49 And Dauid put his hand in his bag, and tooke out a stone, and slang it, and smote the Philistim in his forehead, that the stone sticke in his forehead, & he fell groweling to the earth.

50 So Dauid ouercame the Philistim with a sling & with a stone, & smote the Philistim, and slew him. When Dauid had no sword in his hand.

51 Then Dauid ran, and stoode vpon the Philistim, and tooke his sword and drew it out of his sheath, and slew him, and cut off his head therewith. So when the Philistims sawe, that their champion was dead, they fled.

52 And the men of Israel and Judah arose, and shouted, and followed after the Philistims, until they came to the valley, & vnto the gates of Ekron: and the Philistims fel downe wounded by the way of Shaaraim, euen to Gath and to Ekron.

53 And the children of Israel returned from pursuing the Philistims, and spoiled their tents.

54 And Dauid tooke the head of the Philistim, and brought it to Ierusalem, and put his armour in his tent.

57 And when Dauid was returned from the slaughter of the Philistim, the Abner tooke him, and brought him before Saul with the head of the Philistim in his hand.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 The amitie of Jonathan and Dauid. 8 Saul enuiech Dauid for the people that he women gaue him. 11 Saul would haue slayne Dauid. 17 He promised him sperab to wife, but giuech him spiritual. 27 Dauid deliuereth to Saul two hundred fortykins of the Philistims. 29 Saul feareth Dauid, seeing that the Lord is with him.

And when hee had made an end of speaking vnto Saul, the soule of Jonathan was knit to the soule of Dauid, & Jonathan loued him, as his owne soule.

2 And Saul tooke him that day, and would not let him returne to his fathers house.

3 Then Jonathan and Dauid made a couenant: for he loued him as his owne soule.

4 And Jonathan put off his robe that was vpon him, and gaue it Dauid, and his garments, euen to his sword, and to his bowe, and to his girdle.

5 And Dauid went out whither soeuer Saul sent him, and behaued himselfe wisely: so that Saul let him ouer the men of warre, and he was accepted in the sight of all the people, and also in the sight of Sauls seruants.

6 When they came againe, & Dauid returned from the slaughter of the Philistim, the women came out of all cities of Israhel, singing and dauncing to meete King Saul, with timbrels, with instruments of ioy, and with rebeckes.

7 And the women sang by course in their play, and said, Saul hath slaine his thousand, & Dauid his ten thousand.

8 Therefore Saul was exceeding wroth, and the saying displeased him, & he said, They haue ascribed vnto Dauid ten thousand, and to me they haue ascribed but a thousand, and what can hee haue more saue the kingdom?

9 Wherefore Saul had an eye on Dauid from that day forward.

10 And on the morowe, the euill spirit of God came vpon Saul, and hee prophesied in the middes of the house: and Dauid played with his hande like as at other times, & there was a speare in Sauls hand.

11 And Saul tooke the speare, and said, I will smite Dauid [though] to the wall. But Dauid auoyded it vnto out of his presence.

12 And Saul was afrayed of Dauid, because the Lord was with him, & was departed from Saul.

13 Therefore Saul put him fro him, and made him a captaine ouer a thousand, & he went out & in before the people.

14 And Dauid behaued himselfe wisely in all his waies: for the Lord was with him.

15 Wherefore when Saul sawe that he was very wise, he was afrayed of him.

16 For all Israhel & Judah loued Dauid, because he went out & in before the.

17 Then Saul said to Dauid, Behold mine eldest daughter Merab, her I will giue thee to wife: onely be a valiant sonne vnto me, & fight the Lords battels: for Saul thought, Mine hande shall not be vpon him, but the hande of the Philistims shalbe vpon him.

18 And Dauid answered Saul, What an I: and what is my life, or the familie of my father in Israhel, & I should be sonne in lawe to the King?

19 Howbeit when Merab Sauls daughter should haue bene giue to Dauid, she was giue vnto Abiel a Pheolathite to wife.

20 Then Michal Sauls daughter loued Dauid: and they helued Saul, & the thing pleased him.

21 Therefore Saul said, I will giue him her, that the may be a snare to him, and that the had of the Philistims may be against him. Wherefore Saul said to Dauid, Thou shalt this day be my sonne in law in one of the twaine.

22 And Saul commanded his seruants, Speake with Dauid secretly, and saye, Behold, the king hath a fauour to thee, and all his seruants loue thee: be nowe therefore the Kings sonne in lawe.

23 And Sauls seruants spake these wordes in the eares of Dauid. And Dauid sayde, Seemeth it to you a light thing to be a kings sonne in lawe, seeing that I am a poore man and of small reputation?

24 And the Sauls seruants brought him woode agayne, saying, Such wordes

26 And when his seruants tolde Dauid these wordes, it pleased Dauid well, to be the Kings sonne in law: and the dayes were not expired.

1 Because he thought him selfe able to passe the kings request.

m Hearing, Dauid and his followers,

27 Afterward Dauid arose with his men, and went and slewe of the Philistins two hundred men: and Dauid brought their foreskinnes, and they gaue them wholy to the King that hee might be the Kings sonne in law: therefore Saul gaue him Michal his daughter to wife.

28 Then Saul saw, and vnderstood that the Lord [was] with Dauid, and that Michal the daughter of Saul loved him.

29 Then Saul was more and more afraid of Dauid, and Saul became alway Dauids enemy.

CHAP. XIX.

1 Jonathan declared to Dauid the wicked purpose of Saul, 11 Michal his wife saueth him, 15 Dauid cometh to Samu-hen Saul spake to Jonathan his sonne, and to all his seruants, that they shoulde kill Dauid: but Jonathan Sauls sonne had a great fauour to Dauid.

a Before Saul sought Dauids life secretly, but now his hypocritie burthens forth to open crueltie.

2 And Jonathan told Dauid, saying, Saul my father goeth about to slaye thee: now therefore, I pray thee, take heede vnto thy selfe vnto the morning, and abide in a secret place, and hide thy selfe.

b That I may giue thee warning what to doe.

3 And I will goe out, and stande by my father in the field where thou art, and will commune with my father of thee, and I will see what he saith, and will tell thee.

f Ebr. he put his soule in his hand, Iudg. 12.3. chap. 28.21. psal. 119. 109.

4 And Jonathan spake good of Dauid vnto Saul his father, and sayde vnto him, Let not the king sinne against his seruant, against Dauid: for hee hath not sinned against thee, but his workes haue bene to thee very good.

5 For hee did put his life in daunger, and slewe the Philistim, and the Lord brought a great saluation for all Israel: thou sawest it, & thou reioicest: wherefore the wait thou sinne against innocent blood, and slay Dauid without a cause:

6 Then Saul hearkened vnto the bove of Jonathan, and Saul & Ibare, As the Lord liueth, he shall not dye.

c That sauer he pretended outwardly, yet his heart was full of malice.

7 So Jonathan called Dauid, & Jonathan theued him al those words, and Jonathan brought Dauid to Saul, and he was in his presence as in times past.

8 And againe the warre began, & Dauid went out and fought with the Philistins, & slew them with a great slaughter, and they fled from him.

9 And the euill spirit of the Lord was vpon Saul, as hee sate in his house hauing his speare in his hand, and Dauid played with his hand.

d He played on his harpe to mitigate the rage of the euill spirit, as chap. 16.23.

10 And Saul intended to smite Dauid to the wall with the speare: but he turned aside out of Sauls presence, and he smote the speare against the wall: but Dauid fled, and escaped the same night.

11 Saul also sent messengers vnto Dauids house, to watche him, & to slay him in the morning: and Michal Dauids wife tolde it him, saying, If thou saue not thy selfe this night, to morowe thou shalt be slaine.

12 So Michal let Dauid downe through a window: and he went, and fled, and escaped.

e Thus God moued both some & Dauid to accomplish their rage, neither regard to their friendship, God nor man, 13 Then Michal tooke an image, and layed it in the bed, and put a pillow stuffed with goates [haire] vnder the head of it, and covered it with a cloth.

14 And when Saul sent messengers to take Dauid, he said, He is sicke.

15 And Saul sent the messengers againe to see Dauid, saying, Bring him to me in the bed, that I may slay him.

f Behold, how the tyrants to accomplish their rage, neither regard to the friendship, God nor man, 16 And when the messengers were come in, beholde, an image [was] in the bed, with a pillow of goates [haire] vnder the head of it.

17 And Saul said vnto Michal, why hast thou mocked mee so, and sent away mine enemy, that hee is escaped: And Michal answered Saul, He laide vnto me, Let me go, or else I will kill thee.

18 So Dauid fled, and escaped, and came to Samuel to Ramah, and tolde him all that Saul had done to him: & he and Samuel went & dwelt in Ramoth.

g Ramoth was a schole where the woide of God was studied, hence to Ramah.

19 But one tolde Saul, saying, Behold, Dauid is at Ramoth in Ramah.

20 And Saul sent messengers to take

21 And when it was tolde Saul, hee sent other messengers, and they prophesied like wise: againe Saul sent the third messengers, and they prophesied also.

22 Then went he himself to Ramah, and came to a great well that is in Sechu, and he asked, and sayde, where are Samuel and Dauid: and one saide, Behold, they be at Ramoth in Ramah.

23 And he <sup>k</sup> went thither, [euen] to Ramoth in Ramah, & the Spirit of God came vpon him also, & he went prophesying until he came to Ramoth in Ramah.

24 And he stript off his clothes, and he prophesied also before Samuel, and fell <sup>m</sup> downe naked all that day and all that night: therefore they say, *Is Saul also among the Prophets?

CHAP. XX.

2 Jonathan comforteth Dauid. 3 They renue their league. 37 Saul would haue killed Jonathan. 38 Jonathan aduerseth Dauid by thre arrowes, of his fathersurie.

AND Dauid fled from Ramoth in Ramah, & came and laid before Jonathan, what haue I done: what is mine iniquitie: & what sinne haue I committed before thy father, that he seeketh my life:

2 And he saide vnto him, God forbid, thou shalt not dye: beholde, my father will doe nothing great nor small, but he will <sup>l</sup> shewe it me: and why shouldest thou father hide this thing from me: he will not doe it.

3 And Dauid swaie againe and said, Thy father knoweth that I haue sould geate in thine eyes: therefore he thinketh, Jonathan shall not know it, lest he be sould: but in deede, as the Lord liueth, and as thy soule liueth, there is but a <sup>n</sup> steppe betweene me and death.

4 Then saide Jonathan vnto Dauid, whatsoeuer thy soule <sup>o</sup> requireth, that I will doe vnto thee.

5 And Dauid sayde vnto Jonathan, Beholde, to morowe is the first day of the moneth, and I shouldest sit with the King at meate: but let me goe, that I may hide my selfe in the fieldes vnto the thirde day at euen.

6 If thy father make mention of me, then say, Dauid asked leaue of me, that he might go to Beth-lehem to his owne cite: for there is a <sup>p</sup> yearly sacrifice for all that familie.

7 And if he say thus, It is well, thy seruant shall haue peace: but if he be angry, be sure that wickednesse is concluded of him.

8 So shalt thou shewe mercie vnto thy seruant: * for thou hast toynded thy seruant into a covenat of the Lord with thee, and if there bee in me iniquitie, slay thou mee: for why shouldest thou bring me to thy father?

9 And Jonathan answered, God keepe that from thee: for if I knewe that wickednesse were: concluded of my father to come vpon thee, would not I tell it thee?

10 Then sayde Dauid to Jonathan, who shall tell me: how shall I know, if thy father and were thee cruelly?

11 And Jonathan sayde to Dauid, Come and let vs goe out into the field: and they twaine went out into the field.

12 Then Jonathan sayde to Dauid, O Lord God of Israel, when I haue greped my fathers minde to morowe at this time, [or] within this three dayes, and if it be well with Dauid, and I then sende not vnto thee, and shewe it thee,

13 The Lord <sup>q</sup> do so and much more vnto Jonathan: but if my father haue minde to do thee euill, I will shew thee also, & sende thee away, that thou mayest goe in peace: and the Lord be with thee as he hath bene with my father.

14 Likewise [I require] not whiles I liue: [for I doubt not] but thou wilt shewe me the mercy of the Lord, [that I dye not.]

15 But [I require] that thou cutt not off thy mercie from mine house for euer: no, not when the Lord hath destroyed the enemies of Dauid, euery one from the earth.

16 So Jonathan made a bond to the house of Dauid, saying, Let <sup>r</sup> the Lord require it at <sup>s</sup> hands of Dauids enemies.

17 And againe Jonathan swaie vnto Dauid, because hee loued him (for hee loued him as his owne soule)

18 Then saide Jonathan to him, To morowe is the first day of the moneth: and thou shalt bee <sup>t</sup> looked for, for thy place shall be emptye.

19 Therefore thou shalt hide thy selfe three dayes, [then] thou shalt go downe quickly & come to the place where thou diddest hide thy selfe, when this matter was in hande, and shalt remayne by the stone <sup>u</sup> Ezel.

20 And I will shoote three arrowes on the side thereof, as though I shot at a marke.

21 And after I will sende a boy, [saying,] Goe, seeke the arrowes. If I say vnto the boy, See, the arrowes are on this side thee, bring them, & come thou:
for it is well with thee and no hurt, [as] the Lord liueth.

22 But if I say thus vnto þ boy, Behold, þ arrowes are beyond thee, go thy way: for the Lord hath sent thee away.

23 As touching the thing which thou and I haue spoken of, behold, the Lord [be] betwene thee and me for euer.

24 C So Dauid hid him selfe in the fielde: and when the first day of the mo-neth came, the King late to eate meate.

25 And þ king late, as at other times vpon his seate, euen vpon his seate by the wall: and Jonathan arose, and Abner late by Sauls side, but Dauids place was emptye.

26 And Saul laide nothing that day:
for he thought, Some thing hath befallen him, though he were cleane, [or els] because he was not purified.

27 But on the morowle which was the seconde day of the moneth, Dauids place was emptye againe: and Saul said vnto Jonathan his sonne, wherefore commeth not þ sonne of Iſſai to meate, neither yester day nor to day?

28 And Jonathan answered vnto
Saul, Dauid required of mee, [that] hee might go to Beth-lehem.

29 For he laide, Let mee goe, I pray thee: for our familie [offreth] a sacrifice in the cite, and my brother hath sent for me: therefore now if I haue found fauour in thine eyes, let me go, I pray thee, and see my brethren: this is the cause that he commeth not vnto the Kings table.

30 Then was Saul angry with Jonathan, and said vnto him, Thou sonne of the wicked rebellious woman, do not I knowe, that thou hast chosen þ sonne of Iſſai to thy confusion and to the confusion [and] shame of thy mother?

31 For as long as the sonne of Iſſai liueth vpon the earth, thou shalt not bee stablished, nor thy kingdom: wherefore nowe sende and fet him vnto me, for he shall surely dye.

32 And Jonathan answered vnto
Saul his father, & said vnto him, wherefore shall he die? what hath he done?

33 And Saul cast a spear at him to hit him, whereby Jonathan knele, that it was determined of his father to slay Dauid.

34 C So Jonathan arose from the table in a great anger, and dyd eate no meate the second day of the moneth: for he was sorow for Dauid, [and] because his father had reuiled him.

35 On the next morning therefore Jonathan went out into the fielde, at the time appoynted with Dauid, and a little boy with him.

36 And he laide vnto his boy, Runne nowe, seeke þ arrowes which I shoote, and as the boy ranne, he shot an arrowe beyond him.

37 And when the boy was come to the place where the arrowe was that Jonathan had shot, Jonathan cryed after the boy, and sayde, Is not the ar-rowe beyond thee?

38 And Jonathan cryed after þ boy, Make speede, haste [and] stand not still:
and Jonathans boy gathered by the arrowes, and came to his master,

39 But the boy knewe nothing: onely
Jonathan & Dauid knew the matter.

40 Then Jonathan gaue his bowe and arrowes vnto þ boy that was with him, and sayd vnto him, Goe, carry them into the cite.

41 C Alſone as þ boy was gone, Da-uid arose out of a place þ was towarde the South, and fell on his face to the ground, and bowed himselfe three times:
and they kissed one another, and wept
both a while, till Dauid credded.

42 Therefore Jonathan said to Da-uid, Goe in peace: that which wee haue sworne both of vs in the Name of the Lord, saying, The Lord be betwene me and thee, and betwene my seede and be-twene thy seede, let it stand for euer.

43 And he arose and departed, and Jonathan went into the cite.

3 Nowe therefore if thou hast ought vnder thine hande, giue me five [cakes of] bread, or what cometh to hand.

4 And the Priest answered Dauid, and saide, There is no common bread vnder mine hand, but here is halowed bread, if the yong men haue kept themselves, at least from women.

5 Dauid then answered the Priest, and sayde vnto him, Certainly women haue bene separte from vs these two or three dayes since I came out: & the vessels of the yong men were holy, though the way were prophane, and how much more then that [euery one] be sanctified this day in the vessel.

6 So the Priest gaue him halowed bread: for there was no bread there, save the shew bread that was taken from before the Lord, to put hote bread there, the day that it was taken away.

7 And there was the same day one of the seruantes of Saul abiding before the Lord, named Doeg the Edomite, the chiefe of Sauls heardmen.

8 And Dauid saide vnto Ahimelech, Is there not here vnder thine hande a speare or a sword: for I haue neyther brought my sword nor mine harnesse with me, because the Kings busines required haste.

9 And the Priest said, The sword of Goliath the Philistin, whome thou slewest in the valley of Elah, beholde, it is wrapt in a cloth behinde the Ephod: if thou wilt take it to thee, take it: for there is none other saue that here: and Dauid said, There is none to that, giue it me.

10 And Dauid arose & fled the same day from the presence of Saul, & went to Achish the King of Gath.

11 And the seruantes of Achish sayde vnto him, Is not this Dauid the King of the land: did they not sing vnto him in daunces, saying, Saul hath slaine his thousand, and Dauid his ten thousand:

12 And Dauid considered these words, and was sore afraid of Achish the king of Gath.

13 And he changed his behauiour before them, and faimed him selfe mad in their hands, and scrabled on the doores of the gate, and let his spetrel fall downe vpon his beard.

14 The said Achish vnto his seruantes, Lo, see hee the man is beside him selfe, wherefore haue ye brought him to me:

15 Haue I neede of mad men, that ye haue brought this fellow to play mad man in my presence: shall he come into mine house?

CHAP. XXII.

1 Dauid hideth himselfe in a cave, 2 Samp that were in trouble came vnto him, 3 Doeg catcheth Ahimelech, 18 Saul catcheth the Priests to be slaine, 20 Abiathar escapeth.

And therefore departed thence, and faimed him selfe in the cave of Adullam: & when his brethren & all his fathers house heard it, they went downe thither to him.

2 And there gathered vnto him all men that were in trouble and all men that were in det, and al those were bred in misde, and hee was their prince, and there were with him about foure hundred men.

3 And Dauid went thence to Gath in the house of Achish, and said vnto the king of Gath, I pray thee, let my father & my mother come [and abide] with you, till I knowe what God will doe for me.

4 And he brought the before the king of Gath, and they dwelt with him all the while that Dauid was in the hold.

5 And the Prophet Gad sayde vnto Dauid, Abide not in the holde, but depart and goe into the lande of Iudah. Then Dauid departed and came into the forest of Bareth.

6 And Saul hearde that Dauid was discovered, and the men that were with him, and Saul remained in Gibeah vnder a tree in Ramah, hauing his speare in his hande, and all his seruantes stood about him.

7 And Saul said vnto his seruantes, stood about him, heare now, ye sonnes of Beniamin, will I some of Ithai giue euery one of you fields & vineyardes: will hee make you all captaines ouer thousand, and captaines ouer hundredes:

8 That all ye haue conspired against me, & there is none that telleth mee that my sonne hath made a covenant with the sonne of Ithai: and there is none of you that is forry for me, or heareth mee, that my sonne hath stirred by my seruants to lie in waite against mee, as I appeareth] this day.

9 Then answered Doeg the Edomite (who was appoynted ouer the seruantes of Saul) and sayde, I haue the sonne of Ithai when he came to Nob, to Ahimelech the sonne of Abitub.

12 And Saul saide, heare now thou sonne of Ahitub. And he answered, here I am, my lord.

13 Then Saul sayde vnto him, why haue ye conspired agaynst me, thou and the sonne of Jthai, in that thou hast giuen him bitaile, and a sword, and hast asked counsell of God for him, that he should rise agaynst me, and lie in wayte as appeareth this day:

14 And Ahimelech answered the King, and sayde, who is so faithfull among all thy seruants as Dauid, being also the Kings sonne in lawe, and goeth at thy commaundement, and is honorable in thine house:

15 Haue I this day first begun to aske counsell of God for him: be it farre from me, let not the King impute any thing vnto his seruant, nor to all the house of my father: for thy seruāt knew nothing of all this, lesse now more.

16 Then the King saide, Thou shalt surely die, Ahimelech, thou, and all thy fathers house.

17 And the King sayde vnto the Leuites, geants that stood about him, Turne, and slay the Priests of the Lord, because their hande also is with Dauid, and because they knew when he fled, & they did it not to me. But the seruants of the King would not moue their hands to fall by on the Priests of the Lord.

18 Then the King sayde to Doeg, Turne thou and fall vpon the Priests. And Doeg the Edomite turned, and ran vpon the Priests, and slewe that same day fourescore and five persons that did weare a linen Ephod.

19 Also Nob the cite of the Priests finote he with the edge of the sword, both man and woman, both child & suckling, both ore and asse, and sheepe with the edge of the sword.

20 But one of the sonnes of Ahimelech the sonne of Ahitub (whose name was) Abiathar (escaped and fled after Dauid.

21 And Abiathar thelew Dauid, that Saul had slaine the Lords Priests.

23 Abide thou with mee, [and] feare not: for I see that seeketh my life, shall seeke thy life also: for with me thou shalt be in safegarde.

CHAP. XXIII.

David chaſeth the Philistines from Keilah. 13 David departed from Keilah, & remained in the wilderness of Ziph. 16 Jonathan comforted Dauid, 28 Sauls enterprise is broken in pursuing Dauid.

Then they told Dauid, saying, Behold, the Philistines fight agaynst Keilah, and people the barnes.

2 Therefore Dauid asked counsell of the Lord, saying, Shall I go and smite these Philistines? And the Lord answered Dauid, Go and smite the Philistines, & saue Keilah.

3 And Dauids men laide vnto him, See, we be afraid here in Judah, how much more if wee come to Keilah agaynst the hoste of the Philistines?

4 Then Dauid asked counsell of the Lord againe. And the Lord answered him, and said, Arise, goe downe to Keilah: for I will deliuer the Philistines into thine hand.

5 So Dauid and his men went to Keilah, & fought with the Philistines, & brought away their cattell, and smote them with a great slaughter: thus Dauid saued the inhabitants of Keilah.

6 (And when Abiathar the sonne of Ahimelech fled to Dauid to Keilah, he brought an Ephod with him.)

7 And it was told Saul that Dauid was come to Keilah, and Saul said, God hath deliuered him into mine hand: for he is shut in, seeing hee is come into a cite that hath gates and barres.

8 Then Saul called all the people together to warre, for to go downe to Keilah, and to besiege Dauid and his men.

9 And Dauid hauing knowledge that Saul imagined mischief agaynst him, said to Abiathar the Priest, Bring the Ephod.

10 Then said Dauid, O Lord God of Israel, thy seruant hath heard, that Saul is about to come to Keilah to destroy the cite for my sake.

11 Will the lordes of Keilah deliuer me by into his hande: and will Saul come downe, as thy seruāt hath heard? O Lord God of Israel, I beseech thee, tell thy seruāt. And the Lord said, He will come downe.

12 Then said Dauid, Will the lordes of Keilah deliuer mee by, and the men that are with mee, into the hande of Saul: And the Lord said, They will deliver thee by.

13 ¶ Then David and his men, which were about six hundred, arose, and departed out of Keilah, and went whither they could. And it was told Saul, that David was fled from Keilah, and he left off his journey.

14 And David abode in the wildernesses in holdes, and remained in a mountaine in the wilderness of Ziph. And Saul sought him every day, but God delivered him not into his hand.

15 And David saith that Saul was come out for to seeke his life: and David was in the wilderness of Ziph in the wood.

16 ¶ And Jonathan Sauls sonne arose and went to David into the wood, and comforted him in God, 17 And said unto him, Feare not: for the hande of Saul my father shall not find thee, and thou shalt be King over Israel, and I shall be next unto thee: & also Saul my father knoweth it.

18 So they twaine made a covenant before the Lord: and David did remaine in the wood: but Jonathan went to his house.

19 ¶ Then came by the Ziphims to Saul to Gibeath, saying, Doeſt not David hide himselfe by vs in holdes, in the wood in the hill of Hachilah, which is on the right side of Jeshimon?

20 Now therefore O king, come downe according to all that thine heart can desire, and our part shall be to deliver him into the Kings hands.

21 Then Saul said, Be ye blessed of the Lord: for ye haue had compassion on me.

22 So, I pray you, and prepare yet better: know and see his place where he hangeth, & who hath seene him there: for it is said to me, he is subtil, & craftie.

23 See therefore, and know all the secret places where he hideth himselfe, and come ye againe to me with the certaintie, and I will go with you: and if he be in the land, I will search him out through out all the thousandes of Iudah.

24 Then they arose & went to Ziph before Saul, but David and his men were in the wildernesses of Maon, in the plaine on the right hand of Jeshimon.

25 Saul also & his men went to seeke him, and they told David: wherefore he came downe unto a rocke, and abode in the wildernesses of Maon. And when Saul heard that, he followed after David in the wildernesses of Maon.

26 And Saul and his men went on the one side of the mountaine, and David and his men on the other side of the mountaine: and David made haste to get from the presence of Saul: for Saul and his men compassed David and his men round about, to take them.

27 But there came a messenger to Saul, saying, Haste thee, and come: for the Philistins haue invaded the land.

28 Wherefore Saul returned from pursuing David, and went against the Philistins. Therefore they called that place, Sela-hammahlechoth.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 David hid in a cave spareth Saul. 10 He sheweth to Saul his innocencie. 18 Saul acknowledgeth his fault. 22 He causeth David to sweare unto him to be favourable to him.

¶ And David went thence, and dwelt in holdes at En-gedi.

2 When Saul was returned from the Philistins, they told him, saying, Beholde, David is in the wildernesses of En-gedi.

3 Then Saul tooke three thousande chosen men out of all Israel, and went to seeke David and his men upon the rockes among the wilde goates.

4 And he came to the shepercoates by the way where there was a cave, & Saul went in to doe his easement: and David and his men late in the inward partes of the cave.

5 And the men of David saide unto him, See, the day is come, whereof the Lord saide unto thee, Beholde, I will deliver thine enemy into thine hande, and thou shalt doe to him as it shall seeme good to thee. Then David arose and cut off the lay of Sauls garment priuily.

6 And afterwarde David was touched in his heart, because he had cut off the lappe which was on Sauls garment.

7 And hee saide unto his men, The Lord keepe me from doing that thing unto my master the Lords Anointed, to lay mine hand vpon him: for he is the Anointed of the Lord.

8 So David overcame his seruants with these wordes, and suffered them not to arise against Saul: so Saul rose by out of the cave and went away.

9 ¶ David also arose afterwarde, and went out of the cave, and cried after Saul, saying, O my lord the King. And when Saul looked behinde him, David inclined his face to the earth, and bowed himselfe.

4 And Dauid heard in the wilderness, that Nabal had there his sheepe.

†Ebr. droue them away.

† When we kept our sheepe in the wilderness of Idarim.

15 Notwithstanding the men were very good vnto vs, and we had no displeasure, neyther misdeed any thing as long as we were conuersant with them, when they were in the fieldes.

16 They were as a wall vnto vs both by nyght & by day, al the while we were with them keeping sheepe.

†Ebr. is accomplished.

17 Now therefore take heede, and see what thou shalt do: for euill will surely come vpon our master, and vpon all his familie: for hee is so wicked that a man can not speake to him.

†Ebr. bread.

18 ¶ Then Abigail made haste, and tooke two hundredth cakes, and two bottles of wine, and five sheepe readiedressed, and five measures of parched coyne, & an hundredth frames of raisins, and two hundredth of figges, and labed them on asses.

¶ Or, clusters.

19 Then she saide vnto her seruants, Go ye before me: behold, I will come after you: yet she told not her husband Nabal.

g Because she knewe his crooked nature, that he would rather haue perished, then confessed to her entrance.

20 And as shee rode on her asse, shee came down by a secret place of the mountayne, and beholde, Dauid and his men came downe against her, and shee met them.

21 And Dauid said, In deede I haue kept all in baine that this fellowe had in the wilderness, so that nothing was misdeed of all that pertained vnto him: for he hath requited me euill for good.

22 So and more also doe God vnto the enemies of Dauid: for surely I will not leaue of al that he hath, by the dawning of the day, [any] that I perseth against the wall.

h Speaking by this prophesie, that he would destroy both final and great.

23 And when Abigail salued Dauid, shee hastened and lighted off her asse, and fell before Dauid on her face, and bowed her selfe to the ground, 24 And fell at his feete, and said, Oh, my lord, I haue committed the iniquitie, and I pray thee, let thine handmaid speake to thee, & heare thou the words of thine handmaide.

†Ebr. in thine cares.

25 Let not my lord, I pray thee, regard this wicked man Nabal: for as his name is, so is he: Nabal [is] his name, and folie [is] with him: but I thine handmayde salue not the yong men of my lord whome thou sentest.

26 Nowe therefore my lord, as the Lord liueth, and as thy soule liueth (the Lord, [I say,] that hath withholden thee from coming to shed blood, and that thine had should not saue thee) so nowe thine enemies shall be as Nabal, and they that intend to do my lord euill, thine hand mayd hath brought vnto my lord, let it be giuen vnto the yong men, that followe my lord.

That is, that thou shouldst not be reuenged of thine enemy, [Or, present.

28 I pray thee, forgive the trespass of thine handmaid: for the Lord will make my lord a sure house, because my lord fighteth the battels of the Lord, & none euill hath bene found in thee in al thy life.

†Ebr. walke at the feete.

29 Yet a man hath risen by to persecute thee, and to seeke thy soule, but the soule of my lord shall be bound in the bundle of life with the Lord thy God: and the soule of thine enemies shall [God] cast out, as out of the middle of a sling.

k Confirm his kingdom to his posterity. l Ebr. from thy dayes.

30 And when the Lord shall haue done to my lord all the good that hee hath promised thee, and shall haue made thee ruler ouer Israel,

So wilt, Dauid, in God shall perseuer thee long in his service and destroy thine enemies.

31 Then shall it be no grieue vnto thee, nor offence of minde vnto my lord, that he hath not shed blood causelesse, nor that my lord hath [not] preserved him selfe: and when the Lord shall haue dealt well with my lord, remember thine handmayde.

That he hath not asseuaged him selfe, which things would haue commended his conscience.

32 Then Dauid said to Abigail, Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, which sent thee this day to meete me.

33 And blessed be thy counsel, and blessed be thou, which hast kept me this day from coming to shed blood, and that mine hand hath [not] saued me.

o Reade dect. 26.

34 For in deede, as the Lord God of Israel liueth, who hath kept me backe from hurting thee, except thou haddest halted and met me, surely there had not bene left vnto Nabal by the dawning of the day, [any] that perseth against me.

p De attributeth it to the Lords mercie, and not to him selfe that he was stayed.

35 Then Dauid receiued of her hand that which she had brought him, & saide to her, Go by in peace to thine house: behold, I haue heard thy voyce, and haue granted thy petition.

†Ebr. receiued thy face.

36 ¶ So Abigail came to Nabal, and behold, he made a feast in his house, like the feast of a king, & Nabals heart was merry with him, for he was very drunke: wherfore she told him nothing, neither lesse nor more, vntill the morning arose.

q For he had no reason, either to consider, or to giue thanks for this great benefit of deliverance.

¶ Or, soole.

37 Then

37 Then in the morning when the wine was gone out of Nabal, his wife tolde him those wordes, and his heart dyed within him, & he was like a stone.

38 And about tenne dayes after, the Lorde smote Nabal, that he dyed.

39 Now when Dauid heard, that Nabal was dead, he said, Blessed be the Lorde that hath iudged the cause of my rebuke of the hande of Nabal, and hath kept his seruant from euil: for the Lorde hath recompensed the wickednesse of Nabal vpon his owne head. Also Dauid sent to commune with Abigail to take her to his wife.

40 And when the seruants of Dauid were come to Abigail to Carmel, they spake vnto her, saying, Dauid sent vs to thee, to take thee to his wife.

41 And shee arose, & bowed her selfe on her face to the earth, & said, Beholde, let thine handmaid be a seruāt to wash the feete of the seruants of my lorde.

42 And Abigail hastned, and arose, & rode vpon an asse, & her five maydes followed her, and she went after the messengers of Dauid, and was his wife.

43 Dauid also tooke Ahinoam of Jezreel, and they were both his wives.

44 Now Saul had giuen Michal his daughter Dauids wife, to Phalti sonne of Laish, which was of Gallim.

CHAP. XXVI.

1 Dauid was discouered vnto Saul by the Ziphims. 2 Dauid catcht away Sauls speare, & a pot of water that stood at his head. 3 Saul confesseth his finne.

A Gaine the Ziphims came vnto Saul to Gibeath, saying, Doeth not Dauid hide him selfe in the hill of Hachilah before Jeshimon?

2 The Saul arose, & went down to the wilderness of Ziph, hauing three thousand cholen men of Israel w him, for to seeke Dauid in the wilderness of Ziph.

3 And Saul pitched in the hill of Hachilah, which is before Jeshimon by the way side. Now Dauid abode in the wilderness, and he saide that Saul came after him into the wilderness.

4 (For Dauid had sent out spies, and vnderstoode, that Saul was come in very deede)

5 Then Dauid arose, and came to the place where Saul had pitched, and when Dauid beheld the place where Saul lay, and Abner the sonne of Ner which was his chief captaine, (for Saul lay in the forte, and the people pitched round about him)

6 Then spake Dauid, and saide to Ahimelech the Hittite, and to Abishai the sonne of Zeruiah, brother to Joab, saying, Who will goe dole me with mee to Saul to the hoste? Then Abishai layd, I will goe dole me with thee.

7 So Dauid & Abishai came dole me to the people by night: & beholde, Saul lay sleeping within the forte, and his speare did sticke in the grounde at his head: and Abner and the people laye rounde about him.

8 The said Abishai to Dauid, God hath closed thine enemye into thine hande this day: now therefore, I pray thee, let me smite him once with a speare to the earth, & I will not smite him againe.

9 And Dauid said to Abishai, Destroy him not: for who can lay his hande on the Lords anoynted, and be guiltlesse?

10 Hozeouer Dauid said, As for the Lorde liueth, either the Lorde shall smite him, or his day shall come to dye, or he shall defende into battell, and perish.

11 The Lorde keepe me from laying mine hande vpon the Lordes anoynted: but, I pray thee, take now the speare that is at his head, and a pottle of water, and let vs go hence.

12 So Dauid tooke the speare & the pot of water from Sauls head, & they gate them away, and no man saw it, nor marked it, neither did any awake, but they were all a sleepe: for the Lorde had sent a dead sleepe vpon them.

13 Then Dauid went into the other side, & stood on the top of an hill a farre off, a great space being betwene them.

14 And Dauid cryed to the people, and to Abner the sonne of Ner, saying, Hearest thou not Abner? Then Abner answered, and saide, who art thou that cryest to the King?

15 And Dauid said to Abner, Art not thou a man: and who is like thee in Israel? wherefore then hast thou not kept thy lorde the King: for there came one of the folke in to destroye the King thy lorde?

16 This is not well done of thee: as the Lorde liueth, ye are worthy to die, because ye haue not kept your master the Lorde Anoynted: and now see where the Kings speare is, and the pot of water that was at his head.

17 And Saul knewe Dauids voyce, and sayde, Is this thy voyce, my sonne Dauid? And Dauid said, It is my voice, my lord, O King.

b Who was a stranger and not an Israelite.

c Who after wards was Dauids chiefe captaine.

Or, bolster.

18 And hee sayde, wherefore doeth my lord thus persecute his servant: for what haue I done: or what euill is in mine hand:

19 Nowe therefore, I beseech thee, let my lord the King heare the words of his servant. If the Lord haue stirred thee vp against me, let him smell the sa-

22 Then Dauid answered, and said, Beholde the Kings speare, let one of the yong men come ouer and fet it.

CHAP. XXVII.

2 David fleeth to Achish King of Gath, who giueth him Ziklag. 8 David destroyeth certaine of the Philistines. 10 Achish is deceiued by Dauid.

AND Dauid sayde in his heart, I shall nowe pera David vi- sited his Gods protection, and therefore fleeth into the do- lators, who were enemies to Gods peo- ple.
 b Thus God by his pro- mised chageth the enemies hearts, and ma- keth them to fauour his, in more needfull.

2 Dauid therefore arose, and he, and the sixe hundred men that were with him, went vnto Achish the sonne of Maach King of Gath.

3 And Dauid dwelt with Achish at Gath, he, and his men, euery man with his houlholde. Dauid with his two wiues, Ahinoam the Jezreelite, and Abigail Nabals wife the Carmelite.

4 And it was told Saul that Dauid was fled to Gath: so he sought no more for him.

5 And Dauid sayde vnto Achish, If I haue now founde grace in thine eyes, let them giue me a place in some other<sup>c</sup> title of the country, that I may dwell there: for why shoulde thy seruant dwell in the [head] title of the kingdome with thee?

6 Then Achish gaue him Ziklag <sup>f</sup> same day: therefore Ziklag pertaineth vnto the kings of Iudah vnto this day.

7 And <sup>f</sup> time that Dauid dwelt in the country of the Philistines, was foure moneths and certaine dayes.

8 Then Dauid and his men went by, and invaded the <sup>d</sup> Geshurites, and the Gitzites and the Amalekites: for they inhabited the lande from the beginning, [from the way,] as thou goest to Shur, euen vnto the lande of Egypt.

9 And Dauid smote the land, and left neither man nor woman aliuie, & tooke sheep, & oxen, and asses, and camels, and apparel, and returned & came to Achish.

10 And Achish sayde, Where haue ye bene a rousing this day? And Dauid answered, Against the South of Iudah, and against the South of the <sup>e</sup> Jerahmeelites, and against the South of the Kenites.

11 And Dauid saued neither man nor woman aliuie, to bring them to Gath, saying, Least they should tell on vs, and say, So did Dauid, and so [will be] his manner all the while that he dwelleth in the country of the Philistines.

12 And Achish beleued Dauid, saying, He hath made his people of Israel utterly to abhorre him: therefore he shall be my seruant for euer.

CHAP. XXVIII.

1 Dauid hath the chief charge promised about Achish. 8 Saul consulteth with a witch, and the witcher him to speake with Samuel. 18 Who declareth his ruine.

NOWE at that time the Philistines assembled their bands and armie to fight with Israel: therefore Achish sayde to Dauid, See sure, thou shalt go out with me to the battell, thou, and thy men.

2 And Dauid saide to Achish, Surely thou shalt know what thy seruant can doe. And Achish sayd to Dauid, Surely I c Or, against whom.

e Which were a familie of the tribe of Iudah, 1. Chron. 2. 9.

f Or, he doeth surely abhorre his people.

a Albeit it was a great griefe to Dauid to fight against the people of God, yet such was his infor- mation, he durst not denie him,

I will make thee keeper of mine head for ever.

Chap.25.11.

3 ¶ Samuel was then dead, and all Israel had lamented him, and buried him in Ramah his owne citie: & Saul had put away the soothsayers, and the soothsayers out of the land.

b According to the commandment of God, Exod. 22.18. and Deu. 18.10. 11.

4 Then the Philistines assembled them felices, and came, and pitched in Shunem: and Saul assembled all Israel, and they pitched in Gilboa.

5 And When Saul saw the hoste of the Philistines, he was afraide, & his heart was sore astounded.

6 Therefore Saul asked counsell of the Lord, and the Lord answered him not, neither by dreames, nor by Urim, nor yet by Prophets.

c Dreaming, the Urim, Exod. 28.30.

7 ¶ The said Saul vnto his seruants, Seek me a woman that hath a familiar spirit, that I may go to her, and aske of her. And his seruants sayde to him, Beholde, there is a woman at Endor that hath a familiar spirit.

d He seeketh not to God in his miserie, but is led by Satan to unlawful meanes, which in his conscience he condemneeth.

8 Then Saul changed him selfe, and put on other rayment, and hee went, and stood with him, and they came to the woman by night: and hee sayde, I pray thee, coniecture vnto mee by the familiar spirit, and bring me him by whome I shall name vnto thee.

9 And the woman sayde vnto him, Beholde, thou knowest what Saul hath done, howe hee hath destroyed the soothsayers, and the soothsayers out of the land: wherefore then seekest thou to take mee in a snare to cause me to die?

10 And Saul sware to her by the Lord, saying, As the Lord liueth, no harme shall come to thee for this thing.

j Or, punishment.

11 Then sayde the woman, whome shall I bring by vnto thee? And he answered, Bring me by Samuel.

e He speaketh according to his grosse ignorance, not considering the state of the saintes after this life, and howe Satan hath no power ouer them.

12 And when the woman sawe Samuel, shee cryed with a loude voyce, and the woman spake to Saul saying, Why hast thou deceived me: for thou art Saul.

13 And the King sayde vnto her, Be not afraide: for what sawest thou? And the woman sayde vnto Saul, I sawe gods ascending by out of the earth.

f Or, an excellent person. f To his imagination, albeit it was Satan, who to blinde his eyesooke upon him the forme of Samuel, as he can do of an Angel of light.

14 Then he sayde vnto her, what fashion is he of? And she answered, An olde man cometh by lapped in a mantle: and Saul knewe that it was Samuel, & he inclined his face to the ground, and bowed him selfe.

15 ¶ And Samuel sayde to Saul, why hast thou disquieted me, to bring mee by? Then Saul answered, I am in great distresse: for the Philistines make warre against mee, and God is departed from me, and answereth me no more, neither by Prophets, neither by dreames: therefore I have called thee, that thou mayest tell mee, what I shall doe.

h Ebr. by the hand of Prophets;

16 Then sayde Samuel, wherefore then dost thou aske of me, seeing the Lord is gone fro thee, & is thine enemy?

17 Euen the Lord hath done to him, as he spake by mine hande: for the Lord will rent the kingdome out of thine hande, and giue it thy neyghbour Dauid.

g That is, to Dauid, Chap. 15.28. [Or, ministerie]

18 Because thou obeyedst not the voyce of the Lord, nor executedst his fierre wrath vpon the Amalekites, therefore hath the Lord done this vnto thee this day.

19 Whereouer the Lord will deliuer Israel with thee into the handes of the Philistines: and to morowe shalt thou and thy sonnes be with me, & the Lord shall giue the hoste of Israel into the handes of the Philistines.

h He shall be dead, Chap. 31.6.

20 Then Saul fell straight way all along on the earth, and was sore afraid, because of the wordes of Samuel: so that there was no strength in him: for hee had eaten no bread all the day nor all the night.

i The wicked, when they heare Gods iudgements, tremble and despaire, but can not seeke for mercy by repentance.

21 Then the woman came vnto Saul, and sawe that he was sore troubled, and sayde vnto him, See, thine handmayde hath obeyed thy voyce, and I haue put my soule in mine hande, and haue obeyed thy wordes which thou saydest vnto me.

k I haue ventured my life.

22 Now therefore, I pray thee, hearken thou also vnto the voyce of thine handmaide, and let me set a morsell of bread before thee, that thou mayest eate & get thee strength, and goe on thy iourney.

23 But he refused, and sayde, I will not eate: but his seruants and the woman together compelled him, and he obeyed their voyce: so he arose from the earth, and late on the bed.

24 Now the woman had a fat calfe in the house, and shee halsted, and killed it, and tooke floure and kneaded it, and baked of it unleavened bread.

l Because it required halfe.

25 Then shee brought them before Saul, & before his seruants: and when they had eaten, they stood by, and went away the same night.

CHAP. XXIX.

4 The princes of the Philistines cause Dauid to be sent backe from the battell against Israel, because they distrusted him.

So the Philistines were gathered together with all their armies in Apphek: and the Israelites pitched by the fountaine, which is in Izeel.

2 And the princes of the Philistines went forth by thunders, but Dauid and his men came behinde with Achish.

3 Then sayde the princes of the Philistines, what doe these Ebreiues here? And Achish layde vnto the princes of the Philistines, Is not this Dauid the seruant of Saul the King of Israel, who hath bene with me these dayes, or these yeeres, and I haue founde nothing in him, since he dwelt with me vnto this day?

4 But the princes of the Philistines were wroth with him, and the princes of the Philistines layd vnto him, Send this fellowe backe, that he may goe againe to his place which thou hast appointed him, and let him not goe downe with vs to battell, lest that in the battell he be an aduersarie to vs: for wherewith should he obtaine the fauour of his master: should he not be with the heades of these men?

c Would not Saul receiue him to fauour, if he could betray vs?
Chap. 18. 7.
and 21. 11.

5 Is not this Dauid, of whome they sang in daunces, saying, Saul slewe his thousande, and Dauid his tenne thousande?

6 Then Achish called Dauid, and sayde vnto him, As the Lord liueth, thou hast bene vpriight and good in my sight, when thou wentest out and in with me in the hoste, neither haue I founde euill with thee, since thou camest to me vnto this day, but the princes do not fauour thee.

d That is,
was conser-uant with me.

† Ebr. thou art not good in the eyes of the princes.

7 Wherefore nolue returne, and goe in peace, that thou displease not the princes of the Philistines.

8 And Dauid sayde vnto Achish, But what haue I done: and what hast thou founde in thy seruant as long as I haue bene with thee vnto this day, that I may not goe and fight against the enemies of my lord the King?

e This dissimilation can not be excused:
for it grieues
him to goe against the people of God.

9 Achish then answered, and sayde to Dauid, I know thou pleasest me, as an Angell of God: but the princes of the Philistines haue sayde, Let him not goe with vs to battell.

10 Wherefore nolue rise by earely in the morning with thy masters seruants that are come with thee: and when ye bee by earely, as soone as ye haue light, depart.

f Watch them that fled vnto him from Saul.

11 So Dauid and his men rose by earely to depart in the morning, and to returne into the land of the Philistines: and the Philistines went by to Izeel.

CHAP. XXX.

1 The Amalekites burne Ziklag. 5 Dauid's two wiues are taken prisoners. 6 The people would stone him. 8 He asketh counsell of the Lord, and pursuing his enemies recovereth the pray. 24 He deuidereth it equally. 26 And sendeth part to his friends.

But when Dauid and his men were come to Ziklag the thirde day, the Amalekites had invaded vpon South, euen vnto Ziklag, and had a After that he departed from Achish.

smitten Ziklag, and burnt it with fire, and had taken the women that were therein, prisoners, both small and great, [and] slewe not a man, but carried them away, and went their wayes.

b That is, he destroyed the citie.

3 So Dauid and his men came to the citie, and beholde, it was burnt with fire, and their wiues, and their daughters were taken prisoners.

c For they remained in the citie, when the men were gone to warre.

4 Then Dauid and the people that was with him, lift by their doyes and wept, vntill they could weepe no more.

5 Dauid's two wiues were taken prisoners also, Ahinoam the Jezreelite, and Abigail the wife of Nabal the Carmelite.

6 And Dauid was in great sorowe: for the people intended to stone him, because the hearts of all the people were vexed every man for his finnes and for his daughters: but Dauid comforted him selfe in the Lord his God.

d Thus we see, that in troubles and aduersities we doe not consider Gods prouiden-ce, but like raging beastes forget both our owne dutie and contri-tion Gods appointment
ouer vs.

7 And Dauid said to Abiathar the priest Ahimelechs sonne, I pray thee, bring me the Ephod. And Abiathar brought the Ephod to Dauid.

8 Then Dauid asked counsell at the Lord, saying, Shall I followe after this companie: shall I ouertake them? And hee answered him, Followe: for thou shalt surely ouertake them, and recover all.

9 So Dauid and the sixe hundred men that were with him, went, and came to the riuier Besor, where a part of them abode:

e Though God seeme to leave vs for a time, yet if we trust in him,
we shalbe sure to finde comfort.

10 But Dauid and foure hundred men folloved (for two hundred abode behinde, being too wearie to goe ouer the riuier Besor)

11 And

f God by his providence both provided for the necessity of this poore stranger, and made him a guide to Da-uid to accomplish his enterprize.

11 And they found an Egyptian in the felde, and brought him to Dauid, and gaue him bread & he did eate, and they gaue him water to drinke.

12 Also they gaue him a felve figs, and two clusters of raisins: and when he had eaten, his spirit came againe to him: for he had eaten no bread, nor drunke any water in three dayes, and three nightes.

13 And Dauid sayd vnto him, To whom belondest thou: and whence art thou: And he sayd, I am a yong man of Egypt, & seruant to an Amalekite: and my master left me thre dayes ago, because I fell sicke.

14 We roused vpon the South of Chereth, and vpon the coast belonging to Judah, and vpon the South of Caleb, and we burnt Ziklag with fire.

15 And Dauid sayd vnto him, Canst thou bring me to this companie: And he sayd, I sweare vnto me by God, that thou wilt neither kill me, nor deliuer me into the hands of my master, and I will bring thee to this companie.

16 And when he had brought him thither, beholde, they lay scattered abroad vpon all the earth, eating and drinking, and dauncing, because of all the great praye that they had taken out of the land of the Philistins, and out of the land of Judah.

17 And Dauid smote them from the twilight, euen vnto the euening of the next morow, so that there escaped not a man of them, saue four hundred yong men, which rode vpon camels, and fled.

18 And Dauid recovered all that the Amalekites had taken: also Dauid rescued his two wines.

19 And they lacked nothing, small or great, sonne or daughter, or of the spoyle of all that they had taken away: Dauid recovered them all.

20 Dauid also tooke all the sheepe, and the oxen, and they draue them before his cattell, and sayd, This is Da-uids praye.

21 And Dauid came to the two hundred men that were to wearie for to follow Dauid: whom they had made also to abide at the river Besor: and they came to meete Dauid, and to meete the people that were with him: so when Dauid came neere to the people, he saluted them.

22 Then answered all the euill and wicked of the men that went with Da-uid, and sayd, Because they went not with vs, therefore will we giue them none of the pray, that we haue recoured, saue to euery man his wife and his children: therefore let them carie them away and depart.

23 Then said Dauid, Ye shal not doe so, my brethren. With that which the Lord hath giuen vs, who hath preferued vs, and deliuered the companie that came against vs, into our hands.

24 For who will obey you in this matter: but as his part [is] that goeth downe to the battell, so [shall] his part [be], that taryeth by the stuffe: they shal part alike.

25 So from that day forward he made it a statute and a lawe in Israel, vntill this day.

26 When Dauid therefore came to Ziklag, he sent of the praye vnto the Elders of Judah and to his friends, saying, See [there is] a blessing for you of the spoyle of the enemies of the Lord.

27 He sent to them of Beth-el, and to them of South Ramoth, and to them of Jattir,

28 And to them of Aroer, & to them of Siphmoth, and to them of Eshtemoa,

29 And to them of Rachal, & to them of the cities of the Ierahmeelites, and to them of the cities of the Kenites,

30 And to them of Hornah, & to them of Chorathan, and to them of Achach,

31 And to them of Hebron, and to all the places where Dauid and his men had haunted.

vpon Saul and his somnes, and slewe Jonathan, and Abinadab, and Maltchi-thua Sauls somnes.

3 And when the battell went sore against Saul, the archers and bowmen hit him, and he was sore wounded of the archers.

4 Then sayd Saul vnto his armour bearer, Draw out thy sword, and thrust me through therewith, lest I be circumcised come and thrust me through and mock me: but his armour bearer would not, for he was sore afraid. Therefore Saul tooke a sword and fell vpon it.

THE ARGUMENT.

His booke and the former beare the title of Samuel, because they containe the conception, natiuitie and the whole course of his life, and also the liues and acties of two Kings, to wit, of Saul and Dauid, whom he anointed and consecrated Kings by the ordinance of God. And as the first booke containeth those things, which God brought to passe among this people vnder the gouernment of Samuel and Saul: so this second booke declareth the noble acties of Dauid, after the death of Saul, when he began to reigne, vnto the end of his kingdom: and howe the same by him was wonderfully augmented: also his great troubles and dangers, which he sustained both within his house and without: what horrible and dangerous insurrections, yprores, and treasons were wrought against him, partly by false counsellors, fained friends and flatterers, and partly by some of his owne children and people: and howe by Gods assistance he ouercame all difficulties, and enioyed his kingdom in rest and peace. In the person of Dauid the Scripture setteth forth Christ Iesus the chiefe King, who came of Dauid according to the flesh, and was persecuted on euery side with outward and inward enemies, as well in his owne person, as in his members, but at length he ouercometh all his enemies, and giueth his Church victorie against all power both spirituall and temporall: and so reigneth with them, King for euermore.

6 Therefore now the Lord shew mercie and truth vnto you: and I will recompence you this benefite, because ye haue done this thing.

13 And Joab the sonne of Zeruiah, and the seruants of Dauid went out & met one another by the poole of Gibeon: and they fate downe, the one on the one side of the poole, and the other on the other side of the poole.

14 Then Abner sayde to Joab, Let the yong men nolbe arde, and play before vs. And Joab said, Let them arise.

15 Then there arose and went ouer the lue of Beniamin by noniber, which pertained to Ish-boseth the sonne of Saul, and the lue of the seruants of Dauid.

16 And every one caught his fellow by the head, and thrust his sword in his fellowes side, so they fel down together: wherefore the place was called Helkath-hazurim, which is in Gibeon.

17 And the battel was exceeding fore that same day: for Abner and the men of Israel fell before the seruants of Dauid.

18 And there were three sonnes of Zeruiah there, Joab, and Abishai, and Ahabel. And Ahabel was as light on foote as a wilde roe.

19 And Ahabel followed after Abner, and in going he turned neither to the right hand nor to the left from Abner.

20 Then Abner looked behinde him, and sayd, Art thou Ahabel? And he answered, Yea.

21 Then Abner sayd, Turne thee either to the right hand, or to the left, and take one of the yong men, and take thee his weapons: but Ahabel would not depart from him.

22 And Abner sayd to Ahabel, Depart from me: wherefore should I finite thee to the ground: holde then should I be able to holde by my face to Joab thy brother?

23 And when he would not depart, Abner with the hinder end of the speare smote him vnder the fift rib, that the speare came out behinde him: and he fell downe there, and dyed in his place. And as many as came to the place where Ahabel fell downe and dyed, stood still.

24 Joab also & Abishai pursued after Abner: and the sunne went down, when they were come to the hill Ammah, that lieth before Giah, by the way of the wildernesses of Gibeon.

25 And the children of Beniamin gathered them selues together after Abner, and were on an heape and stood on the top of an hill.

26 Then Abner called to Joab, and said, Shal the sword deuoure for ever? knowest thou not, that it will be bitternes in the latter ende: holde long then shall it be, or thou bid the people returne from following their brethren?

27 And Joab sayde, As God liueth, if thou haddest not spoken, surely euen in the morning the people had departed euery one backe from his brother.

28 So Joab blew a trumpet, and all the people stood still and pursued after Israel no more, neither fought they any more.

29 And Abner and his men walked all that night through the plaine, and went ouer Jordan, and past through all Bethzon till they came to Mahanaim.

30 Joab also returned backe from Abner: and when he had gathered all the people together, there lacked of Dauids seruants nineteene men and Ahabel.

31 But the seruants of Dauid had smitten of Beniamin, & of Abners men, [so that] three hundred and three score men dyed.

32 And they tooke by Ahabel, and buried him in the sepulchre of his father, which was in Beth-lehem: and Joab and his men went all night, and when they came to Hebron, the day arose.

1 Long warre betweene the houses of Saul & Dauid. 2 The children of Dauid in Hebron. 12 Abner turneth to Dauid. 27 Joab killeth him.

There was then a long warre betweene the house of Saul and the house of Dauid: but Dauid waxed stronger, & the house of Saul waxed weaker.

2 And vnto Dauid were children borne in Hebron: and his eldest sonne was Amnon of Ahinoam the Jezreelite. 3 And his second was Chileab of Abigail the wife of Nabal the Carmelite: and the thirde, Absalom the sonne of Maacah the daughter of Talmai the King of Gethur.

4 And the fourth, Adoniah the sonne of Haggith, and the fifth, Shephatiah the sonne of Abital.

5 And the sixt, Ithrean by Eglah Dauids wife: these were borne to Dauid in Hebron.

Dauid, Abner made all his poluer for the houſe of Saul.

7 And Saul had a concubine named Riſpah, daughter of Aiah. And Iſh-boſeth ſaid to Abner, wherefore haſt thou gone in to my fathers concubine?

8 Then was Abner very wroth for the words of Iſh-boſeth, and ſaid, Am I a dogs head, which againſt Judah do he we mercy this day vnto the houſe of Saul thy father, to his brethren, and to his neighbours, and haue not deliuered thee into the hande of Dauid, that thou chargeſt me this day with a faulte concerning this woman?

9 So do God to Abner, and more alſo, except, as the Lorde hath ſworne to Dauid, euen ſo I do to him,

10 To remove the kingdom from the houſe of Saul, that the throne of Dauid may be ſtabliſhed ouer Iſrael, and ouer Judah, euen from Dan to Beer ſheba.

11 And hee durſt not mooue anſwere to Abner: for he feared him.

12 Then Abner ſent meſſengers to Dauid, on his behalfe, ſaying, whole is the land: who ſhould alſo ſay, Make covenant with me, and behold, mine hand ſhalbe with thee, to bring all Iſrael vnto thee.

13 Who ſaide, well, I will make a covenant with thee: but one thing I require of thee, that is, that thou ſee not my face except thou bring Michal Sauls daughter when thou commeſt to ſee me.

14 Then Dauid ſent meſſengers to Iſh-boſeth Sauls ſonne, ſaying, Deliuer me my wife Michal, which I married for an hundred ſcore kinnes of the Philiftines.

15 And Iſh-boſeth ſent, and tooke her from her huſbande * Phaltiel the ſonne of Laich.

16 And her huſband went with her, and came weeping behind her, vnto Bahurim: then ſaid Abner vnto him, Go, and returne. So he returned.

17 And Abner had communication with the Elders of Iſrael, ſaying, We ſought for Dauid in times paſt, that hee might be your king.

18 Now then do it: for the Lorde hath ſpoken of Dauid, ſaying, By the hand of my ſervant Dauid I will ſaue my people Iſrael out of the handes of the Philiftines, and out of the handes of all their enemies.

19 Alſo Abner ſpake to Beniamin, and afterwarde Abner went to ſpeake with Dauid in Hebron, [concerning] all that Iſrael was content with, and the whole houſe of Beniamin.

20 So Abner came to Dauid to Hebron, hauing ſixtye men with him, and Dauid made a feaſt vnto Abner, and to the men that were with him.

21 Then Abner ſaide vnto Dauid, I will riſe vp, and go gather all Iſrael vnto my lord the king, that they may make a covenant with thee, [and] that thou mayeſt reigne ouer all that thine heart deſireth. Then Dauid let Abner depart, who went in peace.

22 And behold, the ſeruants of Dauid & Ioaſ came from the campe, and brought a great pray with them: but Abner was not with Dauid in Hebron: for he had ſent him away, and he departed in peace.

23 When Ioaſ, and all the hoſte that was with him were come, men tolde Ioaſ, ſaying, Abner the ſonne of Ner came to the king, and he hath ſent him away, and he is gone in peace.

24 Then Ioaſ came to the king, and ſaid, what haſt thou done: behold, Abner came vnto thee, why haſt thou ſent him away, and he is departed?

25 Thou knoweſt Abner the ſonne of Ner: for he came to deceiue thee, and to know thy outgoing and ingoing, and to know all that thou doeſt.

26 And when Ioaſ was gone out fro Dauid, he ſent meſſengers after Abner, which brought him againe from the well of Striah vnto Dauid.

27 And when Abner was come againe to Hebron, Ioaſ tooke him aſide in the gate to ſpeake with him peaceably, and ſmote him vnder the ſide, that he died, for the blood of Ahaiſ his brother.

28 And when afterwarde it came to Dauids eare, he ſaid, I and my kingdome are guiltleſſe before the Lorde for euery concerning the blood of Abner the ſonne of Ner.

5 Baanah and Rechab slay Ish-bosheth the sonne of Saul. 12 David commaunded them to be slaine.

AND when Sauls sonne heard that Abner was dead in hebron, then his hands were feeble, & all Israel was afrayde.

2 And Sauls sonne had two men that were captaines of bandes: the one called Baanah, and the other called Rechab, the sonnes of Rimmon a Beerothite of the children of Benjamin. (for Beeroth was reckened to Benjamin.)

3 Because Beerothites fled to Gittaim, & sojourned there, vnto this day.

4 And Jonathan Sauls sonne had a sonne that was lame on his feet: he was five yere olde when the tidings came of Saul and Jonathan out of Israel: then his nourse tooke him, and fled away. And as she made haste to flee, the childe fell, and began to halt, and his name was Hephibosheth.

5 And the sonnes of Rimmon the Beerothite, Rechab and Baanah went and came in the heate of the day to the house of Ish-bosheth (who slept on a bed at noone)

6 And beholde, Rechab and Baanah his brother came into the middes of the house, [as] they would haue wheate, and they smote him vnder the fist [rid] and fled.

7 For when they came into the house, hee slept on his bed in his bedchamber, and they knote him, and slew him, and beheaded him, and tooke his head, and gate them away through the plaine all the night.

8 And they brought the head of Ish-bosheth vnto David to hebron, and said to the king, Beholde the head of Ish-bosheth Sauls sonne thine enemy, who fought after thy life: and the Lord hath auenged my loide the king this day of Saul and of his seede.

9 Then David answered Rechab and Baanah his brother, the sonnes of Rimmon the Beerothite, and said vnto them, As the Lord liueth, who hath deliuered my soule out of all aduersitie, 12 Then David commaunded his yong men, and they slewe them, and cut off their hands and their feete, and hanged them by ouer the poole in hebron: but they tooke the head of Ish-bosheth, and buried it in the sepulchre of Abner in hebron.

4 C Dauid [Was] thirtie yere olde when he began to reigne: [and] he reigned fourtie yere.

Chap. 2. 11.

5 In hebron he reigned ouer Iudah * leuen yere, and fixe moneths: and in Ierusalem hee reigned thirtie and thre yeres ouer all Israel and Iudah.

6 C The king also and his men went to Ierusalem vnto the Jebusites, the inhabitants of the land: who spake vnto Dauid, saying, Except thou take away the blinde and the lame, thou shalt not come in hither: thinking that Dauid could not come thither.

c The children of God called doles blinde and lame guides: therefore the Jebusites ment, that they shoulde proue that their goos were neither blinde nor lame.

1. Chro. 11. 6.

7 But Dauid tooke the fort of Zion: this is the cite of Dauid.

8 Now Dauid had said the same day, whosoever smiteth the Jebusites, and getteth vp to the gutters and [smiteth] the lame and blinde, which Dauids soule hateth, [I wil] preffere him: therefore they said, The blinde and the lame shall not come into that house.

10 And Dauid prospered & grew: for the Lord God of hostes [was] with him.

11 C Hiram also king of * Tyrus sent messengers to Dauid, and cedar trees, and carpenters, and masons for walles: and they built Dauid an house.

12 Then Dauid knew, that the Lord had stablished him king ouer Israel, and that hee had created his kingdome for his people Israels sake.

for the oren did shake it.

7 And the Lord was very wroth with Uzzah, and God smote him in the same place for his fault, & there he died by the Arke of God.

8 And Dauid was displeased, because the Lord had smitten Uzzah: and hee called the name of the place Peres Uzzah until this day.

9 Therefore Dauid that day feared the Lord, and said, how shall the Arke of the Lord come to me?

10 So Dauid would not bring the Arke of the Lord vnto him into the citie of Dauid, but Dauid caried it into the house of Obed-edom: a Gittite.

11 And the Arke of the Lord continued in the house of Obed-edom the Gittite, three moneths, and the Lord blessed Obed-edom, and all his household.

12 ¶ And one tolde king Dauid, saying, * The Lord hath blessed the house of Obed-edom, and all that he hath, because of the Arke of God: therefore Dauid went and brought the Arke of God from the house of Obed-edom, into the citie of Dauid with gladnesse.

13 And when they that bare the Arke of the Lord had gone sixe paces, hee offered an ore, and a fat beast.

14 And Dauid danced before the Lord with all his might, and was girded with a lincen Ephod.

15 So Dauid and all the house of Israel, brought the Arke of the Lord with shouting and sound of trumpet.

16 And as the Arke of the Lord came into the citie of Dauid, Michal Saulls daughter looked through a window, and sawe king Dauid leape, and dance before the Lord, and she despised him in her heart.

17 And when they had brought in the Arke of the Lord, they let it in his place, in the middes of the tabernacle that Dauid had pitched for it: then Dauid offered burnt offerings, and peace offerings before the Lord.

18 And alsoone as Dauid had made an ende of offering burnt offerings & peace offerings, hee blessed the people in the Name of the Lord of hostes, 19 And gaue among all the people, [euen] among the whole multitude of Israel, aswell to the women as men, to every one a cake of bread, and a piece of flesh, & a bottell of wine: so all the people departed every one to his house.

20 ¶ Then Dauid returned to blesse his house, and Michal the daughter of Saul came out to meet Dauid, and said, How glorious was the king of Israel this day, which was vncouered to day in the eyes of the maidens of his seruantes, as a foole vncouereth himselfe.

21 ¶ The Dauid said vnto Michal, [It was] before the Lord, which chose me rather then thy father, & all his house, and commanded me to be ruler over the people of the Lord, [euen] ouer Israel: and therefore wil I play before the Lord.

22 And will yet bee more vile then thus, & will be tolde in mine owne sight, and of the very lame maydeseruantes, which thou hast spoken of, shall I be had in honour.

23 Therefore Michal the daughter of Saul had no childe vnto the day of her death.

CHAP. IX.

2 Dauid restoreth all the lands of Saul to Mephibosheth the sonne of Jonathan. 10 He appointeth Ziba to see to the ppytie of his lands.

¶ And Dauid said, Is there yet any man left of the house of Saul, that I may shew him mercie for Ionathans sake?

2 And there was of the householde of Saul a seruant whose name was Ziba, and when they had called him vnto Dauid, the King laide vnto him, Art thou Ziba? And he said, I thy seruant am he.

3 Then the King laide, Remembere there yet none of the house of Saul, on whom I may shew the mercie of God? Ziba then answered the King, Jonathan hath yet a sonne, I amne of his feete.

4 Then the King laide vnto him, where is he? And Ziba laide vnto the King, Beholde, he is in the house of Bachir the sonne of Ammiel of Lo-debar.

5 ¶ Then King Dauid sent, and tooke him out of the house of Bachir the sonne of Ammiel of Lo-debar.

6 Now when Mephibosheth the sonne of Jonathan, the sonne of Saul was come vnto Dauid, he fell on his face, and did reuerence. And Dauid laide, Mephibosheth: And he answered, Behold thy seruant.

7 Then Dauid said vnto him, Feare not: for I will surely shewe thee kindness for Jonathan thy fathers sake, and will restore thee all the fieldes of Saul thy father, and thou shalt eate bread at my table continually.

8 And he bowed himselfe, and saide, what is thy seruant, that thou shouldest looke vpon such a dead dog as I am?

9 Then the King called Ziba Sauls seruant, and said vnto him, I haue giue vnto thy masters sonne all that pertained to Saul and to all his house.

10 Thou therefore, and thy sonnes and thy seruants shall till the lande for him, and bring in that thy masters sonne may haue foode to eate. And Mephibosheth thy masters sonne shall eate bread alway at my table (nowe Ziba had fiftene sonnes, and twentie seruants)

11 Then said Ziba vnto the King, According to al that my lord the King hath commanded his seruant, so shall thy seruant do, that Mephibosheth may eate at my table, as one of the Kings sonnes.

12 Mephibosheth also had a yong lone named Bichai, and all that dwelled in the house of Ziba, were seruants vnto Mephibosheth.

13 And Mephibosheth dwelt in Ierusalem: for he did eat continually at the Kings table, and was lame on both his feete.

4 The messengers of Dauid are vileriously entreated of the king of Ammon. 7 Joab is sent against the Ammonites.

1. Chro. 19. 2.

After this, the * King of the children of Ammon died, and Hanun his sonne reigned in his stead.

a The children of God are not humbled full of a benefice received.

2 Then saide Dauid, I will shewe kindness vnto Hanun the sonne of Nahath, as his father shewed kindness vnto me. And Dauid sent his seruants to comfort him for his father. So Dauids seruants came into the lande of the children of Ammon.

4 Ebr. in thine eyes doth Dauid.

3 And the princes of the children of Ammon saide vnto Hanun their lord, Thinkest thou that Dauid doth honour thy father, y he hath sent comforters to thee: hath not Dauid rather sent his seruants vnto thee, to search the cite, and to spie it out, and to ouerthrow it.

b Their arrogant malice would not suffer them to see the simplicitie of Dauids heart: therefore their counsell runne to the destruction of their country.

4 Wherefore Hanun tooke Dauids seruants, & shaued off the half of their beards, and cut off their garments in the middle, euen to their buttocks, and sent them away.

5 When it was tolde vnto Dauid, he sent to meete them (for the men were exceedingly ashamed) and y King saide, Tarry at Jericho, vntill your beards be growen, then returne.

c That they had defecued Dauids displeasure, for the inuirtue done to his ambassadors. Or, Syrians.

6 And when the children of Ammon saide that they stank in the sight of Dauid, the children of Ammon sent and hired the Aramites of the house of Rehob, and y Aramites of Zoba, twentie thousand footemen, & of King Baacah a thousande men, and of Jithobabel thousand men.

7 And whē Dauid heard of it, he sent Joab, & all the hoste of the strong men.

8 And the children of Ammon came out, and put their armie in aray at the entering in of the gate: and the Aramites of Zoba, and of Rehob, and of Jithob, and of Baacah [were] by themselves in the field.

d These were diuers parties of the countrey of Syria, whereby appeared that the Syrians served, where they might haue entertainment, as now y Syrians do.

9 When Joab saide that the front of the battell was against him before and behinde, he chose of al y choise of Israel, & put them in aray against y Aramites.

10 And the rest of the people he deliuered into the hand of Abithai his brother, that he might put them in aray against the children of Ammon.

11 And he saide, If the Aramites be stronger then I, thou shalt helpe me, and if y children of Ammon be to strong for thee, I will come and succour thee.

12 Be strong and let vs be valiant for our people, & for the cities of our God, and let the Lorde do that which is good in his eyes.

e Here is declared wherefore warre ought to be undertaken: for the defence of true religion and Gods people.

13 Then Joab, and the people that was with him, toynd in battell with the Aramites, who fled before him.

14 And when the children of Ammon saide that the Aramites fled, they fled also before Abithai, and entred into the cite. so Joab returned from the children of Ammon, and came to Jerusalem.

15 And when the Aramites saide that they were smitten before Israel, they gathered them together.

Or, Hadadezer. Or, Euphrates.

16 And y Hadadezer sent, and brought out the Aramites that were beyond the River: and they came to Helam, and Shobach the captaine off hoste of Hadadezer went before them.

17 When it was shewed Dauid, then he gathered all Israel together, and passed ouer Iordan & came to Helam: and the Aramites set themselves in aray against Dauid, & fought with him.

f Meaning, the greatest part.

18 And the Aramites fled before Israel: and Dauid destroyed s leuen hundred charrets of the Aramites, & fourtie thousand horsemen, & smote Shobach the captaine of his host, who dyed there.

g Which were the chiefeest and most principall: for in all he destroyed 7000. 2s. 1. Chro. 19. 1807, the soldiers which were in 700, charrets.

19 And when all the Kings, that were y seruants to Hadadezer, saide that they fell before Israel, they made peace with Israel, and serued them. And the Aramites feared to helpe the children of Ammon any more.

CHAP. XI.

1 The cite Rabbah is besieged. 4 Dauid committeth adulterie. 17 Uriah is slaine. 27 Dauid marieth Bath-sheba.

Ad when the yeele was expired in the time whē Kings go forth [to battell,] Dauid sent Joab, and his seruants with him, and al Israel, who destroyed the children of Ammon, and besieged Rabbah: but Dauid remained in Jerusalem.

h The yeele following a bout y spring time. 1. Chro. 20. 1.

2 And when it was evening tide, Dauid arose out of his bed, and walked vpon the roofof the Kings palace: and from y roofof he saw a woman washing her selfe: and y woman was very beautiful to looke vpon.

b Whetherup on he wold rest at after noone, as was read of Abi-borath, Chap. 47.

3 And Dauid sent and inquired what woman it was: and [one] sayd, Is not this Bath-sheba y daughter of Eliam, wife to Uriah the Hittite?

c Who was not an Israelite boyne, but conuerted to the true religion.

4 Then Dauid sent messengers, and tooke her away: and she came vnto him and he lay with her: (now she was<sup>a</sup> purified from her uncleannes) and he returned vnto her house.

5 And the woman conceived: therefore she sent and told Dauid, and saide, I am with childe.

6 ¶ Then Dauid sent to Joab, saying, Send me Uriah the Hittite. And Joab sent Uriah to Dauid.

7 And when Uriah came vnto him, Dauid demanded him how he doth, and how the people fared, and how the warre prospered.

8 Afterward Dauid saide to Uriah, Go downe to thine house, and wash thy feet. So Uriah departed out of the Kinges palace, and the King sent a present after him.

9 But Uriah slept at the doore of the Kinges palace with all his seruants of his lord, and went not downe to his house.

10 Then they told Dauid, saying, Uriah went not downe to his house: and Dauid said vnto Uriah, Commest thou not from thy iourney: why didst thou not go downe to thine house?

11 Then Uriah answered Dauid, The Arke and Israel, and Judah dwell in tentes: and my lord Joab and the seruants of my lord abide in the open fieldes: shall I then go into mine house to eate and drinke, and lie with my wife: [by] thy life, and by the life of thy soule, I will not do this thing.

12 Then Dauid said vnto Uriah, Carry yet this day, & to morrowe I will send thee away. So Uriah abode in Jerusalem that day, and the morrow.

13 Then Dauid called him, and he did eate and drinke before him, and hee made him drinke: and at euen he went out to lie on his couch with the seruants of his lord, but went not downe to his house.

14 And on the morrow Dauid wrote a letter to Joab, and sent it by the hand of Uriah.

15 And he wrote thus in the letter, Put ye Uriah in the forefront of the battell, and reule ye backe from him, that he may be slaine, and die.

16 ¶ So when Joab besieged the citie, hee assigned Uriah vnto a place, where he knew that strong men were.

17 And the men of the citie came out, and fought with Joab: and there fell of the people of the seruants of Dauid, and Uriah the Hittite also died.

18 Then Joab sent and tolde Dauid

all the things concerning the warre,

19 ¶ And he charged the messenger, saying, When thou hast made an ende of telling all the matters of the warre vnto the King,

20 ¶ And if the Kings anger arise, so that he lay vnto thee, wherefore approached ye vnto the citie to fight: knele ye not that they would hurle from his wall,

21 who smote Abimelech some of Jerubelheh: did not a woman cast a piece of a millstone vpon him from the wall, and he died in Thebez: why went you nie the wall: Then say thou, Thy seruant Uriah the Hittite is also dead.

22 So the messenger went, and came and shewed Dauid all that Joab had sent him for.

23 And the messenger said vnto Dauid, Certainly the men preuailed against vs, and came out vnto vs into the field, but we pursued them vnto the entering of the gate.

24 But the shooters shot from the wall against thy seruants, and [some] of the Kings seruants be dead: and thy seruant Uriah the Hittite is also dead.

25 Then Dauid said vnto the messenger, Thus shalt thou say vnto Joab, Let not this thing trouble thee: for the Lord deuoureth<sup>k</sup> one aduail as another: make thy battell more strong against the citie, and destroy it, and encourage thou him.

26 ¶ And when the wife of Uriah heard that her husbando Uriah was dead, she mourned for her husband.

27 So when the mourning was past, Dauid sent and tooke her into his house, and she became his wife, and bare him a sonne: but this thing that Dauid had done, displeased the Lord.

CHAP. XII.

1 Dauid repoued by Nathan confessed his sinne. 28 The child conceived in adulterie, pereth. 24 Solomon is borne. 26 Rabboah is taken. 32 The citizens are grievously punished.

¶ Then the Lord sent Nathan vnto Dauid, who came to him, and saide vnto him, There were two men in one citie, the one rich, & the other poore.

2 The rich man had exceeding many sheepe and oxen:

3 But the poore had none at all, save one little sheepe which hee had bought, and nourished by: and it greiue by with him, and with his children also, and did eate of his owne morsels, and dranke of his owne cuppe, and slept in his bosome, e Dauid thought that if Uriah laye with his wife, his fault might be cloaked, f Hereby Dauid would couche his conscience, that seeing the felicitie and religion of his seruant, hee would declare himselfe to forgetfull of Gods and inturious to his seruant, g He made him drinke more liberally then he was wont to doe, thinking hereby he would haue lien by his wife.

and was vnto him as his daughter.

4 Nowe there came a stranger vnto the rich man, who refused to take of his owne sheepe, and of his owne oxen to dresse for the stranger that was come vnto him, but tooke the poore mans sheepe, and drested it for the man that was come to him.

5 Then Dauid was exceeding wroth with the man, and sayd to Nathan, As the Lord liueth, the man that hath done this thing, shall surely dye,

6 And he shall restore the lambe fourfold, because he did this thing, and had no pittie thereof.

7 Then Nathan sayde to Dauid, Thou art the man. Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, I anointed thee King ouer Israel, and deliuered thee out of the hand of Saul,

8 And gaue thee thy lordes house, and thy lordes wiues into thy bosome, and gaue thee the house of Israel, and of Iudah, and would moreover (if that had bene to little) haue giuen thee such and such things.

9 Wherefore hast thou despised the commandment of the Lord, to doe euil in his sight: thou hast killed Uriah the Hittite with the sword, and hast taken his wife to be thy wife, and hast flaine him with the sword of the children of Ammon.

10 Now therefore the sword shall neuer depart fro thine house, because thou hast despised me, and taken the wife of Uriah the Hittite to be thy wife.

11 Thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I wil raise vp euil against thee out of thine owne house, and will take thy wiues before thine eyes, and giue them vnto thy neighbour, and he shall lie with thy wiues in the sight of this sunne.

12 For thou diddest it secretly: but I wil doe this thing before all Israel, and before the sunne.

13 Then Dauid sayd vnto Nathan, I haue sinned against the Lord. And Nathan said vnto Dauid, The Lord also hath put away thy sinne, thou shalt not dye.

14 Howbeit because by this deede thou hast caused thine enemies of the Lord to blaspheme, the childe that is borne vnto thee shall surely dye.

15 So Nathan departed vnto his house: and the Lord strooke the childe that Uriahs wife bare vnto Dauid, and it was sicke.

16 Dauid therefore besought God for the childe, and fasted and went in, and lay all night vpon the earth.

17 Then the Elders of his house arose to come vnto him, and to cause him to rise from the ground: but he would not, neither did he eate meate with them.

18 So on the seventh day the childe dyed: and the seruants of Dauid feared to tell him that the childe was dead: for they sayd, Behold, while the childe was alieue, we spake vnto him, and he would not hearken vnto our voyce: howe then shall we say vnto him, The childe is dead, to bere him more?

19 But when Dauid sawe that his seruants whispered, Dauid perceiued that the childe was dead: therefore Dauid said vnto his seruants, Is the childe dead? And they sayd, he is dead.

20 Then Dauid arose from the earth, and washed and anointed himselfe, and changed his apparel, and came into the house of the Lord, and worshipped, and after ward came to his owne house, and bade that they should set bread before him, and he did eate.

21 Then said his seruants vnto him, what thing is this, that thou hast done? thou diddest fast and weep for the childe, while it was alieue, but when the childe was dead, thou diddest rise vp, and eate meate.

22 And he sayd, while the childe was yet alieue, I fasted, and wept: for I said, who can tell whether God will haue mercie on me, that the childe may liue:

23 But now he being dead, wherefore should I now fast? Can I bring him againe any more? I shall go to him, but he shall not returne to me.

24 And Dauid comforted Bathsheba his wife, and went in vnto her, and lay with her, and she bare a sonne, and he called his name Salomon: also the Lord loued him.

25 For the Lord had sent by Nathan the Prophet: therefore he called his name Jedidiah, because the Lord loued him.

26 Then Iobab fought against Rabbah of the children of Ammon, and tooke the cite of the kingdome.

27 Therefore Iobab sent messengers to Dauid, saying, I haue fought against Rabbah, and haue taken the cite of waters.

28 Now therefore gather the rest of the people together, and besiege the cite, to wit, to his priuie chamber.

Thinking by his instant prayer that God would haue restored his childe, but God had otherwise determined.

24 Amnon Dauids sonne delieth his sister Tamar. 29 Ablalom is comforted by her brother Absalom. 29 Absalom therefore killeth Amnon.

NOWE after this so it was,
that Absalom the sonne of Dauid hauing a faire sister, whose name was Tamar, Amnon the sonne of Dauid loued her.

2 And Amnon was so sore vexed, that he fell sicke for his sister Tamar: for she was a† virgin, & it seemed hard to An-mon to doe any thing to her.

3 But Amnon had a friend called Jonadab, the sonne of Shimeah Dauids brother: and Jonadab was a very sub-tile man.

4 Who said vnto him, Why art thou the kings sonne so leane from day to day: wilt thou not tell me? Then An-mon answered him, I loue Tamar my brother Absaloms sister.

5 And Jonadab sayd vnto him, Lie downe on thy bed, & make thy selfe sicke:
and when thy father shall come to see thee, lay vnto him, I pray thee, let my sister Tamar come, and giue me meate, and let her dresse meate in my sight, that I may see it, and eate it of her hand.

6 So Amnon lay downe, & made himselfe sicke: and when the king came to see him, Amnon sayde vnto the king,
I pray thee, let Tamar my sister come, and make me a couple of† cakes in my sight, that I may receiue meate at her hand.

7 Then Dauid sent home to Tamar, saying, Go now to thy brother Ammons house, and dresse him meate.

8 So Tamar went to her brother Ammons house, & he lay downe: and she tooke† floure, and knead it, and made cakes in his sight, & did bake the cakes.

9 And he tooke a pan, and polished them out before him, but he would not eate. Then Amnon sayd, Cause ye euery man to go out from† me: so euery man went out from him.

10 Then Amnon sayd vnto Tamar, Bring the meate into the chamber, that I may eate of thine hand. And Tamar tooke the cakes which she had made, and brought them into the chamber to Amnon her brother.

11 And when she had set them before him to eate, he tooke her, and layd vnto her, Come lye with me, my sister.

12 But she answered him, Nay, my brother, doe not force me: for no such thing† ought to be done in Israel: con-mit not this folly.

13 And I, Whither shall I cause my shame to goe: and thou shalt be as one of the fooles in Israel: now therefore,
I pray thee, speake to the king, for he will not denie me vnto thee.

14 Holdest he would not hearken vnto her voyce, but being stronger then she, forced her, and lay with her.

15 Then Amnon hated her exceedingly, so that the hatred where with he hated her, was greater then† loue. Wherewith he had loued her: and Amnon said vnto her, Up, get thee hence.

16 And she answered him, There is no cause: this euill (to put me away) is greater then the other that thou didst vnto me: but he would not heare her,

17 But called his seruant that serued him, and said, Put this woman now out from me, and locke the doore after her.

18 (And she had a garment of† diuers coulers vpon her: for with such garments were the kings daughters that were virgins, apparellled) Then his seruant brought her out, and locked the doore after her.

19 And Tamar put ashes on her head and rent the garment of diuers coulers which was on her, and layd her hand on her head, and went her way crying.

20 And Absalom her brother said vnto her, Hath Amnon thy brother bene with thee? Now yet be† still, my sister: he is thy brother: let not this thing grieue thine heart. So Tamar remained deso-

32 And Jonadab the ſonne of Shimeah Dauids brother answered & ſaid, Let not my lord ſuppoſe that they haue ſlaine all the yong men of Kings ſonnes: for Amnon onely is dead, becauſe Abſalom had reported ſo, ſince he forced his ſiſter Tamar.

33 Now therefore let not my lord the King take the thing ſo grievouſly, to thinke that all the Kings ſonnes are dead: for Amnon onely is dead.

34 Then Abſalom fledde: and the yong man that kept the watch, liſt vpon his eyes, and looked, and beholde, there came much people by the way of the hill ſide behinde him.

35 And Jonadab ſayd vnto the king, Behold, the Kings ſonnes come: as thy ſervant ſayd, ſo it is.

36 And alſoone as he had left ſpeaking, Beholde, the Kings ſonnes came, and liſt vpon their voyces, and wept: and the King alſo and all his ſervants wept exceedingly ſore.

37 But Abſalom fled away, & went to Talmat the ſonne of Ammihur king of Geſhur: and Dauid mourned for his ſonne euery day.

38 So Abſalom fledde, and went to Geſhur, and was there three yerres.

39 And King Dauid deſired to goe forth vnto Abſalom, becauſe he was pacified concerning Amnon, ſeeing he was dead.

Then Joab the ſonne of Zeruiah perceiued, that Kings heart was toward Abſalom.

2 And Joab ſent to Tekoah, and brought thence a ſubtile woman, & ſayd vnto her, I pray thee, ſaine thy ſelfe to mourne, and now be put on mourning apparell, and anoint not thy ſelfe with oyle: but be as a woman that had now long time mourned for her dead.

3 And come to the King, & ſpeake on this maner vnto him, for Joab taught her what he ſhould ſay.

4 Then the woman of Tekoah ſpake vnto the King, and fell downe on her face to the ground, & did obeſance, and ſayd, helpe, O King.

5 Then the King ſaid vnto her, what aileth thee? And ſhe answered, I am in deepe a widow, and mine husbande is dead:

12 Then y<sup>e</sup> woman said, I pray thee, let thine handmaide speake a worde to my lord the king. And he sayd, Say on.

g Why doest thou giue conseruative sentence in thy sonne Abfalom?

13 Then the woman said, wherefore then hast thou thought such a thing against the people of God? or why doest thou the king, as one which is faultie, speake this thing, that he will not bring againe his banished?

14 For we must needs die, and we are as water spilt on the ground, which can not be gathered by againe: neither doeth God spare any person, yet doeth he appoint meanes, not to cast out from him, him that is expelled.

i For I thought they would kill this mine heere.

16 For the king will heare, to deliuer his handmaide out of the hand of the man that would destroy me, & also my sonne from the inheritance of God.

19 And the king said: Is not the hand of Joab with thee in all this? Then the woman answered, & sayd, As thy soule liueth, my lord the king, I wil not turne to the right hand nor to the left, from ought that my lord the king hath spoken: for euen thy seruant Joab bade me, and he put all these wordes in the mouth of thine handmaide.

20 For to the intent that I should change the forme of speech, thy seruant Joab hath done this thing: but my lord is wise according to the wisdom of an Angel of God to vnderstand all things that are in the earth.

21 And the king sayd vnto Joab, Beholde now, I haue done this thing: go then, and bring the yong man Abfalom againe.

22 And Joab fell to the ground on his face, and bowed himselfe, and thanked the king. Then Joab sayde, This day thy seruant knoweth, that I haue founde grace in thy sight, my lord the king, in that the king hath fulfilled the request of his seruant.

23 And Joab arose, & went to Gehur, & brought Abfalom to Jerusalem.

24 And the king said, Let him turne to his owne house, & not see my face. So Abfalom turned to his owne house, and saue not the kings face.

o Covering hereby his asseruon, and offering some part of justice to please the people.

25 Now in all Israel there was none to be so much payed for beautie as Abfalom: from the sole of his foote euen to the toppe of his head there was noblemish in him.

26 And when he polled his head, (for at euery yeeres end he polled it: because it was to beaue for him, therefore he polled it) he weighed the heare of his head at two hundred shekels by the kings weight.

p Which weighed five pound foure ounces after halfe an ounce the shekel.

27 And Abfalom had three sonnes, & one daughter named Tamar, which was a fayre woman to looke vpon.

28 So Abfalom dwelt there in the space of two yeeres in Jerusalem, and saue not the kings face.

29 Therefore Abfalom sent for Joab to sende him to the king, but he would not come to him: and when he sent againe, he would not come.

30 Therefore he sayde vnto his seruants, Beholde, Joab hath a selde by my place, and hath barly therein: goe, and set it on fire: and Abfaloms seruants let the selde on fire.

After this, Abfalom prepared him charrets and hoxes, and sattu men to run before him.

2 And Abfalom rose by earely, and stood hard by the entring in of the gate: and every man that had any matter, and came to the king for iudgement, him did Abfalom call vnto him, and said, Of what cite art thou: And he answered, Thy seruant [is] of one of the tribes of Israhel.

3 Then Abfalom said vnto him, See, thy matters are good and righteous, but there is no man [deputed] of the king to heare thee.

4 Abfalom said moreouer, Oh that I were made iudge in the land, that euery man which hath any matter or controuersie, might come to mee, that I might do him iustice.

5 And when any man came neere to him, and did him obediace, he put forth his hand, and tooke him, and kissed him.

6 And on this maner did Abfalom to all Israhel, that came to him for iudgement: so Abfalom stale the hearts of the men of Israhel.

7 And after fourtie yerres, Abfalom saide vnto the king, I pray thee, let me goe to hebron, and render my vowe which I haue bowed vnto the Lord.

8 For thy seruāt bowed a bow when I remained at Geshur, in Aram, saying, If the Lord shal bring me againe in deede to Ierusalem, I will serue the Lord.

9 And the king saide vnto him, Go in peace. So he arose, and went to hebron.

10 The Abfalom sent spies through out al the tribes of Israhel, saying, when ye heare the sounde of the trumpet, ye shall say, Abfalom reigneth in hebron.

11 And with Abfalom went two hundred men out of Ierusalem, that were called: and they went in their similitie, knowing nothing.

12 Also Abfalom sent for Abithophel the Gilonite Dauds counsellor, from his cite Giloh, while he offered sacrifices: and the treason was great: for the people increased still with Abfalom.

13 Then came a messenger to Daud, saying, The hearts of the men of Israhel are turned after Abfalom.

14 Then Daud saide vnto all his seruants that were with him at Ierusalem, Up, and let vs flee: for we shall not escape from Abfalom: make speede to depart, lest hee come sodenly and take vs, and bring euil vpon vs, and finite the cite with the edge of the sword.

15 And the kings seruants saide vnto him, Behold, thy seruants are ready to do according to all that my lord the king shall appoint.

16 So the king departed and all his houtholde after him, and the king left ten concubines to keepe the house.

17 And the king went forth and all the people after him, and taried in a place farre off.

18 And all his seruants went about him, and all the Cherethites and all the Pelethites and all the Gittites, [euery] lixe hundred men which were come after him from Gath, went before him.

19 Then saide the king to Jitai the Gittite, wherefore comest thou also with vs: Returne and abide with the king, for thou art a stranger: depart thou therefore to thy place.

20 Thou camest yester day, & should I cause thee to wander to day, & go with vs: I will go whither I can: therefore returne thou, and carry againe thy brethren: mercy and truth be with thee.

21 And Jitai answered the king, and said, As the Lord liueth, and as my lord the king liueth, in what place my lord the king shall be, whether in death or life, euery there surely wil thy seruāt be.

22 Then Daud saide to Jitai, Come, and go forward. And Jitai the Gittite went, and all his men, and all the children that were with him.

23 And all the countrey wept with a loude voyce, and all the people went forward, but the king passed ouer the brooke Kidron: and all the people went ouer toward the way of the wilderness.

29 Zadok therefore and Abiathar carried the Arke of God againe to Ierusalem, and they taried there.

36 Behold, there are with them their two sonnes: Abimaaz Zadoks sonne, and Jonathan Abiathars sonne: by them also shall ye sende me euery thing that ye can heare.

37 So Hushai Dauids friend went into the citie: and Absalom came into Ierusalem.

1 The insurrection of Ziba, 5 Shimei curseth Dauid, 16 What cometh to Absalom, 21 The counsell of Ahithophel for the concubines.

¶ When Dauid was a little past the top of the hill, beholde, Ziba the seruant of Gephiboseth met him with a couple of asses laden, and vpon them two hundred [cakes] of bread, and an hundred bunches of raisins, and an hundred of dried figges, and a bottell of wine.

¶ Which was the hill of Olives, Chap. 15. 30.

2 And the king said vnto Ziba, what meanest thou by these? And Ziba said, They be asses for the kings household to ride on, and bread and dried figges for the young men to eat, and wine, that the faint may drinke in the wilderness.

¶ Or, figge cakes.

3 And the king said, But where is thy masters sonne? Then Ziba answered the king, Beholde, he remaineth in Ierusalem: for he saide, This day shall the house of Israel restore me my kingdom of my father.

¶ Commonly there are no lesse traitours then they, which vnder pretence of friendship are enuieous.

4 Then saide the king to Ziba, Beholde, thine are all that pertained vnto Gephiboseth. And Ziba saide, I beseech thee, let me finde grace in thy sight, my lord, O king.

6 And he cast stones at Dauid, and at all the seruants of king Dauid: and all the people, and all the men of warre [were] on his right hand, & on his left.

my life: then how much more now may this sonne of Jemini: Suffer him to curse: for the Lord hath bidden him.

12 It may be that the Lord wil looke on mine affliction, and do me good for his curling this day.

13 And as Dauid and his men went by the way, Shimei went by the side of the mountaine ouer against him, and cursed as hee went, and threw stones against him, and cast dust.

14 Then came the king and all the people that were with him wearie, and refreshed them selues there.

15 And Abalom, and all the people, the men of Israel came to Jerusalem, and Ahithophel with him.

16 And when Hushai the Archite Dauids friende was come vnto Abalom, Hushai saide vnto Abalom, God saue the king, God saue the king.

17 Then Abalom said to Hushai, Is this thy kindenes to thy friend: why wentest thou not with thy friend:

18 Hushai then answered vnto Abalom, Nay, but whom the Lord, and this people, and all the men of Israel chuse, his wil I be, and with him wil I dwell.

19 And moreover vnto whom shal I do seruice: not to his sonne: as I serued before thy father, so will I before thee.

20 Then spake Abalom to Ahithophel, Giue counsell what we shall do.

21 And Ahithophel said vnto Abalom, Go in to thy fathers concubines, which he hath left to keepe house: and when all Israel shall heare, that thou art abhorred of thy father, the hands of all that are with thee, shalbe strong.

22 So they spread Abalom a tent vpon the top of the house, and Abalom went in to his fathers concubines in the sight of all Israel.

23 And the counsell of Ahithophel which he counseiled in those dayes, was like as one had asked counsell at the oracle of God: so was all the counsell of Ahithophel both with Dauid & with Abalom.

CHAP. XVII.

7 Ahithophels counsell is ouerthrowen by Hushai. 14 The Lord had so ordered, 19 The Priests sonnes are hid in the well. 22 Dauid goeth ouer Jordan. 23 Ahithophel hanged himselfe. 27 They bring victuals to Dauid.

Moreouer Ahithophel saide to Abalom, Let me chuse out nowe twelue thousand men, and I will bp and follow after Dauid this night.

2 And I will come vpon him: for he is wearie, and weake handed: so I will fearce him, and all the people that are with him, shal flee, and I will smite the king onely.

3 And I will bring againe all the people vnto thee, when all shall returne, the man whome thou seekest [being slaine] all the people shall be in peace.

4 And the saying pleased Abalom well, and all the Elders of Israel.

5 Then said Abalom, Call now Hushai the Archite also, and let vs heare likewise what he saith.

6 So when Hushai came to Abalom, Abalom spake vnto him, saying, Ahithophel hath spoken thus: shall we do after his saying, or no: tell thou.

7 Hushai then answered vnto Abalom, The counsell that Ahithophel hath giuen, is not good at this time.

8 For, said Hushai, thou knowest thy father, and his men, that they be strong men, and are chased in minde as a beare robbed of her whelpes in the field: also thy father is a balliant warriour, and will not lodge with the people.

9 Behold, he is hid now in some caue, or in some place: & though some of them be ouerthrowen at the first, yet the people shal heare, and say, The people that follow Abalom, be ouerthrowen.

10 Then he also that is balliant whose heart is as heart of a lion, shal shrinke and faint: for all Israel knoweth that thy father is balliant, and they which be with him, stout men.

11 Therefore my counsell is, that all Israel be gathered vnto thee, from Dan euen to Beer-sheba as the land of the sea in number, and that thou go to battell in thine owne person.

12 So shall we come vpon him in some place, where we shall finde him, and we wil vpon him as the dewe falleth on the ground: and of all the men that are with him, we will not leaue him one.

13 Moreover if hee be gotten into a citie, then shall all the men of Israel bring ropes to that citie, and we will drawe it into the riuer, vntill there be not one small stone found there.

14 Then Abalom and all the men of Israel saide, The counsell of Hushai the Archite is better, then the counsell of Ahithophel: for the Lord had determined to destroy the good counsell of Ahithophel, that the Lord might bring euill vpon Abalom.

15 Then said Hushai vnto Zadok and to Abiathar the Priests, Of this and of this, D.D.iii. that 16 Now therefore send quickly, and shewe Dauid saying, Forie not this night in the fieldes of the wilderness, but rather get thee ouer, lest the king be deuoured & all the people that are with him.

17 ¶ Now Jonathan and Ahimaaz abode by En-rogel: (for they might not be seene to come into the citie) & a maide went, and tolde them, and they went and shewed king Dauid.

18 Neuerthelesse a young man sawe them, and tolde it to Abfalom. therefore they both departed quickly, and came to a mans house in Bahurin, who had a well in his court, into the which they went downe.

19 And the wife tooke and spied a co- uering ouer the welles mouth, and spied grounde to the thereon, that the thing should not be knowen.

20 And when Abfaloms seruants came to the wife into y<sup>e</sup> house, they said, where is Ahimaaz and Jonathan? And the woman answered them, They be gone ouer the brooke of water. And when they had sought them, and coulde not finde them, they returned to Jerusalem.

21 And alsoone as they were departed, the other came out of the well, and went and tolde king Dauid, and said vnto him, Up and get you quickly ouer the water: for such counsell hath Ahithophel giuen against you.

22 Then Dauid arose, & all the people that were with him, and they went ouer Jordan<sup>1</sup> untill the dawning of the day, so that there lacked not one of them, that was not come ouer Jordan.

23 ¶ Nowe when Ahithophel sawe that his counsell was not folloved, he sabled his asse, and arose, and hee went home vnto his citie, & put his householde in order, and hanged himselfe, and died, and was buried in his fathers graue.

24 ¶ Then Dauid came to Bahanaim. And Abfalom passed ouer Jordan, he, and all the men of Israel with him.

25 And Abfalom made Amasa captain of the hoste in the steade of Joab: which Amasa was a mans sone named Jethra an Israelite, that went into Abigail the daughter of Nabal, sister to Zeruah Joabs mother.

26 So Israel and Abfalom pitched in the land of Gilead.

When Dauid nombred y<sup>e</sup> people that were with him, a set ouer them captaines of thousands, and captaines of hundredes.

2 And Dauid sent forth the thirde part of the people vnder the hand of Joab, and the thirde part vnder the hande of Abihai Joabs brother the sonne of Zeruah: and the other thirde part vnder the hand of Ittai the Gittite, and the king said vnto the people, I will goe with you my selfe also.

3 But the people answered, Thou shalt not goe forth: for if we flee away, they will not regard vs, neither will they passe for vs, though halfe of vs were slaine: but thou art nowe worth ten thousande of vs: therefore now it is better that thou succour vs out of the citie.

4 Then y<sup>e</sup> king said vnto them, What seemeth you best, that I will do. So the king stoode by the gate side, and all the people came out by hundredes and by thousands.

5 And the king commaunded Joab and Abihai, & Ittai, saying, Entreat y<sup>e</sup> young man Abfalom gently for my sake. and all the people heard when the king gaue all the captaines charge concerning Abfalom.

6 So the people went out into the field to meete Israel, and the battel was in the wood of Ephraim:

7 where the people of Israel were slaine before the seruants of Dauid: so there was a great slaughter that day, [euen] of twentie thousand.

8 ¶ For the battel was scattered ouer all the countrey: and the wood deuoured much more people that day, then did the sword.

n Who was also called Ittai Dauids father.

o God sheweth himselfe most libellal to his, when they seeme to be utterly destitute.

a For certaine of the Rubenites, Gadites and of the halfe tribe, could not beare the insolencie of the sonne against the father, and therefore ioynd with Dauid.

b Signifying, that a good gouernour ought to be so deare vnto his people, that they will rather lose their liues, then that ought should come vnto him.

c So called, because the Ephraimites (as some say) fed their cattell beyond Jordan in this wood.

9 Now Abſalom met the ſervants of Dauid, and Abſalom rode vpon a mule, and the mule came vnder a great thicke oke: and his head caught hold of the oke, and hee was taken vp † betwene the heauen and the earth: and the mule that was vnder him went away.

10 And one that ſawe it, tolde Joab, ſaying, Beholde, I ſawe Abſalom hanged in an oke.

11 Then Joab ſaid vnto the man that tolde him, And haſt thou in deede ſeene: why then diſeſt not thou there ſinite him to the ground, and I woulde haue giuen thee ten * [ſhekels] of ſiluer, and a girdle:

12 Then the man ſaide vnto Joab, Though I ſhould † receive a thouſand [ſhekels] of ſiluer in mine hand, yet woulde I not lay mine hand vpon the kings ſonne: for in our hearing the king charged thee, and Abithai, and Ittai, ſaying, Beware, leſt any [touch] the yong man Abſalom.

13 If I had done it, [it had bene] † the danger of my life: for nothing can be hid from the king: yea, thou thy ſelfe wouldeſt haue bene againſt me.

14 Then ſaide Joab, I will not thus tary with thee. And he tooke three darts in his hand, and thruſt them † through Abſalom, while he was yet alive in the middes of the oke.

15 And ten ſervants that bare Joabs armour, compaſſed about & ſinote Abſalom, and ſlew him.

16 Then Joab <sup>d</sup> blew the trumpet, and the people returned fro purſuing after Iſrael: for Joab held backe people.

17 And they tooke Abſalom, and caſt him into a great <sup>e</sup> pit in the wood, and layed a mightie great heape of ſtones vpon him: and all Iſrael fled euery one to his tent.

18 Now Abſalom in his life time had taken & reared him by a pillar, which is in the kings dale: for he ſaid, I haue no ſonne to keepe my name in remembrance, and hee called the pillar after his owne name, and it is called vnto this day, Abſaloms place.

19 Then ſaide Ahimaaz the ſonne of Zadok, I pray thee, let me run, and beare the king tidings that the Lorde hath † deliuered him out of the hand of his enemies.

20 And Joab ſaide vnto him, Thou ſhalt not be the meſſenger to day, but thou ſhalt beare tidings another time, but to day thou ſhalt beare none: for the kings ſonne is dead.

21 Then ſaid Joab to Cuſhi, Go, tell the king, what thou haſt ſeene. And Cuſhi bowed himſelfe vnto Joab, & came.

22 Then ſaide Ahimaaz the ſonne of Zadok againe to Joab, What, I pray thee, if I alſo runne after Cuſhi: And Joab ſaide, wherefore woldeſt thou runne, my ſonne, ſeeing that thou haſt no tidings to bring:

23 Yet what if I runne: Then he ſaid vnto him, Runne. So Ahimaaz ran by the way of <sup>h</sup> plaine, & ouerwent Cuſhi.

24 Now Dauid ſate betwene <sup>h</sup> two gates. And the watchman went to the top of the gate vpon the wall, and liſt by his eyes, and ſawe, and beholde, a man came running alone.

25 And the watchman cryed, and told the king. And † he ſaide, if he be alone, † he bringeth tidings. And hee came apace, and drew neere.

26 And the watchman ſawe another man running, and the watchman called vnto the porter, and ſaid, Behold, [another] man runneth alone. And the king ſaid, he alſo bringeth tidings.

27 And the watchman ſaid, † He thinketh the running of the formoſt [is] like the running of Ahimaaz the ſonne of Zadok. Then the king ſaide, hee is a good man, and commeth with good tidings.

28 And Ahimaaz called, and ſaid vnto the king, Peace [be with thee]: and he fell downe to the earth vpon his face before the king, and ſaide, Bleſſed be the Lord thy God, who hath † ſhut vp the men that liſt by their hands againſt my lord the king.

29 And † he ſaid, Is the yong man Abſalom ſafe: And Ahimaaz answered, when Joab ſent † ſervant, and [me] thy ſervant I ſaw a great tumult, but I knew not what.

30 And the king ſaid vnto him, Turne aſide, & ſtand here, ſo he turned aſide and ſtood ſtill.

31 And beholde, Cuſhi came, and Cuſhi ſaid, † Tidings, my lord the king: for the Lorde hath deliuered thee this day out of the hand of all that roſe againſt thee.

32 Then the king ſaid vnto Cuſhi, Is the yong man Abſalom ſafe: And Cuſhi answered, The enemies of my lord the king, and all that riſe againſt thee to do thee hurt, be as that yong man is.

CHAP. XIX.

7 Joab encourageth the King, 8 Dauid is restorred, 23 Shimei is pardoned, 24 Spheuboth meeteth the King, 39 Barzillai departeth, 41 Israel striveth with Iudah.

And it was tolde Joab, Behold, the King weepeth and mourneth for Absalom.

2 Therefore the victorie of that day was turned into mourning to all the people: for the people heard say that day, The King sorroweth for his sonne.

3 And the people went that day into the citie secretly, as people confounded hide themselves whē they flee in battell.

4 So the King hid his face, and the King cried with a loud voice, O my sonne Absalom, Absalom my sonne, my sonne.

5 Then Joab came into the house to the King and saide, Thou hast shamed this day the faces of all thy seruants, which this day haue saved thy life, and the liues of thy sonnes & of thy daughters, and the liues of thy wiues, and the liues of thy concubines.

6 In that thou louest thine enemies, and hatest thy friends: for thou hast declared this day, that thou regardest neither thy princes nor seruants: therefore this day I perceive, that if Absalom had liued, and we all had died this day, that then it would haue pleased thee well.

7 Now therefore by, come out, and speake comfortably vnto thy seruants: for I sweare by the Lorde, except thou come out, there will not tarie one man with thee this night: and that will be woe vnto thee, then all the euil that fell on thee from thy youth hitherto.

8 When the King arose, and sate in the gate: and they tolde vnto all the people, saying, Beholde, the King doth sit in the gate: and all the people came before the King: for Israel had fled euery man to his tent.

9 Then all the people were at strife throughout all the tribes of Israel, saying, The King saved vs out of the hand of our enemies, and he deliuered vs out of the hand of the Philistines, and now he is fled out of the land for Absalom.

10 And Absalom, whom we anointed ouer vs, is dead in battell: therefore why are ye so slowe to bring the king againe?

11 But King Dauid sent to Zadok and to Abiathar the Priests, saying, Speake vnto the Elders of Iudah, and say, Why are ye behinde to bring the King againe to his house, (for saying of all Israel is come vnto the King, [euē] to his house)

12 Be are my brethren: my bones and my flesh are ye: wherefore then are ye the last that bring the King againe?

13 Also say ye to Amasa, Art thou not my bone and my flesh? God do so to me and more also, if thou be not captain of the hoste to me for euer in the route of Joab.

14 So he bowed the hearts of all the men of Iudah, as of one man: therefore they sent to the King, saying, Returne thou with all thy seruants.

15 So the King returned, and came to Iordan. And Iudah came to Sigal, for to go to meete the King, [and] to conduct him ouer Iordan.

16 And Shimei the sonne of Gera, the sonne of Jemini, which was of Bahurim, hastened and came downe with the men of Iudah to meete King Dauid, 17 And a thousand men of Benjamin with him, and Ziba the servant of the house of Saul, and his fiftene sonnes and twentie seruants with him: & they went ouer Iordan before the King.

18 And there went ouer a boat to carrie ouer the Kings household, and to do him pleasure. Then Shimei the sonne of Gera fell before the King, when he was come ouer Iordan, 19 And said vnto the King, Let not my lord impute wickednes vnto me, nor remember the thing that thy seruant did wickedly when my lord the King departed out of Ierusalem, that the King should take it to his heart.

20 For thy seruant doeth knowe, that I haue done amisse: therefore beholde, I am the first this day of all the house of Ioseph, that am come to go downe to meete my lord the King.

21 But Abiathar the sonne of Zeruiah answered, and saide, Shall not Shimei die for this, because he cursed the Lords anointed?

22 And Dauid saide, What haue I to do with you ye sonnes of Zeruiah, that this day ye should be aduersaries vnto me: shall there any man die this day in Israel: for do not I knowe, that I am this day King ouer Israel?

23 Therefore

p How many days are the yeeres of my life.

q He thought it not meete to receive benefices of him to whom he was not able to do service againe.

23 Therefore <sup>p</sup> King said vnto Shimei, Thou shalt not die, and the King swore vnto him.

24 And Mephibosheth the sonne of Saul came down to meete the king, and had neither washed his feet, nor dressed his beard, nor washed his clothes from the time the king departed, until he returned in peace.

25 And when he was come to Jerusalem, and met the King, the King said vnto him, wherefore wentest not thou with me, Mephibosheth?

26 And he answered, My lord the King, my seruant deceived me: for thy seruant saide, I would haue mine assedled to ride thereon for to go with the King, because thy seruant is lame.

27 And he hath accused thy seruant vnto my lord the King: but my lord the King is as an Angel of God: do therefore thy pleasure.

28 For al my fathers house were dead men before my lord the King, yet didst thou set thy seruant among them that did eate at thine owne table: what right therefore haue I yet to crie any more vnto the King?

29 And the king laide vnto him, why speakest thou any more of thy matters? I haue layde, Thou, and Ziba deuide the landes.

30 And Mephibosheth said vnto the king, Pea, let him take al, seeing my lord the king is come home in peace.

31 Then Barzillai the Gileadite came downe from Rogelm, and went ouer Jordan with the king, to conduct him ouer Jordan.

32 Now Barzillai was a very aged man, euen fourescore yeere olde, and he had prouided <sup>p</sup> king of sustenance, while he lay at Baha-naim: for he was a man of very great substance.

33 And the king laide vnto Barzillai, Come ouer with me, and I will feede thee with me in Jerusalem.

34 And Barzillai said vnto the king, Holde long haue I to liue, <sup>p</sup> I shoulde go by with the king to Jerusalem:

35 I am this day fourescore yere old: and can I discern betweene good and euill: hath thy seruant any taste in <sup>p</sup> I eate or in that I drinke: Can I heare any more the voyce of singing men & women: wherefore then shoulde thy seruant be any more a burthen vnto my lord the king?

36 Thy seruāt wil go a litle way ouer

Jordan with the king, and why will the king recompence it me with such a reward:

37 I pray thee, let thy seruant turne backe againe, that I may die in mine owne cite, & be buried in the graue of my father and of my mother: but behold thy seruant Chimham, let him go with my lord the king, and do to him what shall please thee.

38 And the king answered, Chimham shall go with me, and I will do to him that thou shalt be content with: and whatsoever thou shalt require of me, that will I do for thee.

39 So all the people went ouer Jordan: and the king passed ouer: and the king kissed Barzillai, and blessed him, and he returned vnto his owne place.

40 Then the king went to Gilgal, and Chimham went with him, and all the people of Iudah conducted the king, and also halfe the people of Israel.

41 And beholde, all the men of Israel came to the king, and said vnto the king, why haue our brethren the men of Iudah stoll thee away, and haue brought the king and his houtholde, and all Dauides men with him ouer Jordan:

42 And all the men of Iudah answered the men of Israel, because the king is neere of kinne to vs: and wherefore now be ye angry for this matter: haue we eaten of the kings [cost], or haue we taken any bribes?

43 And the men of Israel answered the men of Iudah, & laide, we haue ten partes in the king, and haue also more [right] to Dauid then ye, why then did ye despise vs, that our aduise should not be first had in restoring our king: And the wordes of the men of Iudah were fiercer then the wordes of the men of Israel.

11 And one of Joabs men <sup>k</sup> stroode by him, and said, hee that fauoureth Joab, and be that is of Dauids part, [let him go] after Joab.

12 And Amasa was slayd in blood in the middes of the way: and when the man saw that all the people stood still, hee remoued Amasa out of the way into the fildes, and cast a cloth vpon him, because hee sawe that euery one that came by him, stood still.

13 When hee was remoued out of the way, euery man went after Joab, to follow after Sheba the sonne of Bichzi.

14 And hee went through all <sup>l</sup> tribes of Israel vnto Abel, & Bethmaachah, and all places of <sup>m</sup> Beruni: and they gathered together, and went also after him.

k That is, he went about to ouerthrowe it.

16 Then cried a wise woman out of the cite, heare, heare, I pray you, say vnto Joab, Come thou hither, that I may speake with thee.

17 And when hee came neere vnto her, the woman saide, Art thou Joab: And hee answered, Yea. And hee said to him, heare the wordes of thine handmaide. And hee answered, I do heare.

18 Then she spake thus, They spake in the olde time, saying, They shoulde aske of Abel, and so haue they continued.

20 And Joab answered, & saide, God forbid, God forbid it me, that I shoulde denoure, or destroy it.

21 The <sup>p</sup> matter is not so, but a man of mount Ephraim [Sheba the sonne of Bichzi by name] hath lift by his hand against the king, [euē] against Dauid: deliuer vs him onely, and I will depart from the cite. And the woman said vnto Joab, Behold, his head shall be throwne to thee ouer the wall.

When there was a famine in the dayes of Dauid, three yeeres together: and Dauid asked counsell of the Lorde, and p<sup>r</sup> Lord answered, [It is] for Saul, and for his bloodie house, because he slewe the Gibeonites.

2 Then the king called the Gibeonites, and said vnto them (Now the Gibeonites were not of the children of Israel, but a remnant of the Amorites, vnto whom the children of Israel had sworn: but Saul sought to slay them for his zeale towarde the children of Israel and Judah)

3 And Dauid layde vnto the Gibeonites, what shall I doe for you, and wherewith shall I make the atonement, that ye may blesse the inheritance of the Lorde:

4 The Gibeonites then answered him, we will haue no siluer nor golde of Saul nor of his house, neither for vs shalt thou kill any man in Israel. And he sayd, what ye shall say, that will I doe for you.

5 Then they answered the king, The man that consumed vs and that imagined euill against vs, [so that] we are destroyed from remaining in any coast of Israel,

6 Let seuen men of his finnes be deliuered vnto vs, and we will hang them vp vnto the Lorde in Gibeah of Saul, the Lordes chosen. And the king said, I will giue them.

7 But the king had compassion on Mephibosheth the sonne of Jonathan the sonne of Saul, because of the Lordes othe, that was betwene them, euen betwene Dauid and Jonathan the sonne of Saul.

8 But the king tooke the two sonnes of Rizpah the daughter of Aiah, whom he bare vnto Saul, euen Armoni and Mephibosheth, and the five sonnes of Michal, the daughter of Saul, whom he bare to Adriel the sonne of Barzillai the Bethlethite.

9 And he deliuered them vnto the hands of the Gibeonites, which hanged them in the mountaine before the Lorde: so they dyed [all] seuen together, and they were slaine in the time of haruest: in the first dayes, and in the beginning of barly haruest.

10 Then Rizpah the daughter of Aiah tooke sackcloth and hanged it vp for her vpon the rocke, from the beginning of haruest, vntill water droppd vpon them from the heauen and suffred neither the birdes of the ayre to light on them by day, nor beastes of the feld by night.

11 And it was tolde Dauid, what Rizpah the daughter of Aiah the concubine of Saul had done.

12 And Dauid went and tooke the bones of Saul and the bones of Jonathan his sonne from the citizens of Jabesh Gilead, which had stollen them from the street of Beth-shan, where the Philistins had hanged them, when the Philistins had slaine Saul in Gilboa.

13 So he brought thence the bones of Saul and the bones of Jonathan his sonne, and they gathered the bones of them that were hanged.

14 And the bones of Saul and of Jonathan his sonne buried they in p<sup>r</sup> country of Benjamin in Zelah, in the graue of Kish his father: and when they had perfourmed all that the king had commanded, God was then appealed with the land.

CHAP. XXII.

2 David after his victories prayeth God. 8 The anger of God toward the wicked. 44 He prophesieth of the reiection of the Jewes, and vocation of the Gentiles.

AND David spake the wordes of this song vnto the Lord, What time the Lord had deliuered him out of the hands of all his enemies, and out of the hand of Saul.

2 And he sayde. * The Lorde is my rocke and my fortreffe, and he that deliuereth me.

3 God is my || strength, in him will I trust: my shield, and the hope of my saluation, my hie towre [and] my refuge: my Saviour, thou hast saued me from violence.

4 I wil call on the Lord, who is worthy to be prayled: so that I be safe from mine enemies.

5 For the pangs of death haue compassed me: the floods of vngodlinesse haue made me afraide.

6 The sorowes of the grane compassed me about: the snares of death ouertooke me.

7 [But] in my tribulation did I call vpon the Lord, and crye to my God, and he did heare my voyce out of his temple, and my crye did enter into his eares.

8 Then the earth trembled and quaked: the foundations of the heauens moued, and shooke, because he was angrie.

9 Smoke went out at his nostrils, and consuming fire out of his mouth: coles were kindled thereat.

10 He bowed the heauens also, and came downe, and darkenes was vnder his feete.

11 And he rode vpon Cherub and did flie, and he was seene vpon the wings of the winde.

12 And he made darknes a Tabernacle round about him, [eu]n the gatherings of waters, [and] the cloudes of the aire.

13 At the brightnesse of his presence the coles of fire were kindled.

14 The Lord thundred from heauen, and the most hie gaue his voyce.

15 He shot arrowes also, and scattered them: [to wit,] lightning, and destroyed them.

16 The chanelles also of the sea appeared, [eu]n the foundations of the world were discouered by the rebuking of the Lord, [and] at the blast of the breath of his nostrils.

17 He sent from aboue, [and] tooke me: he drew me out of many waters.

18 He deliuered me from my strong enemy, and from them that hated me: for they were too strong for me.

19 They prevented me in the day of my calamitie, but the Lord was my stay.

20 And brought me forth into a large place: he deliuered me, because he favoured me.

21 The Lord rewarded me according to my righteousnes: according to my purenes of mine hands he recompensed me.

22 For I kept the wayes of the Lord, and did not wickedly against my God.

23 For all his lawes were before me, and his statutes: I did not depart therefrom.

24 I was vpight also toward him, and haue kept me from my wickednes.

25 Therefore the Lorde did reward me according to my righteousnes, according to my purenes before his eyes.

26 With the godly thou wilt shew thy selfe godly: with the vpight man thou wilt shew thy selfe vpight.

27 With the pure thou wilt shew thy selfe pure, and with the froward thou wilt shew thy selfe froward.

28 Thus thou wilt saue the poore people: but thine eyes [are] vpon the hautie to humble [them].

29 Surely thou art my light, O Lord: and the Lord wil lighten my darkenes.

30 For by thee haue I broken through an hoste, and by my God haue I leaped ouer a wall.

31 The way of God is incorrupt: the worde of the Lorde is tried [in the fire]: he is a shield to all that trust in him.

32 For who is God besides the Lord: and who is mightie, saue our God?

33 God is my strength in battell, and maketh my way vpight.

34 He maketh my feete like hindes [feete], and hath set me vpon mine hie places.

35 He teacheth mine hands to fight, so that a bow of brasse is broken with mine armes.

36 Thou hast also giuen me the shield of thy saluation, and thy louing kindnes hath

1 The last wordes of Dauid, 6 The wicked shall plucke vp as thornes, 8 The names and faces of his mightie men.

15 He desired water and would not drinke it.

These also be the last wordes of Dauid, Dauid the sonne of Ishal saith, euen the man who was set vp on hie, the Anointed of the God of Iacob, and the swete singer of Ishal saith,

2 The Spirit of the Lord spake by me, and his worde was in my tongue.

3 The God of Israel spake to me, the strength of Israel sayde, [Thou shalt] beare rule ouer men, being iust, [and] ruling in the feare of God.

4 Euen as the morning light when the sunne riseth, the morning, I say, without cloudes, [thou shalt] mine house be, and not [as] the grasse of the earth [is] by the bright raine.

5 For so shalt thou mine house [be] with God: for he hath made with me an euermoluing couenant, perfit in all pointes, and sure: therefore all mine health and whole desire [is,] that he will not make it growe [so].

6 But the wicked [shall be] euerie one as thornes thrust away because they can not be taken with hands.

7 But the man that shall touch them, must be defended with yron, or with the shaft of a speare: and they shall be burnt with fire in the same place.

8 These be the names of the mightie men whom Dauid had. He that sate in the seate of wisdom, being chiefe of the princes, was Adino of Guni, he slew eight hundredth at one time.

9 And after him [was] Eleazar the sonne of Dodo, the sonne of Ahohi, one of 3 thy worthies with Dauid, when they besieged the Philistines gathered there to battell, when the men of Israel were gone vp.

10 He arose and smote the Philistines vntill his hand was wearie, & his hand claue vnto the sword: and the Lord gaue great victorie the same day, and the people returned after him onely to spoyle.

11 After him [was] Shamnah the sonne of Age the Hararite: for the Philistines assembled at a towne, where was a piece of a fieelde full of lentils, and the people fled from the Philistines.

12 But he stood in the middes of the fieelde, and defended it, and slewe the Philistines: so the Lord gaue great victorie.

13 Afterwarde three of the thirtie captaines went down, and came to Dauid in the harvest time vnto the caue of Abullam, & the hoste of the Philistines pitched in the valley of [Beth] Hami.

AND the wrath of the Lord was againe kindled against Israel, and<sup>a</sup> he moued Dauid against them, in that he layd, Go, number Israel and Iudah.

21 And Araunah saide, wherefore is my lord & king come to his seruant? Then Dauid answered, To bye the threshing floore of thee, for to builde an altar vnto the Lord, that the plague may cease from the people.

22 Then Araunah saide vnto Dauid, Let my lord the king take and offer what seemeth him good in his eyes: be holde the oren for the burnt offering, and charrets, and the instruments of the oren for wood.

23 (All these things did Araunah [as] a king giue vnto the king: and Araunah saide vnto the king, The Lord thy God be fauourable vnto thee.)

24 Then the king saide vnto Araunah, Not so, but I will bye it of thee at a price, and wil not offer burnt offering vnto the Lord my God of that which doth cost me nothing. So Dauid bought the threshing floore, and the oren for fiftie shekels of siluer.

THE ARGUMENT.

BECAUSE the children of God should looke for no continuall rest & quiemes in this world, the holy Ghost sheweth before our eyes in this booke the varietie and change of things, which came to the people of Israel from the death of Dauid, Salomon and the rest of the Kings, vnto the death of Ahab, declaring how that flourishing kingdomes, except they be preferred by Gods protection, (who then fauoureth them when his worde is truly set forth, verue esteemed, vice punished and concord mainteyned) fall to decay and come to nought: as appeareth by the deuiding of the kingdome vnder Roboam, and Ieroboam, which before were but all one people, and now by the iust punishment of God were made two, wherof Iudah and

Beniamin

Benjamin clau to Roboam: and this was called the kingdom of Iudah, and the other ten tribes helde with Ieroboam, and this was called the kingdom of Israel. The King of Iudah had his throne in Ierusalem, and the King of Israel in Samaria, after it was built by Amri Ahabs father. And because our Saviour Christ according to the flesh should come of the stocke of Dauid, the genealogie of the Kings of Iudah is here described, from Salomon to Ioram the sonne of Iosaphat, who reigned ouer Iudah in Ierusalem, as Ahab did ouer Israel in Samaria.

C H A P. I.

3 Abishag keepeth Dauid in his extreme age. 5 Adonijah usurpeth the kingdom. 30 Salomon is anointed king. 50 Adonijah fleeth to the altar.

NOW when king Dauid was olde, and stricken in yeeres, they couered him with clothes, but no heate came vnto him. Wherefore his seruants said vnto him, Let there be sought for my lord the king a yong virgin, and let her stand before the king, and cherish him: and let her lie in thy bosome, that my lord the king may get heate.

3 So they sought for a faire yong maide throughout all the coastes of Israel, and founde one Abishag: a Shunammite, and brought her to the king.

4 And the maide was exceeding faire, and cherished the king, and ministered to him, but the king knew her not.

5 ¶ Then Adonijah y sonne of haggith exalted him selfe, saying, I will be king. And hee gate him chariots & horsemen, and 500 men to run before him.

6 And his father would not displease him from his childhood, to say, why hast thou done so? And hee was a very goodly man, and [his mother] bare him next after Absalom.

7 And hee tooke counsell of Joab the sonne of Zeruiah, and of Abiathar the Priest: and they helped forwarde Adonijah.

8 But Zadok the Priest, and Benaiah the sonne of Jehoiada, and Nathan the Prophet, and Shimei, and Rei, and the men of might, which were with Dauid, were not with Adonijah.

9 When Adonijah sacrificed sheepe and oren, and fat cattell by the stone of Zoheleth, which is by En-rogel, and called all his brethren the kings sonnes, and all the men of Iudah the kings seruants,

10 But Nathan the Prophet, and Benaiah, and the mightie men, and Salomon his brother hee called not.

11 Wherefore Nathan spake vnto Bath-sheba the mother of Salomon, saying, Hast thou not heard, that Adonijah the sonne of haggith doeth reigne, and Dauid our Lord knoweth it not?

12 Now therefore come, [and] I will nowe giue thee counsell, howe to saue thine owne life, and the life of thy sonne Salomon.

13 So, and get thee in vnto king Dauid, and say vnto him, Didest not thou, my lord, & king, sweare vnto thine handmaide, saying, Assuredly Salomon thy sonne shall reigne after me, and he shall sit vpon my throne: why is then Adonijah king?

14 Beholde, while thou yet talkest there with the king, I also will come in after thee, and confine thy wordes.

15 ¶ So Bath-sheba went in vnto the king into the chamber, and the king was very olde, and Abishag the Shunammite ministered vnto the king.

16 And Bath-sheba bowed and made obeisance vnto the king. And the king said, what is thy matter?

17 And she answered him, My lord, thou swarest by the Lord thy God vnto thine handmaide, [saying,] Assuredly Salomon thy sonne shall reigne after me, and he shall sit vpon my throne.

18 And beholde, nowe [is] Adonijah king, and now, my lord, & king, thou knowest it not.

19 And he hath offered many oren, and fat cattell, and sheepe, and hath called all the sonnes of the king, and Abiathar the Priest, and Joab the captaine of the hoste: but Salomon thy seruant hath he not bidden.

20 And thou, my lord, & king, knowest [that] the eyes of all Israel [are] on thee, that thou shouldst tell them, who should sit on the throne of my lord the king after him.

21 For els when my lord the king shall sleepe with his fathers, I and my sonne Salomon haibe repured bile.

22 And lo, while hee yet talked with the king, Nathan also the Prophet came in.

23 And they tolde y king, saying, Beholde, Nathan the Prophet. And when hee was come in to the king, hee made obeisance before the king vpon his face to the ground.

24 And Nathan saide, My lord, & king, hast thou saide, Adonijah shall reigne after me, and he shall sit vpon my throne?

g For Adonijah will destroy thee and thy sonne, if he reigne.

h By declaring such things, as may further the same.

i The king being worne with age, coude not attende to the affaires of the realme, and also Adonijah had many followers which kepte it from the king.

25 For hee is gone dolvne this day, and hath slaine many oren, and fat cattell, and sheepe, and hath called all the kings sonnes, and the captaynes of the hoste, and Abiathar the Priest: and beholde, they eate and drinke before him, and say, † God saue king Adonitah.

26 But me thy servant, and Zadok the Priest, and Benaiah the sonne of Jehoiada, and thy servant Salomon hath he not called.

27 Is this thing done by my lord the king, & thou hast not shewed it vnto thy <sup>m</sup> servant, who should sit on the throne of my lord the king after him?

28 ¶ Then king Dauid answered, and saide, Call me Bath-sheba. And she came into the kings presence, and stood before the king.

29 And the king sware, saying, As the Lorde liueth, who hath redeemed my soule out of all aduerfite, 30 That as I <sup>n</sup> sware vnto thee by the Lord God of Israel, saying, Assuredly Salomon thy sonne shall reigne after me, and hee shall sit vpon my throne in my place, so will I certainly do this day.

31 Then Bath-sheba bowed her face to the earth, and did reuerence vnto the king, and saide, God saue my lord king Dauid for ever.

32 ¶ And king Dauid saide, Call me Zadok the Priest, and Nathan the Prophet, and Benaiah the sonne of Jehoiada. And they came before the king.

33 Then the king saide vnto them, Take with you the <sup>o</sup> servants of your lord, & cause Salomon my sonne to ride vpon mine olivne mule, and carie him dolvne to Gihon.

34 And let Zadok the Priest, and Nathan the Prophet anoint him there king over Israel, and blowe ye the trumpet, and say, God saue king Salomon.

35 Then come vp after him, that he may come and sit vpon my throne: and he shall be king in my steade: for I haue † appointed him to be prince ouer Israel and ouer Iudah.

36 Then Benaiah the sonne of Jehoiada answered the king, and said, So be it, [and] the Lorde God of my lord the king † ratifie it.

37 As the Lorde hath bene with my lord the king, so be hee with Salomon, and exalt his throne aboute the throne of my lord king Dauid.

38 So Zadok the Priest, & Nathan the Prophet, and Benaiah the sonne of Jehoiada, and the Cherethites and the Pelicthites went dolvne, and caused Salomon to ride vpon king Dauids mule, and brought him to Gihon.

39 And Zadok the Priest tooke an home of <sup>p</sup> oyle out of the Tabernacle, and anointed Salomon: and they blew the trumpet, and all the people said, God saue king Salomon.

40 And all the people came vp after him, and the people piped with pipes, and reioyced with great ioy, so that the earth † rang with the sound of them.

41 ¶ And Adonitah † all the ghesfes that were with him, heard it: (and they had made an ende of eating) and when Joab heard the sound of the trumpet, he saide, what meaneth this noise and vproxe in the cite:

42 And as he yet spake, beholde, Jonathan the sonne of Abiathar the Priest came: and Adonitah saide, Come in: for thou art † a worthe man, and bringest † good tidings.

43 And Jonathan answered, & saide to Adonitah, Verely our lord king Dauid hath made Salomon king.

44 And the king hath sent with him Zadok the Priest, and Nathan the Prophet, and Benaiah the sonne of Jehoiada, and the Cherethites, and the Pelicthites, and they haue caused him to ride vpon the kings mule.

45 And Zadok the Priest, and Nathan the Prophet haue anointed him king in Gihon: and they are gone vp fro thence with ioy, and the cite is moved: this is the noise that ye haue heard.

46 And Salomon also sitteth on the throne of the kingdome.

47 And moreover the kings seruants came: to blesse our lord king Dauid, saying, God make the name of Salomon more famous then thy name, and exalt his throne aboute thy throne: therefore the king worshipped vpon the † bed.

48 And thus said the king also, Blessed be † Lorde God of Israel, who hath made one to sit on my throne this day, even in my sight.

49 Then all the ghesfes that were with Adonitah, were astraide, and rose vp, and went every man his way.

50 ¶ And Adonitah fearing the presence of Salomon, arose and went, and tooke holde on the hornes of the altar.

CHAP. II.

1 Dauid exhorteth Salomō, and giueth charge as concerning Joab, Bazzilai, and Shimei. 2 The death of Dauid. 3 Abiathar of Jerih Abisag to suffer. 4 He is slain. 5 The ark was placed in Abiathars house.

When the dayes of Dauid drew neere that hee should die, & he charged Salomō his sonne, saying,

2 I go the way of all the earth: be strong therefore, & shew thy selfe a man,

3 And take heede to the charge of the Lord thy God, to walke in his wayes, and keepe his statutes, & his commandments, and his iudgements, and his testimonies, as it is written in the Lawe of Moses, that thou mayest prosper in all that thou doest, and in euery thing wherunto thou turnest thee,

4 That the Lord may confirme his word which hee spake vnto me, saying, If thy sonnes take heede to thy way, that they walke before mee in truth, with all their heartes, and with all their soules, * thou shalt not (said he) want one of thy posteritie vpon the throne of Israel.

5 Thou knowest also what Joab the sonne of Zeruiah did to me, and what he did to the two captaiues of the hostes of Israel, vnto Abner sonne of Ner, and vnto Amasa the sonne of Iether: Whome hee slew, and shed blood of battell in peace, and put the blood of warre vpon his girdle that was about his loynes, and in his shooes that were on his feete.

6 Do therefore according to thy will, dome, and let thou not his hoare head go dolbne to the graue in peace.

7 But shew kindness vnto the sonnes of Bazzilai the Gileadite, and let them be among them that eate at thy table: for so they came to me when I fled from Absalom thy brother.

8 And beholde, with thee is Shimei the sonne of Gera, the sonne of Jemini, of Bahurim, which cursed me with an horrible curse in the day when I went to Bahanaim: but hee came dolbne to meete me at Jorden, and I sware to him by the Lord, saying, I will not slay thee with the sword.

9 But thou shalt not count him innocent: for thou art a wise man, & knowest what thou oughtest to doe vnto him: therefore thou shalt cause his hoare head to go dolbne to the graue with blood.

10 So Dauid slept with his fathers, and was buried in the citie of Dauid.

11 And the dayes which Dauid reigned vpon Israel, were fourtie yeres: seuen yeres reigned hee in Hebron, and thirtie and thre yeres reigned he in Jerusalem.

12 Then late Salomō vpon the throne of Dauid his father, & his kingdom was stablished mightily.

13 And Abiathar the sonne of Hugh came to Bathsheba the mother of Salomō: and he said, Conuene thou peaceably: And he said, Yea.

14 Hee saide moreover, I haue a sute vnto thee. And he said, Say on.

15 Then he said, Thou knowest that the kingdom was mine, and that all Israel let their faces on mee, that I should reigne: howbeit the kingdom is turned away, and is my brothers: for it came to him by the Lord.

16 Now therefore I aske thee one request, & refuse me not. And he said vnto him, Say on.

17 And he said, Speake, I pray thee, vnto Salomō the king, (for he will not say thee nay) that hee giue me Abisag the Shunammite to wife.

18 And Bathsheba said, Well, I will speake for thee vnto the king.

19 Bathsheba therefore went vnto king Salomō, to speake vnto him for Adoniam: and the king rose to meete her, and bowed himselfe vnto her, and sate dolbne on his throne: and he caused a seate to be let for the kings mother, and she sate at his right hand.

20 Then she said, I desire a small request of thee, say mee not nay. When the king said vnto her, Alke on, my mother: for I will not say thee nay.

21 She saide then, Let Abisag the Shunammite be giuen to Adoniam thy brother to wife.

22 But king Salomō answered and saide vnto his mother, And why doest thou aske Abisag the Shunammite for?

for Adonijah : aske for him the <sup>1</sup> kingdome also : for he is mine elder brother, and hath for him both Abiathar the Priest, and Ioab the sonne of Zeruiah.

<sup>23</sup> Then king Salomon swore by the Lorde, saying, God do so to me and more also, if Adonijah hath not spoken this worde against his owne life.

<sup>24</sup> Now therefore as <sup>1</sup> Lord liveth, who hath established me, & set me on the throne of David my father, who also hath made me an house, as he * promised, Adonijah shall surely die this day.

<sup>30</sup> And Benaiah came to the Tabernacle of the Lorde, and saide unto him, Thus saith the king, Come out. And he said, Nay, but I wil die here. Then Benaiah brought the king worde againe, saying, Thus saide Ioab, and thus hee answered me.

<sup>31</sup> And the king said unto him, Do as he hath said, and <sup>1</sup> smite him, and bury him, that thou maist take away <sup>1</sup> blood, which Ioab shed causeles, from me and from the house of my father.

<sup>p</sup> For it was lawfull to take the willfull murderer fro the altar, Exo. 21. 14.

<sup>32</sup> And <sup>1</sup> Lord shal bring his blood upon his owne head : for he smote two men more righteous and better then he, and slew them with the sword, & my father David knew not : [to wit,] * Abner the sonne of Ner, captaine of <sup>1</sup> hoste of Israel, and * Amasa the sonne of Jether captaine of the hoste of Judah.

<sup>33</sup> Their blood shall therefore returne upon the <sup>1</sup> head of Ioab, & on the head of his seede for ever : but upon David, and upon his seede, and upon his house, and upon his throne shall there be peace for ever from the Lord.

<sup>34</sup> So Benaiah the sonne of Jehoiada went by, and smote him, and selve him, and hee was buried in his owne house in the wilderness.

<sup>36</sup> C Afterward <sup>1</sup> king sent, and called Shimei, and said unto him, Buide thee an house in Jerusalem, and dwel there, and depart not thence any whither.

<sup>37</sup> For that day that thou goest out, & passest over the river of Kidron, knowbe assuredly, that thou shalt die the death : thy blood shalbe upon thine owne head.

<sup>38</sup> And Shimei said unto <sup>1</sup> king, The thing is good : as my lorde the king hath said, so will thy servant do. So Shimei dwelt in Jerusalem many dayes.

<sup>39</sup> And after three yeeres, two of the servants of Shimei fled away unto Achish sonne of Baachah king of Gath : and they tolde Shimei, saying, Beholde, thy servants be in Gath.

<sup>s</sup> Thus God appointeth the wayes and means to bring his iust iudgements upon the wicked.

<sup>40</sup> And Shimei arose, and saddled his asse, and wet to Gath to Achish, to seeke his servants : and Shimei went, and brought his servants from Gath.

<sup>t</sup> His covetous minde moved him rather to venture his life, then to lose his worlde, ly profit, which he had by his servautes.

<sup>41</sup> And it was tolde Salomon, that Shimei had gone from Jerusalem to Gath, and was come againe.

<sup>42</sup> And the king sent and called Shimei, and said unto him, Did I not make thee to sweare by the Lorde, and protested unto thee, saying, That day <sup>1</sup> thou goest out, & walkest any whither, knowbe assuredly that thou shalt die the death : And thou hastdnt unto me, The thing is good, [that] I have heard.

<sup>44</sup> The king saide also to Shimei, Thou knowest all <sup>1</sup> wickednes whereto thine heart is pricke, that thou diddest to David my father : the Lord therefore shal bring thy wickednes upon thine owne head.

<sup>u</sup> For though thou wouldest deny, yet thine owne conscience would accuse thee, for reviling and doing wrong to my father, 2. Sam. 1. 6, 7.

<sup>45</sup> And let king Salomon be blessed, and the throne of David established before the Lord for ever.

the sonne of Jehoia<sup>a</sup>da : who went out and smote him that hee dyed. And the kingdome was stablished in the hand of Salomon.

CHAP. III.

1 Salomon taketh Pharaohs daughter to wife. 5 The Lord appeared to him, and giueth him wisdom. 17 The pleasing of the two harlots, and Salomons sentence therein.

Chap. 7. 8.

Salomon then made affinitie with Pharaoh king of Egypt, and tooke Pharaohs daughter, and brought her into the citie of Dauid, vntill he had made an ende of building his owne house, and the house of the Lord, and the wall of Ierusalem round about.

2 Onely the people sacrificed in the hie places, because there was no house built vnto the Name of the Lord, vntill those dayes.

3 And Salomon loued the Lord, walking in the ordinances of Dauid his father: onely he sacrificed & offered incense in the hie places.

4 And the king went to Gibeon to sacrifice there, for that was the chiefe hie place: a thousand burnt offerings did Salomon offer vpon that altar.

5 In Gibeon the Lord appeared to Salomon in a dreame by night: & God said, Aske what I shall giue thee.

6 And Salomon saide, Thou hast shewed vnto thy seruant Dauid my father great mercie, when he walked before thee in truth, & in righteousness, & in uprightness of heart with thee: & thou hast kept for him this great mercie, and hast giuen him a sonne, to sit on his throne, as appeareth this day.

7 And now, O Lord my God, thou hast made thy seruant king in stead of Dauid my father: and I am but a yong childe, and knowe not howe to go out and in.

8 And thy seruant [is] in the mids of thy people, which thou hast chosen, euen a great people which cannot be told nor nombred for multitude.

9 Give therefore vnto thy seruant an vnderstanding heart, to iudge thy people, that I may discern betwene good and bad: for who is able to iudge this thy mightie people?

10 And this pleased the Lord well, that Salomon had desired this thing.

11 And God saide vnto him, Because thou hast asked this thing, and hast not asked for thy selfe long life, neither hast asked riches for thy selfe, nor hast asked the life of thine enemies, but hast asked for thy selfe vnderstanding to heare iudgement,

12 Beholde, I haue done according to thy wordes: lo, I haue giuen thee a wise & an vnderstanding heart, so that there hath bene none like thee before thee, neither after thee shal arise the like vnto thee.

13 And I haue also giuen thee that, which thou hast not asked, both riches and honour, so þ among the kings there shalbe none like vnto thee al thy dayes.

14 And if thou wilt walke in my wayes, to keepe mine ordinances & my commandements, as thy father Dauid did walke, I will prolong thy dayes.

15 And when Salomon awoke, beholde, it was a dreame, and he came to Ierusalem, and stood before the Arke of the covenant of the Lord, and offered burnt offerings & made peace offerings, and made a feast to all his seruants.

16 Then came two harlots vnto the king, and stood before him.

17 And the one woman saide, Oh my lord, I and this woman dwell in one house, and I was deliuered of a childe with her in the house.

18 And the third day after that I was deliuered, this woman was deliuered also: and we were in the house together: no stranger was with vs in the house, saue we twaine.

19 And this womans sonne died in the night: for she overlaid him.

20 And she rose at midnight, & tooke my sonne from my side, while thine handmaid slept, and laid him in her bosome, and layd her dead sonne in my bosome.

21 And when I rose in the morning to giue my sonne sucke, beholde, hee was dead: and when I had well considered him in the morning, beholde, it was not my sonne, whom I had borne.

22 Then the other woman said, Nay, but my sonne liueth, & thy sonne is dead. Againe she saide, No, but thy sonne is dead, and mine aliu: thus they spake before the king.

23 Then said the king, She saith, This that liueth is my sonne, and the dead is thy sonne: and the other saith, Nay, but the dead is thy sonne, and the liuing is my sonne.

24 Then the king said, Bring me a sword: and they brought out a sword before the king.

25 And the king said, Deuide ye the liuing childe in twaine, and giue the one halfe

26 Then spake the woman, whose the liuing childe was, vnto the king, for her compassion was kindled towarde her sonne, and she said, Oh my lord, giue her the liuing childe, and <sup>11</sup>slay him not: but the other said, Let it be neither mine nor thine, but deuide it.

a Which mo-neth cetereth part of April & (Which part of May,

(Which is the second moneth) he built the house of the Lord.

2 And the house which king Salomon built for the Lord, was three score cubites long, and twentie broad, and thirtie cubites hie.

3 And the porch before the Temple of the house [was] twentie cubites long according to the breadth of the house, and ten cubites broad before the house.

4 And in the house he made windows, [broad] without, and narrow within.

5 And by the wall of the house he made galleries rounde about, euen by the walles of the house rounde about the Temple & the oracle, and made chambers round about.

6 The nethermost gallery [was] five cubites broad, & the middlemost six cubites broad, and the third seven cubites broad: for he made restes round about without the house, that the beames should not be fastened in the walles of the house.

7 And when the house was built, it was built of stone perfite, before it was brought, so that there was neither hammer, nor axe, nor any tooles of yron heard in the house, while it was in building.

8 The doore of the middle chamber was in the right side of the house, and men went by with winding staires into the middlemost, & out of the middlemost into the third.

Or, gallerie.

The cause why we vncouered and let open the Temple, without letting forth the wall that is before it, is, that the order of those things that are within, might be seen more lively.

A.B. The length of the Temple of three score cubites.

A.C. The breadth of twentie cubites within, and not measuring the thickness of the walles. Thus also was the length of the porch without the Temple.

C.D. The height of thirtie cubites.

E.F. The chambers of the Priests, which equall about the Temple on three sides, South, West, and North, and were of three heights.

G.H. The breadth of the porches, 10. cubites.

I. The windowes of the Temple.

K. The first chamber was five cubites broad.

L. The second six.

M. The third seven.

N.O.P. The restes or bayes of the wall, which bare up the postes that did separate chamber from chamber. Q. The holy place. R. The holiest of all, where the Arke of the covenant was. S. The gate to enter into the most holie place. T. The five Candlesticks on euery side of the Temple. V. The ten tables on both sides for the shewbread. X. The incense altar.

9 So he built the house and finished it, & sieled the house being bau'ded with sieeling of cedar trees.

10 And he built the galleries vpon all the wall of the house of five cubites height, & they were ioyned to the house with beames of cedar.

11 And the word of the Lord came to Salomon, saying,

12 Concerning this house which thou buydest, if thou wilt walke in mine ordinances, and execute my iudgements, and keepe all my commandements, to walke in them, then will I performe vnto thee my promises, which I promised to Dauid thy father.

13 And I will dwell among the children of Israel, and will not forsake my people Israel.

14 So Salomon built the house and finished it.

15 And built the walles of the house within, with boards of cedar tree from the pavement of the house vnto the walles of the sieeling, & within he covered them with wood and covered the floore of the house with planks of firre.

16 And he built twentie cubites in the sides of the house with boards of cedar, from the floore to the walles, and he prepared a place within it for the oracle, euen the most holy place.

17 But the house, that is, the temple before it was fourtie cubites long.

18 And the cedar of the house within was carued with knops, and grauen with flowers: all [was] cedar, so that no stone was seene.

19 Also he prepared the place of the oracle in the mids of the house within, to set the Arke of the covenant of the Lord there.

20 And the place of the oracle within [was] twentie cubites long, and twentie cubites broad, and twentie cubites hie, and he covered it with pure gold, and covered the altar with cedar.

21 So Salomon covered the house within with pure gold: and he shut the place of the oracle with chaines of golde, and covered it with gold.

22 And he overlaid all the house with gold, vntill all the house was made perfite, also he covered the whole altar, that was before the oracle with gold.

23 And within the oracle he made two Cherubims of holie tree, ten cubites hie.

24 The wing also of the one Cherub [was] five cubites, and the wing of the other Cherub [was] five cubites: from the bittermost part of one of his wings vnto the bittermost part of the other of his wings, were ten cubites.

25 Also the other Cherub was of ten cubites: both the Cherubims were of one measure and one type.

30 And euery bafe had foure brazen wheel'es, and plates of braffe: & the foure corners had vnderletters: vnder the caldron were vnderletters molten at the fide of euery addition.

31 And the mouth of it [was] within the chapter and aboue [to meafure] by the cubite: for the mouth thereof [was] round made like a bafe, & it was a cubite and halfe a cubit: and alfo vpon the mouth thereof were grauen worke's, whole borders were foure fquare, [ & ] not round.

32 And vnder the borders were foure wheel'es, & the aretrees of the wheel'es [ioined] to the bafe: and the height of a wheel'e was a cubite and halfe a cubite.

33 And the facion of the wheel'es was like the facion of a charer wheel'e, their aretrees, and their naues and their felloes, and their fokes were all molten.

34 And foure vnderletters were vpon the foure corners of one bafe: and the vnderletters thereof were of the bafe it felfe.

35 And in the toppes of the bafe was a rounde compaffe of halfe a cubite he rounde about: and vpon the top of the bafe the ledges thereof and the borders thereof were of the fame.

36 And vpon the tables of the ledges thereof, and on the borders thereof hee did graue Cherubims, lyons and palme trees, on the fide of euery one, and additions round about.

37 Thus made hee the ten bafes, [They] had al one cafting, one meafure, [and] one fylle.

38 Then made he the ten caldrons of braffe, one caldron conteyned fourtie baths: and euery caldron [was] foure cubites, one caldron [was] vpon one bafe throughout the ten bafes.

39 And he fet the bafes, fure on the right fide of the houle, and fure on the left fide of the houle. And hee fet the fea on the right fide of the houle Eaftwarde toward the South.

47 And Salomon left [to weigh] all the beffels becaufe of the exceeding abundance, neither coude the weight of the braffe be counted.

48 So Salomon made al the beffels that pertained vnto the houle of the Lord, the golden altar, and the golden table, whereon the fhebbe bread was.

49 And the candlefticks, fure at the right fide, and fure at the left, before the oracle of pure gold, and the flouwers, and the lampes, and the finiffers of gold.

4 The Arke is borne into the Temple, 10 A cloud filleth the Temple. 14 The King bleffeth the people.

Then King Salomon assembled the Elders of Israel, & all the heads of the tribes, the chiefe fathers of the children of Israel vnto him in Ierufalem, for to bring by the Arke of the couenāt of the Lord fro the cite of Dauid, which

2 And all the men of Israel assembled vnto King Salomon at the feast in the moneth of<sup>b</sup> Ethanim, which is the seventh moneth.

3 And all the Elders of Israel came and the Priests tooke the Arke.

4 They bare the Arke of the Lord, & they bare the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and all the holy vessels that were in the Tabernacle: those did the Priests and Leuites bring vp.

5 And King Salomon and all the Congregation of Israel, that were assembled vnto him, were with him before the Arke, offering sheepe & beeuies, which could not be tolde, nor nombred for multitude.

6 So the Priests brought the Arke of the couenant of the Lord vnto his place, into the oracle of the house, into the most holy place, euen vnder <sup>p</sup> wings of the Cherubims.

7 For the Cherubims stretched out their wings ouer the place of the Arke, and the Cherubims couered the Arke, and the barres thereof aboue.

8 And they drew out the barres, that the endes of the barres might appeare out of the Sanctuarie before the oracle, but they were not seene without: & there they are vnto this day.

9 Nothing was in the Arke saue the two tables of stone which Moyses had put there at Horeb, where <sup>p</sup> Lord made a couenant with the children of Israel, when he brought them out of the land of Egypt.

10 And when the Priests were come out of the Sanctuarie, the* cloude filled the house of the Lord, 11 So that the Priests could not stand to minister, because of the cloude: for the glorie of the Lord had filled the house of the Lord.

12 Then spake Salomon, The Lord* sayd, that he would dwell in the darke cloude.

13 I haue built thee an house to dwell in, an habitation for thee to abide in for* euer.

14 And the King turned his face, and blessed all the Congregation of Israel: for all the Congregation of Israel stood there.

15 And he sayde, Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, who spake with his mouth vnto Dauid my father, and hath with his hand fulfilled it, saying,

16 Since the daie that I brought my people Israel out of Egypt, I chose no cite of all the tribes of Israel, to buyd an house that my name might be there: but I haue chosen* Dauid to bee ouer my people Israel. 2.Sam.7.8.

17 And it was in the heart of Dauid my father to buyde an house to the Name of the Lord God of Israel.

18 And the Lord said vnto Dauid my father, where as it was in thine heart to buyd an house vnto my Name, thou diddest well, that thou wast so minded: 19 Neuertheless thou shalt not buyd the house, but thy sonne, that shall come out of thy loynes, he shall buyde <sup>p</sup> house vnto my Name.

20 And the Lord hath made* good his worde that he spake: and I am risen vp in the roume of Dauid my father, & sit on the throne of Israel, as the Lord promised, and haue buyt the house for the Name of the Lord God of Israel.

21 And I haue prepared therein a place for the Arke, wherein is the* couenant of the Lord which he made with our fathers, when he brought them out of the land of Egypt.

22 Then Salomon stood before* the altar of the Lord in the sight of all the Congregation of Israel, & stretched out his handes toward heauen,

23 And said, O Lord God of Israel, there is no God like thee in heauen aboue, or in the earth beneath, thou that keepest couenant and mercy with thy seruants that walke before thee with* all their heart, 24 Thou that hast kept with thy seruant Dauid my father, that thou hast promised him: for thou spakest with thy mouth and hast fulfilled it with thine hande, as appeareth this day.

25 Therefore now, Lord God of Israel, keepe with thy seruant Dauid my father that thou hast promised him, saying, Thou shalt not want a man in my sight to sit vpon the throne of Israel: so that thy children take heede to their way, that they walke before me, as thou hast walked in my sight.

26 And now, O God of Israel, I praye thee, let thy worde bee verified, which thou spakest vnto thy seruant Dauid my father.

able is this house that I haue built :

28 But haue thou respect vnto the prayer of thy seruant, and to his supplication, O Lord, my God, to heare the crye & prayer which thy seruant prayeth before thee this day :

29 That thine eyes may be open toward this house, night and day, [euē] toward the place wherof thou hast said, * My Name shall bee there : that thou mayest hearken vnto the prayer which thy seruant prayeth in this place.

30 Heare thou therefore the supplication of thy seruant, and of thy people Israel, which pray in this place, & heare thou in the place of thine habitation, [euē] in heaue. When thou hearest, haue mercy.

31 ¶ When a man shall trespass against his neighbour, & he lay vpon him an othe to cause him to sweare, and the swearer shall come before thine altar in this house,

32 Then heare thou in heauen, and I do and iudge thy seruants, that thou condemne the wicked to bring his way vpo his head, & iustifie the righteous, to giue him according to his righteousness.

33 ¶ When thy people Israel shal be ouerthrowen before the ennemie, because they haue sinned against thee, and turne againe to thee, and confesse thy Name, and pray and make supplication vnto thee in this house,

34 Then heare thou in heauen, & be merciful vnto the sinne of thy people Israel, & bring them againe vnto the land, which thou gauest vnto their fathers.

35 ¶ When heauen shall be shut vp, and there shall be no raine because they haue sinned against thee, and shall pray in this place, and confesse thy Name, & turne from their sinne, when thou dost afflict them,

36 Then heare thou in heauen, & pardon the sinne of thy seruants and of thy people Israel (when thou hast taught them the good way wherein they may walke) & giue raine vpon the lande that thou hast giuen to thy people to inherit.

37 ¶ When there shalbe famine in the land, when there shall be pestilence, when there shalbe blasting mildew, grashopper, or caterpillar, when their ennemie shall besiege them in the cities of their land, or any plague, or any sicknes,

38 ¶ Then what prayer, & supplication soeuer shalbe made of any man, or of al thy people Israel, when euery one shal know the plague in his owne heart, and stretch forth his hands in this house, 39 Heare thou then in heauen, in thy dwelling place, and be mercifull, and do, and giue euery man according to all his wayes, as thou knowest his heart (for thou onely knowest the hearts of all the children of men)

40 That they may feare thee as long as they liue in the land, which thou gauest vnto our fathers.

41 Moreover as touching the stranger that is not of thy people Israel, who shal come out of a farre country for thy Names sake,

42 (when they shall heare of thy great Name, and of thy mightie hande, and of thy stretched out arme) and shall come and pray in this house,

43 Heare thou in heauen thy dwelling place, and doe according to all that the stranger calleth for vnto thee : that all the people of the earth may knowe thy Name, and feare thee, as doe thy people Israel : & that they may knowe, that thy Name is called vpon in this house which I haue built.

44 ¶ When thy people shall goe out to battell against their enemy by way that thou shalt sende them, & shall pray vnto the Lord * [toward] way of the citie which thou hast chosen, & [toward] the house I haue built for thy Name, 45 Heare thou then in heauen their prayer and their supplication, and I iudge their cause.

46 ¶ If they sinne against thee (* for there is no man that sinneth not) & thou be angry with them, and deliuer them vnto the enemies, so that they carry the away prisoners vnto the lande of the enemies, either farre or neere,

47 Yet ¶ if they turne againe vnto their heart in the land (to the which they be caried away captiues) and returne and praye vnto thee in the land of them that caried them away captiues, saying, We haue sinned, We haue transgressed, and done wickedly,

48 ¶ If they turne againe vnto thee with al their heart, & with al their soule in the land of their enemies, which led the away captiues, and pray vnto thee [toward] way of their land, which thou gauest vnto their fathers, & [toward] the citie which thou hast chosen, & the house, which I haue built for thy Name,

54 And when Salomon had made an ende of praying all this * prayer and supplication vnto the Lord, he arose fro before the altar of the Lord, from kneeling on his knees, and stretching of his hands to heauen,

55 And stood and blessed all the Congregation of Israel with a loude voyce, saying,

56 Blessed be the Lord that hath giuen rest vnto his people Israel, according to all that he promised: there hath not failed one worde of all his good promise which he promised by the hande of Moses his seruant.

57 The Lord our God be with vs, as he was with our fathers, that he forsake vs not, neither leaue vs, 58 That he may * bolue our heartes vnto him, that wee may walke in all his waies, and keepe his commandements, and his statutes, and his lawes, which he commanded our fathers.

59 And these my wordes, which I haue prayed before the Lord, bee neere vnto the Lord our God day and night, that he defende the cause of his seruant, and the cause of his people Israel * alway as the matter requiereth, 60 That all the people of the earth may know, that the Lord is God, [and] none other.

61 Let your heart therefore be perfitt with the Lord our God to walke in his statutes, and to keepe his commandements, as this day.

62 ¶ Then the King and al Israel with him offered sacrifice before p Lord.

63 And Salomon offered a sacrifice of peace offerings which he offered vnto the Lord, [to wit,] two and twentie thousand beeuies, & an hundred and twentie thousand sheepe: so the King and all the children of Israel dedicated the house of the Lord.

64 The same day did the King halowe the middle of the court, that was before the house of the Lord: for there hee made burnt offerings, and the meate offerings, and the fat of the peace offerings, because the * brassen altar that was before the Lord, was too little to receiue the burnt offerings, & the meate offerings, and the fat of the peace offerings.

65 And Salomon made at that time a feast * al Israel with him, a very great Congregation, euen from the entering in of Hamath vnto the riuier of Egypt, before the Lord our God, * seven dayes, and seven dayes, [euen] fourtene dayes.

66 And the eight day he sent the people away: and they * thanked the King and went vnto their tentes ioyous and with glad heart, because of all the goodnesse that the Lord had done for Dauid his seruant, and for Israel his people.

10 * And at the ende of twentie yeres, when Salomon had buylded the two houses, the house of the Lorde, and the Kings palace, 11 [For the which] Hiram the King of Tyrus had brought to Salomon timber of cedar, and firre trees, and golde, and whatsoeuer hee desired then King Salomon gaue to Hiram twentie cities in the land of Galil.

12 And Hiram came out from Tyrus to see the cities which Salomon had giuen him, and they pleased him not.

13 Therefore hee said, What cities are these which thou hast giuen me, my brother: And hee called them the lande of Cabul vnto this day.

14 And Hiram had sent the King fire scoze talents of golde.

15 And this is the cause of the tribute why king Salomon raised tribute, [to wit,] to build the house of the Lorde, and his owne house, and Hillo, and the wall of Ierusalem, and hazor, and Be-giddo, and Gezer.

16 Pharaoh king of Egypt had come by, & taken Gezer, and burnt it with fire, and slewe the Canaanites, that dwelt in the citie, & gaue it for a present vnto his daughter Salomons wife.

17 Therefore Salomon built Gezer and Beth-horon the nether,

21 [To wit,] their children that were left after them in the lande, whome the children of Israel were not able to destroy, those did Salomon make tributaries vnto this day.

22 But of the children of Israel did Salomon make no bondmen: but they were men of warre and his seruants, and his princes, and his captaines, and rulers of his charrets and his horsemen.

23 These were the princes of the officers, that were ouer Salomons worke: [euen] five hundred and fiftie, and they ruled the people which he brought in the worke.

24 And Pharaohs daughter came by from the citie of Dauid vnto the house which Salomon had built for her: the did he build Hillo.

25 And thuse a yeece did Salomon offer burnt offerings and peace offerings vpon the altar which he built vnto the Lorde: and he burnt incense vpon the altar, that was before the Lorde, when he had finished the house.

26 Also King Salomon made a nauie of shippes in Eszon-geber, which is beside Eloth, and the bwinke of the red Sea, in the lande of Edom.

27 And Hiram sent with the nauie his seruants, that were mariners, and had knowledge of the sea, with the seruants of Salomon.

28 And they came to Ophir and fette from thence foure hundred and twentie talents of golde, and brought it to King Salomon.

6 And he said vnto y King, It was a true word that I heard in mine owne land of thy sayings, & of thy wisdom.

7 Howbeit I beleueed not this report, till I came, & had seene it with mine eyes: but lo, the one halfe was not tolde mee: [for] thou hast more wisdom and prosperitie, then I haue heard by report.

9 Blessed be y Lord thy God, which loued thee, to set thee on the throne of Israel, because the Lord loued Israel for euer & made thee King, to do equitie and righteousnes.

10 And the gaue the King fixe score talentes of gold, and of sweet odours exceeding much, & precious stones. There came no more such abundance of sweet odours, as the Queene of Sheba gaue to King Salomon.

11 The name alfo of hiram (that carried gold from Ophir) brought likewise great plentie of * Almuggim trees from Ophir and precious stones.

12 And the King made of the Almuggim trees pillars for y house of y Lorde, and for the kings palace, & made harpes and plalteries for lingers. There came no more such Almuggim trees, nor were any more seene vnto this day.

13 And king Salomon gaue vnto the Queene of Sheba, whatsoever shee would aske, besides that, which Salomon gaue her: of his kingly liberalitie: so she returned and went to her owne country, both she, and her seruantes.

14 C Also the weight of golde, that came to Salomon in one yeere, was fixe hundredth thre score and six talentes of gold, 15 Besides that [he had] of marchant men and of the marchandises of them y sold spices, & of all the kings of Arabia, & of the princes of the country.

16 And King Salomon made tivo hundredth targets of beaten gold, fixe hundredth shekels of gold went to a target:

17 And thre hundredth shekels of beaten gold, thre pound of gold wet to one shield: & the King put them in y house of the wood of Lebanon.

18 C Then the King made a great throne of yuoze, and couered it with the best golde.

The Royall throne of Salomon.

19 And the throne had six steps, and the top of the throne [was] round behinde, and there were s staves on either side on the place of the throne, and tviyons standing by the staves.

20 And there stood tvielue lyons on the sixe steps on either side: there was not the like made in any kingdome.

21 And all king Salomons drinking vessels [were] of golde, and all the vessels of the house of the wood of Lebanon [were] of pure golde, none [were] of siluer: [for] it was nothing esteemed in the dayes of Salomon.

22 For the King had on the sea the nauie of Tharshish with the nauie of hiram: once in thre yeere came the nauie of Tharshish, and brought golde & siluer, yuoze, and apes and peacocks.

23 So King Salomon exceeded all the Kings of the earth both in riches and in wisdom.

24 And all the worlde sought to see Salomon, to heare his wisdom, which God had put in his heart,

25 And they brought euery man his present, vessels of siluer, and vessels of golde, and raiment, and armour, and sweete odours, horses and mules, from yeere to yeere.

26 Then Salomon gathered together charets and horsemen: and he had a thousand and foure hundredth charets, and tvielue thousand horsemen, whom he placed in the charet cities, and with the King at Ierusalem.

27 And the King gaue siluer in Ierusalem as stones, and gaue cedars as the wilde figtrees that grow abundantly in the plaine.

28 Also Salomō had horses brought out of Egypt, and fine linen: [the kings marchants receiued the linen for a price,

CHAP. XI.

1 Salomon hath a thousand wiues and concubines, which bring him to idolatry. 14 His God rayeth by aduerfaries againft him. 43 He dyeth.

BUt King Salomon loued many outlandish women: both daughter of Pharaoh, and the women of Moab, Ammon, Edō, Zidon &eth.

2 Of the nations, whereof the Lord had said vnto the childre of Israel, *
[that] ye in to them, nor let them come in to you: [for] surely they will turne your hearts after their gods, to the. [I say,] did Salomon ioyne in loue.

3 And he had seven hundred wiues, [that were] princesses, and three hundred concubines, and his wiues turned away his heart.

4 For when Salomon was old, his wiues turned his heart after other gods, so that his heart was not perfect with the Lorde his God, as [was] the heart of Dauid his father.

5 For Salomon followed *
Astartoth god of the Zidonians, & *
Milcom the abomination of the Ammonites.

6 So Salomō wrought wickednes in the sight of the Lorde, but continued not to followe the Lord, as [did] Dauid his father.

7 Then did Salomon builde an hie place for Chemosh the abomination of Moab, in the mountaine that is ouer against Ierusalem, & vnto Poleth the abomination of the children of Ammon.

8 And so did he for all his outlandish wiues, which burnt incense and offered vnto their gods.

9 Therefore the Lorde was angry with Salomon, because he had turned his heart from the Lord God of Israel, which had appeared vnto him wile,

10 And had giuen him a charge concerning this thing, that hee thould not followe other gods: but he kept not that, which the Lord had commanded him.

11 Wherefore the Lord said vnto Salomon, Forasmuch as this is done of thee, and thou hast not kept my rounat, and my statutes (which I commanded thee) *
I will surely rent the kingdome from thee, and will giue it to thy seruāt.

12 Notwithstanding in thy dayes I will not doe it, because of Dauid thy father, but I wil rent it out of the hand of thy sonne:

13 Holbeit I will not rent all the kingdome, [but] wil giue one tribe to thy sonne, because of Dauid my seruāt, & because of Ierusalem which I haue chosen.

14 ¶ The Lord stirred by an aduerfary vnto Salomon, [even] Hadad the Edomite, of the kings seede, which was in Edom.

15 *
For when Dauid was in Edom, and Joab the captaine of the hofte had smitten all the males in Edom, and was gone by to bury the slayne,

16 (For fixe moneths did Joab remaine there, and all Israel, till hee had destroyed all the males in Edom)

17 Then this Hadad fledde and certame other Edomites of his fathers seruants with him, to goe into Egypt, Hadad being yet a little child.

18 And they arose out of Midian, and came to Paran, and tooke men with the out of Paran, and came to Egypt vnto Pharaoh King of Egypt, which gaue him an house, & appointed him bitailes, and gaue him land.

19 So Hadad found great fauour in the sight of Pharaoh, and hee gaue him to wife the sister of his owne wife, [even] the sister of Tahpenes the Queene.

20 And the sister of Tahpenes bare him Gembarth his sonne, whome Tahpenes wayned in Pharaohs house: and Gembarth was in Pharaohs house among the sonnes of Pharaoh.

21 And when Hadad heard in Egypt, that Dauid slept to his fathers, & that Joab the captaine of his hofte was dead, Hadad said to Pharaoh, Let me depart, that I may go to mine owne countrey.

22 But Pharaoh laide vnto him, what hast thou lacked with mee, that thou wouldest thus goe to thine owne countrey: And he answered, Nothing, but in any wife let me go.

23 ¶ And God stirred him by [an other] aduerfary, Rezon the sonne of Ehadah, which fled from his lord Hadad, deser King of Zobah.

24 And he gathered men vnto him, and had bene captaine ouer the copante, when Dauid slewe them. And they wet to Damascus, & dwelt there, and they made him King in Damascus.

25 Therefore was he an aduerfary to Israel all the daies of Salomon: besides the euil that Hadad [did,] hee also abhorred Israel, & reigned ouer Aram.

26 ¶ And

27 And this was the cause that he lift vp his hand against the King. [when] Salomon built Hillo, he repared þ brocken places of þ cite of Dauid his father.

28 And this man Ieroboam was a man of strength and courage, and Salomon seeing that þ yong man was meete for the worke, he made him ouersee of all the labour of the house of Ioseph.

29 And at that time, whē Ieroboam went out of Ierusalem, the Prophet Ahiah the Shilonite found him in the way, hauing a newe garment on him, & they two were alone in the field.

30 Then Ahiah caught the new garment that was on him, and rent it in twelue pieces, 31 And said to Ieroboam, Take hit to thee ten pieces: for thus sayeth the Lord God of Israel, Behold, I will rēt the kingdome out of the hands of Salomon, and will giue ten tribes to thee.

32 But he shall haue one tribe for my seruāt Dauids sake, and for Ierusalem the cite, which I haue chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, 33 Because they haue forsaken mee, and haue worshipped Astartoth the god of the Zidonians, and Chemosh the god of the Moabites, and Milcom the god of the Ammonites, & haue not walked in my wayes, to doe right in mine eyes, and my statutes, and my lawes) as did Dauid his father.

34 But I will not take the whole kingdome out of his hande: for I will make him prince all his life long for Dauid my seruants sake, whome I haue chosen, [and] who kept my commandments and my statutes.

35 *But I will take the kingdome out of his sonnes hande, and will giue it unto thee, [even] the ten tribes.

36 And vnto his sonne wil I giue one tribe, that Dauid my seruant may haue a light alway before me in Ierusalem the cite, which I haue chosen me, to put my Name there.

37 And I will take thee, and thou shalt reigne, * euen as thine heart desireth, and shalt be King ouer Israel.

38 And if thou hearken vnto all that I commande thee, and wilt walke in my wayes, and doe right in my sight, to keepe my statutes and my commandments, as Dauid my seruant did, then will I be with thee, & build thee a sure house, as I built vnto Dauid, and will giue Israel vnto thee.

39 And I will for this afflict the seed of Dauid, but not for euer.

e The people declare their obedience in this, that they would attempt nothing before the King had giue them iust occasion.

12 Then Ieroboam & all the people came to Rehoboam the thirde daye, as the King had appointed, saying, Come to me againe the third day.

13 And the King answered the people sharply, and left the olde mens counsell that they gaue him, 14 And spake to them after the counsell of the yong men, saying, By father made your yoke grievous, and I will make your yoke more grievous: my father hath chastised you with rodde, but I will correct you with scourges.

h Or, the Lord was the cause,

15 And the king hearkened not vnto the people: for it was the ordinance of the Lorde, that he might performe his saying, which the Lord had spoken by i Ahiah the Shilonite vnto Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat.

Chap. 11. 11.

16 So whe al Israel saide h the king regarded the not, the people answered the king thus, saying, what portion haue we in Dauid: we haue none inheritance in the sonne of Ithal. To your tentes, O Israel: now see to thine owne house, Dauid. So Israel departed vnto their tentes.

f Though their cause were good, yet it is most hard for the people to bilithe their affections, as these vile moopes declare.

17 Holdbet ouer the children of Israel, which dwelt in the cities of Iudah, did Rehoboam reigne still.

18 Now the king Rehoboam sent Adoram the receiuer of the tribute, & all Israel stoned him to death: then king Rehoboam made speede to get him vp to his charret, to flee to Ierusalem.

Chap. 11. 13.

21 And when Rehoboam was come to Ierusalem, he gathered al the house of Iudah with the tribe of Beniamin an hundredth and foure score thousand of chosen men (which were good warriors) to fight against h house of Israel, and to bring the kingdom againe to Rehoboam the sonne of Salomon.

h For as yet he perceived not that the Lord had so appointed it.

22 But the word of God came vnto Shemaiah the man of God, saying,

i That is, the prophet.

23 Speake vnto Rehoboam j sonne of Salomon King of Iudah, and vnto all the house of Iudah and Beniamin, and the remnant of the people, saying,

24 Thus saith the Lorde, We shall not go by, nor fight against your brethren the children of Israel: returne euery man to his house: for this thing is done by me. They obeyed therefore the word of the Lord and returned, and departed, according to the word of the Lord.

k Who of his iust iudgement will punish the trespasser, and of his mercy spare the innocent people.

25 Then Ieroboam buylt Shechem in mount Ephraim, & dwelt therein, and went from thence, & buylt Dan.

26 And Ieroboam thought in his heart, Now shall the kingdom returne to the house of Dauid.

27 If this people go by and do sacrifice in the house of the Lord at Ierusalem, then shall the heart of this people turne againe vnto their lord, [euen] to Rehoboam King of Iudah: so shall they kill mee and goe againe to Rehoboam King of Iudah.

l He feared lest his people should haue by this means bene enticed to rebell against him.

28 Whereupon the King tooke counsel, and made two calues of golde, and said vnto them, It is to much for you to go by to Ierusalem: beholde, O Israel, thy gods, which brought thee by out of the land of Egypt.

m So crafty are the carnall persuasions of princes, when they will make a religion to serue to their appetite.

29 And he set the one in Beth-el, and the other set he in Dan.

30 And this thing turned to summe: for the people went (because of the one) eue to Dan.

31 Also he made an house of hie places, & made pictures of y<sup>e</sup> lowest of people, which were not of sonnes of Levi.

32 And Ieroboam made a feast the 50th day of the eight moneth, like vnto the feast that is in Iudah, and offered on the altar. So did he in Beth-el, & offered vnto the calues that he had made: & he placed in Beth-el the pictures of the hie places, which he had made.

o Because he would y<sup>e</sup> more binde the peoples deuotion to his idolatry he made a new holy day, because those that the Lord had appointed in the Law.

33 And

33 And he offered vpon the altar, which he had made in Beth-el, the fifteenth day of the eyght moneth (even) in the moneth which hee had forged of his owne heart) & made a solemne feast vnto the children of Israel: and hee went vnto the altar, to burne incense.

e Ebr. mouth. e Though the wicked lyble themselves for a time, whi they feele Gods iugement yet after they returne to their old malice, they declare that they are but idle hypocrites. || Or take sustenance. || Or he charged me to wit an Angel.

f Seeing hee had repented from the sin of God, he ought not to have belid and forst him, neither for the perswasion of man nor Angel.

And behold, there came a man of God out of Judah (by the commandement of the Lord) vnto Beth-el, & Ieroboam stood by the altar to offer incense.

2 And he cryed against the altar by the commandement of the Lord, and saide, O altar, altar, thus saith the Lord, Behold, a child shall be borne vnto the house of Dauid, Josiah by name, & vpon thee shall he sacrifice the priests of the high places that burne incense vpon thee, & they shall burne mens bones vpon thee.

3 And he gaue a signe the same time, saying, This is the signe, that the Lord hath spoken. Beholde, the altar shall rent, and the ashes that are vpon it, shall fall out.

4 And when the King had heard the saying of the man of God, which he had cryed against the altar in Beth-el, Ieroboam stretched out his hand from the altar, saying, Lay holde on him: but his hande which hee put forth against him, dried vp, and he coulde not pull it in againe to him.

5 The altar also claued asunder, & the ashes fel out from the altar, according to the signe, which the man of God had gaue by the commandement of the Lord.

6 Then the King answered, and said vnto the man of God, I beseeche thee, pray vnto the Lord thy God, and make intercession for me, that mine hand may be restored vnto mee. And the man of God besought the Lord, and the Kings hande was restored, and became as it was afore.

7 Then the King said vnto the man of God, Come home with me, that thou mayest dine, and I will giue thee a reward.

8 But the man of God saide vnto the King, If thou wouldest giue me halfe thine house, I woulde not goe in with thee, neither woulde I eate bread nor drinke water in this place.

9 For so was it charged mee by the word of the Lord, saying, Eat no bread nor drinke water, nor turne againe by the same way that thou camest.

10 So he went another way and returned not by the way that hee came to Beth-el.

11 And an olde Prophet dwelt in Beth-el, and his sonnes came, and tolde him all the workes, that the man of God had done that daye in Beth-el, and the wordes which hee had spoken vnto the King, tolde they their father.

12 And their father saide vnto them, What way went hee? & his sonnes answered him what way the man of God went, which came from Judah.

13 And he said vnto his sonnes, Saddle mee the asse, vnto saddled him the asse, and he rode thereon.

14 And went after the man of God, and found him sitting vnder an oke: and he sayde vnto him, Art thou the man of God that camest from Judah? And he saide, Yea.

15 Then hee sayde vnto him, Come home with me, and eate bread.

16 But he answered, I may not returne with thee, nor go in with thee, neither will I eate bread nor drinke water with thee in this place.

17 For it was charged me by the word of the Lord, saying, Thou shalt eate no bread, nor drinke water there, nor turne againe to go by the way that thou wentest.

18 And he said vnto him, I am a Prophet also as thou art, & an Angel spake vnto me by the word of the Lord, saying, Bring him againe with thee into thine house, that he may eate bread and drinke water: but he lyed vnto him.

19 So he went againe with him, and dyd eate bread in his house, and drank water.

20 And as they sate at the table, the word of the Lord came vnto the Prophet, that brought him againe.

21 And he cryed vnto the man of God that came from Judah, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Because thou hast disobeyed the mouth of the Lord, and hast not kept the commandement which the Lord thy God commanded thee,

22 But camest backe againe, and hast eate bread and drinke water in the place (whereof hee dyd say vnto thee, Thou shalt eate no bread, nor drinke any water) thy carkeis shall not come vnto the sepulchre of thy fathers.

24 And when he was gone, <sup>k</sup>a lyon met him by the way, and slewe him, and his bodie was cast in the way, and the asse stood there by: the lyon stood by the corps also.

25 And beholde, men that passed by, sawe the carkeis cast in the way, and the lyon standing by the corps: and they came and told it in the towne where the olde prophet dwelt.

26 And when the prophet, þe brought him backe againe from the way, heard thereof, he sayde. It is the man of God, who hath bene disobedient vnto the commandement of the Lorde: therefore the Lord hath deliuered him vnto the lion, which hath rent him and slaine him, according to the word of the Lord, which he spake vnto him.

27 And he spake to his sonnes, saying, Sadle me the asse. And they sadled him.

28 And he went and found his bodie cast in the way, and the asse and the lion stood by the corps: and the lion had not eaten the bodie, nor toune the asse.

29 And the prophet tooke by the body of the man of God, and layed it vpon the asse, and brought it againe, and the olde prophet came to the citie, to lament and burie him.

30 And he laid his body in his owne graue, and they lamented ouer him, [saying,] Alas my brother.

31 And when hee had buried him, hee spake to his sonnes, saying, when I am dead, burie yee mee also in the sepulchre, wherein the man of God is buried: lay my bones beside his bones.

32 For that thing which hee cryed by the word of the Lord against the altar þe is in Beth-el, & against all the houses of the hye places, which are in the cities of Samaria, shall surely come to passe.

33 [Howbeit] after this, Ieroboam converted not fro his wicked way, but turned againe, and made of the lowest of the people priests of the hye places, who would, might, & consecrate him selfe, and be of the priests of the hye places.

34 And this thing turned to sinne vnto þe house of Ieroboam, euen to roote it out, and destroy it from the face of þe earth.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Ieroboam sented his wife disguised to Ahiah the prophet, who declared vnto him the destruction of his house, 22 Zedai is punished by Shiloh.

That time Ahiah þe sonne of Ieroboam fell sicke.

2 And Ieroboam said vnto his wife, Up, I pray thee, and disguise thy selfe, that they knowe not that thou art the wife of Ieroboam, and goe to Shiloh: for there is Ahiah the prophet, which tolde mee that I should be king ouer this people.

3 And take with thee tenne loanes and cracknels, and a bottel of hony, and goe to him: he shall tell thee what shall become of the yong man.

4 And Ieroboams wife did so, and arose, and went to Shiloh, and came to the house of Ahiah: but Ahiah coulde not see, for his sight was decayed for his age.

5 Then the Lord saide vnto Ahiah, Beholde, the wife of Ieroboam cometh to aske a thing of thee for her sonne, for he is sicke: thus and thus shalt thou say vnto her: for when she cometh in, she shall seyne her selfe to be another.

6 Therefore when Ahiah heard the sounde of her fete as she came in at the doore, he said, Come in, thou wife of Ieroboam: why feynest thou thus thy selfe to be another? I am sent to thee [with] heauie tidings.

7 Soe, tell Ieroboam, Thus sayth the Lord God of Israel, Forasmuch as I haue exalted thee from among the people, and haue made thee prince ouer my people Israel,

8 And haue rent the kingdome alway from the house of Dauid, and haue giuen it thee, and thou hast not bene as my seruāt Dauid, which kept my commandementes, and folloved me with all his heart, & did onely that which was right in mine eyes,

9 But hast done euill aboue all that were before thee (for thou hast gone and made thee other gods, and molten images, to prouoke me, and hast cast mee behinde thy backe)

10 Therefore beholde, I wil bring euill vpon the house of Ieroboam, & wil cut off from Ieroboam him that is yfely seth against the wall, as wel him that is shut vp, as him that is left in Israel, and wil sweepe away þe remnant of the house of Ieroboam, as a man sweepeth away dung, till it be all gone.

17 And Jeroboams wife arose, & departed, and came to Tirzah, and whee she came to the threshold of the house, the yong man dyed,

18 And they buried him, & all Israel lamented him, according to the worde of the Lord, which he spake by the hand of his seruant Ahijah the Prophet.

19 And the rest of Jeroboams actes, howe he warred, and howe he reigned, beholde, they are written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel.

20 And the dayes which Jeroboam reigned, were two & twentie yeere: and hee slept with his fathers, and Nadab his sonne reigned in his steade.

21 Also Rehoboam & sonne of Salomon reigned in Iudah. Rehoboam was one & fourtie yeere olde, when he began to reigne, & reigned seuentene yeere in Ierusalem the cite, which the Lorde did chuse out of all the tribes of Israel, to put his Name there: and his mothers name was Naamah an Ammonite.

22 And Iudah wrought wickednes in the sight of the Lorde: and they prouoked him more with their finnes, which they had committed, the al that which their fathers had done.

23 For they also made the hie places, and images, & grones on euery hie hill, and vnder euery greene tree.

24 There were also Sodomites in the lande, they did according to all abominations of the nations, which the Lord had cast out before the childre of Israel,

25 And in the first yere of King Rehoboam, Shishak King of Egypt came vp against Ierusalem, 26 And tooke the treasures of the house of the Lord, & the treasures of the kings house, and tooke away all: also he carried away all the shieldes of golde which Salomon had made.

27 And King Rehoboam made for them brazen shieldes, & committed them vnto the hands of the chiefe of the gard, which waited at the doore of the Kings house.

28 And when the king went into the house of the Lord, the garde bare them, and brought them againe into the garde chamber.

29 And the rest of the actes of Rehoboam, and all that hee did, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iudah?

30 And there was warre betweene Rehoboam & Jeroboam continually.

31 And Rehoboam slept wth his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the cite of Dauid: his mothers name was Naamah an Ammonite. And Abiam his sonne reigned in his steade.

CHAP. XV.

1 Abiam reigned ouer Iudah, 9 Ala succedeth in his roune, 16 The battell betwene Ala and Baasha, 24 Ichobabath succedeth Ala, 25 Nadab succedeth Jeroboam, 28 Baasha killeth Nadab,

And in the eightene yere of King Jeroboam the sonne of Nebat, reigned Abiam ouer Iudah.

2 Three yeere reigned he in Ierusalem, & his mothers name was Baathai the daughter of Abihailon.

3 And hee walked in all the finnes of his father, which hee had done before him: and his heart was not perfitt with the Lorde his God as the heart of Dauid his father.

4 But for Dauids sake did the Lord his God giue him a light in Ierusalem, and let by his sonne after him, and established Ierusalem,

5 Because Dauid did that which was right in the sight of the Lorde, & turned from nothing that he commanded him, all the dayes of his life, saue only in the matter of Uriah the Hittite.

6 And there was warre betwene Rehoboam & Jeroboam as long as he liued.

7 The rest also of the acts of Abiam, and al that hee did, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iudah: there was also warre
